Union Opens May 17 For Student Use

Special Events To Mark Ceremony

The Memorial Union will be formally opened Sunday, May 17, at 2 p.m., according to Janice Griswold, chairman of the Union Building subcommittee for the opening day exercises. A special program is planned for the event.

Activities Illustrated

Included in the committee's plans are events which will illustrate the many activities which the Union will carry on. Refreshments will be served, special musical events are planned, moving pictures will be shown, an Opening Day booklet will be distributed, with other features now under consideration.

Official dedication ceremonies of the Memorial Union Building will be held on Alumni Day, June 13, instead of June 30, as was reported in last week's Campus.

In preparation for the opening, it was necessary to move the soda fountain from Carnegie Hall snack bar this morning (Thursday). The University Store Company gave the soda fountain and some equipment to the Union as a gift. The Carnegie snack bar closed last night.

Before the opening, the University is to build a hard surface sidewalk to the main entrance of the building. Also, a gravel walk and road to the east entrance is planned.

The day following the opening, the Union will start to operate with the snack bar, lounges, and other rooms ready for use. There will be a service desk in the lobby to help those seeking information, including the reservation of rooms for meetings.

With the opening of the Union all student organizations, except the large music groups, will be requested to hold their meetings in the Union.

Special High School Weekend Opens Fri.; Atomic Energy Exhibition To Be Highlight

800 Students Expected To Visit Unusual Display At Open House

Pike, Bisbee Slated To Address Opening

A full-regalia ceremony, highlighted with speeches by noted dignitaries, will open the Atomic Energy exhibition at Memorial Gymnasium at 7:30 p.m. tonight.

The display, the only one of its kind in the country and making its only stop in Maine, will get under way with speeches by Sumner T. Pike, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission and present head of the Maine Public Utilities Commission, and General J. Spaulding Bisbee, head of civilian defense in Maine.

The ceremony, to be broadcast throughout eastern Maine, will also feature music by the University band, and introductory speeches by President Arthur A. Hauck and Prof. Clarence E. Bennett, chairman of the University Atomic Energy committee.

More than two dozen separate displays will be on exhibition in the Memorial Gym following the opening ceremony, and will be open to public inspection Friday and Saturday.

The public has been invited to attend the opening program which will last approximately one half hour, according to Prof. George T. Davis, chairman of the Exhibition committee.

Many Maine students have been recruited to act as guides and demonstrators during the showing. The hours during which the exhibit will be open to the public are as follows: Thursday, 7:30 p.m.-10 p.m.; Friday, 1:45 p.m.-10 p.m.; Saturday, 9 a.m.-3 p.m.

Visitors To Learn About University

Final plans are now being made for the High School week end to be held tomorrow and Saturday, Paul F. Butler, chairman of the open house committee, has announced.

The week end, sponsored by the General Student Senate and the University, has been arranged to give high school students in the state an opportunity to secure information about the University, as well as to learn more about college life, said Butler.

Returns from the invitations sent to 237 high schools in the state are still coming in, Butler reported. About 800 students are expected to attend the affair. About half of them will come tomorrow, the other group will attend Saturday.

Highlighting the week end will be an atomic energy display, sponsored by the Maine Educational Extension Service, and brought here by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies, which provides the display for the public.

Included in the exhibit are working models of many of the aspects of atomic energy that can be operated by the visitors. The 30-odd displays are designed to give the layman an intelligent picture of just what atomic energy is. The exhibit is free of charge.

Sumner T. Pike, former member of the Atomic Energy Commission, and now chairman of the Maine Public Utilities Commission, and General Spaulding Bisbee will speak.

The visiting students will also be given tours of campus buildings. The

Charles Laughton To Present Program Of Readings May 11

Charles Laughton will present his nationally famous "An Evening With Charles Laughton" show Monday, May 11, at 8 p.m. in the Memorial Gym. This will be the concluding attraction in the 1952-53 Community Lecture Series.

Laughton is currently on his fifth national tour with this program of readings. The program has proven so popular that last summer Life magazine devoted a twelve page illustrated spread to it as part of its Independence Day coverage. The magazine credited Laughton with reviving the almost lost art of public reading.

Laughton first came to the United States to play the lead in the New York production of "Payment Deferred," a role which he had played in the original London production. Soon after he appeared in a few Hollywood movies but didn't attract much attention until he won an Academy Award for his performance in the title role of "Henry the Eighth." Following this, he returned to England for a brief period, then spent a short time touring Europe.

First-Nighters Acclaim Masque Production 'See How They Run'

By RON DEVINE

When the curtain went up on last night's opener of the Masque's presentation of Phillip King's farce, "See How They Run," the audience was in for a performance of topsy-turvy turnabout which kept them in stitches for three whole acts.

Anyone attending the performance with the idea of doing anything but laughing was in for a big shock.

Before the first act was over the plot had become quite involved, and by the middle of the second act, extenuating circumstances had led to hilarious complications, to the extreme delight of the audience. And things didn't begin to get untangled until a final showdown in the last act, when the intervention of an English bobbie, Sergeant Towers, played expertly by Dick Newdick, finally straightened things out—to a certain degree.

Leading lady Jean Williams, veteran Masquer, portrayed Penelope, the ex-actress wife of an English vicar, The Rev. Mr. Lionel Toop (John Brewer). Displaying much poise and stage presence, Miss Williams acted the part excellently.

John Brewer's performance as Rev. Toop was outstanding both from his acting and from the interpretation of his lines.

Claire Lewis, as Ida the maid; Beth Bedker, as Miss Skillon, an old-maid neighbor; Norman Touchette, as Sergeant Clive Winston, an American G.I. who drops by to visit his ex-leading lady (Miss Williams); and John Bridge as the Bishop of Lax, Penelope's uncle, all supported the leading characters expertly.

Ron Dow stole the show with his excellent portrayal of The Rev. Arthur Humphrey, an extremely prudent and meek minister.

Charles Crothers also made a hit as an escaped Russian spy disguised as one of the ministers assembled at the vicarage.

A seasoned performer as leading lady, and an excellent supporting cast, plus a well-coordinated technical crew all add up to make what we think is one of the best Masque performances in a long time.

Three Mayor Candidates Signed; More Maine Day Help Is Needed

Three candidates are in the race for campus mayor. They are: John Ristuccia, a junior; Roger Frey, a sophomore; and Normand Brochu, a freshman.

Preston "Duke" Walters, a member of the Maine Day Committee, has enlisted the aid of past mayors and candidates to advise this year's crop in an attempt to improve the campaigns, cut down costs, and make for a "bigger and better mayoralty race."

A new feature, introduced this year, allows campaigning on election day. In past years, all campaigning stopped with the final rally Monday night.

Change In Time

A change has been made in the scheduling of the final rally. Because of the appearance of Charles Laughton in Memorial Gym Monday at 8:15 p.m., the mayor's rally will be held at 9:45 p.m. with an intermission between the guest speaker and presentation of the candidates. The program will be limited to 20 minutes per candidate, and women students will receive late permissions to attend the rally.

The theme of this year's float parade is "Maine in the Year 2000" and entries have been received from all women's dorms and most of the fraternities. A special feature this year will be a faculty float, which will not be included in the judging. Following the parade will be the inauguration of the new mayor on the library steps.

More Workers Needed

A slight snag in Maine Day preparations was reported by projects chairman John Randall at an informal meeting of the committee at President Hauck's Sunday night which makes even greater the need for workers to sign up at the circulation desk of the Library, between now and May 13.

Many students were not contacted through the new sign-up system utilized this year by distributing cards in classes last week. Only 750 workers signed up during that period, which is far below the enlistment in previous years.

A personal contact approach will be used in the time remaining in the

DeWilde Elected President Of IFC

John A. DeWilde was elected president of the Interfraternity Council at the monthly meeting last Tuesday.

Paul E. Marcoux was chosen vice president, and Mark H. Cohen secretary-treasurer.

After the elections, Patrick H. Dionne, out-going president of the Council, thanked the group for their cooperation in the past year, and turned the meeting over to president DeWilde.

Two measures which had been sent back to the fraternities for their acceptance or rejection were defeated during the business meeting.

The first proposal was one which would require all freshmen to have at least a 1.5 point average to take part in rushing activities. The second recommendation concerned the shortening of the informal initiation period to one week end, to be chosen by the individual fraternity. The rushing rules were discussed briefly at the meeting.

John Aldrey Tosses Hat Into Mayoralty Ring

A fourth candidate for campus mayor threw his hat into the ring Tuesday. John Aldrey of Sigma Nu, a junior majoring in dairy technology, signified his mayoralty intentions Tuesday to Preston (Duke) Walters, a member of the Maine Day committee.

hope of swelling the work crew to the required force. Randall also stated that students who find out at the last minute that they will be available for participation in Maine Day are welcome to report for work on the Mall at 8:30 a.m. Maine Day morning even if they have not signed an assignment card.

Other Reports Made

Other reports from Maine Day chairman revealed that finishing touches were being added to their divisions.

Refreshments chairman Chip Moody said that lists were being placed in men's and women's dorms to give students a chance to sign up for the exchange breakfast Wednesday morning. During the work period, coke and ice cream will be provided at each project, coffee being substituted in case of rain or cold weather.

Co-chairmen Phil Haskell and Barbara Wigger of the entertainment committee reported that the student-faculty skit to be presented as the final event of Maine Day at 8:15 p.m. in the Memorial Gym will have a theme of universal interest among students and faculty alike. Entitled "State of Mainia" the skit is a take-off on Pres. Hauck's presenting the budget to the legislature in quest of more funds for the University.

Featured in the cast will be Dr. Hauck as himself, Russell Woolley as narrator, Capt. Robert Chabot as a member of the intramural athletic program, Vincent Hartgen, Dean Edith Wilson, Eileen Cassidy, and many other faculty performers in addition to the roster of students which includes Duke Walters, Phil Haskell, and Dick Gardiner.

800 Students To Visit Here

Senior Skulls, the All Maine Women, and the Sophomore Owls and Eagles have offered their services in acting as guides on the tours.

President Arthur A. Hauck will address the two groups of visitors briefly on both Friday and Saturday mornings.

The guests will have an opportunity to talk with the deans of the colleges and the Director of Admissions, who will be in their offices, said Butler.

Arrangements have been made so that the visitors may purchase their noon meal in the new cafeteria.

Although the program is scheduled to end at 3 p.m., the visitors are welcome to stay on campus as long as they wish, Butler said.

Dr. Gustavson-Bishop Burrill To Be Commencement Speakers

Dr. Reuben G. Gustavson, chancellor of the University of Nebraska, will deliver the commencement address, and the Right Reverend Gerald Francis Burrill, Suffragan Bishop of the Diocese of Dallas, Texas, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon at the graduation exercises, Sunday, June 14. Dr. Arthur A. Hauck has announced.

Baccalaureate services will be held at 10:30 a.m. and the commencement exercises at 2:30 p.m. in the Memorial Gym.

Known internationally as a scientist and as one of the outstanding educators of the midwest, Dr. Gustavson has been chancellor of the University of Nebraska since 1946.

Immediately prior to his association with the University of Nebraska, Dr. Gustavson was vice president and dean of faculties at the University of Chicago.

Born in Denver, he received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from the University of Denver and his Ph.D. degree from the University of Chicago. He is the recipient of honorary degrees from Regis College, James Milliken University, University of Florida, Doane College, and University of Denver.

Dr. Gustavson began his teaching career at Colorado Agricultural College Fort Collins, where he served from 1917 to 1920. From 1920 until 1943 he was a member of the chemistry staff at the University of Denver, becoming head of the department in 1937. In 1942 he became dean of the Graduate school at the University of Colorado, and served as president of the University from 1943-1945. He American Council on Education.

Born in Bangor

Bishop Burrill was born in Bangor and was graduated from Maine in 1929. He received his bachelor of sacred theology degree from the General Theological Seminary in 1932.

He was ordained to the ministry of the Episcopal church in 1933 and served as priest in charge of All Saints' Church, Mariner's Harbor, Staten Island, N. Y., from 1932-35. He was rector of St. Paul's Church, Morrisania, New York City, from 1935-44; associate secretary, Forward in Service, 1944-45, and executive secretary 1945-46.

He has served as a member of the Board of Religious Education in New York City, president of the New York Churchmen's Clericus, and chairman of the Commission on Christian Education.

Bishop Burrill received the degree of doctor of sacred theology from General Theological Seminary in 1951 and doctor of divinity from the School of Theology of the University of the South in the same year.

Jean Dolloff Wins Music Society Prize

The Mu Alpha Epsilon Award, presented annually to the senior doing most to further interest in music on the Maine campus, has been awarded to Jean Dolloff. The presentation was made at the University Music Night concert by Professor Lewis Niven representing the honorary music society.

About 1,000 people were in the Memorial Gym to hear this last attraction in the 1952-53 University Concert Series. The program featured selections by the University band, orchestra, and glee club.

Initiates to Mu Alpha Epsilon were announced during the evening. They are Frederick Anderson, Gerald Beach, Isabella Frasier, Sylvia Johnson, Abbott Mosher, and Beverly Strout.

Winners of Mu Alpha Epsilon scholarships in applied music are Roger Dow, Bradford Payne, and Faith Wilson.

Annual ROTC Review To Be Held May 14

Retiring University registrar James A. Gannett will be the honored guest and reviewing official at the annual ROTC inspection May 14 at Alumni Field.

As approximately 1,000 ROTC cadets pass in regimental review at 9:45 next Thursday morning, Mr. Gannett will share the reviewing stand with Col. George G. Palmer, chief of the Maine military district, and officers of the inspection team.

According to custom, awards will be pinned on outstanding ROTC cadets during the ceremonies by the honorary cadet colonel, Miss Janet Marston, assisted by four honorary lieutenant colonels, Dorothy Ann Leonard, Joan Stanley, Joyce Hobbs, and Polly Turner.

Highlighting the presentation of over 20 awards will be the Maine Alumni Association's award of a silver saber to the "outstanding ROTC cadet." In addition, the various branch associations will give medals to outstanding Signal Corps, Infantry and Artillery cadets.

Two new awards to be presented this year will be the medals from the Penobscot Valley Reserve Officers Association, one for the outstanding cadet company commander and another for the outstanding cadet first sergeant.

According to Col. Curtis D. Renfro, PMS&T of the military department, the review this year will be considered as an assembly period for the University, with everyone invited.

Col. Renfro added that no "war games" will be held this year for economy reasons.

Maine Religious Director Named To Higgins Post

The Rev. Charles E. O'Connor, religious director at the University since 1950, told a Campus reporter Tuesday that he was "pleased" to learn he had been elected headmaster at Higgins Classical Institute and was "looking forward to beginning his new duties."

He said he had been contacted some time ago by the board of trustees at Higgins and at that time had consented to become a candidate for the Charleston position which Philip E. Keith will vacate at the end of the present semester.

Mr. O'Connor, whose duties with the University will end in June, said he will remain here during summer session and take up his new duties at Higgins in September. He said he hoped to move his family to Charleston in August.

A native of Brooklyn, N. Y., the popular religious director attended Bangor schools and graduated from the University with honors in 1931.

While an undergraduate at the University he was active in track, holding the state record for the broad jump for 10 years.

Mr. O'Connor taught at Stearns High school in Millinocket and Bangor High school for several years and later was principal at Winter Harbor High school.

Coming to the University in 1942, he served as general secretary of the Maine Christian association for the next eight years.

Since 1950 he has been director of the Student Religious association here.

Criticism And Praise

Twelve years ago the Good Will Chest was established on this campus to eliminate the continual hounding of students for funds by the various charities, and to incorporate all these charities into one annual campaign.

In the words of this year's Good Will president, "The Chest seeks to make solicitations once a year. If we fail to make a creditable showing, not only in this drive, but in the Good Will Chest as a whole, the General Student Senate, which created the Chest, may feel justified in dissolving it."

The Good Will Chest didn't make what we thought was a creditable showing this year.

Will the General Student Senate dissolve the Chest? We sincerely hope they do not even consider it. We firmly believe in the Good Will Chest. Rather, we hope to see some improvements made in the Chest campaigns.

Why don't the students show more interest in the Chest? It exists wholly in their interest. Perhaps we can offer a few suggestions to the Chest governors in running their drive next year.

First, we think the timing of the drive should be given more careful thought. Perhaps if it were held soon after we came back from summer vacation with a little cash in our pockets, we would feel a little more charitable toward donating. But with the various spring activities, and the payments of two semester bills, many students are finding cash rather scarce this time of year. Apparently, the board of governors of the Chest guessed wrong about holding the drive directly after Easter recess—they had the right idea, but the wrong vacation.

Second, if the donation cards didn't require the name of the contributor to appear along with the amount given, there might have been more donors. Many people honestly felt that they were unable to give the amount expected, and rather than be embarrassed by signing their name along with their donation, they didn't give at all—and this hurts, because every little bit counts.

Third, the Chest must devise some means to catch the interest of the students, and make them want to pitch in and help to make the drive a success. Last year the Chest held a mock faculty auction. It was reportedly not too successful as far as fund-raising is concerned, but it did create some student interest. Perhaps the Chest could sponsor a "tag day" such as the one held by the "M" club, or put on a social function, such as a dance.

But enough criticism of the Good Will Chest. We sincerely believe that Chet Cambell, president of the Chest, meant well when he said, "I feel the students as a whole take pride in student-directed activities, and the Chest, as such an activity, will be made to succeed, I am sure, by the men and women of Maine." We are as disappointed as he is with the lack of response from the students.

A vote of praise is in order for Chet and the board of governors of this year's Good Will Chest for their hard and diligent work in trying to make this year's drive a success.

We hope in the years to come the Chest committee will develop a more successful system for the raising of funds, and we hope also that they will get more cooperation from the students, for it is the student body which benefits in the long run from the Good Will Chest.

Elections Tuesday

With spring elections coming up on Tuesday, every student owes it to himself to thoroughly study the list of candidates printed in entirety in this issue of the Campus. Furthermore, he should plan now to vote. The old axiom is as good today as ever: "Bad officials are elected by good citizens who don't vote."

President Offers Maine Day Message

Maine Day has come to have an important place in the life of the University.

Past observances have been successful because of the willing and enthusiastic participation by students and members of the faculty. The work projects have made the campus more attractive, and the other events of the day have fostered the spirit of friendliness and cooperation.

The various committees have worked hard on the plans for this year's activities. I am confident that the spirit of participation which has made former Maine Days a happy and productive event will make May 13 a good day to remember.

ARTHUR A. HAUCK

Opinionettes

Question: What can be done to secure workers for Maine Day projects?

Helen Fox, '54—As an off-campus student, I think more should be done to appeal to off-campus students. They aren't made a part of it like students living in the dormitories or fraternities.

Ray Robbins, '53—Try not to apply so much pressure in giving out work cards. Give students a chance to suggest projects.

Beverly Fowlie, '56—If they could have some check system—stamp the students perhaps. Also, more should be made of the mystery project.

Everett Pouliot, '54—I think the old system of having the proctors give out and collect the work cards was much better than doing it in classes.

Robert L. Giguere, '56—They ought to set a prize for the group that completes their project most efficiently.

Eleanor (Billy) Williams, '56—I suggest the college give the students some incentive—such as rewards for the most successful group.

Fact And Fiction Fair Ladies And Fir Trees

BY BEN PIKE

I'm confused—maybe it's spring fever—but I don't think so. For the past week or so, I've noticed certain members of the feminine population on campus parading around with fir trees planted solidly on their dainty cheeks, and I've really been confused!

What do these blessed damsels represent anyway, the All-Girl Foresters of Maine? If so, I know that certain members of the Maine Day Committee have jobs for the bonnie lassies—noticed that there were a lot of projects slated for the foresters this year. And, if we are going to have the fair ladies swing the axe on Maine Day, this is one kid who won't miss the exhibition. I haven't seen a woman swing an axe since Grandma chopped fire wood for the old cook stove.

Then there's another thing that confuses me about this. What do they do when they have to shave? I shudder to think of having to mow down a fir tree with a razor—it almost kills me to whittle off even a short stubble of foliage. But to try to wade through a fir tree—Oh, sa-a-a-ints preserve us!

If this is some form of branding, why don't they pattern their manner of branding after the Texas cow-punchers? It's true that the Texans use a red-hot iron to leave the imprint, but cattle brands are less conspicuous on the posterior than they would be on the dainty chops of Mag, the long-horn.

My humble apologies fair lassies. A non-descript friend of mine has informed me that these fir-branded damsels are representatives of the All-Maine Women's organization.

Now, I'm more confused than ever! What sort of an organization is the AMWO? Any relation to the WCTU or DAR? I've been waiting a long time to see some member of the fairer sex march on such infamous places as Pat's and the Bloody Bucket with hatchets in hand—not to mention some fraternity houses, and dormitories—girls included???? Now, perhaps my dreams will come true, and amidst all this confusion, I humbly bow, and if I wore a hat, I'd doff it to you.

Letters To The Editor

A Former Mayor Speaks

To the Editor: As a former Campus Mayor (1941-42-43), I read with particular interest the fine article in the April 30 issue of the Campus on the current Campus Mayor situation.

I returned to the campus in 1951 and, frankly, was quite disappointed to find that difficulty was being experienced in obtaining candidates for the office. Moreover, I soon observed that the mayor and his office are not currently looked upon with the favor and kindness which I experienced in the early forties. It would almost appear that, to seek the office of mayor, a student must literally subject himself to being the "goat of the campus."

Prior to the war, the office of mayor was seriously and enthusiastically sought after by the fraternities, the dormitories, and the off-campus men. These groups took much pride in presenting a candidate and "backing" him to the hilt.

Before the war, it was a pleasure to run, and a real honor to be elected to this office. Furthermore, the duties of the mayor were far from limited to "helping put on a football rally." In fact, the mayor's duties at rallies was not to provide some sort of ridiculous show—although humor was all-important. The mayor was the Master of Ceremonies at that time. He kept the rally moving and the spirit high. The "entertainment" was provided by the Soph Owls from an obvious source!

This business of offering the mayor compensation in the way of a key, a cup, or free cokes, passes, etc., was unheard of and unsought before the war. Do you consider offering such compensations in an effort to obtain candidates for president of the Student Senate or your class officers? The honor of the office used to be more than sufficient.

Why does this situation exist? I have a few ideas which may or may not be worth consideration. First, a candidate "in the good old days" who relied upon extreme and spectacular stunts of dubious nature to obtain votes was doomed to failure from the start. It was not jumping off the Orono bridge, eating live goldfish, or riding bicycles around the roof of the Gym which gave the candidate the election in "those days." The campaign was a true "take-off" on an actual political campaign. The candidate who could come up with a unique and ultra humorous platform, sell it to the student voters, and out-talk the comments and criticisms of his opponents invariably came out "the new Campus Mayor." By the way, he received quite an inaugural ceremony as part of Maine Day! Much color was present. It was provided by "party workers" and "constituents" who went all out.

Fast talk, good and humorous speeches—plus the color of student support—were the keys to success. Once elected the mayor was not forgotten except to be the "goat" at football rallies. He was asked to speak to many student groups and to participate (humorously) in "state occasions."

I remember our campaigns with a broad grin and my terms in office with nothing but pleasure. It is my hope that the student body will not permit the campaign and the office to degenerate further, but will go "all out" to make the mayor's campaign and office a high point in campus life. It used to be real fun for all. Let's bring it back!

Senate 'Progress'

To the Editor: Something is missing in this year's Student Senate. Maybe it is the lack of real purpose, the need for a breath of life, or an absence of leadership, but whatever it is, it is sorely hindering the Senate and its work.

Each issue of the Maine Campus gives great detail to the progress of the Senate. Or is progress the right word? Is it progress to completely ignore the loud and numerous howls of election irregularities such as followed this year's Fall elections? Is it progress to agree to the principle of an eight hour class day a month after the administration had announced concrete details which were published in the Campus and other papers throughout New England?

We, the students, pay the bills of the General Student Senate, but we are getting tired of paying for the truth and getting little more than a whitewash.

GEORGE H. FIELD

The good driver realizes that he is not the only driver on the road. He does not indulge in such bad motor-ing habits as horn-ing his way through traffic, hogging the road, failing to give proper signals.

Mayor candidates, Roger Frey, Normand Brochu, and John Ristuccia, left to right, have now started their campaigns. The winner's inauguration will take place on Maine Day.

Weekend Show Will Feature Top Woodsmen

Over fifty outdoor enthusiasts, composing nine teams, will participate in the Woodsmen's Week End here this week end when outing club representatives from six schools will test their skills in wood chopping and canoeing activities.

The events will commence Saturday morning at 9 a.m. in the field between Carnegie and West Hall.

The Saturday events will include bait and fly casting for accuracy and distance, felling and twitching, cross-cut sawing, buck sawing, splitting, chopping, pulpwood throwing, log rolling, and pack board racing.

On Sunday, the program will continue at Mud Pond with canoeing events. Obstacle races and portage races will be held.

Teams Entering

The nine teams entering the events are Dartmouth Outing Club, Middlebury Mountain Club, Maine Outing Club—each with two teams—Kimball Outing Club with one team, and one team each from McGill Outing Club and Sir George Williams Outing Club, both Canadian schools.

Each of the events in the program will count 100 points with a total of 1300 points for the 13 events. The team with the most points at the end of the week-end activities will receive a trophy, gift of Ernest Quillian Brazel, class of 1947 at Dartmouth.

Last year, Middlebury College won the events with a total of 1079.3 points. Maine came in second with 1013.7 points. The event was held at Middlebury.

Representatives from the Maine Outing Club and the Forestry Club will compose the Maine team.

Among the members of the Maine teams are Al Coulombe, Neil McGowan, John Steffens, Donald Lester.

Harmon Named Registrar; Takes Post In August

James A. Harmon has been appointed as Registrar for the University, according to an announcement by President Arthur A. Hauck today.

Mr. Harmon, an instructor in mathematics and assistant to the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, succeeds James A. Gannett, who will retire in August after serving the University 45 years.

A native of Presque Isle, Mr. Harmon prepared for college at Presque Isle High School and Aroostook State Normal School. He was graduated from the University in 1940 with a B.S. degree in education. He has also done graduate work at the University.

He was appointed to the University faculty in 1946 as an instructor in mathematics. He has been assistant to the dean of the College of Arts and Sciences for the past two years.

President Hauck says "Hello." Why don't you?

Two-Year Students Given Certificates

Nineteen students received certificates of graduation in the Two-Year Agricultural Program last Friday in exercises held in the Little Theatre.

Dean of Agriculture Arthur L. Deering presided at the exercises in which Smith McIntire of Perham was the featured speaker.

Those receiving certificates were as follows:

Dairy Farming—Edward R. Burnham, Dale N. Finmore, Charles E. Hesketh, William R. Horsfall, Raymond E. Kimball, Richard W. LaRoche, and George R. Wentworth.

Fruit and Vegetable Farming—Martha A. Benson and Arthur N. Lawrence, Jr.

Mechanized Farming—Hobart W. Finmore and Richard G. Hawkes.

Potato Farming—Eben J. Ellis, Gerald R. LaPierre, Bert H. Peaslee, Floyd J. St. Peter, and Verlane D. Walsh.

Poultry Farming—Roland F. Estes, Richard O. Hobart, and Donald C. Tiffany.

It sparked an electronic revolution!

The 2A Transistor illustrated is designed to fit a plug-in socket. In one use in the Bell System, ribbon leads are employed as shown above.

Perhaps you've heard something about the transistor—a tiny and mechanically simple electronic device based on an entirely new principle. It can do many things a vacuum tube can do—yet its greatest possibilities may lie in applications where vacuum tubes have not been used.

A few years ago this revolutionary device was invented and experimentally made by scientists at Bell Telephone Laboratories. Today, several types of transistors are in production at Western Electric—manufacturing unit of the Bell System.

This didn't just happen! Its manufacture is the result of a lot of teamwork by Western Electric engineers of varied skills and training.

Transistors are unimpressive looking little things, but don't let that fool you! The most delicate metallurgical and manufacturing skills are required in their production. In one type of transistor there are three thin adjacent regions of germanium, each region containing chemical elements in exact quantities, the whole unit being no larger than the head of a match! Suitable leads, or wires, must be positioned in proper relation to these layers with utmost accuracy, using microscopes and oscilloscopes.

Transistors can do many things: transform radio energy for driving a telephone receiver or loudspeaker—amplify weak signals—generate a-c current—convert a-c to d-c—respond to light—increase, decrease or halt the flow of current. Small and rugged, they're going to work today in the Bell System and in varied types of military equipment.

Quantity producing these mighty mites—with laboratory precision—is typical of many forward-looking engineering projects at Western Electric.

Exhibit On Maine School Designs Now On Display In Carnegie Hall

"Contemporary Schools, USA—Maine," one of the art department's major art exhibitions of the year, opened May 3 in Carnegie Hall with many dignitaries present at opening ceremonies.

Among the guests at the opening were Dr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck, Commissioner of Education and Mrs. Herbert Espy, Dean and Mrs. Mark R. Shibles, and Prof. and Mrs. Vincent A. Hartgen.

50 Architects Represented

More than 50 prominent architects from all parts of the country have submitted plans, photographs, models, and research studies of outstanding school designs.

Five Maine architectural firms have presented original works. Crowell, Lancaster, and Higgins, of Bangor, have included the plans of the Pemetic high school in Southwest Harbor, the Deer Isle elementary school, and additions to the Orono high school.

Alonzo Harriman, of Auburn, has submitted details of the Ellsworth high school, the Bar Harbor elementary school, and additions to the Washburn school, Auburn. Bunker and Savage, of Augusta, is presenting the Waterville elementary school.

Bangor Schools Shown

George Savage, Northeast Harbor, is exhibiting the plans for the addition to the Millbridge high school. The Vine Street elementary school, the Eastside elementary school, both in Bangor, and the North school in Rockland, are being shown by Eaton W. Tarbell and Associates, Bangor.

Ten schools, winners of the national contest, "Competition for Better School Design," are also being displayed.

Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity was the host at the opening ceremonies with a coffee from 3-5 p.m. The exhibition will end August 15.

'Name The Room' Contest

Ten dollars worth of credit at the Union Building cafeteria is the prize offered for the best name for the room which will house the Union eating facilities.

This contest is open to all University students and employees except the contest judges and the members of the permanent staff of the Union.

All entries must be submitted to "Name the Room," Judges Committee, by Friday, May 15, 1953. In cases of duplication, duplicate prizes will be awarded. The winner will be announced at the Memorial Union opening May 17.

The judging will be based on the originality, adaptability, and connotation of the name. Contestants may submit as many names as they desire, however, each entry must be signed by the entrant giving his name, address, and University status.

The judges for the contest are: Mayor Zinas (Zeke) Mavodones, Constance Lewis, and Gwen Bryant; one faculty member, Vincent A. Hartgen; and Betty Ried, a University employee.

Maine Day Projects Listed

Thirty-three Maine Day projects have been scheduled by the Maine Day committee. If you have not signed up for a project, you may report on the Mall, Wednesday, May 13, at 8:30 a.m. to work at one of the projects.

Following is the list of projects and their leaders:

1. Cutting dead trees north of heating plant. Plant three native spruce trees north of waiting room. Richard Brubaker and Ruth Beyer.
2. Cleaning of forest area north of athletic field. Clay Beal and Ann Bronson.
3. Install guard rail at Infirmary and general improvement. Abbott Mosher and Kay Fletcher.
4. Plant evergreens near Memorial Gym and tennis courts. Mert Robinson and Sandy Glorsky.
5. Replanting trees at north end of outdoor track. Norm Schlaack and Freida Smith.
6. Forestry Memorial Projects. Richard Staples and Jane Stevens.
7. Work on shrub beds at Coburn and Alumni Hall. Bill Johnson and Connie Lewis.
8. Work on improving the area around the skating cabin. Richard Gardner and Nancy Bryant.
9. Development of the Stillwater Picnic area. Bud Wieland and Norma Cumming.
10. Development of the Aggie picnic area. Merle Adams and Nancy Collins.
11. Painting guard rails at Alumni, Central sales, New Cafeteria, and Stevens. Sewall Hobson and Pat Huddleston.
12. Work at Botanical Gardens. Harry Potter and Marilyn Spear.
13. Work on cross-country course. Tom Lasky and Barbara Graham.
14. Work on Women's athletic field and field house. Fred Breslin and Helen Strong.
15. Work at South Apartments. Mr. and Mrs. Buzz Sawyer.
16. Work at trailers and cabins. Don Weymouth.
17. Work at the Elms, general cleaning up. Ed Johnson and Eini Riutta.
18. Work on Main athletic field. Joe Garneau and Norma Smaha.
19. Clean inside of Memorial Gym and field house. Ron Perry and Ruth Thompson.
20. Clean inside of Women's Gym. Joan Gillette and Bella Frazier.
21. Construct walk and roadway east side of Memorial Union. Gorham Hussey and Mary Alice Hastings.
22. Clean and refill shrub beds at Stevens Hall. Al Ram and Maxine Dresser.
23. Plant ivy at South Wall of Chem. Wing and shrubs at North end near parking lot. Al Leo and Jan Griswald.
24. Plant evergreens southeast of Carnegie and prepare tree beds in front of Carnegie. John Pulsifer and Eleanor Zehner.
25. Plant evergreens North and South of New Engineering Building. Zeke Mavodones and Charlotte Troubh.
26. Construct walk from Plant Science to Central Sales. Dave Beppler and Trudy Wyman.
27. Replanting Class Day ivies at Carnegie, Lord, and Animal Pathology. Robert Oldfield and Sandy King.
28. Mothballing Maine Masque equipment. Dick Newdick and Pat Keenan.
29. Work at ski slope sand jump. Robert Irish and Cynthia Cowan.
30. Install guard rail between Beta and Theta Chi. Mike Breen and Sally Brackley.
31. Mystery project. Lew Clark and Dot Stone.
32. Work at the art department.
33. Work at the radio station, WORO.

Bear Facts

BY MOE HICKEY

"That weather man just isn't playing fair with me," Coach Tubby Raymond must be muttering to himself. And come to think of it, I guess "Tubby" has good reason to be slightly peeved at old man weather. Coach Raymond's varsity baseball nine was all set to open their home season last Friday against Rhode Island only to have the rains come down full blast and wash the game out. Bowdoin was scheduled to play here on Saturday, but officials transferred the game to Brunswick because Maine's diamond was too wet. What happened? It rained at Brunswick, and Maine was washed out the second time in two days.

We really sympathize with Coach Raymond and his pastimers. They slave long hours in the fieldhouse and outdoors to mold themselves into a sharp baseball outfit. They don't put those long hours of practice just for the fun of it. Like everything else they are working for a goal. The trouble is, they haven't had a chance to show their goods before Maine fans. It's kind of disheartening. If you didn't attend this afternoon's game against New Hampshire why not attend the Connecticut game here this Saturday, and give Maine's varsity nine some solid backing?

Charlie Emery's varsity golf team so far seems to be faring the best of the varsity spring sports this spring. Last week end Emery's linksmen defeated Rhode Island and Bowdoin by lop sided scores at the Penobscot Valley Country Club to make it three wins in four outings.

The Pale Blue golfers will tee off this Friday in the New England of the Yankee Conference at Watertown, Mass. It's been a couple of years since a Maine golfer has qualified for the New England. In 1948, Gene McNabb, a Maine fairway whizz, went all the way and won the New England. Coach Emery has a talented six in Al Noyes, Tom Golden, Joe Young, Don Mavor, Lionel Berube, and Bob McMahan and should do all right in the tournament.

Before we forget it we ought to give Joe Young a few lines for his feat Sunday at the PVCC. Joe dropped a 140 yard nine iron shot for a hole in one on the No. 4 hole. The ball hit the green on the fly, and neatly dribbled into the cup.

Maine's varsity outdoor track team went down to defeat for the second time last Saturday, but not before some outstanding performances by Bill Calkin and Ken Lincoln. Calkin, a sophomore on Jenkins' squad, took first in three events and one second for a total of 18 points, a little over 1/3 of Maine's 51 1/3 points. Lincoln set a new record for a Maine man in the pole vault when he cleared the bar at 12 feet, 11 1/2 inches. Lincoln had to be good to beat New Hampshire's Hogan, who consistently clears 12 feet, 9 inches.

We got a glimpse at strong arm Ivan Ackerman, Wycoff, N. J., at the Frosh-MCI game here last Monday afternoon. Ivan, a six foot, two inch lad, went all the way, fourteen innings, to win 5-4. He held MCI scoreless the last seven innings in a beautiful pitching performance. Ivan, who pitched several no-hitters while in high school, really worked out there. After the game he weighed himself and was eight pounds lighter than before the game.

Phi Kappa Sigma defeated Corbett 1 last Tuesday night at Memorial Gym to cop the Intramural Volleyball campus championship. Phi Kap gained their way to a shot at the campus championship by defeating Beta the same night for the fraternity crown.

Those who played on Phi Kap's undefeated six man team were Dave Anderson, Jack Curry, Al Smith, Dick Lapointe, Dick Hess, and Frank Fenno.

Cindermen Set For 54th State Track Meet

Ken Lincoln clears the bar with a 12-foot, 11 1/2-inch leap in last Saturday's Maine-New Hampshire track meet, to set a new U. of M. pole vault record. Ken will be going for more honors in the State Meet this Saturday. Photo by Meinecke

Maine Track Men Out To Snap Bowdoin's Championship Reign

BY KEITH RUFF

Coach Chester "Chet" Jenkins will take his Black Bear track team to Lewiston this week end to compete in the 54th annual State Track Meet. Trials are scheduled for Saturday morning with finals slated to get underway in the afternoon.

The Maine cindermen will be going all out to break Bowdoin's championship monopoly. The Polar Bears have won the state title for the last two years. Maine's last championship year was in 1950. Since the first state meet in 1895, Bowdoin has won championship honors 31 times and Maine has dominated on 21 occasions. Bates has gained but one state track title while the Colby thinclads have never won the cinder crown outright.

Bowdoin Strong

The state champion Polar Bears are strong again this year with a host of top-notch track and field performers. The Bowdoin squad has a lot of depth and is a well-balanced machine. Bowdoin is undefeated in outdoor track competition this spring.

The two teams match up pretty evenly, and this should make for a close contest all the way.

Last Saturday the Bear cindermen dropped their second straight dual meet of the season when they bowed to the power-packed New Hampshire squad. The meet, originally slated for the outdoor track, had to be moved into the field house because of a wet track and cold weather. Only the discus, javelin and hammer throw events were held out of doors.

Bill Calkin and Ken Lincoln provided the big noise for Maine in the 83 3/4-51 1/2 defeat. Calkin paced all the point getters as he copped three firsts and a second for 18 big markers. He won the high hurdles, 85-yard dash and 220 while taking a second in the low hurdles.

Lincoln Sets Record

Lincoln set a new Maine record in the pole vault with a spectacular 12-foot, 11 1/2-inch leap. Lincoln's record-breaking vault gave him a first place in that event. The old pole vault record for a Maine man stood at somewhere under 12-feet, 10-inches.

Summary includes only winning times, heights and distances and places won by Maine men: Pole Vault—won by Lincoln (12' 11 1/2"). Javelin—Won by Folsom, 3rd, Grove (169' 10 1/4"). Hammer—Swept by N.H. (155' 3 3/4"). High Hurdles—Won by Calkin (10.8). 85 Yd. Dash—Won by Calkin, 2nd, Nielson (8.9). One Mile—2nd, Perry (4:29.1). High Jump—Meyer in 3-way tie for 3rd (6' 1 1/2"). Shot Put—Won by Bogdanovich (46' 10 5/8"). 440—3rd, G. Smith (52.0). Two Mile—2nd, MacLean; 3rd, Bepler (10:05.1). Low Hurdles—2nd, Calkin (9.6). Discus—Swept by N.H. (136' 6"). Broad Jump—2nd, Meyer (21' 9"). 880—2nd, Haskell (2:0). 220—Won by Calkin (22.8).

Golf Team Wins In State, YC Play

Coach Charlie Emery's varsity golfers warmed up for the New England Yankee Conference championship at Watertown, Mass., this week end by coping two matches last Friday and Saturday against Rhode Island and Bowdoin.

Tommy Golden, scoring a nice 74, paced Maine Saturday afternoon as Maine smothered Bowdoin 23 1/2-3 1/2 for their third win in four starts.

The rest of the scoring for the Maine team was as follows: Joe Young, (82), Al Noyes, (82), Bob McMahan, (82), Lionel Berube, (85), and Don Mavor, (87).

Baseballers Set To Tangle With UConns, Mules

BY BOB CHADBOURNE

The varsity pastimers face a schedule of three home games this week including New Hampshire today, the University of Conn. on the ninth, and Colby in a State Series game on May 13.

The pitching plans for the week haven't as yet been announced, but it is probable Hank Woodbrey will work the Connecticut game. This will give Otterstedt a week's rest before the next State Series game against Colby on May 13.

Following the impressive showing at Lewiston a week ago the Raymond-men were victims of washouts on two occasions. The Rhode Island game was cancelled due to rain last Friday which left the playing field unfit for the Bowdoin game the following day. Trying desperately to play the State Series games as scheduled, Coach Raymond took his squad to Brunswick to play the game at Bowdoin rather than at Orono as scheduled. The team arrived in Brunswick, but the rains arrived with them and the game was cancelled there also.

The rains have been an asset in one respect so far. The long injury list has been eliminated and the pitching staff is well rested for the second half of the season. Captain Al Card has looked good lately after three weeks' nursing a badly bruised finger. Card caught both ends of the twin bill against Bates and there is no question but what he is ready for the heavy schedule.

Bowdoin Coach Danny McFayden and our own "Tubby" Raymond have conflicting opinions as to who will win the State Series title. A couple of weeks ago, McFayden asserted, "Maine will be the team to beat for the state title." Raymond countered this when he said, "McFayden is trying to put the whammy on us."

Frosh Nine To Entertain Coburn And Husson Next

Coach Bob Hollway's freshman baseball team will be out to keep their record clean when they meet Coburn here Monday and Husson college a week from today.

The frosh baseball season opened successfully here Monday as tall right hander, Ivan Ackerman of Wycoff, N. J., out pitched Don Irish of MCI in a thirteen inning game 5-4.

The frosh scored their winning run in the thirteenth inning when "Tiger" Soyachak led off with a walk. The little third sacker, who scored three runs in the game, promptly stole second and scored on Dick Wood's sharp single to center.

Courtmen Leave For YC Tourney

After gaining their first win of the season with a 9-0 sweep over New Hampshire Monday, Coach Garland Russell's tennismen journey to Durham, N. H., this week end to compete in the Yankee Conference tennis tournament.

The Bear netmen will leave here Thursday night for the University of New Hampshire campus where YC racquet squads begin play at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Finals in both singles and doubles competition will be played on Saturday.

Coach Russell will take his six top court specialists to Durham for a crack at the YC tennis crown. Those making the trip are Capt. Ernie Sutton, Brooks Whitehouse, Gene Drolet, "Duffer" Pendleton, Skip Hall, and Ken Barnard.

The Pale Blue racquet swingers face two afternoons of mid-week competition next week with a Wednesday match against Bates on the home court and the rescheduled Bowdoin match slated for Thursday. Bowdoin was supposed to be here last Saturday but the matches were postponed by rain and cold weather. The scheduled match between Maine and Rhode Island last Friday was cancelled by rain.

Monday afternoon the Maine tennis team started its home slate on the right foot by whipping New Hampshire, 9-0. This was the first win for the Bears in three starts and gives them a 1-2 record in Yankee Conference play.

Bear Cub Foursome To Run In Frosh Relays At Lewiston

A four-man freshman team from Coach Chester Jenkins' Bear Cub track aggregation will compete Saturday in the Freshman Relay at the State Meet in Lewiston.

Coach Jenkins said this week that Dick Hamblen will run the 440-yard first lap. Jim Rouvalis and Henry Hooper will go in the two 220-yard heats while distance ace Paul Hanson will cover the last 880-yards stretch. Walt Morrill may be used in place of either Hooper or Rouvalis in one of the 220-yard sprints.

Last Saturday the yearling cindermen went on another point-piling spree to top Portland High School, 78 3/4-47 1/3. For the Bear Cubs it was track win #8 without a defeat. The victory string began at the start of the indoor season and has gone unbroken since then.

Pete Werner dominated the weight events for the frosh to take three first places. Portland's Bob Greene was high man for the meet with 22 points.

Summary includes only winning times, heights and distances and places won by the freshmen:

High Jump—Hartpence and Dow were in 3-way tie for 3rd (5' 7"). Shot Put—Won by Werner (45' 10 1/4"). Javelin—1st, Selland; 3rd, Hanson (149' 4 3/4"). High Hurdles—2nd, Rouvalis; 3rd, Rearick (12.0). Pole Vault—Maine sweep Harlow (1), Rearick (2), Hartpence (3) (12'). Discus—Won by Werner (104' 3 3/4"). Broad Jump—1st, Dow; 3rd, Hartpence (19' 5"). 85-yd. On Saturday, May 16, the Advanced Oral Interpretation class of the speech department will give a performance of "Don Juan In Hell," an excerpt from "Man And Superman," by George Bernard Shaw, before members of the Faculty Arts Club and their guests.

The performance will be held in the Little Theatre.

Don't you want to try a cigarette with a record like this?

1. THE QUALITY CONTRAST between Chesterfield and other leading cigarettes is a revealing story. Recent chemical analyses give an index of good quality for the country's six leading cigarette brands.

The index of good quality table—a ratio of high sugar to low nicotine—shows Chesterfield quality highest

... 15% higher than its nearest competitor and Chesterfield quality 31% higher than the average of the five other leading brands.

YEARS AHEAD OF THEM ALL!

Choice of Young America

A recent survey made in 274 leading colleges and universities shows Chesterfield is the largest seller.

2. First to Give You Premium Quality in Regular and King-size . . . much milder with an extraordinarily good taste—and for your pocketbook, Chesterfield is today's best cigarette buy.

3. A Report Never Before Made About a Cigarette.

For well over a year a medical specialist has been giving a group of Chesterfield smokers regular examinations every two months. He reports . . . no adverse effects to nose, throat and sinuses from smoking Chesterfield.
