Students To Sign Up For Maine Day Projects Monday

Cleanup projects and a program of fun were lined up this week as the Maine Day Committee announced plans for a gala Saturday on May 12. Students will have an opportunity Monday in classes to sign up for the projects on which they would like to work.

This year's Maine Day won't be quite like those of old, which included the famed campaign for mayor of the campus, bonfires, picnics, and fraternity electioneering and competition, but it will be a day of fun and frolic for all.

As in past years, the big feature of Maine Day will be the faculty show in the evening. This show is well under way and promises to be an excellent chance for the students to turn the tables on faculty members.

Proceedings will start Saturday morning with a Parade to Projects, led by the band. Work will be done from 8-11:30. Assignment of workers to each job will be announced in next week's Campus.

The Maine Day projects include: cleaning the carpenter shop area; cabins (shrubs and grounds); SAE to Sigma Chi (lawns and shrubs); Elms (lawns and shrub beds); Stevens to Mechanics Shop (lawns and shrub beds); Balentine, Colvin, and Estabrooke (shrubs); sweeping roads; roving pruning crew; planting crew; cleaning at MCA; botanical garden project; ski-slope clearing project; cleaning walls of Memorial Gym; cleaning around Memorial Gym; cleaning for Masque in Little Theatre.

In the afternoon, there will be a double-header baseball game with Connecticut. The evening will be climaxed by the faculty skit and also a student entertainment.

Maine Will Return To Semester Basis

The University will return to the semester plan at the opening of college in the fall of 1945 as announced today by the Registrar's office. The Fall Semester will open for upperclassmen for registration on Monday, September 24. Freshman Week for entering freshmen will start on Thursday, September 20.

The Fall Semester will end on Friday, February 8, 1946. Thanksgiving Day, Thursday, November 22, will be observed as a holiday, and the Christmas recess will extend from December 14 to January 2, 1946.

Classes in the Spring Semester of 1946 begin on February 11. The Spring recess will extend from March 22 to April 1. Final examinations will end on June 14, followed by Commencement.

The Summer Term of nine weeks which will follow the present Spring Term will begin on July 2 and will close on August 31. Freshmen who are entering the University at the opening of the Summer Term will report for the Freshman Orientation period on June 29.

Deutscher Verein

The Deutscher Verein, the scholastic German honor society, will present at their next meeting, Monday evening, May 7, at 8:15 in 19 SN, two movies of unusual interest: "Alpine Village," photographed in Avers-Cresta, a Swiss mountain village, and "Roentgenstrahlen" which shows the discovery of X-Rays.

All interested students are cordially invited to attend.

Ruth Clough Guest At Panhell Banquet; Presidents Honored

The announcement of the 1945-46 president of the Panhellenic Council and the five new presidents of the national sororities on campus will be a highlight at the annual Panhellenic banquet to be held at 6 p.m. on Saturday, May 5, in Estabrooke Hall. Another feature of the evening will be the awarding of the Panhellenic scholarship cup to the sorority maintaining the highest scholastic average for the past three terms.

Miss Ruth Clough, only woman senator in the Maine upper house, will be the guest speaker, and Mary Courtwright, as a student speaker, has chosen the topic "Why Students Should Be Interested in World Affairs."

This year's Panhell president, Gerry MacBurnie, will be toastmistress, and the program will come to a close with a toast from the new president.

Peg Jameson, '46, is chairman of the Panhellenic Council committee planning the banquet and is assisted by Charlene Lowe, '46, and Janice Brown, '47.

Invited to this formal affair are all sorority members and the group advisers.

Rev. Walter Cook To Speak Sunday

Rev. Walter L. Cook, pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Calais, will be the guest speaker at the Morning Worship Service on Sunday, May 6, at 10:45, in the Little Theatre.

Rev. Cook is a graduate of Andover-Newton Theological Seminary and Boston University. He served as student pastor at Hebron Academy before accepting his present pastorate.

NOTICE

Women's Forum will meet Thursday, May 3, in the Balentine Sun Parlor at 7:30. Doris Foran will lead the discussion on "Race Problems." Preceding the discussion, there will be a short business meeting to elect officers for the coming year.

Plans Completed For V-E Assembly

The University of Maine will recognize the ending of hostilities in Europe on V-E Day by appropriate exercises as planned by the assembly committee. The day will be in no sense one of jubilant celebration.

Everyone on campus will be notified immediately, and the University will gather as a community for an assembly, at which there will be music by the glee club and band and a brief talk by President Arthur A. Hauck on "The Task Ahead." There will also be brief talks by one of the students and a veteran.

Everyone realizes that the war will by no means be over on V-E Day. It will be a day of thankfulness and prayer with the emphasis being placed on paying tribute to those who are carrying the battle for us.

Bangor Symphony To Play Monday

Following is the program to be played by the Bangor Symphony Orchestra at the student assembly Monday, May 7, at 9:30 a.m. at the Memorial Gymnasium:

The Star Spangled Banner (first verse) Smith-Keyes; Hungarian Overture "Ilka," Doppler; Excerpts from the Incidental Music to Daudet's Drama "L'Arlesienne," Bizet; Minuet, Adagio (for String Orchestra), Farandole; Adagio Pathetique, Godard; Overture to the Operetta "Poet and Peasant," Suppe; "The Shamrock," Fantasia on Irish Folk Melodies, Myddleton; The Star Spangled Banner (last verse), Smith-Keyes. Adelbert Wells Sprague, Conductor.

WSGA, WAA, Watch Award Elections Thursday, May 9

Women students will elect officers for the Student Government Association and the Women's Athletic Association on Thursday, May 10. All upperclass women will also vote at this time to choose the recipient of the annual Portland Alumnae Memorial Watch award. These elections will be held in front of the bookstore.

Therese Dumais and Mary Spangler were nominated for president of the Women's Student Government Association; Phyllis Eldridge and Betty Jane Durgin for vice president; Shirley Sibley and Doris Foran for secretary; and Carol Denison and Edith Anne Young for treasurer.

For the Women's Athletic Association, Rosanna Chute and Shirley Titcomb were nominated for president; Evelyn Foster and Barbara MacNeil for vice president; Gloria Lombard and Rosamond Hammond for treasurer; and Pauline True and Constance Howe for secretary.

Candidates for basketball manager are Esther Libby, and Geraldine Rawcliffe; assistant manager, Clarice Easler, Kathryn Mills, and Doris Foran; hockey manager, Mildred Byronas, and Patricia Stickney; assistant manager, Ruth Haines, Shirley Castner, Joyce Marsh, and Anna Crouse; volleyball manager, Fay Jones, and Barbara Vaughn; assistant manager, Mona Kimball, Helen Buzzell, and Barbara Tibbetts; tennis and badminton manager, Nora Chipman, and Dorothy Boulos; winter sports manager, Sally McNealus, and Alberta Closson; assistant manager, Jan MacDonald, Carol Denison, and Doris Stanley; archery, Elizabeth Jameson.

Women candidates for the Portland Alumnae Memorial Watch award are Florence Armstrong, Doris Bell Davis, Ruth Hansen, Barbara Higgins, Loraine Davis, Ruth Stearns, Geraldine MacBurnie, Barbara Atherton, and Jennie Manson.

The watch award is presented annually to the woman member of the graduating class who, in the opinion of the students and the University administration, has done the most for the University during her course.

Clement, Herrick Elected To Head 'Campus' Staff

John H. Clement was elected editor-in-chief and Helen Herrick business manager of The Maine Campus at the annual elections held on Friday, April 27.

JOHN H. CLEMENT

Other editorial staff members elected at the same time were Valerie Parkin and Charlene Lowe, associate editors; Gerry Small, makeup editor; Elaine McManus, news editor; and Ivan Crouse, sports editor.

Those elected to positions on the business staff were Fay Jones, advertising manager; Alice Fonseca, subscription manager; and Perny Chase, circulation manager.

This new staff will take office immediately with next week's issue, under the guidance of the old staff for the remainder of the year.

Clement is a sophomore pre-medical student, president of Phi Eta Kappa House, and is a veteran. He worked on the business staff of the Campus during his freshman year.

Helen Herrick, a junior psychology major, and Chi Omega's Panhell representative, is an off-campus woman and has worked on the staff since her freshman year.

Valerie Parkin is a member of Alpha Omicron Pi sorority, a sophomore Eagle, chairman of the Christian Faith Committee of the MCA, and has worked for the past year as news editor of the Campus.

Charlene Lowe, a junior economics major, is a Phi Mu, a member of Women's Forum, and has been makeup editor of the Campus for two years.

Gerry Small has worked on the staff as a reporter for the past year. She is a sophomore in the College of Arts and Sciences, and is a member of Deutscher Verein and Phi Mu.

Pres. Hauck Host To IRC On Wed.; Dr. Smith To Speak

President Arthur A. Hauck will be host to the international Relations Club at his home Wednesday, May 9. The Role of Education in International Understanding will be under discussion with Dr. Hauck and Payson Smith as speakers.

Speaking on The Non-Recognition Policy of the United States at the last meeting, Dr. Athern Daggett of Bowdoin College gave a very interesting review of the American policies during the last twenty years. In his discussion Dr. Daggett compared the recognition policies during the Wilsonian period with what later was known as the Stimson doctrine.

Members of the International Relations Club enjoyed a banquet at the Penobscot Country Club Friday, April 27. Faculty guests included Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Pelletier and Mr. and Mrs. C. Dewitt Hardy, who later took part in the entertainment.

Semi-Formal Opens Maine Week-end; South'nairs To Play

Music by the Southernares will be featured at the Maine Hop, last semi-formal of the year, which will be held on Friday evening, May 11, from 8 to 11:45 in the Memorial Gym. The gym will be decorated with cherry blossoms.

The reception committee will be President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck and Lt. Colonel Newton W. Alexander and Mrs. Alexander. Chaperons for the evening will be Prof. and Mrs. Winthrop Libby and Prof. and Mrs. Benjamin C. Kent.

The committee planning the dance are Robert Malcomson, chairman, Sgt. Robert Campana, Carol Denison, Paul Dowe, Esther Flagg, Alvah Ford, Evelyn Foster, Thomas Hood, and Martha O'Brien.

Student-Faculty Parties Successful As Profs Entertain

Freshmen have been offered a real opportunity this term, a chance some of the upperclassmen have longed for but never have had materialize. Yes, members of the faculty have very willingly opened up their homes to any students interested in attending a Sunday evening get-together.

Managed by the Student-Faculty Relations Committee under the more than capable hands of Betty Small and Bill Anderson, this new project has a twofold purpose. First, it gives each member of the Freshman Club a chance to know his profs on a personal, down-to-earth basis. Second, it gives the guys and gals who get a touch of homesickness every now and then a chance to roll up their sleeves and go to work in the kitchen or to sit around a comfy fireplace for a healthy bull session. All this in the atmosphere of home as you see it in your own home town.

Maybe some of you "hard-to-convince" people think that any party of this sort is bound to be stuffy and formal. If you're among those, you should have been down to the Hitchhikers' a couple of Sundays ago. Binky, a very special wire-haired terrier, actually sat at the table with the girls and had his meal served as he sat in his own special chair. "Cutest thing you ever saw!" said Marit, who really ought to know.

Embarrassing episodes are ever-present when you get a gang together. At the Trefethens' home, Andy certainly turned all shades of red when, after unsuccessfully completing a pool shot, he backed up in disgust and sat

Be It Resolved...

The members of the Men's Student Senate, with all University of Maine students, faculty members, and friends, have been deeply grieved by the untimely passing of Dean Lamert S. Corbett, sympathetic and wise adviser to the Men's Senate for many years. His friendly personality, devoted loyalty, and constructive vision have been central in the growing influence and prestige of our organization on the Maine campus.

Continually concerned with the fullest development of each student as a cooperating member of the University community, Dean Corbett always held high standards for individual conduct and for responsible student government. He exercised rare patience and understanding in stimulating true growth in all students and within the expanding program of the Men's Student Senate. His unusual success with Maine men lay in his innate sense of fair play, sound judgment of human nature, and constant willingness to view life from the student level. Throughout his many years of loyal service he always commanded the respect of the entire student body.

Never losing sight of the physical, social, and recreational needs of students, Dean Corbett's long service as Chairman of the Health Service, the Social Affairs Committee, and the Athletic Board bears high tribute to his full life of service for the best interests of Maine men.

Few have been blessed with a more jovial nature or keener sense of humor, constant joys to all who knew and worked with Dean Corbett. His hearty, contagious laugh so frequently smoothed the way in personal contacts and organizational situations. His Lincolnian gift for personal anecdote endeared him to all.

All of us have lost a real personal friend in the Dean's passing. Yet his memory will ever serve as an inspiration to us and countless other Maine men. His Maine spirit will be with "his boys" wherever they are found.

In appreciation and affection, be it resolved therefore, that a copy of this memorial be sent to Mrs. Mabel C. Corbett and family, to the Maine Campus for publication, and be spread upon the minutes of the Men's Student Senate of the University of Maine.

Adopted April 24, 1945, by the Men's Student Senate of the University of Maine.

With Many Thanks...

When I took office as editor of the Maine Campus last spring, I accepted a challenge from the retiring editor—a challenge to carry on the Campus as an organ for student information and expression. I have tried to meet that challenge, and now I should like to pass it on to the new editor. There have been hard times; but the experience, the knowledge, the friendships gained, and the fun of working on the paper have far outweighed the rough spots, the tough breaks, and the tears.

Being editor of the Campus, has meant 30 to 40 hours work each week. It has been interesting work. I know that I have made mistakes, but I have tried to keep the Campus going, not only for the students on campus, but also for the Maine men and women in the service.

In closing, I should like to thank Mr. Brockway and Mr. Gannett for their generous advice and assistance. To all the staff members, "Thanks a lot."

MAINE ECHOES

Hi, Mainiac—

Time marches on, and here it is almost time for the campus elections again. Stu G and WAA nominations are out, and the candidates seem to be a pretty good bunch. Too bad you can't be here to vote with us. We still have hopes of getting at least 90% of the women students out for just one election before we're all so old that we have to be wheeled over to the polls. The girls vote for the recipient of the watch award, this time, too. Yes, indeed, there's a big day coming!

Don't breathe a word of it, but Phi Beta Kappa and Phi Kappa Phi elections will be ready for publication next week. Everything always happens at once, around here.

Friday night the poor, tired old Campus staff drags itself to Bangor for the annual splurge, officially termed a banquet. Wonder what we'll get to eat? One thing about the Campus affairs is the fact that speeches are always limited to five minutes... a policy in which I fervently believe.

Saturday night comes the big shindig for all sorority members, Panhell banquet. Ruth Clough should have something really interesting to say; and, of course, we're all dying of curiosity waiting to find out who the new presidents are.

Maine Day is approaching on horseback, and people are beginning to run around with slips of paper in their fists and a wild look in their eye. "What are you going to do?"

The really big news of the week was the Campus elections, but we don't like to seem to brag. Jo has done a grand job this year, and Johnny certainly will make a good successor. Got any news??

Campus seems to be having a few less visitors lately. Bing Etzel and Lib Emery arrived for a day last week, and then Bob Krause appeared. Maybe I just don't see everyone any more.

It certainly sounds wonderful to hear people talking about the V-E Day plans. The program is being whipped into shape, and everything will be ready when the old whistle decides to blow. Here's hoping the whistle hurries up.

Business calls, so I guess I'd better go.

As ever,
Minnie Lou

Do you believe that only the "propertied" group, the group which has a material stake in the country, should express itself at the polls? If so, you will probably be an opponent of Jeffersonian democracy and of the PAC. But if you believe in the rights of all Americans to vote, if you feel that the greater number of voters the more secure and democratic will be the outcome, if you hold that a job is property, just like a store or a service station, then you will comprehend the real and full worth PAC has assumed in American democracy.

The Political Action Committee is feared by reactionaries everywhere; the committee backs liberals in any party. In the Solid South where senators are often elected by a mere 3% of the population, they backed only Pepper, Hill, and Johnson. In New England, they backed such men as the famed liberal, Aiken (R), of Vermont, and the popular Saltonstall (R), of Massachusetts. But PAC did not back men who were mouth-pieces for entrenched reactionaries. The New York Times published a news article disclosing the fact that certain Old Guard Republicans were still knocking the PAC. Yes, the Old Guard is afraid; it hides behind its Maginot Line and fires out little sparks to touch off public prejudice; it is a disgrace to the Republican party. The PAC's policy has been called "radical."

That such claims are nonsense is proved by watching PAC's methods; it publicizes those men for office who are believers in the democratic principles for which PAC stands; there is no irregular coercion, but merely a campaign to put men into office through normal and democratic constitutional channels.

For what does PAC stand? Nothing more than for the realization of the contents of the Preamble to the Constitution. Of course, as they are largely supported by and affiliated with the CIO, their first consideration is for the laboring man. But they do not stand for the "rule of the proletariat"; they merely desire to aid the worker in benefiting from the great ideals upon which his country rests. Management has its MAM; labor, its PAC. However, PAC does not limit itself to the problems of the laboring man—it can not, for the "problems" cover more than labor. PAC stands for better and wider education, for higher salaries for teachers, for repeal of the poll-tax and for anti-discrimination measures, for wide-spread social security, for the raising of farm-incomes, for rural electrification, for slum clearance, for conservation, for an improved banking act, for a real effect of the ideals embodied in the Four Freedoms, for the chance of small business to flourish, for the protection of white-collar workers—

Sidney Hillman, PAC's chairman, wrote in This Week about its action in last year's election and its aims for the future:

"...We supported a good many Democrats and we helped to defeat a good many Republicans. We also helped in the election of some Republicans and the unseating of others...We fought bitterly against any candidate with a bad labor record because we are convinced that labor-baiters in any public office are undesirable for all the people. We fought just as bitterly against the isolationists, and for the same reasons. But we did not align ourselves exclusively with either party, nor did we attempt to create a third or labor party. Instead, we tried to liberalize both. That we shall continue to do."

Black Bears Lose Two Games Huskies, 10-6; Wildcats, 19-7

By Ivan Crouse

The Maine Bears baseball team suffered two defeats this past week-end, losing to Northeastern, 10-6, and then to New Hampshire by a score of 19-7. Eddie Woodbrey started against the Northeastern aggregation and had a 3-1 lead when he injured his ankle. This injury caused him to lose his "stuff" and had to be yanked in favor of "Lefty" Ouillette. Northeastern tied the game up with a short two run rally as "Lefty" retired the side. Putting together a combination of hits and errors, Maine again took the lead in the top of the fifth, scoring three runs to lead 6-3. In the last of the fifth, Ouillette walked the first two men and was lifted in favor of team captain Cuccinello. "Cooch" walked two more men, gave up an assortment of base hits, plus a few errors afield, resulting in seven runs and the ball game. Neither team scored during the remainder of the game.

The team moved to New Hampshire for the Saturday afternoon game with the Wildcats. Ouillette started for Maine, and was given a shortlived 2-0 lead going into the last of the second. New Hampshire took the lead with a five run rally off Ouillette and his successor, Charlie Kalnin, and held it throughout the game, winning by a final score of 19-7. Gene Boutlier pitched the last three innings for the Kenyonmen, yielding but two hits, one of which was a tremendous home run that cleared the left field fence with plenty to spare.

The game was played in the midst of a rain storm accounting for the seventeen errors made by the combined squads, eleven by Maine.

Saturday, the team goes to Bowdoin for the last game away of the season. Bowdoin has looked very well in its other games, splitting two decisions with a powerful Bates team.

most energetically on a whole dish of cookies. Gracie and Freddie, host and hostess, felt a bit sheepish, too, when they appeared at Miss Buzzell's exactly one hour and fifteen minutes after the guests arrived. "We couldn't find the house," said Gracie.

At Dr. Miles' Hobby Party all the girls were dying to know why all the men slipped off to the cellar by themselves. Oh, well, they didn't want to see the workshop anyway! It's still a man's world, I guess.

About that last statement, I sometimes wonder. You would have, too, if you had seen Lee Davis all dolled up in a pink apron, making toasted cheese sandwiches at the Brickers'.

Does it sound like fun? Then look up your Student-Faculty representative. There may still be some vacancies to fill. You're bound to have a swell time!

'Campus' Elections

Elaine McManus, a freshman off-campus woman, has worked on the staff as a reporter and feature writer. She is the winner of the Griffin essay contest and is a Phi Mu pledge.

Ivan Crouse is a sophomore in animal husbandry. He is a member of the baseball squad and has written sports for the Campus for the past term.

Fay Jones, a sophomore in Arts, is a member of the Modern Dance Club, and active in WAA. She has worked as an advertising staff assistant.

Alice Fonseca, a freshman, is a member of the Maine Masque, is a Chi Omega, and has been active in the MCA Frosh Club. She has worked as a circulation staff assistant.

Penny Chase, a sophomore in Arts, is an Alpha Omicron Pi, and has been very active in the Maine Masque. She has been circulation manager for the past year.

By Cee Pavey

Tonight's show promises an abundance of hearty laughs and genuine entertainment for all who attend. The situation arises when two happy-go-lucky sisters move into a subterranean apartment in Greenwich Village.

Things happen fast and furiously for there's never a dull, peaceful moment when Eileen is around. Situation follows situation, and the climax comes when the Portuguese consul presents Eileen with a medal for her help in furthering the good neighbor policy. This hilarious highlight is further enhanced by Steve Padilla, the consul, who speaks Portuguese as his native tongue. Pat Hutto plays the part of Ruth, and Jan Scales is the inimitable Eileen.

Other members of the cast are Jerry Kogan, Dutch Holland, Irma Miller, Steve Kodiak, Bill Sharpless, Jerry McDermott, Arthur Rothman, Bill Booth, Lee Bausch, Norman Eckbold, John Duerst, Charlie Kent, and Roger Gould. This show is Gay Weaver's cutting from the entire play. It is the first time this has ever been done in a Masque short show and it promises very good entertainment. Jeanne Ross directed. Mike White, Flo Sawyer, Bev Pitman, Betty Lehman, Sally Phillips, and Gerry Hermanson worked on the backstage part of the production.

Next week's show, Death Takes a Holiday, will be directed by Tom Hood. It is a very different, interesting phantasy which will provide good entertainment contrast to the hilarious comedies produced by the Masque so far this term. Bart Holm will play the part of Death; Dick Pratt, the Baron; Lee Bausch, the Duke; and Charlie Kent, Corado. Mike White, Masque costume mistress who has worked behind the scenes in every show this year, will make her first appearance on the stage in this show in the feminine lead. This show promises very good entertainment.

The only criticism we could possibly make of last week's show, George Washington Slept Here, would be that there just wasn't enough of it. We enjoyed it so much that we wanted to go on forever, laughing at the humorous situations. Penny Chase did an exceptionally fine job as a city lover who suddenly found herself in the wilderness. Norman Eckbold, the husband, and John Duerst, the caretaker, also showed that, although it was their first Masque performance, they were troupers who knew how to do a job well.

Hints For Flaming Coeds- Take It Easy; Don't Burn Up

By Val Sr.

Sun worshipers, including the over 500 coeds on this campus, dedicate their hides to Mr. Sol. While many of the Maine beauties take reasonable doses of sun, others sacrifice themselves, apparently thinking that they have nine lives.

This article won't be a money-back guarantee of how to get a tan in five hot turns but it will help to keep you from burning up.

Taking plenty of time is important in acquiring an even tan. It is best to take fifteen minutes for the first week of sun bathing, then multiply by two for the following weeks. For that smooth, slightly on the chocolate side, try lying on your stomach as well. Caution: watch the back of your legs at the knee joints! Plenty of olive oil is the best suggestion. Rub it in vigorously, using generous quantities.

If you are a lady fair—keep your shirt on! Avoid staying in the sun more than a half hour. And some kind of oil is a "must."

The face always seems to be the target for the severest burns. Usually wearing sun glasses while in the process of acquiring this beautiful tan outlines your eyes when they are removed, so how about using cotton pads in their place? These pads can be soaked in cold water and milady can take in the ultra-violet rays in cold comfort. Nose protection is next. For that appendage an extra coating of cream is advisable or a white strip of paper across the nose will serve the purpose.

For you people who are gifted with having that dark pigment, there are several Rush-Its. A spray of vinegar will attract the rays, also salt water, Atlantic preferably.

If the harm has been done and you ache all over, there are a few things which can be applied for the soothing of that "makes-you-want-to-go-jump-in-the-lake" feeling. Noxzema always seems to be in the clutches of one who has soaked up too much sun. Molay's Shaving Lotion has the rep. of soothing a blistering sunburn, as has Witch Hazel. And if you are one of those coeds who go indoors and look at a mirror and scream, "Holy cats, is that me," some iced tea may tame it down.

These do's and don'ts should put you in tune with the birds and bees weather and give you that cool, pretty, outdoor look which is so especially summer's own.

Herschel L. Bricker To Read Selections At Frosh Club, Wed.

How do you like your spaghetti? Ever tried it cooked by amateur male chefs? The fellows in the Freshman Club have accepted the girls' challenge and are inviting all freshmen to a spaghetti supper next Wednesday evening, May 9, at 5:30 p.m. No women are to be allowed in the kitchen, it is strictly a male production, and they guarantee spaghetti "better than what mother used to make."

Special feature of the evening's program will be Mr. Herschel Bricker, assistant professor of speech and adviser for the Masque, who will read some of his favorites in the drama classics. There will be plenty of singing led by Roland West, and a grand evening for all who dare risk it.

Gylene Smith is chairman of the program committee, and Mort Williams is in charge of cooking the supper, assisted by Don Smaha, Fred York, Phil Fields, Justin McIntyre, and Verne Byers. Other committee chairmen are Bud Barrows, in charge of promotion; Dave Crawford, arrangements; Eddie Ames, finance; Bernard Prescott and Olivia Stickney, clean-up; Eadie Ann Young, setting tables.

Supper will be served in the Rec Room of the MCA by the committee and the program will be in the Reading Room.

U of M Arranges Second Workshop For This Summer

The University of Maine Summer Session will present the second Workshop in Elementary Education for elementary teachers and school administrators from August 13 to 31 this year. The Workshop will again be under the experienced leadership of Dr. William H. Burton of the Graduate School of Harvard University as director, with Miss Mary O'Rourke of State Teachers College, Fitchburg, Mass., as major assistant.

The program of the Workshop will this year be divided into two sections, one for advanced and one for beginners. Each section will begin with a brief period of lectures, discussions, and reading followed by organization into smaller groups of students with similar interests in particular elementary school problems. Under the guidance of the several leaders of the Workshop the groups will devote the major part of their time to a solution of concrete classroom problems including the production of materials and methods for use in the actual school classroom.

Dr. Burton and Miss O'Rourke will be assisted in the administration of the Workshop by members of the Maine State Department of Education, teachers from Maine normal schools, and other assistants. The six assistants loaned by the Department of Education will be Miss Zeta I. Brown, Director of Elementary Education; Irene M. L. Dresser, Villa E. Hayden, and Lucy W. Bull, Supervisors of Elementary Education; Louis E. Hutto, Director of Physical Education, Health and Recreation; and Harland A. Ladd, Deputy Commissioner in Charge of Curriculum and Instruction. From the Maine normal schools will be four assistants, Stella G. Dakin,

You say you saw the sun shine last week? Well, I hope it decides to do it again sometime... The tennis courts are still in a damp state so the tournament drawings won't be held until next week, as soon as the posters are signed up by the prospective tournament winners.

The Interscholastic Sports Day (otherwise known as Play Day) is being held this Saturday, May 5. The complete list of outdoor games is given with the time: From 10:00-10:30 games of tenniquits, horse shoes, volley ball, and giant volley ball will take place, and from 10:30-11:00 outdoor relays of duck walk, dog trot, skin the snake, Chinese getup, and Sir Walter Raleigh will be played. (Should be fun to watch, too!) The indoor games of ping pong, shuffleboard, bowling, dart target, faba-gaga bean bag, ball bounce, giant volley ball will be led by Barbara Vaughn, Nora Chipman, Joyce Marsh, Judith Fielder, Martha O'Brien, Lois Baird. The relays will be led by Gloria Lombard and Barbara Tibbetts. The informal sing takes place after luncheon with Nean Lewis as song leader and Dot Currier as pianist. The color team captains for the soft ball games with the high schools are: Helen Buzzell, Helen Noyes, Pauline True, Morna Kimball, Evelyn Ashby, Guylene Smith, Carol Denison, Phyllis Donham. The committee in charge is composed of Shirley Titcomb, Rosemond Hammond, Lillian Lewis, Barbara McNeil, Jennie Manson, and Ada Minott.

The quarter finals of the badminton tournament have been completed. The scores, Armstrong-Gordon, 11-1, 11-1, Armstrong; Boynton-Closson, 11-9, 11-4, Closson; Brown-Dennison, 11-0, 11-1, Denison; Minott-Clements, 11-8, 8-11, 11-9, Minott; Vaughn-Chipman, 11-4, 6-11, 11-3; Crouse-Maxim, 11-5, 11-1. With the semi-finals, Chipman defeated Minott 11-3, 11-7 and Maxim defeated Chutell, 7, 11-3.

The new members of the Modern Dance Club this term are Betty Hebel, Muriel Gee, Kathryn George, Mary Pinkham, Olive Coffin, Alberta Closson, Sylvia Lane, Morna Kimball, Sal Phillips, Mava Jones, Barbara Vaughn, Jean Wallace.

Camp Tanglewood Scene Of Annual Overnight Retreat

Twenty-five University students, accompanied by Margaret Rose, Rev. Charles E. O'Connor, and Herb King, left Saturday afternoon for an overnight retreat to Camp Tanglewood in Lincolnville, Maine.

The meetings were held in the main lodge of the camp, and Harriet Steinmetz began the retreat by explaining the commission organization. Margaret Rose led a discussion evaluating the MCA program, and Herb King spoke on developing a religious unity through friendship on the campus.

Sunday morning Mr. King led a discussion on "What Kind of a Program Do We as a Christian Organization Want?" He also spoke on "Love Thy Neighbor as Thyself."

Herb King, guest for the week-end, is now working at Columbia University for his doctor's degree, having graduated from Moorhouse College, Union Theological Seminary, and Oberlin Theological Seminary.

Members of the MCA who went on the retreat were the following: Carolyn Comins, Ruth Fogler, Mary Ann Hillson, Kathryn Mills, Evelyn Nicholson, Helen Noyes, Betty Palmer, Phyllis Pendleton, Sally Phillips, Betty Small, Harriet Steinmetz, Constance Thomes, Isabelle Trefethen, Virginia Tufts, Mary Weymouth, Willis Anderson, John Bragg, Joseph Chaplin, Bill Chesebrough, Rip Haskell, Barker Hopkins, Don Smaha, Richard Tardy, Roland West, and Fred York.

File this under Chemo Pond—MOC overnight trip week-end of May 5th and 6th. We will leave the University bus stop at 1:30 p.m. on Saturday afternoon. According to the Pack and Pine group that made this trip in the fall, there will be plenty to do from camp, including fishing for perch, snipe hunting, climbing Mt. Pickett or Chick Hill and taking a side trip down to Fitt Pond.

Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Martin will be our chaperons, and they are bringing their sailboat. Canoes may also be available. But before you use any boats, a permission slip must be signed by your parents. These slips may be obtained from your dorm representative.

Muriel Polley '47 Elected President Of Neai Mathetai

Muriel Polley was elected president and Lois Ricker was elected secretary at a meeting of Neai Mathetai of the class of '47. This honorary society consists of the ten highest ranking women students during their freshman year.

The other members are Florence Palmer, Shirley, Castner, Barbara McNeil, Cecil Pavey, Phyllis Pendleton, Ann Woods, Arlene Clevin, and Louisa Bacon.

At this meeting, held at Dean Edith Wilson's house on Friday, April 27, Neai Mathetai members decided to have a pin designed for this society which originated at the University of Maine. Formerly no designation of the honor was given except the announcement of names. Plans were made for a tea to be given for the new members who will be named at the freshman-sophomore women's banquet.

Combat wire moving up in a hurry!

Every unit ties in by telephone to report on contact between companies, and to discuss the next move.

That means combat telephone wires must be laid down with every forward push. And communications crews must work continuously repairing the breaks in lines torn by tanks and amphibians and blasted by artillery and mortars.

Our Armed Forces still have urgent need for huge quantities of communications equipment of all kinds. That's why there is a wait for home telephone service.

Tri Delta Offers Scholarship Awards

Delta Delta Delta is pleased to announce that a number of scholarships are available again to women students in colleges where there are chapters of Delta Delta Delta. The awards will be made July 1, 1945, and the gifts will be sent at once to the applicants selected.

Applicants may or may not be members of Delta Delta Delta, but should be juniors or seniors, working toward a degree. They must be women of fine character, who will be useful in the war effort or may be valuable citizens in the post war reconstruction period, and who are in need of financial assistance because of economic dislocations resulting from the war.

Application blanks may be secured from Mrs. F. D. Coleman, 3050 Stratford, Lincoln 2, Nebraska. Completed application blanks must be in her hands by June 1, 1945. The Delta Delta Delta Committee on Awards shall be the sole judge of the respective merits of the applicants and will select a limited number of recipients from those applying.

Doubleheader And Uncle Tom To Climax Tenth Maine Day

This Saturday, May 12, is the day for students and faculty to dig out their overalls and slacks and do justice to the campus for which the University of Maine is famous. For the past ten years, the Weather Man has been kind to Maine Day, but should he change his mind this year, everyone is to meet in the Memorial Gym for assignment to indoor projects.

The parade forms in front of Balentine Hall at 8 o'clock, picking up students at Colvin, Estabrooke, Fraternity Row, and ending up at President Hauck's house. After a brief rally there, everyone goes to the meeting place assigned to him, reporting to the project leader.

The work period will end at 11:30. Everyone is to return all equipment to the project leaders.

Beginning at 1 o'clock, there will be a doubleheader with Connecticut, which will be followed by softball games between student teams and student-faculty teams.

The climax of this Tenth Anniversary of Maine Day will come at eight o'clock in the Memorial Gym, when the faculty skit, Walter Whitney's version of Uncle Tom's Cabin, will be presented. There will also be a student program to supplement this skit.

In assigning the workers to the various projects, the Maine Day Committee has tried as far as possible to place each person on the project which he has indicated on his preference sheet. However, with the large number of projects and considering the fact that some projects require many more workers than had signed up for them, it has been necessary to make revisions. We are asking that everyone cooperate with the Committee in going to the project to which he has been assigned according to the list below. Anyone who has not signed up for a work project and would like to come out and work is urged to join any crew which has an adequate supply of tools and whose leader is willing to have him join the crew. The following is the list of projects and the workers assigned to each:

Gym Transformed Into Dutch Garden For Informal May 18

The Freshman Club of the MCA is sponsoring an informal stag dance on Friday, May 18, from 8:00 to 11:45 p.m. The Memorial Gym will be decorated on a Dutch garden theme and music will be provided by the Southernaires' orchestra.

Chaperons will be Dr. and Mrs. A. M. Turner, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. David Rose. Ruth Fogler and Rip Haskell are committee co-chairmen. Connie Howe will supervise decorations and Fred York heads the orchestra committee.

Tickets for admission at fifty cents are on sale in the bookstore and may be obtained from the following Freshman Club representatives:

NOTICE

The library will be closed on Maine Day, Saturday, May 12. Reserved books may be taken out on Friday from 4-5 p.m. and should be returned by 2:30 p.m. Sunday.

Rev. E. M. Bushong Versatile Speaker At Sunday Service

Rev. Eugene M. Bushong, pastor of the First Church of Christ in Longmeadow, Massachusetts, will preach at the communion service in the Little Theatre at 10:45 on Sunday morning.

During his vacations Rev. Bushong has worked as a telephone operator, shoe salesman, railway clerk, machinist, time-keeper, social case worker, and probation officer. The experience gained at these varied jobs has provided a valuable basis for comprehending the problems and needs of those whom a minister serves.

Marriage Topic Of Discussion Series

The Congregational Club of the MCA is sponsoring a series of discussions along the theme "Marriages Are Not Made in Heaven." The first meeting will be held on Sunday, May 13, with Rev. E. M. Almost four hundred women students elected Therese Dumais and Shirley Titcomb presidents of Women's Student Government and Women's Athletic Associations respectively at the annual general voting, Thursday, May 10. These girls will take office in the fall and will succeed Doris Bell Davis and Ruth Hansen, presidents of the associations this year.

Phi Beta Kappa Members Chosen; Nine Are Elected

Nine students in the college of Arts and Sciences have been elected to Phi Beta Kappa, the national honor society. Membership in this society is the highest scholastic honor attainable in the liberal arts college.

The seven seniors chosen are: Thelma Bradford, romance languages; Jean Crawford, English; Pauline Forbus, theater; Marie Haines, history and government; Elinor Hodgkins, zoology; Geraldine MacBurnie, psychology; and Leona Peterson, economics. The two juniors elected are Barbara Allen, English, and Sally Soule, zoology.

Off Campus Party At Picnic Grounds Friday, May 18

The Stillwater picnic grounds is to be the scene of the Off-Campus wienie roast Friday, May 18. All Off-Campus men and women who are interested are to meet at the MCA bus stop at 5:30 p.m. Wienes and rolls will be provided for a twenty-five cent fee, but drinks should be brought from home.

The chaperons for the outing are Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Wallace and Miss Eileen Cassidy, Merle Grindell, Gerry Rawcliffe, Evvie Foster, and Mona Kimball compose the committee in charge of arrangements.

Steady Spring Showers Soak Saddened Soddan Students

By Elaine McManus

Far be it from a mere newsmonger to give advice to the weather experts—it's usually the other way around. But after a fortnight and more of tremor and trepidation over what the day will bring in the way of a climatic climax, it's about time that someone did something about stabilizing the situation.

This should be the meteorologist's meat. All he has to do is to manipulate a few heat waves this way and persuade a handful of solar rays to concentrate for more than ten minutes on this saddened sodden patch of the Pine Tree State. Not that we're asking special favors for our particular point of the compass, but, please, Mr. Weatherman, observe the chaos into which your temperamental prophecies have cast the campus.

Take almost any day from April 25 to May 8, inclusive: The calendar legalized spring weeks ago; the sun glares from the east; coeds don fresh spring cottons, artistically minded students collect drawing paraphernalia and settle down in strategic positions to sketch; practice surveyors start peering through mysterious instruments on stilts; picnic and hiking plans are enthusiastically promoted; couples loiter about campus waiting for spring fever to set in.

And what happens? Drip, drip, drip go the rain drops. Bye, bye, bye goes the sun. Cottons wilt, lenses blur, sketches smooch, plans shrivel, dreams evaporate.

There you have it. A sad situation, but apparently an irremediable one. We know what the weatherman will say, damp-hearted creature that he is—"If this weather keeps up, we'll have more of it."

So for the layman, the victim who religiously follows the "Rain" or "Shine" report and dresses accordingly, there are just two points of view open. He can make the worst of a sorry state of affairs, deal out another hand of bridge—indoors, and join in the chorus that is having nature panned. Or he can say with some authority and eventual optimism for future generations: "We are in the Rain Age." But don't despair. Statistics reveal that the last Ice Age endured only 50,000 years. It has to end some time. It can't go on forever... Or, can it?

The other officers elected yesterday were as follows: WSGA—Betty Jane Durgin, succeeding Therese Dumais as vice president; Doris Foran, replacing Mary Spangler as secretary; and Carol Denison, following Lala Jones as treasurer. WAA—Evelyn Foster vice president; Rosamond Hammond, treasurer and senior representative; and Pauline True, secretary. These girls will follow Shirley Titcomb, Ruth Stearns, and Betty Higgins in the offices.

The WAA managers will be announced next week, as not all the ballots for those offices have been counted as yet.

Therese Dumais has served this year as vice president of WSGA and has been president of Women's Forum, and of Radio Guild, Debate Club manager, vice president of the junior class, activities editor of the Prism, won the Oak Prize Speaking Contest last year, and is on the Maine Day committee. She is a Junior history and government major.

Shirley Titcomb was vice president of WAA this year, has been a member of the All-Maine basketball team, the "M" Club, Square Dance Club, and the Home Ec Club. She plays hockey and volleyball and is now vice president of the Elms. She is a Junior majoring in Home Economics.

The number of coeds voting Thursday was the largest in several years, over 385 taking part in the election.

Charlene Lowe Is New President Of Panhellenic Council

At the annual Panhellenic banquet held in Estabrooke Hall last Saturday evening, Charlene Lowe was introduced as the new president of Panhellenic Council for the coming year. At the same time the five retiring sorority presidents introduced their successors in office. They are as follows: Alpha Omicron Pi, Elizabeth Jameson, an English major; Phi Mu, Yvette Plent, a romance language major; Pi Beta Phi, Winona Edminster, a home economics student; Delta Delta Delta, Joan Potter, who is majoring in sociology; and Chi Omega, Virginia Libby, a home ec.

Geraldine MacBurnie, retiring Panhell president, presented the Panhellenic scholarship cup to Alpha Omicron Pi, the sorority with the highest scholastic average for the last three terms.

Charlene Lowe is a member of Phi Mu and has represented that group on the Panhell Council for the past year. She is a junior economics major and served as publicity chairman of Women's Forum and news editor of the Campus. She was recently elected associate editor of that publication and is assistant editor of the Prism.

A toast to the future of Panhellenic Council and to student cooperation in campus and world affairs, made by the new Panhellenic president, closed the program. A receiving line, including Miss Clough, Dean Edith G. Wilson, Mrs. Courtwright, Gerry MacBurnie, and the six new presidents, formed in the living room of North Estabrooke following the program.

In The Maine Spirit...

Another wartime Maine Day has come, and like the others there will be no gala celebration with the election of mayor and other big events. Instead of taking a day off, everyone should, this year especially, pitch in and help clean up the campus. Maine Day is a great help to the University, for it accomplishes in one day what would take many days' work by the ground crew. In these days of labor shortages the work done on Maine Day is greatly appreciated by the University.

Maine Day, this year, will carry on the tradition of former years. Saturday morning there will be work for everyone able and willing: in the botanical gardens, at the carpenter shop, on the ski slope and at many other places. In the afternoon there will be plenty of baseball and in the evening that stupendous, colossal, five-star production, the faculty skit. There are rumors that Julius Caesar Hauck is going to die again but this is pure hearsay.

So in spite of the fact that you may have had a big evening the night before, turn out with the band at eight o'clock and make Saturday, the 10th anniversary of Maine Day, a big success.

Paper Speeds Peace...

Paper is a high-priority war material! Maine supplies a large percentage of pulp used for this vital material. Yet, there is a paper shortage. (In England, there is a law against destroying paper.)

Next week on campus, a drive to collect paper will begin. Collection boxes will be provided. This paper will be sent to processing plants where it will be remade into new paper, some of which will be used for civilian needs, and lots of which will be made into cartons, insulation, and other war goods.

Let's prove that we have not "let down" after V-E Day; let's get behind the paper drive!

—By Sandy Adams

Salvage Collection Saturday, May 12

Because of the all-out response of the campus in the recent contribution to the clothing drive, which was conducted in cooperation with the town of Orono, the University has been asked to help in the paper and rag collection which will take place on May 12 and 13.

Everyone is urged to look through those closets again and this time dig out old newspapers, class notes that have passed their usefulness, scrap paper, and any old rags that may be hiding there. Please keep the paper and rags in separate bundles and make sure that the rags are clean.

Trucks will pick up the boxes and bundles between nine-thirty and ten o'clock Saturday morning, May 12. This includes all houses except The Elms. The Elms will be included in the Orono circuit on Sunday.

To retain business and professional men for supervisory positions in war industries, Stanford University is offering a training program in management practices in war industries. (ACP)

Women's Forum Elects Officers; Racial Discussion

Cecil Pavey and Gerry Small were elected president and secretary respectively of the Women's Forum at the Thursday evening meeting. The new officers will assume their duties when the Forum resumes its activities next September.

An informal discussion on race prejudice was led by Dot Foran. The discussion centered around the Negro problem in this country. Many students related their personal contacts with colored people and expressed the opinions which they derived from these meetings.

Many remedies were suggested for improving the economic status of American Negroes and for eliminating the strong racial prejudices that are growing in the United States today. As a conclusion it was agreed that public education in racial equality was the possible solution to the serious racial problems facing Americans.

MAINE ECHOES

Dear Mainiac—

This is a big day in history, I've been told, and I'm more than willing to agree. V-E Day has come, and Maine is accepting it in the same mood that Americans everywhere are—one of thanksgiving that we have progressed this far, and of prayer that the final day of victory isn't far off. For those of you who are in service throughout the world, our hopes and prayers will continue until that great day comes. Keep pluggin', kids; we're with you all the way.

It's hard to think of campus affairs today, but life at the University does go on as always. Elections Thursday are the big topic of conversation locally; and we're all out to do our best to make this year's election a true one, by getting the largest percentage yet out to vote. Things have to keep rolling here at home, too; and this is our big choice of the year.

The sororities did themselves proud last Saturday night at the annual Panhell banquet. Char will make a grand Panhell president; and all the sororities seem to be very happy, too. Miss Clough gave us all something to think about with her timely speech, "Women as Citizens."

Of course, the Campus staff is still firmly convinced that the Campus banquet is the best one of the year (no offense to all the other wonderful affairs). We really had a wonderful time Friday night. Even Mr. Gannett, who was allowed a minute for each year he's been working with the staffs, did very well and managed to stick to the good old five-minute speech rule. That leaves him twenty-eight minutes for some year when he's in the mood!

The Maine Day plans are all made now; and we've all signed up for our pet cleaning-up projects. Too bad you can't all be here to help dig around in the shrubbery beds! The more the merrier is the rule at Maine, you know. I hear that Prexie is scheduled to gracefully pass away in the faculty skit again this time. Hmmm.

To The Editor

Tuesday, May 8, 1945—Last night the big guns roared for the last time in Europe. The men who have marched the long bitter miles from Moscow, El Alamein, Anzio, and Normandy have joined forces. This morning at 9 o'clock President Truman announced the end of hostilities in Europe over our four major networks. Today, men, women, and children from all walks of life are thanking God for the end of the war in Europe and are praying for peace for the rest of the world.

This morning the University of Maine observed V-E Day in Europe at an assembly. It is important to note that before such an assembly could rightfully be held, the confirmation of the German surrender must come from the White House. No official announcement had come from Washington. All of us confidently expected President Truman to announce it at 9 a.m. At 9 o'clock there was a complete silence in Memorial Gymnasium. Then the President spoke.

I felt sure that the President did make the announcement we were all waiting for because, after the "noise" subsided, Rev. O'Connor gave the invocation and the assembly continued.

Now I come to the portion of this letter that has prompted my writing it. After talking with some 30 or 40 students present at the assembly, I found that not one had heard what the President had said! What! Didn't they care? That certainly was NOT the reason!!! Our public address system seems to be in such a condition that words cannot be effectively reproduced by it! In the opinion of some of the students, something should be done about this. Maybe before our next assembly something will be done. We certainly hope so!!!!

Pensive Pete

As the United States continue their planless policy of diplomatic expediency, the hoax of such an attitude toward international affairs grows richer. This attitude, which was forced bodily down the throat of the present administration, becomes a farce in the cases of China and Poland. While we decline to discuss the problems of Poland because there is no "legitimate" government, we have maintained Sino-American relations with a non-popular military dictatorship, the Kuomintang, and have actually allowed that government to assume position and honor as a member of the "Big Four" at San Francisco.

With the nearing all-out war against Japan, we must prepare to use as a base the coast of China. But, if and when we make landings, we will find that the Chinese with whom we will inevitably deal are not ruled by the defeatist, fascist-like Kuomintang! We will find that the coastal regions boast democratic government under the Chinese Communists (no longer communistic; more nearly Jeffersonian). Up to September, 1944, the wobbly Kuomintang relinquished over 1,260,000 square kilometers to the Japanese; but the free Chinese recovered 66 per cent of that area behind enemy lines. The free Chinese are now engaging about 74.4 per cent of the combined enemy forces. (Japs plus puppets.)

Enough of figures—the free Chinese offered to join the Kuomintang in the name of Chinese unity; their efforts, which were backed by such great men as the democratic scholar, the late Dr. Sun Yat Sen, were ignored by the reactionary believer in the Confucian theories of "changelessness," General Chang Kai-Chek. In fact, free Chinese troops are executed by the Kuomintang!

What does this mean to our Army? Plenty, for most Americans do not know that every Yank Officer in China must sign a pledge not to arm or give aid to any but the armies of the Kuomintang. Red Cross supplies for the Communist armies have been blocked from their destination by General Chang. Yet, the free Chinese, spurred on by real democratic spirit, have licked the Japs by their own efforts.

What is this Kuomintang? It is a one-party dictatorship run by a ruthless but, unfortunately, popularized (in America, by the American press, etc.) reactionary, General Chang Kai-Chek. In China, the people are begging for more than just the Four Freedoms which we seem to regard so complacently. They desire freedom of speech, press, religion, freedom from want, fear, freedom of assembly, freedom to organize, freedom to select one's profession, personal freedom, and civil liberties. Some list—when you ain't got.

And the Chinese people, not the ones we're "dealing" with, want to abolish the secret police, concentration camps, and "other organizations of fascist character." The free Chinese work toward the abolition of thought control and a guarantee of academic freedom. Instead of bowing to the Chang-sponsored isolationism, they want a more friendly Sino-American, Sino-Soviet, Sino-British relationship, and a closer relationship with all the United Nations so as to achieve total cooperation during the war and in the peace to follow.

We maintain close relations with the fascists who "believe" in a very convenient Confucian changelessness, and these Kuomintang get exclusive right to represent here the people whom, at home, they do not represent. And, as this circle of illogicalness draws to a close, one recalls that Poland is not allowed to make herself heard even in a dingy, smoky European café.

This week has been one of good sounds. At present I can hear the whirring of the lawn mower, which is always a good sound. It is a promise of summer, even if the weather doesn't seem to promise anything! Of course, the best sound of all was the news of victory in Europe. Maybe you are wondering if this has much to do with a column of this nature, but since the news was heard all day Tuesday from a radio in the gym office, it should be jotted down with everything else that happens in that department. Another good sound of this past week was all of the noise which emerged from the gym last Saturday morning. It rained on the day set for Play Day (is that unusual?), so the whole affair was held in the gym, and from what I hear the girls had just as much fun as they would have had outdoors. Well, that's what it says here, anyway. There were about 150 girls from Maine and the neighboring high schools participating. The next day I heard that the welcome exercise caused many a stiff joint to let its owner know of its whereabouts. Out of condition, gals??

The class volleyball tournament has been completed with the proud Sophs as winners. Runner-up has not been determined yet. The Soph team this year had a team of 18 at most of the games, which shows unusual interest and enthusiasm. Hats off to you!!

The tennis tournament begins next week. Don't forget to sign up in your dorm on the posters. Games of singles and doubles are being played this year. The tournament drawing will be held next week and please remember to always wear sneakers on the courts!!

The badminton tournament is drawing to an end with semi-finals being played off this coming week. J. Denison plays the winner of the Closson-Armstrong match, and N. Chipman will play M. Maxim for the other semi-final match.

Cyclists Coast, Canoe, Collapse On Chemo, Chick

No one came back who didn't have sunburn, who was still able to look a raisin or a bottle of root beer in the eye, who didn't feel like a pedal pusher all night, who wasn't glad that they went on the MOC bike trip to Chemo Pond. Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Martin and twenty-six of us arrived at camp at various times on Saturday. Some were in time to explore the lake in Dr. Martin's sailboat, the row boat, or canoe. Sykes, Baker, and Whiting apparently weren't content with just exploring above the surface—they took a dip in the lake with all their clothes on. Well, that is one way to wash clothes and take a bath.

Next morning we woke up in the fog, turned over to sleep again and woke up in the sunshine. Our first thought then was food. Since someone forgot the cooking fat, we fried the pancakes in a skillet greased with everything from hot dogs and potatoes to peanut butter. From that time on, the cooking was continuous until we left for Chick Hill. We ate when we weren't swimming, boating, pitching horseshoes, or sleeping in the sunshine.

It is hard to explain, but we started climbing Big Chick and reached the top of Little Chick. The trails must have split. After stopping long enough to take a double exposure to prove that we made it, we slid down (88° angle) to our bikes at the foot.

Just as we started up the first hill,

Hoppy's chain broke. The engineers declared the situation hopeless after bobby pins failed to help. So we hailed a passing car and Hoppy and bike rode home in pre-war luxury. We know the ground well between Old Town and Chemo. We should as we pushed our bikes up every hill and rode with our feet on the handle bars down every hill in all twenty-plus miles of it. That is enough to make anyone walk as though they had been astride a bucking broncho for quite some time, enough to make them sleep like logs, and enough to make them dream of the next hike.

Maine Gains First Victory Of Season Over Colby Mules

First-class pitching by Eddie Woodbrey plus timely hitting by the whole team gave Maine its initial victory of the season over the Colby Mules by a score of 10-4.

In going the distance, Woodbrey was in trouble but once. In the sixth inning, Colby had the bases loaded with but one out. Ed momentarily lost his control, allowing two runners to tally on successive wild pitches. A third runner scored on a hit. Maine came back with two runs in the last of the sixth to take an 8-4 lead. Single tallies were added in the seventh and eighth innings to put the game on ice.

It took little time for the hitters to solve the slowball deliveries of Colby's starting pitcher. He was driven from the hill in a three run uprising in the fifth inning. It was an excellent game to watch with plenty of action on the field throughout the game. A heavy wind kept the outfielders in doubt as to the general direction in which the ball was going, but errorless ball was played.

The fielding gem of the day was turned in by Dom Cuccinello on a hard drive between second and short. "Cooch" moved over fast, stabbed the ball, and whipped it to first for the out. A rather unique double play was turned in by Maine in the eighth inning. With runners on first and third, the Colby batter hit one back to Woodbrey on the mound. Ed feinted a throw to third to hold on the runner, wheeled, threw to first for one out. On the play, the Colby runner attempted to go home, only to be nipped at the plate by Goff on an accurate peg from Bob Johnson on first base.

There will be a double header here Saturday afternoon against Connecticut. This will add to the many events of the coming week-end which is highlighted by the annual Maine Day. The tennis team annexed their first match of the season by downing Colby's squad by a score of 6-1. Outstanding play was turned in by Smith and Beaufrand for Maine both in singles and doubles.

Contributor' Club

Members of the Contributors' Club met Tuesday evening to hear and to discuss Helen Herrick's original story "It Was Too Late." Norma Herzing presented a reading of her poem "Sigmund Freud" and a short story entitled "The City Girls."

Prof. Walter Whitney, guest critic, talked interestingly and informatively on his experiences in the field of magazine writing.

The next meeting of the club will be held in the Balentine sun parlor on Tuesday, May 22. Twelve themes by prospective members will be discussed and the new members will be selected on the basis of the quality of the pieces.
