German Refugee Tells What
Mig Happen If Hitler Wins

Four plans that might happen in the event of a collapse of the peace conference were ex-duced in the office of Professor of History and International Relations on Monday.

The first plan, devised by Hitler,
would involve the creation of a new German empire with Germany as the leader. In this plan, Germany would be exempted from the draft until 1945.

The second plan, the most likely to occur, involves the British and French nations. In this plan, Germany would be divided into three parts:

1. A smaller part for the British and French to rule.
2. A larger part for
the British and French to rule.
3. A third part for
the British and French to rule.

The third plan involves the creation of a new empire in Europe. In this plan, Germany would be divided into four parts:

1. A smaller part for
the British and French to rule.
2. A larger part for
the British and French to rule.
3. A third part for
the British and French to rule.
4. A fourth part for
the British and French to rule.

The fourth plan involves the creation of a new empire in Asia. In this plan, Germany
would be divided into five parts:

1. A smaller part for
the British and French to rule.
2. A larger part for
the British and French to rule.
3. A third part for
the British and French to rule.
4. A fourth part for
the British and French to rule.
5. A fifth part for
the British and French to rule.

Harriers Take Fifth Places In Nationals
Ken Blodgett is Tenants High Leading Balancing Yearround

By Dave Astor
Your former sports editor is proud to step in as guest sports editor for the November 21 issue of The Maine Campus. In my role as guest editor, I will provide updates on the latest sporting events at the university and beyond.

The cross country team is competing in the nationals at this time. They will be led by Ken Blodgett, an outstanding runner who has been a key member of the team throughout the year. Blodgett has set the tone for the team, and his dedication and hard work have inspired his teammates to perform at their best.

In addition to Blodgett, the team has several other talented runners who are expected to contribute to their success. They are well-prepared for the nationals, having trained rigorously over the past few weeks. Their hard work and dedication have paid off, and they are ready to take on the challenge.

The nationals will be held in a beautiful location, providing a picturesque backdrop for the runners. The event will feature some of the best cross country teams in the country, and the harriers will need to draw upon their strength and determination to succeed.

I look forward to sharing updates on the nationals and other sporting events with you. Keep an eye on The Maine Campus for the latest news and updates.

The campus community is invited to support the harriers as they compete for the national championship. Come out to cheer them on and show your support for their hard work and dedication.

Stay tuned for more updates on the nationals and other events. In the meantime, please enjoy this issue of The Maine Campus.
