J. S. Coles Speaks Here At Assembly Scholarship Awards Also Presented

"Factors for success do not vary considerably from one job to another. Leaders all have many common qualities," said President James S. Coles of Bowdoin College, speaking here at the annual Scholarship Recognition Assembly Tuesday morning.

Coles went on to name the characteristics he felt people commencing in business should possess. He said they should be young, personable, analytical, creative, aggressive, confident, persuasive, cooperative, educated, intelligent, and experienced. Experience he defined as experience in college leadership and associations.

"They should learn to work under pressure, and not merely accept a fact but analyze what is behind it. If we take full opportunity to develop these qualities while in college, no one need fear for the strength of the country; no one need fear for the strength of our way of life."

Before Coles' talk President Arthur A. Hauck announced the winners of some of the major University Scholarships. They are Harold R. Gerry, Madeline Howard Shannon, Gerald Harmon, Frank E. Pickering, David H. Douglas, Joseph J. Peters, Judith A. Phillips, Mary Jean Chapman, Robert Fernald, Karl M. Brooks, and Reginald A. Deering.

The cup for the fraternity with the highest scholarship rating for last semester went to Alpha Gamma Rho. The sorority scholarship silver plate was won by Chi Omega. These awards were presented by former IFC President Patrick Dionne and retiring Panhellenic president Phyllis Noyes.

The program was opened and closed with selections by the University Orchestra.

James L. Boyle To Speak Here Memorial Day

James L. Boyle, former president of the Kennebec Bar Association, will be the principal speaker at the University's annual Memorial Day exercises.

A graduate of the University of St. Joseph, from where he also holds a Master's degree, Boyle was presented an honorary Bachelor of Laws degree from the University of Maine in 1912, and a year later, a Master of Laws degree.

Admitted to the Maine Bar in 1913, he was president of the Kennebec Bar from 1951-53. From 1941-48 he was a member of the Maine Public Utilities Commission.

Class Meeting

A special meeting for members of the Class of '53 has been called tonight at 6:30 p.m. in the main lounge of the Student Union Building.

The topic of a class gift will be discussed at the meeting and commencement week chairman Phil Haskell will give information on commencement week activities.

School Of Education To Offer 4-Year Program

President Arthur A. Hauck has announced an "organizational change" in the School of Education. A four-year program will be offered by the School of Education beginning next fall.

The new program will replace the former two-year course which has been in effect for the past 33 years.

President Hauck said the new program was designed to enable students to enroll directly in the school of education when they enter the University. Under the old system, students didn't sign in the school until their junior year.

No major changes will be made in the course as it is now offered, said Dr. Hauck, which means that there will not be an increase in the teaching staff nor any additional course requirements.

Dean Mark R. Shibles, head of the school of education, has issued the following announcements in connection with the change.

- 1) Students currently enrolled at the University may now transfer to the School of Education for class work which will begin in the fall.
- 2) Entering freshmen may enroll in the School of Education for the first time next fall.

Dean Shibles said the work for the first two years will cover requirements in general education. All freshmen will take a non-credit course entitled "Orientation to Teaching."

"The program in general education for the first two years will enable the student to examine the various teaching fields," the Dean said, "and build his program in one of those areas."

During his last two years, the student will develop depth in a single area of his academic teaching field by enrolling in advanced courses. At the same time he will begin his study in professional education," he added.

All students will be required to complete six credit hours of student teaching. This will be done in the public schools in Bangor, Orono, Old Town, and Brewer.

The program in the School of Education prepares students for teaching in the secondary schools and also provides a "conversion" program in preparing elementary school teachers.

Golden Apple Awards Presented

Tuesday evening nine students were presented Golden Apple Awards by the Masque Theatre at a banquet in Estabrooke Hall.

The Golden Apple is founded upon the red apple tradition of the Barrymore family. When a Barrymore opens in a new play, each member of the family sends him a red apple for good luck.

Golden Apples are awarded both for excellence in acting and for making singular contributions to the advancement of theatre through the Masque.

Last fall, previous to the first production, a Golden Apple Award Committee was established to select the actors for the awards. This committee consists of: Prof. Lewis Niven, chairman, Prof. Robert York, Mr. Charles Crossland, Mrs. E. J. Bogan, Mrs. Richard Dolloff, Prof. Donald Quinsey, and Mrs. Asa C. Adams.

The non-acting awards are made by a single judge, the director, Prof. Herschel Bricker.

The awards for acting are: Martin Gerrish for his part as Willey in "Death of a Salesman"; Philip Haskell as Peter Cauchon in "Saint Joan"; Joel Kates as Biff in "Death of a Salesman"; Mary Libby as Linda in "Death of a Salesman"; and to Richard Newdick as King Charles II in "Saint Joan."

The Golden Apple Awards to those who have contributed to the Masque outside the area of acting: Jean Laviguer, Jane Littlefield, Eini Riutta, and Ed Johnson.

The Golden Apple Award for the best production went to "See How They Run."

Walters Predicts End Of Student Senate In Fiery Meeting

States Committees Are To Blame For Possible Senate Collapse

BY JOE RIGO

Highlighting one of the year's most turbulent Student Senate meetings, Preston (Duke) Walters, senior class president, predicted an end of student government here in the near future. Chief cause of the situation is largely inactive or incompetent committees, he charged.

"Of the fourteen senate appointed committees," Walters said, "nine have failed miserably in carrying out their jobs." Giving examples, he cited the recent high school week end which he called a "flop"; the Good Will Chest, "a financial catastrophe," and the nominating committee who in co-operation with the senate itself has fixed it so that "tremendous political power is controlled by just two fraternities."

Pointing out there is not one non-fraternity man on any senate committee, he commented that this means that "70 per cent of the student body is not represented in the senate."

Senate At Fault

In backing up Walters' charges, Donald Stritch added that a good deal of the blame should be placed on the Senate. Charging inefficiency he said the Senate "is running into extra sessions because we have not done the work."

Stritch and Walters both recommended that in the future the Senate exercise strict control over its committees. They suggested it might be good to set up a definite procedure for committees to follow.

Senate President William Hirst said there is being prepared a method which should get a more representative group of interested students on committees in the future. By this plan students would make out an activity interest blank at the time of registration. These blanks would be kept on file and consulted when committee openings occur. Hirst said he had been working on this plan through correspondence with the University of Minnesota which now uses such a system.

Elections Committee Attacked

Earlier in the evening Walters had directed a strong attack on the elections committee and its chairman Charles Hussey. Walters charged the committee with "gross incompetency" in handling the fall elections and "carelessness" with the Spring elections. (Continued on Page Three)

Alumni Reunion Plans Underway

An alumni-student-faculty committee is currently making arrangements for the 78th annual Alumni Reunions. These reunions will take place during the commencement period, June 12-14.

Reunion activity will begin on Friday, June 12, with many alumni expected on campus for the seniors' Class Day activities. Alumni classes from 1903-1951 are planning special reunion dinners on Friday evening.

Members of classes prior to 1903, in an organization known as the Senior Alumni, are making plans for a Senior Alumni meeting and breakfast on the campus the morning of June 13. Alumni will join with the faculty, graduating seniors, and guests at a large open house in the Memorial Union during the evening of June 12.

During the afternoon of Alumni Day, June 13, the Memorial Union will be dedicated and officially turned over to the University by the Union Building Fund Committee.

The General Alumni Association's highest award, the Alumni Service Emblem, will be presented to an outstanding alumnus during the alumni banquet to be held the evening of Alumni Day. This award is given in recognition of outstanding service rendered through the Alumni Association to the University.

Featured speaker at the alumni banquet will be Dr. Frederick H. Thompson of Portland. Dr. Thompson is a member of the class of 1928, which is holding its 25th reunion this year. Alumni Day events will close with an alumni hop in the Union Building.

Philip J. Brockway '31 is chairman of the Reunion-Commencement Committee.

Norma Jose To Head W.S.G.A.

Norma Jose '54 was installed as the new president of W.S.G.A. at a compulsory women's assembly last Friday morning. Retiring president Beverly Pettengill made the presentation.

Other officers installed were: vice president, Cynthia Nelson; secretary, Gwenth Bryant; and treasurer, Norma Cumming.

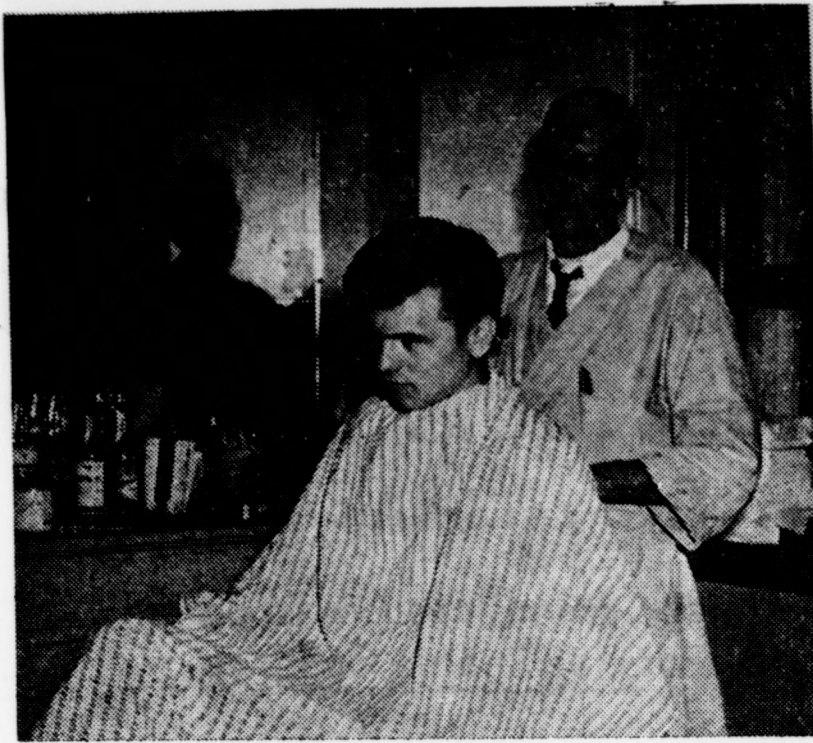

Retiring W.A.A. president, Helen Strong, presented the new officers for the coming year. They are: president, Ruth Johnson; vice president, Constance Lewis; secretary, Jane Wiseman; and treasurer, Mary Small.

Ruth Mitchell '53 received the annual A.A.U.W. award for outstanding service, scholarship, leadership, and character. Following officers' reports, and acceptance of the Blue Book revisions, Prof. Gerald Grady addressed the assembly.

Jones Requests Use Of Front Entrance

Nelson B. Jones, Union Building director, requests all students and faculty to use only the front entrance to the Memorial Union. This is to avoid tracking mud and gravel into the building and thus do extensive damage to the floors.

Hard-topped sidewalks are to be built to the other entrances to the Union at the earliest possible date.

University Barber To Retire After Nineteen Years Service

Fifty years as a barber and nineteen years in the University's barber shop is the enviable record of George J. Darveau, who plans to retire right after commencement this June.

Mr. Darveau is a native of Maine, having been born in Waterville, and now residing in Veazie. He came to the campus in 1934 and has been behind his barber's chair here ever since.

One experience stands out especially in Mr. Darveau's mind as he recalls his many years here. Some years ago two students asked him if they could borrow his hair clippers. He obligingly gave them permission, whereby they proceeded to clip each other's hair until both were shaved clean.

"This took me quite by surprise," recalls Mr. Darveau. "I found out later that they had done it on a bet."

Among Mr. Darveau's hobbies are fishing, hunting, and gladiolus raising. He plans to spend much of his time from now on with his flowers.

Through the years, Mr. Darveau has seen many boys go through school, and he remarked that when they return for visits they are all "old men."

"I have enjoyed working on campus very much," he said, "and I have found that the fellows who come to Maine are all a very nice bunch of boys."

Radio Guild To Air Drama Over WLBZ

The University's Radio Guild will present the dramatic script "Eunice Was A Saint" over radio station WLBZ in Bangor Monday at 10:35 p.m.

Included in the cast of the show are David Switzer, Patricia Keenan, Mary Jane Tozier, Gloria Parella, and Don Freeman.

Richard Newdick will direct.

Boys' State Set For June 21-27

The 1953 Dirigo Boys' State will be held at the University from June 21-27, according to Gerald J. Grady, assistant professor of government, and Boys' State director. The program is sponsored by the American Legion in each of the 48 states.

The full week of activities is designed to "teach by doing." Model town governments and a model state government are created. Citizens of Dirigo Boys' State conduct campaigns, elect officials, and hold legislative meetings. All this is done under the supervision of the best instruction available: town managers and selectmen, state representatives and senators, judges, administrators, and others, Grady said.

Any 1953 high school junior sponsored by an organization and recommended by school authorities is eligible to attend. Grady said that about 200 boys are expected this year.

Students Initiated Into Phi Kappa Phi

Thirty-eight students have been elected to Phi Kappa Phi, national honorary scholastic society, on the basis of outstanding scholarship. The 22 seniors and 16 juniors were recently initiated into the society.

Seniors named to the society are: Harrison M. Burns, Linwood L. Carville, Susan L. Chase, Helen E. Cannon, Ralph C. Cunningham, Mary Field, Robert W. Fifield, Margaret J. Hall, Harold W. Hanson, Joan B. Huston, Edward F. Johnston, Nancy Kelley, Leo E. LaChance, Ralph E. McGibney, Jane E. Mitchell, Nancy C. Moulton, Mary F. Noyes, Joan R. Nutt, Carl D. Perkins, Marie B. Poulin, Leon J. Segal, and Philip X. Wilker.

Juniors named were: Carolyn M. Bradbury, Karl M. Brooks, Mary J. Chapman, Robert S. Croissant, Fern E. Crossland, Reginald A. Deering, Storer W. Emmett, Ralph F. W. Eye, Robert A. Fernald, Helen R. Fox, Gorham W. Hussey, Faye A. Irish, Mary H. Porter, Richard A. Simmons, Gertrude P. Sullivan, and Joyce A. Tracy.

Lord To Speak Here On Foreign Agriculture

George E. Lord, associate director of the Maine Extension Service, will speak tonight in the Louis Oakes Room, Library, at 7:30.

His topic will be "Observations on European Agriculture."

Lord has spent nine months in Europe working with the agricultural division of the Mutual Security Agency.

This meeting is open to the public.

2,000 People Attend Memorial Union Open House Last Sunday

Over 2,000 visitors thronged through the Memorial Union Building during open house exercises Sunday, May 17, according to Union director Nelson B. Jones.

The visitors thoroughly toured the ground and first floors with over 60 members of the Senior Skulls, All Maine Women, Sophomore Owls, and Eagles assisting the members of the Union Building Committee as ushers. According to Janice Griswold, student chairman of the Union Committee, over 80 students made applications for positions on the committees which will operate the Union and arrange its activities.

"The Bear's Den"

In the Union's "Name the Room" contest, a contest to name the Union's food department, five students, five faculty members, and one University employee suggested the winning name "The Bear's Den." Each will receive an authorization for ten dollars worth of credit in "The Bear's Den." The winners are, in order: Martha Jane Bousfield, Paul R. Dinsmore, Allen Sawyer, Jr., Marjory Robbins, Donald La Rochelle, Samuel Sezak, Herbert A. Leonard, Carl M. Flynn, Helen Trefethen, Mildred B. Schrupf, and Emma Iou Ingraham.

Activities Planned

At present, Miss Griswold says, the Union Committee is working on a program for the remainder of the year. On Friday, there will be an evening of games. The movie "Tight Little Island" will also be shown at 8 p.m.

The same film will be reshowed on Saturday at 7 p.m. and again at 9 p.m. At 8 p.m. a dance will be held in the Main Lounge. Friday, May 29, a Pops Concert followed by an informal dance is tentatively planned. Two showings of another movie and record dancing are scheduled for Saturday. All of these Union activities are presented without charge.

Meanwhile the building is open daily from 7 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Senate Holds Fiery Session

tions. He said that Hussey, a candidate for Senate vice president, should have had nothing to do with the ballot involved.

He also cited the lack of nicknames appearing on the ballot by which some of the candidates are best known, and said some of the names on the ballot were there erroneously, while others that were supposed to be there did not appear at all.

Elaborating on this last point, he said that while the Senate had approved only six candidates for the Washington Watch Award, eight names actually appeared on the ballot.

While the original error came when the names were reported to the Elections Committee, the senior president added, Hussey, he said, who was aware of the Senate action, should have spotted the mistake and changed it.

He recommended that in the future an overseer from the previous year's committee act as an advisor to the new committee.

In other major business, the Senate began action on the proposed Memorial Union constitution, but after discussion had been going for more than an hour it was decided to hold a special meeting of the Senate next Wednesday to work exclusively on the constitution.

The chief point of irritation, according to the discussion, was an alleged supremacy which the Union organization would enjoy over the Senate if the constitution were approved in its present form. Many Senate members felt the Union should be at least partially responsible to Senate.

Among committee reports was one from the Student Advisory Board, planning the set up of a student judiciary.

N.E. AP Bureau Head Leads Seminar

L. P. Yale, chief of the New England bureau of the Associated Press, led the Associated Press Seminar held here last Friday.

The morning seminar session was held at 10:30 Friday morning in Fernald Hall with a discussion with representatives of the AP news gathering agency.

A luncheon was held at 12:45 in North Estabrooke Hall and was climaxed with talks by Douglas Kneeland, Orono, and David Getchell, Orono, both seniors in the journalism department.

Attending the meetings were the news and telegraph editors of Maine's daily newspapers.

Hot Shots Give Fire Demonstration

The Forestry Club meeting was combined with a field exercise of the Hot-Shot Fire Crew at the University Forest, May 7.

Homer R. Bishop was strawboss in charge of the clearing squad, Cecil M. Roberts was in charge of line building, and Clayton Carl was in charge of line holding. Wallace Roberts was pumper boss, and William Vandestine was camp boss. Maine's girl forester, Martha Anne Burow, acted as time-keeper.

Others taking part were: Harry Yates, Robert K. Wing, Henry Swan, Clyde B. Hodgkins, Lee P. Herrington, William H. German, Donald L. Funking, Harry L. Dyer, Carl F. Anderson, Richard T. Ackerman, Professors Horace Quick and Henry Plummer, and William Fitzpatrick of the Department of Inland Fisheries and Game.

The Union Opens

This is an unabashed tribute to all those who are connected with the appearance on campus, at last, of the Memorial Union Building.

After eight years of planning, studying, construction, and excuses, the building is open with the consensus being that it is worth the delay.

Perhaps one of the best features of the Union is that the University finally has a place where it can hold meetings involving visitors, sometimes from other schools, and feel that they are being impressed favorably. The Estabrooke Hall basement meeting rooms, while adequate, have never been the places the school could really be proud. The SRA rooms are equally poor. In contrast, the modern interior of the Union can justifiably be the University showroom, comparing favorably with facilities possessed by any other school of Maine's size. Furthermore, the Union will be a good introduction of the University to entering freshmen next fall.

The Union was a long time coming. It frequently was the subject of vicious rumors, but it is here now and we feel a deep vote of thanks is due to all those helping to bring it, particularly the thousands of University students, faculty, administration, and alumni, who donated to help make it possible.

Now we have just one question: when is the place going to be equipped with wastebaskets of some sort?

Charles E. O'Connor

Within the past few weeks the University has been notified of the departure of the Rev. Charles E. O'Connor, who in September will assume the duties of headmaster of Higgins Classical Institute.

For many years Mr. O'Connor has been active in University life, both religious and social. Since 1950 he has served as head of the Student Religious Association here. He has been an important figure in the organization of the International Club for the foreign students. His work with religious groups in general, although at times facing serious opposition, has been of immeasurable benefit to the school.

It is with a feeling of sincere regret that we see Mr. O'Connor leave. However, we congratulate him upon receiving a better position and console the University on its loss.

Wanted: Alternate Plans

Once again an organization planning a campus activity has assumed that because they have scheduled their event for a certain day, appropriate weather will automatically prevail. Once again this has resulted in the activity being washed out. The case immediately in question is the Maine Day float parade, cancelled because of rain. Before that, it was the Winter Carnival fiasco, ruined because of good weather.

Eventually, the people planning these programs will learn that it is highly advisable to schedule an alternate plan in the event of unfavorable weather or some other unforeseeable development. Meanwhile more money and labor will be wasted for the lack of a little bit of extra planning.

Problem

Somehow we just can't help wondering who it is in the Memorial Union organization that is responsible for scheduling the showings of the movie "Tight Little Island" for this week end . . . fraternity house parties week end.

Opinionettes

Question: How do you feel now that graduation is here?

Jean Dolloff, '53: I am glad to be leaving some of my responsibilities to my successors. What a relief!

Jack Curry, '53: As far as home-work goes, four years was too long. But as for "extracurricular activities," June, 1953, should never come.

Ann Twombly, '53: I've enjoyed myself and hate to leave. I don't believe I'll ever have as much fun as I've had in my four years of college.

John Bickford, '53: I'm glad to be getting out of here. It's a fine place, but I'm glad to be going!

Hal Eames, '53: I'll be back for more schooling after two years in the army, so I'll tell you a bit more then.

Manny Spear, '53: I'll feel better when June 14 comes! I'm overjoyed, raptured, awed to pieces—and besides it's been real!

Ray Crozier, '53: I wish it were the beginning of the four years instead of the end—there's just nothing like college life.

The first collegiate course in pulp and paper technology in this country was introduced at this University in 1913. The school has been called the "cradle of industry's technical training" in the pulp and paper field.

Off-Campus Comments

The Value Of Education

By BOB OSTREICHER

"Four years I've been here already. . . I ain't learned nothin' . . ." so extemporated—as the expression goes—one of the smaller glims in the long array of bright lights scheduled to shine on the commencement stage on the fourteenth of June.

This boy (name withheld, of course) wandered over to his Underwood the other day, sat down, read his mail, pared his fingernails, emptied an ash-tray . . . and quickly typed out a heading on his theme paper, "What has four years of college done for me?"

Without getting into this matter too deeply, which is roughly the way this boy has treated matters throughout his college career, the theme's author took a pencil and, on a separate sheet of paper, he jotted down several notes relating to the little things which he had gleaned during his sojourn in Orono. This, of course, was exactly what the author had been told to do in Eh 1 . . . which immediately proved that all had not been wasted after all.

Some of the notes included: "When will I ever need to know the difference between the poetry styles of Ezra Pound and Robert Frost?"

"As a college graduate, will I ever be called upon to compare the present political situation in La Paz (an overnight stop on the whasis road in whosis county, part of one of the South American Republics) with the past policies of Montreal?"

"And, who in the wide world will ever give me proper acclaim for possessing the knowledge that a shorter route for the Panama Canal was passed up because of a couple of crooked promoters and dozens of equally larcenous U. S. politicians?"

. . . And so on, for two or three sheets of paper.

Thoroughly discouraged, the author couldn't find a single college-learned fact that could be sold in the post-graduate world in order to line his pockets. Not unless, perish the ugly thought, he came back to school as an instructor . . . and fed all this varied and hard-earned learning to the next generation of note-takers!

Fact And Fiction

Spring And Beauty Spots

By BEN PIKE

Shades of Ali Baba's harem! What will the boys be doing next? During the past week, I've noticed a dozen or so young laddies strutting 'round campus with the daintiest beauty spots planted in their foreheads that you'd ever hope to find on Tassels La Toure.

Now maybe I've been hittin' the books too much of late—but that's quite unlikely—and it seems that I've seen these same guys in past years. Oh, I guess the faces change, but every year with the budding of flowers and the buzzing of bees, a certain number of the males on our fair campus sprout a cute little beauty spot right in the center of their foreheads.

Now, I realize I'm a bit too sarcastic, but confound it why do we have such childish customs around here? Why does an institution of higher learning promote such nonsense? Here we bestow the highest honor attainable upon outstanding men and women students—like the All Girl Foresters, for instance, or the Stars of the East, I guess that's what they're called, you know, the ones that wear a purty blue star on their pans—then we make a spectacle out of these notables by affixing some sort of brand on them.

Now, maybe I'm bitter, I don't know. The last I remember of such nonsense was when I was in the first grade. Old Miss Skinebones used to give we students a purty star or some other label of accomplishment on our arithmetic or spelling papers, if the quality warranted it. Needless to say, I didn't get too many of these honors from the old battle-axe.

Comments For Today

By RON DEVINE

With the editorial page editor breathing down my neck for a column, I think I'd better do some pretty fast writing. Perhaps a few comments are in order in regards to the new Union Building.

Heard one person say he didn't like the building—there's one in every crowd.

I'll bet we've got somebody confused. In the April 15 issue of the Connecticut Campus, a front page article told of the opening that same day of Maine's new Union Building—that was over a month ago. Wonder what their exchange editor thought when he saw last week's Campus? Two Union Buildings, maybe?

Just out of curiosity, was it a "name the room" contest, or a popular vote that netted the Bear's Den its title?

For the suggestion department: I make a motion that the name of the day set aside as "Maine Day" be changed so that it reads "Rain Day" . . . two years in a row, shall we try for three?

Congratulations are in order for George Darveau, for nineteen years of faithful service as one of the barbers in the University barber shop.

George is retiring in June, after fifty years with the scissors and comb.

Correspondence

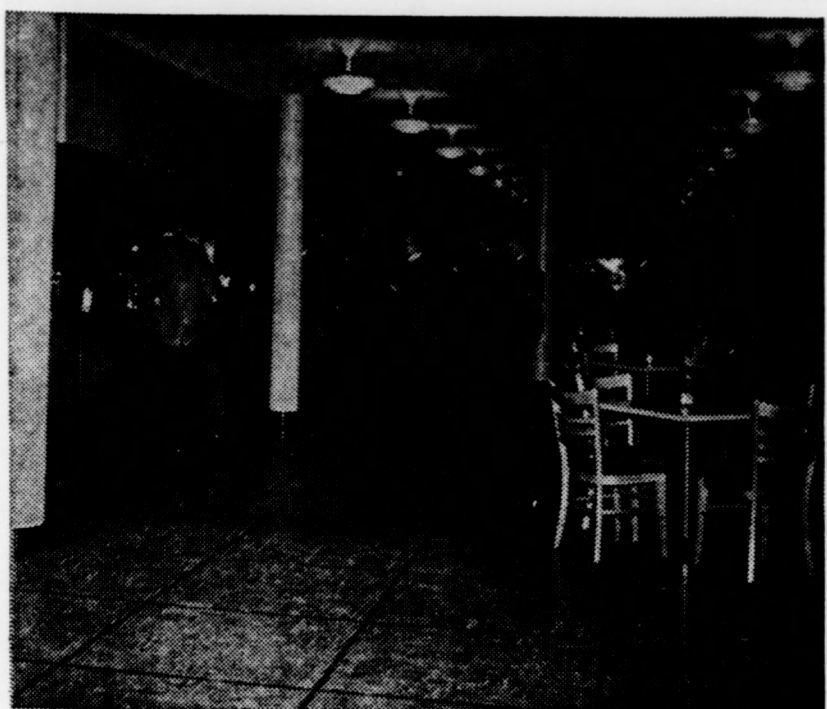

To the Editor:

On Maine Day morning the winner of the 1953 mayoralty contest requested a special meeting of the mayoralty candidates and the Maine Day chairmen. At this meeting he offered to withdraw as mayor because of vicious rumors being circulated about the campus. This offer was refused. It was the belief of the group that the students' choice at the ballot box clearly should remain in office.

However, the Maine Day Committee, as well as all four candidates, believes that the unprecedented display of poor sportsmanship on the night of the mayoralty finals was most unfortunate for the University as well as for the individual candidates involved.

The rumor that hissing was organized on the behalf of one candidate has not been substantiated. Let us not spread malicious gossip. Let us all get together and support the new mayor in his efforts to rebuild the Maine Spirit.

The Maine Day Mayoralty Committee

"The Bear's Den," located in the Memorial Union, will prove to be a center of activity as the building swings into student use. Official opening was held last Sunday, May 17.

Hussey Addresses Alpha Zetas Here

"The grass is green right here in Maine," Frank W. Hussey of Presque Isle, president of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, told Alpha Zetas at their annual spring banquet May 14.

"We have ample room for more good young farmers, extension service, experiment station, and college of agriculture workers, vocational agriculture teachers, feed company fieldmen, machinery salesmen, food processing plant managers and fieldmen, and numerous other agricultural workers," continued Hussey.

Hussey, himself a member of the Maine chapter of the honorary agricultural fraternity, is also president of the Maine Potato Growers Inc., the Maine Farm Bureau Association, and a trustee of the University.

Richard Talbot, retiring dairy extension specialist and a charter member of the Maine chapter, was an honored guest. He was presented a key of the fraternity suitably engraved by Chancellor David C. Bepler.

Formal installation of officers was also held at the banquet. Installed as officers for the ensuing year were C. Thomas Hoyt, chancellor; John E. Randall, censor; Lewis E. Michaud, scribe; Roland M. Leach, treasurer; and Oscar J. Trask, chronicler. Daniel P. Folsom is social chairman and Robert Couturier is sergeant-at-arms.

She may be too bashful to speak first. Say "Hello."

Campus Street Named In Honor Of Former Professor Munson

BY RONALD DEVINE

Munson Road. Ever hear of it? Probably not—not around here, at least.

Well, that's the name that has been chosen for the first campus street to bear a title.

The street has been named in honor of Dr. Welton M. Munson, onetime professor at Maine.

It's the road that runs from Dr. Joseph M. Murray's residence, past West Hall, Winslow Hall, The Maples, Holmes Hall, Alumni Hall, Fernald Hall, Aubert Hall, Hannibal Hamlin Hall, and ends at North Hall Hill, next to the Infirmary.

Former Professor

Dr. Munson served as professor of horticulture and landscape gardening from 1891-93, professor of horticulture and horticulturist of the Experiment Station from 1891-1906, and as pomologist in the Experiment Station from 1906-07.

He graduated from Michigan Agricultural College in 1888. In 1892 he received his M.S. degree from the same school. Cornell University granted him his Ph.D. degree in 1892.

Prof. Munson was a member or fellow of several scientific and honor societies in the United States, and, in appreciation of his original investigations, he was elected an honorary member of the Royal Horticultural Society of England. He died in 1910.

The Campus Development committee is responsible for choosing the

Highly Recommended

In a report to the trustees the committee commended Dr. Munson for his work in landscaping the campus. "In a very few years, Prof. Munson, as Landscape Gardener, made important transformations in the way of beautifying the campus, transformations which are valued even to the present day. His skill and good taste and sound judgment will not be forgotten. For his refined qualities of head and heart, which endeared him to all, he will be held in sacred remembrance."

The committee submitted their report and suggestion for the name to the trustees' meeting last Friday. The trustees approved and authorized the suggestion. The name goes into effect immediately, although signs will not be placed until sometime next fall, according to Mr. McGuire.

Maine Instructors Will Assist At ROTC Camp

Three instructors from the military department are scheduled to assist with training at the six-week ROTC antiaircraft artillery camp to be held at Fort Bliss, Texas, this summer.

Lieutenant Col. Herbert S. Ingraham, Major Hugh M. Wendle, and Master Sergeant Michael J. Bednarz are the instructors.

A three-day refresher course will be held for officers and enlisted instructors early in June at the west Texas post before the cadets arrive for training.

Latest reports at Fort Bliss indicate thirty-five men from Maine will attend the encampment. Over 1,000 cadets are expected to train at Fort Bliss in this year's antiaircraft artillery ROTC summer camp.

In addition to the conventional guns, ROTC men will receive some instruction on the Army's newest AA cannon, the "Skysweeper."

Tau Beta Pi Elects

Carl D. Perkins has been elected president of Tau Beta Pi, national engineering honor society, for the school year 1953-54.

Other officers are: Robert A. Fernald, vice president; Oakley K. Porter, recording secretary; Robert M. Ward, corresponding secretary; Gerald E. Smith, treasurer; and Mark W. Getchell, cataloger.

TRIPLE THREAT MAN!

The Brains of the Team

Teamwork can work miracles. In a football game the man who sparks these miracles is the quarterback. He's the man who calls the signals. There's a man who calls the signals for an Air Force flying team, too! They call him an Aircraft Observer.

Do YOU have what it takes to become an Aircraft Observer?

It isn't easy. It's tough. You have to be a MAN to qualify as an Aircraft Observer. But when you are one, brother, you're SOMEBODY! The success or failure of a mission involving over a million dollars worth of flight equipment depends on you.

THE AIRCRAFT OBSERVER IS THE SOMEBODY WHO:

As Bombardment Officer, is number one man on a bombing run, the man who controls the plane in the target area!

As Navigation Officer, is the pilot's guiding hand on every flight!

As Radar Officer, is master of a new science and operator of the device that sees beyond human sight!

As Aircraft Performance Engineer, is the one who "keeps the plane flying", the man who knows his plane inside and out, who keeps it fit for the skies and sees that it stays there!

If YOU can accept a challenge like this, you'll take your place beside the best—you'll find your future in the clouds!

TO BE QUALIFIED you must be single, a citizen, between 19 and 26½ years old, have had at least 2 years of college and be in tip top physical shape. If this describes you, then YOU, too, can qualify. Today!

HERE'S WHAT YOU'LL GET! The world's best training. Good food and plenty of it. Uniforms, flight clothes, equipment. Medical and dental care. Free insurance. Flight training in Uncle Sam's greatest aircraft.

AND THEN, AFTER GRADUATION, you'll win your silver wings, and earn more than $5000 a year as an Air Force Lieutenant. You'll enjoy an adventurous, exciting career with a hand-picked crew of real men. You'll be THE BRAINS OF THE TEAM, A TRIPLE THREAT MAN... as a Bombardment Officer, as a Navigation Officer, as a Radar Officer, as an Aircraft Performance Engineer.

Canoe Institute Being Planned

A canoeing institute, sponsored by the General Extension Division of the University in cooperation with the Bangor-Brewer Girl Scouts, will be held at Camp Kokatosi, Sebago Lake, May 22-24.

Sam Sezak, assistant professor of physical education at the University, is chairman of the institute, which is designed primarily for canoeing counselors and other camp staff members.

One of the canoeing specialists who will serve as an instructor is Miss Ann E. Weber, director of physical education for Bradford Junior College.

Other instructors include Miss Marion E. Rogers, associate professor of physical education and head of the women's physical education department at the University; Helen Colby, executive director of the Bangor-Brewer Girl Scouts; and a warden from the Maine Fish and Game Department.

Persons interested in attending the institute may make reservations through the General Extension Division.

Faculty Urged To Renew Or Return Library Books

Members of the faculty are reminded that library books should be returned or renewed before June 1, according to an announcement from Louis T. Ibbotson, Librarian.

He added that an early start will be appreciated, since student help for shelving books is not usually available after that date, and many books will be needed for summer school. Arrangements should be made in advance for any books to be used away from the campus during the summer.

Bear Facts

BY MOE HICKEY

A cruel blow was struck to the Maine varsity golf team of Coach Charlie Emery this week. The committee in charge of the Maine Intercollegiate Golf Championship at Colby next Monday sent only three entry blanks for the Maine golf team. Normally each Maine college is allowed six entries. Coach Emery said he believed the reason for the action was the committee's decision to cut down expenses.

Emery said that his six man team had traveled everywhere together this season on a skimpy budget in order that everyone could make the trips. But now when the State Meet comes up the Maine team is allowed only three players in the tournament. Emery also points out that another fact the tournament heads should keep in mind is that a fifth or sixth man on a team has come through to win the tournament in past years.

It could be that the tournament officials are doing what's best, but we say it's unfair to deprive Maine college golfers a chance to win the coveted Maine Intercollegiate Golf Championship.

Colby At Maine

Coach Tubby Raymond's pastimers faced an important game today when they met Colby here at Alumni field. Not only did the Raymondmen need the win to insure winning the State Series lid, but when this Campus edition went to press, Maine's Black Bears were more than a fair contender to represent New England in the NCAA playoffs in District 1. Colby was in the thick of the race with a record of eight wins and two losses against New England competition. If Maine defeated Colby today it could possibly knock Colby out of contention.

Maine's varsity on the other hand on the basis of their recent wonderful home stand against Connecticut and Rhode Island as well as in State Series play is very much in the running. The Bears had compiled a commendable 6-2 record in New England competition. After returning from their Southern Spring trip the only two defeats Maine suffered in regular competition were against Connecticut and Rhode Island early in the season. Maine had a spotless 4-0 record in State Series play while Colby sported a 3-2 record for runner-up position.

A spot check on the teams still contending for the honor of representing New England in the NCAA District 1 shows Colby in contending position with an 8-2 mark, Holy Cross, last year's NCAA's national champions, and Springfield, tied for second place with 7-2 records; Maine is in fourth place with its 6-2 record, followed by the University of Connecticut with a 5-1 mark and Trinity next with a record of 4-1.

Freshman Track

If any team that faces Coach Chet Jenkins' Frosh Track team is going to beat them it will most probably be this Saturday when South Portland High School meets the undefeated yearlings, who have won all its indoor and out-door matches so far this year. The crack Frosh runners have an eleven straight wins, and will be aiming for an even dozen when they face South Portland Saturday afternoon.

However, the Frosh will be severely weakened by the loss of four top runners. Brad Claxton, Dick Hamblen, Paul Hanson, and Walter Morrill are entering a relay meet. South Portland, with its ace Dick Daniels, is a formidable high school aggregation; thus the remnants of Jenkins' track team will have to push themselves a little bit more than usual to keep its undefeated record intact this Saturday.

Warning! Keep off the women's tennis courts until they are dry!

Baseball Team Will Finish Season Monday

Maine Favored To Continue As State Champs

Maine's crack varsity golf squad, sporting a fine 6-2 record, will rule favorites to win the Maine Intercollegiate Golf Championship at Waterville next Monday. Coach Charlie Emery's team winds up the season with a Bowdoin match next Thursday.

Maine has suffered only one defeat, an upset by Bates, in State Series competition so far this season. The Bears will enter the State Meet with the top three men of last year's meet missing. Walt Hewins, who won the championship last year, and runners-up Connie Bosworth and George Shute will not be present.

Three Representatives

Only three men will represent Maine this year in the State meet rather than the usual six. Coach Charlie Emery said that the committee in charge of this year's meet is trying to cut down on expenses. Emery points out that 5th and 6th men on teams have won the championship in latter years.

Emery anticipated sending a trio of sophomores, Tommy Golden, Joe Young, and Al Noyes, to the meet.

Maine won its fourth State Series match last Saturday when the Bears whipped Colby, 23½-3½. Golden and Young each carded 76's to pace Maine over the guest Mules.

The summary:

Golden (M) 76, Jones (C) 78, Maine wins best ball, 3-0; Young (M) 76, Sirakides (C) 88, Maine wins best ball 3-0; Noyes (M) 83, Kilmister (C) 86, Maine wins best ball 3-0; Mavor (M) 79, Carr (C), Maine wins best ball 1½ to ½; Berube (M) 84, Sleeper (C) 90, Maine wins best ball 3-0; Monaghan (M) 88, Skelley (C) 92, Maine wins best ball, 3-0.

Members of Coach Jenkins' undefeated Frosh track team are shown on their way to win an event in last Saturday's meet against Deering High School. The Frosh will meet South Portland High School this Saturday to end their successful season.

Frosh Track Team Shoots For Undefeated Season Saturday

Coach Chester Jenkins' freshman tracksters face their last obstacle on the road to an undefeated season Saturday when they go after win number 12 here against the cinder squad from South Portland High School at 1:00 p.m.

Sporting an 11-victory string without a defeat, the Bear Cubs will be going all out to close their season on a winning note against the Capers. The yearlings started their winning ways back at the start of the indoor season last winter and continued to slaughter all comers on the outdoor track this spring.

Last Saturday the Cubs went on another rampage to whip Deering High School by an 87-39 count here. Mike Hartpence paced the yearlings with 14 points while Ron Wheeler of Deering topped all scorers with 16. The Baby Bears swept four events.

Summary includes only winning times, heights and distances and places won by Maine men: Hammer Throw—2nd, Werner (151' 4½"). 120-Yard High Hurdles—1st, Hartpence; 2nd, Rearick (16.9). 100-Yard Dash—1st, Hamblen (10.9). One Mile—1st, Firlotte and Furrow (tie); 3rd, Ervin (4:50). 440-Yard Run—1st, Hamblen; 3rd, Morrill (53.4). Discus Throw—3rd, Werner (101' ¾"). 180-Yard Low Hurdles—1st, Hartpence; 2nd, Rearick (22.7). 880-Yard Run—1st, Hanson; 2nd, Morrill; 3rd, Furrow (2:03.8). 220-Yard Dash—2nd, Hooper (24.0). High Jump—1st, Rearick, Hartpence and Harlow (3-way tie) (5' 2"). Javelin Throw—2nd, Selland (150' 3"). Pole Vault—1st, Harlow and Rearick (tie); 3rd, Hartpence (11'). Shot Put—1st, Werner (40' 1½"). Broad Jump—1st, Harlow; 3rd, Rearick (18' 5¼").

Maine Takes Third In YC Meet; Calkin Gives Bears Only First

BY KEITH RUFF

Coach Jenkins' varsity trackmen nailed down third place in the Yankee Conference track meet at Amherst, Mass., last Saturday with a total score of 15½ points. The highly favored Rhode Island track machine lived up to expectations by scoring 66½ points for top honors while New Hampshire finished second with 55½ points. Calkin Shines

Hurdle ace Bill Calkin paced the Bears with a first in the low hurdles and second in the high hurdles for eight points. Calkin sped over the 220-yard low hurdles in 24.8 seconds and finished a close second to Johnny Parker of New Hampshire in the highs.

Other Maine point getters were Ed Bogdanovich (3rd in the shot put), Glenn Folsom (3rd in the javelin), "Coke" Haskell (3rd in the 880), Ed Perry (4th in the mile), and Ken Lincoln (in a 3-way tie for 4th in the pole vault).

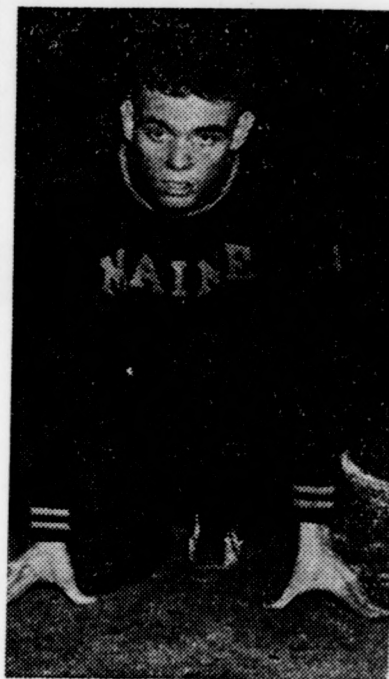

New England Meet Next

There is the possibility that the six Bear scorers in the YC meet will all go to Providence, R. I., Saturday to compete in the New England Intercollegiate Track Meet. Coach Jenkins said earlier this week that he plans to enter Calkin in the New England meet, and will probably take Bogdanovich, Folsom, Perry, Haskell and Lincoln if they are able to make the trip.

Freshmen Going

Coach Jenkins also plans to take a four-man freshman relay team to the New Englands. The first-year men slated to make the trip are Brad Claxton, Henry Hooper, Dick Hamblen, and Paul Hanson. The original plans were to have Claxton and Hooper run the two 220-yard heats, Hamblen in the 440, and Hanson in the final 880-yard grind.

Competition for New England track and field honors promises to be keen.

Ace hurdler Bill Calkin will be running Saturday in the New England Track Meet at Providence. Bill won the low hurdles and took a second in the high hurdles in the YC Meet last week. Photo by Snell

Netmen Primed For Colby And State Tourney

Coach Garland B. Russell's Bear netmen will entertain a strong Colby tennis team here Saturday in a State Series match slated to get underway at 1:30 p.m. The Mule racquetmen are currently in the State Series drivers seat after dealing decisive defeats to all three State opponents.

The Maine courtsters dropped a 7-2 decision to these same Mules last Saturday at Waterville and will be aiming for a reversal of form in their second clash with the Waterville racquet swingers here Saturday afternoon. The Pendleton-Drolet doubles combine was beaten for the first time this year.

Irvin "Duffer" Pendleton and Ken Barnard, playing in the number 5 and 6 spots respectively, 'picked up the only Maine points at Colby as they each won their singles matches. The Bears dropped their other four singles matches and the three doubles contests as well.

In last week's tennis story, this sports department made the mistake of crediting the Maine team with only a third place in the Yankee Conference Tennis Tournament at Durham, N. H., on May 8 and 9. Actually, Coach Russell's squad made a very creditable second-place showing. Connecticut won the tournament with 16 points, and our own Bears were hot on the heels of the UConn's with 14 points. We apologize to Coach Russell and his players for our bad serve.—Ed.

On Monday the Russellmen will journey to Brunswick to compete in the State Series Tennis Tournament. The Maine squad closes its 1953 season on Thursday with a road match against Bowdoin.

Curtis Makes New Slate For Pastimers

BY BOB CHADBOURNE

The Maine pastimers will face Bowdoin next Monday at Brunswick and the rest of the schedule seems to be anyone's guess. The past week turned out to be a nightmare for the Raymondmen as the varsity nine watched the steady rains wash out the entire week's activity.

With the school year quickly drawing to a close the rains have proved doubly disastrous since the schedule must be changed with State Series games on tap for every day except Monday of this week.

Tentative Schedule Announced

Faculty Manager of Athletics Ted Curtis has announced the tentative make-up schedule. The second New Hampshire game to be played at Durham has been postponed. The Wildcats have a similar schedule and no date could be set. Pending weather conditions, the remaining two Colby games were set for Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The games will be played at Orono and Waterville respectively. The third and final Bates content was announced to have been set at Tuesday, but "Tubby" Raymond indicated on Monday afternoon that the field was in poor shape, and if play was impossible on Tuesday the game would be moved up to Friday.

Pitching Plans Announced

"Tubby" Raymond has announced that he will use Perley Dean against Bates whether the game is played on Tuesday or Friday. Dean was impressive against Connecticut in relief and Raymond is counting on the tall righthander to notch another State Series win. The Maine skipper has his two aces, Hank Woodbrey and Charlie Otterstedt, ready for the Colby contests. Otterstedt has been working on his change up pitch this week and Raymond is high on Charlie's progress. If the Bowdoin game is played as scheduled on Monday, either Otterstedt or Woodbrey will be available to come back against the Polar Bears.

Raymondmen On Six Game Win Streak

The Raymondmen still hold their six game winning streak as they enter this week's activity. Early in the spring the local papers were sizing up the Maine squad as good hit, no pitch outfit. Things haven't lived up to predictions too well. The Bears have hit in the clutches and hustled all the way taking full advantage of every base on balls and opponent's misplay. The pitching staff has been steady all season. Woodbrey, Otterstedt, and Dean have been the big guns in that department. The scorebook shows effective records of fine performances on the part of all three.

Frosh Baseball Nine Closes Slate Next Week

Coach Bob Hollway's Frosh baseball nine closes its 1953 season with two games against Ricker this Saturday and against Maine Maritime Academy next Tuesday. Both games are slated at Alumni field here at 2 p.m. The yearlings were scheduled to meet Higgins Classical here today in an afternoon game.

Hollway's Freshmen already hold two wins in as many outings defeating a good MCI combine 4-3 and routing Coburn Classical by a 24-1 count.

On the mound for the freshmen will either be crafty Gus Folsom or possibly Gaylord Boutilier.

New Farm Quarterly Publication Has Begun

The Maine Agricultural Experiment Station has begun the publication of a quarterly, "Maine Farm Research," which will contain articles on all phases of Maine agriculture and homemaking.

The periodical, varying between 16 and 24 pages, will inform the public of developments in research, explain some of the work, and give news items pertaining to the station.

The first issue being released this month will include such articles as "Plastic Bags for Potato Sales," "Irrigation," "Child Nutrition," "Apple Scab Control," "Antibiotics and Potato Diseases," and "Herd Sire Selection for Dairymen."

There are over 7000 names on the mailing list for this periodical so far, said Mr. Hardy Berry, experiment station editor.
