Small Senior Class Awaits Annual Award Of Diplomas

By REG BOWDEN

The smallest graduating class since World War II will be awarded diplomas at the University's 104th Commencement June 12. Approximately 415 seniors will receive bachelor degrees in Memorial Gymnasium exercises at 2:30 p.m.

In addition some 49 graduate students will receive degrees.

The breakdown of senior degrees is as follows: agriculture, 97; arts and sciences, 146; technology, 95, and education, 77. These figures represent the smallest graduating class since the World War. Last year 518 were graduated from Maine.

Pres. Arthur A. Hauck has announced that Robert Bernard Anderson, Deputy Secretary of Defense, will deliver the Commencement address. A native of Texas, Anderson is a former secretary of the Navy. He graduated from the University of Texas Law School in 1932, and was a member of the Texas legislature while in college.

Anderson is a member of the boards of trustees of McMurray College and Texas Wesleyan College.

In addition, sixty-two senior ROTC students will receive United States Army Reserve Commissions.

Baccalaureate Speaker

President Hauck has also announced that The Rev. James W. Lenhart, D.D., pastor of the State Street Congregational Church, Portland, will give the Baccalaureate Address on Sunday morning, June 12, at 10:30 a.m. in Memorial Gym.

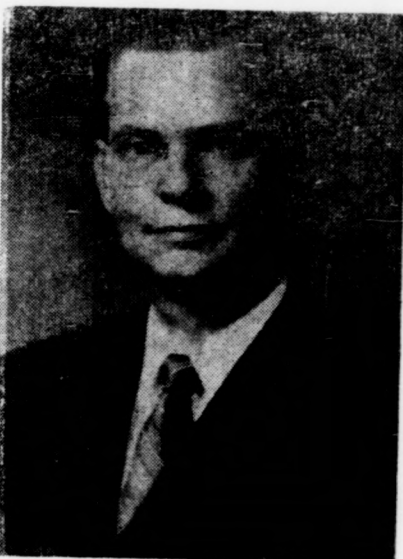

Dr. Lenhart is active in national leadership in the Congregational Christian Churches.

Commencement week end will get underway Friday morning, June 10, with Alumni registration in Memorial Union and a final meeting of the Senior Class in the Oval at 10 a.m.

Pres. Merton Robinson will preside at the class meeting. Donald Taverner, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, and George E. Lord, president of the General Alumni Association, have been invited to address the seniors.

Highlighting Friday afternoon activities will be the Class Day exercises at 1:30 p.m. in the Oval. The program will include: Class Prayer by Sandra Glorsky; Class History by Dana Baggett; Address to the wives by David Dearing; Singing of the Class Ode, written by Bradford Payne; the Salutatory by Nancy Collins; Valedictory by Richard B. Myer; presentation of certificates to the wives by President Hauck; the singing of Bradford Payne's "Sons of Maine"; the presentation by President Hauck of the senior watch awards and the presentation of the Class Gift.

Report Cyr Improving At Hospital

The condition of Roderick Cyr, 22 year old University junior who was injured in a weekend accident, was reported to be much improved by officials at the Eastern Maine General Hospital in Bangor yesterday.

Two Car Crash

Cyr was one of five persons injured in the two car crash which happened Saturday evening on Route 1 in Dedham. He was sitting in the front seat of the car driven by Jane Tucker, his houseparty guest, and was reportedly pinned into the wreckage by bent metal.

Passing motorists assisted him from the vehicle.

When contacted Wednesday the hospital reported that Cyr was suffering from a right leg fracture, laceration (Continued on Page Eight)

Fogler To Speak On Memorial Day

Raymond H. Fogler, assistant secretary of the Navy, will be the Memorial Day speaker at the University Dr. G. William Small, general chairman, announced this week.

The exercises will be held as usual on the mall in front of the Library Monday, May 30, at 10:30 a.m.

Capt. Robert A. Chabot, of the University's ROTC, will be in charge of the military units participating in the exercises; Francis G. Shaw, of the music department, will be the band conductor; Prof. Lewis Niven, head of the music department, will lead the glee club and brass ensemble.

Where Is Campus Oval?

By BEVE FOWLIE

People just don't seem to know where the Oval is. And since Class Day exercises are held there and since that day is right around the corner we thought we'd better tell 'em what and where the Oval is.

The Oval as we call it and as it has been called for at least fifty years is located between Coburn Hall and the University Bookstore.

Oval A Tradition

Nobody seems to recall that its name was ever formally announced. But because of its shape the Oval has become another of Maine's deeply embedded traditions so old that nobody remembers how it began.

Class Day exercises were held there before 1908 according to James A. Gannett, Registrar Emeritus. Alumnae Day exercises were occasionally observed there.

Graduation In Oval

Graduation exercises were once held in the Oval from 1920 to 1934. A stage was set up at the west end facing Munson Road. Members of the faculty and administration and graduation speakers sat on and around the platform. Chairs and bleachers were occupied by friends and relatives of the graduates.

On a sunny day and in such a lovely spot, graduation was a very memorable, colorful affair, recalls Paul Cloke, Dean Emeritus of College of Technology.

Problems Arose

However, several very appreciable problems arose, making it necessary for the University to abandon the idea of holding graduation there.

In the first place two complete sets of plans had to be made for graduation exercises. Those concerned had to make all arrangements for an outside graduation and another for the inside. A great deal of extra work and plans was required. Secondly, the Oval was hardly large enough to accommodate the faculty and the audience which was growing every year. And although it was very pleasant and pretty, such things as excessive heat, a glaring sun, and armies of mosquitoes added rather largely to the "cons" of the whole idea.

Mad Scramble

In 1935, after ten years of clear warm weather for graduation, it rained—in fact, it blew a gale, says Dean Cloke. There was a mad scramble to change plans and hold the exercises in the Memorial Gymnasium. Since that time, except for a few feeble attempts to try the weather again, graduating seniors have always received their diplomas in the gym and have been content to gather in the Oval only on Class Day.

The Oval is a natural formation in the University topography. There never has been any attempt to conform or transform the layout to make it more suitable for exercises of any kind.

Improvement

The only improvement in the spot has been the addition of evergreen trees at the southwest end toward Coburn in the late 1800's. This was done as part of a project of Prof. Welton M. Munson to beautify the Maine campus.

The Oval, although a lovely spot, geologically is just another erosional gully very unromantically cut about 20 thousand years ago out of marine clay shallowly imposed on a bedrock of ancient shales. The head of this gully is now occupied by Alumni Hall.

Newsman To Convene Here

Newspapermen from ten Maine newspapers and Associated Press executives will convene on campus Friday for the annual Maine Associated Press Seminar.

Featuring an address by Prof. Vincent Hartgen, head of the University Art Department, the seminar will include a noon luncheon and an afternoon critical session.

Host for the event will be the University Press Club. Club members will serve coffee to the newsmen in Fernald Hall at 3:30 p.m.

The luncheon at North Estabrooke Hall will open the program at 12:30 p.m.

Prof. Hartgen's talk, "Understanding Modern Art," will follow the luncheon. He will stress an understanding of art from a graphic point of view.

Comic Chamber Opera Planned As Last Union Music Concert

A comic chamber opera will highlight the last in the series of Chamber Music Concerts in the Memorial Union Sunday, May 22, at four p.m. Demi-Opera

The demi-opera, as it is called by its composer, Jeanellen McKee, has a New England setting in an Antique Shoppe and a cast of four singers.

Charles Fassett, tenor, will be cast as Ozro Watson, the proprietor of the shoppe; Sylvia MacKenzie, mezzo-soprano, as Mrs. Loomis Randall, a prospective customer; Jane Ernst, soprano, as another antique shopper, and Roger Sprague, baritone, as an author and authority on antiques.

The opera is written in the semi-popular idiom of the day and the performing time is 15 minutes.

Three ensembles of the University's Department of Music, the brass, string and woodwind groups, will perform works by Norman Cadzen, Frederick Lawrence, George F. McKay and Richard Walker.

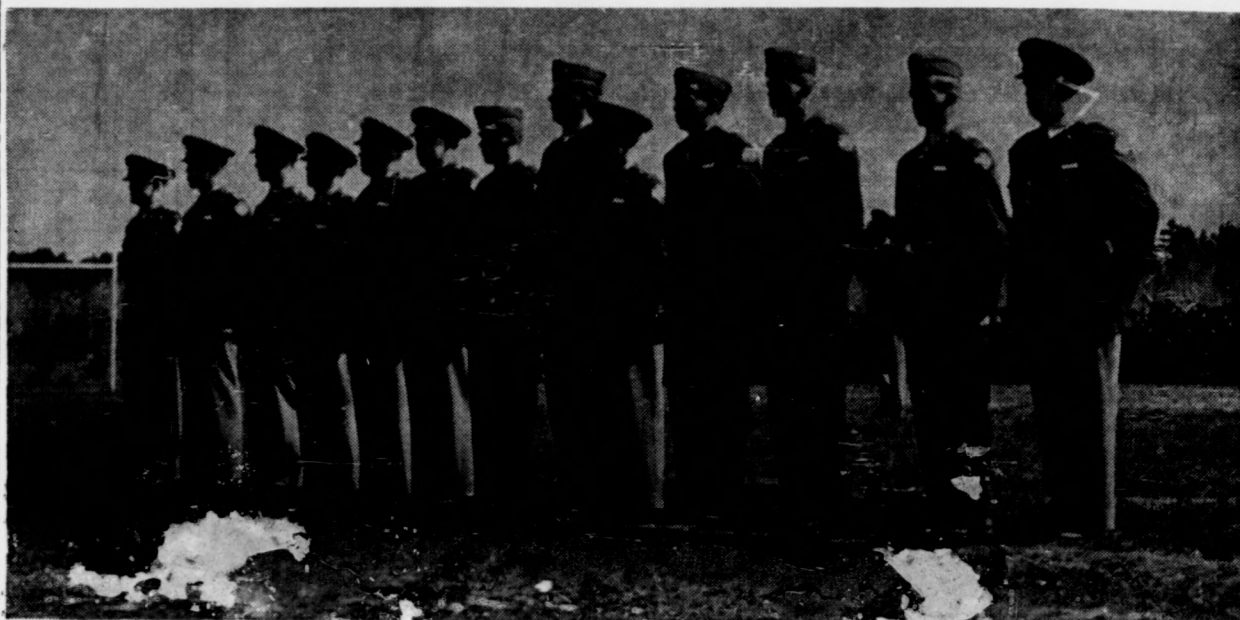

Mr. Fassett will sing, in addition to his part in the opera, songs by David Diamond and Gian-Carlo Menotti. The first song is Epitaph and the second, This is My Box from 'Amahl' and the 'Night Visitors.'

Pulp Waste Modification Studies To Start Soon

Society: Attention Focuses On Annual Fraternity Houseparties

By CAL GERALD

The houseparty season opened with a bang last week end with six houses holding the big events.

An outdoor terrace effect was the setting for Alpha Gam's "Pink Rose Formal." Decorations were boughs of evergreen and clusters of pink roses.

Approximately 45 couples danced to the music of Jack McDonough's band, and each girl was given a corsage of pink roses.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Chute, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Nielsen, and Mrs. Gertrude Hinckley, housemother, were chaperons at the formal and at the outing Saturday at Green Lake.

Sunday noon the couples enjoyed a steak dinner at the house.

At SAE, 40 couples danced among decorations of evergreens and cherry blossoms to the music of Mel Tukey's band.

Capt. and Mrs. Moffat Gardiner and Mother Gradie were chaperons.

Saturday an outing was held at Sunset Lodge in Bar Harbor, where a lobster salad lunch was served.

Punch and cookies were served. Edward Tonneson was in charge of arrangements.

Crepes, paper streamers and trellises of flowers formed the decorations at Phi Mu, where 50 couples danced to the music of Lew Pearson's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. George Clifford and Mrs. Perry were chaperons at the affair. Punch and cookies were served. Ken Rand was in charge of the events.

Saturday an outing was held in Bar Harbor, where the couples enjoyed lobster. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gerry and Mrs. Perry were chaperons.

A buffet supper started the gala evening at Beta Theta Pi, where Paul Dinsmore's band played for about 35 couples.

colored lights were strung outside the house.

Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Claude Westfall and Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols. Richard Cahill was in charge of the affair.

"Paris in the Spring" was the theme at Delta Tau, with murals depicting French scenes.

Sammy Saliba's orchestra provided the music for the affair. Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wylie and Mrs. Barron were chaperons. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunlap, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Martin, and Dean and Mrs. John Stewart were guests. Robert Leach was in charge of the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie and Mrs. Barron chaperoned the clambake at North Haven Island on Saturday.

Brad Sullivan's orchestra provided the music at Kappa Sig for 50 couples, who danced amid balloons on the ceiling, cocktail glasses on the wall, and red, white, and green crepe paper streamers.

Capt. and Mrs. Robert Marmorstein and Mrs. Barron chaperoned the event. Punch and cookies were served. Robert Giguere was in charge of arrangements.

Saturday couples roller-skated at Pushaw Pond, and some brave souls went swimming.

Sunday noon a steak dinner was held at the house.

Lambda Chi pledges held a party for the brothers last Friday night. Everyone was assured of having a good time, since it was an "Old Clothes Party." Entertainment was in the form of group singing led by the pledges. Arthur Parlin was in charge of the arrangements. Mr. and Mrs. George Wadlin and Mrs. Sprague chaperoned.

The Phi Kaps found plenty to do last Saturday when they held "Phi Kap Day." All the brothers worked—painting the interior of the house, planting trees outside, and renovating the picnic area.

The Sigma Chis treated themselves—and their dates—to a Pizza Party last Friday night. After supper, the couples stayed on for a vic dance. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Warner and Mother Pray.

The "Paddle Hop" was held at Phi Eta last week end. The pledges entertained the brothers, and everyone enjoyed the vic dance. Chaperons were Capt. and Mrs. Paul Paulson and Mrs. Annis Cook.

Members of WSGA held their last meeting of the year Wednesday night at Dean Edith Wilson's home. Before the meeting everyone enjoyed a picnic—informal and fun.

"Wise Guys" Are Kids

A week ago Monday night, the mayoralty candidate program was well attended by students and faculty.

The usual audience "wise guys" and juveniles performed in an effort to win laughs from the audience and to irritate the speakers. They threw eggs, pennies and brickbats. Instead of the anticipated support from the audience, however, the jokers got return brickbats and a roar of disapproval from the students. In short, they were shouted down by the majority of students who resent kid-level humor and just plain bad manners.

The individuals who toted the eggs, pennies and wise-guy remarks to the rally wound up as scapegoats.

The "wise guy" faction is on the way out. Basically they are just confused kids who crave attention. It appears that these "kids" who heave the eggs and pitch pennies at rallies are the same persons who kick holes in dorm walls, raise Cain during study hours and give proctors a hard time. They cost the University money and contribute nothing to themselves or other students.

Nevertheless, the "kids" are here on the campus and will hang around till they manage to graduate or get booted out. In the meantime, any public gathering is a temptation for repeat performances. But here is where some new attitudes come into the picture.

The majority of students are not entertained by the raunchy hecklers and pranksters.

At one time, heckling and penny-tossing was almost accepted at rallies. It was passed off as indicative of lots of college spirit and energy. Recently, however, the attitude of the student body does not seem to encourage the old-time low caliber jokes and demonstrations.

Perhaps the student body today is more mature in some respects than a few years ago. Tastes in entertainment vary also and are constantly changing.

At any rate, the mayoralty program gave the chance for the majority of students to shout down the "wise guys" and "kids." This spontaneous reaction should make clear that, even though we have wise guys here at Maine, we sure aren't proud of them!

Fishing Derbies Spreading

A sportswriter of a state-wide paper recently wrote an article defending the dozens of fishing derbies that are held every season. The sportswriter contends that derbies do not necessarily take a heavy toll of fish.

This idea doesn't hold water, nohow (salt or otherwise).

The hordes of would-be prize winners that darken the shores and clutter up our lakes at the derbies DO undeniably take a tremendous amount of fish out of the lakes.

The fishing derbies should be confined to certain large lakes (Moosehead, for instance). Large lakes can accommodate the eager anglers and stocked fish alike and are therefore practical for derbies.

It has not stopped here, however.

The derby disease has now hit the Fish River chain in Aroostook. These lakes, though not large, are now being thrown open to all the Dave Davis Spoons, Pearl Wablers, worms and live bait that can be dragged under the surface without getting hung up on the next angler's line. Johnsons, Evinrudes, Mercurys and Elgins are Churning up the waters of the formerly peaceful Fish River Lakes, thanks to the derby fever. The land locks used to be fairly plentiful and lake trout too. Up till now, that is.

Maybe a day of good trolling on Square or Mud Lake is now old fashioned.

We still think that a reasonable limit should be put on the fishing derby idea before there's nothing left in the smaller lakes except yellow perch and eels.

The Scratch PadSkulls-Owls Discussion Is Typical

BY ED PERT

The campus is still talking about Maine Day.

Reaction to the selections for Senior Skulls and Sophomore Owls was typical. The choices have been cussed and discussed by a large segment of the student body. Of course there were those who were disappointed because they were not chosen and are not hesitating to say so. But the writer finds the most talk is about students who were deserving of selection but for some reason or other failed to be chosen.

Character, scholarship and participation in school activities are listed in this year's Bear Tracks as basis for selection to both societies. During the past few years, the writer has heard charges of "favoritism in selection" and "failure to fully perform duties" leveled against the Owls and Skulls.

Time and again we hear these two organizations criticized. Perhaps they should be somewhat more "public relations conscious." There are certainly some members of the two groups who have faithfully carried out their obligations.

News And Notes

The Sigma Nus plan to continue their Sunday night showings of feature films out in front of their house... a black "58" showed up the other day on the tool shed next to Holmes Hall... Blanche will start her twentieth year at the Infirmary in September... and whatever happened to the thriving Young Democratic and Young Republican Clubs of a couple of years back?... the University community will miss the Renfros... reports of the Maine Day eve "lawn party" at Sigma Chi have been greatly exaggerated... as June approaches, the pre-nuptial showers get more frequent... the beautiful Union birthday cake was made and decorated by Bob LeBlanc, Estabrooke baker... we are still chuckling over Prexy Hauck's excellent performance in the Student-Faculty Skit.

Elsewhere in this issue you'll find verification by the Mayoralty Committee that there were no pictures of the candidates in Maine's leading papers and that the committee was at loose ends as was reported in last week's "Scratch Pad." It seems unfair of the committee to label justified criticism "just gossip," especially in view of the fact that they have substantiated exactly what I reported last week. Now they have made it official: "They goofed."

Opinion is divided as to whether the Chadbourne girls enjoy the unofficial freshman male "glee" club... congratulations to the Shakespeare Club for bringing "Macbeth" to the campus!... the writer is due at Fort Benning, Georgia on June 13th... via commission granted last June.

Completion of the new Bangor auditorium may mean more top flight bands in the area... WORO has more powerful transmitters and looks forward to total campus coverage next year... a leading question on campus this week: Can Boomer bake?

Hats off to the grounds crew who keep the lawns looking trim... and that's all till next week.

LettersMayor Officials Reply—Food Protest

To the Editor:

In last Week's Campus, the mayoralty committee got a slap in the face that wasn't deserved. The columnist was in contact with the chairman of the committee two or three times, from whom he received the facts concerning the campaign. These facts evidently didn't make good reading material because he didn't print them. There were many misleading accusations made in the column. We have them listed below with the official answers.

No. 1. There was no picture of the candidates.

Answer: The committee had a picture taken of three candidates and when, at the last minute, one of the three wasn't allowed to run for scholastic reasons, the picture had to be cut.

No. 2. The committee was at loose ends and one individual on the committee didn't know what was going on.

Answer: It was hard for anyone on the committee to know what was going on, because if any student read the Campus they would know how hard it was to get candidates in the first place. Even after the committee did get candidates, they were continually dropping out or threatening to do so.

Under these circumstances, no one, including the committee, could tell what was happening every minute. In conclusion, we feel that the columnist, when in possession of the facts, should have used them instead of writing just gossip. He stated at the end of his article that "somebody goofed." It seems as if it were he!

MAYORALTY COMMITTEE
DAN STEVENS
Chairman of Committee

To the Editor:

Perhaps it is a crime to complain on Sunday or at all around here, but since we are citizens of this state and paying for our meals, I choose to state this case against the food.

My appetite and sight work hand-in-hand, therefore to me some food is unpalatable. Students of a state university do not have to eat semi-cooked meat or excessively-cooked food. We are free to demand properly prepared food, and this I now ask.

I hope that two things are done regarding the sustenance we paying students get from the "Commons": one, that the quality of the fodder preparation rises, and two, that a proper review of the entire situation at some unexpected times by capable officials will commence. We need them both.

The order of occurrence of these two hoped-for events matters not to me, but certainly it will please many others to eat something in the way of beef meat that is not a goodly proportion of slippery, greasy fat. Ugh! the thought. I also hope that this is not the last complaint by the students of the present circumstances.

Respectfully for the students,
HORACE A. FLINT, JR.

On Other Campuses

Burlington, Vt.—(ACP)—Thirty-four University of Vermont coeds were routed out of bed early one morning last week during a two-alarm fire at the Old Mill Dormitory, the "Vermont Cynic" reports.

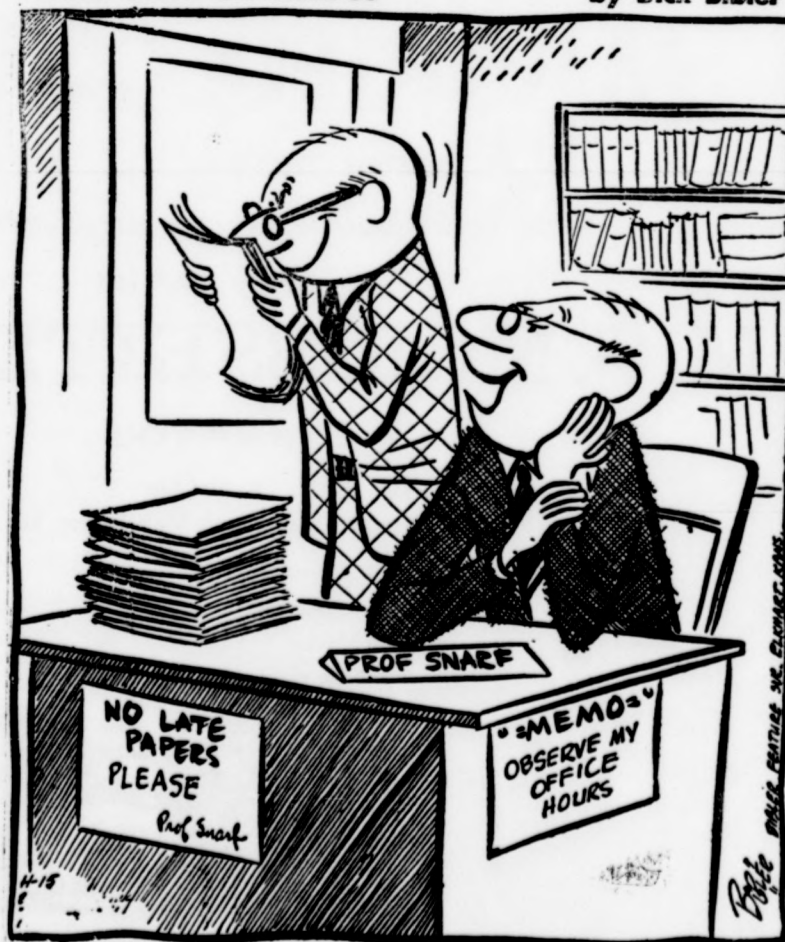

Although damage was slight, firemen had difficulty in convincing the girls there was an actual fire. Some thought it was only a drill. One sleepy-eyed lass stumbled into the bathroom, carefully washed her face and then bemoaned later: "I thought maybe we were going to have an inspection, or something."

Firemen finally had to return for the umpteenth time to make sure all girls were out. They weren't. The thirty-fourth occupant slept soundly through all the excitement, glared for a moment at a fireman who shook her soundly, then rolled over and went back to sleep. When finally aroused she staggered out of the building and into the nearest police car, where she fell sound asleep again.

Only a few of the girls tried to save their belongings. But one young miss seemed perfectly content although clad only in her pajamas. She had thoughtfully pinned her fraternity and sorority pins on the pajama tops.

WSGA Notes

Dean Edith G. Wilson gave a brief summary of the National Vocational Guidance Convention which she attended in Chicago at a recent Women's Student Government Association meeting.

Miss Wilson also presented statistics concerning the vocations pursued by the 1954 women graduates of the University. These figures were compiled from a survey which was conducted by a special committee of which Miss Wilson is chairman.

Dale Starbird was elected as the representative from WSGA to the Good Will Chest Drive Committee.

Betty Buzzell was elected permanent secretary of the central office files for the New England WSGA Conference. Miss Buzzell replaces Frances Rodrick who was recently elected Assembly Chairman of the Association.

Gwenyth Bryant was elected coordinator between WSGA and the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students. Miss Bryant recently attended the IAWS National Conference.

Cliff Litherland asks:

Would I have varied assignments at Du Pont—or would I specialize technically?

CLIFFORD LITHERLAND received a B.A. degree from Rice Institute last year, and is now working for a B.S. in Chemical Engineering. He is Business Manager of "The Rice Engineer," and Vice-President of the fifth-year class at Rice. By asking questions of prospective employers, Cliff is trying to get information that will help him make the best use of his training in the years ahead.

Arthur Mendolia answers:

Well, Cliff, I'd say the answer to that question depends largely on your own preferences. In a company the size of Du Pont there are opportunities for growth along either line.

In my own case, I've followed the route of diversification—and I think you'll find that's the general procedure when a fellow is interested in administrative work.

For example, after graduation I started work in the research lab at Du Pont's Niagara Falls plant. That was followed by two years of process improvement work, and a stretch as assistant supervisor over one of the plant areas. Next, I spent a few years in liaison on the design and construction of our first full-scale plant for making nylon intermediates from furfural. Then, I had assignments on "plant start up," and production supervision before I was given my present post. I was made Assistant Director of Research for Du Pont's Electrochemicals Department last August.

You see, variety of assignments means contact with new men and with constantly changing problems. That keeps interest alive. It leads to growth, too, because it provides a broad base of experience for future responsibilities.

On the other hand, some fellows prefer to become specialists in a particular field—and Du Pont has many opportunities for that type of professional growth, too. In our research, development and design groups we have experts on distillation, mass transfer, thermodynamics—and most anything else you'd care to mention in the field of engineering. These men are respected throughout the whole company for their technical knowledge.

Whichever route you choose, Cliff—broad or specialized—you'll find that a job well done leads to satisfaction and advancement at Du Pont.

ARTHUR I. MENDOLIA was graduated from Case Institute in June 1941 and started work with the Du Pont Company that same month. In addition to handling challenging assignments at work, he also enjoys some interesting hobbies. Although he makes no claims personally, he's classed as a minor authority on golf and hi-fi music. Mr. Mendolia is Assistant Director of Research for Du Pont's Electrochemicals Dept.

WANT TO KNOW MORE about working with Du Pont? Send for a free copy of "Chemical Engineers at Du Pont," a booklet that tells you about pioneering work being done in chemical engineering—in research, process development, production and sales. Bear Facts

By MAX BURRY

The indoor track and field team which veteran Coach Chester "Chet" Jenkins brought to Kingston, R. I., last Saturday was, in our opinion, top notch.

The record-breaking javelin throw of Dave Smith and the efforts of the other members of the team proved to the crowd at Kingston that Maine's track squad is not to be regarded lightly.

On the baseball scene it looks like the Bears are destined for the State title. The pastimers have come out of their mid-season batting slump and are looking better with each game. At the time of this writing Maine stands at the top of State Series, 1 1/2 games ahead of the second place Bates.

Gus Folsom, Maine's veteran southpaw, looked the best we've seen him last Friday. Folsom, except for moments of wildness, had perfect control from start to finish.

Probably the brightest spot on the Maine sports picture is the freshman athletes. The Frosh golf, baseball, track, and tennis teams are all undefeated at this time. This storehouse of talent should be a big boost to the varsity squads next year.

To the Sports Editor
Mr. Burry:

I read your article "Bear Facts," May 12, in the Maine Campus stating that there was dissension on the University of Maine Baseball Team.

I don't know where you received this false information or whatever possessed you to print this sort of nonsense, but in further issues concerning the baseball team, I would advise you to look into the matter more deeply. Seeing that you are not connected in any way with the baseball team; I don't see how you possibly could know the inside story.

In my opinion you have shown a disrespect for the Coach, Players and the University in general. The Maine Campus must be hard up for so-called sports writers to print articles degrading a University of Maine Athletic team!

Charles Otterstedt
Co-captain of Univ. of Maine
Baseball Team

Mr. Otterstedt:

In my capacity as sports editor of the Maine Campus I have an obligation to fulfill to the students of the University of Maine. I must present sports news to the Campus readers accurately and truthfully without letting personal opinion enter into it.

In the "Bear Facts" column which appeared in last week's edition, I made mention of the fact that there was dissension in the baseball team. My source was conversation with several members of the team. I have no personal animosity against the team and certainly didn't intend to degrade the team in the eyes of the student body.

I merely printed the facts as I saw them. I feel that the students should know as much as possible about their own team, whether it is good news or bad news.

Perhaps you have misinterpreted my meaning of dissension. I did not mean that the team was being torn apart with fighting and bitter quarreling. I simply meant that there was friction and tension in the team.

They should be playing and aren't and there are those who are playing and think that others should be also playing.

By this time the whole business might be cleared up, at least I hope so. I too am a Maine baseball fan and am behind the team one-hundred percent!

Sincerely yours,
Maxwell Burry Jr.

Pastimers Lead Series; Away For Two Clashes, Home Against Bowdoin

By PHIL MERRITHUE

With only a week left in the regular baseball season, the Maine squad has just three games left to play. The Bears will meet New Hampshire and Bates away and will wind up the season playing Bowdoin on Alumni Field, May 26.

Although to date he has had little opportunity to use them, Anderson has a trio of sophomores he can send in for relief. Dan Dearborn, one of the second year men, has had one start and defeated Rhode Island 4-2. Other members of the second year crew are Bill Nicholson and Wayne Bartlett.

Last week the Bears ended the afternoon session of Maine day by trouncing Colby, 12-2. Maine blasted three Colby pitchers to take sole possession of the State Series sun-birth.

Bear twirler Charlie Otterstedt scattered five hits in the game and held the Mules to just one hit in the last six frames.

"Tiger" Soyachak, Gerry Wright, and Gene Scribner were the big men at the plate for Maine, each getting two hits. First baseman Kevin Cadieux smacked a triple, Maine's longest hit of the day.

On Friday Maine strengthened their lead in the state competition by downing Bates 7-1.

The Maine Men picked up their fourth State Series victory in five starts. The Bears picked up seven consecutive hits in the first inning before a man was retired and scored five runs.

Gus Folsom, ace Maine hurler, allowed one Bates run in the first, but then pitched eight scoreless innings.

Bear Golfers Runners-Up In YanCon Finals

Coach Charlie Emery's varsity golf squad will close out its 1955 golf season next week, playing host to Bowdoin, Bates, and Colby in the State Tournament on Monday, and then traveling to Brunswick to wind up the season with a match against Bowdoin.

Tomorrow the Maine combination will meet Colby on the Penobscot Valley Country Club course at 1:30 p.m. The Bears met Bates yesterday but the results of the match were not available for this week's edition.

The State Tournament, scheduled for 9:00 a.m. Monday, should give the Bears a lot of red-hot competition. Although the Emerymen have defeated the other Maine colleges during the regular season, the tournament will definitely test the Maine talent.

Last week end the Bears competed in the New England and Yankee Conference championships held at Watertown, Mass. Al Noyes paced the Maine combination and qualified for the semi-finals. However, he was beaten in the elimination by a 3-2 verdict.

Noyes was runner-up to the medal of the New England, Paul Butler. Noyes posted a 73 while Butler won with a low 72.

Maine tied for fourth place in the New England Intercollegiate race while they came in second behind Vermont in the Yankee Conference matches. Last year the Bears placed fourth in Conference play.

Coach Emery said that he was "very pleased" with the performances handed in by the members of the squad and noted that this year was Maine's most successful season in seven years.

Team In Preparation For New Englands To Be Held At Lewiston On Saturday

The University of Maine outdoor track and field team will close out its 1955 season in the New England Track Championships which start tomorrow.

25 Colleges Entered

In the meet, which will be held at Bates College in Lewiston, the Bears will be competing with 25 other New England colleges and universities. Starting on Friday and running through Saturday the Jenkinsmen will be facing crack track squads in all the regular college track and field events.

Maine's hopes lie in the talents of those men who have consistently won points in previous meets. Dave Smith, Paul Firlotte, Stan Furrow, and Bill Calkin are among the men Coach Jenkins is counting on to grab honours for the Maine combination.

After the New Englands, the regular season officially closes. However, many members of the squad are planning to compete in the State A.A.U. meet which will be held here on Alumni Field on Tuesday, May 24.

Last Saturday the Jenkinsmen traveled to Kingston, R. I., for the annual Yankee Conference championships held at the University of Rhode Island.

Bears Place Third

The Bears brought home third place in the meet behind winner Rhode Island and runner-up New Hampshire. Trailing behind Maine were Connecticut, Massachusetts, and Vermont.

Coach Jenkins was very pleased with the performances of the squad and noted that practically every man performed better than he had in previous meets. However, the brilliant efforts of such men as Rhode Island's Bob Taylor and Kazar Apkarian and New Hampshire's Don Crandall kept the Bears in the number three slot.

Rhode Island, one of the top track powers in this part of the country, swept the meet to give them eight consecutive wins in the annual event.

New Records

In the meet five new records were set. Maine's veteran weight man Dave (Zip) Smith broke the previous javelin record of 179' 8" by seven feet.

Bob Sands of Rhode Island and Maine's Bill Calkin were the meet's only double winners. Sands equalled the meet records in the 220 and 100 yard dashes and Calkin copped the 120 yard and 220 yard hurdle events.

Five Tennis Matches In Seven Days

By WALTER IRWIN

Coach Garland Russell's varsity netmen will face the biggest week of the present campaign with five matches scheduled in the next seven days.

This afternoon the Russellmen will try and get in a match with Colby at Waterville. The match was originally scheduled for last Saturday but was washed out after Maine had taken a 2-1 lead.

Face Mules

Friday afternoon Maine will once again take on the Mules when they make a return trip to Orono.

Monday State Series play takes over the Maine college scene when the State Series Singles Champion of 1955 will be crowned at Orono. Matches start at 9:30 in the morning and are all singles matches.

The two top singles players from Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, and Maine will vie for the title. Maine's chances will lie in the hands of Yankee Conference Singles Champion Brooks Whitehouse and veteran racquetman Don Mott.

Stiff Competition

After their showing in the Yankee Conference matches two weeks ago, the Bears have a good chance to win but can expect some stiff opposition from defending champion Bowdoin.

On Tuesday the Russellmen once again take to the clay courts, this time against the Polar Bear of Bowdoin. Then on Thursday, the Maine men will close out the 1955 season at Brunswick in a return match with Bowdoin.

Last Monday afternoon Maine won their first match of the season, downing New Hampshire by a score of 7 and 2 in a Yankee Conference match. Maine had previously lost to the Wildcats at Durham by a score of 5 and 3.

Different Story

At Orono it was a different story however, as Capt. Brooks Whitehouse, Don Mott, Neville Bittar, Richie Alin, and Lou Janicola all won singles matches as partners Whitehouse and Mott and Kates and Alin combined to take two out of three doubles matches.

Within The Walls

As the Campus goes to press, barring postponements, a fraternity and dormitory team have been crowned Intramural Softball Champions for 1955, but results were not available this week.

Finals Scheduled

In the fraternity loop, semi-final games scheduled for last Tuesday evening were Phi Eta against Phi Mu and Beta against Lambda Chi. The winners of these two games met last night for the title.

On their way to the semi-finals, Phi Eta defeated ATO, 8-1, Tau Ep, 14-1 and Kappa Sig, 17-3, while Phi Mu beat Theta Chi, 25-15, and Phi Gam, 5-4.

Meanwhile the records for the other teams include Lambda Chi defeating Delta Tau, 10-6, and Sigma Nu, 15-11, and Beta defeating Alpha Gam and Phi Kap, 9-0.

Quarterfinal games scheduled for the dormitory division last Monday evening included: Faculty vs. Dunn 1, Dunn 4 vs. Corb 1, So. Apts vs. Cabins, and Freeloaders vs. W. Oak. Here are some past dorm scores:

Dunn 4, 5 Dunn 3, 4
Corb 1, 17 Corb 3, 3
So. Apts 14 Corb 2, 2
Freeloaders 13 Corb 4, 12

Major Letters For Rifle Team

The University of Maine Rifle team has completed a successful season, winding up with a final tally of 28-9 and now running off an intrasquad handicap match.

This year the squad posted an overall record of 28-9. In the New England College Rifle League matches the team won 7 and lost 3 and in other competition the sharpshooters won 21 and lost 6.

Last week the Athletic Board granted the team major letters. The requirements for earning a major letter in the sport are as follows:

(a) For acquiring an average score of 270 or more while shooting in at least 75% of New England College Rifle League matches that the team participates in during the season.
(b) For any team member acquiring a score of 280 or more in the N.E.C.R.L. sectional shoot-off or in the finals, providing that the firer participates in 75% of the N.E.C.R.L.

Fraternities Progressing Says Dean John Stewart

University fraternities have progressed considerably in many ways in the past few years, according to Dean of Men John E. Stewart.

Stewart, speaking at a meeting of the Faculty Council Monday, May 16, said they have come a long way in spirit, rushing, initiations, and in relations with the rest of the University.

Compliment Fraternities

He complimented on their development as fraternities in the past few years. He said they were becoming more than the boarding houses they tended to be after the war.

Two areas he felt still need improvement are developing better understanding of the University and its policies and improving the area of social functions.

He said he could usually make the University's position clear to small groups of fraternity men, but most of the fraternity members never really hear reasons behind University policy.

Other Business

In other business, the Calendar committee presented the tentative 1956-57 University calendar which presently contains no major changes over that for 1955-56.

Favorable Report On Radio Station WORO
