'Fever' Features Burr's Songs

By Hal Maguire, Jr.

Original songs and dances by University students will be featured in the Maine Masque presentation of Petticoat Fever on the 10th, 11th, 12th, and 13th of next week.

John Burr, a senior education major, has written lyrics, drawing words from the text of the play, and has set them to music.

Christmas Jobs Not "Urgent" Under University Rule

"Parents' written request denoting urgency" when the "urgency" means employment during Christmas vacation, is not an excuse for being excused early for vacation, George H. Crosby, secretary to the Committee of Administration announced this week.

Crosby said, in a letter to the Campus, that the omission of the "essential employment" clause was to cover all pre-holiday employment, however requested. Formerly, students were allowed to leave school early on the request of the employer.

Herbert Wood, assistant to Dean Murray, said that the work "urgency" as applied in this case refers to illnesses and deaths in the family, and particular transportation problems.

Cal Thomas, a junior Speech major, who is well known throughout Maine for his dancing ability, has choreographed dance numbers for the music.

Perform Next Week

Next week's performances will give the student body and other Maine Masque followers their only chance to see the play with which the student cast will tour Europe and North Africa in January and February. Herschel L. Bricker, director of the Masque, states that there are still seats available for the four evening performances and for the matinee which will be held at 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of December 13. Evening curtain time in the Little Theatre will be 8:15 o'clock.

Added To Tour

Carole Allen and Laurel Hoyt have been added to the cast since the original announcement of those making the tour was made, according to Bricker.

Alan Chapman, a junior theatre major, has proven to be highly creative in the making of the set for Petticoat Fever. Limitations of space and weight were imposed as air travel restrictions, and Alan has met these by making the set of canvas and aluminum and constructing it in such a way that it can be folded and carried in three-foot lockers.

Plot Of Play

For those who are not acquainted with the plot of Petticoat Fever it might be well to quote here from the New York World-Telegram which has said of the play, "Dascom Dinsmore is the feverish wireless operator with whom the story deals. You come upon him in a fidgety, sex-starved mood, tossing himself from chair to davenport and back again, casting miniature airplanes about the room, taking slingshots at a cowbell and registering frustration with all his might and main. Unkempt and careless as to costume, his wild oats are behind him, and the future stretches heartbreakingly womanless, ahead. You can imagine what happens when Ethel Campion, young, beautiful and charming, descends literally from the clouds, bringing her fiancé, Sir James Fenton, with her. Their airplane is smashed beyond repair, railroads are non-existent, rivers are frozen over. What is there to do but radio for assistance and wait for that assistance to arrive? It's a long time coming, thanks to Dascom's aerial double-crossing and the unexpected appearance of Clara Wilson, one of Mr. Dinsmore's cast-off fiancées. How Dascom wins Ethel, how Clara wins Sir James is the purport of the tale. Added up and divided into three acts, it amounts to a brisk and fun-filled evening, with a chuckle here, a giggle there, and an occasional guffaw to make the moment merrier."

Offer Scholarship Money

Robert C. Worrick announced this week that the University scholarship application period for the school year 1959-1960 will be from December 8 to January 27. Any student may pick up an application blank from the Student Aid office in East Annex.

The application blank must be returned during the application period. After the spring semester grades are known, the decision of the University Scholarship Committee is sent to the student on or about July 1st.

Must Have 2 Point

To be eligible to receive a University scholarship, the student must have a 2.0 average for the spring semester and a 2.0 accumulative from past school years. Mr. Worrick emphasizes that even though a student may have received a lower point average for one semester, the 2.0 accumulative is from all the past semesters.

The scholarships are grants for financial aid. For the Scholarship Committee to determine financial need, the student must state his finances. The committee must also have references and the parents' financial statement. The parents should be able to contribute 10% of their income to the student's education.

To Increase Fund

Mr. Worrick stated this year there will probably be a small increase in the scholarship fund. Although totals are not complete yet for the current school year, the University Scholarship committee has awarded approximately $80,000 to students. This $80,000 fund does not include some $35,000 of the Pulp and Paper Foundation and other awards of that type.

Christmas Art Show Low Priced For Student Buying

This month students may purchase good art objects for Christmas giving for less than twenty-five dollars... more specifically, for ten and fifteen dollars.

Prof. Vincent A. Hartgen of the Art Department proves that one needn't be a millionaire to purchase "good art." In fact, he's gone so far as to place on view in Carnegie Hall more than one hundred items of art, carefully chosen from artists, dealers and collectors.

From the score of artists and dealers whose works the art department has shown in recent years, Prof. Hartgen has gathered original paintings and graphics, mobiles and sculptures, ceramics and textiles, ranging all the way from visually realistic art to the most wildly abstract.

In addition to representative works from the artists who live and work in Maine, near to the University, art objects have been gathered from artists throughout the country, and even from France and Switzerland. Among the names most familiar to gallery-goers include Frank Hamabe of Blue Hill; William and Emily Muir of Stonington; William and Stell Shevis of Lincolnville; Carol Berry of Rockport; Harry Stump of Camden; Denis Vibert of Sullivan; George Curtis of Owls Head and others.

From more distant points in the country come the works of Peter Takal, Marion Greenwood, Rudy Pozzatti, Joe Jones, Reginald Marsh, Stow Wengenroth, Emil Weddige, and a host of others. From Zurich and Paris come works by Picasso, Matisse, Rouault, Renoir, Toulouse Lautrec, Hans Erni, Maillol, and many other world-famous artists.

Will Broadcast Saturday Game

The Maine-Bates basketball game here Saturday will be broadcast direct from Memorial Gym by WORO.

Station Manager Woody Hodgkins said Tuesday that the campus station would cover all the Maine games—home and away.

Through the cooperation of the Memorial Union, the games will be piped to a "listening post" in the Union. Hodgkins said the arrangement has been made to accommodate students who live in areas not covered by WORO at present.

A bulletin will be posted each week in the Union to announce the room where the game will be broadcast.

The first away game is at Colby next Wednesday. WORO will air the game at 8 p.m. The Bates game Saturday will begin at 8:15 p.m.

The acquisition of a remote amplifier recently has made broadcasting of the games possible. It is the first year that WORO has been able to do any "live" sports broadcasts.

Hodgkins said that WORO coverage will not be limited to varsity basketball, that some important dormitory and fraternity games would also be covered.

Ron King, Bruce Hodgman, Bob Marshall and Don Cookson will handle play-by-play and color for WORO during the season.

Math Major Wins Scholarship Awards

Enid Kelley, a junior majoring in mathematics, was awarded the annual Phi Beta Kappa scholarship yesterday. The $50 prize is given the University student who has the highest accumulative average during the freshman and sophomore year. Miss Kelley's accumulative at the end of her sophomore year was 3.85.

Dr. Wilmarth Starr, president of the University of Maine chapter of Phi Beta Kappa presented the award.

The Mrs. Maine Club will hold its annual fashion show on Tuesday in the Memorial Union. Fashions will be modeled by members of the club and their children. Above are pictured Mrs. Roger Allen, Mrs. John Carter, and Mrs. Steven Janshego. See story on page 3.

Students Contribute Total Of $82,972 In Hauck Drive

Over 2300 students chipped in a grand total of $83,972 as the Continuation Phase of the Hauck Fund Drive closed Monday.

General Student Chairman Blaine Moores also called attention to "a very generous" contribution by the University Bookstore Company. The Bookstore gave the student drive $13,882 last week. The Store Company has given considerable amounts to other student drives in recent years.

Alumni Secretary Don Taverner termed the student campaign "a beacon light for alumni to follow. The extreme interest shown by students has served to point out the need for the auditorium to Alumni," he said Monday. "Blaine and I consider the Continuation Drive a huge success. Thanks to all who supported it."

The top three units in the Drive were Tau Kappa Epsilon, 112% of its quota; Phi Gamma Delta, 109%; Tau Epsilon Phi, 108.6. Teke, of course, captured the fraternity cup competition.

North Stodder walked off with honors in the race between men's and women's dorms. North Stodder reached 83.5% of its quota. In the battle between Off-Campus and South Apartments, South Apartments came home with first prize.

The three trophy-winning units will receive recognition at the Fall Awards Assembly.

The Hauck Drive is approaching the $500,000 mark with student and alumni contributions. $300,000 has been earmarked for the completion of the Memorial Union.

All juniors and seniors wishing to have pictures taken or retaken for the Prism please contact either Martha Merrill or Connie Atherton by this Friday night.

IFC Canvasses For Retarded Children; Large Sum Raised

Fraternities raised $2100 for Retarded Children in a door-to-door march in Bangor, Brewer, and Orono, November 19.

General Chairman of the local drive, Mike Cohen '41, Bangor, expressed his pleasure at the "courteous way in which the 500 fraternity men conducted the canvass." Cohen said that over $1800 was raised in Bangor and Brewer—the largest sum ever collected in a house-to-house drive in those cities.

Cohen called the annual community service project sponsored by the Interfraternity Council "one of the outstanding contributions that fraternities make to the University and to local communities."

"The boys won friends for the fraternity system and for Maine with their display of cooperation and their general attitude of helpfulness," Cohen added.

Pass Motion On Class Ring

By Les Nadeau

In a brief and efficient meeting, the General Student Senate passed a motion that will give the University an official class ring last Tuesday. A committee has been appointed to investigate the rings offered by different companies and their comparative prices.

It seemed to be the general feeling that there are too many varieties of rings offered on the campus at present. Senator Dion pointed out that by contracting a company to make the rings, the price of the rings would be somewhat less than at present. Also, the quality would be improved. The motion was passed by a large majority.

Once again the question came up on the Faculty Evaluation Bill. Since controversy has arisen among the faculty concerning the bill, a committee was set up to re-word the phrasing. Originally, the bill implied that teachers must use these evaluation sheets and then pass them on to the administration for their approval.

The Senate amended to insert the word "ask" in place of "compelled" thus leaving the use of the evaluation sheets to the discretion of the individual instructor. The amendment was passed and President Ronald Hurd appointed a committee of three, Senators Chandler, Downing, and Salisbury, to meet with the administration for discussion of the bill.

Senator Downing, off campus representative and chairman of the judiciary committee, reported that work is presently being suspended temporarily awaiting new revisions on the senate constitution.

Next Tuesday's meeting will consider and vote on the possibility of changing the Senate meetings from Tuesday nights to some other night, preferably Wednesday night. It is felt that Tuesday nights impose a heavy burden on Senators since many students carry their heaviest work load Monday, Wednesday, and Fridays. This will be voted on by a roll call vote at the next Senate meeting.

University Given Grant of $48,000

The National Science Foundation awarded the University $48,000 to support a summer institute for 50 high school mathematics teachers at its 1959 summer session, according to President Lloyd H. Elliott.

Participating teachers will receive stipends for living and travel expenses, and also allowances for dependents. They will not pay tuition.

Director of the institute will be Spofford H. Kimball, head of the department of mathematics. The associate director will be Howard Eves, professor in the department.

The institute is part of a broad program undertaken by the National Science Foundation to improve mathematics and science training in the secondary schools. Elliott said the major objectives of the institute will be:

1. To improve the subject-matter competence of the participating teachers.
2. To strengthen the capacity of these teachers motivating able students to consider careers in science.
3. To bring these teachers into personal contact with prominent scientists who participate in the institute, with a view to stimulating the interest of the teachers and increasing their prestige professionally.
4. To effect greater mutual understanding and appreciation of each other's teaching problems.

Editorials:

Sue Anthony Returns

Being an editorial writer in a strictly female environment has, of course, its advantages at times. This is obvious. At other times, however, a problem exists. It is this: From time to time an editorial depends upon the inspiration that comes from other people and this week this very situation existed. Suggestions from the girls here were forthcoming to the effect, and this was voiced from all as one, that an excellent issue would be, and get this—Equal Rights for Women on the University of Maine campus.

All joking aside, this seems like a pretty good idea. At least it is worth a thought or two, radical as it may be. Some felt, and perhaps with good reason, that the average woman on this campus is a bit more mature than her male counterpart. Psychologists say that a woman is more mature for her age than is a man of the same age.

This is a university, not a girls' boarding school. It seems silly that at a certain hour the girls should drop whatever they are doing and rush for the dorm. If they are allowed to go out at all, why shouldn't they stay out as long as they please—at any rate, junior and senior girls?

We do not advocate turning the University into a school for fallen women. A few rights might be advanced on a moderate basis and the reaction would serve as a guide for the future. No, it's not such a silly idea when you stop to think about it.

We Explain Letters

We've been getting a lot of letters to the editor lately. Unfortunately, because of space limitations we haven't been able to print all of them and we think our readers ought to know why some are printed and some are not.

First comes the consideration of space. If we had all the space we wanted we would publish any and all letters which met the usual requirements with respect to libel and signature.

Second, with space requirements what they are we must select those letters which we think most worthy of publication. For example, a letter with a specific gripe would come before a letter of abstract opinion. A campus issue would come before a national or international issue and brevity is, of course, better than great length.

All of this is not to be taken in the sense that we do not want more letters. We do. The letter to the editor is an old institution and a good one. It makes the newspaper the property of the community. We just want everyone to understand.

By Jack Linnell

The Christmas season comes earlier every year, it seems. That is, if you judge its arrival by the efforts of merchants to get us to do our Christmas shopping early.

The big drive usually begins as soon as the temperature drops below 60 degrees and the leaves start to fall from the trees.

Department stores sprout evergreens and colored lights, well before Thanksgiving. Christmas music begins to creep into the daily programming of our radio stations, about the first of November.

Then of course there is that friendly reminder that usually comes screaming at you from the front page of your morning paper—Remember, only 85 shopping days left before Xmas.

Christmas gift catalogues are liable to be found in the mail box any time after the first day of spring.

The way that things are going now, it is not impossible to envision a day when Christmas will be a perennial thing.

Now don't get me wrong. I'm not advocating the abolishment of Christmas, but it does seem that it could stand some commercial de-emphasizing.

For, unless my memory fails me, I seem to recall that Christmas has a religious aspect to it. Isn't it the celebration of someone's birthday? I think his name was Jesus Christ.

Faculty Forum

This week's FACULTY FORUM is written by Professor Lewis Niven who is also Chairman of the University Concert Series.—ed.

By Prof. Lewis Niven

As chairman of the University Concert Series Committee, I have been asked by your representative to present an accounting of the objectives and operational processes of the committee. The objective of the committee is to further musical culture on the campus through the presentation of concerts of the highest intrinsic musical value obtainable, within the limits of a budget less than $5,000.00 per annum. These attractions are chosen by a committee composed of five students, appointed by the Student Senate, and five faculty members, one from each college, and the chairman from the Department of Music.

A meeting is held early in the second term where talent is discussed, suggestions are received and the chairman is instructed to contact concert managers for available dates and fees. When the chairman has procured this information another meeting is called to decide upon the artists to be presented for the ensuing year. Sometimes several meetings are necessary to arrive at an agreement. Each member of the committee has one vote, and the acceptance or rejection of an artist or group of artists is determined by a majority vote. In the past the balloting has usually been unanimous.

It is folly to compare our offerings with larger and wealthier institutions which are able to underwrite a more adequate series. We are, of course, always happy to be granted a larger budget, if the student body wishes to do so.

The committee has brought to the campus some of the outstanding artists and groups in their fields. To enumerate a few: U.S. Marine Band; Columbus Boy Choir;

Life gets tedious, don't it? The bright spot in the lives of the seniors is that graduation is about 185 days away. At this moment, there are 1,987,200 seconds until Christmas vacation and approximately 15,984,000 seconds until graduation.

The purpose of the above paragraph is not to prove that I am among the experts in mathematics. Quite the contrary—I am trying to show a facet of the apathetic attitude among college students and a shining example is the special attitude of the University of Maine seniors.

Typical comments have been "I figured that I had lasted through three years and could stand one more, but not more than one" . . . "If I hadn't been a senior, I never would have come back to this place" . . . "I can't explain it, but I have hated school before and I guess that 17 years of school is too much" . . . "I don't know whether it is me or the school, but something sure is wrong!" I am not making these up—they are the results of an independent study and a few well-placed questions.

Well, why don't they do something about it? The trouble is that they notice that ever-present "Big Brother Is Watching You" feeling. One of the biggest, hush-hush, taboo problems on this campus is that of drinking.

In writing a column on this subject, I am not trying to force the restless natives into an immediate uprising and am not advocating a lifting of the drinking ban. I am asking "Why is there a drinking rule?" and "Is there any sense to it?"

Admittedly, one factor in the administration's control of drinking is that certain groups can't seem to handle themselves when imbibing. This is number one. Number two is the parental attitude, but I don't feel that a great majority of the parents are that dead-set against it—else why are so many students allowed to drink in their own homes?

Number three is that attitude of the administration. The gripe centers around the childish way we are treated. The curtail of drinking activities on campus accomplishes absolutely nothing. Instead of a man being allowed to drink in his room, where he can be put to bed, if necessary, the present rules force him to forge identification cards, find someone with a car, and "hit the road" to a local pub.

The outcome of the mass of concentrated effort may well turn out to be an accident, unfortunate deaths and injuries and a definite "black eye" for the University.

The rules and regulations, for those of you who have this argument, are written in the antiquated Blue Laws of the State of Maine—Thou Shalt Not Drink if Thou Art Not 21 Years of Age. This rule seems to govern what happens on the campus of a land-grant University.

There are also a few other laws of the same vintage which state that card playing and pleasure driving on Sundays are punishable by some sort of thing. Who pays any attention to these—no one!! But, have a drink before your 21st birthday in any other place but the inner sanctum of your home. The $50 fine is nothing compared to the ostracism you will encounter on campus.

Many of the nation's leading colleges and universities have taprooms in their Student Union buildings. They demand that the student present an authorized I. D. Card. If, by chance, the student gets out of hand, it is but a short walk to his or her dormitory, sorority or fraternity house and there is someone around to see that he or she is taken care of.

This University now governs the students 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, whether they are on or off-campus. This institution (and that word is used to mean exactly what you think it does) is a home, supposedly to students for three-fourths of the year. Yet, they are not allowed to drink in this home—and I'll begin to use the term loosely. Why, if it is condoned by their own parents, who have much more right to say what they shall do, should their "pseudo-parents" take such an opposite and extreme attitude. We pay for this education with hard-earned money, only to receive opinions and attitudes on our personal life which are unwarranted in many cases.

"You are adults, you are the future molders of our country, you are the future military, economic, educational and political leaders, we place our trust in you because you are the chosen few, you are capable and mature enough to do the job and do it well." And in the same breath—"Drinking? Why, you're not old enough to know how to handle yourselves, you're not out on your own yet, we are here to protect you, coddle you, nurture you and tie you to our apron strings until the time comes to push you out into the cold cruel world to fend for yourself!"

Why must we be the subject of such ambivalent attitudes? Why not give us a chance to prove our worth and our maturity?

Xmas Vespers To Be December 14

The annual University Christmas Vespers, sponsored jointly by the music department and the assembly committee, will be held Sunday, December 14, in Memorial Gymnasium, at 4:00 p.m.

The fine quality of the program together with its simple impressiveness has made it one of the most important events on the University calendar, attended by a capacity audience.

Professor Lewis H. Niven, head of the department of music, will conduct the 100 voice choir. Robert Groth of the music department will conduct the orchestra.

Included in the program are several features by soloists, by a brass quintet, and the University Singers.

Students, faculty, parents, and friends are invited to Vespers.

The staff of the history and government department will give a Christmas party for major students and their wives on Monday, from four to five-thirty in the main lounge of the Union. The program will include singing, refreshments, and humorous skits by the students and staff.

Benefit Next Week

Delta Delta Delta sorority will hold its annual Christmas sale for the benefit of A German War Orphan in the Union lobby on Tuesday, December 9 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Knit goods, ceramic jewelry, fraternity and sorority pottery mugs and ash trays, holiday food, candy and other items will be on sale.

The proceeds of this sale are used in supporting a World War 2, German orphan named Clemens.

Co-chairmen for the sale are Gail Carter and Jeanne Bassett.

Head, Hands, Heart

"Religion: Head, Hands, Heart" — that's the Student Religious Association's theme this year. All of the faith groups on campus are coordinated into a single unit by the SRA.

This organization sponsors Brotherhood Week, Religious Emphasis Week, the Religious Arts Festival, discussions, and community service projects. SRA Director is Rev. Harvey Bates.

The Canterbury Association is the student organization affiliated with the Episcopal Church. Religious services are held on Sunday mornings and during Lent at the Canterbury Chapel. On Sunday nights Canterbury holds a supper and informal get-together at Canterbury House. The recreation room and kitchen facilities are open for the relaxation and enjoyment of students at all times.

Any Episcopalian student is considered a member and may become active upon request at any meeting. Father Lewis is Canterbury Director.

The religious organization on campus for Jewish students is known as Hillel. Hillel meets every Friday at 5:00 p.m. in the Louis Oakes Room of the Library for a worship service and meets nearly every other Sunday for a breakfast or a supper.

Hillel sponsors a choir which rehearses weekly and conducts services on campus and in other parts of the state. Dr. Eliot Epstein is Hillel's advisor.

The Maine Christian Association is made up of Protestant students. MCA holds worship services every Sunday morning at 9:45 and 11:00 in the Little Theatre. On Sunday evenings discussions and worship services are held at the MCA house. Wednesday night discussion and study groups also meet at the house.

Informal suppers and gay social events are held at the house on Friday evenings. A student choir sings at the 11:00 Sunday service and is open to all interested songsters. Rev. Bill McGinnis is MCA Director and Chaplain.

The Catholic student organization on campus is the Newman Club. Newman sponsors varied programs of lectures, movies, seminars, socials, and suppers on Wednesday evenings besides Sunday Masses and other regular Masses of the church.

Newman Hall provides a sizeable library and facilities for relaxation which are at the disposal of the students. Counseling is available from either Father Delaire or Father LeTourneau by appointment.

With such a broad religious program on campus, every student should be able to find his place in religious activities and satisfy his religious needs.

HEART — Hillel holds worship services Friday afternoons.

HEAD — Canterbury Club frequently holds serious discussions.

THE GIFT HORSE

I know how busy you are—studying, going to class, catching night crawlers—but let me interrupt your multifarious activities—studying, going to class, helping old grads find their dentures after Homecoming—to remind you that busy as you are—studying, going to class, searching for meat in the dormitory stew—time and tide wait for no man, and the Yuletide will soon be upon us. Busy or not, we must turn our thoughts to Christmas shopping. Let us, therefore, pause for a moment in our busy schedules—studying, going to class, rolling drunks—to examine a number of interesting gift suggestions.

We will start with the hardest gift problem of all: What do you give to the person who has everything? Well sir, there follows a list of a half dozen gifts which I will flatly guarantee the person who has everything does not have:

1. A dentist's chair.
2. A low hurdle.
3. A street map of Perth.
4. Fifty pounds of chicken fat.
5. A carton of filter-tip Marlboros.
6. A carton of non-filter Philip Morris.

"What?" you exclaim, your young eyebrows rising in wild incredulity. "The person who has everything does not have cartons of filter Marlboros and non-filter Philip Morris?" you shriek, your young lips curling mockingly. "What arrant nonsense!" you rasp, making a coarse gesture.

And I reply with an emphatic no! The person who has everything does not have filter Marlboros and non-filter Philip Morris—not for long anyhow—because if he has Marlboros and Philip Morris and if he is a person who likes a mild, mellow, fresh, flavorful cigarette—and who does not? eh? who does not?—why, then he doesn't have Marlboros and Philip Morris; he smokes them. He might possibly have a large collection of Marlboro and Philip Morris butts, but whole Marlboros and Philip Morris? No. An emphatic no!

Now we take up another thorny gift problem: What do you buy your girl if you are broke? Quite a challenge, you will agree, but there is an answer—an ingenious, exciting answer! Surprise your girl with a beautiful bronze head of herself!

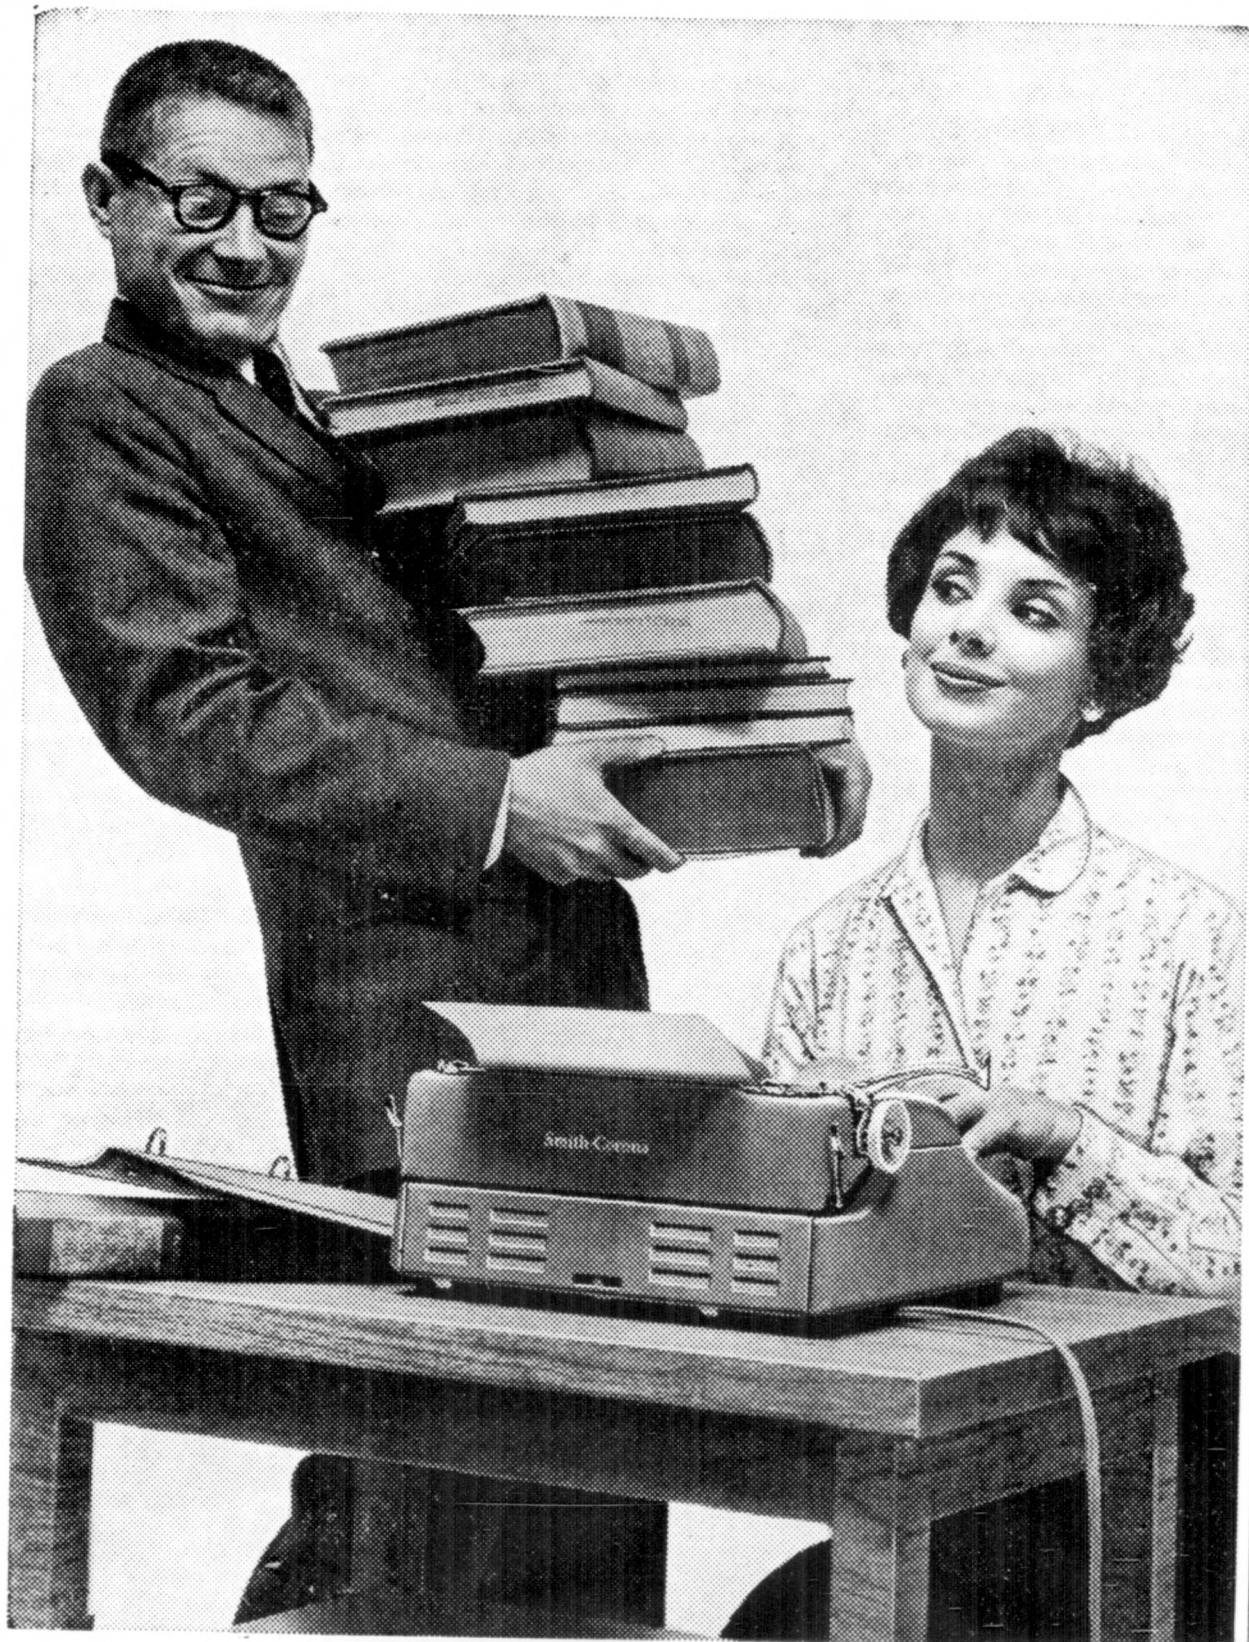

Oh, I know you're not a sculptor, but that doesn't matter. All you have to do is endear yourself to your girl's roommate, so she will be willing to do you a favor. Then some night when your girl is fast asleep, have the roommate butter your girl's face—quietly, so as not to wake her—and then quietly pour plaster of Paris on top of the butter and then quietly wait till it hardens and quietly lift it off—the butter will keep it from sticking—and then bring you the mold, and you will pour bronze in it and make a beautiful bust to surprise your girl with!

Remember, it is important—very important—to endear yourself to the roommate, because if anything should go wrong, you don't want to be without a girl for the holiday season.

© 1958 Max Shulman

Your gift problem is no problem if you will give Marlboros to your filter smoking friends and Philip Morris to your non-filter smoking friends. Both come in soft pack or flip-top box; both are made by the sponsor of this column.

Close Competition Features Intramural Play In Basketball

The intramural basketball season has now been underway for two weeks. Competition is probably keener on the hard court than in other intramural sports.

Thus far in fraternity play, Phi Gam and Kappa Sig have proven themselves formidable foes. The former downed Sigma Phi Epsilon, 58 to 29, and then edged Delta Tau, 31 to 26. Bob Pickett shone as Kappa Sig humbled ATO, 33 to 22, and mangled Beta House, 57 to 24.

SAE marched past Theta Chi, 25 to 15, in the lowest scoring contest of the first two weeks. TEP lost two squeakers, the first to Delta Tau, 49 to 43, and the second to ATO, 40 to 38. Alpha Gam was crushed twice, by Lambda Chi, 53 to 31, and by Sig Ep, 53 to 29. Phi Mu, a team which is perennially loaded with talent, breezed by TKE, 46 to 28. Phi Kap outfought Sigma Nu, 37 to 32, and Sigma Chi landed Phi Eta a 67 to 44 setback.

Turning to dorm play, Hart 4 took Corbett 2, the dorm grid champion, 46 to 35. North Dorm 2 routed Corbett 3, 56 to 22. Dunn 4, last year's campus champions (they defeated Phi Mu in the final game of the season) bowed to North Dorm 6, 32 to 29. The scores of the other games are as follows:

Hart 1, 43 North Dorm 9, 39
Corbett 4, 57 Dunn 3, 38
Twaggies, 26 North Dorm 4, 19
Hart 2, 44 North Dorm 8, 39
Hannibal Hamlin 25 Oak 21
Dunn 1, 41 North Dorm 5, 7
Corbett 1, 63 North Dorm 7, 31
North Dorm 10, 48 North Dorm 11, 30

Sorority Violates Panhellenic Ruling

Delta Delta Delta sorority has been found guilty of violation of rushing rule #30 in the Panhellenic Constitution. "There shall be no decoration outside of displays at any rushing party."

The penalty imposed by the Council, headed by Elizabeth Ward, president, is that Delta Delta Delta be placed on Panhellenic probation for the period of one year; should a violation of any Panhellenic rule occur during this time, the sorority will be seriously penalized according to the Panhellenic Constitution by Panhellenic Council.

The Council felt that if the penalty stated was imposed on the sorority, Tri Delt would have to check each rule as they carry it out in coordination with their events throughout the year, thus making them aware and conscious of rushing rules and the Panhellenic Constitution. If the sorority now fails to check a rule and violates any rule, they will be seriously penalized by the council. If the violation is deemed serious enough, the council has the right to go as far as to refuse Tri Delt the privilege of extending membership for a specified interval.

The reason for the council feeling that Tri Delt has violated Rule "30" is that the sorority had streamers and pictures hung in their sorority room during second week rushing parties. All of their other displays were all right. Tri Delt felt that they had not broken the rule, that it was loosely interpreted by their Panhellenic delegates and not made clear by the council itself.

Previously this rule has not been stressed by the council and in past years there have been decorations. Delta Delta Delta felt that they had been misinformed on the Panhellenic rules.

Bear Facts

By Ron Drogin
Sports Editor

When the Maine basketball team takes to the floor Saturday night to open the 1958 cage season, I sincerely hope that every seat in the Memorial Gym is occupied by a University student. I further wish that all those present will continue to attend games this winter whether our team wins or not.

Anyone who understands the psychological aspect of sports realizes that a team performs better when it knows that there are people behind it all the way. In view of all the optimism presently centered on Maine's current cage team, let's show our boys support by cheering for them as hard as we can this year.

If things do go bad for the Bears in the beginning of the season, remember that the boys are getting adjusted to a new system, and that half the squad has never competed in college varsity action before. As Coach McCall himself says, "We'll only be as good as our inexperienced men can be." So, give the Bears time, and don't fail in your support if more than the usual amount of mistakes are made in the beginning, for these early errors are certain to aid the newcomers' development into what should be a strong Black Bear combine in the future.

So Saturday night at 8:30, let's see 2,800 seats occupied with students cheering their hardest for the Old Black Bear.

Blots, Jots, and Plots

Several members of Maine's varsity football team have been receiving post-season honors. Junior Hal Violette, a tackle, heads the list by being named to the Yankee Conference and All-State team while also being selected on the Connecticut All-Opponent team. Captain Niles Nelson, an end, has also been chosen to the Yankee Conference first team, along with Roger Ellis, and Wayne Champeon. Nelson was also selected to the Bangor News All State team along with Violette, Charles Eberbach, Ellis, and John Welch. The Portland Press Herald picked Violette, Eberbach, and Ellis on its All State squad.

Our own Maine Campus has selected Manch Wheeler and Roger Ellis as recipients of our second annual Most Valuable Player awards. Wheeler, quarterback on this year's frosh eleven, was chosen for his excellent field leadership in which he showed great skill in passing. Ellis received the Varsity MVP award because of his great 1958 performance at center where he always outplayed his opponents and was a constant threat on both offense and defense. Last year's award winner was tackle Bill Tarazewich.

Congratulations are also in order for backs Bob Bragg and John Welch who were elected co-captains for next season's varsity football eleven. With nineteen lettermen returning next year, Bragg and Welch may well be co-captaining one of the best University teams in history. Also named as a captain for next fall was Bill Daly, a brilliant runner who was selected to cross-country captaincy for 1959.

Don Sturgeon will be seeing action at all positions this year. . . . Maine's cage attack will not be centered around anyone. . . . UMP has good frosh hoop team but still doesn't appear to be tough enough for Maine Cubs.

Freshman Five Debut Saturday Face New Brunswick Team

By Howie Kipnes

The University of Maine freshman basketball team will open their 1958-59 season Saturday against the University of New Brunswick. The tap-off is scheduled for 6:15.

New Brunswick has already played their first game and was defeated by a strong University of Maine in Portland team. Their top players are Al Casey, who scored 18 points against the Frosh last year, Don Bryant and John Kelly. They will try to make amends for last year's game which the Baby Bears won by a score of 95-58.

Expected to see a lot of action for the Frosh are "Skip" Chappelle, Lenny McPhee, Randy Furbish and Trevett Hooper. Others who have impressed in practice include Don Harnum, Dave Cloutier, Marshall Pettingill, Al Walker and Roger Holmes. Jack Trefethen, a member of Orono's championship team last year, has recently been added to the team.

Following the New Brunswick opener, the Cubs will play their second game of the year hosting Maine Maritime Academy on Monday, December 8. The Mid-dies should provide a stern test for the Frosh. They have seen quite a bit of action this year and including a scrimmage with the Maine Varsity.

Soph Laden Maine Host To Bates In Hoop Start

By Ron Drogin

Two State Series contests will open the 1958 basketball campaign for the University of Maine. On Saturday night, the Black Bears host Bates in the season opener, and Wednesday Maine will travel to Colby to face the defending champions.

Sophs Play Big Role

Maine's 1958 squad has a strong group of sophomores and Coach Brian McCall feels that the team will show improvement after the newcomers have a chance to find themselves. Though Coach McCall is banking heavily on sophomores, there are a few staunch veterans to hold the forces together.

Outstanding newcomers to the Bears are Don Sturgeon, Wayne Champeon, and Larry Schiner. Sturgeon, former star on Old Town's 1957 state championship outfit, broke nearly all Maine freshman scoring records last year. Sturgeon's great all-around ability, Champeon's court wizardry, and Schiner's rebounding are expected to be major factors in Maine's attack this year. Other sophomores on the 13-man squad are Bob Morin, Bill Mortensen, and Jon Ingalls. Collins Heads Vets

Captain Dick "Rooster" Collins heads the list of Maine returnees. Collins, whose inspired play at the end of last season played an important part in the five straight victories rolled off by the Bears, will be flanked in the front court once again by Maury Dore and Ron Boynton. Dore, one of the best all-around athletes in Maine history, averaged 11.8 points a game last season. Boynton, a former star on Bangor's state champs of 55, averaged 9.2 points before suffering a cheekbone injury.

Veteran back court returnees include Dick Sturgeon, Bob Hume, and Terry Spurling. Sturgeon started on last year's five which won eight of twenty games. Maine's first opponent, Bates, will be presenting a new look. The Bobcats will have back as coach, Bob Peck, who coached them in 1956 but gave way to Vern Ullom in 1957. The Bobcats graduated their captain, Will Callender, and three other members of last year's top six.

Bates' returning starters are Captain John O'Grady and Gerry Feld, both juniors. Newcomers are Phil Candelmo, Joe Murphy, and Jim Sutherland who stands 6-7.

ROGER ELLIS, senior from Westwood, Mass., was awarded the Most Valuable Varsity Player award by the Maine Campus at the Fall Sports Banquet. At center, Ellis led the Maine line both on offense and defense during the past season. Quarterback Manch Wheeler also received Campus plaudits by winning the Frosh MVP award for his smart playing which aided the frosh to a 3-1 mark.

Luther Bonney Awarded Title, Dean Emeritus

University Trustees have conferred upon retired Dean Luther I. Bonney the title of Dean Emeritus of the University of Maine in Portland, President Lloyd H. Elliott announced today.

Dean Bonney served as head of the former Portland Junior College for more than a quarter-century and was the first dean of the University of Maine in Portland when PJC was merged with the University in August 1957.

The 74-year-old educator retired last June and he and his wife are now living at Turner Center in the homestead in which they were married. The title of dean emeritus was made effective as of last July 1.

Born in Turner, Dean Bonney attended Leavitt Institute and was graduated with high honors from Bates College in 1906. He did graduate work at Johns Hopkins University and was awarded an honorary master of arts degree by Bates College in 1951.

He was an instructor in Latin and Greek at Dean Academy from 1906-1915, professor of mathematics at Middlebury College from 1915-1927, and acting dean of men at Middlebury from 1921-1922. He became head of Portland Junior College in 1933.

Art Objects For Christmas Display At Carnegie Hall

signed by the artist himself, nothing is priced above the twenty-five dollar bracket. The greatest proportion of the show ranges in the ten and fifteen dollar price. This is possible because Prof. Hartgen, during the past few months, has been writing letters of special appeal to artists to reduce their prices to levels within the pocket-book range of the average student and faculty member.

Art objects are sold not by the Art Department, but through the department, which means that all sales are without commission or profit. The University acts only in liaison between the artist and the buyer. Items are sold on a "First Come" basis. No

Elect Gardner

Wofford G. Gardner, head of the speech department, was recently elected President of the New England Speech Association. Mrs. Carol Mower was re-elected secretary and William L. Whiting was elected chairman of the committee for revision of the constitution.

These elections were made at the fifteenth annual meeting of the New England Speech Association.

The association functions primarily to develop public interest in speech education and to encourage high standards of speech instruction and study at all educational levels in both public and private institutions in New England.

orders for future sales can be taken. By the time school closes for the holidays, all unsold items will be returned to the artists and dealers.

IFC Sponsors Fraternity Discussions

The Interfraternity Council voted last Wednesday to sponsor a series of speakers and panel discussions, a series that would be made available to all seventeen houses.

At present, a few fraternities hold irregular seminars with faculty, administration and students participating.

The IFC plans to set up a definite seminar program comprised of faculty and non-faculty speakers.
