Refreshments were served at inter-mission. The chaperones were Mrs. Florence Verrill and Mrs. MacDonough. The dance committee consisted of Georgia Fuller, chairman, Evelyn Tracy, and Dorothy Howard.

CHRISTMAS VACATION BEGINS FRIDAY, DECEMBER 16 AT 11:30 A.M. AND ENDS TUESDAY, JANUARY 3 AT 8 A.M.
AN EDITORIAL

Some of us, in happy and some of us a solemn, according to the plans for the next day. No plans are not for the most part an indication of stupidity or idleness. Every student is gifted with the same amount of natural intelligence as the man next to him. The primary difference lies mainly in the individual himself. Nothing in coler is gained by "taking it easy," but rather through an honest and willing application to one's work.
There are in our class a number of students whom as "slugs," They want to obtain all that they are able to, and consequently their names appear on the Dean's List.

Application and a willingness to work are the main factors to scholastic success, but there can be along with this the omission of cuts. Many of our class have missed in recitations, pre-lims, or recitations which would have been of value to him had he attended.
But no, he did not care to class, and what is the reason? The reason lies for the most part in an attidute of indifference, or pure lazness. Many cuts may be for legiti-mate reasons, such as sickness, but the greatest number of cuts a student takes are unaccountable.
Consequently, when his rank is raised he is disappointed, but the fault actually lies within himself.
This is a serious matter which must be remedied by the individual, and it must be remembered that you get from a course only what you put into it.

NOTICES

There are all students who have not had their STOR pictures made. These students are urged to make appointments early this week. It is the last possible opportunity.

This is the last issue of the 报纸, until Jan. 10. The staff joins in wishing the Class of 36 a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

When Millie's Sunday School such a task that was meant by
"shining need," he answered,
"a blue gory suit." He sometimes feel that our Christmas greetings have been a bit shifty, too, and the folks that make the cards try tall kinds of new impressions. But we always come back to the good old tried and true one, that have become part and parcel of Christmas.

Seems as though Christmas is one holiday that we all like to have stay the same,--a day of simple pleasures, neighborly good cheer, happy greetings,--of peace in the heart and good will toward all men. It's a day when we rise above ourselves and our best natures to the fore.

Dox in, if you can, Christmas morning, and join us in the Chimney Corner. Anyway, any you have a very merry Christmas and a Happy New Year! As King Tim says
"God bless us, every one!"
