Annual Spring Holiday Features Parade, Projects

BY ED DAMON

The twenty-first annual Maine Day, scheduled for next Wednesday, is fast shaping up as a colorful, gala, fun-packed event.

The Maine Day Committee, now functioning in high gear, promises that this year's program will be as successful as those of other years.

Highlighting the affair again this year will be the mayoralty campaign, the float parade, and of course the work projects.

Three of the four men who announced their candidacy for the mayoralty last week still remain in the race.

Those who are seeking the position now held by Joe "Boomer the Baker" Boomer are Carleton "Ron the Con" Hurd, freshman; Ronald "Big Ron" Burnham, sophomore; and Robert "Omar the Tentmaker" Gardiner, freshman.

Candidate Withdraws

The fourth original candidate throwing his hat into the mayoralty ring, Donald Ashton, sophomore, withdrew because he feels he would be unable to devote sufficient time to the job if elected.

Voting will be Tuesday, May 8, on the mall, weather permitting, and the results will be announced Maine Day morning on the steps of the library.

The annual Mayor's Rally will be held Monday night, May 7, at 7:30 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Campaigning is limited to the ten minute breaks between classes and from 5 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

The Maine Day program will begin in the usual manner with the University band marching through campus waking students for exchange breakfasts which will be held at 7 a.m.

After breakfast at 8 a.m. there will be the announcement of the new mayor on the library steps.

At 8:20 a.m. work on the various projects around campus will get underway and at 11:30 there will be the University 4-H Club tree dedication ceremony at Winslow Hall.

Following this and the noon break the float parade will be held. The parade, which will have for its theme "Yankee Yarns," is slated to begin at 1:30 p.m. in the parking lot in back of the New Cafeteria and wind its way around the mall.

So far there are 27 entries, 17 men's, 6 women's, and 4 organizations.

The parade will be led by the new mayor, followed by the old mayor who will escort the three campus queens, Calico Queen, Lieutenant Colonel, and Winter Carnival Queen. The queens will be presented roses by their sponsoring organizations.

Drill Review

After the parade there will be a review by the drill team, inauguration of the mayor, presentation of the banners to the winning floats by President Arthur A. Hauck.

At the inauguration city managers of neighboring municipalities will present the keys of their cities to the mayor.

At 3 p.m. Maine's baseball team will clash with the Bates Bobcats in a State Series contest.

The annual Interfraternity Sing will be held this year at 7:30 on Maine Day Eve. So far fifteen fraternities have entered the competition, including defending champion Theta Chi.

In addition to the singing competition there will be entertainment during intermission and the tapping of Senior Skulls and Sophomore Owls for the coming year.

The Student-Faculty skit at 8 p.m. will wrap-up the festivities. Following the skit which will be held in the Memorial gymnasium there will be a dance, music for which will be provided by a student band.

Student Senate Passes Segregation Resolution

BY MILT HUNTINGTON

The General Student Senate went on record Tuesday night as favoring the present system of desegregation fostered by the University and its organizations.

The Committee on Administration, present for a Coffee prior to the Senate meeting, sat in on what turned out to be one of the more lively sessions of the year.

Dead Letter

Because of segregation clauses in the by-laws and rituals of fraternities on campus, it was felt by some senators that the resolution was a dead letter.

Senator Stanley Freedman declared that discrimination cannot be controlled at the University because social organizations have discriminating clauses.

Senator Earle Simpson opposed passage of the resolution saying, "I think there is segregation on this campus and I think this resolution should be defeated because it does nothing but accept the present system. We should not maintain the segregation we now have in fraternities and social organizations."

Masque Scores Hit With Shaw's Play 'Candida'

BY HULLY MAHER

The Maine Masque has scored another hit! The final production of the year which opened last night was met with overall enthusiasm by the opening night crowd.

"Candida," George Bernard Shaw's portrayal of 19th century London was artfully enacted by an able cast. The story centers around an Anglican minister, the Reverend James Morell, whose wife "Candida" becomes romantically involved with a youthful poet. The plot develops from a confusing first act through the hilarious second act to a moving climax and ending.

During Act I action appeared slightly strained, intentional or unintentional. In the first few scenes much of the subtle British humor fell a little flat. However this was more than compensated for by the fast-moving amusing second act.

Joel Kates was thoroughly convincing as the enthusiastic, quick-tempered Reverend Morell.

As Candida, Robin Werner, successfully portrayed a woman who arouses mixed feelings. Candida is a woman with a conscious talent for making people love her.

Playing Eugene Marchbanks, the 18-year-old poet, Byron Avery put into his part just the right amount of sensitive nature yet intense feelings.

Margaretmary McCann stole away with the heart and applause of the audience in her delightfully pert characterization of Proserpine Garnett.

Another successful bid for the affection of the audience was made by Brad Sullivan, playing Candida's father.

Court Sergeant was excellent as the conceited young curate, "Lexy" Mill.

Candidates For President Issue Campaign Statements

The four candidates for president of the General Student Senate, at the request of the Campus, submitted the following statements setting forth the policies they intend to follow if elected to the presidency.

Run Special Section

Thanks to financial assistance from the Maine Day Committee the Maine Campus is able to publish a special 12 page edition this week. Rising costs for paper and printing would have prevented the Campus from publishing 12 pages by itself. The extra four pages found in the middle of the paper were published at the Penobscot Times in Old Town.

Reginald Collins: "When asked as to objectives which I would hope to achieve if elected president of our General Student Senate, I found it rather incongruous to state objectives which I alone could accomplish; for everyone realizes that objectives are never fully attained by one person, but through group effort, group sacrifice, and cooperative leadership. If elected I will work to the best of my ability to provide effective leadership in order to accomplish the following objectives which some students have suggested and all should consider in an effort to improve and expand our General Student Senate, our educational facilities, and our University:

"(1.) To formulate a student-faculty committee to promote rapid expansion, redecoration, and better programming at our Student Union.

Robin Werner and Byron Avery perform a scene from the current Maine Masque Theatre production "Candida" which opened at the Little Theatre last night. The play, a romantic comedy of the Victorian period, continues through Saturday night with a special matinee performance Saturday afternoon. (Photo by Johnson)

Five Candidates Seek Watch Award At Annual Election

Jerry Pangakis, Lambda Chi, is also competing for the Washington Watch Award which is presented at Class Day exercises. President of the Senior Skulls, Pangakis was president of his class last year, a member of the Senate and active in other organizations.

Edrie Starbird, Phi Kappa Sigma, one of five senior men competing for the Washington Watch Award at the General Spring Election Tuesday, is president of the General Student Senate, a Senior Skull, vice president of the Intramural Athletic Association and was a Sophomore Owl.

Barry Millett, a veteran, is also in the running for the Washington Watch Award. The Hart Hall head proctor is a member of Phi Eta Kappa, and is on the Senior Class Executive Board. He is president of Sigma Mu Sigma, psychology fraternity.

Another candidate for the Watch Award is Winship Moody, a five year student at the University. Moody was president of the Senate last year, and also Interfraternity Council president. He is a past president of SAE and was a Sophomore Owl.

Bookstore Lines May Be Gone Before Long

Bookstore lines may become obsolete, and early semester shopping sprees less painful if the General Student Senate and the Bookstore manager can discover the means.

Although a Senate-appointed committee, headed by Senator Reginald Collins, has nothing to report to date, a plan of action has been devised whereby bookstores at other schools will be studied. Recommendations will then be made to the University Bookstore in hopes of bettering service to students.

Harold L. Bruce, manager of the University store, admitted in an interview that he did not know the answer to solve the problem of early semester book-lines.

Bruce pointed out, however, that some schools' bookstores open up branches in different areas of the campus during the rush period. This disperses the crowd converging on one counter.

What young people are doing at General Electric

Young chemical engineer works on new ways to make silicones

Silicones are a new class of man-made chemicals with very unusual properties. Made from sand, they assume the form of rubber, grease, oil and resin. Under extremes of heat and cold, the rubber stays rubbery, the oil oily. Silicones added to fabrics make them exceptionally water-repellent. Silicone makes waxes spread easier . . . paints almost impervious to weather.

One of the men responsible for finding new ways to produce silicone products is 26-year-old Frank V. Summers.

Summers' Work Interesting, Important

As process engineer of the Silicone Products Department, Frank Summers first compares the results of small-scale, pilot-plant experiments with the production methods in actual use. Then, using his own knowledge of chemical-engineering principles, he designs faster, more efficient and more economical methods of producing silicone products. Frank Summers' excellent training, diversified experience and outstanding personal qualifications make him a valuable contributor to this engineering team.

25,000 College Graduates at General Electric

When Frank Summers came to General Electric in 1949, he already knew the kind of work he wanted to do. Like each of our 25,000 college-graduate employees, he was given his chance to grow and realize his full potential. For General Electric has long believed this: Whenever fresh young minds are given the freedom to make progress, everybody benefits—the individual, the company, and the country.

Educational Relations, General Electric Company, Schenectady 5, New York

FRANK V. SUMMERS joined G.E. in 1949 after receiving a B.S. in Chemical Engineering at Iowa State University the same year. He also graduated from G.E.'s Process Technology program and other specialized courses.

Choose New Members To All Maine Women At Banquet

Nine new members of the All-Maine Women Society were announced April 29 at the group's annual banquet in Estabrooke Hall.

New members of the society include: Jane Barker, Elva Brackett, Mary Jane Kilpatrick, Sylvia McKenzie, Florence Raymond, Doris Richards, Frances Roderick, Patricia Wade, and Lois Whitcomb.

High Honor

Membership in the society is the highest honor that can be received by women students at the University.

Selection for membership is on the basis of character, honor, dignity, and willingness to accept responsibility.

The society's purpose is "to uphold the best ideals of the University, to bring students and faculty closer together and to act as a body of interested Maine students who deal with general campus problems."

Miss Pauline Tompkins, Colby College Dean of Women, was the principal speaker at the banquet. She had for her topic "Education, for What?"

Other speakers were Mrs. Ingeborg MacKellar, assistant professor of home economics, who gave the welcome address; Jesse Sargent, who spoke for the All-Maine Women Society of 1956; and Ann Cruickshank, who spoke on "Freshman Views of the University."

Phi Beta Kappa Initiates 21

Three-fourths of the 24 University students initiated into Phi Beta Kappa, scholastic society, last week were women students.

High ranking students in Arts and Sciences are elected to the society, founded in 1776 and oldest of the national honor societies. The University chapter was established in 1923.

List Initiates

Seniors initiated were Mary F. Bailey, Sally A. Baker, Judith W. Barker, Kathleen D. Black, Suzanne Bogert, Elizabeth A. Brockway, Catherine J. Duncan, Margaret J. Flynt, Janice M. Foss, Betty H. Foster, Nancy E. Gentile, Barbara J. Graham, Chauncey R. Grinnell, Patricia D. Jones, Patricia J. Kearney, Nicholas F. Khoury, Alta F. Kilton, Laura J. Krueger, Murray A. Leavitt, Ralph S. Stephenson, Susan V. Stiles, Zane A. Thompson.

New Registration Plan Announced

The University administration has announced a new plan for student registration. The plan, which is to go into effect at the next pre-registration period, Monday, May 14 to Saturday, May 19, will allow students to choose their own program and the class section they prefer.

Seniors will be given priority where it is not possible to follow the program schedules drawn up by students. However, the administration reported that it will go along with the student choices as much as possible.

Final Registration

This will be the final registration, except for the paying of bills. The schedule drawn up at this time will remain in effect until the add and drop period next fall when changes may be made.

With the new plan in effect there will be no registration in the Memorial Gymnasium as has been the case in the past.

Students should make appointments with their major instructor or advisors for the pre-registration sometime prior to May 14. Those registering early will have the best chance of keeping their schedules intact.

Freshman Wins Prize

Donald M. Kenney has been named the winner of the Freshman Chemistry Achievement Award at the University.

Kenney received the award as a result of a competitive examination in first-semester freshman chemistry.

Kenney will receive a "Handbook of Chemistry and Physics" with his name stamped in gold. The handbook was donated by the Chemical Rubber Company.

Gerald Grady Is Named Fellowship Award Winner

Gerald J. Grady, assistant professor of history and government at the University, has been named by the American Political Science Association as one of five winners of congressional fellowships awarded annually to young professors of political science.

Prof. Grady, who will go on leave of absence for a year, will begin his work in the fellowship program in November. He will spend his first month in an orientation program.

To Get Assignment

Following this he will be assigned either as a working staff member on congressional committees or to House of Representatives and Senate offices.

As such he will have the opportunity to interview and discuss legislative problems with members of congress, staff officials on Capitol Hill, representatives of the executive branch concerned with legislative liaison, and legislative representatives of leading Prof. Grady will also have access to information, and the opportunity to participate in aspects of the legislative process, not ordinarily open to students or the public in general.

Applications for the fellowship program for 1956-57 were received from all over the country and were screened down to the 39 best written applications.

Applicants selected by the screening committee were then interviewed by 15 regional boards. The reports of the regional boards were reviewed by the advisory committee for final selection.

29 Projects Set For Maine Day

The Maine Day projects committee has submitted a list of 29 projects to be tackled on May 9. Proctors and junior residents have forms on which students may list their three preferred choices of jobs.

Work on projects will begin at 8:20 a.m. in front of the Library.

Following are a list of Maine Day projects and project leaders:

Painting of Athletic Field fence, Dick Secord & Fran Rich; Sidewalk around north side of Hannibal Hamlin, Dan Mahoney & Ellie Dean; Sidewalk across the mall from Hart Hall to Crosby walk, Pat Daigle & Francesca Clark; Install street lamp foundation pits and excavate for underground cable along Munson Road in vicinity of Chadbourne Hall, Ed DeGrasse & Theresa Vangeli—Bruce Arnold & Mary Jane Kilpatrick; Install street lamp foundation pits and cable trenching along west side of mall in vicinity of Hart Hall and Chemistry wing, Sterl Huston & Ann Cruickshank—Bill Lynch & Mary Louise Cook; Removal of dead or dying elm trees between Elms Dorm. and Stillwater River, Bob Hosking & Pam Thompson; Dead Elm tree removal in area between Phi Kap and ATO frats, John Standerwick & Donna Chadbourne.

Landscaping at Hart Hall, Barry Millett & Freida Smith; Extension of hedge east of North Stevens, Rick Starbird & Mary Ann Holt; Relocation of hedge east of Men's Cafeteria, Pete Lekouses & Jean Zoidis; Paint fence between Dunn and Corbett, Bill Hamann & Mert Snow; Maple tree planting west of Munson Road in front of Winslow and Maples Bldg., Sandy Marshall & Arlaine MacDonald; Carnegie Hall ivy planting, Bob Hutchinson & Joan Williams; Planting east end of Chadbourne Hall, Bob Appleby & Maude Kinny; Planting south side of Fernald Hall, Al Belisle & Barbara Coleman; Walk at rear of Merrill Hall, Paul Taiganides & Carol Stevenson; Work at the Maine Masque, Pete Baker & Joyce Tracy.

Assembly Attendance Improves

The Campus made a considerable amount of "noise" in an editorial a few weeks ago concerning poor attendance at assemblies.

Last week's assembly program drew a crowd which amply represented the student body.

The enthusiastic attendance was probably due to the parade of faculty which formed outside Memorial gymnasium. The entire faculty adorned with caps, gowns and hoods of varying colors representing degrees and what-not reacted on spectators like the Pied Piper on his followers.

Once we were lured inside, the march soon ended and we underwent a tortuous ordeal of lecture. In defense of the speaker, let us say that his talk had a lot of down to earth meat in it. It was rather a broad subject, difficult to limit to the prescribed time limit. Like the typical professor who realizes his lecture is too long to fit into a 50 minute session, the speaker began to speed up his talk. In the words of one professor, the additional speed, combined with a cockneyed, Harvard, southern accent, led to a certain amount of difficulty in following the text of the speech. Other factors resulted in a general uneasiness on the part of listeners.

Not only students, but faculty, too, were fidgeting in their chairs. Legs were crossed and uncrossed, chins were scratched, necks were craned, until the entire gymnasium took on an aspect of a St. Vitus Dance Hall. In all politeness to the speaker, the audience, with a few exceptions, hung to their seats until the assembly finally ended.

It may take give away programs or Martin and Lewis to draw an assembly crowd again like the last one. The assembly committee has had better luck in the past and this particular program was definitely the exception rather than the rule.

The Campus still maintains that assemblies are better than ever and sincerely warrant better student attendance.

Let's Support ETV

The University has been suggested as a possible site for the state's first Educational Television Station. This non-profit, non-commercial channel would present a variety of educational, informational, and cultural programs.

The University was thought of as the site because we have the space, and technical and program assistance is available. Making use of this assistance will help keep the cost low and the program level high.

An "atomic age blackboard," as one educator called it, would help to make up for the shortage of good teachers at a time when state population increase is at a maximum.

Channel 12, reserved for the University, will only be a beginning of educational television in Maine. A tri-state hook-up is the ultimate hope of public-spirited citizens and community leaders.

To make our University the pioneer in ETV of Maine, we should all contribute to the fund effort. $350,000 must be realized to set up the initial physical plant. From then on ETV is hoping for support through state appropriations.

All Out For Maine Day

Editorials can barely keep up with the happenings of spring. Activities at the University this season have become so numerous that it is difficult to single out the most important of the lot.

Probably Maine Day is the highlight of the season with all the color of floats, athletics, skits, the mayoralty inauguration, the inter-fraternity sing, and the fraternal feeling of joining together on a day off to tidy up our stomping grounds.

At this time of year, seniors become nostalgic, juniors become hopeful, sophomores sigh, and freshmen can distinguish between North and South Stevens. It is a time to go outdoors and get together as one unit and clean up the mess left by old man winter.

Only as a note in passing—this is not a day to go fishing. Let's all get the carnival spirit and make Maine Day a good neighbor day. Clean up the place and have fun.

Tea Room

BY ED DAMON

Haven't got too much time. Big prelim tomorrow. Will be able to jot a few notes down and tip a couple more. Then we'll have to run.

It won't be long before the week end jaunts to Bar Harbor, Belfast, etc., start again. TKE and Sig Ep held their spring Greek Week programs to amuse pledges last week. Freshman men are still griping about food at the New Cafeteria. The Prism should be out before long. It promises to be a good one. The new women's dorm is coming along fine. Have you noticed that the grass is getting greener? Wasn't too long ago that there was plenty of that white stuff laying around.

There is a real University atmosphere down here at the Tea Room now. We have three students helping Fran take care of the big rush. Ed Dunn, a freshman, Marty Pineau, Kappa Sigma and a sophomore, and Chummy Spencer, also a sophomore, are on hand with a re-fill just when you're dry.

Maine Day is now less than a week away. The committee is functioning in high gear and promises a gala event is in the offing. Incidentally, there are three candidates vying for the mayoralty.

Tradewinds

BY NEIL TROOST

True love has died at Maine. It is buried somewhere beneath a deluge of impetuous, juvenile infatuations, comic pinnings, and risky engagements. The campus has become a playground for naive, emotional children and their preposterous flirtations and mock romances. The enthralled high school kids, mostly coeds, have abandoned reason and plunged into a pit of romantic oblivion, stumbling around in a delirious, transitory pursuit of love. Flattering egos and the marriage fixation drive the females into a careless, unreasoning quest for a husband. Wild, momentary courtships are the rampant synonyms for love. Possession of a glittering fraternity pin is all that matters as the coeds beguile and capture unimaginative male students. Emotional immaturity has replaced true love.

In this jungle of buffoonery and raw emotion, about thirty per cent of the affairs end in marriage. Emotionally immature females will begin a "spring offensive" as their romantic delusions reach greater heights. Their neurotic romances indicate a search for an ideal, or the falling in love with the idea of "falling in love." Their in-fatuations are exaggerated physical attractions that are governed by naked instinct and emotion. No power of reason exists. Love at first sight is a childish delusion based on biological sensations and doomed to disillusionment.

A coed who lacks mental and emotional maturity is dangerous to the men and to herself, but a healthy, mature woman can find security and love in marriage and a career, or one or the other. She can date without involvement in petty, blind infatuation—in short she is a rare sight on this campus.

Somewhere in this confused picture are a few real lovers who, bound together by more than instinct and emotion, possess life's richest reward—true love.

Mature love yields its diverse splendors, its deathless adoration, and its treasured promises to lovers. They become magnetized through instinct, idealized through spirit, respected and admired through mind, and refreshed through sex. Each allows the other time for objective appraisal. They depend on intelligence, cooperation, tolerance, sympathy, and understanding to assure themselves of an endur-

Letter to the editor:

This letter is in reply to Mr. Lisbon's letter to the editor in last week's issue of the Campus.

I am sure it will be of interest to all concerned to know that a Decoration committee, appointed by the Governing Board of the Memorial Union, has been studying the problem of the best way of decorating the Bear's Den, and all agree it needs to be done.

This Decoration committee has considered a number of alternatives and schemes and is about to present definite recommendations to the Governing Board. Included in our considerations have been such possibilities as murals, pictures of our campus, and other Maine campuses, seals of Maine colleges and other decorative ideas.

We of the committee hope that the project of decorating the Bear's Den can be completed soon and that the students will be pleased with what is finally decided upon. Finally we appreciate very much Mr. Lisbon's interest in the matter.

Decoration Committee

P.S. I am sure that the problem of the Juke "Box" and additional seating in the Bear's Den will also be carefully considered.

Maine's Answer To Eloise

BY LIZ HIBBARD

Who is the little dog who comes to the University?

Who is the little dog who seldom recognizes adversity?

Who's on the Boardman steps most of the day?

Who's in and out, and up and down, and in everybody's way?

Who's up at break of day creating a terrible rumpus on the mall?

Who has a lovely way of leaving his name in footprints in the hall?

Who's the little canine who'll beg your doughnut away,

'Cause you can't resist his plea?

Who's the little dog who simply loves with boys to play?

No clock needed

Tempe, Ariz. (ACP) The Arizona State Press included this one concerning a Texas professor in its "On Other Campuses" column:

A chemistry professor at a Texas college needs no clock by which to time his lectures. He merely watches eye balls. At a quarter after, there are only a few; at a quarter to, there is a solid line of white eyeballs with little dots at the top watching the clock. The professor explains it this way: "The more white eyeballs, the nearer it is to bell time."

It seems that some profs should also be able to tell time by the level of the students' eyelids. The lower the lids, the closer to the end of the hour. But, of course, the fellow who falls asleep during the first five minutes of the hour would foul up that system.

Four Competing For Senate Head

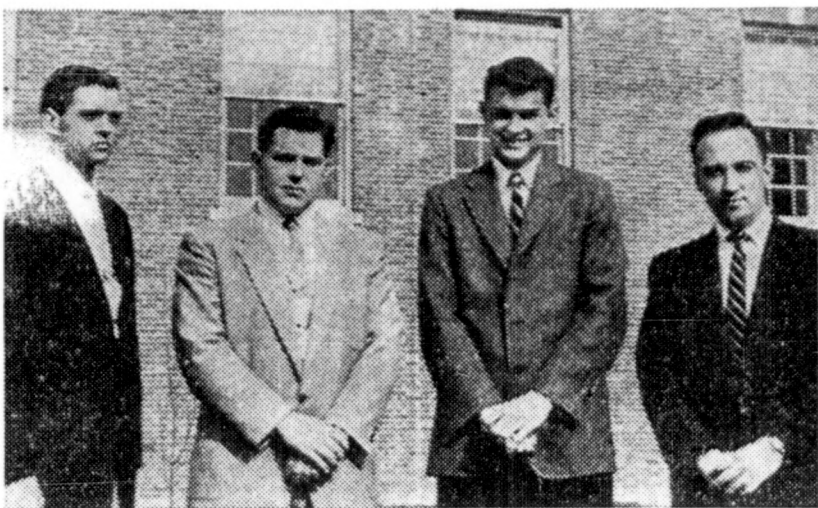

Four junior men are competing for president of the General Student Senate at the May 8 spring elections.

Candidates are Reginald G. Collins, Eben B. DeGrasse, William H. Law, and Fred C. Newhall.

Collins was active in freshman debating, is a member of the Senate, and treasurer of his fraternity, Theta Chi. He is also a delegate to the regional Student Senate Assembly.

DeGrasse was president of the sophomore Owls, and class president his sophomore year. He has been an officer of his fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta, and served as a member of the Senate his freshman and sophomore years. DeGrasse was president of the Men's Central Dormitory Council his freshman year.

Law, one of the organizers of the University's Veterans Club, is now president of that organization. He has served as vice president of the Public Management Club for two years and is a mem-

Newhall is secretary of the Radio Guild, is senior announcer for WORO, and was a member of member of the executive commit-

Annual University Music Night Heavily Applauded By Audience

By PAT JONES

A small, but responsive and appreciative audience applauded the annual Music Night concert last Thursday evening in Memorial gym. The band, orchestra, and chorus took part in the concert.

The chorus, under the direction of Professor Lewis Niven, performed Te Deum laudamus admirably and in keeping with the Mozartian style.

BAND PERFORMS

The Band's opening number, Overture (Iphigenia in Aulis) was played with understanding. Each section was well balanced, and the members conscientiously acknowledged dynamics. Francis G. Shaw conducted the band.

The Orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Earle Melendy, played Verdi's Grand March (Aida) with confidence, and in Copland's Fantasia Mexicana they succeeded in combining two rhythms for a unified effect.

NAME SOLOISTS

The soloists at the concert were Sylvia MacKenzie, soprano, and Richard Dorr, pianist.

All three organizations performed the Berlioz Grand Symphony, which was received with thunderous applause by the audience.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of the Senior award. This year the gold cup, awarded annually to the senior who has done the most for music at Maine during the past four years, was given to Faith Wixson Varney. During her four years here, she has participated in woodwind, brass, and string ensembles, Band, Orchestra, and Chorus. In addition, Faith has led the band on occasion.

Mu Alpha Scholarships

The Mu Alpha Epsilon Applied Music Scholarships for next year went to Mildred Black and Albert Packard.

New members elected into Mu Alpha Epsilon, the honorary music society, are Richard Bryant, Janice Crossman, James Dutton, Constance Eberhart, Laurel Kealier, Marlene McKenney, Carl Mueller, Fred Newhall, Priscilla Pfeiffer, Jane Quimby, Robert Rand, Stanley Shaw, Roger Sprague, and Roberta White.

The usherettes at the concert were Eveline Stevens, Kay Pierce, Ann Martin, Mary Coffin, Mary Minnehan, Katherine Pratt, Eloise LaFontaine, Sandra Pennett, Shireen Snider, and Ione McIner. Annette Langevin was head usherette. Robert Hutchinson was ticket seller.

Union Movie

The movie at the Union this weekend will be "Another Part of the Forest." Starring in the film are Fredric March, Dan Duryea, Edmund O'Brien, Ann Blyth and Florence Eldridge. The picture will be shown at 7 and 9 p.m. both Friday and Saturday evenings in the Union's Bangor room.

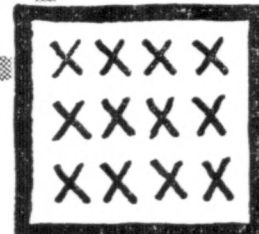

The Elms is a women's cooperative dormitory with accommodations for 55 students.

Four Sophomores Competing For Senate Vice President

The General Student Senate has nominated four sophomore men as candidates for vice president of the Senate. These candidates are James A. Conley, William O. Farley, James R. Hamblton, and Frank Young.

Conley is a Sophomore Owl and a proctor. He is a member of the Debate Council and Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. A member of the Maine Day Committee, Conley is also active in the Veteran's Affairs committee, the University Calendar committee, Newman Club and the Union's Special Events' committee.

Farley is a member of WORO's staff, is publicity director of Newman Club and is a Sophomore Owl. He is president of the sophomore class and was a member of the class executive board his freshman year. Farley is also a member of the Senate Publicity committee, the Maine Radio Guild, and the Veterans' Club. He was editor of the Sophomore Newsletter and is a pledge to Sigma Chi fraternity.

Hamblton is president of the Sophomore Owls, president of Newman Club, a member of the Maine Debating Council and the sophomore class executive board. He is a member of the Senate publicity and Social Affairs committees and was editor of the Newman Key last year.

Young is vice president of his class, vice president of the Union's Activities Board, chairman of the Union's Games and Tournament committee and a member of the Union Governing board. He is secretary of the Sophomore Owls and social chairman of his fraternity, Alpha Tau Omega. Last year Young was a member of the class executive board. He also served as president of his fraternity pledge class.

Frosh Girls Run For Treasurer

Four freshman women have been nominated by the General Student Senate for the position of Senate treasurer. Candidates are Judith Adams, Janet L. Collins, Helen Inman, and Sheila J. Pelosi.

Miss Adams has been active as a member of the Senate, East Chadbourne House Council, and Pi Beta Phi sorority. She has also served on the High School Day committee, and as a member of the W.S.G.A. Nominating committee.

Miss Collins is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority. She served on the University Publications committee and the Student-Faculty Dinner committee.

Miss Inman's activities include president of West Chadbourne Hall, member of W.S.G.A., Home Economics Club, Maine Outing Club, and Pi Beta Phi sorority. She has also participated in intramural sports.

Miss Pelosi is a member of Newman Club and the Chemical Society. She belongs to Chi Omega sorority and has participated in basketball and hockey.

Vote as you please, but please vote. Officers will be chosen for the General Student Senate, Men's Athletic Association, and SRA. The winner of the Washington Watch Award for Senior Men will also be chosen, Tuesday, May 8.

Four Sophomores Are Nominated For Secretary

Betty A. Buzzell, Judith D. DeMerchant, Barbara J. Kelly, and Marcella Mitchell, all sophomores, have been nominated by the General Student Senate to compete for Senate secretary at the General Spring Elections, May 8.

Miss Buzzell, a Sophomore Eagle, is dormitory president, a member of W.S.G.A., secretary of the New England W.S.G.A. Conference and secretary of the Maine Debate Council. She is also a cheerleader and a member of Pi Beta Phi sorority.

Miss DeMerchant is also a cheerleader and was recently elected secretary of her sorority, Chi Omega. She was a candidate for Honorary Lieutenant Colonel of the University R.O.T.C. regiment.

Miss Kelly is secretary of the Off-Campus Women's Club, a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority and is a Sophomore Eagle. She will be vice president of Canterbury Club next year and is director of Canterbury's Altar Guild. Miss Kelly has served on the S.R.A. Camp committee, Brotherhood Week committee, Sophomore Hop Decorations committee, and the University Calendar committee.

Miss Mitchell was vice president of West Chadbourne Hall last year, and a member of the Union Dance Committee. She was a member of the Dormitory Council last year and is also a member this year. Miss Mitchell is a member of Phi Mu sorority, secretary of the Student Associates of American Chemical Society, and was Winter Carnival Publicity Chairman. She has served on the W.S.G.A. Elections committee, the Senate Student Judiciary committee and is a member of the Maine Day Float Parade committee.

List Theme For Annual Concert

The Spring "Pops" Concert will be presented May 17 in Memorial Gym. Mu Alpha Epsilon, the sponsoring organization, has arranged a program similar to last year's Rodgers and Hammerstein concert.

The theme of this year's concert is "A German Beer Garden." The Glee Club, seated around small tables, will represent University students socializing. The chorus will watch the performance, react to the numbers by the band, orchestra, and specialty groups, and sing themselves.

Besides the three major musical organizations, the majorettes, modern dance club, square dance club, German band, string group, jazz band, and Madrigal Singers will take part in the affair.

Milt Friend, top man on the rifle team, holds the University of Maine rifle range record with 297 out of a possible 300.

Leroy Holmes and his 14 piece orchestra will play at the Junior Prom, Friday, May 4 from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. in Memorial Gym.

Why Sen. Estes Kefauver reads The Reader's Digest

"A magazine like The Reader's Digest takes up where school leaves off. It touches on an impressive array of significant subjects. It throws a white light on the issues that confront us. It educates as it entertains."

In May Reader's Digest don't miss:

CONDENSATION FROM BEST SELLER: "HOW TO LIVE 365 DAYS A YEAR." Half of those seeking medical aid can blame badly handled emotions, says Dr. John Schindler. Here he contrasts the damage done by flare-ups and worry with the healing power of good emotions, and gives 7 steps for cultivating a happier disposition.

THE CURIOUS CUSTOM OF GOING STEADY. Cameron Shipp describes the elaborate rituals and taboos of modern teen-age social life.

THE ART OF UNDERSTANDING OTHER PEOPLE. Before we judge another, we should ask: "Might I not be as bad or worse if faced with his troubles?" Clarence Hall shows how amazingly our souls are enlarged by searching out the best in others.

WHAT WOMEN DON'T KNOW ABOUT BEING FEMALE. "As a doctor," says Marion Hilliard, "I don't believe there is such a thing as a platonic relationship between a man and woman who are alone together a good deal." Here are her reasons.

IFC Votes On Discipline

Two new motions concerning disciplinary action against fraternities were discussed and voted upon at the first meeting of the newly elected Interfraternity Council, Wednesday night, April 25.

Stan Cahill, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, presented the following motion: "Before the Council takes any disciplinary action toward a house for an infraction of rules, the complaint be presented in person or in writing to the Council." The motion was withdrawn after discussion.

Vines Files Motion

Bill Vines, Kappa Sigma, made a motion that if a complaint is to be made against a fraternity, the complainant shall be brought before the IFC Executive Council and a representative of the house accused in order to present his complaint. The motion was tabled until the next meeting.

Presently, when a fraternity is accused, the accuser meets only with the IFC Executive Council and the representative of the accused fraternity does not meet with, or know the identity of, the accuser.

Foster Shibles, Student Maine Day Chairman, asked the IFC for the wholehearted cooperation of all fraternities to make Maine Day a success. He asked the fraternities to sign up all pledges for projects, and stressed the point that all fraternity men should sign up with a campus project.

The dates for informal initiation next fall were discussed. The motion was carried to hold informal initiation Nov. 15-17, inclusive.

ASME Elects Officers

The University's student branch of the Association of Mechanical Engineers has elected the following officers: A. Frank Pearce, president; Wilson T. Dyer, vice president; Donald M. Michaud, treasurer; and Roscoe E. Perham, secretary.

Awards Presented At Assembly Friday

Top scholastic awards were received by nine University students Friday morning at the 29th annual Scholarship Recognition Assembly.

Scholarship winners were Doris Richards, Merritt Caldwell Fernald Scholarship for highest rank in the junior class; Melvin T. McClure, James Stacy Stevens Scholarship for highest ranking Maine resident student in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Education Award

Joan M. Hanson, Charles Davidson Scholarship for the highest ranking junior in the School of Education; Charles L. Bower, Class of 1905 Scholarship for the freshman attaining the highest rank in midyear examinations.

Harold R. Gerry, John D. Hesketh and Judith W. Barker tied for the Kidder Scholarship, awarded to a student whose rank excels in the junior year.

Pi Beta Phi sorority won the Panhellenic Scholarship award for the highest scholastic average during the year.

Annual Maine Day Program Is 21 Years Old This Month

When University students don jeans and old shirts to participate in this year's Maine Day program, they will be continuing a tradition which was started here at Maine 21 years ago by President Arthur A. Hauck.

May 1, 1935, saw the beginning of Maine Day when students turned out to work on 30 different projects. Other activities of that first spring holiday included relay races which the Maine Campus termed "not too strenuous." The evening, as is still the custom, was given over to entertainment. President Hauck starred in a burlesque opera entitled, "The Lamentable Tragedy of Julius Caesar." This first Maine Day also saw the first campus mayor elected from a field of nine candidates.

Held On Wednesday

Maine Day was held on a Wednesday in 1937. Work on 28 projects took up the greater part of the morning. Women's and men's relay races, which included faculty teams, a freshman-sophomore mass game, and the Bates-Maine baseball game, occupied the afternoon. Skits by the faculty, students, and janitors brought the third annual Maine Day to a close.

Sunday was chosen to be Maine Day in 1938. A special edition of the Campus described the projects and mayoralty platforms as the "cleanest Maine Day and dirtiest mayor campaign."

The fifth annual Maine Day, May 1, 1939, was opened by the presentation of the mayoralty candidates at a mass assembly. Robert Coffin was not only named mayor, but was also chosen hog calling champ. A faculty skit, "Trojan Weekend," was presented. Highlight of the skit came when Trojans and Spartans dueled in rhythm to "Sweet Adeline."

Work Clothes Dance

The highlight of Maine Day of '41 was a "Clean Work Clothes" dance held in the gymnasium.

Over five hundred students and faculty members signed up for either morning or afternoon projects on Maine Day, Saturday, May, 15, 1943. The projects were assigned in shifts one from 8:30-11:30 a.m. and another from 1:00-4:00 p.m. Behind Estabrooke Hall the meadow land was leveled and smoothed to provide for a picnic area.

Saturday, May 4, was Maine Day in 1946. At eleven a.m. a tree planting ceremony, sponsored by the College of Agriculture's 4-H Club, was held in front of Merrill Hall, the home economics building. The tree was planted in honor of Dean Leon S. Merrill, Dean of Agriculture, 1910-33, and was appropriately named the "The Leon S. Merrill Elm."

Maine Day of 1949 was held in honor of President Arthur A. Hauck, who had completed his fifteenth year as president of the University. The Maine Masque presented "Artie Get Your Gun," a three act musical extravaganza with President Hauck himself in the starring role.

Student Makes Political Bid

By DAVID CAREY

Joseph A. Plamondon, University sophomore, and candidate for the Democratic nomination to the legislature at the June primaries, has won his fight with Orono Selectmen to be accepted as a registered voter of Orono. Had the Orono board of selectmen refused to register him, he would have been disqualified as a candidate.

Plamondon won his case by proving to the satisfaction of the selectmen that he continuously has resided in Orono nearly two years, not only during the school years but also during summer vacations when he was employed in town. He also explained to the selectmen that he intends to make Orono his legal residence indefinitely.

Told Couldn't Register

Prior to Monday night's meeting with the selectmen at least one member of the board had indicated it would be impossible for Plamondon to register, because his home was in Springvale.

Plamondon stated that he has no ties with Springvale and further affirmed that he is going to reside in Orono indefinitely.

In an interview with the Campus Plamondon said of his Republican opponent, "I feel that John Needham in his capacity as legal counsel to the board of registration at Monday's hearing, attempted to prevent me from being registered as a voter of Orono. Mr. Cornelius Sullivan, Democratic Committee town chairman, the several University students present and I felt that Mr. Needham should not have been legal counsel at the hearing." But Plamondon commended the board of registration and said, "I did receive impartial consideration from all board members, and I am satisfied with the outcome of the hearing."

Plamondon is married, has one child. A member of the Young Democrats club at the University, he resides in the South Apartments.

Discuss Plans For First Educational TV Station

Prominent figures in the fields of education and television met here last Friday to discuss plans to make the University the site of Maine's first educational television station.

The possibility of constructing a transmission station on Dixmont mountain was considered. Henry Gerish, Dover-Foxcroft, Maine ETV president, commented on the possibility of eventually linking with Boston stations through a micro-wave relay system.

Estimate Cost

The estimated cost of constructing the initial physical plant was estimated at $350,000. The station would be a moderate-sized high frequency type which would give coverage to approximately 420,000 of Maine's citizens.

Both Hayden Anderson, Augusta, State Department of Education and Raymond H. Wittcoff, St. Louis, Mo., chairman of the National Citizens' Committee for ETV, emphasized that educational TV is the most powerful instrument for adult education this state has ever known.

"You are creating a university without walls," Wittcoff said. He pointed out that nearly 50 million dollars has already been invested in ETV. The stations are corporations in a national TV network and serve areas with a total population of nearly 40 million people.

Foremost problem facing ETV in Maine is raising the initial amount of funds for the physical plant, according to Claude Ryder, Bangor, chairman of the ETV membership drive. Ryder plans to raise the greater part of the $350,000 through public solicitation in industries, agricultural and poultry interests, commercial establishments, clubs and organizations.

A dollar contribution brings membership in the Educational Television Association of Maine. All members are eligible to attend the annual ETV meeting next February.

Maine Channel

Channel 12, reserved for the University by the Federal Communications Commission, would bring educational type programs to a large part of the state.

Dr. Walter Emery, general consultant for the Joint Council on Educational Television, Washington, D. C., said in an interview, "I like the attitude of the people here today. With that type of cooperative spirit, Educational TV should move right along."

Other speakers at the conference included Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, who spoke briefly at a dinner between the afternoon and evening session of the conference; Lee Gorham, manager, WABI-TV, Bangor; Dr. Mark R. Shibles, Orono, dean of the School of Education; Sen. Wilnot F. Dow, Waldoboro, chairman of the State Commission of ETV, and Norman Temple, Central Maine Power Co. official, Augusta.

Society: Costume Parties Are Weekend Rage

By HULLY MAHER

The campus really went wild for costume parties last weekend. Fugitives from the mountains of Tennessee, jailbirds and carnival hands roamed College Avenue Friday night.

The ATO's featured their annual Daisy Mae party Friday night. Music for dancing was by Lew Pearson. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Borns and Mrs. Helen Meek. Frank Young was in charge. The outing was Saturday at the Woodland Castle. Chaperons were Capt. and Mrs. Robert Marmorstein and Mrs. Meek.

Kappa Sig held their annual Carnival Party Friday night. Chairman of the affair was Chris Russell. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bayard and Mrs. Charles Hamilton were chaperons.

Lambda Chi was a prison for the evening Friday with decorations and program by the pledges. Couples dressed as jailbirds danced in "solitary confinement" to records. Dick Day was in charge. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Albright and Mrs. Lesley Sprague.

The Hades Hop was sponsored Friday night by TEP. Couples entered the house through the devil's mouth and danced to records midst tongues of fire. The pledges presented a skit. Stan Medred was in charge. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. F. K. Beyer, the Rev. Richard L. Batchelder and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allen.

The pledges of Phi Kap entertained at a vic dance Saturday night. Wendall Bragg was chairman. Mrs. Isabel Gatchell chaperoned.

Another informal vic dance was sponsored Friday night at Sigma Nu. Rod Shaw was in charge. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Earle B. Eastwood and Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Martin.

The Memorial Union sponsored a dance in the Main lounge Saturday evening. Nat Diamond's orchestra was a feature attraction. Prizes of Maine Masque tickets were awarded for a spot dance and door prize. Co-chairmen were Diana Laughlin and Jane Dudley.

Members of the Aggie Club enjoyed an old-fashioned square dance Saturday night at Stillwater Grange. Helen Howard was chairman of the dance. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Frederick H. Radke and Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Ploch.

PINNED: Joyce Frates to Norman Carvell, Theta Chi; Dolores Prince to Reginald Christensen, Theta Chi; Barbara Gupitill to Richard Davis, Theta Chi; Bea Butland to Freeman Etheridge, Theta Chi.

ENGAGED: Mae Ritchie to Richard Simmons, Theta Chi; Alice Perry to John Ellsworth, Kappa Sigma; Joyce Carlson to Robert Tatro, Mystic, Conn.; Madeline LaGossee to Alan Rigg, Theta Chi; Phoebe Knowles to Bill Johnson, Theta Chi; Vita Caron to Roger Fortin, Theta Chi.

Campus Election To Be On Mall Tuesday

The General Student Elections will be held Tuesday, May 8, on the mall, weather permitting.

Should it rain, voting will be conducted in the Memorial Union Building. Polls will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Students will vote for officers of the General Student Senate, SRA, and Men's Athletic Association. The campus mayor will also be chosen at this time as will the winner of the Washington Watch Award for senior men.

It will be necessary to present student identification cards in order to vote.

Complete information on the election will be found elsewhere in the Campus.

FAULTY SCHEDULING

May we nominate Saturday, May 5, as one of the busiest days in the annals of the University's athletic history?

A queer scheduling quirk pits the State Track Meet, the Maine-Colby tennis match, and the Maine-Massachusetts baseball duel, in direct competition with each other.

Scheduling of this type should be avoided.

Each of these contests deserves the undivided support of its partisans, yet fans will be forced to make a choice.

Since the State Meet is held in Orono only once every four years and is one of the classics of Maine sportdom, it appears that baseball and golf will come out on the short end of the gate, and unfortunately so.

LOOSE ENDS

We'd like to take this opportunity to tidy up our old sports' cabinet. Lack of space often prevents us from elaborating on items of interest, and indeed, often prevents us from publishing these tidbits at all. With this in mind, we're going to whisk them out of the cabinet and into black and white. And . . . away they go!

Spring football under the direction of Head Coach Hal Westerman got the green light Saturday. Some sixty non-lettermen answered the call . . . The University was well represented in the recent AAU boxing bouts in Bangor. Heavyweight Hans Van Leer, Phi Kap, and middleweight Don Shields, from Phi Gam brought crowns back to the campus. A third contestant, light-middleweight, George Mayo, Phi Gam, survived a rocky first round, but was decisioned in the second.

Bill McWilliams, Bowdoin's hammer ace, took four firsts in the State Meet last year, and was awarded the Allan Hillman trophy as the outstanding individual performer. . . . Rumors persist that Massachusetts will be added to the Maine gridiron schedule next Fall. Negotiations have been wafting between Amherst and Orono for several months. Schedule conflicts appear to be holding up the signing and sealing of contracts.

It is not only possible, but highly probable that Maine's Ron LeClair and Emery Howard will meet for the State golf title come May 21. . . . Did you know that many veteran observers, including Coach Jenkins, consider Frosh distance ace Dale Bessey to be a better prospect than Paul Firlotte at comparative stages of their careers? It's a fact, and let us not forget that the Ellsworth Express ranks as one of the all-time greats in U. of M. track history. . . . Speaking of track, young Phil Haskell is another freshman with winged feet. . . . The weather has had everyone grumbling in his oatmeal. But don't be too dismayed.

The snowfall of April 21 reminded faculty manager of athletics Ted Curtis of a similar storm May 12, 1947. On that date one foot of white stuff fell and forced the postponement of a Maine-Connecticut baseball game. . . . A greatly improved Maine golf team wallowed Rhode Island, 6-1, in the rain Saturday. The wearers of the Blue avenged a previous 5-2 setback at Kingston. LeClair fired a superlative 75 to cop medal honors. Captain Howard had a 77.

"Doc" Russell's tennis crew might surprise in YC tournament play this weekend. Watch 'em. . . . Just a reminder that you have two days, and two days only, left in which to enter our giant "Guess-the-Score-Yourself" contest. All entries must be in by 10 a.m. Saturday. Don't delay, do it today. Twenty-five dollars is nothing to be sneezed at—despite the weather!

Within The Walls

Phi Mu, front-runners in the race for the All-Point trophy, gained valuable ground last week, winning the fraternity volleyball title over Tau Epsilon Phi, 2-1.

The PM's posted wins over TEP and Sigma Nu in Tournament play. The lads from TEP beat Sigma Nu to earn the right to meet Phi Mu in the finals.

Experience bested energy in non-fraternity play. The faculty edged Center Oak and Corbett 3 by identical 2-1 margins to nab the sunspot.

Softball Opens

Potent lumber-work was the order of the day as the softball season opened Monday.

Phi Eta shelled SAE, 16-3, ATO rapped Delta Tau Delta, 15-7. TEP downed SPE, 9-5. In closer contests, Theta Chi beat Alpha Gam Rho, 9-8, and Sigma Nu squeezed by Phi Gam 8-7.

In a battle that was reminiscent of the recent Red Sox-Yankee thriller (14-10), Lambda Chi outlasted TKE, 17-15.

League play will continue daily

through May 26.

The "Fijis" from Phi Gam were embarrassed by the pledge class, 14-10, in their annual battle Sunday.

Maine Sailors Are Second At Bowdoin

The Maine Sailing team placed second in an informal State championship race held at Bowdoin Sunday.

Bowdoin topped sailors representing the University and Colby with 37 points. Maine garnered 32, Colby 28. Maine entered both the A and B divisions.

Skippering the A boat was team captain William Rogers with Jona Robinson as crew.

Maine-Bowdoin Battle Feature Of State Meet

One of the most bitterly contested battles in the 57 year history of the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Championships will take place here Saturday.

Maine and Bowdoin, perennial powers, are dual favorites in a meet whose outcome may be decided by fractions of points. Colby and Bates have individual performers of merit, but lack the depth to cope with the two Bears.

Maine will be shooting for its third successive State championship. Pale Blue thinclads edged Bowdoin in 1954, to break a three year Polar Bear reign, and won handily in 1955, 60-47.

Records May Tumble

If the weatherman cooperates Saturday, several records may tumble. Bowdoin's Olympic prospect, Bill Mc-

Williams, stands an excellent chance of besting the hammer and shot records.

McWilliams threw the 16 pound hammer 193 feet, 9 inches at Boston College last week. The Maine record is 182 feet, 3 inches, set by the University's Bob Bennett in 1940.

The Bowdoin Goliath also tossed the shot 48 feet 10½ inches, three-quarters of an inch further than the existing state record, established in 1935 by MCI principal Howard Niblock, then a Bowdoin undergraduate.

Another record that may be in danger is the pole vault mark, 12 feet, 5¾ inches held by Leonard of Maine since 1938.

Retiring Maine Coach Chester Jenkins, a veteran of 24 State meets, will be pitting his team's balance against a Bowdoin squad that is loaded with individual stars, spearheaded by weightman McWilliams, and dash star Dwight Eaton.

Jenkins Comments

Jenkins told the Campus Monday that he would not venture a prediction on the meet's outcome. "Once again that little word, 'if,' is all important," Jenkins said. "It is my opinion that this meet could swing either to Bowdoin or ourselves depending on events that are at the present time unforeseeable—occurrences that will pop up during the meet. My strategy? There again, it depends on the tide of the meet. However, this I am sure," he added, "the team's spirit is excellent. We will go out there to win."

A large crowd is anticipated at the Maine classic. Trials in the javelin, hammer, broad jump, and 440 runs will begin at 10 a.m. Trials in other events are scheduled as follows: 10:15 a.m., high hurdles; 10:30, 100 yard dash; 10:45, low hurdles; 11, shot put, discus, and 220 yard dash.

Individuals To Watch In Meet

Individual stars who will bear watching at the Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Championship meet Saturday are listed below with the events in which they will probably be entered.

Javelin, Maine, Thibodeau; Bowdoin, Seffens; Colby, Vollmer; Bates, Russell. Pole vault, Maine, Schroeder; Hastings; Bowdoin, Eaton. Hammer, Maine, W. Johnson; Bowdoin, McWilliams, McCabe. Shot put, Maine, W. Johnson; Gass; Bowdoin, McWilliams, McCabe; Bates, Wheeler. Discus, Maine, W. Johnson; Bowdoin, McWilliams. Broad jump, Maine, Finch, Varner; Bowdoin, Eaton. High jump, Maine, Stinson, Cooper, Thibodeau; Bowdoin, Eaton; Colby, Vollmer. Mile, Maine, Firlotte, Law; Bowdoin, Young; Bates, Riopel. Two mile, Maine, Firlotte, Furrow; Bates, Ladd. 440, Maine, Linnell, Maxey; Bowdoin, Eaton; Bates, McGrath; Colby, Bates. 220, Maine, Spearin; Bowdoin, Eaton; Bates, McGrath. 880, Maine, Law, Kraske; Bowdoin, Herrick. 100, Maine, Finch, Spearin; Bowdoin, Eaton. 120 high hurdles, Maine, Stinson, Varner; Bowdoin, Paton; Bates, Neuguth. 220 low hurdles, same as high hurdles.

Blue Pastimers Meet UMass In YC Twinbill

By JOE MCCARTHY

A big Yankee Conference double-header highlights this week's baseball card. The Maine Black Bear nine will face the University of Massachusetts in two games Saturday afternoon at 1 p.m.

Coach Walter Anderson will start a pair of lefties against the Massmen. Charles "Gus" Folsom will start the first game, with Jim Carroll serving them up in the nightcap. Anderson expects to start the same team that he has fielded all spring.

Don Beattie will be at first, Gerry Wright at the Keystone sack, Co-captain Bob Scribner at Shortstop, and Dave Waite at third. The outfield will have "Tiger" Soyachak in left, Co-captain Dawson List in center, and Ron Ranco in right field. Angelo LoCicero will be receiving the left-handed slants of Carroll and Folsom.

The first game of the double header will go the regulation nine innings, while the second game will go at least six innings.

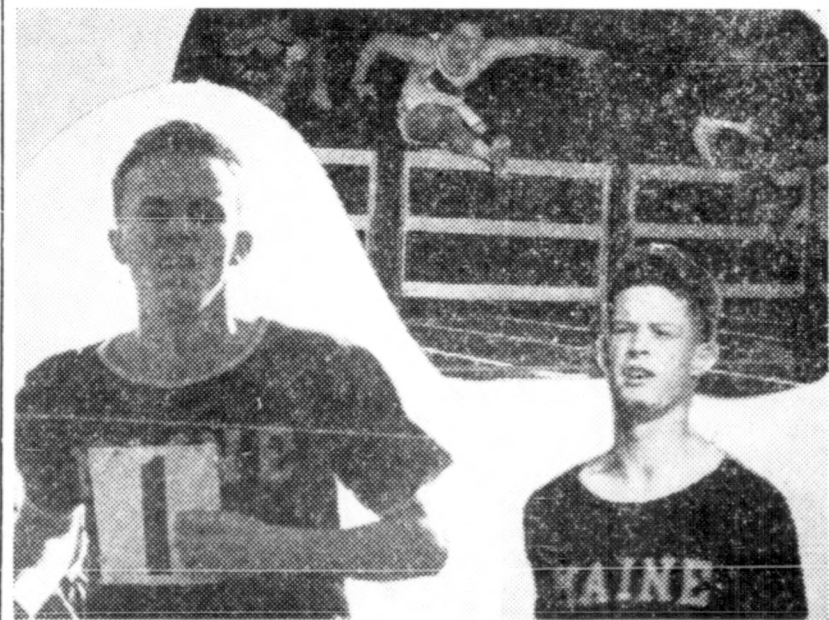

UMass Strong

Anderson says that Massachusetts is a strong team. The only team that both clubs have played thus far this spring is Connecticut. Massachusetts held the UConn's to a 1-1 tie in 11 innings. In their one outing with Connecticut this year, the Pale Blue went down 18-0.

Two games that were played too late this week for Campus coverage, a non-series game with Bowdoin at Brunswick, and New Hampshire at home.

DIAMOND DUST: It wasn't dust that the groundskeeper was scooping off the varsity diamond when your reporter was at practice Monday afternoon. . . . The Rhode Island game that was washed out last Saturday has tentatively been rescheduled for May 26 at New Hampshire in the morning.

The game will be played only if it will affect the Yankon standings. The Bears play UNH in a regularly scheduled game that afternoon.

Raymond Site Of Canoe Camp

Calling all canoe enthusiasts! The General Extension Division has announced plans for the fourth annual Canoeing Institute to be held May 18-20 at Camp Kokatosi on Panther Pond, Raymond.

The Institute is designed for men and women desiring to improve safety skills and techniques.

Three prominent members of the University staff are among camp supervisors.

Sezak Is Head

Heading the Institute is Sam Sezak, assistant professor of physical education. Sezak, a popular figure in Maine sportsdom, doubles as camp director and camping specialist.

Marion Rogers, associate professor of physical education and head of the women's division, will serve as camp counselor and recreation director.

Eileen Cassidy, also an associate professor of physical education, will be a counselor and program director.

Other staff members include: MacDonald Murphy, Governor Dummer, canoeing and campcraft specialist; Henry "Hank" Small, Morse high school, trip and canoeing specialist; Lawrence Plummer, Rockland high, trip director and Maine guide; Orge "Bill" Stone, Belmont (Mass.) High, small craft instructor, canoe trip director and Maine guide.

Applications must be returned on or before Thursday, May 10 to the General Extension Division, 12 South Stevens Hall.

Collins, DeGrasse, Law, Newhall Issue Statements

"(2.) To promote more parking space and better use of the parking facilities now on campus.

"(3.) To further advance the resolution which advocates the attainment of joint I.D. cards for husbands and wives of University students.

"(4.) To continue the studies now being conducted into the Bookstore and Student Judiciary.

"(5.) To create a coordinating board to explain the functions of the United States National Student Association to the University community and promote better use of its facilities.

"(6.) To establish a student-faculty-alumni committee to urge that the proposed T.V. station be incorporated into the plans for a new auditorium which is proposed in the expansion plans of our President, Arthur A. Hauck. This building could include facilities for the T.V. station, radio station, classrooms and offices for the consolidation of the speech department. This objective not only sounds financially feasible, but it would alleviate our growing pains and increase all educational facilities while giving the students, faculty, and alumni an opportunity to actively participate in University expansion."

Eden DeGrasse: "Many words have been written about the General Student Senate—pro and con. However, I am not sure that many of us realize just what this organization means to each of us as individuals, or rather I should say could mean to us. "I believe that the Senate—as a liaison organization between the student body and the Administration—has a definite responsibility to the University as a whole. By this I mean that this organization, with the support of the students, should take effective action on any and all pertinent issues involving the student body as it relates to the University in any or all of its functions. This can only be accomplished through a thorough knowledge of important issues that arise as reported to the Senate by its members, and intelligent interpretation and investigation of these matters by the organization before any action is taken.

"Because of my earnest belief in the ability of the Senate to be a functional and truly representative organization for the students of the University of Maine, I am a candidate for the office of President. I stand ready and willing to devote my services and experience to this effort, if I am elected, and further urge that every student participate in this voting for his own benefit."

William Law: "The Student Senate must not lose sight of its incompleteness of this year, especially the one concerning the Student Judiciary. I believe this is a big step toward a more responsible student government. I believe the Senate should carry on a campaign both within and without itself to make the Senate a more responsible and stronger body. In as much as the Administration will give us more authority as we become more responsible we should develop as much of this responsibility as quickly as possible.

"I want the Senate to prepare a 'Balance Sheet' for the students, to show the students how their money is spent. With this balance sheet, the students will be able to visualize much better how their money is split up.

"I think the Senate should act as a liaison group between the student body and the committee on administration. I believe that the Senate, if not the whole student body, must be more aware of the problems that confront the committee on administration.

Fred Newhall: "There has been a lot of talk around campus about the Student Senate being a 'do-nothing' organization. I am not a member of the Senate, but I have read the minutes of virtually all of its meetings and have been in contact with many of its members. The purposes and procedures of Senate meetings and projects have certainly been worthwhile, and I would be happy to be a member in any capacity. I think the Senate's biggest need is effective publicity concerning the things it is trying to do.

"If I am elected as its president, this will be one of my main objectives. A weekly article in the Campus is definitely needed, whether the issues taken up have been large or small. I would like, if elected the Senate's president, to try to arrange with the Campus to provide space for such a weekly column to be written either by myself or by a Senate publicity committee that attends every meeting. I cannot propose any drastic changes in the Senate because I don't believe any drastic changes are really needed. Many of the people on campus think otherwise because they are not actually aware of what the Senate is doing. It would be my job to let them know.

"An organization often becomes well known by the reputation of conducting meetings that are well-run. With the many controversial issues that appear before the Senate, this is often a tall order, but I hope to have the chance to become well acquainted with the mechanics of parliamentary procedure and to accomplish more in less time by cutting down on arguments that are repetitious and do not actually contribute to the discussion.

"As to the big issue of the Student Judiciary; if such an organization can include people that really know what they are doing and if the Judiciary has the final say on the issues that come before it, I shall favor it. If, however, it can only recommend, it is not, in my opinion, really worthwhile. The Bookstore investigation? A good one, and proof that your Senate is not operating only to give the senators experience, but is acting in the best interests of the University of Maine. It would be an honor to be its president. Many thanks for giving space for my comments."

Senate Discusses Segregation, Wages

This argument was supported by Senator Reginald Collins who said, "This is an individual problem. We, as individualists, will discriminate if we want and no law can stop us."

Supporting passage of the resolution were Senators Frank Hickey and Richard S. Offenber, members of the committee on desegregation.

Report On Wages

A report by Senator Gil Auger on Student Wages excited another spurt of debate on the Senate floor. Senator Auger presented recommendations to keep the same pay rate, 60 cents an hour, for the present time. He reported that William Wells, dormitory manager, had assured him that wages would be raised all over campus within the next few years.
