New All-Maine Women Chosen Last Night

Six seniors and nine juniors were honored last night by election to membership in the All-Maine Women Society, highest non-scholastic honor accorded to women students at the University of Maine.

Those elected to membership are: seniors: Mildred Byronas, Judith Fielder, Charlene Lowe, Cecil Ann Pavey, Jean Thompson, and Shirley Titcomb; juniors: Betty Jane Durgin, Evelyn Foster, Elizabeth Higgins, Barbara McNeil, Barbara Mills, Saralyn Phillips, Lois Ricker, Shirley Sibley, and Margaret Spaulding.

Guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Himy B. Kirshen, head of the Department of Economics and Sociology, who spoke on the topic "Two Postwar Generations—Looking Ahead." Joan Greenwood, president of this year's All-Maine Women, acted as toastmistress.

Mildred Byronas has been a class officer for two years. Judith Fielder has been very active in Sigma Mu Sigma, Mu Alpha Epsilon, and musical organizations. Charlene Lowe is this year's Panhellenic president.

Cecil Ann Pavey has been active in the Maine Masque, and was president of Women's Forum last year. Jean Thompson has been active on the Campus staff, and is president of Omicron Nu this year. Shirley Titcomb is this year's WAA president.

Betty Jane Durgin was an Eagle, vice president of WSGA, and assistant editor of the Prism. Evelyn Foster is vice president of WAA, and is active in dance groups.

Betty Higgins was an Eagle, is house president, and an active member of WAA. Barbara McNeil has been active in WAA, WSGA, and French Club. Barbara Mills is active in the Maine Masque and Radio Guild.

Sally Phillips is a member of the Maine Masque, Modern Dance Club, and MCA Cabinet. Lois Ricker has been a class officer, a member of WAA, and editor of the Prism. Shirley Sibley has been active in WSGA, and was a house officer. Margaret Spaulding has been outstanding in WAA, MCA, and the Campus staff.

Tuesday's Election Results Are In

Foster To Lead WAA

Evelyn Foster '47, highly prominent in women's athletics and winner of the coveted Maine Seal Award, was elected to the presidency of the Women's Athletic Association in voting concluded Tuesday afternoon. A member of Pi Beta Phi Sorority, Evelyn is a member of the Square and Modern Dance Clubs, and may be remembered for her solo performance at Music Night.

Other officers chosen to serve for the coming year include Barbara "Bonnie" Andrews '48, as vice president; Barbara MacNeil '47 to be treasurer; and Thelma Crossland '49, secretary.

The four girls have all been quite active in women's sports. Bonnie Andrews, in addition to taking part in various athletic activities, has been instrumental in seeing that those same activities were properly publicized. In addition to the new president, Barbara MacNeil also has been awarded the Maine Seal.

Greenwood Tops Class

Joan Greenwood, English major, and pre-med student Janice Campbell have been chosen valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, for this June's commencement exercises of the Class of 1946.

Evelyn Shaw will give the Class Ode, Doris Stickney and Ralph Emerson will share the Class Prophecy. Retiring W.S.G.A. president Terry Dumais was chosen to give the Class History, and Virginia Tufts will serve as Class Chaplain.

For three years a member of the Maine Campus staff, and editor in her junior year, Joan Greenwood has been prominent in many campus activities, among them W.S.G.A., Contributor's Club, and Off Campus Women.

Janice Campbell, selected her freshman year for membership in Neai Mathetai, has taken active part in the Glee Club, M.C.A., and I.R.C.

Durgan Heads WSGA

Junior psychology major Betty Jane Durgin was elected president of the Women's Student Government Association, retiring president Terry Dumais has announced. In the voting held last Tuesday afternoon, Marit Andersen '48 was chosen to serve as vice president, Nancy Carter will be next year's secretary, and Alice Fonseca will take up the duties of treasurer.

Betty Jane Durgin, a native of Bingham, is a member of Chi Omega Sorority, was a Sophomore Eagle, and is presently serving on the General Senate.

Marit Andersen, who was last year's president of Colvin Hall, is also a member of Chi Omega. Present president of the Sophomore Eagles, she makes her home in Portland.

Belonging to Delta Delta Delta Sorority, Nancy Carter is president of Delta Tau, temporarily a girls' dorm.

The new treasurer, Alice Fonseca, was recently chosen to be circulation manager of The Maine Campus. A sophomore from Portland, she, too, is a member of Chi Omega Sorority.

Women's Student Government is an important part of campus life. The organization encourages democracy of self government and cooperation among women students. It also promotes high standards in all personal conduct.

Panhellenic Ball Features Elections, Maine Bears' Music

The annual Panhellenic Ball, to be highlighted with the announcing of new presidents of the Panhellenic Council and the five sororities, will be held this Friday evening, May 3, at Memorial Gym. The Maine Bears will provide music for dancing, scheduled from 8:30 to 1:00 a.m.

The new presidents will be announced at intermission, and at that time, all sorority members are requested to be in their sorority booths. Awarding of the Scholarship Cup, presented each year to the sorority having the highest scholastic average, will also be made.

No corsages will be worn, as the new presidents are to be presented colonial bouquets at intermission. The bouquets will have the sorority flowers in the middle, except for the one given to the Panhellenic president, who will receive an orchid.

Nine Nominated To Phi Beta Kappa

Seven seniors and two juniors have been elected to membership in Phi Beta Kappa, high ranking national honor society. Students so honored are Janice Campbell, Jeanne Delano, Joan Greenwood, Shirlee Hathaway, Mary Jean Hoyt, Cecil Pavey, Joanne Springer, Phyllis Pendleton, and William S. Wilson.

Candidates are chosen by the members of the society on three qualifications—scholarship, character, and general promise. Initiation ceremonies will be held the afternoon preceding Scholarship Recognition day.

Prof. Milford Wence is president of the local chapter. Other officers include Prof. Fred Martin and Miss Marion Buzzell.

Tau Beta Pi Engineers Initiate Eight Members

The Maine chapter of Tau Beta Pi, national honor society for engineers, resumed an active operating status Wednesday night, April 24, with the initiation of eight new members.

Newly initiated students are Charles Cushing, Jr. '47, John Day '46, Chester Darling '48, Leonard Korobkin '47, Richard Lemay '47, George Leavitt '47, Stanley Murray '47, and Jenness Engley '47.

Requiring a minimum of five student members in order to remain on active status, and unable to maintain this standard during the war, Tau Beta Pi held its first post-war election of officers on the following Friday night.

Early Parade To Start Off '46 Maine Day

Maine Day activities, including work projects, sports events, and evening entertainment, will be the rule this Saturday, May 4, come rain or shine. Things will get under way at 8 a.m., when the band will lead an all-campus parade ending at the New Library where the results of the mayoralty campaign will be announced.

Starting at North Hall, the band will proceed down through the campus past the President's house, up Fraternity Row as far as Lambda Chi Alpha House, then up the Estabrooke road. As the band parades past the different dorms and frat houses, the students will fall in and march with the band to the library for the announcement of the Campus Mayor. After a few words, His Honor will give the signal for the Maine Day work projects to begin. At 11:30, our Mayor will call the workers from their projects.

In the afternoon there will be a program of entertainment planned in athletics. Our Maine baseballers will face Bowdoin and tennis and golf teams will be in action. The band will be present at the baseball game, and the mayor will start off the first Maine home game when he throws the ball into play.

Next on the program will be the annual faculty skit. When he was questioned about it, Dr. Hauck said that he preferred to keep it a deep secret until the faculty presented their performance Saturday evening. However, all you students who saw the faculty show last year or in pre-war years know that we're in for a real treat when our esteemed faculty takes over.

Conference Called A Worthy Project By Student Group

The Northern New England Conference on the United Nations got under way last week end with a banquet Thursday evening and an all-University assembly Friday morning, followed by a series of panel meetings through Friday and Saturday, and was concluded by an assembly Saturday afternoon.

Members of the Central Planning Committee have indicated their complete satisfaction with the results of the Conference, which are a series of resolutions on the strengthening of the United Nations' governing efficiency by using the "teeth" provided for in the Charter, and by interpreting the structures and powers of the world government in the light of a recognized need for firmer control.

Last night, the committee met to consolidate the work of the Conference, setting up a complete report to be published later upon approval of the participating colleges.

The Dartmouth College delegation was unable to remain for the final assembly, although it had done much work in the panel meetings.

The Bowdoin College gentlemen, the sole group to represent only themselves, (every other delegation was chosen by interested students), found it necessary to withdraw because they could not agree to the principles of the Conference, and since they were voted down on several issues by the other delegations, they were unwilling to discuss the matter further, and walked out.

Junior Prom Plans Already Formulated Tickets On Sale

Final plans for this year's Junior Prom, to be held Friday, May 10, in Memorial Gym, were formulated at a meeting of the Junior Class last week.

Music for the evening will be supplied by Jess Stacey and his fourteen piece band. Stacey was formerly a pianist with Benny Goodman's orchestra.

The Junior Prom has, in the past, been for juniors and their friends only, but this year the class has decided to sell one hundred tickets to non-juniors. Time and place of this sale will be made known later, and a policy of "first come first served" will be followed.

Members of the Junior class may pick up their Prom tickets (to be exchanged for bids at the door) Thursday and Friday afternoon from two-thirty until five in the bookstore.

Al Ford and John Clements are co-chairmen of the Prom Committee, which includes the class officers and the executive committee. These students include Peg Spaulding, Jan Brown, Joan Ambrose, Evie Foster, Barby Mills, Charles Cushing, and Don Pratt. Tickets are being handled by Tom Harrington, and Pat Hutto has charge of decorations.

Four Girls Honored By Election To Omicron Nu

Omicron Nu, Home Economics honor society, recently elected four undergraduate students to membership. Girls being received into the club were Betty Barnes, Emily Danforth, Lois Ricker, and Isabelle Trefethen.

Miss Evalyn Berastrand, vice president of the national chapter, was guest of honor at the initiation ceremony. After a buffet supper, served at the home of Dr. Marion Sweetman, Miss Berastrand spoke to the group about the national activities of Omicron Nu.

Dr. Elton E. 'Tad' Wieman Has Assumed His Duties Here

Elton E. "Tad" Wieman, ex-head football coach at Princeton University, recently civilian adviser to the Army athletic program, just returned from the Pacific Theater, has arrived at the University and has already taken over his position as Dean of Men and Director of Physical Education and Athletics.

Mr. Wieman, a graduate of the University of Michigan in 1921, has expressed his surprise at the high percentage of students here taking part in the athletic program.

The appointment of Mr. Wieman as Director of Physical Education and Athletics will serve to provide a closer coordination of the activities in physical education, intramural athletics, and varsity sports. Increased emphasis in professional training for teachers of physical education and coaches will now be available.

Previous to his appointment by President Hauck, Mr. Wieman was head football coach at Princeton University, a position he had held for 7 years. During 1944 and the past football season he was line coach at Columbia University. He has served as civilian consultant in the Office of the

ELTON E. WIEMAN

Director of Military Training, and has had charge of the physical training program of the ASTP in colleges and universities.

Marsh Wants A Lovers Lane For Walking Noon And Night

By B. L. Marsh

Maine has a lovely campus. The grounds are broad and green; the buildings are well-spaced and beautiful. Tradition abounds in every phase of college life. We have a normal and above-average college in every respect—except one. One campus fixture is conspicuously absent. Maine is the only college this side of Hippello Hollow with no Lovers' Lane.

Think of it—no Lovers' Lane, no Sweethearts' Bluff, no Cohabitation Boulevard, No Frutengort Alley. Students are deprived of the privilege of getting involved in domestic entanglements. A terrible state of affairs!

I'm considering drawing up plans for a Lovers' Jump, overlooking the river. It will be my thesis. The approach will be dark and quiet, with strategically placed benches and devices for making weird noises. That's to cause people to cling together for protection.

In order to protect my reputation as a one-man Gallup poll, I decided to question a few women on the feasibility of my idea. I already know what the men think. The first girl I met was from Balentine. Her answer was, quote: "Oh, I don't think I'd be interested. I don't like to neck, anyhow—at least in the daytime. Isn't it possible to do anything about it being daylight so much of the time?" I promised to see what I could do, and accosted a co-ed from Colvin.

"I can make a suggestion," she answered without hesitation. "Why couldn't you have the thing lead to a restaurant instead of the river? I'm hungry most of the time. Seems like a good chance to get enough to eat."

After hunting about for some time I located a girl from Estabrooke and expounded my proposition. For a minute I thought I had an intelligent answer, but it developed into a lecture on the futility of life. I'm interested in life, but not futility, so I took off to find a typewriter. It seems to me I'd do better waiting for suggestions to come to me.

Perhaps I shouldn't try to complicate the situation. The men don't stand a chance. And one girl was quite sore about it.

She snapped, "What makes you think the women need any help, anyhow?"

People Make News . . .

For weeks, now, we have been planning for one of the greatest of our Maine traditions—Maine Day. Only here on our campus could such goings-on happen. A University President sweeping streets! Faculty members dancing around the Gym in dainty costumes! Students and faculty rubbing elbows in a general campus spring-cleaning!

Like a man biting his dog, that's NEWS!

It's news about us, about our University, about a wonderful and absorbingly constructive tradition unique in college activities throughout the world. It's news because over a thousand University people will be out working together on their Maine Day projects, laughing and screaming together at their Maine Day skits.

It takes people to make news—if anyone hasn't signed up yet, he can still do so—and we'll see everyone who has a suit of old clothes out working this Saturday.

Blood Is Needed . . .

When a person needed a transfusion in the old days, a donor was found whose blood was compatible in type and cross-matching with that of the person having the transfusion. Then along came Landsteiner who was responsible for changing blood types from figures to letters. The nomenclature of O, A, B, and AB used in the last World War became the international code for all blood types.

Landsteiner knew that despite perfect compatibility of the blood of donor and recipient, once in several thousand cases there occurred what was called "a transfusion accident." The patient receiving the transfusion showed allergic reaction to that of the donor, had a chill, went into shock, curled up and died. What was the reason?

One day, while studying the blood of a rabbit that had just been transfused with blood from a rhesus monkey, a new chemical product was discovered hidden in the red cells, and for want of a better name, Landsteiner called it the RH factor. It was found that fifteen Americans out of every hundred did not have this chemical factor, and these people were called RH negative.

Now this RH factor does all sorts of interesting things to people. When a person who is RH negative is transfused with RH positive blood, open warfare begins in that person's bloodstream and he becomes sensitized to RH positive blood. As a result, there may be a large destruction of red cells with jaundice and resulting death.

So it is no longer enough just to type and cross-match donor and recipient—the RH factor must also be ascertained to make certain that it is compatible.

At the Eastern Maine General Hospital in Bangor, the demand for RH negative donors sometimes exceeds the supply available. They have a list of professional donors of all types who are also RH negative, but this list is hardly adequate for the call made upon it.

The hospital is asking us to sign up for typing and RH factor tests if we are willing to add our names to their professional list. The fee for this testing is nothing. The fee that we will receive for a pint of blood is $25.00, if called to the hospital.

Lists on which to sign appear on the bulletin boards in the different houses and dorms, and in the Commons. On Monday, May 6, between 4:30 and 5:30 p.m., technicians and staff from the Eastern Maine General Hospital will be on tap in the clinic to take blood tests. They hope to have a large enough number of volunteers for this blood test to greatly increase their professional working lists.

The Maine Campus stands wholeheartedly behind the hospital in its worthy and necessary work. Won't you?

Society

It's banquet season on the campus. Affairs which top the banquet list for the last few weeks and for the coming week started off with the banquet given by the underclassmen of the Elms for the seniors at the house. This formal affair has become a tradition. The eight seniors were presented with gifts of leather key cases. The toast to the seniors was given by Muriel Appleby and the prophecy by Doris Stanley. . . . The Home Ec Club Banquet was recently held honoring senior Home Economics girls and faculty members. Rachel Jones headed the banquet committee, and decorations consisted of spring flowers. Twenty-eight members attended. Dr. Sweetman spoke on "Women's Interest in Politics and Government," and Miss Pearl Green summarized the activities of the Home Economic girls of the class of 1946. Rosamond Hammond read a humorous prophecy. . . . A combined Glee Club banquet was held at the Bangor House on April 25. The new officers of the Glee Clubs were announced by the retiring president. The Campus Banquet was held April 30 at the Penobscot Hotel with Dr. Arthur Hauck, Mr. James Gannett, Mr. Charles Crossland, Mr. Phillip Brockway, Mr. Howard Keyo, and Mr. Irving Pierce, as guests.

This weeks list of the recently, and not-so-recently engaged, include Phyl Jordan to Eric Hanson, Lib Wilbur to Ed Carter, Phyl Boutillier to Laurel Stevens, and Lois Webber to Bob Hanson, formerly here with the ASTP in 1943-44. Mary Etzel and Ray Smith are to be married at the Baptist Church in Yarmouth in June. Sylvia Bradford, five year nurse in the class of 1947, is to be maid of honor. Lois Ricker and Peg Googins will be bridesmaids.

Elizabeth Kelso will be organist, and Maxine McCready and Margo Gowdy will sing at the wedding. The couple will attend the University next fall.

The Rec Room on the Top o' the Hill at Dow Field was the sight of a gala party for 30 couples last Friday night. The room was effectively decorated with red and blue crepe paper, and a roaring fire in the fireplace added to the hominess of the scene. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Parsons, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Kent chaperoned the party.

Ghost Of Devens Appears At Maine

The University of Maine is rapidly taking on the appearance of Fort Devens, Mass., as building after building is raised at the Grove street site of the University's emergency housing program.

Despite the rapidity with which these buildings are being put together, it is feared that they will not be entirely available for the coming summer semester. The reason for this, explain University officials, is that much interior work will be necessary before the buildings are suited for occupancy, and that even though the exterior seems to be nearing completion there have as yet been no water pipes laid, no sewage system installed, and nothing but mud.

All three of the projects underway at the University will be completed in time for the fall semester, it was announced. Already more than 300 applications have been received for the 196 accommodations at Longcreek Terrace.

The cost of the projects will be handled mainly by the FPHA which pays for the transportation of the buildings from Portland to Orono, the erection of the buildings, and the installation of water mains. Also the FPHA will do the fine grading and will construct walks from the University built sidewalks to the individual apartments. The University will pay for the cite development,

Mayors Make Announcement Of 1946 Campaign Platforms

BARNETT

No, I have never swam the Stillwater nor jumped off the bridge, and I am content to let the salmon jump the falls. Do you want a mayor going into office held together with scotch tape?

I have done only those things that are absolutely sane and serious such as climbing the university flag pole, riding a bicycle on the sloping roof of the field house, and walking a high tension wire over a state highway between double lines of traffic.

GOFF

Co-eds, cast off your chains. Veterans realize your foxhole dreams. Students dine and dance at the Maison de l' amour through the John B. Goff Reconversion Plan. When you back his ready funds with authority and power by electing him your mayor. He proposes to: inaugurate later hours for co-eds, shorten classes and provide for higher take-home grades, install a date bureau guaranteeing two handsome dates a week end to every co-ed, revitalize campus social life, provide more privacy for that 10:30 p.m. goodnight, bring Maine collegiate fame. Can you refuse a man who offers so much and asks only your vote? Make Maine the college of your hearts and dreams for always with the Goff Plan.

BLANKET PARTY

The Stillwater will flow with Mediterranean Sea water creating a Mediterranean climate around the Campus. There will be many buildings constructed on the water front such as dance halls, yacht clubs, etc.

Students will instruct themselves in all classes. Easy chairs, sofas, radios and other things not generally found in good class-rooms will be supplied. Students will be guaranteed, A's.

The traffic problem will be entirely eliminated. Only students will be supplied cars. An overhead canopy will be fitted over the Campus so that the weather can be controlled.

Officials opposed to student development will be ousted. Believing that everyone should have a job (if he wants one) the professors will be kept on as janitors.

Warm up with the Blanket Party—Elect "Deacon" Johnson.

MILLIKEN

This University stands on the threshold of a new era. One mis-cast ballot could destroy it. It has been the policy of the present administration to concentrate too much on academic education. It is the objective of Mr. Milliken to graduate students possessing an education composed of a well-rounded social background. Mr. Milliken will secure sufficient funds to construct several buildings on campus where classes in bowling, dancing, and swimming will be held daily.

Furthermore, when the new semester begins each student will have three days in which to interrogate his several professors before he makes his choice as to the subjects he will take.

If you are one of those who hate to get up in the morning, you will relish the idea of the professor bringing class to you along with breakfast at your bedside.

WIN WITH WINSHIP

Students! Win with Winship! Do you desire co-educational dormitories? Do you want beer-flowing hydrants instead of the water variety? Shall we have the light in front of the Library replaced with a block of concrete?

If so, vote for the Galahad of politicians—our man of destiny—the patriotic pupil of Freud's ideals—Robert D. Winship.

Ah! That chin—chin of strength. . . Those ears (remember, this is the air age) . . . that nose—ever probing after new principles for the improvement of our glorious campus. . . That mustache. . . those eyes. . .

Put them all together and it completes the picture of this, our candidate for mayor, ROBERT D. WINSHIP.

CORRESPONDENCE

Dear Editor:

"Those feminine softball players from Kappa Sigma" proved to be the girls from Delta Tau Delta.

We wish to express our deepest sympathy to Waldo, Paul, and Al. All of us wonder why we weren't invited to the presentation of the Purple Hearts. When these fellows recuperate, we will be willing to play a few innings with them.

If anyone is willing to play the best softball players, we are free almost every Saturday afternoon.

Delta Tau Delta
We suggest a grudge battle between Kappa Sig and Delta Tau, with Phi Eta as umpires.

GOVERNMENT SANS AUTHORITY

Dear Editor:

I should like to quote from the Maine Bulletin:

"The General Student Senate is composed of representatives of both men and women students. It is the official student organization in any matter involving discussion and adjustment between the student body and the administration. . ."

And so, the Maine Bulletin seems to imply that the student body of the University of Maine is self-governing.

Actually, this is far from the truth, for upon investigation, you will find the members of the Student Senate to be a group of very frustrated young people. For they are members of a governing body without power, without authority, and with a very meek voice in student Affairs, a voice that is rarely heeded. In fact, I may add, a voice that is heeded only when it is in agreement with the Administration's viewpoint. . .

It does have the authority only to pass resolutions but not to take action. . . So let us dispose of this false concept of cooperative government that has been fostered upon us and let us realize that the student actually has no voice in this University's government.

We should take steps, drastic steps, to make known our disapproval of the present set-up. We should have a voice, a strong voice, in the administration of this school. For we, the students, are its only reason for existence.

Likewise, we should realize that we are here for only four years and therefore could not possibly assume anything approaching complete democracy.

Therefore, we must find a way, a compromise between our present situation and that of complete democracy, a way in which we can make our voices heard and heeded. We need a stronger, a more powerful Student Senate, one that has the power to take action upon the problems that confront it. . . .

It is futility itself to have an organization which can accomplish nothing. So let us strive to perfect a student government that can present student views with some force.

The first University degree in forestry was conferred forty years ago, in 1906, starting the department of which Maine today is proud.

Spring Season Is Under Way At University of Maine

Trackmen To Open At New Hampshire

Maine's varsity track team opens its outdoor season Saturday, taking part in a pentagonal meet at the University of New Hampshire, with Bates, Brown, and Boston College the other competitors.

Brown, with a new coach, is having a strong track revival, and its well-balanced team has won three dual meets this spring, from Connecticut, Northeastern, and M.I.T. Boston College, weak during the winter, is an unknown quantity, but should have some good sprinters and 440 men. Bates and New Hampshire haven't shown much strength this spring.

While Maine hasn't much balance or depth, Coach Chester Jenkins has developed a number of potential threats, some of which should come through. Best bets are Al Hutchinson in the dashes, Wallace Brown in the 440, Aaron Nelson in the two mile, George Higgins in the pole vault, George Marsanskis and Einar Olsen in the hammer throw, and Earl Vickery in the javelin throw.

Others who might surprise the opposition are Martin Hagopian in the dashes, Sam Silsby in the 440, John Barnard in the 880, Jimmy Young in the mile, and Marsanskis and Dick Harlow in the shot put.

Brown has an unusually good sprinter and low hurdler in Dwyer, a capable 440 man, Costa, and Brooks, an 880 and mile threat. In fact, Brown has strong entries everywhere but the high hurdles—and Maine has no entrant at all in that event.

Bates has George Disnard in the two mile to go against a good Brown runner and Maine's Nelson. It could well be the top race of the day, though the 440 also promises to be close.

Maine Tops Rhody; Two Games Called

The Maine Bears, striving to uphold Bill Kenyon's "win 'em all," returned from their tour of the southern New England states with one win under their belts, and no losses. Inclement weather kept the club from playing two other scheduled games with Connecticut and Northeastern.

Al McNeilly turned in a sparkling performance, yielding only 3 hits to the Rhode Island Rams, all three singles allowing one run, and smashing out the triple in the tenth inning that proved to be the clincher. Angelides, Card, and Poulin, all did some smart batting helping to accumulate the 4 Maine runs.

The win should enable the Kenyonmen to assert themselves in the State Series race which officially opened at Waterville yesterday, where the Mules played host to the Bears.

Saturday, Maine Day, the Varsity will put in its first appearance before local fans, when Bowdoin will attempt to garner a victory... the first pitch due to be served up at 2:30 p.m. Coach Kenyon hasn't decided as yet who will toe the slab for the home nine, but you can just bet that Bill will employ some cagey strategy in order to send the visitors back to Brunswick on the short end of the score.

The playing surface of the Maine diamond has been rejuvenated, and a clean, fast game is expected. This was not the case on the irregular Colby field last week. Provisions will also be made to reduce the dimensions of the gigantic Maine outfield. A distance of 432 feet to dead centerfield is too much in any league.

Today, the U of M Junior Varsity nine tangles with the Maine School of Commerce from Bangor. The starting lineup is indefinite at this writing, but Coach Sam Sezak has a wealth of good material from which to choose. A large crowd is expected for the fray which gets under way at 3 o'clock.

The program is planned to allow two full hours of dancing to the music of the Maine Bears. Remember the time, 7:30, and the place, Memorial Gym, on Saturday.

This year the weather man can have no word on Maine Day. Regardless of weather conditions, Maine Day will be held.

University Bows To Colby Nine, 8-7

Harry Angelides at bat, and Al McNeilly on the mound, starred for an erring Bear nine, in yesterday's nip-and-tuck Colby game, lost by one run, 8-7.

Jerry Poulin, packing a powerful bat, was allowed by a smart Colby pitcher to walk twice. He connected only once.

Al McNeilly pitched a long and hard eight-plus innings without letting up. Up to when he was relieved, he had held the score down to a tie.

Walt Braley finished the game, walking Mulhern with Myshral and Puiia of Colby already on, and then walking McDonough on a weak pitch to force Myshral in, giving Colby the one point to leave the score 8-7.

From the time George O'Donnell spanked off a single as lead-off man for the Bears, through the entire tilt, the University's game was erratic, but tenacious. Racing a well-coordinated Colby College team, the Bears fell behind only in the end after Al McNeilly left the mound.

Student Seats Open On Athletic Board

Friday, May 3, a general election open to all male students will determine officers for next year's Athletic Board. Voting will be conducted from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m., and is scheduled to be held in the vicinity of the Alumni Building.

Candidates for seats on the board, as nominated by the Men's Student Senate, are: for president, Alfred Hutchinson and Alvin McNeilly; senior member, Charles Stickney and William Wilson; junior member, Georeg Marsanskis and Winslow Work; sophomore member, Ralph Barnett and Harry Angelides.

The Athletic Board consists of four student members, three men chosen from the faculty, three alumni, one trustee, and Ted Curtis as recording secretary. The board is entrusted with the formulating of Maine athletic policy.

Pan-Hell Ball

Guests for the evening will be President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck, Dean Edith Wilson, Rev. and Mrs. Charles O'Connor, the patrons, patronesses, and advisers of the five sororities. Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Dow and Dr. and Mrs. F. S. Haydon will be chaperons.

Ocummo Bowling Team Wants More Opposition

A strong independent Off-Campus bowling team rolled the men from Phi Gam under by the decisive margin of 105 pins on the Orono alleys last week. Fred MacDonald was high man of the evening with a heavy string of 115, and a three string total of 301.

The Off-Campus bowling team, consisting of Brown, Miller, Grindle, Hawkes, and MacDonald, is anxious to meet fresh opposition, and teams interested should contact Al Miller at 24 Oak Street in Orono.

In the evening the Memorial gym will be the scene of much activity. At 7:30 there will be a student variety show under the capable direction of Betty Lehman. Featured on the program will be the Three Sun Shine Boys, Denny Evans, Biss Sheleck, and Don Thomas. There will also be a number by a group of Maine's most beautiful women.

Letter-Men Meet To Discuss Plans For Reorganization

On April 29, the "M" club, which is an organization composed of men who have won a varsity letter, held a successful meeting in the Trophy Room at the Alumni Gymnasium. The meeting was conducted by the club's president, Alfred Hutchinson, and many things of importance were discussed.

Plans were started for an "M" club dance which is for the purpose of raising funds and also to publicize the club. As is always necessary in the reactivation of an organization, committees were formed and plans forwarded for the drawing up of a constitution and by-laws.

Present at the meeting were two members of the graduate "M" club. The graduate "M" club was maintained throughout the war and has done much in the furtherance of athletics at the University of Maine. These two members made brief speeches in which they told of the honor and prestige that is carried by a varsity letter here at Maine. At one time the "M" club was one of the two highest non-scholastic honors attainable at the University, and the hope was expressed that it would shortly regain its position of honor.

The purpose of the "M" club is to further athletics at the University of Maine and by so doing increase its power and prestige. The next meeting will be held on Monday, May 13. At this meeting final plans will be drawn for the dance and other business will be attended to.
