President Elliott Speaks Before State Legislature For Bond-Financed Dorm

By Mary Irving

University of Maine President Lloyd H. Elliott termed the temporary student housing at the University a "dangerous fire hazard" when he spoke Tuesday afternoon before the Education Committee of the Maine State Legislature.

Elliott urged the adoption of a bill which would provide $24,000,000 in self-liquidating bonds to construct permanent student and faculty housing to replace the present South Apartments and North Dormitories, war surplus buildings brought here after World War II.

"These temporary structures should have been razed long ago," he said, "but if we had demolished these temporary buildings, we would have deprived many worthy Maine young people of a college education."

The bond bill was introduced into the legislature by Representative Howard Cousins of Bangor, who said the measure would "lend the credit of the State to the university." He explained that the interest on and retirement of all bonds under the terms of the bill would be accomplished by the university through income from dormitory fees and rentals.

He explained that the taxpayers' money is not involved, as the housing constructed with these bonds will be entirely self-liquidating projects. He said, "Students living in the dormitories will pay enough extra in fees over a period of about 40 years to defray the cost of the structures." He indicated that the university would save several million dollars in interest by having the State's credit status.

President Elliott was introduced by Donald Corbett, Waterville, a member of the university's Board of Trustees, who said the trustees "were not happy to add the extra financial burden on the students." He explained that since World War II the State has paid for half the cost of dormitories and the university has paid for the other half through student fees.

"We wish this plan could be continued," he said, "but we realize the state must be called on for many academic buildings and other campus improvements, so we've finally come to the conclusion the only solution to our housing problem is to ask the students to bear the burden of all the costs of constructing their dormitories."

President Elliott, in giving details about the bill said its use was "permissive and not compulsory"; he added that the university would use the funds "only from time to time as they

Teachers Given Benefits Under Defense Loan Act

Special consideration will be given to two groups of students who apply for loans under the provisions of The National Defense Education Act of 1958. According to President Lloyd H. Elliott, the University of Maine has $16,136 to distribute this year under the program.

The two groups which will receive special consideration are those students with superior academic backgrounds who express a desire to teach in an elementary or secondary school, and students whose academic background indicates a superior capacity or preparation in science, mathematics, engineering, or a modern foreign language. However, all academically qualified students may apply under the program, regardless of curriculum.

Financial need is also a consideration in the granting of these loans. According to Dr. Elliott, "The prime and most essential condition" of an applicant's eligibility for a National Defense Loan is that "he is in need of the requested loan to complete his course of study."

In order to stimulate the entrance of additional numbers of superior students into the teaching field, the act provides that any borrower who serves as a full time teacher in a public elementary or secondary school shall have his loan and the interest canceled up to a maximum of 50 per cent, at the rate of 10 per cent of the amount of the loan, plus interest thereon, which was unpaid on the first day of such service, for each academic year of service.

Interest on the loans will be at the rate of 3 per cent on the unpaid balance, Dr. Elliott said. Interest will not commence until one year from the date when the borrower ceases to be a full-time student, and no interest will be charged during any period, up to three years, when the borrower is serving in the Armed Forces. In case of death, or permanent total disability, the loan is canceled.

The principal, together with interest, will be repaid in ten equal installments, beginning one year from the date the borrower leaves college.

The amount of the loan will be whatever the borrower actually requires to meet his college-related expenses as determined by the University Loan Committee. The maximum amount available to one student is $1,000 during any fiscal year, with a maximum total of $5,000 for the student's college career.

All students interested in applying for loans for the present semester under the program and who are currently enrolled in the University, may obtain information and application forms at the office of Robert C. Worrick, director of student aid. For students planning to enter the University in September, local high schools are being sent complete information as to application forms and procedure.

In addition to those qualifications already mentioned, all students applying for loans must be in college on a full-time basis and must be in good academic standing.

Drinking During Rushing Nets Fine For Two Houses

The Interfraternity Council found two houses guilty of breaking rushing rules at a meeting Feb. 18.

Sigma Nu and Tau Epsilon Phi were each fined $100 for a violation of the "no drinking" rule.

Three man teams representing the IFC made periodic checks of all fraternities during the two week rushing period which ended Feb. 15.

IFC advisor John E. Stewart told the Council Wednesday that the accumulative average of the men pledged was 2.37—the best in the school's history. Delta Tau Delta pledges averaged 2.77, tops among the pledge groups.

Stewart said that the Council "should be pleased with the obvious results of the 1.8 eligibility rule." The rule was passed by the IFC in January. Freshmen needed only 1.5 before the rule was adopted.

Council President Donald E. Cookson said that plans for the first annual Greek Weekend are now underway. A Greek Weekend committee comprised of one man from each of the seventeen houses will be announced shortly.

William Donnell, Sigma Chi, was chosen chairman of the IFC Sing, May 5.

The following pledge reports have been received and properly recorded by the Interfraternity Council—freshmen:

Alpha Gamma Rho, Wayne Bennett and Leroy Crawford, non-residents, and Anthony Stout, resident; Lambda Chi Alpha, Howard Annis, resident; Sigma Phi Epsilon, Benjamin Coffin, Ronald Cote, William Moore, residents, and Burton Harrington and John Maresca, non-residents; Sigma Nu, James LaBossiere, resident; Tau Epsilon Phi, George Jones, non-resident; Theta Chi, Darrell Bemis, resident; Phi Mu Delta, Paul Kinmond, resident; Sigma Phi Epsilon, William Myers, resident, and Frederick Tingley, non-resident; Sigma Nu, Albert Betters, resident; Theta Chi, William Anderson, resident, and Richard Webber, non-resident.

Charles D. Jones was dropped as a pledge to Sigma Phi Epsilon Feb. 18.

Phi Beta Kappa's 4 Point Average Tops Club Listing

With a 4.00, Phi Beta Kappa honorary society topped all campus organizations last semester with the highest rank.

Phi Kappa Phi, Omicron Nu and Kappa Delta Pi honorary societies had the next highest averages with 3.56, 3.49 and 3.44, respectively.

The highest ranking fraternity was Tau Kappa Epsilon with a point average of 2.73. Delta Tau Delta ranked next with 2.43 and Alpha Gamma Rho third with 2.38. Following this were: Phi Mu Delta, 2.35; Tau Epsilon Phi, 2.345; Alpha Tau Omega, 2.344; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, 2.342; Phi Kappa Sigma, 2.339; Theta Chi, 2.331; Beta Theta Pi, 2.32; Phi Eta Kappa, 2.288; Lambda Chi Alpha, 2.26; Kappa Sigma, 2.23; Phi Gamma Delta, 2.20; Sigma Chi, 2.18; Sigma Phi Epsilon, 2.13; and Sigma Nu, 2.11.

Pi Beta Phi led the sororities with a 3.19 point average. Second was Alpha Omicron Pi with 2.99. Delta Zeta ranked third with 2.93. Chi Omega, 2.89; Delta Delta Delta, 2.87; Phi Mu, 2.78; and Alpha Chi Omega, 2.67 followed.

The average of the entire University was 2.37. University women had an average of 2.62 and men had a 2.29.

Other organizations on campus were: All Maine Women, 3.39; Senior Skulls, 3.17; Sophomore Eagles, 3.03; Sophomore Owls, 2.39; Prism Board, 2.69; Maine Masque, 2.60; and Maine Campus Staff, 2.44.

Grady Resigns, Accepts Post At U Of Mass.

Gerald J. Grady, assistant professor of government, resigned his position at the University this week to accept the post as Assistant Director of the Bureau of Government Research at the University of Massachusetts.

Grady has been on leave of absence from the University of Maine since he ran for Congress as the Democratic candidate from the third district in 1958.

Students Intern In Capitol

By Jo Dion

Busy as bees and enjoying every moment, Sally Curtis and Don Mooers are making the most of their opportunity to serve congressional internships in Washington.

These two University of Maine students were chosen to spend six months in the nation's capital as aides to Senator Edmond Muskie and Congressman James Oliver.

Sally, who is on Oliver's staff, has sent a report to Edward F. Dow, head of the history and government department, outlining her duties so far. Since the new staff is still trying to get organized, she has been helping the two secretaries get the filing system in order and has been running errands for them.

Drafts Letter

She drafted the Congressman's second newsletter and his extension of remarks, which is his whole speech delivered in the House. These bulletins are sent to the constituents in his district.

Sally was impressed with the fact that the problems of the state of Maine are felt very strongly in Washington. She enjoys working with the staff and likes Oliver's approach and interest for the state's well-being.

Working in the office is not all Sally does. She is taking a night course in German at George Washington University, and also a course for Congressional personnel at the Graduate School in the Department of Agriculture.

Summer Mathematics Institute Considers 1000 Applications

More than 1000 teachers from 46 states have requested applications for the fifty openings in the Mathematics Institute to be held at the University of Maine this summer, according to professor Spofford Kimball, director of the Institute.

The Institute, which will be part of the University of Maine Summer Session program, is sponsored by the National Science Foundation which has provided a grant of $48,000 to cover the cost of the project. Professor Kimball said that this grant will provide travel and living expenses as well as stipends and dependents allowances for 50 teachers. About ten additional teachers will be enrolled as "paying guests."

The Institute is designed to improve subject-matter competence of the participating teachers; to strengthen the capacity of these teachers in motivating able students to consider careers in mathematics and science; to bring these teachers into personal contact with prominent scientists who participate in the Institute, with a view to stimulating the interest of the teachers and increasing their prestige professionally; and to effect greater mutual understanding and appreciation of each other's teaching problems among teachers.

Job facts from Du Pont

YOUR INTERESTS, SPECIAL ABILITIES ARE IMPORTANT WHEN DU PONT MAKES YOUR FIRST JOB ASSIGNMENT

BENEFIT PROGRAM MEANS ADDED INCOME

by A. F. Hartford, Jr.
Du Pont personnel representative

Don't forget the "extras" of an employee benefit program when you compare the job offers and salaries of different companies. At Du Pont, these extras mean added income that doesn't always meet the eye. They include life insurance, group hospitalization and surgical coverage, accident and health insurance, pension plan and paid vacation.

In addition, the Company sponsors a thrift plan. After two years of service, for every dollar you invest in U. S. Savings Bonds the Company sets aside 25 cents for the purchase of common stock in your name. Roughly, 60,000 of our employees are now participating in this plan.

If you have specific questions on Du Pont benefits, just send them to me. I'll be happy to try to answer them. E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), Room 12421 Nemours Building, Wilmington 98, Delaware.

PERSONALIZED TRAINING RELATES TO POLICY OF PROMOTION FROM WITHIN

Where do your interests lie? What courses have you taken? What are your special abilities? Du Pont tries to match these factors with available openings to determine your first assignment within the Company.

Once the assignment is made, the Company helps you apply your knowledge to a problem right away. You learn by doing and by consulting with your supervisor and others working on various phases of the same project.

Your performance on the job is evaluated periodically to assist you in knowing where you stand in the eyes of your management. And, as you might guess, Du Pont's personalized training is closely related to its promotion policy. Practically all promotional opportunities are filled by advancement from within the Company.

It is especially important for the college student to know that management authority at Du Pont is decentralized through many departments into small groups—small enough so that the new man's capabilities can be recognized. This type of organization, plus the Company's steady growth, produces many opportunities.

SEND FOR INFORMATION BOOKLET

Booklets about the kinds of technical jobs at Du Pont are yours for the asking. Subjects include: mechanical, civil, metallurgical, chemical, electrical, instrumentation and industrial engineering; technical sales, business administration, research and development. MECHANICAL ENGINEERING MOVIE AVAILABLE FOR A.S.M.E. MEETINGS

Just what does a mechanical engineer do at Du Pont? Whether your chosen field is research, development, design, production supervision or plant engineering, you'll find many of the answers to this question in the informative film, Mechanical Engineering at Du Pont.

From start to finish, this film has been prepared with the young engineer in mind. Its express purpose is to show him where he fits into the picture—what kind of assignments he will be called upon to handle in the chemical industry.

This is a realistic on-the-job film, without frills and fad. No professional actors appear in it. All photography was done right in Du Pont plants and laboratories, and everyone you will see in it is a working Du Pont engineer.

If you would like to learn in considerable detail what mechanical engineers do in the chemical industry, arrange to see this Du Pont film. Mechanical Engineering at Du Pont is available at no cost for A.S.M.E. chapter meetings, fraternity house and dormitory showings. Write to Room 12421 Nemours Building, E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. (Inc.), Wilmington 98, Delaware.

Newly Elected Minister Braves Maine's Winter

One of the ear-muffled faces on campus snuggling desperately into the turned-up collar of a black alpaca coat in an attempt to keep warm in our customary Maine winter, belongs to Donald Edward Curry, newly elected minister of the First Unitarian Church in Bangor.

Curry is from Southern California where he attended Long Beach State College before transferring here to finish work on his Bachelor's Degree in Sociology. Smiling bravely he says, through dancing teeth, "The w-w-w-weather is w-w-wonderfully inv-v-vigorating."

Curry has pungent opinions about a variety of subjects. On Maine in the winter, "a public ice-box with a freezer chest bigger than the box." On people, "wonderful when human." On institutions, "necessary, but not necessarily always right." On agnostics, "a class of critical people who have a more profound concern about religion than orthodoxy gives them credit for." On the ministry, "an extremely difficult profession which has lost its number one status position of fifty years ago to the university professor."

Born thirty-four years ago in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, Curry has been in the ministry for nine years, two in evangelism and seven in pastorates. He has ministered to Pentecostal churches and been guest speaker for Brethren, Baptist, and Methodist congregations. He has served as director of county-wide youth activities, and as president of a city-wide council of

are needed." He emphasized that the bond bill would provide for a "carefully planned, long-range building program, which would result in an even flow of construction and an orderly plan of procedure." He noted that the bill would require approval of the people of the state by referendum.

Elliott said that interest and amortization of the bonds will cost students an average of $80 to $120 extra in dormitory fees in the years to come. They now pay from $60 to $80 on present borrowing.

"Without the bond bill, it will be impossible for the University of Maine to build sufficient housing to accommodate the young people of Maine, now already born, who will be eligible for college in the next decade," Elliott stated.

He explained that colleges and universities in many sections of the country have found similar bond measures the best answer to the financing of student housing. He further reported that 232 state-supported institutions used the borrowing method to finance 73 per cent of all their housing costs during the period from 1951-55.

Newly Elected Minister Braves Maine's Winter

One of the ear-muffled faces on campus snuggling desperately into the turned-up collar of a black alpaca coat in an attempt to keep warm in our customary Maine winter, belongs to Donald Edward Curry, newly elected minister of the First Unitarian Church in Bangor.

Curry is from Southern California where he attended Long Beach State College before transferring here to finish work on his Bachelor's Degree in Sociology. Smiling bravely he says, through dancing teeth, "The w-w-w-weather is w-w-w-wonderfully inv-v-vigorating."

Curry has pungent opinions about a variety of subjects. On Maine in the winter, "a public ice-box with a freezer chest bigger than the box." On people, "wonderful when human." On institutions, "necessary, but not necessarily always right." On agnostics, "a class of critical people who have a more profound concern about religion than orthodox gives them credit for." On the ministry, "an extremely difficult profession which has lost its number one status position of fifty years ago to the university professor."

Born thirty-four years ago in Okmulgee, Oklahoma, Curry has been in the ministry for nine years, two in evangelism and seven in pastorates. He has ministered to Pentecostal churches and been guest speaker for Brethren, Baptist, and Methodist congregations. He has served as director of county-wide youth activities, and as president of a city-wide council of

are needed." He emphasized that the bond bill would provide for a "carefully planned, long-range building program, which would result in an even flow of construction and an orderly plan of procedure." He noted that the bill would require approval of the people of the state by referendum.

Elliott said that interest and amortization of the bonds will cost students an average of $80 to $120 extra in dormitory fees in the years to come. They now pay from $60 to $80 on present borrowing.

"Without the bond bill, it will be impossible for the University of Maine to build sufficient housing to accommodate the young people of Maine, now already born, who will be eligible for college in the next decade," Elliott stated.

He explained that colleges and universities in many sections of the country have found similar bond measures the best answer to the financing of student housing. He further reported that 232 state-supported institutions used the borrowing method to finance 73 per cent of all their housing costs during the period from 1951-55.

Activities Have Their Place

When the school IBM machine had finished its work several weeks ago, there were casualties, but that was to be expected. It is doubtful, however, that it ever took a toll in such high places. A class president and two senate officers were affected.

Then too, the entire school was affected. All were good men and at the time of their resignations were doing a good job. The fact that they were doing so much, probably too much, resulted in an unhappy situation for the men involved. The question arises: Are some of these jobs too damaging to those holding them? The answer is probably yes.

There are several ways to alleviate the problem. One possibility would be to cut down on the number of committee functions that organization executives are expected to attend. It is also possible that some of the responsibilities of office could be divided. The school, senate, or some responsible body could initiate a set of standards to which candidates would have to conform. It might even be a good idea to consider the possibility of paying those who have big responsibilities in the activities program. It might solve the problem of the men who have to work, study, and then find time to preside over some activity or other.

It is true that there are many solutions, but in the long run, none are the final answer. Probably the best answer is the individual's realization of his limitations.

College should not be an ulcer factory. Activities are acknowledged to be good for the student, and we mean this not only for officers. When grades start to slide and one activity has to be cut so another one can be met, it is time to do a little thinking. Overextending yourself in the line of activities is not a favor to anyone, including you. You will be out of here soon enough and you can join the Rotary Club, Lions Club, Kiwanis Club, or any of a thousand more. We can all get something out of activities, but for heaven's sake, let's use a little sense.

We would like to suggest that the Student Senate look into the possibility of legislation that might prevent the need for resignations in the future because of academic reasons. We think, after all, that it's the only fair thing to do.

ROTC Head Explains System

By Colonel B. V. Bryant
Professor of Military
Science and Tactics

The Military Department welcomes the invitation of Maine Campus to present the ROTC story to the readers of this paper.

The University of Maine is a land grant institution and as such is required by state law to instruct male students in Military Science during their first two years of attendance. These cadets are enrollees in the Basic Course. Selected students are accepted for the Advanced Course, which consists of two additional years of study.

All cadets are organized into a Cadet Battle Group in keeping with the modern concept. The Army has assigned military personnel to assist the University in conducting this training program. There are at present eleven officers and nine non-commissioned officers on duty here with the cadet corps which numbered 1300 at the beginning of the year.

Cadets who complete the Advanced Course are commissioned as second lieutenants in the United States Army Reserve. 835 cadets received such commissions since 1948. A highly selected group are given appointments for officer careers in the Regular Army. Seven cadets entered the Regular Army in this manner since 1957. Cadets who have maintained high academic and department standards are designated Distinguished Military Graduates upon graduation. 118 cadets were so designated since 1953.

A highlight of the Advanced Course is the six week required encampment at Fort Devens, Massachusetts between the Junior and Senior year.

The mission of the Military Department is to qualify male students of the University for positions of leadership in times of national emergencies and to contribute to their training for duties in civilian life. Personal integrity and patriotism are stressed in all phases of military training and activities.

The standards of the Military Department are high. For example, no cadet is acceptable for the Advanced Course unless he shows academic promise and has approval of his dean. Academic proficiency is mandatory. Last semester one percent of all cadets received A's, twenty-six percent received B's, sixty-six percent received C's, six and one half percent received D's, and one half percent received E's.

The Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) is closely woven into the fabric of campus life because more students are enrolled in the ROTC Program than in any other department of the University. ROTC cadets hold positions of leadership and responsibility in many student and University activities. In fact campus leadership is a "must" for the Advanced Course cadet. Among this year's cadets are found the presidents of many student activities including President of the Senior Class. Advanced Course cadets are found as members of varsity athletic teams, members of the Maine Masque, and in such demanding positions as student chairman of the Hauck Memorial Fund.

The activities of the Military Department are varied. The Annual Military Ball, sponsored by the campus chapter of the Scabbard and Blade National Military Honor Society is the social high-

Strictly Speaking

By Jack Linnell

The legislative proposal to make fraternity property exempt from real estate and property taxes has received criticism on the editorial page of the Portland Press Herald.

The Press Herald attacks the proposal as "highly discriminatory", because a college such as Bates, which has no fraternities, would receive no aid. They also feel it is discriminatory because it would not benefit all of the students — only those who live in fraternity houses.

"But even if the aid were to be more evenly and equitably divided this is not a proper way to help college students," says the Press Herald.

This may be true, but it depends upon which side of the fence you are sitting.

Fraternities here fall into two categories: those who are on university property and only pay taxes on their buildings to the Town of Orono, and those who are on town land and pay both property and real-estate taxes to Orono.

Those who are not in fraternities find it very difficult to sympathize with their plight. "They don't have to live in fraternities if they don't want to," is a familiar comment.

Again this is true, but there are very few things that one has to do around campus if he "doesn't want to."

Fraternities here provide a service to the university by providing housing. So do dormitories, yet dormitories are not taxed by the town and the fraternities are. Isn't this discrimination of a sort?

Very few fraternities here are in sound financial condition, yet they are still a very important fixture in the college set up. Why shouldn't they receive some financial aid if it would mean helping their economic condition?

I admit that I haven't read all of the parts of this bill, and there may be other parts of it that would be objectionable. But its major purpose seems sound and worthy of passage. It is certainly not discriminatory as the Press Herald states.

The Flight Training Program sponsored by the Department of the Army, and now in its third year has qualified twenty-three cadets for civilian pilot licenses.

The ROTC Band of fifty members provides music for parades and ceremonies. The band is scheduled to participate in the Armed Forces Day Parade in New York City this coming May.

The Judo training program in its second year has one hundred fifty enthusiastic members.

The ROTC Rifle team is recognized as one of the outstanding teams in the nation.

In the Fall of 1958 a campsite was established on Pickerel Pond, located twenty miles from the campus, for the purpose of offering specialized training in outdoors activities.

The University received a charter for the activation of a Chapter of Pershing Rifles Honor Society recently.

The Military Department is sponsoring a Military Gymkhana this month. This event will offer an admissions-free evening of entertainment to the student body and the public.

This is a brief story of the ROTC on the campus of the University. With the coming expansion of the University, the Department will continue to contribute to that growth. We have enjoyed the cooperation of all University officials and activities. We are happy to be part of the campus life and organizational structure of the University of Maine.

"Mature" Audience Behavior

By Nonni Hilchey

It looks like I have been barking up the wrong tree for a few weeks. This is not saying that I regret any of my prior words, because I feel that my columns, if not beneficial, are at least controversial, and in some cases, it has been enough to start some conversation.

But, this week, it looks like I won't have the compliments for which I have been patting myself on the back. Many of you, before reading on, know what I mean to say, and if necessary, I'll say it to your faces.

Subject: Winter Carnival. Subsubject: The Gerry Mulligan Jazz Concert. Reason for discussion: the obnoxious behavior of some of our "mature, adult" students.

Tell me, did you who made such fools of yourselves, expect to hear Dixieland? Were you hoping to be transplanted back to the "Roarin' 20's"? What did you want to hear—noise, "hot sounds" and frequent drum solos? Did you ever hear about Mulligan before you went to the concert? If you didn't, you should have listened to those who knew something about his music.

Mulligan is not a stereotype of Brubeck, Armstrong, Garner or Kenton. He is just Mulligan. He has his own style, his own arrangements and plays a kind of jazz for which you need a good solid background. The person who said that each member of Mulligan's group was playing a different song is ignorant, not only because he thinks this way, but because he is fool enough to stick his foot in his mouth and speak his thoughts.

Tell me another thing — did you think that your behavior was "cute"? If you weren't enjoying the concert, why didn't you quietly fold up your tents and steal away? Whether you know it or not, your ridiculous behavior, the heckling, loud comments and raucous laughter made you look more foolish than intelligent.

However, if bouquets are to be thrown—thanks for leaving at intermission. The empty seats were much more enjoyable to look at than you can imagine. Your neighbors who stayed to hear also thank you for removing yourselves and your ribald comments that prevented them from enjoying it.

As I have said before, and if necessary will continue to say—don't make fools of yourselves and draw attention to yourselves by griping in this childish manner. Talk where it will do some good—complain to the president of your class, write a letter to the Campus (maybe it will mend your wounded ego to see your ideas in print), drop pamphlets from a plane—do something but don't sit and mumble. "Don't use a nipping pekinese approach when a mastiff is needed" (thanks to one of my fans). And, last of all, don't show your back-woods attitude and your childish ways of behaving when it isn't necessary. Please don't show so easily that you have never been out of the state of Maine!!

THE PEN IS MIGHTIER THAN THE SMOOCH

Back in my courting days (the raccoon coat was all the rage, everybody was singing Good Morning, Mister Zip Zip Zip, and young Bonaparte had just left Corsica), back, I say, in my courting days, the standard way to melt a girl's heart was to write poetry to her.

I don't understand why young men today have abandoned this gambit. There is nothing like poetry for moving a difficult girl. What's more, poems are ridiculously easy to write. The range of subjects is endless. You can write a poem about a girl's hair, her eyes, her lips, her walk, her talk, her clothes—anything at all. Indeed, one of my most effective love lyrics was called To Maud's Pencil Box. It went like this:

In your dear little leatherette pencil box
Are pencils of yellow and red,
And if you don't tell me you love me soon,
I'll hit you on top of the head.

Honesty compels me to admit that this poem fell short of success. Nothing daunted, I wrote another one. This time I pulled a switch; I threatened myself instead of Maud.

Oh, Maud, pray stop this drivel
And tell me you'll be mine,
For my sweetbreads they do shrivel
And wind around my spine.
My heart doth cease its beating,
My spleen uncoils and warps,
My liver stops secreting
Soon I needs be a corpse.

When this heart-rending ballad failed to win Maud, I could only conclude that she was cruel and heartless and I was better off without her. Accordingly I took back my Hi-Y pin, bade her adieu, and have not clapped eyes on her since. Last I heard, she was working in Galveston as a Plimsoll line.

But I did not mourn Maud long, for after Maud came Doris—Doris of the laughing eyes, Doris of the shimmering hair, Doris of the golden tibiae! Within moments of meeting her, I whipped up a torrent of trochaic tetrameter:

Oh, my sweet and dulcet Doris!
I love you like a Philip Morris
With its mild and rich tobacco
In its white and scarlet pack-o.
I'd swim from Louisville to Natchez
For Philip Morris and you and matches.

Well, of course, the dear girl couldn't resist a poem like that—what girl could?—and she instantly became my slave. For the rest of the semester she carried my books, washed my car, and cored my apples. There is no telling where it all would have ended if she hadn't been drafted.

So, men, you can see the power of poetry. Try it yourself. All you need is a rhyming dictionary, a quill pen, and a second-hand muse.

Let's drop rhyme and turn to reason. The reason Marlboro has gone to the head of the filter cigarette class is simple: better "makin's"—a flavor that pleases, a filter that works. Marlboro—from the makers of Philip Morris.

Committee To Plan Rallies Recommended By Senate

The General Student Senate executive committee has recommended that a committee be set up to plan and produce future football rallies. The purpose of such a committee is to allow the mayor more time to devote to school spirit.

Presently the mayors have had to assume administrative responsibilities as well as trying to maintain school spirit and the result has usually affected their scholastic standing, the executive committee pointed out. The present set-up has discouraged prospective candidates from entering the mayoralty race. They stated that under this new committee more time could be devoted to actual campaigning competition and spirit. This recommendation was approved by the Senate.

The executive committee has also appointed Douglas Hodgkins, senator from Phi Kappa Sigma, as the Maine Day Committee Chairman pending final approval from the Student-Faculty Committee. General opinion after last year's Maine Day was that lack of participation might mean the end of this traditional University holiday. As a result, this Student-Faculty Committee was established to study whether or not to continue Maine Day. If the committee decides to continue this "Day," they may recommend any changes in programming they feel necessary.

In last week's meeting of the Senate, John S. Barclay, senator from Hart Hall, introduced a motion that the General Student Senate publish a mimeographed newsletter to be distributed to students, faculty, and administration. This would be published at the end of each semester and given out by individual senators. The reason for such a letter, Barclay said, is to keep the University better informed of what the senate has accomplished during the past semester and what their plans are for the coming semester. The funds for this newsletter will be taken from the Senate fund.

Eddie Madden To Play At Soph Hop

Committee for the Sophomore Hop has announced the engagement of Eddie Madden for the dance on March 6.

Eddie Madden at present is working on a graduate degree in Music Education at Boston University as a teaching fellow and as assistant conductor of the B.U. band.

He was formerly a featured trombone soloist with the Ted Herbert Orchestra before forming his own band. He has also appeared as guest conductor with the University of N.H. Symphony Orchestra and Symphonic Band.

Madden has done arranging for Buddy Morrow, Tad Herbert, Cindy Lord, and Jerry Vale as well as the University of N.H. Symphony and the Boston University Band.

The instrumentation of his orchestra is unique in that he uses four trumpets, four saxophones, piano, bass and drums. The combination of instruments sets a fine dance style. Madden will bring a vocalist with his band.

Recent appearances of the band have been at Dartmouth, University of New Hampshire, and St. Michaels as well as the Totem Pole, Eliot, Hampton Beach Casino, Commodore, and Rhodes on Pawtucket.

Committees for the Sophomore Hop this year include. Publicity, Peter Berry; Decorations, Gerry Ingalls; Tickets, Nelson Zand; Facilities, Dave Arnold; Refreshments, Marcia Meade; Chaperons, Marilyn Leslie; and Music, Frank Olson.

Union News

Union committee members are invited to a supper on Tuesday at 6 p.m. At 7 p.m. that same evening committee members will meet with any students interested in becoming members of a Union committee.

There are seven different committees which plan all events for the year, including research, evaluation, recruitment; games and tournaments; public and campus relations; special events; fine arts; movie; and music and dance. For those who would like to become a member of one of these committees but cannot attend the meeting, more information can be obtained by calling 386, Mrs. Dunton, or contacting Jack Shaw at Lambda Chi.

Seven Students Awarded $100 Scholarships

Seven University students were awarded $100 scholarships last week by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

The awards were presented at a dinner held in honor of the seven students in Estabrooke Hall.

Three of the students are majoring in home economics and four in agricultural economics and farm management. The awards are given on the basis of character, financial need, promise of leadership and scholarship, and similar qualifications.

Those receiving the scholarships were Margaret Boothby, Robert F. Cook, Mary Gay, Marie Hedstrom, Kenneth G. Henrich, David E. Larabee, and Peter C. Sanborn.

Balentine Hall, built in 1914 and 1915, was named for Elizabeth Abbott Balentine, registrar of the University from 1895-1913.

Twenty-Two Men Censured

Twenty-three male students have been placed on censure since the beginning of fall semester, according to the Registrar, George Crosby. There have been no dismissals, and no women placed on censure, he added.

This figure represents about one half of one per cent of the fall registration figure. Last year at this time 25 students had been placed on censure.

According to Crosby, most of the censures involved infractions of the liquor rules. Eight of the men were placed on censure for making illegal changes on their University ID cards so as to appear over 21.

Students under censure are ineligible to represent the University in intercollegiate events. They are unable to hold campus offices or participate in any activities other than intramural sports. All disciplinary action is handled by the committee on Discipline, a sub-committee of the Committee on Administration.

Committee To Plan Rallies Recommended By Senate

The General Student Senate executive committee has recommended that a committee be set up to plan and produce future football rallies. The purpose of such a committee is to allow the mayor more time to devote to school spirit.

Presently the mayors have had to assume administrative responsibilities as well as trying to maintain school spirit and the result has usually affected their scholastic standing, the executive committee pointed out. The present set-up has discouraged prospective candidates from entering the mayoralty race. They stated that under this new committee more time could be devoted to actual campaigning competition and spirit. This recommendation was approved by the Senate.

The executive committee has also appointed Douglas Hodgkins, senator from Phi Kappa Sigma, as the Maine Day Committee Chairman pending final approval from the Student-Faculty Committee. General opinion after last year's Maine Day was that lack of participation might mean the end of this traditional University holiday. As a result, this Student-Faculty Committee was established to study whether or not to continue Maine Day. If the committee decides to continue this "Day," they may recommend any changes in programming they feel necessary.

In last week's meeting of the Senate, John S. Barclay, senator from Hart Hall, introduced a motion that the General Student Senate publish a mimeographed newsletter to be distributed to students, faculty, and administration. This would be published at the end of each semester and given out by individual senators. The reason for such a letter, Barclay said, is to keep the University better informed of what the senate has accomplished during the past semester and what their plans are for the coming semester. The funds for this newsletter will be taken from the Senate fund.

Eddie Madden To Play At Soph Hop

Committee for the Sophomore Hop has announced the engagement of Eddie Madden for the dance on March 6.

Eddie Madden at present is working on a graduate degree in Music Education at Boston University as a teaching fellow and as assistant conductor of the B.U. band.

He was formerly a featured trombone soloist with the Ted Herbert Orchestra before forming his own band. He has also appeared as guest conductor with the University of N.H. Symphony Orchestra and Symphonic Band.

Madden has done arranging for Buddy Morrow, Tad Herbert, Cindy Lord, and Jerry Vale as well as the University of N.H. Symphony and the Boston University Band.

The instrumentation of his orchestra is unique in that he uses four trumpets, four saxophones, piano, bass and drums. The combination of instruments sets a fine dance style. Madden will bring a vocalist with his band.

Recent appearances of the band have been at Dartmouth, University of New Hampshire, and St. Michaels as well as the Totem Pole, Eliot, Hampton Beach Casino, Commodore, and Rhodes on Pawtucket.

Committees for the Sophomore Hop this year include. Publicity, Peter Berry; Decorations, Gerry Ingalls; Tickets, Nelson Zand; Facilities, Dave Arnold; Refreshments, Marcia Meade; Chaperons, Marilyn Leslie; and Music, Frank Olson.

Union News

Union committee members are invited to a supper on Tuesday at 6 p.m. At 7 p.m. that same evening committee members will meet with any students interested in becoming members of a Union committee.

There are seven different committees which plan all events for the year, including research, evaluation, recruitment; games and tournaments; public and campus relations; special events; fine arts; movie; and music and dance. For those who would like to become a member of one of these committees but cannot attend the meeting, more information can be obtained by calling 386, Mrs. Dunton, or contacting Jack Shaw at Lambda Chi.

Seven Students Awarded $100 Scholarships

Seven University students were awarded $100 scholarships last week by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company.

The awards were presented at a dinner held in honor of the seven students in Estabrooke Hall.

Three of the students are majoring in home economics and four in agricultural economics and farm management. The awards are given on the basis of character, financial need, promise of leadership and scholarship, and similar qualifications.

Those receiving the scholarships were Margaret Boothby, Robert F. Cook, Mary Gay, Marie Hedstrom, Kenneth G. Henrich, David E. Larabee, and Peter C. Sanborn.

Balentine Hall, built in 1914 and 1915, was named for Elizabeth Abbott Balentine, registrar of the University from 1895-1913.

Aides In Washington Are Busy As Staff Members

Don Mooers, who is on Senator Muskie's staff, says he has been most impressed by the friendliness of the people in Washington. He is fascinated by the tremendous amount of mail received in the office each day with requests of all kinds. An answer must be found for every one. Don has been working at this job, and has visited many government agencies to collect information in regard to the letters.

Goes To School

He is also keeping busy by attending night school. Don is taking a government course at the American University in Washington.

The only worry Don has is that he won't have time to do everything he wants by August.

Besides doing staff work and going to night school, Sally and Don still have required work to do for the University. They must send bi-monthly reports to Dr. Dow, and write a final report to review their major work.

Bear Facts

By
Ron Drogan
Sports Editor

Everyone is praising Brian McCall and his ten magnificent basketball players to the utmost. The reason is quite simple; McCall and his team are about to terminate the most successful season ever played by a university cage squad. They have been successful with no scholarship athletes, no skyscrapers, and with an inexperienced team playing under a new coach with a new system.

The pattern for this season was set way back during the second week of December when our prides licked Colby by three points. And, I recall the happiness that pervaded the campus when we ruined Vermont's title aspirations by stopping the Catamounts on successive days by two-point margins.

Ever since that early stage, University students were fully aware that they were represented by a fine ballclub. Although the team experienced misfortune in the Down-east Classic by losing two games, and then by losing twice to Connecticut, the chest of the Maine Bear has constantly remained swollen throughout.

And who are the players who have represented us so well? They happen to include the greatest group of spirited and desirous men that ever sported the pale blue and white of the U. of M. Heading the list is the always aggressive team captain Dick "Rooster" Collins whose basket in the final 15 seconds won the first Vermont game. Then there is the defensive genius, Dick Sturgeon, whose ability at guard should earn him an all-conference selection, and there are Ron Boynton and Terry Spurling. Maury Dore, hampered by an injury in midseason, has outrebounded and outfought opponents far taller than himself and has been great at the pivot position for the second year in a row.

Perhaps the greatest reason for the success of the team lies with the five sophomores: Don Sturgeon, Wayne Champeon, Jon Ingalls, Larry Schiner, and Bob Morin. These players have all developed quickly and show tremendous promise for the next two years. Sturgeon with his amazing shooting and fine rebounding, Champeon with his fantastic court wizardry and clutch performances, Ingalls with his fighting spirit, Schiner with his fine jump shooting and expert defensive play, and Morin with his capable scoring touch have all contributed in a major way to the success of Brian McCall's first Big U team.

To Coach McCall himself, a big hurrah for a job well done. He has instilled an optimistic approach to Big U basketball, and has done an excellent job with a team consisting of non-paid athletes who are playing only for the enjoyment and satisfaction that the sport offers.

Blots, Jots, and Plots:

The first annual Maine A.A.U. trackmeet will be staged in the fieldhouse Saturday afternoon with field events beginning at 1 and running events at 2. Some of the best trackstars in the state will be competing.

Several top high school basketball prospects have shown interest in attending the Big U. Included are Brunswick's Warren (6-4), Brewer's Robertson (6-6), and two fellows from Madawaska and Skowhegan who stand 6-7.

State Series Crown In Sight As Bears Tangle Colby Mule

Playoffs Begin For Intramural Basketball Title

By Rick Brennan

Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Eta Kappa opened the inter-fraternity basketball finals the other night with the latter romping to a 54 to 39 triumph. Fred Bustard and Pete Gillespie tallied 14 and 13 points respectively for Phi Eta and enabled them to ease past Phi Kap. Bob Sterritt's 14 points weren't enough to keep Phi Kap within reach of their antagonists.

The week before last saw one of the most interesting games of the year. Lambda Chi was clinging to a 1 point margin over Phi Gam as the final buzzer sounded to announce the end of the game. Simultaneously Dick Russell of Phi Gam was fouled. He stepped to the free throw line and sank both tosses for a storybook finish. Al Lowe and Curt Rose of Lambda Chi each scored 11 and Russell of Phi Gam accounted for 15 points. Foul shots spelled the difference between the two clubs throughout the game. The final score was 41 to 40.

Eight teams enter the finals in the non-fraternity division; four of these have unblemished records. Dave Cloutier and Frank Sabol have led the Cabins to a string of six wins including a 79 to 43 lop-sided victory over North Dorm 8. The teams entering the finals and their records are as follows:

Newman Hall	6	0
Hannibal Hamlin	6	0
Off-Campus	6	0
Dunn 1	5	1
North Dorm 10	5	1
Dunn 3	4	2
Corbett 2	4	2

With its best Yankee Conference record in history now in the books, the Black Bears of Brian McCall will conclude their season with two important State Series clashes.

On Saturday Bowdoin will host the locals, and next Tuesday Maine will travel to Waterville to face Colby in the showdown game for the Maine title. Both games will be preceded by battles between the freshman squads of all three schools.

Bowdoin is experiencing its worst season in history with one win in twenty-one games and will go out to upset Maine's title aspirations. In the first meeting of the year between the two teams, the Polar Bears came from 25 points behind to just fall short 75-71. At Orono, however, Maine was an easy winner 90-66. Bowdoin's big threats are Pete Scott and Dick Willey. Scott was not in the lineup in the game at Orono, and his presence should mean a lot for the Bowdoin cause.

Colby Needs Win

With 8 state titles in the past 9 years, Colby is in no mood to relinquish its crown and does not wish to lose three straight games to Maine in one campaign. A Bear win would give the locals four in a row over the Mules stretching back to last season. Both games between the arch-rivals have been spine tingling thrillers with the verdict in doubt until the final minutes. Maine's margin of victory in the two games has been 7 points, 75-72 and 69-65, so a close game should be on tap next week. Lloyd Cohen, Leon Nelson and Ed Marchetti present a formidable trio and Maine will have to be at its best to be victorious. A Maine win would give the Bears a clear claim to the title, while a Colby win would send the teams into a tie.

Smash Rhody

Last Saturday the Black Bears proved that they have finally arrived and gave a capacity crowd a great thrill by soundly trouncing Rhode Island 94-77. The first half was nip and tuck and URI took a 46-44 lead into the dressing room at halftime. Then suddenly early in the second half the Bears came with a rush and left the Rams in the dust.

The Maine advantage fluctuated between 12 to 18 points throughout most of the half. Wayne Champeon played his finest game of the year as he scored 20 points and set up as many with his ball handling and passing. Dick Sturgeon played his usual brilliant game and led Maine with 21 points. Don Sturgeon with 16 points, Larry Schiner with 13 and Maury Dore with a whole bunch of rebounds all supplied the fans with thrill after thrill.

By defeating Rhody, Maine assured themselves of no worse than a second place tie in the conference. Maine could finish in a first place tie with UConn if URI can beat the Huskies and if the Rams go the rest of way undefeated in the league a three way tie would result. In the event of a two or three way tie the team to represent the YC in the NCAA tournament will be selected by officials of the conference.

Unbeaten Freshmen To Face Stiff Action In Last Two Games

By Artie Zalkan

Currently holding a stainless record of 13-0, Maine's frosh basketball five swings back into action Saturday night, February 28, against the frosh of Bowdoin at Brunswick. Wednesday night, March 4, the Bear Cubs bring down the curtain on the 1958-59 court season when they invade Waterville for a return bout with the young Mules of Colby.

The Colby-Maine encounter merits much watching by basketball fans. Colby nearly knocked Maine from the unbeaten ranks last month. On the 13th of January, Maine nipped Colby by a single marker, 72-71.

The Mules should have a definite advantage by playing on their home court. However, it is expected that the Maine squad will offset this superiority by their well balanced attack. If Maine should cope with these remaining games, their record will be 15-0. An unbeaten slate will give the yearlings a total of 32 straight wins over a two and one-half year period.

Frosh Cop Two

During the last ten days, the frosh added two more victories to their streak by posting the following scores:

Maine 101 Washington State Teachers 77

Maine 84 Old Town 70

Against the Machias team, Skip Chappelle scored 11 field goals to break the all time U-M freshman scoring record for the most goals in one season. The old record was 107 set by varsity performer Don Sturgeon. Three men on the frosh squad have really earned their starting positions by performing at their best throughout the campaign. Aside from Chappelle, the other two stars are Don Harnum of Brewer and Randy Furbish of Brunswick.

Coach Butterfield is very pleased with each member of his team. He feels that each man has contributed much towards the team's present record. Basketball ends on the 4th of March, but the spirit that carried this team to the top will continue as these freshmen move into the big leagues.

Maine Trackmen Blast Bowdoin; Host State AAU Meet Saturday

By Pete Hannah

The Maine cindersmen trimmed the Bowdoin Polar Bears 79 1/3 to 42 2/3 last Saturday to win their third straight meet of the season.

Bessey Spectacular

Dale Bessey amazed spectators as he ran through the 600-yard run at a blistering pace to set a new University and meet record of 1:12.2. Spencer of Maine took second.

Bill Daly came through hard in the final lap to win the mile-run by a wide margin and later won the 2-mile setting a meet record of 10:01.6.

Larry Wilkins was Bowdoin's big gun as he won the high and low hurdles, and set a new meet record of 5.5 seconds in the lows. Ives of Maine took second in both these events. Wilkins also won the 40-yard dash, beating Haskell by inches.

Jon Green of Bowdoin established a new meet record of 2:20.5 in the 1000-yd. run to win that event.

Other outstanding men for Maine were Horne, Hale, Ritz, Beyer, and Linekin.

Hold Maine A.A.U. Meet

This Saturday the Maine A.A.U. meet will be held in the Memorial Fieldhouse. This meet will no doubt be the biggest indoor meet in the state this year. Competitors from all four of Maine's colleges will be present as well as independent competitors who have A.A.U. membership. This field of athletes will thus encompass some of the finest competition in the state, and every race should be a real thriller. Awards will be made to the winners of the first five places. Additional stands will be set up so that more spectators can enjoy this meet.
