Second place was closely contested for between Theta Chi, Delta Tau Delta, and Phi Eta Kappa, each of whom had close to twenty-five men apiece. Kappa Sigma took in a few more the latter part of the week to make an even dozen.

EDITORIAL

In the world of sport there is a chance for the true development of character. Many people are met whom you would not have met otherwise. Friends are sometimes made who may have much influence on you in life. In any sort of competition there is the chance to see yourself literally under fire. If you have any confidence in yourself, find it. Often you think you have but when it comes to a test you sometimes find that you haven't as much as you might have imagined in your mind. There is the chance to see human nature at its best and also at its worst. Depict yourself in a position where you are all worked up and then let some trifling come up and see how you would act under the circumstances. Those who come thru under pressure are usually the ones who generally succeed in whatever they undertake. A person's true self comes to the fore under trying circumstances where it would not ordinarily show where it was calm and composed. A criticism that is sometimes brought against sportsmen that they sometimes develop an inferiority complex. All that can be said against this is that if an inferiority complex is developed it is mostly the fault of the individual. One should approach any sport with the thought of getting some tangible thing out of the sport or the glory. If he can note some improvement in his physical or mental self he should see that he has got something of benefit out of this time and work.

FRESH RELAY TEAM IN PORTLAND

Why not renew the custom of having a dorm dance at Hannibel Hamlin Hall? The freshmen girls have been entertaining the boys at various Vic parties. Why shouldn't the boys entertain for a change? This isn't lease-year. It is said that the dining room at Hannibel Hamlin would be an excellent place for dancing, and the girls would like to look the place over.

We think it would be a good idea to have a meeting of all freshmen women, just for the purpose of getting better acquainted. When you stop to consider the matter, the off-campus freshmen really don't know the girls living in the dorms very well. They haven't the chance as soon as the bell rings for the end of one class everybody rushes to the next class or to the library or in the case of the off-campus students, they all seem to spend most of their time in the M.C.A. Building. Why not, then, have a meeting, some time in the future?

GIRLS BASKETBALL TEAM BEATS JUNIORS BY TWENTY TWO POINTS 33-11

The Freshmen girls won a decisive victory over the Juniors by the score of thirty-three to eleven. The Fresh display their skill and look as if they might be able to stop the Seniors, last year's winner of the tournament, when they meet them Wednesday afternoon at Alumni Gym.

THREE FRESHMEN CHOOSEN FOR PARTS IN THE NEW MASQUE PLAY

Three of the parts in the new masque play "Double Doors" are to be taken by Freshmen. They are Wallace Gleason, Stanley Fuger, and Solveig Holstad.

MUSIC NIGHT TO BE HELD FRIDAY

Music Night sponsored annually by Delta Pi Kappa will be held Friday, March 8, in the Little Theater. A stag dance will be held following the musicale. DORM B WINS ANNUAL INTRA-MURAL MEET BY A WIDE MARGIN OVER ITS NEAREST COMPETITORS DORM A AND OAK HALL

Last Saturday a strong well-balanced team representing Dorm B won the annual Intra-mural meet by more than doubling the score of their nearest competitors who were Dorm A and Oak Hall both Freshmen teams. In the Charles Rice competition a strong team made up mostly of middle distance stars from Phi Kappa Sigma won with Dorm B in second place. Among the point winners for Dorm B were Johnny Gowell who accounted for twenty points in Intra-mural and fourteen in the varsity competition.

SEVERAL FRESHMEN ANSWER THE CALL FOR BATTERY MEN LAST WEEK.

There are several Freshmen now working out for battery positions on the Freshman baseball team. There are some fine prospects out. Among those put are Bill Veague, Dwight Lord, Rod Elliot, and a few others. There is only a couple of weeks in which to get into condition so the practices will probably be held daily.

Spring isn't here yet, but there are signs that it is on its way. Isn't that the truth, Alice Harvey? We wonder how Gatch liked the new casino... Poslè Whitmore seems to be the Maple's prize date-mixer-upper... Mary Frost would even get up with the crew of the rooster to put love into the stitches in that sweater... Keep in mind the fact that Georgia Taylor and Charlie Lowe met a week ago Wednesday. Too bad one can't hang a frat pin... Maxine can't seem to understand whether the Jack of Hearts is in Maine or in Colby... Certain first-floor Mapleites should remember that the U of M is a co-educational institution... We didn't know that Bud Dean was so fond of Pussy cats... Lena seems to prefer pre-dinner calls... It appears to be getting pretty thick, Junie... What happened, Blanch?... Did Bart Brown accept a part in the play because of a certain Phi Eta?... We see that the ruling factions of Sigma Chi has moved to fourth floor south and are looking for sweethearts... Word came from Patsy Fournier at 2 a.m. Saturday that all is well... Some of those pledges are batter at rushing than some frat men... Eh, Buzzy?... We wish Alice and Barbara would get their love troubles settled... Which is to be the lucky house, Bud?... Was Miriam Hilton been keeping something from us? He went Sigma Chi and she went nutz... We wish Kay Cox would make up her mind or else keep quiet... Why was Ernestine Andrews glad she went to the stag dance Friday night?... Georgia was all in a Huff, but now she's feeling kind of Lowe... We don't know much about "Murph"... yet. Adolphine is still going steady... Has he gotten up courage yet, Evie?... Love is so strong that there's no news about Althea... Johnny Gowell is singing "June in January"... Mary Hawkes doesn't have to worry about her boy friends any more. She can see them all at once now... For a certain person's benefit Joanne Stuart is both a co-ed and a Brower girl... Who was introduced as "The Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" to the new pledges?... Edith Thomas knows her A,B, C's. He's a senior... And so Gowell and Sherry took Betty Cleugh home from the stag dance. There's company, but when it gets to ten of twelve it's a crowd... What's on Helen Lewis' mind?... We wonder if Eleanore Gould met him in Bangor for lunch Saturday... Kelley's song is "When It's Dark on Observatory Hills"... We hope that Joan Mitchell doesn't get spring fever and run off down to Rhode Island... We heard that Bunny slept over her ten minutes Saturday night. That game off PeeWoo must have tired her out... Did Ethel Mae have a good time Saturday night?... Betty Cleugh and Peg Hinkley have been promoted to the third team in basketball...
