DEERING HIGH

Allowing the Deering High cinder men but 16½ points, the freshmen track team completely swamped their opponents with 109½ points last Saturday morning on Alumni Field. Don Favor working against his Alma Mater
again collected high honors
taking six first places and one third place to score 31 points.
Don's score nearly doubled that made by the entire opposing team. Phil Parsons was second high point man of the meet with 15 points to his credit, taking two firsts and one second.

Deering failed to take one first place, and they only took three seconds one of which was a tie with a Maine man.

THIS GAME OF CHEATING

Several weeks ago a committee of freshmen technology students and faculty members was chosen to work on the problem of cheating, and to try to find a solution for it. Because of the size and importance of the question and because the committee was chosen rather late in the year a solution will probably not be reached this year. However, there is no reason why the committee should not continue its work next fall just where they leave off in June.

This business of cheating has bad effects both on the University and on the individual. Judging students as they do on their examination marks, the University sends out students whose ranks are fair, and in some cases good. These students, those of them who have gone through college with cribs on their cuffs, get responsible positions, being unable to get any aid from their cribbed cuffs or from hints of information written on the faces of their watches they cannot fill the position properly, and the reputation of the University goes down.

Cheating also cheats the cheaters parents, for the fellow who is working his own way very seldom cheats. Parents who pay for a fellow's college education expect him to emerge with a knowledge of the subjects he has studied, and if he cribbs his way through he will not have that knowledge.

There is no need of enumerating here the reasons why cheating in examinations is cheating one's self. Every one knows that it is dangerously true.

VOTE

Freshmen should remember election day for managers and assistant managers next Tuesday. A number of members of our class have been out day after day working hard so that they will be able to have a chance to become managers in their junior or senior years. Of course, it will be difficult for those of us who have not actually seen the boys at work to tell who is most deserving and best fitted for the positions, but we ought to make an honest effort to see who the best man is, and vote for him.

FIRE

A short while ago the Compus carried an editorial declaring that fire protection in the dormitories is not what it should be. We think that this fact is dangerously true, and that an effort should be made to provide adequate protection. Particularly the older buildings are dangerous.
BUD BRUNN IN TENNIS MATCH

Bud Brunn, aspiring freshman tennis player, showed himself to be slightly Tildenish when he became one of the two singles winners in the match with Bates Saturday. The match went to Bates by a score of 5-4. Brunn also was a member of one of the two winning doubles teams. Freshmen are doing big things in tennis. Kent Bradbury is manager.

CO-EDS TO TAKE PART IN ARCHERY TOURNAMENT

Miss Longyel and her classes in archery have been invited to compete in an archery tournament which will be given at the Bangor country club later this spring. All of those girls interested should see Miss Longyel and try to get extra practice.

LOW SHOES TO BE PART OF MILITARY UNIFORM

The military uniforms next year will be altered slightly from the regulation uniform used this year. To date only one change has been made, and that is the wearing of low shoes in place of the high ones used this year. The military department is also considering a change in head gear, but no definite announcement of what the change will be has been made as yet.

Y'CABINET MEETING TOMORROW
