Quorum Law Is Changed By Senators

The General Student Senate last week changed the quorum law by striking out "two-thirds" and inserting "a majority." The amendment was unanimous.

After having failed to muster a quorum at two successive regularly scheduled meetings under the old two-thirds system, it became evident that a smaller quorum was necessary for the Senate to function efficiently.

Expel Five Senators

In a similar move to improve attendance, the Senate expelled five Senators with three or more unexcused absences. Six other Senators with excessive absences were allowed to retain their membership after providing suitable excuses.

President Richard Salisbury said that the new move should aid immensely in guaranteeing quorums in the future. Salisbury also suggested that a move might be in the making whereby the Senate would have only one regularly scheduled meeting a month. The present system of two meetings a month sometimes finds all the main business conducted in one of the meetings and little of importance left for the other.

Defeat Library Bill

In other Senate business, the group defeated a motion on lengthening the time on the Library's reserve books. Presented by Senator Dave Downing, the motion recommended that one-half of the books on closed reserve in a course be put on 20 hour reserve two days a week, Monday and Tuesday, and that the other half be put on 20 hour reserve on Thursday and Friday. These books would be allowed to go out after 4 p.m. and be returned by 12 noon the following day.

"Heart Of Religion" Is Festival Theme

"The Heart of Religion" will be the theme of the annual Religious Arts Festival, held Saturday and Sunday, April 18 and 19, at 7:30 in the Main Lounge of the Union.

The Festival is sponsored by the Student Religious Association and is an attempt to portray some central modes of worship through different art forms.

For the first time, an identical program will be held both Saturday and Sunday nights. Included in the program will be "The Hound of Heaven" by Francis Thompson; "The True Brahman" from the Upanishads (Hindu scriptures); "The Heavens Are Telling," by Beethoven; a speech choir reading of Psalm 130, interpreted in dance by the modern dance group; a selection from Father Mapple's sermon in Moby Dick by Herman Melville; the Brome Abraham and Isaac, a medieval mystery play; "Adoramus Te" by Palestrina; and the Nunc Dimittis from Luke.

The narrator for the evening program will be Michael Dole and readers will include William Anderson, Bhanwar Sirohi, and Robert Simpson.

The cast for Abraham and Isaac will be: Abraham, Don Billet; Isaac, Marcia Carsley; God, Hal Wheeler; Angel, Laurel Hoyt; Doctor, Bill Hanson. Co-directors for the play are Sylvia Curran and Suzanne Dunn.

The speech choir is under the direction of Dr. Marie Mengers, and the Modern Dance Club under the direction of Eileen Cassidy. Dancers for this program will be Dorothy Detloff, Christine Peterka, and Stephanie Korzeniewska.

In connection with the Religious Arts Festival, Mr. Harry Greaver, instructor in art, will lecture on Wednesday, April 15, at 4 p.m. in the Louis Oakes Room of the library. The topic of his lecture will be The Religious Art of Roualt and Chagall.

Committee for the Festival, under the chairmanship of James Saunders, is: Arnold Baker, Cliff Benoit, Anne Coleman, Elinor Epstein, Joyce Kingsbury, Joseph McKenna, Kay Sawyer, Dr. David Trafford, Professor John Lyman and Rev. Harvey Bates.

Seniors Hold Vote On Dual Graduation

Cuccaro Schedules Meeting For Next Wednesday Night

Discussion of the dual graduation will take top priority at Wednesday night's senior class meeting. The University announced last week that dual graduation ceremonies will be held, with the colleges of Arts and Sciences and Agriculture graduating in the morning and the colleges of Technology and Education in the afternoon. Earlier this week a petition signed by 80 seniors requested that the executive committee hold a class-wide vote on the issue.

The petition asked that a referendum vote be taken on Friday, April 17. Two alternatives, having a dual graduation as announced or having one ceremony at the Bangor Auditorium, would be voted on.

Joseph Cuccaro, president of the senior class, said that the class constitution does not provide for referendum voting of this sort and that the executive committee felt it wiser to bring up the petition and vote at the scheduled meeting.

Cuccaro stated that the executive committee is empowered to act in the name of the class between meetings and that they had endorsed the double graduation exercises. He also stated that plans for the graduation were discussed at a previous class meeting which few attended.

According to University President, Lloyd H. Elliott, the administration has final jurisdiction on the matter, but would endorse the senior vote. "We wish to do what the senior class wants," he said. "It is their graduation and it is not too late to change the plans if the class wishes to do so."

As planned now, the morning ceremony would be held Sunday, June 7 at 10:15 a.m. and afternoon ceremony on the same day at 2:30, both in the Memorial Gymnasium. The Baccalaureate service would be held on Sunday, May 31 at 11 a.m.

In previous years graduation ceremonies have been held on the Athletic field with the Gymnasium and Indoor Field House as an alternative in case of rain. However, the size of the graduating class makes it impossible for seniors to obtain more than three tickets apiece under this plan.

Graduation plans have been considered and proposed by a joint student-administrative committee. The senior executive committee appointed the Senior Skulls as their representative, who in turn appointed Skulls Ralph Hodgkins and Donald Cookson to represent them. George Crosby, Registrar, Charles Crossland, Vice President for Administration and Henry L. Doten, Business Manager for the University, represented the administration on the committee.

Voting For Mayor To Take Place Maine Day Morning

Changes in voting will be noted at the annual Maine Day, held this year on May 6. Of major importance is that voting for campus mayor will be held on the morning of Maine Day.

Candidates and supporters will have an opportunity to campaign for votes in the work project areas during the morning. Campaigning will end at mid-morning and a mobile voting truck will canvass the work areas to enable students to cast their votes. The mobile voting unit will be parked on the mall at noon where the voting will be completed. Announcement of the new campus mayor will be made following the float parade on Maine Day afternoon.

The Maine Day Work Projects Committee has lined up several definite projects for Maine Day morning. A sidewalk is to be built running north from Hart Hall towards the field house. This area is heavily traveled during football season and when events are taking place in the gym and field house. Workers will also remove the grass triangle near the front of the gym. In the women's dormitory area a sidewalk will be built between Colvin and Merrill Halls. Civil engineering majors will supervise the painting of lines on the parking lot near the old Men's Cafeteria. There will also be fence painting in the gym area. The committee will receive ideas to improve the campus up until April 17.

Bud Ochmanski, chairman of the entertainment committee, announced that the theme for the skit night will be "Swanee on the Stillwater."

Mayorality campaigning starts April 30th. Anyone seeking candidacy may apply at the Dean of Men's office between April 20 and April 29. Freshman candidates must have a 2.0 cumulative and upperclassmen must have a 1.8 cumulative.

Those interested in running or having any questions concerning campaigning contact Paul McGuire at ATO.

The campaigning will start Thursday, April 30, and end at 10 a.m. Wednesday, May 6. There will be no campaigning Saturday or Sunday, May 2 and 3. The campaign skits will be Monday night at 7.

Members of the Work Projects Committee include: Robert Munson, chairman; Gail McLain, Peter Berry, Margaret Stiles, Effie Billings, Gail Masterman, Paul Bridge, Paul Hahn, and Carl McDowell.

Detail sheets concerning the Float Parade, Maine Day afternoon, have been sent out. The theme this year is "Video Views" featuring scenes from favorite television shows.

Fraternities have already begun practicing for the annual Inter-Fraternity Council Sing, which will be

Shay Submits Resignation As Business School Head

Dr. Robert Shay, Head of the School of Business Administration, has submitted his resignation to President Lloyd H. Elliott. Shay will leave in July to do research with the National Bureau of Economic Research, Inc.

The National Bureau of Economic Research is a non-profit research organization whose chairman, Arthur F. Burns, is a former president of President Eisenhower's Committee of Economic Advisors.

Shay said, "My main reason for leaving is that this is an opportunity to make a significant contribution in a research field in which I am vitally interested." He feels that the study will cover a long enough period of time to resign his post rather than get a leave of absence.

In announcing Shay's resignation, Elliott said the University was accepting it "with regret."

"Professor Shay has been one of our most promising younger faculty members," Elliott added, "and during the time he has been the head of our new school of Business Administration, he has demonstrated the type of inspiring leadership that we desire for all our divisions and departments."

"The University and state have suffered a major loss by Professor Shay's resignation. We need the kind of leadership that he has provided in the area of business administration and in the entire field of economics.

"However, we recognize that the position which has been offered to

On Friday, April 17, the University will participate in a nationwide Civil Defense exercise.

At 11:30 a.m. the steam plant whistle will blow an alert which is a steady three minute blast. At this time, all radio and television stations will go off the air, and only Conelrad stations, 640 and 1240, will operate.

At 1:15 p.m. the "take cover" signal will sound. This is a series of short blasts lasting from one to three minutes. Duration of the "take cover" is 10 minutes. All pedestrians should take cover in the nearest building and traffic will be stopped. There will be no interruption of classes. There will be no all clear signal. All students are urged to participate.

Sorority Women Will Stage Annual Panhellenic Weekend

The theme for this year's Panhellenic Weekend is "Weekend in the Orient." The weekend starts tomorrow night with a dance at Stodder Hall to the music of Les Nadeau.

Saturday there will be workshops in Balentine and Estabrooke Halls starting at 11:30 a.m. These workshops include discussions on such topics as Normal Contacts, under the direction of Mrs. Doris Marshall; Sorority-Fraternity Relations, under Herbert Woods and Blaine Moores; How to Establish Strong Identification With National, led by Miss Margaret Mollison; Would You Join Sorority Again? led by Mrs. George Weiland and Dr. John W. Nichols; and How Can We Make Sorority More Fun? led by Pat Snyder.

Remiko Tanaka will give the keynote address at the one o'clock luncheon in Estabrooke Dining Hall. An evaluation of the workshops will follow the luncheon and singing of sorority songs will close the day.

Carlyn Smith is General Chairman of the weekend. Charlene Manchester and Julie Hanson are in charge of the workshops and Carol Robinson is in charge of the dance. Connie Atherton and Betty Lunt are in charge of the Luncheon and sing, respectively. Joanne Keith is publicity chairman for the event.

The ROTC Pershing Rifles Judo Club at the University of Maine will be host for a judo tournament at 1:00 p.m. on 18 April 1959. The tournament will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium. Teams from Loring Air Force Base, Dow Air Force Base, and the University of Maine will participate. Trophies will be awarded to the winners in each weight class.

Union News

The Chess Club will meet on Wednesday night, April 15, at 7:30, in the Totman Room of the Union.

Reminder to Photographers: The Photographic Contest deadline is April 28. Those entering must have all entries submitted by that time. It is requested that material be submitted as soon as possible to Paul Daigle, or to the Activities Room at the Union.

Fly-Tying Instruction: On Thursday, April 16, at 7:00 p.m., Fly-Tying Instruction, under the direction of Professor C. Z. Westfall, will be given in the Bumps Room. This has developed from the interest shown in the recent demonstration held in the Union lobby when several faculty members and students exhibited their work and showed some of the techniques of Fly-Tying.

Professor Charles F. Virtue of the Philosophy Department will lecture on "Buddhism Through The Ages" at the Humanities Lecture, Sunday, April 19, at 4:00 in the Bangor Room.

Dale Whitney and his Maine Bears will entertain at a jam session in the Bear's Den on Saturday, April 18 from 2 to 4 p.m.

Masque Presents Play Of Timeliness To Nation

By Hal Maguire, Jr.

The choice the Maine Masque Theatre has made in selecting Maxwell Anderson's Winterset for its next and final production of this school year is even more timely than originally realized.

Winterset was picked for presentation, not only because it is an outstanding drama, but also as a tribute to its author, who died recently. However, Maine finds itself in rehearsal of this play which is based on the Sacco-Vanzetti murder case at a time when the attention of the nation is once again called to the facts of the Massachusetts murder case. The Massachusetts House of Representatives this week rejected a bill for posthumous pardons for Sacco and Vanzetti, who were executed 32 years ago after having been found guilty of the murder of two men in a shoe factory holdup in South Braintree, Mass. To this day, the Sacco-Vanzetti case can touch off heated discussions in Massachusetts as to the fairness or unfairness of the trial and as to the guilt or innocence of the executed men.

Maxwell Anderson has concentrated on character delineation in Winterset, and has realized a drama of rich meaning with compelling theatrical force.

The story of Mio's determination to clear his father of guilt and the ensuing situation which develops between Mio and Miramne, daughter of a man greatly responsible for the verdict of guilt, are grist for a thoroughly engrossing play.

Herschel L. Bricker, director of the Maine Masque, is directing Winterset, which will have a four-day run in the Little Theatre, April 29-May 2. Tickets, for the play, are available in the Masque Office in Stevens Hall.

Union Presents Ace Of Spades

The Memorial Union will feature gambling, dancing and floor shows at the annual Ace of Spades party on April 25.

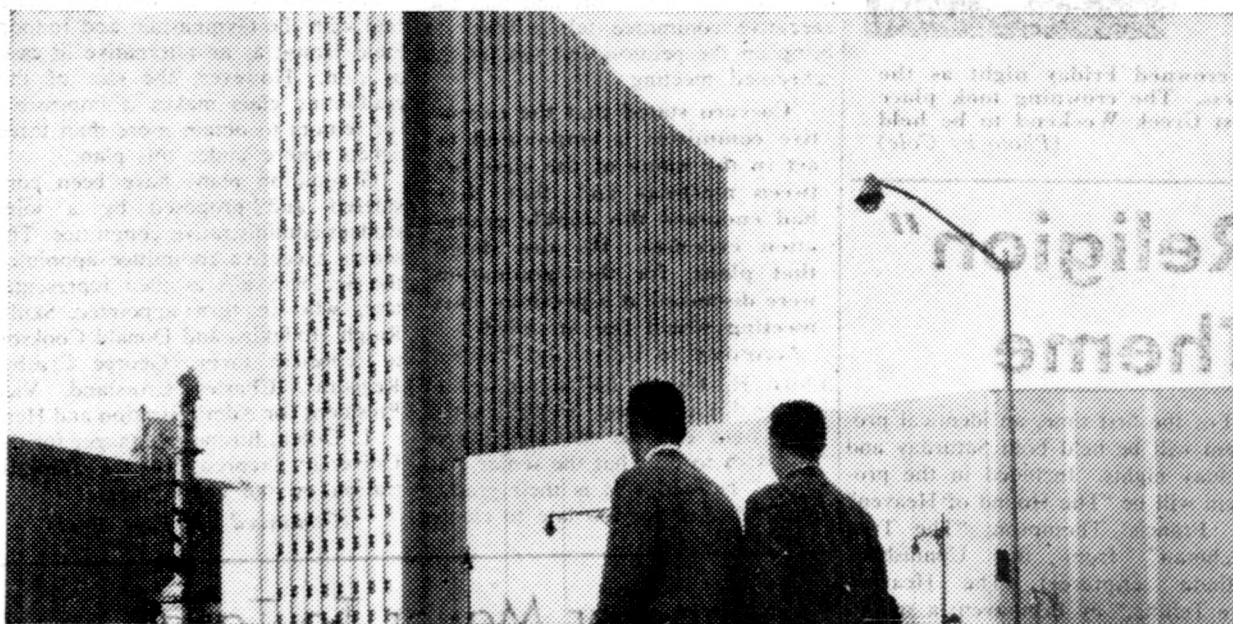

The entire building will be turned into a gambling hall with roulette, casino, poker and other games of chance, with members of the faculty acting as croupiers. Only play money is used, but thousands of dollars will pass through many hands over many losses.

The union will close for all other events, and each room will be set up for the different games. Downstairs in the Bear's Den a nightclub atmosphere will be created, with candlelight and dancing to Nat Diamond's orchestra. Running concurrently throughout the evening, two groups of entertainers will present five floor shows alternately. This year the "Sultans" from Dartmouth College will be featured.

The special events committee of the Union is in charge of the affair, with Eric Bolen in charge.

Nancy Morse is chairman in charge of faculty arrangements; Sylvia Godaire, decorations; Dana Sylvester, publicity; and Ron Merrill, room arrangements; all assisted by the committee members of the Union.

New "post-grad" program helps engineers move ahead at Western Electric

MANHATTAN'S COLISEUM TOWER building houses Western Electric's New York training center. Here, as in Chicago and Winston-Salem, N. C., Western Electric engineers participate in a training program that closely resembles a university graduate school.

Careers get off to a fast start — and keep on growing — at Western Electric.

One big help is our new Graduate Engineering Training Program. This unique full-time, off-the-job study program starts soon after you join Western Electric... continues throughout your career. Students are offered courses in various fields including semiconductors, computers, feedback control systems, and problem solving techniques. What's more, they study methods for improving skills in communicating technical information and the art of getting ideas across.

You'll find the work at Western Electric stimulating, too. As manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, we pioneered in the production of the transistor, repeated submarine cable, and the provision of microwave telephone and television facilities spanning the country. Engineering skills can't help developing—careers can't help prospering—in the lively, exciting technical climate at Western Electric.

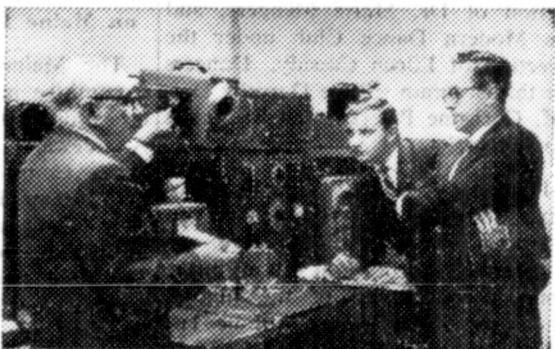

Western Electric technical fields include mechanical, electrical, chemical, civil and industrial engineering, plus the physical sciences. For more information pick up a copy of "Consider a Career at Western Electric" from your Placement Officer. Or write College Relations, Room 200E, Western Electric Company, 195 Broadway, New York 7, N. Y. And sign up for a W. E. interview when the Bell System Interviewing Team visits your campus.

CLASSROOM SESSION at one of the centers takes up the first part of the three-phase program. Introduction to Western Electric Engineering. During this initial nine-week training period, new engineers are provided with a better understanding of Western Electric engineering methods and technical practices.

TECHNICAL TALK often continues after class. The free and easy informality of the new Western Electric training program offers plenty of opportunity for the stimulating exchange of ideas.

Beckwith Awarded Education Fellowship

By Mary Irving

Gerald C. Beckwith, instructor in speech and assistant director of publicity for television at the University, has been awarded a $6,000 fellowship by the Fund for Adult Education.

The fellowship will provide Beckwith with an opportunity to pursue advanced study in mass communications at Michigan State University. He will begin his work at MSU this summer.

Beckwith was one of 18 individuals associated with mass communications who received grants from the Fund for Adult Education. The awards were made to the 18 "to broaden and liberalize their knowledge and increase their skills."

Beckwith grew up in Mount Morris, Michigan, a small town outside of Flint, where he attended Mount Morris High School. He attended Flint Junior College, from which he graduated in 1949. He received his B.A. degree from Michigan State in 1951 and his M.A. from the same institution three years later.

In 1953 he taught Literature, Government and Speech for a year at Brighton High School in Brighton, Michigan. Prior to this he had served as a Graduate Assistant for a year at Michigan State in Radio and Television.

In 1954 he taught Radio and Television at Ohio University for a year where he helped supervise the educational radio station WOUI AM-FM. The next year he did his internship with NBC in Chicago at radio station WMAQ and television station WMBQ-TV. He came to the University of Maine in the Fall of 1955.

During the past four years he has served as a speech instructor, producer of the university's television programs on Bangor TV stations, and faculty advisor for WORO, the student radio station on campus.

In the summer of 1957 Beckwith received a Fellowship and did graduate work at Michigan.

Beckwith met his wife, Gladys, at Flint Junior College. They went through Flint and Michigan State together and were married when they both were seniors. She received her Master's degree from Michigan in 1956 and now teaches English at Old Town Junior High School. They have one daughter, Christine, who is seven and attends the Webster School in Orono.

Beckwith's hobbies include hiking, records, and reading. His music preference is classical, "with a little jazz on occasion."

He is a member of The National Association of Education Broadcasters, the A.A.U.P., and the Speech Association of America. He also belongs to the New England Speech Association and the Educational Television Association of America.

While at Michigan State, Beckwith will devote his time to media study in the fields of radio and television; communications research theory; and special work in radio, television, journalism, psychology, sociology, adult education or political thought and theory.

Beckwith is the only person in the state of Maine and one of the two people in New England to receive one of these fellowships this year.

The University Library, a Georgian structure, was begun in 1941 and was financed by 6,000 alumni, faculty, students, and friends.

Goya's Aquatints Are Shown

By Joyce Kingsbury

This month, the Art Department is exhibiting in Carnegie original aquatints by Francisco Goya, one of Spain's outstanding painters and a most influential artist on later painters. He is listed as the last of the great Spanish masters and according to one authority "... the first great modern European artist."

Aquatints, one of the most complicated of print mediums, give the appearance of light and dark values.

Goya's aquatints on display entitled "The Disasters of War", which were published in 1863, 35 years after his death, express his feeling about the Napoleonic Wars with its grim horrors. The prints are intensely emotional and stirring, full of the hideous and barbarous facts of war. Goya often went into the territory of expressionistic painting, thus practicing more than mere realism. He was a pioneer painter of the common people (he was of

Ralph Marterie To Play At Junior Prom

Announcement was made this week by the junior class, that Ralph Marterie will play at the annual Junior Prom held this year on May 1st. The theme of the dance will be "Dancing in a Dream" and will feature dancing from 9:00 to 1:00.

In a recent poll conducted by Down-Beat magazine, Ralph Marterie and his orchestra were voted the most popular band of American colleges across the country. Marterie has made both single records and long play albums and is well known to groups across the nation.

Committee work for the Junior Prom is well underway, but many more will be needed for decorations committee. Anyone interested in working on decorations may do so by contacting Art

Atherton or Joe Carroll.

The engagement of Marterie and his orchestra is in accordance with the trend this year of "big name" bands for big weekends at the University. Marterie says that one of his primary aims is to incorporate into his program music that appeals to all dancing tastes.

Editorials:Seniors Please Note

Members of the Senior Class . . . There is a meeting of your class next Wednesday night at 7:00 in the Main Lounge of the Memorial Union. Each and every one of you should make a special effort to attend.

Perhaps the most important business that will be taken up will be a class vote as to where your graduation exercises will be held. There are two proposals:

One. That there be two separate graduation exercises. The College of Arts and Sciences and the College of Agriculture graduating as one group in the morning, and the Colleges of Education and Technology holding their exercises in the afternoon. The ceremonies will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Two. That the class graduate as a whole, in the Bangor Auditorium, the only building in the area large enough to accommodate them.

It is not our place to tell you how to vote or debate the various merits of the proposals.

What we would like to suggest is that every senior take the time Wednesday night to attend the meeting, listen to the debate and cast an intelligent, informed vote on the subject.

The decision which you arrive at may well influence the actions of the classes which are to follow—and for this reason alone it deserves your thoughtful consideration.

The question of what will be done with your class gift will also be presented, but this does not affect the campus as a whole. The graduation exercise question may.

If you have an opinion, please attend. It IS important.

"Weekend" Deserves Praise

It would seem that congratulations were in order to the members of the IFC for the job that they did with their first Greek Weekend.

Fraternities here have for some time needed an affair such as this to bind them closer together.

It is unfortunate that they had to take such a financial beating on the jazz concert that they sponsored. It was well worth double the price of admission.

We hope that the fraternities will not be discouraged at the public turnout for the concert. From the tone of the letter in this week's Mail Bag, it seems apparent that they are not.

So, once again . . . Congratulations.

Pipe SmokeLetters And Queens Under Discussion

By Bill Cook

I've always considered the "letters to the editor" columns in papers and magazines to be good reading. From time to time some "wit" will become so upset by some article that he will sit down and write a letter far better than the article itself.

There are certain places where I have found the quality of letters to be consistently high. I now automatically read the letters in the news magazines (Time, Newsweek, etc.) and joyfully anticipate the annual "Man of the Year" search by Time readers. Suggestions usually range from "K" to Ike, Donald Duck to Yheudi Coldsaki, the Croatian immigrant who climbed a sulphur-burning tower in a strong wind to rescue a widowed industrialist's cat from certain death high above the plains of the Hackensack River.

Now the State of Maine is sitting in the middle of a reader-editor squabble. It seems the backwoods bard of Maine, none other than crusty, turnip-sorting John Gould wrote an article for the Atlantic Monthly on the subject of ballad collectors invading Maine with tape recorders.

The next Atlantic ran a letter to the editor by a prominent folklorist who pretty much made John eat his words. The next issue after that had more letters on this letter.

How Many Queens

I think that the University of Maine must be approaching the national average for queens contests. The day is drawing near when we will have a Miss Brains (Phi Beta Kappa), a Miss Balance Sheet (Maine Marketing Club), a Miss Trilobite (Rock and Hammer) and, perhaps, a Miss Vander Graff Generator (Physics Club). Just about every organization on campus must have a picnic and the highlight of the affair will be the crowning of a good-looking. Men are, of course, getting into the act. I don't think the whole mess is really fair.

The University is not the only place where queens are rampant. They are everywhere. Every now and then a daily paper will have the picture of a beaming young miss sitting amid roses and beneath the outstretched arms of some miserable public servant. This is usually on the front page

Mail Bag:Senator Answers Editorial; Charges Poor News Coverage

Student Senate Office
215 Library

To the Editor:

In the absence of Campus reporting, I feel it is my duty as the student body president, to inform the constituents of the General Student Senate as to exactly what has been happening in the past few weeks at our bi-monthly meetings. There are two items, although not necessarily related, that I would like to discuss in this letter.

First, it is true that for two meetings in March the Senate had to be resolved into a committee of the whole for lack of a quorum. As a result of this, official business began to pile up that needed Senate approval. A special meeting was called in order to act upon pressing problems before the spring recess. At this meeting with well over a quorum present the Senate granted financial requisitions to Senate committees and brought impeachment charges against eleven of its members. Five of them were expelled for not presenting just cause for their absences.

Two days later, when the student newspaper came off the press, it carried the story of the meeting the week before, slamming the Senators for low interest, failing to appear at meetings and passing little business. Apparently, the article had been written long before the special meeting and the powers that be saw no point in mentioning the NEW ATTITUDE of the Senate in that issue or any later issues.

Last week at its regularly scheduled meeting, again with over a quorum present (2/3 of the total membership constitutes a quorum), the Senate voted overwhelmingly to amend its by-laws changing the necessary quorum to a simple majority. This step, I feel, has been long overdue and will help to solve some of the Senate problems in the future. Again our student newspaper was silent, although a Campus reporter attended that meeting.

If you were to rely on Campus reporting you might still think that the Senate was operating in a committee of the whole, a situation in lieu of a story on the possibility of war. I think the "Miss" practice has gone a little too far.

that hasn't existed for FIVE weeks.

Secondly, I would like to clearly state my position concerning a phone call to the Campus Editor last week.

In answer to the request for opinion concerning the publication of liquor or beer ads in the CAMPUS I intended to introduce the following resolution, but the Editor felt this was not necessary.

"Be it resolved that the General Student Senate go on record as approving the publication of liquor or beer ads in the CAMPUS."

Be it further resolved, that should the CAMPUS decide to publish such ads and this policy were denied our student newspaper after being supported by a majority vote of the Senate, the Senate will interpret this denial to seriously threaten its democratic contribution to the student body and clearly indicate that perhaps the Senate is not serving its purpose and should be disbanded."

With this resolution on my office desk, I called the Campus Editor and asked if she could attend our next meeting if a resolution concerning this request for opinion were introduced. I did not ask her to be prepared to defend such an advertising policy.

It is also a statement of fact that the Senate is completely within its jurisdiction to pass such a resolution. If it is responsible for obtaining adequate financial support for the Campus vis-a-vis the student contribution rate, it also has the right to pass legislation expressing its opinion on financial means of support. Certainly, the Campus doesn't think it is immune or removed from legislative resolutions of opinion!

This letter is intended in no way to reflect the official view of the Senate or the Executive Committee of the Senate.

Sincerely,
Dick Salisbury
Student Senate President

To the Editor:

The Interfraternity Council would like to thank all those who helped make the Greek Week End a success.

A very special thanks to the people who attended the Jazz Festival Saturday night. The audience was small, but enthusiastic. John Lewis, director of the MJQ—the pianist—and Milt Jackson, vibist, commented about the audience at intermission. Lewis and Jackson summed the audience up with one word, "Tremendous!"

As you know, the 17 fraternities backed the concert. Financially, it was a failure. The fraternities have "chipped in" to offset a loss. Entertainment-wise, it was a huge success.

Because the MJQ gave a top performance, and the audience was receptive we are not discouraged.

Sincerely,
Donald E. Cookson

Elect AWS Officers April 22

On Wednesday, April 22, the women students of the University will go to the polls to elect the new officers of the Associated Women Students.

Vying for top post of president are Ann Hastings and Jean Toothaker. On the ballot for other top posts are Joanne Good and Carolyn Sleeper, vice-president; Ruth Kimball and Vicki Waite, secretary; and Jane Goode and Jean McNeary, treasurer.

Janet Fletcher and Barbara York are the nominees for Chief Justice of the Judicial Board. The loser will automatically become a member of the Board. Two seniors are to be elected from among the following: Barbara Connor, Laurel Hoyt, Sandy Samway, and Martha Zoidis.

Three Junior members are to be chosen from Helen Browne, Margaret Eastman, Gail McLain, Margaret Mednis, Gwen Merritt, and Diana Pye, Brenda Freeman, Jean Lankau, Debbie Lufkin, and Alice McKeil are competing for the two sophomore positions. Running for Secretary will be Deane Quirion and June Toulouse.

The results of the election will be announced at the AWS Spring Assembly on Thursday, April 23.

AWS will present at its Spring Assembly on Thursday, April 23 proposed changes in its organizational set-up. The proposals will be subject to a vote by women students who are all required to attend.

The changes include the establishment of an AWS Executive Council which will consist of president, vice-president, secretary, treasurer, Chief Justice of the Judicial Board, chairman of the Activities Board, Chairman of the Standards Board, and one representative from each of the following: President's Committee, Activities Board, Standards Board, and Judicial Board.

The Activities Board proposes the general purpose of presenting "such activities as are deemed suitable and necessary for women students and to further distribute responsibility among women students." Its constitution and by-laws will be among the White Book additions.

The Standards Board will determine such standards of personal and social conduct as will reflect creditably on women students and the University and enforce and uphold such standards in cooperation with the Judicial,

Committee Will Study Bear's Den Kitchen

In anticipation of completion of the Memorial Union, a committee on Food Service has resumed study of kitchen layout and a cafeteria counter in the Bear's Den.

To replace members of the committee who no longer live on or near the campus, President Lloyd H. Elliott has appointed three new members of the committee.

Mrs. John E. Stewart of Orono, a graduate of the University and one time in charge of institutional management instruction in the University home economics department, has been named to succeed Miss Helen Philbrook who has moved to Massachusetts.

Nancy L. Roberts of Albany, New York, and Patricia A. Stiles of Falmouth Foreside, both home economics seniors, will succeed earlier student appointees on this committee.

William C. Wells, director of Activities, and President's Committees.

Details of the proposed changes will be posted in each dormitory. Explanations may be obtained from the AWS representatives.

University dormitories and dining halls, is chairman of the committee.

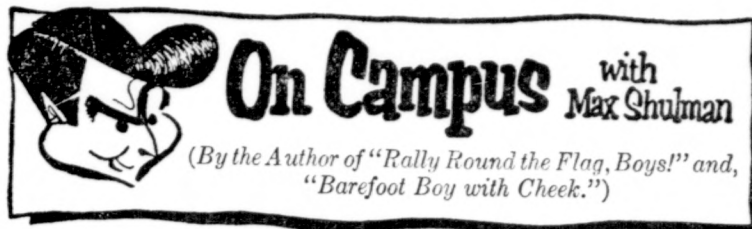

Although plans have been prepared by the architects, it is felt that careful study is necessary for a kitchen layout which will better meet the needs of the Union, based upon four years of operating experience.

Funds for the completion of the Memorial Union are being raised in conjunction with, or as a part of, the Arthur A. Hauck Building Fund. No date has been suggested when work may be started.

THE CARE AND FEEDING OF ROOM-MATES

Room-mates are not only heaps of fun, but they are also very educational, for the proper study of mankind is man, and there is no better way to learn the dreams and drives of another man than to share a room with him.

This being the case, it is wise not to keep the same room-mate too long, because the more room-mates you have, the more you will know about the dreams and drives of your fellow man. So try to change room-mates as often as you can. A recent study made by Sigafos of Princeton shows that the best interval for changing room-mates is every four hours.

How do you choose a room-mate? Most counselors agree that the most important thing to look for in room-mates is that they be people of regular habits. This, I say, is arrant nonsense. What if one of their regular habits happens to be beating a Chinese gong from midnight to dawn? Or growing cultures in your tooth glass? Or reciting the Articles of War?

Regular habits, my foot! The most important quality in a room-mate is that he should be exactly your size. Otherwise you will have to have his clothes altered to fit you, which can be a considerable nuisance. In fact, it is sometimes flatly impossible. I recollect one time I roomed with a man named Osage Tremblatt who was just under seven feet tall and weighed nearly four hundred pounds. There wasn't a blessed thing I could use in his entire wardrobe—until one night when I was invited to a masquerade party. I cut one leg off a pair of Tremblatt's trousers, jumped into it, sewed up both ends, and went to the party as a bolster. I took second prize. First prize went to a girl named Antenna Radnitz who poured molasses over her head and went as a candied apple.

But I digress. Let us turn back to the qualities that make desirable room-mates. Not the least of these is the cigarettes they smoke. When we bum cigarettes, do we want them to be shoddy and nondescript? Certainly not! We want them to be distinguished, gently reared, zestful and zingy. And what cigarette is distinguished, gently reared, zestful and zingy? Why, Philip Morris, of course! Any further questions?

To go on. In selecting a room-mate, find someone who will wear well, whom you'd like to keep as a permanent friend. Many of history's great friendships first started in college. Are you aware, for example, of the remarkable fact that Johnson and Boswell were room-mates at Oxford in 1712? What makes this fact so remarkable is that in 1712 Johnson was only three years old and Boswell had not yet been born. But, of course, children matured earlier in those days. Take Mozart, who wrote his first symphony at four. Or Titian, who painted his first masterpiece at five. Or Hanso Felbgung, who was in many ways the most remarkable of all; he was appointed chief of the Copenhagen police department at the age of six!

It must be admitted, however, that he did badly. Criminals roamed the city, robbing and looting at will. They knew little Hanso would never pursue them—he was not allowed to cross the street.

If you are allowed to cross the street, hie yourself to a tobaccoist and stock up on Philip Morris, outstanding among non-filter cigarettes, or Marlboro, the filter cigarette with better "makin's." Pick your pleasure.

The first annual Greek Weekend, sponsored by the seventeen fraternities on campus, was held April 10 and 11. Over one thousand fraternity and sorority members participated in the weekend activities.

The Greek Ball, a semi-formal event, took place in the Memorial Gymnasium, Friday evening. At 10 p.m. Pat Hebert, a Chi Omega, and Joe Cuccaro, a Phi Gamma Delta, were crowned Greek God and Goddess. John Stewart, Dean of Men, crowned the winners with laurel wreaths. He also spoke to the students and commended the IFC on their work in planning the weekend. Dale Whitney and his band played for the dance.

Saturday morning, at 10:30 in the Little Theatre, President Lloyd H. Elliott spoke at a general meeting of fraternity members. Later the men went to different fraternity houses to discuss various problems affecting the IFC.

That evening a jazz concert was presented in the Memorial Gym. The nationally known Modern Jazz Quartet gave a performance of their own arrangements. Though there was a small audience, the response showed the students' interest in the music. At the end of the concert, there was a standing ovation for the Quartet, who came back for an encore. The group played from 7:45 until 10 p.m.

Even the Modern Jazz Quartet takes time out for a snack during an evening of playing "cool" jazz.

Future Teachers Convention Will Be Held On Campus

The third annual state convention of Future Teachers Associations will be held on April 18th. The convention is co-sponsored by the University of Maine Student National Education Association and the Old Town High School Future Teachers Association. About 50 groups from high schools in Maine are expected to attend.

During the morning, registration and a general assembly will be held in Old Town. The featured speaker at the assembly will be Dr. Clarence O. Bergeson, who will give an illustrated talk on Russian schools. Dr. Stanley L. Freeman, Jr., faculty advisor of the Student NEA on campus, Charles Ochmanski, vice president of NEA, Jean Paradis, FTA president at Old Town High School, Mr. Philip C. Libby, superintendent of Old Town and Orono schools, and Mr. John W. Abbott, principal of Old Town High School, will also be on the assembly program.

At noon, a luncheon will be held at Stodder Hall. The guest speaker will be Dean Mark Shibles of the College of Education.

A workshop for the sponsors and advisors of the high school clubs during the afternoon will feature discussions of new ideas, programs, problems, and projects for high school groups.

The convention will wind up with a tour of the University of Maine campus.

IFC Will Sponsor West German Child Next Year

Interfraternity Council President Donald E. Cookson announced last Wednesday that the Council has voted to sponsor a child in West Germany in 1959-60.

The sponsorship will be through the "Save the Children Federation" and is part of the IFC's program to benefit the campus and the community through service projects. The IFC will receive the history and picture of the child shortly from the SCF

Field Office in Germany.

Regular clothing, food packages and toys will be sent to the West German orphan starting next fall. The SCF handles the distribution of these items. Cookson said that the IFC would "dip into its treasury" to pay for the child's sponsorship unless the Greek Jazz Festival shows a small profit. He said that the original hope was that money raised at the Festival would be used for this worthy cause.

Cookson said that Maine is the first fraternity group in the country to sponsor a child through the "save the Children Federation."

Last fall the Council helped to raise funds for retarded children. The campaign in Bangor, Orono and Brewer netted close to $3000 from the fraternities' canvass.

in 1927 where he enrolled at the University of California.

HARRY LAWTON, JR., received his B.S. in Physics at Union College, Schenectady, N. Y., in 1950, joining General Electric that same year. He received an M.S. degree in Management Engineering from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1958.

"Long-range programs are important —for both men and missiles"

"In a company dedicated to research and development, a young man's opportunities to learn more—to increase his technical skills—are almost unlimited," says 31-year-old Harry Lawton, Jr., a General Electric engineer engaged in the development of inertial guidance and fire-control systems for ballistic missiles. "And to maintain America's scientific leadership, we're going to need all the technical training and skills we can produce."

"An important aspect of my job at General Electric is the continuing opportunity to learn more. I've been able to continue my education in the company's Physics Program for college graduates. And I also have the advantage of association with top technical experts in my work. Opportunities like this have helped me realize that long-range programs are important—for both men and missiles."

Harry Lawton is one of several hundred technical graduates who are devoting their skills to the development of 14 government missile projects to which General Electric is a major contributor. More and more our scientific progress and our national security depend on men like this—men who bring high qualifications to their work and who continue their quest for knowledge, both on and off the job.

General Electric believes that individual initiative and career growth are essential to America's continued technological leadership. To this end, the company encourages all of its employees—including more than 30,000 college graduates—to develop to their fullest capabilities by providing opportunities for increasing knowledge and working skills.

Colwell, Libby To Face Mass

By Art Zalkan

The University of Maine's Black Bear baseball team, once again, pack their traveling clothes and head towards Massachusetts for a two game series with the Redmen of the Bay State. The Pale Blue squad will play the Redmen on Friday and Saturday, weather permitting. These games will be the first Yankee Conference encounters for both teams.

Coach Jack Butterfield's boys have really got their best weekend of baseball coming this weekend. The Bears will leave Orono on Thursday for Kittery, Maine, where they will spend the night. They will then travel to Amherst for the first game, Friday. After spending the night in Northampton, the Pale Blue will return to the Amherst campus for the second contest, Saturday. Saturday night will be spent in Boston, and on Sunday, the Maine Team will be the guests of the "Black Bear Club of Rhode Island" at the Boston-Red Sox-New York Yankee game. The Maine team will return to the Orono campus Sunday night.

Butterfield plans to start the same lineup that he used on the Southern trip. This will include Charles Eberbach behind the plate, and the infield to consist of Davis, Perrone, Hlister, and Deane Deshon at third. In the outfield, Ray Weed and Tom Valiton will be in center and right, respectively. Dave Mosher will replace Pete Bastow in left. The Maine coach tentatively plans to call on Dick Colwell (1-1) to hurl in the opener.

Bear Facts

By Rick Brennan

Greetings, troops! This Saturday will see the opening of spring training for the '59 Maine football squad. Response to Coach Hal Westerman's call for spring tryouts was tremendous as a crew of about seventy-eight put in their appearance at Memorial Gymnasium for "Westy's" initial talk. From scuttlebutt among several of the squad, the veteran mentor already has his grid hopefuls fired up for next fall's opening game with the University of Massachusetts.

Twenty or so returning lettermen along with a strong set of freshman talent should provide "Westy" with a team which is moderately deep, particularly in the backfield. Loss of Roger Ellis, two-year All Conference center and one of the greatest ballplayers this college has ever seen, will undoubtedly be the greatest loss to the Black Bears. Other significant losses from last season's starting squad will include Captain Niles "Swede" Nelson, Ed Manson, John Theriault, Chuck Eberbach, Bob Pickett, and Jim Soper. Among the doubtful returnees from the ranks of the underclassmen are sophomores Dick Kinney and Ron Caseldon who have presently left school because of grades. Their return would be invaluable to the line as both were outstanding in reserve last year.

The backfield provides the brightest picture for the coming grid season. Wily Wayne Champeon, flanked by such as Welch, DeGrandpre, and Drisko, and backed up by the running and punting of White and Bragg, should pack a punch that will rank the Maine backfield among the tops in New England. Vying for the quarterback slot will be Dave Baribeau and Artie Miles, returning varsity lettermen, along with a brilliant frosh prospect, Manche Wheeler. Phil Gagne, a former Lewiston High standout, is a strong defensive player and will warrant considerable attention. Besides Wheeler, there are from the frosh team, Don Harnum, Don Streeter, Don Desroches and others who will be helpful in building a strong line. "Westy" says that Tom Vassar is presently working out for the center position. He also commented in an interview the other day, "The big problem is to rebuild a line and to find someone to take Ellis's place at linebacker. We can't count on anything this spring for certain because so much could happen between now and that first game with Mass. next September."

Banzai! Here's wishing you and your boys the best of luck next year, "Westy," and let's take Connecticut.

Within The Walls

Volleyball reigns supreme at the Memorial Gymnasium. Cries of "good serve!" and "spike it!" are being heard late each night. The games are attended by many enthusiastic rooters and anyone on campus who enjoys this sport is invited to attend.

In fraternity action, Sigma Chi, Phi Mu, and Phi Eta are undefeated while Phi Kap, TEP, TKE, SAE, Alpha Gam, Beta, Kappa Sig, Lambda Chi, Sig Ep, and Sigma Nu have split their contests. Phi Gam, Delta Tau, and Theta Chi are winless, and ATO has a 1 and 2 record. Sigma Chi seems to be the strongest, but defending champ Phi Mu has the power to repeat. All point trophy leader Phi Eta, who seems to be strong in all the intramural sports, is also considered a dangerous team to reckon with. The Faculty, the veterans, Corbett 2 and 3, and Dunn 1 seem to be the class of the non-fraternity division.

Softball is the next intramural sport scheduled for the springtime. Many fraternities have been working out on their lawns, and another exciting season is expected. Kappa Sigma, last year's champ, is considered a top prospect to win again, but in fraternity competition—who knows?

If you're the kind of person who thinks for yourself . . . you use judgment in your choice of cigarettes, as in everything else. Men and women who think for themselves usually smoke VICEROY. Their reason? Best in the world. They know that only VICEROY has a thinking man's filter and a smoking man's taste.
