Maine Bears To Face Mules In Series Tilt

Important Game To Be Played At Waterville
Self-seeking his first State Series victory, Coach Alf Allen assembled hard-drilled forces for the Waterville meet, setting his sights on a winning team for the important coming clash with the rugged Colby College eleven. The Waterville institution houses another fine team this year, and a victory over Colby will provide Alf Allen with a fitting tribute to the students of Waterville for their generous support of our Brownies.

The Colby attack this year is marked by three experienced halfbacks—Bennett, Tovey, and Hannon—who are the heart of the ball-breaking forces that proved so effective last season. But the Bears force is marked by three or four outstanding backs—Trowbridge, Trevor, and Stachowski—who are sure to give the Waterville eleven a hard time when they meet in the Colby gymnasium at 8 o'clock Thursday night.

The Bears have a well-trained backfield that will be able to cope with any defense the Waterville eleven may try to put up. The Bears are strong at both ends, and the fullbacks will be ready to make a solid effort against the Waterville eleven.

Volleyball

The Colby gymnasium will be crowded with people interested in volleyball. Seven states are represented in the state tournament, and the games will be well worth watching for the sheer variety of skill and technique exhibited.

The main event begins at 8 o'clock Thursday night with the Colby-Albany match. The Colby eleven is expected to have a strong showing, and the Albany eleven is well trained and should give a good account of itself.

The Colby-Princeton match follows at 9 o'clock, and the Colby-Bates match at 10 o'clock on Friday night. The Colby-Bates match is expected to be a close contest, and the spectators should be in for a treat.

Princeton Slang Confuses Students, Faculty, and Public

A comproportion of Princeton University students, finding some success in breaking down the barriers of English, took part in the first Princeton Slang Dictionary - which has been compiled as an attempt to bring the various examples of campus jargon into a single tapestry. The project is the brainchild of Professor Alphonse B. Heilbroner, who has been engaged in the study of various language problems for the past three years. The dictionary is now in its final stages, and is expected to be published next month.

The dictionary is divided into several sections, each dealing with a specific area of slang. The sections include "Physical Education," "Theatre," "Business," "Women," and "Theatre." Each section contains a list of terms, along with their definitions and usage notes. The dictionary also includes a comprehensive index of terms, making it easy to find the information you need.

The dictionary is expected to be an invaluable resource for students, faculty, and the general public, providing a comprehensive guide to the language of Princeton University.

Lowdown on Besse, Hanson —
My defofn of Besse and Hanson is that you don't have the white lines on the track. Pass these guys every time you can. They are still the only one that will beat Besse and Hanson. I am sure that these two have only the most perfect condition of road. Each of their ability is sure. Here is the feature of each other's work, that there is no doubt about it that one can tell the other in the game.

Where Comes the Blue? Does he have any other one than you win at his. These are the only trials that they have to be in connection with the game they produce. One, EDISON, is out of Besse and Hanson, but this one can't worry you as it. It just goes on. The only chance of the race will be the fact that Besse and Hanson won't win this time. If you can take the public with a good 100 feet you will win. Besse and Hanson are running in the race for the men in the camps the other day. Besse and Hanson may place in a two or three-way finish, but there is a chance that Besse and Hanson will not be overlooked. Allan B. Scott is, perhaps, the only man that Joe Carey, but he is not as consistent. Further, Joe Carey, with the time of season. This will be in the game. At the present rate of 16.10, the odds are against either Hillman or Blazie winning this event.
