Elections Results Released By Senate Executive Board

Final tabulations of the class elections held Nov. 10 were released by the General Student Senate Executive Council Wednesday.

Figures show that 52.4 per cent of the student body turned out for the elections. The Sophomore Class had the highest percentage of participation with 58.3 per cent voting. The freshman figure was next, standing at 54.2. The candidates in the Junior Class drew 52.6 per cent of their classmates, while 41.7 per cent of the seniors went to the polls.

Many candidates won by slim margins, the closest race being that for secretary of the Senior Class, which was decided by one vote.

A difference of only nine votes decided the winner of the Sophomore Class presidency.

Of 210 seniors who cast ballots, 188 voted for the only name on the ballot in the president's office.

Eleven members from South Apartments elected a representative to the Senate.

SENIOR CLASS

President, Merton Robinson, 188; Vice President, Reginald Bowden, 78; Kenneth Woodsum, 69; William L.

State Educators To Participate In Economic Study

A group of Maine college professors and business leaders will join in making a study of Maine's economy, it was announced this week.

The program will be financed by a grant of $25,000 made by the Committee for Economic Development and the Fund for Adult Education established by the Ford Foundation.

Four Colleges Represented

Plans for the study were announced jointly by Chester G. Abbott, president of the First Portland National Bank, the presidents of the four Maine colleges, and the Ford Foundation's C E D in New York.

The active research group of the program will consist of faculty members from each of four colleges, and an equal number of junior business executives. Faculty members who have been named to this working group from Maine are Prof. Himy B. Kirshen and Prof. H. Austin Peck. Secretary and research coordinator of the program is Dr. Terris Moore, head of the Department of Industrial Cooperation on campus.

Calico Ball, Farmer's Fair Are Features Of Weekend Events

By JOHN LITTLEFIELD

Calico, hay-seed and cows take over the University spotlight this week end when the annual Aggie Club-sponsored Farmers' Fair gets under way early Saturday morning. Climaxed by the Calico Ball Saturday evening in the Memorial Gym, the fair will feature numerous contests, exhibits and booths.

The program begins with a college livestock show at 9:30, during which some 25 students will show young heifers representing the four major breeds, Jersey, Guernsey, Holstein and Ayrshire. This will be followed by a tractor driving contest.

A series of events for high school students enrolled in FFA activities will begin at 10 a.m. Included will be sheep, poultry and livestock judging.

In the afternoon college students will compete in events such as wood-chopping, barrel rolling, pie eating, bucksawing, cow milking, three-legged races, sack races and potato-picking races. Coeds, including candidates for Calico Queen, and faculty members will be contestants in many of the events.

One of the unusual events for the fair this year is a beard-growing contest. This will be judged by Dr. Lincoln Taylor of the Agronomy Department and Mal Holt, chairman of contests.

In addition to the booths sponsored by the various departments of the College of Agriculture, the 4-H Club and the Maine Outing Club are planning booths this year. These will be located in the Field House.

Lloyd Rafnell and his orchestra will play for the Calico Ball which begins at 8:30 p.m. This dance is strictly informal with the fashion fare plaid shirts and blue jeans for the men and square dancing dresses for the women students, the committee said.

Dean To Crown Queen

Dean Arthur Deering of the College of Agriculture will crown the Calico Queen at the ball. The Queen will be chosen by student vote during the day from the field of eight attractive coeds. Candidates are Ann Dingwell, Myra Goldman, Doris Richards, Nancy Caton, Janet Borges, Connie Doe, Peggy Miller, and Jean Chapman.

Four of the girls are sophomores, three are freshmen and one is a senior.

General chairman for the fair is John Douglas. In charge of contests are: forestry events, Phil Bowman; pie eating, Bernard Wentworth; milk contests, John Hesketh; races, John Roger; beard growing, Mal Holt; barrel rolling, Philip Edgcomb; potato picking, Paul Belyea; cake auction, Edwin Plissy; and cake baking, Joan Fuller.

In Charge Of Booths

In charge of the various booths in the field house are: botany, Dr. J. Livingston; Outing Club, William German; agricultural economics, Robert Thorpe; animal and dairy, Dr. H. H. Brugman and Dr. L. Dorsey; animal pathology, Eugene Toothaker; agricultural engineering, Dwight Southwick; horticulture, Roger Clapp; Alpha Zeta, Donald Weymouth; home economics, Mary J. Renfro; entertainment, Don Mairs; agronomy, Wayland Shands, Jr.; forestry, Phil Bowman; 4-H, Arvid Forsman; poultry, Peter Marckoon; and refreshments, Arthur Ellor.

Father John T. Mason Is New Chaplain To Episcopal Students

Rev. John T. Mason, Jr., of New York City, has accepted the position of chaplain to Episcopal students at the University. Father Mason assumed his duties Sunday.

He succeeds Rev. John L. Scott, Jr., who recently resigned to become rector of All Saints Church in Springfield, Mass.

Formerly In New York

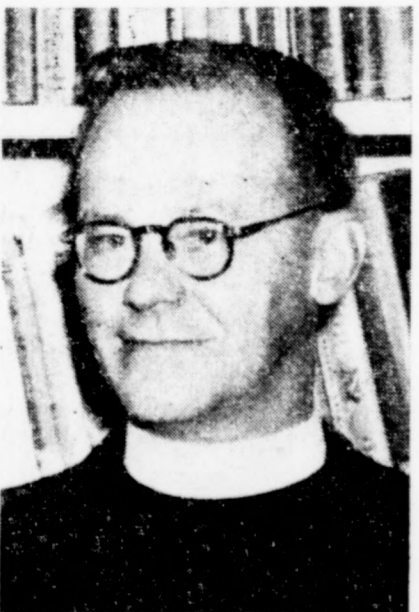

Father Mason comes from the Church of St. Edward the Martyr in New York, where he has been vicar for the past year. He and his wife are residing at Canterbury House at the corner of College Avenue and Chapel Road. Father Mason will also be vicar of the Church of St. James in Old Town.

A native of Peru, Illinois, he received B.A. and M.A. degrees from George Washington University, Washington, D. C. He has done graduate work at Columbia University and is an S.T.B. graduate of General Theological Seminary in New York City.

Was Congressional Secretary

Father Mason has served as a congressional secretary, and from 1940 to 1945 he was employed as a civilian analyst for United States Navy Intelligence.

Ordained to the diaconate in 1949 and to the priesthood in 1950, Father Mason served as assistant and then associate priest at St. John's Episcopal Church in Bethesda, Md., from 1950 to 1953.

Rev. John T. Mason, Jr.

Mrs. Mason is a native of Washington, D. C., and has lived most of her life in Mexico City. She is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and has an M.A. degree from Columbia University.

During World War II she was employed at the British Embassy in Mexico City and has served as a civilian analyst for United States Navy Intelligence.

They should make something of themselves, use their education not to get rich but to enrich America. Today we are talking defense, but America is too vital to be merely on the defensive. Our greatest strength is that we are still building our country. Our problems are our biggest opportunity."

Class periods for Friday will be as follows:

First Period	8-8:35
Second Period	8:45-9:20
ASSEMBLY	9:30-10:20
Third Period	10:30-11:05
Fourth Period	11:15-11:50
Other Periods	As Usual.

Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president of the University, will preside at the assembly. Music will be by the University Glee Club.

Dr. David Trafford is chairman of the Assembly Committee.

Pi Beta Phi, Chi Omega Visited By National Chapter Officials

Mrs. Marianne Reid Wild, grand national president of Pi Beta Phi sorority, was featured guest of Maine Alpha Chapter here last week.

This was Mrs. Wild's second visit to Maine, having been here while grand vice president in 1946. She was elected to the office of grand president at the Texas Convention in 1952.

While on campus Mrs. Wild was feted at a tea in the Women's Lounge of the Memorial Union, attended by more than 100 guests. Barbara Knox, president of Maine Alpha; Mrs. Wild; Mrs. Rex Buzzell, president of Eastern Maine Alumnae Club; and Mrs. David Boutillier, alumna advisor, were in the receiving line. Arrangements for the tea were made by Betty Fors and Alice Osier.

Active Stay

During her stay, Mrs. Wild met all officers, attended a party given by the Alumnae Club at the home of Mrs. Beatrice Cushman, and spoke at a formal chapter meeting.

Mrs. Wild visited here as part of her tour of all Alpha East Province chapters.

Chi Omega Guest

Miss Mary Milam, national chapter visitor of Chi Omega sorority, was guest of Xi Beta chapter last week. Miss Milam, who has been doing chapter visiting for four years, visited Maine last in 1951.

Before her appointment as a national chapter visitor, she was advisor to the Chi Omega chapter at the University of Miami.

During her stay Miss Milam met chapter officers and the alumnae advisory committee. She attended a formal meeting of the chapter and spoke about Chi Omega as a national organization and Xi Beta's contribution to this organization and the Maine campus. Miss Milam was dinner guest of the Panhellenic Council and sorority presidents.

After leaving Maine, Miss Milam planned to visit other New England chapters.

Alpha Omicron Pi was hostess last week to Mrs. Martha Neal Crosby, Gamma District Director, who makes her home in Manchester, N. H. Mrs. Crosby is a director and member of the executive board of the Alexander Eastman Hospital.

During her visit on campus, Mrs. Crosby met with the housemothers, Dean of Women, and the chapter officers. She attended formal and informal meetings, and she had dinner with the Panhellenic and sorority presidents.

Episcopal Chaplain Addresses Students

Rev. John Mason was the speaker at last evening's meeting of Canterbury Club at Canterbury House. Father Mason, who became chaplain to Episcopal students on campus last week, told of his background and his work in the missionary field. The next Canterbury meeting will be Dec. 1.

Midweek services of Holy Communion with breakfast following will be held at 7 a.m. Wednesdays at Canterbury House.

loan fund to $1,000. The board also changed the specifications of the loan so that more use could be made of it.

The board meeting was held following a joint meeting of the newspaper staff and the Press Club at which staff policies were discussed and a film, "Police Reporter," was shown.

MCA Host To Fall Christian Group

The Maine Christian Association was host November 12-14 to the Maine Area Fall Conference of the New England Student Christian Movement. The subject was "The Christian Meaning of Vocation."

The co-chairmen, Richard Nevers of the University of Maine and Kay McLin of Bates College, were aided by the following committee members advised by Rev. Elwin Wilson, director of the M. C. A.: Alta Kilton, meals; Ruth Dow, housing; Betty Brockway, publicity; Laura Wilson, registration; John Ertha, Judy Barker, Richard Bangs and Libby Currier had charge of the tea Saturday afternoon. Farmington State Teachers' College provided the worship services. Bates helped with publicity.

Represented at the conference were Bates, Colby, Nason, Bowdoin, Westbrook Junior College, Farmington State Teachers' College, Gorham State Teachers' College, Washington State Teachers' College and the University of Maine.

Highpoints of the conference were the three addresses by the principal speaker, Dr. Angelo Bertocci, professor of comparative literature at Boston University.

Saturday night a panel composed of Congressman Clifford G. McIntire of Perham; Rev. Emerson Smith, Methodist Chaplain of Industrial Relations for New England; Dr. John Nolde, assistant professor of history and government, University of Maine; Rev. Albert Niles, Universalist Minister of Bangor; and Attorney Robert Browne of Bangor discussed "The Implications of Christian Vocation in Various Fields."

Conference Planned

Miss Ruth Schinn, who represented the Student Christian Movement, spoke of the National Y.W.-Y.M.C.A. conference to be held in Lawrence, Kansas, during Christmas vacation.

At the Sunday night meeting of the M. C. A. at the Union Building Vic Aggarwala of India, a student of the University of Maine, spoke to the group on the development of India as a free nation. He explained some of the problems which India is facing internally.

Group Talks Begin At New Planetarium

Groups and organizations may now visit the University's new planetarium and hear lectures on astronomy under a new program announced last week.

Groups interested in visiting the planetarium are asked to contact Prof. Maynard E. Jordan, Wingate Hall. Prof. Jordan teaches courses in astronomy and is in charge of the planetarium.

In general, the planetarium is open to groups on afternoons and evenings, but definite arrangements for visits should be made at least a week in advance. Groups numbering up to 50 can be accommodated. The facilities are regularly used for class work in addition to being open to the public.

The lecture which is presented in connection with the visits lasts from one-half to three-quarters of an hour. The speaker points out the important stars, constellations, and planets and gives other information about the heavenly bodies.

The planetarium is located in Wingate Hall and consists of a dome some 20 feet in diameter which represents the sky, and also a multisided projector which casts bright light spots on the dome to represent the stars, constellations and planets. An illusion of vast distances is created.

James Sacy, a senior majoring in physics and education, has been named a special lecturer for the planetarium. Sacy has sketched the Orono skyline on the dome of the planetarium and also has provided appropriate music for the sunset and sunrise phases of a "night" at the planetarium.

Faculty Piano Team In Sunday Program

A two piano team, Mary Hayes Hayford and William Sleeper, will present a program of music on Sunday, Nov. 21, in the main lounge of the Memorial Union at 4 p.m.

This is the third in a series of five concerts by faculty artists at the University under the auspices of the Department of Music in association with the Memorial Union.

Sunday's program includes a wide range of works. Opening with an Elizabethan Suite, edited and arranged by Ethel Bartlett, the pianists will move on to two items from the Baroque Period by J. S. Bach: "Sheep May Safely Graze" from the Birthday Cantata and a "Prelude in E" from the Sixth Violin Sonata.

Five-Year Nurses Meet

Freshmen in the five-year nursing program were given a look at "hospital life" by sophomores at the bi-monthly meeting of the nurses last week.

Sophomores told of their experiences at the Maine Medical Center last summer.

Sally Craig, Jane Dudley, and Mary Carlson planned the program.

Union Movie

"Destination Moon," starring John Archer, Warner Anderson, and Tom Powers, will be shown in the Bangor Room of the Memorial Union Friday and Saturday evenings at 7 and 9 o'clock.

Paul Fullam To Speak Here Tuesday Afternoon

Prof. Paul A. Fullam, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senate in Maine's recent fall elections, will speak Tuesday, Nov. 23, at 4 p.m. in the Louis Oakes Room of the Library.

Fullam, Colby history teacher who was defeated by Senator Margaret Chase Smith for the Senate seat, will be guest of the Politics and International Relations Club.

A question and answer period will follow Prof. Fullam's talk.

A reception will be held from 3-4 p.m. for Prof. Fullam in the Union Building. Faculty and students are invited.

Newman Delegates At Colby Meeting

Seventeen delegates from the University attended a statewide meeting of Newman Clubs Saturday at Colby College.

The theme of the conference was, "What Makes a Good Newman Club?" Participating besides Maine and Colby were Bates, Bowdoin and Farmington State Teachers College.

Delegates from Maine were Harriet Taylor, regional chairman, who presided; Norman Blais, Peter Bosse, Patricia Gill, James Gorman, Jack Laing, Norman LaPointe, John Lyons, George Mayo, Margaretmary McCann, Ann Miles, John Molloy, John O'Connor, JoAnn Polackwich, Kevin Simpson, Judy Smith and Harvey Wood.

Rev. Francis E. LeTourneau, club chaplain, accompanied the group. The next regional conference is tentatively scheduled at the University of Maine Jan. 9-11.

Dec. 5-11 is a week of Good Will. Give generously.

Window Installed In Trophy Room

You can now get a good look into the M. Chamberlain Peirce Trophy Room on the second floor of Memorial Gymnasium through a window that has been installed in the north wall of the room by the Athletic Board.

Before, there was no opportunity to look into the trophy room because it is necessary to keep the door locked except during Homecoming, Commencement or other important events, the board said.

The expense of the window installation and the relocation of a cabinet was paid from the income of the M.

Chamberlain Peirce Fund of $10,000.

The fund was established by gifts of $6,000 and $4,000 by the parents of M. Chamberlain Peirce, of Bangor, as a memorial to their son.

Although he did not attend the University, he was very interested in athletics and coached here.

Some of the income was used to build the tennis courts east of the Gym.

The fund committee appointed by Clifford Patch '11, Chairman of the Athletic Board, includes Charles E. Crossland, chairman; University Trustee John M. O'Connell, Jr., Thomas N. Hersey, alumni member of the Athletic Board; Donald V. Taverner, Alumni Secretary, and Thomas Golden, president of the Athletic Association.

Debate Team Enters Tourney At Vermont

Eight University students will participate in their first debate tournament of the season Friday and Saturday at the University of Vermont.

The topic for the debate will be: "Resolved that the United States extend Diplomatic Recognition to the Communist Government in China." About fifty schools will participate in this tournament.

Maine has entered two complete teams. Speaking for the affirmative will be Joan Williams and Frank Grant on one team and Betty Buzzell and John Lymburner on the other. Taking the negative side for Maine will be Dana Devoe and Henry Colby; Marilyn Graffam and Lester Reid.

This tournament will be a five round debate in which no winners will be announced.

Lecture-Demonstration

Louis P. Shannon, widely known speaker on industrial and chemical developments, will present a lecture-demonstration, "Let's Look at Tomorrow," on campus, Tuesday, Nov. 30.

He will speak to two classes of chemistry and chemical engineering students during the day and to a joint session of the student chapters of the American Chemical Society and the American Institute of Chemical Engineers in the evening.

Shannon will supplement his lecture with displays of chemical developments still in the experimental and evolution stage.

Maintaining headquarters at Wilmington, Del., Shannon is regional manager of the Extension Division of the du Pont Company.

It's Time For A Change

In a letter published a couple of weeks ago, the Elections Committee chairman urged the Campus to stop slamming the committee and confine its comments to "constructive criticism."

Okay, here it is.

We believe the committee should be completely reorganized with members responsible for this year's repeated failures passing on to other things.

As reasons for this advice, we cite previous editorials on the Senate elections and new facts on the class officer elections.

First, a more fouled up ballot has probably never greeted a class than the one presented freshmen, which, aside from misspelled names, had one man running for two offices.

This double office candidate situation was corrected somewhat by the candidate himself who, voting early, saw his name listed twice. The committee then "fixed" the ballot by crossing out the wrong name and writing in a correction—an action which still hurt the impartiality of the ballot. Naturally little could be done about ballots cast earlier.

Unless the committee waited until the night before to print ballots (which we suspect might be the case in view of past operations this year) the errors could easily have been corrected and the ballot reprinted—standard practice in any situation like this.

In another instance, a write-in candidate had his picture displayed on the voting table in full equality with those who took the trouble to go through the formal nominating procedure.

This was neither fair to candidates properly nominated for that office nor to other write-in candidates who were not allowed the luxury of having their pictures before the voters.

There are only a limited number of elections in the school year.

How many of them is this committee to be allowed to botch up before they are bounced by the Senate and replaced by students who can at least read and write?

A Motto Is Needed

Perhaps this is a trivial and out-of-date subject but we feel the University should have a motto.

To the best of our knowledge, no such thing exists for this old Maine institution.

The values of a motto are, granted, debatable, but we would like to hear some opinions on the subject.

For, after all, it seems most similar institutions have flowery tributes to the art of learning which do add a little dignity to the whole outfit.

Perhaps some campus organization might try finding a good one—original or classic, modernistic or archaic.

Anyway, it's an idea.

The Past Returns

We were given a quick trip to the past early this week when we heard Rudy Vallee's new recording of the Stein Song.

It seems that Rudy is still trying for that big comeback and this and the other records in a new album just might give it.

It is interesting that Vallee and the University, a pair which didn't hit it off so well in education, should be so successful together in music.

Varsity Sports Increase

A new campus sport has been uncovered—sliding down the banister going up from the first floor lobby in the library.

Next maybe we might have skip-rope jumping in the reference room.

Bittersweet

It's Raining Mice and Rats

BY BRUCE COURTNEY

This picture is a portrait of one of the lowest forms of life that have invaded this fair campus. Associate him with a friend or an enemy if you like. The fact remains, he is a rat.

A few days ago, in our apartment, we noticed some uninvited visitors. And without saying as much as "How do you do," they started to make themselves right at home. These guests helped themselves to the sugar, the bread and cheese, and even the soap.

What they wanted with the soap we cannot say. Not one of them took a bath with it.

But even some people have a craving for the oddest of food. Why, we even know people that drink campus mud and call it coffee. So we will not say anything of this rodent's liking to soap as a food.

This rat was caught by a young lass with a butcher knife in one hand and a Crisco can in the other. If she could not cut off his head with the knife, she would bail him up in the Crisco can.

Fortunately, or unfortunately if you like, the rat did not lose his head. But he did lose his freedom, for the time being at least. He was caught in the Crisco can.

Having caught this menace to the youth of our society, we then thought of some way to banish it.

There are more rats on this campus. And there will, no doubt, be more rats in the future.

This might well include the rat who swiped our soap, or the rat who swiped the last of your goodies.

Positive action was necessary against this rat. After long thought we decided to censure this rat.

With his livelihood gone he will curl up and fade away like the rat he is.

On Dec. 5 the Good Will Chest campaign for 1954 gets underway. Most of us are familiar with Good Will and what it does—on our own campus, in the nation, and overseas.

We could say many things for Good Will, and this week a letter came to Del Boutin, president of the Board of Governors for this year's drive. We feel that this letter expresses more than we could say.

It's from the principal of an elementary school in Greece, thanking the students and faculty of the University of Maine in a special way for the help Good Will gave his little school last year.

"Dear Sirs:

"Kastelrizon is a small island situated in the southeast part of the Aegean Sea. It is a rocky island with a very arid land. Because it is so far from the other parts of Greece it is near the Middle East.

"It is an heroic island that never ceased to fight for its mother country. It never thought of the human beings that died for the great freedom. When freedom came to the world the little island was still fighting and from everywhere on the island you can hear the same word, 'Freedom.'

"The inhabitants, 600 people, have many troubles, but they never lose their courage and always believe that good days are near to come.

"The little pupils of our school will never forget how much you have helped them with their schooling in the way of food, clothing, shoes, and school supplies. The pupils' happiness brought them happiness too, and helped them to live a better life.

"I cannot describe to you how happy the pupils were when we got a notice from the Athens office of the federation saying that you had renewed our sponsorship for another year.

"From now on all the children, who will be in our school, will learn how helpful you have been to our school and to the pupils who in the future will be our men and women.

"We all wish to thank you for your kind interest in us and we all send our best wishes. Thanks to you the world will be a better place to live in.

The re-birth of the long-dormant pyramid club rage has made its appearance on several eastern college campuses this fall, according to unofficial reports. Most information concerning pyramid clubs is unofficial for the simple reason that the Postmaster General's office takes a dim view of such get-rich-quick schemes.

We didn't get this from our "squirrel," but we know of at least one set of the pyramid letters that got limited circulation on the Maine campus a few weeks back.

The student list is out and those students who were fortunate enough to beg borrow, or steal copies are quite popular this week. It seems that the listings are more popular in the dorms and frats than the Kinsey report.

NOTE OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation to all those who extended their sympathy in so many thoughtful ways.

Cast Announced For Masque's 'Mister Roberts'

The campus dramatic season will come to life again Dec. 8-11 when the Maine Masque Theatre presents "Mister Roberts." The cast of this World War II comedy contains but one female role.

Warner Shedd portrays the role of Mr. Roberts. Others in the cast are: Norman Andrews, Pete Baker, Herb Cohen, Reginald Collins, Howard Danner, Jack Hardy, George Mayo, Stan Milton, Ed McGibbon, Cole Nice, Charlie Norberg, Cally Perkins, Pete Pierson, Mert Robinson, Larry Ronco, Sal Scarpato, Norm Touchette, and George Williams.

Navy Story

"Mister Roberts" is the blistering, yet tender saga of the men on a Navy cargo ship that monotonously plies from one Pacific port to another, thousands of miles away from battle areas. Its chief character is Lieut. (j.g.) Roberts, who is eating his heart out for a combat assignment, but whose captain continually refuses to authorize his transfer to a warship.

Six Bear Gridders On All-Maine Team

The University of Maine, State Series champs for the last two years, placed six men on the official M.I.A.A. All-Maine football team for 1954.

The team was picked Tuesday at a Maine Intercollegiate Athletic Association meeting in Waterville by the coaches of the four State Series teams.

Backs selected were Jim Duffy and Ernie Smart, both of Maine, Bob Martin, Bates, and Don Lake, Colby.

The line included Paul Boucher and Thurlow Cooper, both of Maine, at ends; Lew Clark, Maine, and Steve McCabe, Bowdoin, at tackles; John Dutton, Colby, and Art Cecelski, Bowdoin, at guards; and Jack Small, Maine, at center.

Good Will Chest Captains And Workers To Meet

A kick-off meeting for team captains and workers will open the 1954 Good Will Chest Campaign on Sunday, Dec. 5. Good Will is seeking a $2,500 goal for 15 charities in the only campus-wide drive for funds at the University.

One-half of the funds raised will go directly to the World University Service, the allocations committee has announced.

The program of World University Service, which does not appeal to the general public for funds, is almost entirely financed by student gifts.

American contributions are sent overseas to finance projects in W.U.S.

international program. Last year these gifts helped to build student dormitories in Seoul, Jerusalem, Cairo and Delhi. Thousands of students at these university centers lack suitable accommodations which the university is often unable to provide.

Gifts to W.U.S. in 1953-54 also enabled students at university centers throughout India and Pakistan to establish hitherto-unknown health services making it possible for students in these under-developed areas to obtain a free physical examination and some medical care.

$2 will pay for a day's care at the WUS International Rest Center in Combloux, France. Do your part through Good Will.

Union Conference

The sixth annual New England Regional Conference of the Association of College Unions will be held here Dec. 10-12. Peggy Daigle is the conference chairman.

The theme of the conference is the 3 P's which stand for "Personnel, Publicity, and Program." Twelve panel sessions will be held centering around these topics, the Committee said.

Thirty New England unions have been invited to the conference which both student and faculty members will attend.

Prof. Hilda Fife of the English Department attended a meeting of the New England College English Association Saturday, Oct. 30, at Babson Institute, Babson Park, Mass. Dr. Fife, who is a director of the association, presided at a discussion group on Jonathan Swift and Satire.

Bangor Radio Program Salutes Sophomore Eagle Group Sunday

Dignity . . . friendliness . . . dependability . . . character . . . scholarship . . .

Each of these five qualities is represented by a point on the blue stars worn by members of the Sophomore Eagle society.

It is on the basis of these five qualities that women are selected to the sophomore honor society.

Founded in 1926 by the All Maine Women, the Eagles choose their successors from co-eds in the freshman class. It is the duty of the members to acquaint the incoming freshmen with the campus and University traditions.

They serve as "big sisters" to the newcomers and they try to make the campus look less terrifying to the freshman women during the first few weeks of college.

This Sunday at 3 p.m., four members of the Eagles will represent the society on the Maine Campus-WGUY radio program "Bangor Bandstand Salutes the University of Maine."

Art Exhibit Shows Work Of Lithuanian

Fifty drawings, paintings, and graphic arts by the outstanding Lithuanian artist, Vytautas Jonynas, will be exhibited at Carnegie Hall until the end of November.

The exhibition, arranged by Professor Vincent A. Hartgen, is being shown in the print room.

Born in Lithuania in 1907, he graduated from National Art College in 1927. After further study in Paris, he returned to teach graphic arts and wood sculpture at the art college. Later he was appointed director of the college. In 1936 he became head of the public service for the protection of art memorials.

At the 1937 Paris World Exhibition Jonynas was awarded two gold medals for his woodcuts and posters. He was also honored for his furniture designs. At the same time he was made an officer of the Legion of Honor.

In 1940 he received the Lithuanian National Prize for his illustrations of "The Seasons."

He founded the Freiburg Foreign Artists' Institute of Fine Arts in 1946. In 1950-51 he was art consultant to the French High Commission in Germany. He came to America in 1951 and is now instructor at the Catán Rose Institute of Fine Arts, Jamaica, N. Y.

Their future is our future. You can support 15 charities through giving to Good Will.

DeVette Faces Rebuilding Of Blue Five

New Hampshire Takes Fourth Yankee Crown

For the fourth time in the eight year history of the Yankee Conference, the University of New Hampshire has taken the title with an unblemished 4-0 record.

The Wildcats also have tied for the crown once, with Rhode Island last season.

New Hampshire led by quarterback Billy Pappas clinched the crown two weeks ago, roaring to a 32-12 victory over the University of Massachusetts to complete their unbeaten Conference slate.

Win Seven Games

The Wildcats from Durham ended their 1954 football campaign with an overall 7-1 record last Saturday with a smashing 48-0 triumph over Springfield College.

The University of Rhode Island finished second with a 3-1 ledger with their only loss a 33-7 setback by the league champions.

Final Standings

	Won	Lost	Pct.
New Hampshire	4	0	1.000
Rhode Island	3	1	.750
Maine	2	2	.500
Vermont	1	1	.500
Massachusetts	1	3	.333
Connecticut	0	4	.000

The University of Maine Black Bears with an even 2-2 record ended in a third place tie with Vermont.

Also in third position was the University of Vermont, who could not qualify for the title anyway this season because of their light conference slate. The Catamounts had a 1-1 record. Incidentally, Vermont won their first Conference game in three years when they nipped Massachusetts 27-25.

Redmen Collect One Win

Massachusetts, for the first time playing enough Conference games to qualify for top honors, presented a weak 1-3 record, finishing fifth. The Redmen's only victory came at the expense of last place Connecticut.

In a very unfamiliar position was the University of Connecticut, who finished last for the first time in Conference history with a dismal 0-4 card.

Intramurals Open Hoop Season Nov. 17

The 1954-55 intramural basketball season will open Wednesday, Nov. 17, at 7 p.m., according to league head Sam Szek.

A pair of dormitory games will start the campaign which will continue through March 21. North Dorm 5 will face a combination team of North Dorm 6 and 7, and North Dorm 4 will play the "Free Loaders."

Frat Division Underway Nov. 22

The fraternity division will begin their slate on November 22, when TKE battles ATO and Tau Ep takes on Phi Gamma Delta.

The leagues will be divided into two dormitory divisions, the American and National league, and a fraternity division.

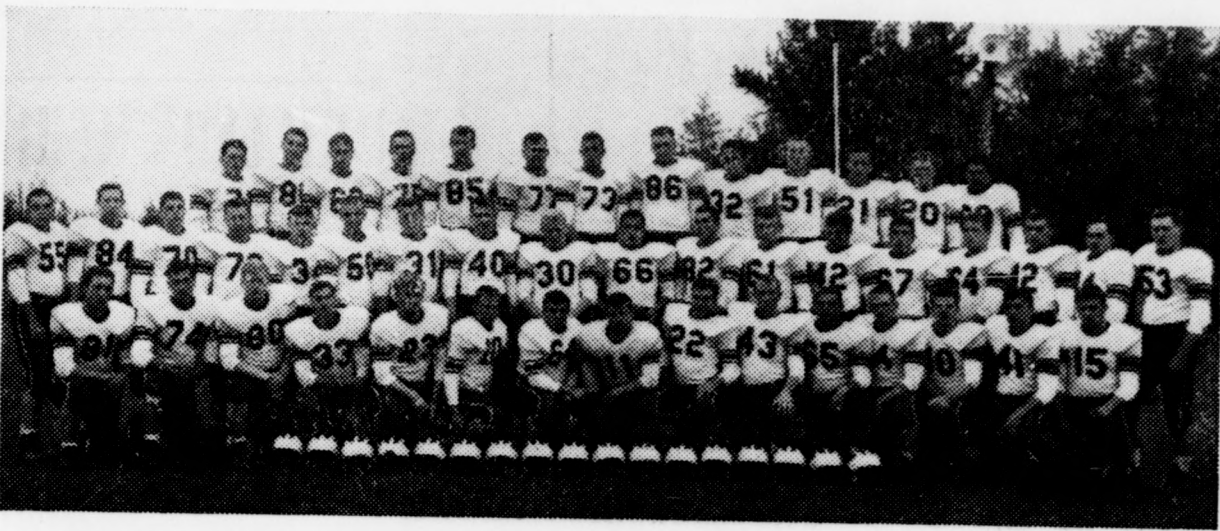

The American league will consist of: Dunn 1-4, South Apartments, Oak Hall, the Newman Club, "Twagies," the Cabins, and Ocummo.

National League

In the National league will be: North Dorm 4, North Dorm 5, North Dorm 6 & 7, North Dorm 7 & 8, Corbett 1-4, the "Free Loaders" and Hannibal.

All seventeen fraternities will be represented in their league.

The winner of the American league will play the champions in the National circuit for the dormitory championship. The winner of this contest will meet the leader in the fraternity league for the campus championship.

Bear Facts

Maine Needs More Football

BY PAUL FERRIGNO

Last Saturday's brilliant sun and pleasantly cool weather made us a bit homesick for a good football game. So, we took the only remedy available, switched on our radio, lay down and stared through an open window at the beautiful Fall day.

Scattered among most of our thoughts and popping up once too frequently was the question, "Why couldn't the University of Maine be playing today?" Consequently, still other doubts entered our inquisitive mind, and among the strongest sensations lingered, "Why isn't the University of Maine playing more games?"

With these dubious questions in mind we sat down to scratch out this article, supporting an extension of our football schedule in the near future.

Through our observations during the past few years and from discussions with various representatives of both the faculty and student body, we found that our conclusion is not without support. There are many persons including some top athletic officials in this school, who are highly in favor of this idea.

Also, it has been the speculation that a very strong majority of University students would look with jubilation upon a larger schedule. However, we do not want to advocate a switch to "big time" football, by scheduling the top football powers in the nation and enlarging our Alumni Field to seat 50,000 fans.

All we would like to see would be another game added to our thin seven game slate. Probably the most logical choice would be a contest with the University of Massachusetts, the only Yankee Conference team not on our present schedule.

The Yankee Conference is rapidly growing into one of the better leagues in the country, and anything we can do to strengthen relations with it would be to our advantage.

Maybe, if Maine would make the first attempt toward playing five Conference games, something not accomplished by any team since the league began, we would set an example for the other schools to follow.

If this would come about, the Yankee Conference would then consolidate into an air tight circuit and create even more rivalry.

In the near future Conference games can become just as important to Maine rooters and team alike as any State Series contest.

This would not only make for greater Maine school spirit and better relationship with Yankee Conference schools, but there undoubtedly would be a rise in attendance at these games.

The lone serious argument against our idea is the weather factor. However, from our observations, we feel an investigation of the matter will show that football can be played at Orono up until almost two weeks after the close of our present regular season.

Another strong dissension has been the tradition that the State Series is a fine climax to the season. But, what would be so bad about a finale which saw the Black Bears seeking to capture the Yankee Conference title?

The rest of the Conference teams, other than Maine and Vermont, play eight or more games with Connecticut the only team playing a nine game schedule. Let's get on that Yankee Conference bandwagon.

We are making a final plea to the proper authorities to heed our request and to give the Maine students what they rightly deserve—more football.

BANQUET

Faculty Manager Ted Curtis announced that the Annual Fall Awards Banquet will be held Thursday evening, Dec. 2, at 6:30 in the New Cafeteria. All players who have completed the season for either the varsity or freshman football and cross country teams, as well as the coaches, trainers and managers, are invited to attend.

Within The Walls

Fraternity champions Phi Mu Delta, led by Gerry Wright, once again swept to the campus championship by blanketing North Dorms 6 and 7 8-0, last Sunday afternoon.

Wright, who has been brilliant for the Phi Mu's all season, figured in two of his team's three scores. In the opening stanza, Wright hit end Don Arsenault for the first counter, which gave them a 6-0 lead at the end of the first half.

Then, in the third quarter, Wright passed to halfback Red Jones who made a sensational falling catch in the end zone for the score that killed the gallant dorm team's hopes.

The final Phi Mu score came as a result of an intercepted pass by Don Krandlemire, who skirted into the end zone to ice the contest.

Firlotte 17th In IC4A Meet

Maine's Paul Firlotte finished 17th in the annual IC4AAA cross country meet held at Van Cortland Park in New York City last Monday. Firlotte was only 1:00.6 behind leader George Terry of Boston University who toured the course in 24:36.4, just five seconds off the record. The "Ellsworth Flash's" time for the five mile grind was clocked at 25:37.

Terry was brilliant as he showed his superiority after the initial mile. Oddly enough, within a mile from the finish, Terry, who was well out in front, lost his way and had to wait for the field to show him the way home. With George King of N. Y. U. as the guide Terry found the way to the tape beating his obliging second place rival by 40 yards.

The Junior "Sparks" captured the 1954 hockey championship last week as they compiled a record of five victories and one tie. Congratulations, girls! You certainly had plenty of vim and vigor while on the hockey field. Second place went to the sophomores, and the freshmen took third.

This week end the M.A.F.C.W. Conference will be held here, with Anita Ramsdell acting as chairman.

The Tumbling Club meets every Thursday evening in the Women's Gymnasium and all girls who are interested in learning and developing their skills are invited to attend. In a recent election Anita Ramsdell was elected president, Judy Height, secretary and Barb Moore, treasurer.

Team Hopes Depend On Tall Sophs

BY PAUL FERRIGNO

New head basketball coach Russell "Russ" DeVette has his work cut out for him as he prepares his 16 man squad for the Dec. 4 opener with Vermont at Memorial Gymnasium.

DeVette, ex-Hope College and Michigan University graduate in his first year at Maine, will be faced with the job of almost completely rebuilding the Black Bear quintet.

Assisting coach DeVette this season will be Larry Mahaney, former Maine basketball star who is presently taking graduate work at the University. Mahaney also assisted "Doc" Rankin throughout last year's campaign.

Presented with a mere six returning veterans, the young director will have to rely on a crop of sophomores.

Returning from last year's ball club, which held a meagre 6-12 record, are Don Arnold, John Dana, Bert Daniels, Gus Folsom, Ken Hendrickson and Mike Polese.

However, lost from last year's team are Bob Nixon, who graduated in June, and Tom Seavey and Keith Mahaney, both of whom are now serving in the armed forces.

Top Scorers Lost

All three men were among the top scorers on the squad last season. Seavey had an 11.7 average, Nixon hit for 15.4 points per game and Mahaney, who left the squad at mid-year, led the team with a 22.7 average.

Regarding this year's team, DeVette has not had a good chance to judge the playing ability as the members are still running through the fundamentals.

The squad, which is better off in the way of altitude as compared to last season's club, has for its tall men, Ken Hendrickson and Sterling Huston at 6' 5", Frank Smith and Thurlow Cooper at 6' 2" and Bobo Martin, who ranges around 6' 1".

Tall Men Need Work

But DeVette said these big men need a lot of work if they are going to help the ball club. He also noted that if these men didn't work out that the team would be in a bad way.

When asked about his style as opposed to last season's set offense, piloted by the now retired Rome Rankin, DeVette said, "We're going to run. Really run."

"We will employ our fast break as the primary offense," continued DeVette. "Since we don't have height, we'll get the best out of our speed," finished the Maine mentor.

The rest of the squad working for starting berths includes Blaine Trafton, a veteran of the 50-51 campaign, Richard Alin, Charles Cameron, Bobby Jones, Mike Latti and Pete Kostacopoulos.

Society: WSGA Tea In Social Spotlight

BY BEVE FOWLIE

A student-faculty tea, sponsored by the Women's Student Government Association, was held in the main lounge of the Memorial Union Sunday. Pouring were Ellen Pfeiffer, Jean Eastman, Marilyn Tarr, Muriel Verrill, Priscilla Burton, Jane Dudley, and Mary Litchfield.

Members of Sigma Nu were hosts at a Sunday afternoon tea at the chapter house for the members of Pi Beta Phi. Pouring at the affair were Cyrus Wentworth, Gordon Smith, and Daniel Mahoney. The speaker for the afternoon was J. Edward Cayford, director of International Underseas Services. His topic was "Marine Architectural Arts." Toastmaster was Louis Agnello. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. Robert V. Supple.

Alpha Omicron Pi sponsored a tea for the art exhibit at Carnegie Sunday afternoon. On display were oil and watercolor paintings of Carl Sprinchorn and graphics, drawings, and watercolors of Vyutas Jonynas. Judy Sawyer, assisted by Julia Mahoney and Shirley Kirk were in charge of the affair.

The members of Delta Delta Delta collegiate and alliance chapters held a joint meeting in celebration of their National Founders Day in the chapter room at Chadbourne Hall Monday evening. A Skit was presented by Marge Mealey, Patricia Kearny, Jane Barker, Marilyn Pennell, and Laura Little. Short speeches were given by Eleanor Turner, Kathleen Black and Joan Geddy. Marjorie Mealey was in charge of the party.

Prof. and Mrs. Cecil J. Reynolds, Anne Rubin, Frances Dresser, and Judy DeMerchant were the guests of Tau Epsilon Phi at a dinner-discussion meeting Tuesday.

Friday evening Sigma Nu held a Big Brother Party under the theme "Siberian Soiree." Costumes were appropriately picked in "Russian Red." During the evening a comical skit was presented by the fraternity pledges under the direction of Roger Metzger. Jay Boomer was in charge of arrangements. Chaperons were Sgt. and Mrs. Earl Eastwood and Sgt. and Mrs. Boyce C. Woodman.

Tau Epsilon Phi held an informal gathering on Saturday evening. In charge of the gathering was Henry Goldman. Chaperons were Capt. and Mrs. Otis H. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Bayard.

Dr. Smith To Speak To Education Group

Dr. Payson Smith, professor emeritus of the School of Education, will speak before the Dec. 2 meeting of the Education Club, it was announced this week. The meeting will be held at 7 p.m. in the Union Building.

Dr. Smith is regarded by many as the leading educator in the state of Maine. Dr. Smith entered the teaching profession in 1897, and he was the Maine State Superintendent of Schools from 1909 to 1916. He served as Massachusetts State Commissioner of Education from 1916 to 1935. Between 1935 and 1940, he was a faculty member of Harvard Graduate School. Dr. Smith was a professor of education at Maine until his retirement in 1951.
