Butler New President Of Union Board

Paul Butler was named president of the Memorial Union Activities Board at its annual election last week.

Elizabeth Pierce is the new vice president, Peggy Daigle, secretary, and Cynthia Nelson, treasurer.

These officers were chosen according to the Union constitution, which provides that the new committee chairmen, elected by their respective committees, meet together and elect the officers of the Activities Board.

Committee Chairmen
New committee chairmen are: Janet Bishop, dance committee; Shirley Bostrom, special events; Donald Pendleton, movie; Alexandra King, publicity; Laura Little, music; Joan Mason, house; and Walter MacDougall, games and tournaments.

Last Monday the Activities Board officers and the committee chairmen met and elected five of the chairmen to serve on the Union Governing Board. These five and the president and treasurer of the Activities Board are the student members of the governing board. The vice president of the Senate serves as ex officio student member.

Governing Board
Also serving on the Governing Board are two faculty and two administration members, picked by University President Arthur A. Hauck. The faculty member remaining on the Board for next year is Robert P. Shay, assistant professor of economics.

Dr. Steinmetz Retires In June

Dr. Ferdinand H. Steinmetz will retire from the faculty of the University on June 30, according to an announcement today by Pres. Arthur A. Hauck.

Dr. Steinmetz has been a member of the University staff since 1927 when he was appointed to the faculty of the College of Arts and Sciences. In 1929 Dr. Steinmetz was made professor of botany and head of the department of botany and entomology for the College of Agriculture.

During these 27 years, Dr. Steinmetz has distinguished himself by his record of effective service to the University and the people of Maine. Known and respected by thousands of students who have had courses from him in botany, plant pathology, mycology, and genetics, Dr. Steinmetz is also widely known for his effective work as a member of the graduate faculty in maintaining high standards for graduate work and in encouraging

Who Had The Ding Dong?

Bet you didn't even miss it. When The Campus received reports yesterday morning that the class bell hadn't been heard tolling the hours since last Friday, we couldn't believe it. And, frankly, we hadn't even noticed.

And neither had the Dept. of Buildings and Grounds, nor the Director of Plant and Facilities. In fact, no one could say for sure whether or not he had heard the bell.

But when we began checking up, we found out why it hadn't rung. Frank Cowan, University cop, had gone away to be a guest at an alumni meeting over the week end, and somehow the wires got crossed as to who was to take care of switching on the bell on Monday morning.

But things have been straightened out now, and the bell will herald class changes as usual (we hope).

The Sphinx, before which part of the Masque's last play of the season, "Caesar and Cleopatra," will be presented. The play will run next week from Wednesday, May 5, through Saturday, May 8. Studying their creation are Ray Storey, technical director (left), and Norman Andrews. Photo by Johnson

No Candidates For Mayor Yet

By RALPH CLARK

"The mayor campaign is a 'do or die' proposition this year," John Ristuccia, chairman of the mayoralty committee, said last Tuesday. "We feel that there has been a decline in the spirit of candidates and if there is no stimulation in the campaign with a good supply of candidates, the campaign will be discontinued."

The mayor campaign will be held on May 6, 7, and 10 with the final rally on the last day of the campaign if candidates are available.

A meeting will be held of prospective candidates for the position at 6:30 p.m. tonight in the Union. Donald Stritch and Preston (Duke) Walters, past University mayors, will be present at the meeting to discuss campaign methods. Deadline for announcing candidacy is tomorrow (Friday) at 3 p.m. Candidates must apply in the Dean of Men's office, 205 Library.

The official Maine Day program begins with the annual Interfraternity Sing May 11 in the Memorial Gym at 7:15 p.m.

Early morning sleepers will be aroused on Maine Day by the University campaign methods. Deadline for an-

James Selwood Dies At Music Rehearsal

The sudden death last night of James Gordon Selwood, 51, just promoted to assistant professor of music, shocked the campus.

Mr. Selwood collapsed and died of a heart attack while leading a rehearsal of students in the Memorial Gym in preparation for the annual Music Night that had been planned for tonight.

Mr. Selwood had just finished conducting the glee club and band in the featured number on the program when he slumped from the podium.

As a result of his death, it was announced by University officials that Music Night will be postponed to a date to be announced.

Mr. Selwood, who was unmarried, is survived by two brothers, Richard W. and S. Folsom, both of Iliou, N. Y. Connected with the music department for 13 years, he was an instructor in applied music and had been leader of various musical groups, including the Madrigal Singers and the Varsity Singers.

Prof. Lewis Niven, head of the music department, said:

"The irreparable loss of James Selwood will be felt in all quarters. He was a dedicated and devoted teacher, a good musician, and a charming person. A great favorite with students, he solicited from them not only a high regard for music, but a fine personal loyalty as well."

Pres. Arthur A. Hauck and Dean Joseph A. Murray could not be reached for statements.

Mr. Selwood was also an instructor at the Northern Maine Conservatory of Music in Bangor for a number of years.

From 1939-1940 he was conductor of the Manhattan Chorus. During those years he was also a soloist in various New York City churches.

James G. Selwood

Last February he received a degree of bachelor of science in education, with high distinction, from the University of Maine.

Funeral services will be from the LaBeau Funeral Home in Orono on Friday evening, the time to be announced. Burial will be in New York State.

13 Colleges Gather Here For Convention

The University will welcome delegates from 13 eastern colleges tomorrow for the biennial Women's Student Government Conference. This is the first time Maine has been hostess college since 1947.

Ruth Bartlett, chairman of the Conference steering committee, said the delegates will reside in the Estabrooke recreation rooms. The headquarters for the week end meeting will be the Memorial Union. Miss Bartlett said the theme of the Conference is centered around citizenship. Besides six main discussion groups, there will be a banquet in Estabrooke Hall Saturday.

Miss Bartlett said Marion Martin, State Commissioner of Labor, will be guest speaker. The deans of women of all the colleges have been invited to attend and there will be a joint meeting of students and deans, she said.

Member colleges attending are Rhode Island State, University of New Hampshire, University of Connecticut, Jackson College, Bates, Colby, Brandeis, University of Maine, University of Massachusetts, and Middlebury. Guest colleges are Simmons and M.I.T.

sity Band which will march through the campus streets before breakfast. Exchange breakfasts for men and women will begin at 7 a.m. in the New Cafeteria and the women's dining rooms.

After the special assembly on the Library steps at 8 a.m., the work projects will begin. Many more workers are needed to complete the roster of projects drawn up.

This theme allows an opportunity for wide interpretation, said the float parade committee. It can include any product of the state of Maine. Many of the industries should be glad to give suggestions, the committee added.

A limit of $15 has been set for expenditures on the floats. Sketches must be submitted to the committee by Tuesday, May 4. The parade will be held rain or shine.

After the parade, a baseball game will be held with Maine meeting Bates at 3 p.m.

The annual student-faculty skit will be held in the Memorial Gym in the evening. The skit, "The Talent Shelf For Channel Twelf," will feature a take-off on educational television. The show will star many of the all-time faculty favorites that have been seen in the skits through the years.

Bookstore Gift Helps Union Game Room

Completion of the game room in the Memorial Union has been authorized by the University's Board of Trustees, Pres. Arthur A. Hauck has announced.

This work is made possible by an additional gift of $15,000 to the Union by the University Store Company, President Hauck said.

It is expected the room, located on the ground floor of the building, may be completed by the time the University opens in September.

Presently, provisions are being made for four billiard tables and two ping pong tables in the room.

During the first Union Building Fund campaign, the Store Company gave $10,000 with the understanding that they would select a room as their gift to the Union.

Later, the company's directors chose the game room for which they had already given $4,500 toward equipment costs. This new gift of $15,000 makes it possible to complete the interior of the room.

Plans are also being made to finish the game room supervisor's office, an equipment room and also the locker room area which is immediately adjacent.

It is expected that about 100 lockers will be made available, mostly for use of commuting students needing space for temporary storage of lunches, books and clothing.

Income from payment on pledges and building operation will be used to maintain these areas.

Reminder To Students: Campus Elections May 11

Thursday, May 11 has been set as the date when students will turn out to the polls to choose officers for the various campus organizations.

Elected at that time will be officers for General Student Senate, Women's Student Government Association, Student Religious Association, Women's Athletic Association, Men's Athletic Association, Portland Watch Award, Washington Watch Award, Senior Class parts and Campus Mayor.

Voting will be held on the Mall, and in case of rain, in the Union Building, according to the Senate's elections committee. The polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF TASTE

When students burn the midnight oil
While cramming for a test,
The smooth, fresh smokes they reach for most
Are Luckies...always best!

Marilyn Sergeant
University of Arizona

When you come right down to it, you smoke for one simple reason... enjoyment. And smoking enjoyment is all a matter of taste. Yes, taste is what counts in a cigarette. And Luckies taste better.

Two facts explain why Luckies taste better. First, L.S./M.F.T.—Lucky Strike means fine tobacco... light, mild, good-tasting tobacco. Second, Luckies are actually made better to taste better... always round, firm, fully packed to draw freely and smoke evenly.

So, for the enjoyment you get from better taste, and only from better taste, Be Happy—Go Lucky. Get a pack or a carton of better-tasting Luckies today.

If cleaner, fresher, smoother taste
Is that which you would prize,
There is but one solution, friend,
Buy Luckies if you're wise!

Looking 'Em Over: Profile

Dubbed 'Spike' In High School, Prof Still Prefers His Nickname

By Ron Devine

Come on over to Crosby Lab and meet someone. See that short fellow with the cigar and the white hair over there helping those students with a problem they're working out on that steam engine?

That's Spike Sparrow.

Oh yeah, he has a title: Professor Theron A. . . but nobody calls him Professor Sparrow. Just Spike.

How come? Well, ask him about it and he'll tell you he likes it that way. Had that nickname since he was in high school. One of his buddies dubbed him that . . . and it stuck.

Likes Informality

Spike's that way anyhow. Informal. He carries on his lab courses and conducts his office hours in as informal a manner as possible, and likes to be as close to his students as he can.

And his students like it. "There isn't a day goes by that some student doesn't drop in for an informal chat, or to show me something of interest," he says.

He believes in a square deal for his students, too; and they'll be the first ones to back up that statement.

And he's a firm believer in extra-curricular activities. "A student can get fully as much out of doing a good job in some extracurricular activity as he can in any course. It looks good on his record and it gives him self-satisfaction and a sense of accomplishment."

Active In Organizations

Spike places a lot of stock in the individual. He likes people. "Especially college students and young people." He has always taken an active interest in his fraternity, Sigma Nu. He was co-advisor for two years after World War II and advisor till '53. He was secretary-treasurer of the fraternity's New England Association from 1951-53. And he served as commander of its first division, which includes Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont, in 1952-53.

Spike liked his division commander's job because he "got a chance to travel to other colleges and meet students and get their ideas," but had to give it up because of lack of time.

Hunting And Fishing

Hobbies? Outdoors, mostly: hunting and fishing. Spike's got a summer camp at Cold Stream, and a small farm in Hampden. He also has a small machine shop at home where he "tinkers and makes little things for the house."

But he doesn't get a chance to use his summer home too much, he says. The last seven summers he has spent in Jersey City with the Dielectric Products Company, where six or seven of his former students are employed. He considers it an honor to have been invited to work with his former students.

Spike likes summer work because "it allows me to make contacts and gain information to keep me up to date with advancements in the engineering field."

"Unless a fellow does get out, he has to read about these advancements in books. I like to get it first hand, and bring it back to my students that way."

Here Since 1920

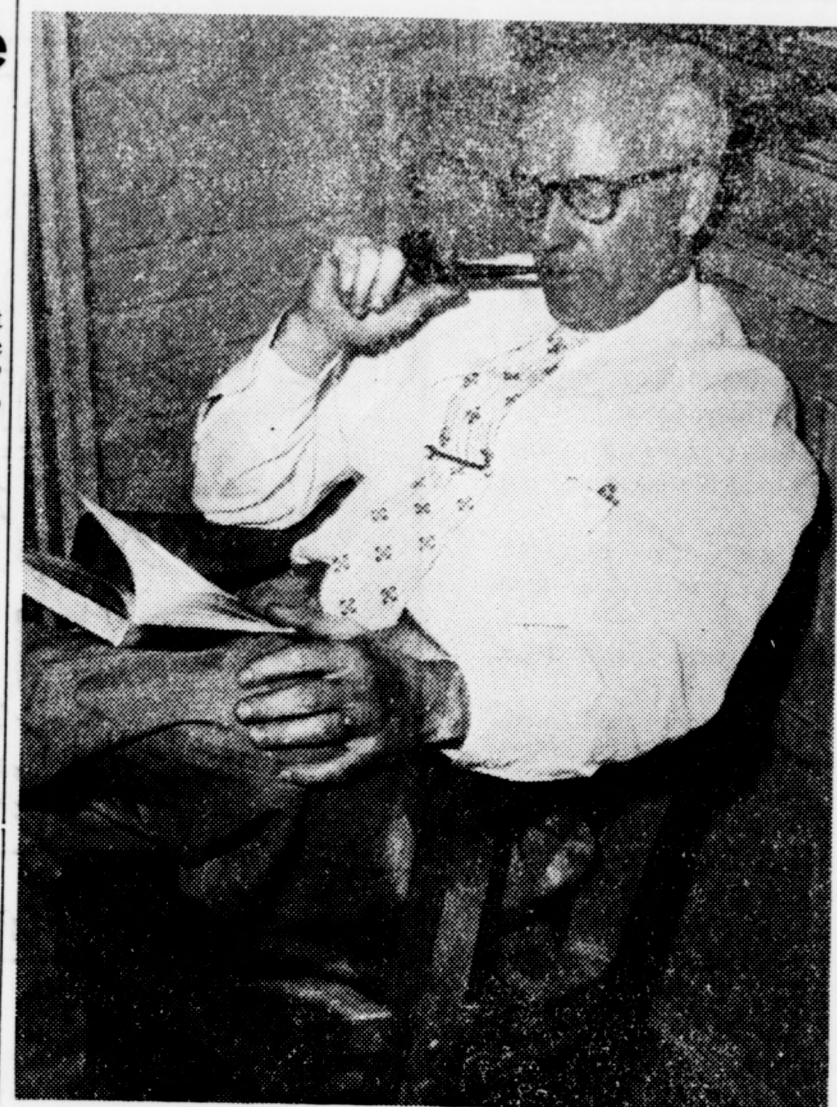

Spike's been around the University quite a while. In the fall of 1920 he started here as a freshman. He graduated in '24—"right in the middle of hard times," he recalls.

"Engineering jobs were scarce as hen's teeth then. Had to take whatever work we could find. I managed to land a job as a waiter at the Penobscot Valley Country Club. Made a lot of contacts there and met the engineer in charge of the Lucerne development."

Spike's first engineering job was at Lucerne. He worked as a civil engineer.

Teaching Since 1926

But in 1926 he returned to the University to teach. He spent the first three years as an instructor in the mechanical drawing department, and "The next 25 years in the Mechanical Engineering department. I grew up with Crosby Lab," he reminisces. "I've always wanted to be able to work here full time. My dream came true after the second World War. I've been here ever since."

Spike can remember when the ME department was competing for space with Electrical Engineering in Lord Hall. "Everybody was always in everybody else's way over there," he says.

And he modestly confided that in 1948 he passed up a chance to go to the University of Vermont as head of their Mechanical Engineering department, because he likes it here at Maine.

I.D.'s To Be Signed At Pre-Registration

All students who will return to college next fall, undergraduates and full-time graduates, are asked to stop in the registrar's office during pre-registration this spring and sign next year's I.D. cards, Registrar James A. Harmon announced this week.

Harmon said that if all the cards are signed, he can send them away to be laminated during the summer and students can pick them up at registration in the fall.

Next year the I.D. cards will contain more information, according to Harmon. Besides what is now on each card, the color of eyes and hair, height and weight, and the date of birth will be given.

This additional information is being added by a decision of the Committee on Administration, Harmon said.

Debate Teams Busy

The University of Maine will send debate teams to two intercollegiate debate tournaments this week end.

Representing Maine at the Eastern Forensic Association Tournament at Fordham University, New York, will be Frank Grant and Stanley Clish on the affirmative and Henry Colby and Zane Thompson on the negative. These students will leave the University on Thursday morning for the tournament which will take place from April 29 to May 1.

Representing Maine at the State of Maine Freshman Tournament at Bates College on Saturday, May 1, will be Reginald Collins and William Harvey on the affirmative, and Carl Brooks and Charles Grant on the negative.

The same question will be used for both tournaments: "Resolved: That the United States should adopt a policy of free trade."

Plea For Easter

April 18 was Easter.

Yet, as far as most students were concerned, it was just Sunday with nothing to make it different from any other Sunday of the year.

It was under these circumstances that some students attending church heard a thorough denouncing of a campus fraternity for holding a party the previous Friday, Good Friday.

In the week that followed, a good-sized storm of controversy rose over the fraternity's right to hold the party and the priest's right to criticize it.

Religious leaders working against each other, as usual, took opposing sides of the question and went to work on it in public.

And the University's press and radio were criticized for reporting what was said.

At least two University officials have announced intentions to try to eliminate any future Good Friday parties. Dean of Men John E. Stewart and Social Affairs Committee Chairman John E. Lyman have both made statements to this effect.

On this line, we would like to suggest the best way of stopping Good Friday fraternity parties, and it is also a means of helping renew interest in Easter as something somewhat special.

Annually, all University students are kicked off campus to make room for Farm and Home Week.

There is no apparent method in the choosing of dates for this week. This year it happened to come exactly at mid-semester. Last year it didn't, and next year it won't.

Why not have Farm and Home Week fall regularly in the week before Easter?

The World Almanac, for one, lists dates for Easter as far in advance as the year 2,000. There should be little trouble in advance planning on that score.

Farm and Home Week occupies only the first half of the week. Participants would be able to attend and still be home for their own Easter season observances.

Easter—like Thanksgiving and Christmas—is, to a great extent, an idea—an idea strongly associated with home.

And it is at home where it will be best observed.

No (More) Pets Allowed

The final decision on pets in South Apartments—no more pets can be brought into the area after June 1, ones already there may stay as long as their present owners do—is the best choice that could be made.

This decision is fair to pet owners. Yet the area, which is much too congested for animals, should be cleared of pets by 1957.

We do think the vote the college wanted the residents to hold was a mockery, however. The choice the administration picked was the second preference of the residents for dogs and the third for cats, out of five choices.

One point really bothers us, though. Just what is the status of kittens or pups born to animals in South Apartments after the first of June?

What! No Candidates?

Well, now it seems that out of more than 2,000 eligible students, no one wants to be campus mayor.

With no applications in yet, and the deadline extended to Friday, here is a good chance for all the critics of the past year to show their stuff.

Everyone says they would like to see the office improved. Here's the opportunity. Find a candidate, maybe yourself, get back of him, and help make the office what you say you want it to be.

committee, Report No. 881 U. S. Government Printing office. For the benefit of Asher Kneeland and others, Senator McCarthy is chairman of this committee.

Item four: Senator McCarthy named before the Tydings committee the following persons who have since been dismissed: John Stewart Service, Esther Brunaur, William Remington—resigned: Posniak, Clubb, Lansberg, Meigs. This is not, of course, a complete list.

Asher Kneeland's columns are confusing, to say the least, but after plowing through weird conglomeration of words, we realize that he is trying to tell us he disapproves of Senator McCarthy. I hope I have helped a little to counteract this babble from the maze of generalities that is called "Kneeland Prey."

In a previous column, Asher Kneeland was critical of the reporting by Maine newspapers. May I offer the suggestion that he devote a little time to improving his own strange column or else his newspaper work will terminate upon his graduation.

Letters To The Editor

Good Friday Party Was Bad Idea

To the Editor:

Perhaps the views of a conscientious Protestant on the subject of "pajama parties" and religion may be of interest to your readers.

First, by anyone's standards, save those of Greenwich Village "Bohemians," the wearing of nightclothes and bedroom attire at mixed social functions is very poor taste and is at least suggestive of an atmosphere bordering on the indecent. In a public institution it is the obligation of students and staff alike not to give offense to the generally accepted mores of the community. If you accept public subsidy for your study, you must accept public standards of behavior and abide by them.

Second, it is really an infringement of the liberties to which we are dedicated as Americans for the non-religious majority of a residence group to violate a Holy Day of the minority. A fraternity house is home to each of the brothers and pledges resident therein. A Christian expects his home to be a place of quiet and meditation on Good Friday. If there was a single Christian present in the fraternity house the time the party was held on Good Friday, his religious freedom was being violated. Liberty does not confer the freedom to ride roughshod over the rights and consciences of others.

Record Examination Shows McCarthy's Work Of High Value

To the Editor:

We have had voices large (Bennett Cerf) medium (various History and Government professors) and small (Asher Kneeland) attacking Senator McCarthy. The University needs another voice to give the other side of the story.

For some reason the college is permeated by a persistently liberal ideology, extreme in so far as Senator McCarthy is concerned. Let us just hope that this sentiment stems from a fear of loss of academic freedom and nothing less healthy.

The Senator's enemies always cry for specific instances in which subversives, security risks and incompetents have been removed. Here are a few.

Item one: Edward Rothschild of the Government printing office, was dismissed because of Communist affiliations. Also in this same office 15 employees previously accused of Communist activities were removed to less sensitive posts. Quote from Annual Report of the Senate Permanent subcommittee of investigations. "In light of 5th amendment invocation by GOP employees before the subcommittee, legislation was sponsored by subcommittee member Sen. Dirksen making mandatory the immediate discharge from Gov't service of any Gov't employee who chooses to hide behind the Fifth Amend. The spirit of this enactment was later adopted by President Eisenhower for all executive departments.

To those who cry "brutality" at the manner in which the subcommittee hearings are held I would like to quote Charles Ford, counsel for Rothschild. Mr. Ford was allowed to be at his client's side constantly offering him advice. Mr. Ford's statement—"I think that the committee situation at this day and this place is most admirable and most American..."

Item two: The investigations of the subcommittee into the Voice of America resulted in the suspension of "Baker west" a million watt transmitter in Washington State. This station was being set up after practically all the competent engineers had advised against it because of a magnetic storm which made transmission extremely difficult. Testimony advised that nine million dollars were saved as a result of this hearing.

"Baker East" was suspended at a saving of ten million dollars to the taxpayers.

An examination into Voice engineering personnel disclosed that George Herrick, Chief Engineer for the Voice, had never gone to engineering school. Herrick was relieved of his assignment.

Item three: Following investigation into subversion in the defense effort, several employees of the Department of the Army, (Powell) General Electric (Mills, Goodwin, Archdeacon, Morrell, etc.) were suspended. What is more important, is that the G.E. Co. adopted a policy which is setting a pattern for American industry, and which calls for immediate suspension from defense plants of any current employee who invokes the fifth amendment.

The information above is from the Annual report of the investigations

Priest Defends His Right To Criticize

Last Sunday, April 25, Father Francis E. LeTourneau, Catholic chaplain at the University, speaking at all three Masses, defended his right to criticize pajama parties on Good Friday.

He said that in his opinion, "no group has a right to conduct a party of danger to the morals of the people on campus."

Replying to a statement made this week by Rev. Elwin L. Wilson, director of the Maine Christian Association, defending Sigma Chi, the fraternity that held the party, Father LeTourneau expressed:

"Regret over a Christian minister using as a yardstick of God's law the vote of the majority. God's moral law is sound for Catholics, Protestants and Jews alike."

Contacted Tuesday, Rev. Wilson said he had no comment to make.

Apply Now For Jobs At Placement Bureau

Students who want part time work for the next college year may now file application in the Student Aid Office. All applicants must complete the Work Application form and the Application for Financial Aid form.

It is recommended that all work applications be filed prior to the close of the present semester. Most campus work is assigned during the summer. There is both on-campus and off-campus work.

In a statement to The Campus last week, Sigma Chi president Charles Hussey said, "The members of Sigma Chi fraternity feel that holding the party on Good Friday was in poor taste."

This was in answer to an Easter Sunday demand by Father LeTourneau that the fraternity apologize to the rest of the Christians on campus.

No New Pets For Apartments

No new pets will be allowed in the South Apartment area after June 1, pets now there will be able to stay as long as their owners do, and owners are to assume a proper responsibility for their pets.

That was the final decision on the pet problem made by President Arthur A. Hauck last Monday.

In reaching this decision, Dr. Hauck followed the recommendation of the Housing Office and administration. This recommendation, according to Vernon Elmore, of the Housing Office, was that the first preference of the residents, to have regulations for owners, as expressed in a vote last month, would be too difficult and expensive to administer.

The Housing Office recommendation was that the residents' second choice for dogs and third choice for cats (no new pets after a specified date) should be put into effect. They also recommended that the date be changed from September 1 to May 1.

According to William C. Wells, director of residence, this was so people coming in this summer would not be able to bring pets in. He said that Dr. Hauck has moved the date to June 1.

As the plan is set up, all animals will be out of South Apartments in three years, unless some sophomore with pets there now stays on for graduate work.

When South Apartments first opened there were no pets allowed. Later the college let the residents vote pets in. This year complaints about the animals, especially dogs, led to a petition, a counter petition and a group meeting on March 4.

students to secure advanced professional training. During World War II, Dr. Steinmetz worked for the Maine Agricultural Experiment Station on research work at Aroostook Farm in Presque Isle.

President Hauck, in commenting on Dr. Steinmetz's retirement, said, "Professor Steinmetz, during his years at the University of Maine, has dedicated himself to teaching. His effective work in this area has had a tremendous influence on the many young men and women who have had him for an instructor. His high professional standards are reflected in the many individuals scattered all over this country carrying major responsibilities in research and teaching."

A CAMPUS-TO-CAREER CASE HISTORY

"There wasn't a dull minute!"

DICK WALLNER, '52, left a trail of work as he whirled through a year of telephone training. Here he recalls the variety of his training job.

(Reading time: 36 seconds)

"Training can really be interesting. I found that out when I joined A.T.&T.'s Long Lines Department after getting my B.A. at Cincinnati and my M.A. at Michigan in '52. Long Lines is the organization specializing in Long Distance communications. I was put in the training program, and there wasn't a dull minute.

"For instance, one of my jobs in the Traffic Department was estimating the exact number of calls that would be placed in a city on Christmas Day. My estimate was off by only 68 calls!

"Then in the Plant Department, I made a study of damage done to a certain cable. Found out that the most damage occurred in an area used by hunters. Some special public relations work among hunters helped improve that situation.

"And in the Commercial Department, I helped analyze the communication problems of one of the largest textile companies—it had widespread offices and plants. The recommendations made are now in use.

"The variety in my training has carried over to my regular job here in Cincinnati. My job is to see that good service is maintained for private line customers—pipeline and power companies, theater TV and the like. Every day is different.

"As far as I am concerned, I've found my career."

Like so many college people who have joined the Bell System, Dick has a job he enjoys. There are also job opportunities with other Bell Telephone Companies, the Bell Telephone Laboratories, Western Electric and Sandia Corporation. This is a good time to see your Placement Officer for full details.

Maine Nine Faces YC And State Series Rivals Here

Bear Facts

BY PAUL FERRIGNO

Errors! Errors! Errors! must be baseball coach Tubby Raymond's cry as he faces a busy week end which will see the Colby Mules opening State Series play for the Bears.

Before the season the speculation in everybody's mind, more so in Coach Raymond's, was that a strong defense was going to carry the Maine hopes this year.

But what happens on the first meeting with a Yankee conference rival in regular season play? The Maine infield treats the baseball like it was a hot potato to the tune of six big errors, the last of which cost the ball game.

Then, on the other side of the picture the predicted weak hitting of the squad surprised everybody and almost, but not quite, nullified the squad's fumbleitis.

Who can figure it out? That's a question writers and fans have been asking for years. How can you figure this crazy game of baseball? However, we think Coach Raymond hit the nail on the head when he said that he was paying for inexperience.

After all, it is a young squad with an almost complete rebuilding job done on the infield, and when State Series rolls around the outfield will have to be revamped. Another factor to take into consideration was the inability of Raymond to take his squad outdoors prior to the two Southern trips. Early in April there was still snow on the ground, while in Southern New England, teams like Connecticut and Rhode Island have been playing on green grass since early March, and in some cases even in late February.

So, we shouldn't castigate the Maine squad too severely. It is our bet that the Mainites have about as good a squad as any, and, with a continued break from the Maine weatherman, we can expect our boys to play a lot tighter baseball.

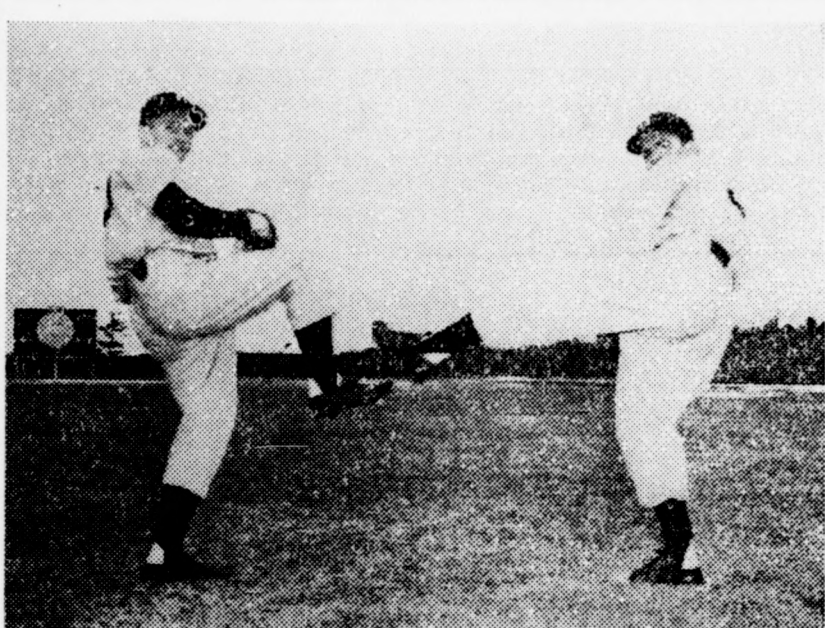

One boy to watch this week end is sophomore Dawson List, who has been a ball of fire as of late. He can hit with authority and is a good glove-man. His big bat may have plenty to say before this campaign is over.

Saturday, the Maine cinder-men were really dealt a heart-breaking defeat as the powerful aggregation from B.C. copped the meet by a single point in the last event. There were several "ifs," as there are in all close contests which might be worthy of mentioning. Bill Calkin, usually Maine's big point getter, was held down to six points and didn't even participate in two events. All that was needed was a third in the 220 dash to change the complexion of the meet. However, Calkin's leg did not feel right before the event, so he thought it better to withdraw from the race.

Another post-meet speculation is the failure of a top Maine pole-vaulter to compete. If he had been there to perform there is no doubt that the complexion of the meet would have been completely changed. But, as we hear it, he had a previous engagement.

However, look for some good performances from the 1954 edition of the Jenkinsmen. If Calkin can get back into winning ways along with Ed Touchette, who was plagued by a pulled muscle against the Eagles, along with Coke Haskell's speed, Paul Firlotte's stamina, and Ed Bogdanovich's strength, the Pale Blue may make their mark this season in New England circles.

Notice: Attention! all camp coun-

Cindermen Travel To Durham After Dropping Close Decision

BY ART TRAUB

Coach Chester "Chet" Jenkins will take his Maine cindermen to Durham, New Hampshire, Saturday to face the Wildcats of the University of New Hampshire after dropping a heartbreaking 69-68 decision to Boston College in the season's opener at Orono last Saturday.

Pat Lochiatto, Boston College's outstanding trackster, capped off a brilliant performance with a first in the running broad jump to enable the Eagles to defeat Coach Jenkins' crew by the slimmest of margins.

With the score of the meet tied at 63 all going into the final event, Lochiatto jumped 22' 5 1/2" to salt away the win.

Lochiatto Breaks Record

Lochiatto's total output came to twenty-four points as he tied for first in the high jump, won the 120 yard high hurdles, 220 low hurdles, and the 220 yard dash. He set a state record in the high hurdles with a time of 14.5 seconds replacing the old record set by Phil Goode of Bowdoin in 1940 with a time of 15 seconds.

The Pale Blue managed to win four firsts in the meet, with the only double winner for Maine being Coke Haskell with firsts in the 440 and the 880. Boston College's Frank Morze, who is better known on the gridiron, was a double winner for B.C.

Maine Sweeps

In the weights, Maine swept the javelin. However, the freshman javelin distance was a good deal farther than the varsity toss as Larry Fitzgerald heaved it 180' 7 3/4 inches.

The chances for a Pale Blue victory were slight when dependable point-getter, Bill Calkin, was below par and only could garner two seconds for six points. He ran only in the 100 and the 120 yard high hurdles and was not available for the 220 yard dash and the 220 yard low hurdles.

Tennis Squad Faces Two Rivals

Returning from a successful southern trip, Dr. Garland Russell's tennis squad will face Rhode Island on Friday and then continue State Series play with Bates on Saturday. Both contests will be played at 1:30 p.m.

On the southern trip, the Maine Racquetmen compiled a neat 2 and 1 record against Yankee Conference competition.

The Pale Blue defeated the Wildcats of New Hampshire 7-2, and Rhode Island by a 5-4 count while losing to a strong veteran Connecticut club 7-2.

The big winners on the trip were junior Brooks Whitehouse and senior Skip Hall, who teamed up to win all three double matches in which they competed. In addition, Whitehouse, considered to be the mainstay of the Mainemen, defeated both New Hampshire's and Connecticut's top men but lost to the Rhody star.

Russell was very pleased with the team's showing at Rhode Island, as two sophomores, Miles Brown and Joel Kates, won singles matches against strong opposition.

The tennis coach quoted, "I'm very much satisfied with everything. With the way they're looking at things, they're not going to give up."

Johnny Norris, 6 foot-five inch center, was the leading scorer on Maine's 1952-53 varsity basketball five.

Bears Meet Rhody, Colby In First Home Weekend

After traveling South for the past month, looking for greener pastures, the University of Maine squad entertains two rivals at Orono this week end, when they face the Rhode Island Rams on Friday and the Colby Mules on Saturday. Friday's contest will begin at 3:00 p.m., while the Colby contest will be at 2:30 p.m.

After a southern jaunt marred by sloppy fielding, Coach Tubby Raymond is looking to bring together his once-vaunted defense. The Bear coach said he had his nine best players on the trip playing, but as he said, "We're just paying for inexperience."

Otterstedt Faces Colby

However, Raymond did say that he would like to use infielders Gerry Wright, Joe Di Giovanni and possibly Steve Novick this week end. He further announced that either Gus Folsom or Blaine Trafton, Tubby's ace reliever, would go against the Rams, and then he will throw his ace Charlie Otterstedt in the State Series opener on Saturday.

On the southern trip, oddly enough, it was the supposedly weak hitting which was strong and the collapse of the stronger fielding department which hurt the Bears.

Spiers, Wiggins, Arnold and List all hit well last week against the Yankee Conference rivals. All in all the Maine offense collected 23 hits in less than three games. One contest at Rhode Island was limited to five innings by rain.

Top hitter of the trip was Mal Spiers who smacked out 4 hits in nine trips for a .444 average, while sophomore centerfielder Dawson List cracked out four hits in 10 tries. Arnold chipped in with 4 for 11.

List Stars

List was the batting star of the Mainites' only victory which came in the abbreviated contest against Rhody. The flashy centerfielder smacked a long triple in the first stanza to bat in one run, then singled home another to assure Maine of the victory. The final score was 3-1.

Coach Raymond was satisfied with the pitching, especially with Otterstedt who walked just one man in facing 82 batters on the trip. He also commented that the rest of the squad including Dean, Dana, Folsom, and Trafton turned in good performances.

Women's Sports

BY MARGE MEALEY

The University of Maine Women's Athletic Association will sponsor a high school playday Saturday, May 1. Schools in this area have been invited to participate. A good attendance is expected. Individual and team sports will be played and demonstrations will be given. Jane Wiseman is chairman of the playday.

Plans for the annual WAA Banquet are now underway. Shirley Bostrom is chairman of the affair.

Volleyball is in full swing now. Games are being played every afternoon. The tournament is sparked with skill and competition. This sport counts toward the dorm cup and the year is nearly over. The cup winner will be announced at the annual banquet. Balentine now holds the cup. This is the second consecutive year they have held it. If they win again they can keep it. Good luck, Balentine.

—Attention—

Attention: An urgent call for sports reporters. I am badly in need of sports writers. Whether you've ever written for a paper or not come in and try your hand. I want to train sports writers for next fall. If you are interested stop at the MAINE CAMPUS office on Monday or Tuesday afternoons or call Phi Eta Kappa, Orono 6-4485.

The Rhody victory was sandwiched between two 8-7 losses, both of which were handed to them in the final inning. Against Northeastern two throwing errors in the bottom of the final stanza allowed the winning tally to come across the plate. Meanwhile, at Connecticut on Saturday the Maine nine blew a two-run lead in the ninth as the winning UConn run was squeezed across the plate.

Linksmen Return Host To Rhody

The University of Maine golfers, led by Coach Charlie Emery, after dropping two contests on a Yankee Conference tour last week, meet Rhode Island Saturday at 9:30 a.m. on the Penobscot Valley Country Club course.

The Mainites returned home last Tuesday against Colby, but the results were not available when The Campus went to press.

On the Southern trek the six-time Maine state champions were beaten by both Connecticut and Rhode Island. The Bears were trounced by the strong UConn's by the count of 6 1/2 to 1/2, and were just nipped by Rhody, 14 1/2 to 12 1/2.

As predicted before the trip, the Mainemen were hurt by the lack of practice due to the inclement weather here, but at Rhode Island, more so by a lack of knowledge of the course.

Top carder on the trip was Erwin Kennedy who shot an 86 against the Huskies in a losing effort, and came back with an 80 to win at Rhody. Football star Tom Golden was close behind with an 88 against Connecticut and then coming back with an 81 against Rhode Island.

Frosh Nine Open Season, Face MCI Here Monday

The Maine freshman baseball nine, under the leadership of Hal "Woody" Woodbury, will open its season against a "very fine" M.C.I. team Monday, May 3, at 2:30 p.m. here.

Coach Woodbury had been holding daily practice sessions in the field-house, but with the coming of good weather has moved the squad outside.

From a field of 60 candidates, Coach Woodbury intends to keep 25 men. "So far," he says, "the boys have been looking pretty good."

He further commented that his pitching staff was in very good shape with Dan Dearborn, Bill Nicholson, Bill Scott, and Hugh Bartlett looking exceptionally well. Woody was still undecided on his opening chucker at this moment.

The Bear Cubs' coach said—if the team keeps progressing as it has been and barring injuries, it looks as if the Frosh will enjoy a successful season.

Varner Leads Frosh

The powerful Maine frosh track team, led by flashy Jim Varner, meets Portland High School Saturday at 1 p.m. here.

Last Saturday afternoon, Varner, with a sensation 20 point output, led the Maine frosh to an overwhelming 105-15 victory over Old Town High School.

The little Bears swept all 13 events with Varner copping five firsts and Bob Hastings countering with a pair of victories.

University Society

BY BEVE FOWLIE

This week end was pretty much a "girl-ask-boy" affair. It's great if you know how, I guess! Let's see...

The Panhellenic Council held its annual Panhellenic Ball in the Main Lounge of the Memorial Union Friday, April 23.

Music was provided by Al Halliday and his band. The six newly elected sorority presidents were presented. They are: Nancy Caton, Alpha Omicron Pi; Laura Little, Delta Delta Delta; Betty Tucker, Delta Zeta; Barbara Knox, Pi Beta Phi; Pat Twomey, Phi Mu; Connie Lewis, Chi Omega. The presidents were given a bouquet consisting of their sorority flower. The new Panhellenic president, Nancy Collins, dressed in lavender, was presented with an orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Russell Woolley and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunlap chaperoned The Chadbourne Dorm party last Saturday evening. Connie Averill, assisted by Buz Draper and Daisy Raymond, was in charge of the party. Decorations for the "Frosh Derby" consisted of caricatures of the faculty by Linda Williams and Luella Gardner. The program included entertainment of singing, dancing, and pantomime planned by Adrah Loring and Buz Draper, and refreshments of sandwiches and punch arranged by Sarah Chipman and Judy Carroll. Connie Averill, Cyn Hawkes and Norma Bradbury were in charge of decorations; Sue Boekus and Judy Sawyer took care of the invitations. Looks like this year's freshmen are really on the ball!

On second glance the men did get a chance to do some asking...

Comic Strip characters were right at home at Phi Kap Saturday night. The pledges took over—it may be the only chance you get, boys—and put on some great entertainment in the form of a "take off" on Moon Mullins. Of the 40 couples that attended Maggie Booker and Jerry Beach as "Maggie and Jiggs" and Ellie Hay and Bill Holloway as "Pinocchio and Giuseppe" won the prizes for the best-portrayed comics. Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Rhoades were chaperons. John Buzzell and Roger Remick were in Hades Hop on Saturday evening. The theme was a little unusual... but different—"Go to Hell with TEP." I wonder if the thirty-five couples who attended did... The pledges entertained with a skit called "Is This Your Life?" Devils, pitchforks, and other such details all provided the appropriate atmosphere. Prof. and Mrs. Frank K. Beyer and Prof. and Mrs. Frederick T. Martin were chaperons. Bob Stack and Dave Ziblatt were in charge of arrangements.

Alpha Omicron Pi and Phi Kappa Sigma enjoyed a spaghetti dinner at the Phi Kap house last Thursday evening. After dinner an informal gathering and group singing was held. Jerry Beach was in charge.

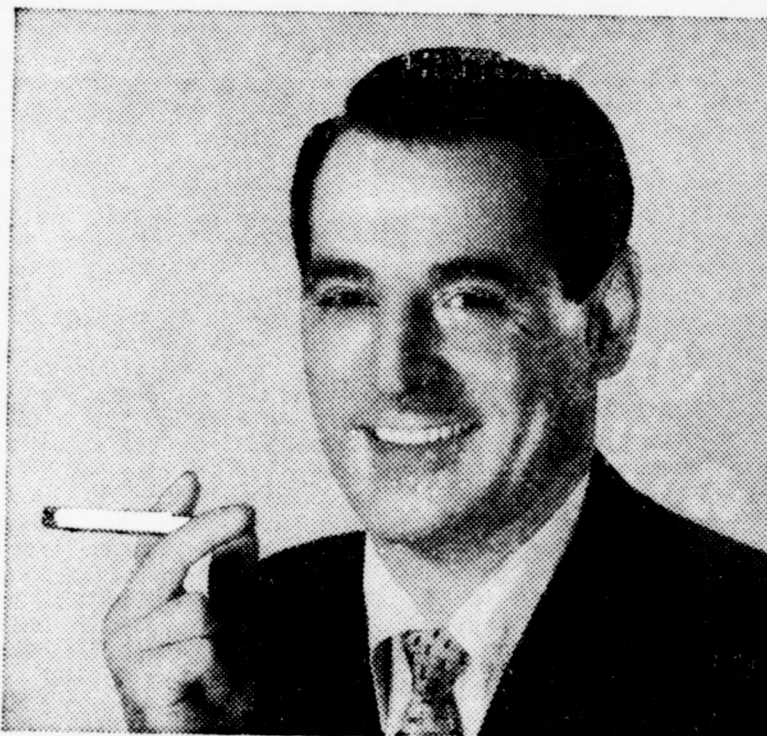

Phi Mu sorority will hold its annual spring Bazaar and tea Sunday, May 2, from 2-4:30. Home-made food and articles will be on sale. The proceeds of the Bazaar will go toward the Barbara Bosworth Scholarship which is awarded to a deserving woman on the Maine campus.

Chi Omega held a banquet Friday evening at the Oronoka. The affair preceded the Panhellenic Spring Dance. Anne Austin was toastmistress. Sue Humphrey made the arrangements.

Their annual Spring Banquet was held at the Pilot's Grill Monday evening. Program of speakers—Norma Jose, Charlotte Moreshead, Carol Loud.
