The wintry weather we've been getting lately seems to go unnoticed by Dr. Kenneth Nielsen of the Agronomy Department as he inspects these snapdragons in the horticulture greenhouse. The greenery and brightly colored flowers in the hothouses provides a striking contrast to the white snow outside.

IFC Rejects Quota Change Proposed At Last Meeting

BY JOE RIGO

The Interfraternity Council has rejected a plan to, in the words of its sponsor, "ease the annual fall problem of finding room in the houses for all the pledges."

Richard Herlin, Phi Kappa Sigma, proposed the 20 per cent safety factor allowed each house over the number of vacancies expected for the next year should be assigned to the outside member quota.

Cites Case

Herlin, citing the case with his fraternity, said that while it had a quota of 16 men, there would be room in the fall for only eight to live in the house.

Herlin said this problem was common to most houses.

This last statement was denied by several IFC members who said most houses had no trouble finding room for all their pledges each fall.

Fraternities' Worry

Three members suggested that if a house knew it would have room for only a portion of its quota it was up to that house to pledge only that number if it did not want to have to worry about having too many men in the fall.

Herlin agreed that this was fine in theory but that few houses could pledge just that number then pass up a man they really wanted while there was still room in the quota.

Campus Positions Open

Applications are now being received for the positions of editor and business manager of The Maine Campus for next year.

Applications must be sent to the Student-Faculty Committee on Publications, 2 Fernald Hall.

The vote against the change was unanimous.

In regard to rushing, there were no reports of violations of any rushing rules by either fraternities or freshmen.

Students In India Topic At Brotherhood Meeting

BY JOHN DONAHUE

To be a college student in India is a mark of distinction, said Dr. Balkrishna G. Gokhale, guest speaker at the annual Brotherhood Week banquet Tuesday evening.

Speaking on the topic, "Students of India today as compared to American students," Dr. Gokhale went on to explain that of India's population of over 300 million only about 373,000 students are enrolled in schools of higher education.

Contrasting the Indian system to that in this country, Dr. Gokhale explained that since there are few dormitories in India, his homeland, most of the students live at home.

Because of this, the students' personality and study habits are likely to change from time to time, the professor said, while in America the condition doesn't exist to such an extent.

son and Rev. and Mrs. Richard Batchelder.

Brotherhood Week began Sunday with a panel discussion by the International Club where several foreign students spoke on their homelands and customs.

Tuesday afternoon the International Club held a tea in honor of the guest speaker.

Student Government Political

According to Dr. Gokhale, the student government organizations and elections are quite political and partisan. These political orders help a student break into national politics, he said.

Dr. Gokhale concluded his speech by telling how eager the students of India are to accept foreign students and that through this medium, they are furthering the cause of world brotherhood.

Dr. Gokhale is a native of Bombay, India. A professor of history and Indian culture at Siddharth College in Bombay, he is a visiting lecturer on Indian history at Bowdoin College this year.

Pres. Hauck Speaks

The Brotherhood Banquet climaxed the University's Brotherhood Week program. Following the dinner Pres. Arthur A. Hauck delivered a short introductory speech. Cornelia Douglass, chairman of the Brotherhood Week committee, introduced the speaker.

Included among the guests were Pres. and Mrs. Hauck, Dean and Mrs. John E. Stewart, Dean Edith G. Wil-

'Town Meeting' To Be Held Here

A "Town Meeting" will be held on campus Tuesday, March 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the Louis Oakes Room, Library.

The event is sponsored by the Politics and International Relations Club. Participants will discuss "what action the United States should take in the Far East."

The club drafted and sent out warrants announcing the meeting early this week.

Prof. Herbert H. Wood of the History and Government Department will serve as moderator at the meeting. Participants in the discussion will be Prof. John J. Nolde of history and government, who spent a year in the Far East under a Fulbright Scholarship; Richard B. Myer, senior government major; Chuen-Fa Hung, graduate student from Formosa; and Dr. Wilmarth H. Starr, head of the Department of Foreign Languages and Classics.

Following the discussion, audience questions will be answered.

Hauck Asks ROTC Revision

Pres. Arthur A. Hauck asked a Senate subcommittee last week to write into a proposed universal military training bill a provision specifying that four years' scholastic training in the Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) is equal to six months' active duty.

Hauck, representing the Association of Land-Grant Colleges, said if such a provision was not included in a U.M.T. bill that the ROTC would lose ground as a primary source for young reserve officers.

NIB Tourney To Be Played Next Week

The 1955 National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament will be held in the Union Building Wednesday, March 16, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m.

It will not be necessary to register beforehand in order to compete in the tourney, the committee said. However, in order for Maine to enter the intercollegiate competition, at least 16 must play.

The tournament is an annual contest in duplicate contract bridge in which men and women undergraduates of leading colleges and universities throughout the country compete. National and campus championship titles and trophies are awarded by the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee.

Now in its ninth year, it is one of the few contests in which both men and women compete on an equal basis.

All competing colleges play a set of 16 hands. These hands are prepared and scored by Geoffrey Mott-Smith, a nationally recognized authority on contract bridge.

Matters of policy and tournament detail are decided by the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee.

The first entrance requirement is the approval of the dean, union director, or other administrative official.

A plaque designed to bear the names of the four individual campus champions will be presented to each college entering the tournament for the first time. Each of the campus winners will receive a certificate suitable for framing.

University Senior Brad Payne's New Song 'Sons of Maine' Wins Instant Acclaim

BY JOHN LITTLEFIELD

To our Alma Mater join we now in song,
May our lives fulfill the goal of Maine men strong.
That in all we do, to our motto true,
Dirigo our claim—Sons of Maine, dear Maine.

That's the first stanza of "Sons of Maine," the latest addition to the long list of songs honoring this University and its students. Here are the remaining two verses:

As the fading shadows fall through lordly pine,
So our years at Maine, but memories soon shall shine.
Yet with strength anew, challenge we pursue—
While the new born light guides us to our goal.

In the silent wonders of a starlit sky,

Let our thoughts with reverence turn to those who've died,
So our flag may fly, rise, freedom o'er us lies—
Learning dwells secure in thy halls, dear Maine.

Written by Bradford Payne, a 22-year-old senior government major from Lincolnville, the song has been an instant hit in its limited presentations by the Varsity Singers.

In fact, "Sons of Maine," a song written especially for the Varsity Singers, has been sung only four times in public.

Sung First At Colby

It was first sung at Colby College's Winter Carnival last month.

The Varsity Singers, a group of 16 selected male vocalists, were representing Maine at a song fest which was part of the Colby program. They decided, after hearing the other college groups sing, that they had better include a college song as part of their selections, as had the other singers.

The first thought, quite naturally, was "The Maine Stein Song," but as there wasn't a satisfactory harmony arrangement available, the boys decided to give Payne's "Sons of Maine" its debut.

"It went over very well," said Payne, a member of the Varsity Singers himself. "In fact, I was very surprised at the wonderful response which the song received there and in its other presentations," he added.

First Songwriting Try

This is the first song writing venture which Brad has ever attempted and probably, according to him, will be his last.

He began writing the song last November in answer to a challenge tossed out by Charles Fassett, student director of the Varsity Singers. Fassett asked the members of the group at the beginning of the year to write suitable words which could be used by the organization for "Proudly as an Eagle," a song which has been used as a theme by the Singers since their start in 1948.

Fraternity Costs Are Low

BY CHUCK BRETT
A recent study on fraternity costs as conducted jointly by the Interfraternity Council and Council of Chapter Advisors has found that the cost of joining a fraternity and living in a fraternity house at Maine is remarkably low.

The study was based on the total cost of operating and maintaining each fraternity which has a house at the University for a full year and computing on an average of thirty-eight men in the fraternity house.

Average Cost Same
The survey points out that the average cost per student living in one of the fraternity houses at Maine is $614.09 for the full academic year.

This figure compares favorably with the dormitory cost on campus of $550 for the same period when one considers that the average of $614 per fraternity resident includes all the fraternity social, athletic, and house activities. Recognizing that the University keeps dormitory charges to a minimum, the small difference between the dorm charge and the average frat cost indicates that Maine fraternities are operating in a modest and business-like manner.

Another impressive fact revealed by the survey is that the average fraternity house at Maine handled $24,035 during the academic year. This sum is gathered and administered by the student fraternity men, with major budget decisions being made by members in "House Meetings."

Wages Average $100

Wages paid weekly in fraternity houses averaged $108.37, with these wages paid to the chef, housemother, steward, maid, treasurer, house manager and dishwasher.

Four of these seven "employees" are student members of the house. Of the average $108.37 weekly payroll, $22.73 is paid to student workers and is normally applied to their house bills. The survey showed that the average fraternity has 38 members living in the house and 16 non-resident members. When it is considered that the average cost per year of $614 to the fraternity man includes the cost of major repairs and alterations of the fraternity house, Maine can be proud of the fine job of administration and group living being done by University of Maine fraternity men.

Issued Regularly

The fraternity Cost Survey Report is issued every two years and the present report is the fourth one to be issued.

Dr. George Dow initiated the Cost Survey Report at a council meeting in 1948. The purpose of the report is to help each fraternity to judge their cost per man and discover what expenses are out of line.

The Council provided data to the fraternity advisors and the active chapters as to the highest cost per item, lowest, and average cost. Costs of a specific house were not released. The fraternities cooperated fully with the survey. Treasurers of each fraternity submitted a report of annual house expenses and on the basis of these accounts the committee made the computations of costs.

Dr. Dow made this statement: "I feel that this survey is one of the most valuable contributions to the efficiency in the operations of a fraternity house. For example, the survey makes available to each house its food cost per man as compared with the average and the most efficient and the least efficient. This makes it possible for the fraternity to work with its chef in adjusting costs to whatever level of living the members of the fraternity may desire."

Don Taverner, Alumni Secretary, says "The Cost Survey Report dispels the idea that frats are for the privileged few. The costs are extremely reasonable. There are many boys who are active members of fraternities in spite of moderate or limited finances. Both the students and the University can be proud of the fraternity system here at Maine."

Society: Sorority Pledges Are Honored With Formals

BY BEVE FOWLIE

And so the tables turned! This week end the ladies invited the gentlemen. The girls asked the boys. The weaker sex sought out the stronger. And we all went to pledge formal!

The Sigma Chi House turned into a rose garden. The members of Alpha Omicron Pi performed this miracle with a wishing well, a crystal ball, a rose trellis, and evergreen and rose-covered Greek letters. To further the enjoyment of the garden party, Jimmy Havers and his orchestra made the music for dancing.

Intermission time saw the pledges wearing sorority crowns and receiving red and white nosegays. Guests of the evening were Prof. and Mrs. David W. Trafford, Mrs. George C. Wells, and Prof. and Mrs. E. Reeve Hitchner. Jane Caton was in charge of the dance.

The Chi Omega formal, held at Kappa Sigma, was a scene from Venice—Skyline as viewed from a canal gondola. The entertainment, written by Ellen Hay and directed by Patricia Gill, was held in "Gay Venetian Cafe"—a meeting place for celebrities of our current world.

Ernest Hemingway spent part of the evening there working on the sequel to his novel, "Old Man of the Sea." The sequel was entitled "Old Woman of the Canal." The skit drew to a grand climax with the "Italian Street Song," featuring Patricia Gill. Mel Tukey and his orchestra enclosed in a Venetian gondola provided the music for dancing.

Chaperons were Prof. and Mrs. Herschel L. Bricker and Mrs. May Hamilton. General chairman of the dance was Nancy McGouldrick.

Spring comes in like a lion and goes out like a lamb. That's what they say, isn't it? Although the signs of spring still seem to be pretty well-hidden by a great white blanket, Delta Delta used this old proverb as the theme of their formal dance at Delta Tau Delta.

Members and their guests entered through a pledge pin of green fir bows at the door of the house. A ceremony held at intermission found the pledges of the group presented with silver Delta crowns and corsages in honor of their new pledge.

This ceremony was conducted by Laura Little, Joan Mason, and the sorority mothers of the pledges. Sammy Saliba and his "plaid-jacket" crew and soloist provided music for the evening.

Guests of the evening were Dean and Mrs. Ashley S. Campbell, Dean and Mrs. Winthrop C. Libby, Dean and Mrs. Joseph M. Murray, Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. York, and Mrs. Marion Barron. The dance committee were Helen Mangan, Joan Gaddy, Sally Gay, and Marilyn Pennell.

Starlight and roses made the dancing atmosphere a romantic one at Delta Zeta formal held at Theta Chi. A turquoise-blue sky, sparkling with silvery stars, a rose arbor and trellis surrounding a garden pool, made it a night to remember. Bob Brochu and his orchestra provided the music for dancing.

Betty Tucker, president, attended by her court, was crowned "Dream Girl of Delta Zeta." Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas W. Wylie, Prof. and Mrs. Robert B. Rhoads, and Mrs. Nora Silsby. The members of Theta Chi and their dates were invited to attend. Chairman of the dance committee was Diana Eslin.

Members of Pi Beta Phi and guests went to Pi Phi Heaven. Their pledge formal, held at the Phi Gamma Delta house, was based on this unique theme. A star-lit ceiling and castles on clouds gave reality to the whole idea.

Angels around the room depicting each pledge were quite noticeable, and to take care of all worries about getting to heaven the Phi Phis thoughtfully provided stairways!

During the evening the pledges were introduced and presented colonial bouquets with wine-colored carnations, the sorority flower. Bob Jones and his Bobcats sent down their music "from above."

Guests of the evening were Prof. and Mrs. Horace F. Quick, Prof. and Mrs. William Sezak, Mr. and Mrs. David Boutilier, and Mrs. Martha Tate. The dance committee included Joann Hanson, Joan Williams, Ellen Griffee, Zira Scheer, and Lois Pratt.

The "Wearin' o' the Green" came just about right for Phi Mu pledge formal this year. Their Saint Patrick's Day at the Phi Mu Delta House was really something to remember.

With green, pink, and white streamers and lattice work, shamrocks, and black hats, it looked as if old Saint Pat himself had been there. At the pledge ceremony Penelope Banks presented the new initiates and pledges with colonial bouquets. Sylvia Thompson was crowned Pledge Queen. Mel Tukey's music added to the dance atmosphere.

Guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Doten, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lord, and Mrs. Perry, Phi Mu Delta housemother.

Phi Mu held its annual Founders Day Banquet at the Tarratine Club in Bangor on March 4. Co-chairmen were Barbara Dow and Mary Mincher. Mrs. George E. Lord showed slides on her trip to Europe. Marilyn Wood was toastmistress; Suzanne Haddrell, pledge speaker. Other program speakers were Patricia Twomey, retiring president, and Penelope Banks, new president. The scholarship necklace was awarded to Alice Creighton.

Pinned: Howard Alden, Sigma Phi Epsilon, to Elva Brackett; Richard Bangs, Lambda Chi Alpha, to Gloria Thorpe.

Married: Geraldine Judkins to Duncan Cameron; Audrey Koritsky to Dino Galiano, Theta Chi. Pinned: Malcolm Knapp, Tau Kappa Epsilon, to Carol Ann Jones; Peter Bither, Sigma Chi, to Eloise Pelletier.

Married: Patricia Lufkin to James Bradley, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

Watch Those Cards

Upon entering the University the importance of signing their own sign-in-and-out cards is impressed on women students.

Two weeks ago this rule was broken, and, under more unfortunate circumstances, the incident could have been more serious than it was.

Thinking she was saving a friend from receiving a demerit, a co-ed signed her in. Inadvertently, however, she signed the wrong card.

This incident is an example of what can result from a situation that occurs daily in every women's dormitory.

The co-eds are reminded to take care of their own sign-in-and-out cards, for a demerit is much less serious than hours of anxiety which may result from a "helping hand."

Money Information Needed

Each year about this time the Social Affairs Committee begins thinking about assigning dates for next fall's stag dances.

There are invariably numerous requests, particularly for the preferential period, week ends between opening of school and Homecoming when dances, especially on Friday, are practically guaranteed to make money.

Too often this committee has to decide on applications solely on whether an organization had a dance in the preferential period the previous year.

To give the committee a better basis for its decisions, it should require with each application an explanation of just what would be done with any dance profits.

Too often a club decides it would be nice to have a dance and get a little extra money with very little idea in mind of how that money would be used.

Whether the group had a dance the previous year should be subordinate to the need of the group for the money and, in some cases, the resulting value to the campus as a whole of an organization having more money to work with.

Who's Got The Ping-Pong?

Several weeks ago a ping-pong table disappeared from Oak Hall.

It has never been reported seen since.

This strikes us as a little ridiculous. After all, a ping-pong table isn't the easiest thing to walk off with, let alone hide.

Strangest thing is that neither the University nor dorm residents seem interested enough in the matter to try very hard to get it back.

This may seem a bit petty, but, after all, the University did spend money for its purchase and maintenance.

Bittersweet

There's Been Changes

By BRUCE COURTNEY

Much publicity has been given to the week of school that was sliced off the spring semester. The reason for one less week of school is fairly obvious and quite reasonable.

This cutting a week off the semester has given rise, in some quarters, to a rumor, that the next step will be of classes beginning earlier in September and ending in May.

The cutting out of the Thanksgiving holiday and a one-week Christmas vacation seems also to be included in the rumor. It is only a rumor.

The Calendar Planning Committee has looked over more than these changes but it seems hardly practical to put a plan like this into effect.

While looking over the calendar for the next school year, we came upon a couple of interesting facts.

There will be no regular scheduled Reading Day before finals. The fall semester will end on Saturday. Finals will start on Monday.

This loss of a day off in the middle of a week is more than made up by the fact that there will be more time off after finals than there has been in the past.

College Editors Polled

By ASSOCIATED COLLEGIATE PRESS

MINNEAPOLIS—(ACP)—College and university editors responding to an informal poll overwhelmingly favored admission of Russian student editors on a visit to the United States.

On the question of admission of Red China to the United Nations, the editors voted 38 to 29 against admission.

President Eisenhower's plan to evacuate Nationalist China's troops and civilians from the Tachen islands was approved by 49 editors, although 10 added that "such a plan was dangerous and might lead to war with Red China."

Sixty-seven editors from 30 states responded to the poll, about 10 per cent of member editors to whom the questionnaire was sent, according to Arthur M. Sanderson, ACP assistant director and Feature Service editor.

Some respondents who favor admission of Russian editors urged caution. Editorials released in a previous issue of the ACP Feature Service "raise some doubt as to whether the editors are actually students.

On the other hand, a Mississippi editor says, "Let's get together and talk it over; we might find out we like one another."

We believe this extra time between semesters is a decided improvement. Oftentimes the student goes into a continuing class after the mid-year break not knowing his previous semester grade.

Then too there is the fact that more students will be able to go home for the few days after finals. For there are those that will need to recuperate after such an ordeal.

The school calendar needs to be planned and even printed far in advance. Over-night changes are not made often.

We all understand that summer jobs are somewhat limited in number. In most cases the one to get there first with the mostest gets the job.

But it can also work the other way. Some businesses like employees to work until after Labor Day.

When these two ends of summer employment are coupled with the fact that over 75 per cent of students at Maine need that summer employment, a problem arises.

The administration has had the foresight to end school as early as possible in June and begin in September after Labor Day.

On the question of admitting Red China to the United Nations, a Massachusetts editor says that "the issue is presently befuddled by moral issues; the question is much simpler than it is described.

"There is no other logical course," says an editor of a Midwest daily.

"Red China has not yet met the qualifications required to become a U.N. member," says a District of Columbia editor.

Campus Pegler Still In Action

To the Editor:

Every year the Maine Campus seems to have a "junior" Westbrook Pegler on it. We lost one of the masters through graduation last June.

I have been reading about myself all year. I think it is time to set a few people straight on a few subjects including Mr. Courtney. First of all, in reference to the Senate election for senator, the election committee went around South Apts. and left notices in all the mail boxes.

Now, I'm wondering why Mr. Courtney didn't get his notice. Was the rat hungry that day? After Courtney found out what was going on, why didn't he run for the Senate?

Another item: The Constitution of the Senate states that the off-campus organizations shall have their representatives. It does not specify men or women.

The men's organization, at present, is inactive. Is there any reason why the senators should not be from the women's organization?

Suggestions to the editor: Make Mr. Courtney more responsible for his statements.

University Senior's Song Wins Instant Acclaim

Payne summed up the development and first use of his song in a few words.

"I just happened to be fooling around one night and wrote all three stanzas. The fellows liked it and so we decided to use it."

"A Brain Storm"

He went on to say that he "wrote one line and that just led to another and so on to the end." The whole process was, in his words, "a brain storm."

Although the task of writing the song was comparatively easy, Payne has had his moments of worry in regard to it. A seemingly unsurmountable obstacle in regard to the song's use popped up shortly after it was finished.

An editorial in the Campus calling for a University motto was the cause of worry. Payne, who believes that "Dirigo," the motto of the State of Maine, should suffice as the University's motto, also had included that in his song. But when suddenly the suggestion for another motto appeared he thought sure that that was the end of "Sons of Maine."

Perhaps it isn't too unusual that Brad should suddenly turn song writer. He's pretty much surrounded by music. In addition to singing with the Varsity Singers he is a member of the University Glee Club and for the past two years has sung with the Madrigal Singers. Payne is also a member of Mu Alpha Epsilon, the honorary music society.

Music also runs in the family to some extent. Mrs. Payne, his mother, plays the piano and his grandfather once sang professionally in a Boston quartet.

A Campus-to-Career Case History

He figures for the future

It's James Kirchoff's job to look ahead. As a Plant Engineer with Illinois Bell Telephone Company, he helps estimate telephone equipment needs years in advance.

For example...when a new real estate development is in the planning stage, Jim figures how much telephone equipment it will need when it reaches its full growth. His estimate is based on his knowledge of the equipment's potential plus forecasts provided him of the area's rate of development. He then makes a complete report that becomes the basis of plans for the future.

Jim can take a look at his own future, too. In telephone engineering he can see a great many opportunities opening up in the next five years... ten years. He can pick the one he wants and start working toward it.

Jim graduated from Northwestern University as an E.E., class of 1952. His progress since then is typical of college men who have chosen telephone careers. If you'd be interested in a similar opportunity, see your Placement Officer for full details. There are also openings with other Bell telephone companies, with Bell Telephone Laboratories, or Western Electric and the Sandia Corporation.

WSGA Names Two To Attend Meeting

Suzanne Bogert and Gwenth Bryant were elected as Maine's delegates to the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students Conference at the University of Kansas during spring vacation.

These coeds were selected from several nominations made at a regular meeting of the Women's Student Government Association recently.

Maine has petitioned for membership in this organization, and the petition will be voted on during the first session of the conference. If the petition is accepted, the delegates will assume voting power.

After a lengthy discussion, the council decided to table a decision on the issue of the change in house meeting time, and the problem will be taken back to the dormitory residents for further discussion.

Delegates elected to participate in the New England WSGA Conference at the University of Rhode Island the last week end in April include Cynthia Nelson, Evelyn Whitney, Frances Roderick and Betty Buzzell.

Norwegian Exchange Student Comments On American Girls

By SHELLY HYMAN

Blond hair, blue eyed, Per Fondnoess comes from Hornofess, Norway, and is a first semester senior, majoring in Plup and Paper.

Per came to America five months ago, and in that time has formulated some very interesting ideas about the American college co-ed.

"The American college girl is not as pretty as a Norwegian girl" was his answer when asked to compare the difference between the two.

Per also believes that the American woman does not make as good a housewife as Norwegian woman. Per thinks the American woman is too materialistic.

Per believes the American woman is "soitere." (This, by the way, ladies, is a compliment in Norwegian.)

Per commented that the only social difference of any degree is that the American woman is less dependent on a man, and that since our divorce rate is much higher, it appears to him that there is less emphasis on a stable family life.

Boehler Drawings In Library Show

Thirty-two conte crayon drawings, by Hans Boehler, intended as illustrations for Hawthorne's "The Scarlet Letter," are on display in the Louis Oakes Room of the Library this month. The exhibition has been arranged by Prof. Vincent A. Hartgen, through the cooperation of Miss Federica Beer-Monti, director of the Artists' Gallery, New York.

Hans Boehler, a native of Vienna, is now a naturalized American citizen. He has been living in this country since 1936. In May, 1954, he received the prize of the city of Vienna for his paintings and graphics.

Critic Carlyle Burrows says of Boehler's drawings: "In 'The Scarlet Letter,' with its furtive and dramatic mood, the artist has found a theme for intense emotional treatment.

Phi Eta Kappa Elects

The following men were elected as officers of Phi Eta Kappa Monday evening: president, Ed MacGibbon; vice president, Bruce Arnold; secretary, Duane Dow; treasurer, Moaner Libby; corresponding secretary, Earl Adams; and sophomore boss, Francis Foss.

Per is an excellent skier. In Norway he won many Slalom and downhill contests. He has won about twenty cups, but takes the most pride in a county skiing award where he took first prize.

Per attended Hamar Kated Ral school, which is equivalent to our high school. Upon graduation he studied at a college in Sweden for two years followed by two years of study in Germany. Per has traveled extensively all through Europe.

He is a charming person and a most interesting conversationalist. Although Per likes America, and thinks the students at Maine are especially friendly, he is anxious to return, after graduation to his own country.

Alpha Gamma Rho was founded at Ohio State University.

Riflers Close In Fifth Place

The University of Maine rifle team closed its 1954-55 campaign in the New England College Rifle League by finishing fifth out of seven schools in a match held at Durham, N. H., last week end.

The Maine riflemen, led by coach Captain M. A. C. Gardner, was far down in the competition despite one of their best efforts of the season, hitting on 1391 of 1500 shots.

John Ramsey was Maine's top performer with a score of 286 out of a possible 300. The rest of the Pale Blue scores included: Jay Potsdam, captain, 281; Art Hamlin, 275; Volney Gilpatrick, 274; and Gordon Batson, 275.

The squad thus ended their competition in the New England league with an overall record of seven victories and two setbacks.

Previous to this season's finale, the Blue riflers took two shoulder-to-shoulder road matches from Bowdoin and Colby to close with an unbeaten slate in State Series competition.

The squad this season competed in many shoulder-to-shoulder matches in order to promote their sport. Being limited to a great extent by the reluctance of the University to provide funds, the Rifle squad had to curtail somewhat the amount of "in person matches."

The team is hoping to schedule more of these matches next year and will go to the budget committee in the near future to present their needs.

This season the expenses of the squad were paid by the team members, who were forced to cancel two matches because of inadequate funds.

Chance For Local Co-eds

Undergraduate Maine co-eds are eligible to enter the third annual National College Queen Contest to be held in Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 9-11, 1955.

Contestants, who must be between the ages of 17 and 24, or their sponsors, may obtain entry blank forms from the College Queen Contest Director, Convention Hall, Asbury Park, N. J.

The winner will receive a free tour of Europe, scholarship awards, and $5,000 in prizes.

WHAT'S THIS? For solution see paragraph below. Doodle suggested by Robert Bardole, University of Florida.

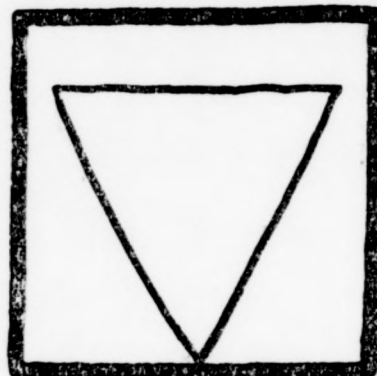

ENJOY YOURSELF to the hilt whenever you smoke. Simply light up a Lucky and get Luckies' famous better taste. Luckies taste better for good reasons. First of all, Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. Then, that tobacco is toasted to taste better. "It's Toasted"—the famous Lucky Strike process—tones up Luckies' light, mild, good-tasting tobacco to make it taste even better. Now for the Doodle above, titled: Better-tasting Lucky smoke puffed by modern sculptor. Make a monumental discovery. Next time you buy cigarettes, try the better-tasting cigarette . . . ## Bear Facts

BY PAUL FERRIGNO

The end of another basketball season at Maine has arrived. Glancing backward for a moment, we frown upon the 4-13 record of the Bears but gleefully look upon the prospects for next season.

Looking deeper into the past season, beyond the records, we saw excellent improvement of the young squad, and the fine job of new coach Russ DeVette. But we also notice a very slim 17 game slate.

As in football, for which we advocated an extension of that schedule last fall, so in basketball do we clamor for a revision of the slate.

A 17 game schedule such as the past season's is entirely too little basketball. We can see a moderate basketball schedule for a college not professing to emphasize the sport, but our schedule is much too conservative.

In comparison, Bangor high school played 15 games this season, a mere two less than Maine's light slate.

Not only was this season's slate too short but a variety of opponents was lacking. Of its 17 games, the Pale Blue outfit played against just seven different teams.

There are plenty of basketball teams available in New England for a squad to meet. Why couldn't the University book some games with teams like Amherst, Tufts or even Boston College?

An extension of the schedule, along with a variety of opponents, would have two important effects. First of all, it would create more interest in a sport which is lacking at Maine for both the players and fans.

The players would like to travel to different institutions and meet different opponents to break the monotony of going to the same gyms and schools every year. Also, the Maine supporters would like a break in the schedule which is practically the same every year.

Secondly, Orono is situated far from the major sports areas, so that basketball enthusiasts here are at a loss for major college games. It would be a lift for the fans here to see more teams competing against Maine each year in order to view for themselves the different clubs in New England circles.

Also, it would go a long way in building toward favorable relationships between this school and other New England institutions.

Another revision in the schedule for Maine basketball which should be taken into consideration is the playing of just two games with each State Series rival instead of the present three.

Our Maine State Series is about the only conference in the country where each team plays three games with every other school in the league.

This should definitely be changed, as it is just an excess of games and time that could be devoted to scheduling other teams. Why play three games with each of Bowdoin, Bates and Colby when two games are sufficient?

All this long state schedule accomplishes is to drag out the league and prolong the crowning of the champions, which could very easily be accomplished in a couple of games.

As we say, there are very few if any teams in the country, whether in a conference or independent, who now play a series of three games with any other team, and it serves no useful purpose.

Tennis Coach Garland Russell announced that all freshmen interested in frosh tennis should report to the Memorial Gym at 3:30 next Monday. Plans will be made for the coming season at that time. Russell also said that any more upperclassmen interested in varsity tennis should report to the Gym any day from 3:30-5.

Northeastern Stops Tracksters As 3 Marks Fall In Final Meet

BY SAL SCARPATO

Three meet records were set, three others tied, and a Fieldhouse and College mark broken, as undefeated Northeastern rolled over the previously undefeated University of Maine track team 74½ to 51½ at the Fieldhouse last Saturday.

It was the Pale Blue's final indoor meet of the season and its only setback in four meets this season. The win was Northeastern's ninth straight victory.

The Maine tracksters gained an even split in the meet's 14 first places but the huskies' greater depth told the story.

Miller Sets Fieldhouse Mark

The meet was climaxed by the establishment of a new Fieldhouse record for the 300 yard run by Charlie Miller of Northeastern. Miller's 31.4 lopped .6 seconds off the former mark held by Arnold Adams of Bates back in 1933. Adams, incidentally, later went on to perform in the 1936 Olympics in Berlin, Germany.

Little Chellis Smith, star Maine pole vaulter, climaxed a fine season with a record-breaking jump of 13 feet ½ inch to establish a new University of Maine mark. Smith bettered the previous record set by Ken Lincoln in 1953 by 6½ inches.

The other meet record that fell was Bill Johnson's discus toss of 138 feet 5¾ inches topping Floyd Milbank's of Northeastern mark set last year by five feet.

Meyer Still Leads Fraternity Scorers

Paul Meyer, with a red hot 26.2 point per game average, is steaming toward the 1954-55 Fraternity basketball scoring championship with just two weeks left in the intramural hoop campaign.

The rugged Lambda Chi scorer has rolled up the astounding total of 315 points in 12 contests to give him a considerable lead over his nearest rival.

Meyer, who dropped off his pace several weeks ago, quickly recovered with a record breaking 45 point performance against Delta Tau on February 23. Meyer's outburst was the Gym record for the year only, as Chip Moody of SAE holds the permanent record of 54, scored last season.

Sticking close to Meyer and keeping the race respectable is Ken "Moose" Henrickson of Phi Kap, who is riding along on a very prominent 23.4 average.

The intramural basketball season swings into the final stages with a host of important non-fraternity games scheduled. Only six more playing dates are left on the entire basketball schedule which ends on March 22.

Next week's games will have a major bearing on deciding the winners of both the American and National leagues. Both division leaders Dunn 4 (6-0), in the American and N.D. 8-9 (6-1), in the National will be putting their records on the line.

The biggest contest will take place Monday evening and may very well decide the winner of the American league, when leader Dunn 4 will face second place Cabins with a 5-1 slate. A victory for the leaders can send them well on their way to the title, while a win by the Cabins will throw the league into a three way tie.

If this happens Dunn 4, the Cabins and Oak will be knotted for top honors with 6-1 records.

In the National loop, ND 8-9 currently leading with a 6-1 record closes out their season with two games next week. The leaders, who were

Question Marks Darken Maine's Diamond Outlook For Approaching Season

BY MAX BURRY

With just 16 days of practice left before the University of Maine Varsity Baseball Bears launch their 1955 season, some big problems are yet to be solved by new head baseball coach Walter "Andy" Anderson and his Pale Blue hopefuls.

At present, the Bear mentor is emphasizing batting in the daily pre-season workouts. As late as Monday, Anderson told reporters "Our hitting power has to come along a lot better if we're going to do well at all this season."

Hitting Problem

The only strong hitter back from last year's State Championship squad is outfielder Dawson List. Anderson said "Other than the batting averages posted by Dave Wiggin, Mal Speirs and List, the rest seemed awfully low."

The other big problem confronting the Maine coach is finding a first baseman to fill the gap left by Mal Speirs, who graduated last June.

Although he noted that there are several good prospects vying for the number one bag, Coach Anderson declined about making any definite statement concerning this position at the present time.

Irregular Workouts For Veterans

Since practice began, the Bears have been continually harassed by irregular practice workouts. Three regulars from last year's starting nine have been able to attend only two or three practice sessions each week.

Conflicting class schedules prevent Angie LoCicero, catcher; "Tiger" Soychak, second baseman; and Dawson List from working out with the squad more than a few times each week. "This means," said Anderson, "that one-third of last year's squad is missing a lot of badly needed batting practice."

On the bright side of the Maine baseball picture is the powerful Black Bear battery. Boasting the hurling talents of Ace twirler Charlie Otterstedt, veteran chuckers Gus Folsom, John Dana, Tom Reynolds and a host of promising young sophomores, the Maine battery is probably the strongest in State Series competition.

Otterstedt Ace

Otterstedt, who has been scouted by a number of professional baseball teams, was the keystone of the Bear pitching staff last spring and should command the mound corps this year. The smooth Bear hurler chalked up an impressive 5-1 record in State Series play during the 1954 season.

Coach Anderson told reporters that he will make his final cut this week. Anderson plans to carry either 26 or 27 men throughout the season.

Last year the Bears had one of their most successful seasons in recent times. The Pale Blue nine, coached by Harold "Tubby" Raymond who is now associated with the University of Delaware, posted a 15-9 record for the 1954 season and swept State Series play with a wide 7-1 margin.

On the annual Southern trip, the Raymondmen drew a 3-3 split. This year the Bears will clash with some of the best diamond combinations in the East, meeting such top-flight teams as Upsala, Quantico Marines and Georgetown.

Varsity Skiers Wind Up Winter Sports Season

With the Maine ski season rapidly drawing to a close, coach Ted Curtis said that next week end will mark the end of the highly successful 1954-55 winter sports season.

Curtis will send either two or three men to compete at Andover, New Hampshire, and several others to the Golden Ski Meet held at Bald Mountain.

Official results from last week's NCAA meet at Northfield, Vt., were unavailable at the time The Maine Campus went to press but unofficial results show that captain Wes Scrone finished 29th in the cross country field and Milton "Mickey" Christie finished last in the slalom race.

Christie had a couple of bad breaks, falling down twice and trailing a field of 66.

Curtis Praises Team

Glancing back over the season coach Curtis said:

"Better than average snow conditions throughout the winter gave the squad an opportunity to really show what they could do."

He further added that he was "very pleased" with the top-notch performances turned in by his skiers in all of their meets.

The Bear mentor contrasted this season with last year by noting that the Mainites finished third in the Eastern Collegiates earlier in the year at Lyndonville, Vt., as compared to their fifth place effort last year.

Curtis had nothing but praise for his entire squad and the season's record. "Every man," said Curtis, "did a fine job and each contributed greatly towards the team's success."

Akers, Six-Event Star

"Sophomore Leon Akers," Curtis cited, "will be counted upon heavily next year in several events." Akers won the Skimeister trophy at the Colby Winter Carnival and is a strong six-event skier.

John Bragoli was also cited by the ski coach for his meet jumping and overall performance.

Within The Walls

The last placed Free loaders last week for their only loss, will face Corbett 3 on Tuesday and then close the season with ND 5 on Wednesday evening.

ND 8-9's only competition should be their final game as they face ND 5, who, along with ND 4 and Corbett 4, are tied for second with 4-2 records. ND 8-9 must lose this week in order to be taken, and if not they will clinch the title on Wednesday evening.
