Thinclads Aim For Nationals, Capture New England Crown

After sweeping the New England Collegiate cross-country meet three days ago, Coach Chester Jenkins' widely heralded thinclads have been prepping for the national championship meet at Courtland Park in New York City Monday.

Jenkins says hopes for Maine winning the nationals are very slim, because many of the athletes who will be competing against Maine are attending college on full athletic scholarships.

Jenkins noted that schools offering these scholarships "buy" runners who can be classed as "professionals" as compared to the Maine trackmen who participate solely because of desire to compete with other teams.

Top Contenders

Top contenders for the national title are Cornell, Villanova, and Manhattan. Other teams considered by Jenkins to be particularly outstanding are Army, Pittsburgh, Penn State, St. Johns, North Carolina, Maryland, Michigan State, and Syracuse.

In a recent meet Cornell downed the University of Pennsylvania, Princeton, Columbia, Dartmouth, Yale, and Harvard with a very low score of 36 points.

Defending Champs

Manhattan, defending national champion, is unbeaten this season. The Manhattan squad has posted low scores over all their opponents this year and is considered to be at the top of the ranks.

The other favorite in the meet is Villanova. Three imported European runners provide Villanova with one of the strongest teams in a number of years. Ken Delany, Irish half-mile champion, and Alan Breckenridge, Scottish distance champion, are the key men on the squad.

Jenkins said that the meet will give spectators a fine opportunity to watch some of the better amateur distance runners in the world perform. Pittsburgh's Sowell, King of N.Y.U. and Courtney of Manhattan are all excellent runners. Sowell and Courtney have both come within a tenth of a second of the world's record in the half and quarter mile.

Firlotte Wins Again

Paul Firlotte, three time winner of the Yankee Conference cross-country title, led a field of more than 100 runners Monday at Franklin Park in Boston to win the New England Collegiate Cross Country Meet. Firlotte flashed over the 4 3/4 mile course in 24 minutes and 24 seconds.

Four other members of Coach Jenkins' championship squad finished among the top 15 runners to give the Bears a total team score of 42, the lowest score since Rhode Island won the New England in 1942.

Finishing for the Pale Blue Harriers were:

1. Paul Firlotte
7. Stan Furrow
9. Dick Law
10. Dan Rearick
15. Paul Hanson

Stolen Eisenstaedt Photo Returned To Art Exhibit

By DAVE CAREY

A photograph, one of 150 selected prints on display in the Louis Oakes Room of the library by the well-known photographer Alfred Eisenstaedt, was maliciously torn from the walls of the room last Wednesday evening less than ten hours after the exhibit opened.

The photograph, part of an exhibit scheduled to be shown in only eight other places throughout the country, was discovered missing at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday, November 2.

It's Back

The missing Eisenstaedt photograph has been returned. It arrived at Professor Hartgen's office just before the Campus went to press Wednesday afternoon. It was returned through the campus mail, and arrived in a plain, unmarked envelope. Reportedly in good condition, it was not known at press time whether or not the "Shapely Miss" would rejoin the Eisenstaedt exhibit.

Prof. Hartgen also pointed out that the administration has no intention of punishing the guilty party. The main concern was to get the picture back intact.

Ride Pool Planned

A Thanksgiving ride pool column will be published by the Campus next week for the benefit of students who are in need of transportation home.

Persons will contribute information on a sheet on the Bookstore, Administration Building and the Union Building.

Eight Coeds In Quest Of Queen Title

Annual Ball And Fair Saturday

By John Littlefield

Balloting for eight Calico Queen candidates, livestock showings, contests and exhibits will highlight the annual Farmers Fair and Calico Ball this Saturday in the field house.

The fair, sponsored by the Agricultural Club, will get underway at 9:30 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. The Calico Ball in the Memorial Gym is from 8-12 p.m.

Eight Candidates

Students will have a chance to vote for the queen candidates all day Saturday at the prize booth in the field house.

The queen will be crowned during intermission at the dance. The crowning will take place at approximately 10 p.m.

New Features

The fair has several firsts this year. One of the new features will be the grease pole booth. Students will attempt to climb a greased pole with a prize awaiting the person who reaches the top.

4-H Clubs from around the state will also compete in livestock judging and other contests at the fair for the first time this year.

The hayride Hack, a taxi service between the women's dormitories and the field house is also new.

The day-long tractor driving derby and a college livestock show will get the program underway at 9:30 a.m.

Other events scheduled are F.F.A. sheep judging, 10 a.m.; poultry judging, 11 a.m.; F.F.A. and 4-H Livestock Judging, 12 noon; lunch, 12 to 1 p.m.; girls bucksawing, 1 p.m.; boys bucksawing, 1:15 p.m.; boys and girls crosscut sawing, 1:30 p.m.; cow milking contest for coeds, queen candidates and faculty beginning at 2 p.m.; cake auction, 2:30 p.m.; three legged race, 2:45 p.m.; Sack race, 3 p.m.; barrel rolling contest, 3:15 p.m.; and pie eating contest 3:30 p.m.

Booths in the field house will feature such contests as the grease pole, nail driving, darts, spill the milk, penny pitch, basketball, and roll the ball. The Maine Outing Club will also sponsor a booth and there will be concession and prize booths.

Alumni Gives Sailing Club Six New Racing Dinghies

By MILT HUNTINGTON

The University of Maine Sailing Club has received six international 12 foot fiber-glass and aluminum racing dinghies from University alumni.

Although the Sailing Club had no boats of their own up to this time, they have come up with some impressive showings against top-notch New England teams, using their opponents' boats to compete. The Maine Club, formed in 1950 has won four state championships. They have competed with such teams as Bates, Colby, Vermont, Bowdoin, Harvard, Tufts, MIT, Brown, Coast Guard, McGill, and Middlebury.

Record Impressive

Impressed by their record, the Maine alumni became interested and set out to see that this club had their own boats.

The Maine Alumni Club of Rhode Island presented one dingy, the "Little Rhodie" in memory of Norman Mayo '09.

The Boston Alumni donated another boat, the "Boston Belle" in honor of the present vice president of Maine, Charles Crossland '17.

Raymond Fogler '15 presented the "Washington Belle."

Bear Dinghy

Another craft was given by Carl Bruege '18 in memory of Frank Bawerman '00. The dingy was named "Black Bear of Rhode Island."

Alfred Lingley '20 donated the "Admiral Frank W. Fenno" '23 in memory of his parents.

Henry Carey '22 presented the "Raymond H. Folger" '15 in memory of Carey's father.

These dinghies are valued at $770 and are all registered for inter-collegiate racing, synonymous with those used by the service academies.

Start In 1950

The University Sailing Club materialized in 1950 as an informal activity not recognized by the University. As an informal team the Club came up with a good record during the next three years.

In 1953 they were recognized as a probationary non-athletic organization and in 1954 they became a recognized University non-athletic organization. Last spring they were finally recognized by the Athletic Board as an athletic team and eligible for minor sports.

Next spring Commodore John Lee '57 and the Sailing Club will host in the Orono area teams from Massachusetts, Vermont, and New York.

M Club To Meet

Movies of the Maine-Connecticut football game will be shown at a meeting of the University's M Club Wednesday evening at 7 p.m. in the Lown room of the Union.

The admission price will be $.25.

Maine Enters Practice Debate

By MARIANNE SCHMIDT

The Maine Intercollegiate Practice Debate Tournament will be held Saturday, November 12, at Colby College. The debate season opener will include teams from Bates, Bowdoin, Colby, and the University.

Three rounds of discussion debate on the proposition: "Resolved that the non-agricultural industries of the United States should guarantee their employees an annual wage" will be judged for the purpose of evaluation only. No winner will be selected.

Maine's three affirmative teams include Cora Coggins and Zane Thompson, Frank Grant and Lester Reid, and Larry Ronco and Carl N. Brooks. Three negative teams are composed of Richard Barter and James Hamblen, James Conley and Joseph Pelletier, and Courtney Sargent and Nathan Rich.

Faculty members who will accompany the teams are Miss Gladys Crane, Prof. Wofford Gardner, and Prof. William Whiting.

The Maine Intercollegiate Practice Debate Tournament is one of four events which Maine's four major colleges will hold. One event will be held at each college. In January a discussion will be held at Bowdoin. A forensic festival will take place in March at Bates and in April the University will sponsor a novice debate tournament.

Niven Named National Chairman

Prof. Lewis Niven has been named state chairman of the National Association of Teachers of Singing at a meeting of the Maine chapter in Carnegie Hall.

The main part of the program was a contemporary concert presented by the music department.

Sing Solos

Jane Ernst, soprano, and Charles Fassett, tenor, sang solos.

Prof. William Sleeper played two movements of the Charles Ives' First Sonata for piano.

The major part of the entertainment was a demi-opera by Jeanelle McKee, "The Collector's Piece," with Jane Ernst, Sylvia MacKenzie, Charles Fassett, and Roger Sprague in the cast. They were accompanied by Sleeper, and coached by Prof. Niven.

State Chairman

At present, Prof. Niven is also state chairman of a committee of music in higher education, and of a committee of contemporary music which includes all schools on the east coast.

Do your part through Good Will. A $2 donation will pay for a day's care at WUS International Rest Center in Combloux, France.

Nearly 3000 Alumni Back Homecoming Weekend

The theme of the Homecoming Decoration contest was "Beat Bowdoin and Welcome Home, Alumni." Well, Bowdoin was beaten 54-8, and nearly 3000 alumni returned for the two-day Homecoming program.

The University Band led the traditional parade across campus Friday evening and a "Beat Bowdoin" rally was held in the Memorial Gym, followed by songs around an outdoor bonfire.

Stag Dance

Mel Tukey and his band played for the dance which followed the rally at the gym. The dance was sponsored by the Senior Skulls and All-Maine Women societies. The Maine Masque presented "Time Out For Ginger" at the Little Theatre and the Memorial Union held open house for the alumni the same night.

Saturday morning the freshman and sophomore women and the alumnae and undergraduate women played field hockey on the Women's Athletic Field.

Six racing dinghies given by alumni and alumni groups were on display Saturday morning. The dinghies comprise the University's new sailing fleet.

Phi Kap Wins

Phi Kappa Sigma won the fraternity division of the Homecoming Decoration contest, with honorable mention in this division going to Lambda Chi Alpha, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, and Sigma Phi Epsilon. In the women's dormitory division, Colvin Hall won first prize and Chadbourne Hall received honorable mention. Hart Hall won first prize for men's dormitories and North Dorms took second place.

Saturday evening the Masque presented its final performance of "Time

Out For Ginger" while all the fraternities welcomed their alumni.

Bear Awards

A lobster stew luncheon was served Saturday noon when more than 400 alumni witnessed the awarding of the 1955 Black Bear Awards given in recognition of "devotion and loyalty to the high tradition of the University of Maine." The awards were made to Mrs. Emilie Ritter Josselyn, '21, of Yonkers, N. Y., and John L. McCobb, '25, of Auburn.

The 1915 cross country team was also honored at the luncheon. The five living members of the team and the coach occupied seats of honor. The team won the Maine and New England championships and then defeated Dartmouth for the national title that year.

Notorious 'Sal' Of Chadbourne Dies

"Sal," the notorious shadow behind the drawn shade on third floor Chadbourne Hall is no longer with us.

"Sal's" popularity, due to a "highly proportional" chassis, led to her destruction. Pressure from junior residents, fired by momentous interest on the part of the male student body, was responsible for the cremation last week of the "naughty lady of Chadbourne Hall."

"Sal," if you will remember, was the cardboard replica of typical womanhood, constructed by the ingenious coeds of Chadbourne's third floor.

French Club To Meet

The French Prefect of Versailles, Monsieur Maljeans, will speak at the next meeting of the French Club.

A student interpreter will be on hand to translate the Prefect's speech.

The date for the meeting will be announced shortly.

Sorority Rushing Starts Sunday

It's sorority rushing time again. Officially rushing will start Sunday.

The rushing period will be two weeks. All freshman women who register for rushing will be invited to after dinner dates during the first week. Special invitations will be sent out for the second week of dinner dates and for the final parties which are held after the Thanksgiving recess.

Dinner Dates

Rushing parties or after dinner dates will be held in the various sorority meeting rooms and will last 45 minutes.

The second week invitations will be delivered to off-campus women by a Panhellenic representative. They will not be picked up at Dean Wilson's office.

Freshmen will sign their sorority preference on December 6 and will receive their bids on December 7. Pledging will be on December 12.

Offer Basic Course In Driver Education

A basic course in driver education will be given for teachers and potential teachers at the University during the Christmas recess, Dec. 19-23.

Upon successful completion of the course, a certified teacher may apply for a certificate to teach driver education in high schools. The certificate, if received, is valid for five years.

Registration will be limited to 30. The first class meeting will be in the Plant Science building at 8 a.m., December 19.

Tuition and registration will be $15. Room and board will be $16.

Maine Masque Will Produce Musical Comedy

"Good News," a musical comedy, will be the Maine Masque's second presentation of the season according to Masque director Prof. Herschel Bricker.

The plot of "Good News" revolves around the wild and hectic days of the 1920's, when hip flasks, raccoon coats and the Charleston were popular. The play promises to be highly amusing.

Canterbury Club Holds Marriage Discussion

Marriage was the topic of discussion Wednesday evening at a meeting of the Canterbury Club.

Dr. Katherine Miles, professor of Home Economics, and Sociologist William Sezak addressed the members on the subject.

Pat Rogers represented the young mother's viewpoints and Ed Salmon represented the prospective father.

A Music Night will be held Wednesday, Nov. 19.

Father Mason has announced that inquirer's classes will begin during the first weeks in December. Anyone who would like to investigate the Episcopal Church or prepare for Confirmation is invited to contact Father Mason at the Canterbury House.

Return That Photograph!

Sometime last Wednesday evening, a photograph was removed from the exhibit in the Louis Oakes Room at the Library. The picture was literally ripped off its mounting.

The person or persons who took the photograph have jeopardized all future exhibits in the Louis Oakes Room in addition to possibly cancelling the present one.

Furthermore, the culprit has given Maine a black eye, as far as prospective exhibitors are concerned. For instance, if a photographic display cannot be returned intact to its owner, what will happen to pieces of future exhibits?

The photographs in the Louis Oakes Room now are the work of Alfred Eisenstaedt, one of the finest photographers in the United States.

This particular exhibit is being shown in only nine galleries in the U. S.—Maine being one of the fortunate few.

Much credit is due to Professor Vincent Hartgen for bringing the display to Maine. Professor Hartgen is understandably concerned over the loss of the Eisenstaedt photo.

The exhibit is no longer complete because of the missing picture.

WHOEVER TOOK THE PICTURE MUST RETURN IT WITHIN TEN DAYS!

If it is not returned, the present display will be cancelled and there won't be any more art exhibits in the Louis Oakes Room.

In addition, Maine's reputation for care of loaned exhibits will take a nose dive.

The photo can be returned anonymously, by mail or messenger.

No effort will be made to penalize the culprit—just get the photo back—that's all we are asking!

Who Likes Noodles?

Beef and noodles, cheese and noodles and just plain noodles seem to dominate the menus at the cafeterias on campus. "Oodles of noodles, but no food" is the latest word from disgruntled diners at the cafeterias.

The major variation seems to be carloads of roast beef. This item (the roast beef) might be very popular with the cooks, but it is obvious that the students don't appreciate beef, beef and more beef! It comes sliced, diced, cubed, and tatooed. It still tastes the same and the best way to kill the taste is to drown it in ketchup. If you don't like ketchup you'll soon be on a starvation diet. If noodles don't sit well with your stomach, you've had it also.

Indigestion around campus is not uncommon.

In fact, if the chow doesn't improve pretty soon, stomach upsets will be the rule rather than the exception!

Since we students are paying hard cash for meals, it's our right to register a complaint if the food isn't up to par. The general consensus (male and female) is that "the food is terrible."

What is the matter?

Many factors enter into the situation. Could be the chef doesn't know his stuff when it comes to seasoning. The meat cutter fouls up and causes poor cuts to be presented to the irritated cook. Buying of stocks can also determine the waste and production of meals.

The planning of the menu, utilizing fresh vegetables and properly prepared meat can make or break a meal.

Something is amiss and it is pertinent for us to bring the situation to the attention of those concerned.

Perhaps you've heard the old story about Army cooks. "An Army cook can take the best steak in the world and turn it into an indigestible mess."

Since we have not had any steak, yet, we cannot vouch for its destruction by the campus cook, but it is a fact that they are upholding some warped tradition by managing to grind out the meals they've cooked up recently.

We suggest therefore that the proper officials take note of the present conditions and meals and try to make a few improvements.

The Chatterbox

'Little Things Mean A Lot'

The magic world of "little things" constantly overshadows the planned events of our lives. The magic hits our hearts and leaves its scar... don't you remember the movie date when you tried to eat pop corn without making any noise... the stark coldness when you stepped into a November puddle... the soothing incongruity of the person who remains completely absorbed in his work while everyone else in the Reference Room is "buzzin" and "gawking"... how much cleaner the night time seems to you after a day of rain... the lonely feeling of "not belonging" at a table in the Bear's Den... the pointless desire to try for the very last "slur-ur-ur-ur-sp-p" of that ice cream soda... the forlorn darkness of the kerchief which has been worn in the rain.

And haven't you had that "shook" feeling when you "stole a peek" and he was, too.

And can't you just see the person you'd like to speak to most and dare to least.

And those speeches—those beautiful speeches—which you make on the way home from seeing your girl... the unbearable infinity of a "busy" signal... the sound of bells—never so horrible as when the alarm clock "dangs" away in the morning, but at Easter and Christmas—well, that's another thing!

And don't you know how your thoughts wander when the "juke-box" plays a certain tune and you find yourself in a place and time so very far away, yet, for that moment, the whole scene is reconstructed.

Doctor Should Be On Duty

To the Editor:

A serious situation occurred over the week end which I think should certainly be remedied in future years.

The staffing of the Infirmary, to my way of thinking, was entirely inadequate. The campus at Homecoming is flooded with many more people than at any other time of the year.

There are also a greater number of cars, and a larger group of people driving them who aren't in any condition to be behind the wheel.

It seems that instead of having no doctor on duty throughout the night, it might be wiser to have one of our two doctors on hand in case of any emergency. This appears to be the practice on other campuses on big week ends, and the policy seems to be a more sane way of thinking.

NAME WITHHELD

Our sincere thanks to the members of the fraternities and sororities at the University for one of the nicest Hallowe'en celebrations the children of Orono have ever had.

We appreciate the time, effort and expense involved which made these parties such a tremendous success. We realize that you must have had the cooperation of every member in order to make parties as large as these such enjoyable affairs.

The youngsters had one of the happiest and safest celebrations we can recall.

Campus Quotes

BY JOANNE LARSEN
AND WAYNE JOHNSON

Question: Why don't more students attend Maine Masque productions?

Answers:

Mimi Turran, class of 1957, says students don't realize the value of Masque productions and some feel they will be mocked if they attend.

Irving (Baldy) Fletcher, class of 1958, reminds us that many students are busy with displays for Homecoming as well as having other conflicting interests.

Mary Bennett, class of 1957, says that if you could purchase your season tickets at registration many more students would buy them and not notice the expense during the year.

Tom Horne, class of 1959, would like to see admissions fees for the four Masque productions included on the activities cards.

Sue Maguire, a sophomore, thinks students are afraid the shows will be high-brow and as a result wouldn't enjoy a show that sounds dramatic.

Junior Franny Dresser feels that students put the Masque productions second and third in line to other activities they feel are more important. They don't realize how hard students work to produce the shows, she says.

Sumner Richards, a senior, questions the amount of publicity and says more students would attend if the shows were pushed harder.

Anne Keyo, also a senior, feels that the students would prefer to pay for the shows at the beginning of the year on the general activities cards.

Society: Homecoming Weekend Sets Maddening Social Pace

BY CAL GERALD

Campus social life is beginning to settle down after the mad Homecoming whirl here last weekend. Parties, stag dances, jam sessions, buffet suppers, banquets and the rally kept everyone busy for a couple of days. All these activities in addition to the game made the weekend a roaring success.

After the rally Friday night things were officially under way when a tremendous crowd turned out for the stag dance sponsored by the All-Maine Women and the Senior Skulls. Mel Tukey and his orchestra played for the students at the Memorial Gym.

The alumni were welcomed back at TEP Friday night at a buffet supper for alumni, members and guests. The supper was followed by a vic dance, with Irwin "Injun" Hyman in charge. Chaperons were Prof. and Mrs. Theodore Weiler and Prof. and Mrs. Alfred Pellegrino.

Jack McDonough and his orchestra provided the music at Alpha Gam's Homecoming dance Saturday. Mrs. Gertrude Hinkley and Mr. and Mrs. George Dow chaperoned. Bob Parker was in charge of arrangements.

A buffet supper and dance welcomed the alumni at Delta Tau. Terry Keef and his orchestra played at the dance and at the jam session which preceded the supper. Mrs. Marion Barron and Prof. and Mrs. Douglas Wylie chaperoned, with Henry Morton in charge of the affair.

Phi Eta's alumni were honored at a banquet after the game Saturday and Chuck Klyne and his orchestra played for the dance which followed. Duane Dow is social chairman, and chaperons were Prof. and Mrs. Fred Lamoreau and Mrs. Annis Cook.

Prof. and Mrs. Samuel Sezak and Mrs. Helen Meeks chaperoned at ATO's dance Saturday evening. Sammy Saliba and his band played for the crowd after the buffet supper. Pledges at the house presented a skit during the evening, and Pete Tougas was in charge of the proceedings.

Phi Kap's Skull Dance followed a buffet supper at the house Saturday. Dale Whitney and orchestra furnished music, and Bill Sterritt supervised the arrangements. Prof. and Mrs. Henry Allen and Mrs. Isabell Gatchell chaperoned.

Bowdoin's Polar Bear Five rocked SAE at the jam session after the game Saturday and at the dance which followed the buffet supper. Ed Tonneson was in charge, and Sgt. and Mrs. John Guimond and Mrs. Charlotte Gradie chaperoned.

After the buffet supper in honor of the alumni at Sigma Chi, Mel Tukey and his orchestra played for the crowd. During the evening the pledges presented a skit. Norm Roux is social chairman and chaperons were

Prof. and Mrs. Stuart Gross and Mrs. Mary Pray.

Lloyd Rafnell's band provided the beat at Phi Mu's Homecoming dance Saturday. The dance followed the buffet supper held in honor of the alumni. The pledges at the house gave a skit during the dance. Ken Rand was in charge of the affair, with Prof. and Mrs. George Clifford and Mrs. Gertrude Perry, chaperons.

Tom Tear, Phi Gam's cook for the past 35 years, prepared a buffet supper Saturday night at the castle. Later, Dick Keiso and his orchestra furnished music for the dance. Ron Appel was in charge. Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Curtis and Mrs. Martha Tate chaperoned.

After a buffet supper at Sigma Nu Saturday, Don Winslow and his band played for the dance. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Barnes and Prof. and Mrs. Fay Hyland chaperoned, with Gordon Smith in charge.

TKE entertained the alumni at a dinner before the game and Saturday night the couples danced to the music of Bob Brochu and his orchestra. Dave Switzer was in charge of the affair and chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Jutras and Mrs. Winifred McLean.

Saturday, TEP gave a luncheon in honor of the alumni and after the game there was a touch football game with the alumni at the house. In the evening, the couples danced to recorded music and the pledges presented a skit. "Injun" Hyman was in charge and chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Weeks, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John Nichols.

The Mainiacs supplied music at Lambda Chi's jam session after the game, and a buffet supper followed. In the evening, Sam Viner and his band took over the music department, and a pledge skit was presented. Honored guests were Mr. and Mrs.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young engineer decides what colors are best for G-E reflector lamps

Which color of light makes people look natural? Should a blue light be used more often than a red? What kind of effect does a violet light have on merchandise?

In recent years, color lighting has become so important in stores, restaurants, theaters, and displays that General Electric developed a line of new easy-to-use color-reflector lamps for this market.

The man responsible for deciding which colors are most effective for users of these lamps is 29-year-old Charles N. Clark, Application Engineering Color Specialist for General Electric's large lamp department.

Clark's Work Is Interesting, Important

In a recent series of tests, Clark made a critical appraisal of literally hundreds of color-filter materials to find the ones that produced maximum results but were still suitable to high-production techniques, practical stocking and simplified selling. This experimental work also had to take into account all the information on human perception of color.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Clark came to General Electric in 1949, he already knew the work he wanted to do. Like each of the 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given his chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: When fresh, young minds are given freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

CHARLES N. CLARK joined G.E. in 1949 after receiving his B.S. and M.S. (in E.E.) from the University of Wisconsin. He served two years with the Navy during World War II.

MCI Deadlocks Cub Gridders In Final Game Of '55 Season

The University of Maine freshmen wound up the 1955 season Friday, tying Maine Central Institute, 7-7. MCI tackle Jim Roby scored a touchdown with just two minutes remaining in the game to deadlock the score.

Roby dashed 35 yards for the tally after jarring Bobby Bower with a smashing tackle knocking the ball out of Bower's hands. Roby grabbed the ball and went the distance for the tying touchdown.

Bower On Long Run

The frosh set up their T.D. when Bower broke loose on a 65 yard run around right end to put the Bear Cubs on the MCI ten yard stripe. Halfback Doug Champeon crashed through on an off-tackle two plays later for the touchdown and Don Hashey rushed the extra point.

Bear Facts

By MAX BURRY

With the final whistle on Alumni Field Saturday afternoon passed another colorful University of Maine football season. The championship Black Bears stormed Bowdoin, 54-8, to win their third consecutive State Series title and the 31st Maine championship since the Series started.

Taking a last glance back over the season before we turn to basketball, let's evaluate each grid battle:

RHODE ISLAND—In their first game of the schedule the Bears took the field against a tried Rhody club. In the game played at Kingston, rain and mud plagued both clubs, but the Rams tipped the scales with a touchdown and turned back Coach Westerman's combination with a 7-0 verdict.

VERMONT—The first home game saw the revenge-hungry Bears blank Vermont 34-0. The squad started slow but picked up steam late in the first period and went on to score touchdowns in both the first and second frames. Vermont fought back after the half and held the Bears at bay, but in the fourth period Maine smashed through the Catamount defense and put the ball into the end zone three times.

NEW HAMPSHIRE—On what Coach Hal Westerman called the "wettest, muddiest field we've ever played on," the Bears led UNH 6-0 for 58 minutes only to have the Wildcats bounce back to tie the game in the final moments of play. New Hampshire was in its own territory and it was fourth down and 12 yards to go when Charlie Caramahalis tossed a pass to Dick Gleason who dashed 40 yards for the tying touchdown. A heartbreaker to say the least!

CONNECTICUT—The Pale Blue squad capitalized on a UConn fumble for the initial tally and a Huskie aerial for the second touchdown. Outstanding in the game was end Thurlow Cooper. Cooper's brilliant defensive rushing combined with his kicking and ball-carrying performances amazed the 6,500 fans at Alumni Field. Connecticut set up a strong defense, but was unable to stop the determined Bears from scoring. Three tremendous goal line stands highlighted the action-packed tilt.

BATES—Bob Hatch's crew almost upset the football Bears, but Roger Miles booted two field goals and a conversion to save the day for Maine. Statistically Maine overwhelmed Bates but the fired up Bobcats set up a forward wall that proved to be almost too tough for the Maine squad to crack. Bates held off two Maine touchdown threats, but Ray Hostetter managed to ram through the Bates line for the only Pale Blue tally. Ed Soper blocked a "Cat" punt which resulted in a safety giving the Bears a two point margin in the 15-13 battle.

COLBY—In the second State Series game Maine ran wild over the Mules with a 53-0 decision. It was Maine's game from start to finish and Colby never threatened. The Pale Blue reserves backed up the starters and played an important role in the lopsided contest. The bears rolled up 361 yards while Colby gained only 50.

BOWDOIN—In the final game of the season Maine smashed Bowdoin by a wide 54-8 margin. The homecoming crowd at Alumni Field watched the Maine linemen crash through the Polar Bear defense time after time in the Series battle. The hard-hitting Pale Blue line set up four of the eight Bear touchdowns on punt blocks. Three of these blocks resulted directly in T.D.'s on the same play, while the other came on the next play. Again the Maine reserves turned in excellent performances. Bowdoin never stopped trying, and did manage to score one touchdown, but the Polar Bears were no match for Coach Westerman's bruising gridiron machine.

So there it is, the 1955 season in a nutshell. The coaches, trainers, players, and all those people who gave their time and energy to the championship squad deserve the highest praise for a job well done. Congratulations, Bears.

Bears Grab Series Sunspot

Bowdoin ball carriers found it tough sledding against Hal Westerman's powerful forward wall last Saturday afternoon as this picture indicates. Here Maine linemen close in on a Polar Bear halfback as he approaches the line of scrimmage. Big Thurlow Cooper, 86, comes bounding in from his end position chasing the play.

Swamp Bowdoin Eleven 54-8 To Capture Third Straight Championship

By DON COOKSON

Maine closed the lid on a highly successful season Saturday, blasting Bowdoin, 54-8, and carving a third consecutive notch on the Governor Barrows Trophy. The Bears swamped Adam Walsh's charges before a damp but enthusiastic Homecoming crowd of 7600. From the moment Jack Small returned the opening kickoff to the final gun, the issue was not who would win, but what the point spread would be.

The Maine line was super-charged and the backfield jet-propelled despite the adverse playing conditions. Bowdoin, completely out-manned, set a modern record for futility. Four Bowdoin punts were smothered and converted into scores, setting an unofficial NCAA record.

Maine Strikes Early

Maine struck with fury in the opening quarter. Small returned Brud Stover's kickoff to the 20. A 31 yard ramble by Ray Hostetter, combined with Warren Griffin's slants off tackle, set up the first Pale Blue touchdown. With the ball on the Bowdoin 16, quarterback Jim Duffy slid off right end on the option and lateralled to Hostetter who was pulled down on the 5. Griffin drove off right tackle to score, Miles converted, and Maine was in business, 7-0.

Duffy electrified the gathering with a bit of magic at the 5 minute mark. Again it was the option that clicked—a maneuver that made the Bowdoin line look like men caught in a revolving door. Dapper Duff moved to his right, faked a handoff to Hostetter, cut down the right sideline and scored untouched. The play covered 87 yards. Cooper's attempted conversion was blocked by Stover.

With one minute remaining in the first period, Bowdoin fell into a rut that was to turn the game into a rout. Stover went back to punt from his own 30. Maine's great flankers, Paul Boucher and Thurlow Cooper soared in to block the kick, with Boucher scooping up the loose ball on the 20, and scoring. Bickford split the up-rights, giving Maine a 20 to 0 margin.

Norm Cole sifted through the porous Bowdoin line to grab another blocked punt midway through the second period. Cole ambled into the end zone from the 5, and Ol' reliable Roger Miles booted the extra point.

The final Maine TD before intermission was the result of a third punt miscue. Stover, the Polar Bears' persistent, if somewhat harassed quarterback, managed a pop fly this time. Big John Castor made a basket catch a la Willie Mays, and stepped across from the 13. Alumni and students alike thrilled to the monotony of it all. Bickford converted to give the Black Bears a substantial margin, 34-0.

Bowdoin Scores

Moments later, Bowdoin mustered its only scoring threat. Papacosma and Libby alternated to give the Walshmen a first down on the Maine 24. Sub quarterback Dick Drensek faded back, and tossed a desperation heave to Al Murray, Bowdoin end. Murray stole the ball from the grasp of two Maine defenders in the end-zone. The P.A.T. was missed and at halftime Maine led 34 to 6.

Hostetter, Small, and Griffin tore a demoralized Bowdoin line completely apart in the second half. Griffin was especially elusive, cutting off tackle for huge gains. These three, with Duffy directing traffic, drove to the Bowdoin 12 early in the third period. Duffy baffled the Polars with the option once more, and scored unmolested.

Thurlow Cooper, Maine's candidate for Little All-American honors, displayed his versatility midway through the third period. He blocked a fourth Stover punt on the Bowdoin 12, was rewarded when Duffy fired him a TD pass deep in the right end-zone, and completed the cycle with a successful placement.

The final Maine tally was chalked up by Hostetter in the fourth period. Westy, who had gone to his bench early in the preceding period, gave his Seniors one last crack at the boys from Bowdoin. A Griffin-Cooper pass to the Bowdoin 13, set the stage for three straight plunges by Hostetter. Roger Miles missed the conversion attempt. It was only the second conversion Miles had missed all season.

Bowdoin Safety

Bowdoin registered on a safety with exactly a minute left to play. A tremendous goal line stand by Maine gave the Bears possession on their own one. From that point a Bowdoin lineman crashed through to salvage two points—hardly compensation for the havoc that Maine raised all afternoon.

Westy's crew rolled up a composite 175-34 margin over all opponents. Maine's complete dominance over State Series foes made a shambles of the traditional battle for the Barrows trophy.

Captained by quarterback Jim Duffy and center-fullback Jack Small, the Maine squad certainly ranked as one of the best in the University's history. End to end, Cooper, Provencher, Cole, Kosty, Merrifield, Bickford and Boucher were impregnable. Bates was the only team to dent the forward wall for more than one touchdown.

With Duffy instigating the Maine T-party, the club was great both on the ground and in the air.

Firlotte Paces Harriers In Championship Meet

of the University of Massachusetts.

The "Ellsworth Express," who finished second to George Terry of Boston University a year ago, sprinted across the finish marker 15 yards ahead of Horn. Terry, slowed up by a kidney ailment, dropped to the eighth place berth after setting the early pace.

When the pack passed the two mile mark the race was clearly a five-man affair among Firlotte, Horn, Terry, Rod Boucher of Providence College, and Connecticut's Lew Steigleitz.

Hoop Practice Underway, First Tilt December 3

The 1955 edition of the University of Maine basketball squad began pre-season practice sessions last week. Fifteen men survived the first cut.

New head coach Harold "Woody" Woodbury is prepping the team for the first game of the 1955-56 season at Vermont December 3.

More Players

When football players Thurlow Cooper and Pete Kosty report for practice the squad will number 19 men. Other football players who didn't earn a varsity basketball letter last year, but will be out for the team this year are Archie Manoogian and Ken Parady.

Eight Lettermen

The six other lettermen besides Cooper and Kosty are Richie Alin, Gus Folsom, Sterling Huston, Bob Jones, Frank Smith, and Mike Polese. Returning non-lettermen are Dick Libby and Mike Latti.

Rounding out the squad are six players from last year's undefeated freshman team and a sophomore with no previous collegiate experience. The newcomer is Jack Whitmore, while the sophomores up from Coach Woodbury's frosh combination are Robert Arsenault, Stan Gass, Stuart Jackson, William MacHardy, and George Newhouse.

Co-captains for the Maine varsity will be Mike Polese and Gus Folsom. Polese was last season's high scorer, posting a 15.3 average. Both are seniors.

The Pale Blue quintet will play an 18 game schedule starting with Vermont December 3 and finishing up with Bowdoin on March 3. The first home game will be against Bowdoin December 7.

Horn finished second while Boucher outlasted Steigleitz for third.

Firlotte has amassed an impressive group of wins since he embarked on his distance running career at Ellsworth High School. At Ellsworth he won the New England Schoolboy cross country title. The record he has set at the University includes three consecutive Yankee Conference wins and a 17th in the national cross country meet last year. He has never lost a dual meet during four years of running at Maine.

Team Scores:

MAINE, 42, Providence, 68, Massachusetts, 83, Connecticut, 146, Northeastern, 153, MIT, 161, New Hampshire, 225, Rhode Island, 244, Springfield, 284, BU, 313, Coast Guard, 314, Tufts, 323, Brown, 325, Vermont 345.

The last time that Maine won the New England was in 1939, but Maine thinclads have captured 12 New England titles since 1913. The Pale Blue harriers swept three consecutive championships in the annual event in 1937, '38, and '39. Don Smith was the individual titlist in all three years.

Frosh Place Third

In the freshman meet, the Maine yearlings placed third, finishing behind Massachusetts and Rhode Island. Dale Besse crossed the finish line sixth while teammate Ralph Lehman finished eighth and Carl McDonald captured the number ten position.

Rhode Island's Tom Hill won the 2 1/4 mile race posting a time of 13:30.

Freshman Team Scores:

Massachusetts, 69, Rhode Island, 80, MAINE, 92, New Hampshire, 96, Connecticut, 153, Providence, 171, Springfield, 223, Brown, 254. Other teams competing in the frosh meet were Holy Cross, Vermont, and Boston College.

The two Maine teams, varsity and freshman, won a total of 17 medals at the meet, in addition to the permanent plaque awarded each year to the New England champions. The first five men to finish in both the varsity and cross country races were awarded medals, and the four varsity runners and three yearling runners who finished in the first ten places were also awarded medals.

Frosh Hoop Practice

Freshman basketball coach Jack Butterfield has announced that freshman practice will start Monday, November 14, at 5:30 p.m. Butterfield said all candidates are to report to the gym in suitable practice dress.

Intramural Official Says Phi Mu-Hart 1 Grid Rumors False

Harold Woodbury, head of the intramural athletic program, said Monday that rumors to the effect that the championship touch football game between Phi Mu Delta and Hart 1 has been called off are completely unfounded.

Never Scheduled

Woodbury told the Campus that the game was never scheduled because the teams couldn't get together on a time for the contest. He said that it was planned to play the game some afternoon during the week, but neither team could arrive at a date when the players would all be available.

Woodbury added that neither the fraternity champions or the dorm champs seemed to be too interested in meeting for the campus title. He noted that the two basketball candidates on the Phi Mu squad would not be permitted to play in the event that the game were scheduled.

Woodbury also mentioned the fact that cold weather has probably killed some of the interest in playing the game.

Cross-Country Team Gets Warm Welcome For Victory

Fevered throngs of University students gave the victorious New England Championship Maine cross-country team the most spontaneous welcome-back to campus seen here since pre-war days, Monday night.

Crowds of male students lined College Avenue and University roads while women students yelled from dormitory windows as the New England Champs rolled onto campus amid a procession of nearly 100 automobiles.

Big Parade

The parade snaked its way past the women's dorms, on past the male dormitories, past the book store to the Memorial Gym where the team bus was greeted by cheers and college songs.

Mayor Joe Boomer led the enthusiastic students in the Maine Stein Song and the Victory Song intermingled with spirited yells.

As the squad stepped off the bus, it was greeted by raging cheers and huge "welcome home" signs.

Victors Greeted

The victors were greeted previously at the Bangor railroad station by members of Phi Eta Kappa and arrived at the campus at approximately 11:15 p.m.

At the Memorial Gym impromptu speeches by the champs were received wholeheartedly by the cheering multitude. Coach Chester Jenkins, in his speech, remarked that this was the largest turn out he had seen in 28 years of coaching.

Union Movie

The Union movie this week is "Death of a Salesman," starring Frederick March, Mildred Dunnock and Kevin McCarthy.

Shows get underway at 7 and 9 p.m. Friday and Saturday in the Bangor Room. Admission is 10¢.

McGuire Urges Care In Placing Signs

Francis McGuire of the Plant and Facilities department has asked groups placing signs on trees around campus to use masking tape or string.

Nails driven into trees are likely to impair their health, he said.

McGuire also asked students not to place thumbtacks on any University doors.

Among projects of the plant and facilities department in November will be the erection of a winter vestibule on the southwest exit of the Memorial Gymnasium; the tearing down of the old greenhouse next to the new addition to the experiment station across from the Library; and the replacing of new granite curbstones in front of Colvin and North and South Estabrooke Halls.
