Debaters Return From Vermont

Maine debaters broke even in the University of Vermont's invitation debating tournament at Burlington last week end, winning five contests and dropping a like number.

The negative team of Kay Kennedy and June Swanton defeated McGill, Williams, and American International. They lost to Dartmouth and Boston University.

Royal Graves and Larry Jenness, affirmative team, won over Rutgers and Wesleyan while losing to Vermont, McGill, and St. Michaels.

Jenness was judged best debater in four of his five debates. Miss Swanton was given the highest rating three times.

Question being debated was "Resolved that labor should be given a direct share in the management of industry." Twenty schools brought over 100 teams to the tournament, representing New England, New York, and New Jersey. Bates was the only other Maine school present.

The tournament was held mainly for training purposes. The authorities at Vermont have decided to hold such a meet there every year. Time set for next year's tourney is the first week in December.

Campus Editor Speaks To AVC About Newspaper

At the last AVC meeting, Sandy Adams, Editor of The Maine Campus, spoke about the paper's organization and editorial policies.

It was emphasized that all students who want to work on the paper are welcomed. Elections of officers are held each year, and all members of the staff are expected to participate in the elections.

The policy of the paper is to present news, not to make news, the editor said, when told that there were many things to attack on campus.

Twenty-one students attended the meeting, eight of whom were members of the Campus staff, plus thirteen interested students, faculty members, or AVC members.

Stag Dance Planned For This Friday

The Women's Gymnasium will be the setting for this week's stag dance, to be held Friday night. The dance is being sponsored by the Education Club.

Dancing will be from 8:00 to 11:30, and the admission is fifty cents. The music will be provided by Nat Diamond and his orchestra.

The dance can not be held in the Memorial Gymnasium, as the semi-final basketball games of the Eastern Maine Tournament will be played at that time.

Sunday Speaker

Dr. Alfred W. Painter will speak at next Sunday's service, held in the Little Theatre. The service opens at 10:45 a.m.

Born in Yakima, Wash., he was graduated from Linfield College in McMinnville, Oregon, and received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago in 1945.

He is at present connected with Bates College where he is adviser to the Bates Christian Association and an instructor in religion.

Masque Tickets Go On Sale Monday In 330 Stevens Hall

Rush tickets for Maxwell Anderson's "Joan of Lorraine" will go on sale Monday at room 330 Stevens Hall. They will be sold each day between 9:45 and 4:45.

Opening night for the play is Tuesday, March 11. It will run for four nights, with curtain time set for 7:45 p.m.

'Joan Of Lorraine' Opening Next Wednesday On Campus

By LALA JONES

With opening night nearing for the Masque's "Joan of Lorraine," assistant director Bill Brown and a crew of backstage masterminds are busy keeping the technical end of the production running smoothly.

Beth Clement holds the reins of stage manager. It is Beth's duty to see that all members of the cast are present and on stage at the right time. She and her assistant, Albert Weymouth, take turns prompting the actors, checking their movements for accuracy, and placing props and sets where they are supposed to be during different scenes of the play.

Technical Director and chief electrician, Gerry Hermanson and Paul Hart, work hand in hand during the production.

Something new has been added in this play, however. During the action of "Joan of Lorraine," the actual sets are removed and curtains drawn back so that the audience sees the actual electrician's box, with the electrician

Paintings Of Ten Men Being Shown

Original paintings of ten contemporary artists will be on display in the University of Maine Art Gallery between nine and five each day until March 15.

Loaned to the University by the George Binet Gallery of New York, this collection has been brought to the Maine campus by Mr. Vincent Hartgen as a cross sectional view of what is being shown in America today.

Each of the artists ranks highly in modern American painting and has held several group and one-man shows in New York and other cities.

Attracting much attention at the exhibit is "Maternity" by Stefano Cusumano with its sharp color contrast, stained glass effect, and vividness. There is an abstract quality to be found and appreciated in the works of Ernesto Lothar. The moody character of the sea dominates Nathaniel Dirck.

Anti-Nazi Film Will Be Shown By Hillel Group

"Professor Mamlock," a Soviet film exposing the tyranny of the pre-war Nazi regime, will be shown at 7:30 Tuesday evening, March 11, in the MCA Reading Room.

Professor Mamlock is a German Jew, forced to vacate his hospital post because of "unpure" blood. The actor who plays the part received one of the highest Soviet awards for his performance.

Bookstore Directors Contributed To Union As Athletic Asset

A major factor in the result of the campaign, according to the fund committee, was the gift of $9,000 by the Store Company. In making this contribution, the Store directors, composed of students, faculty and alumni, stated that in their opinion, the Union Building would be an asset to the athletic life of the University.

It will be used by visiting teams for entertainment, recreation or eating and will promote the intramural athletic program. In addition, it is anticipated that most if not all of the athletic meetings and conferences will be held in the Memorial Union Building.

Walter Whitney Organizes Needed Writing Laboratory

Copying a long established custom in the teaching of natural sciences, Maine's English department is busy at work developing a writing laboratory.

Set up under the direction of Dr. Walter R. Whitney, the lab is in operation five nights a week, Monday through Friday, from 7 to 9:30 p.m. It is located in 32 South Stevens.

In expressing the basic aim of the laboratory, Dr. Whitney stated, "It is our belief that help is more important during the actual process of composition than when the instructor is restricted to criticism on finished product."

This novel service is presented for use by all students. Each night a member of the English department will be present to help with any difficulties or obstacles encountered while writing.

No attendance record will be kept, although the presence of some students who are in need of help will be urged.

Only a few standard reference books are kept at the laboratory. The lab is not to be used as a general study room, nor will any drill work be given. Possible arrangement may be made for those students who wish to use typewriters.

Malcolm Blodgett Wins Essay Contest

Writing on "The Sonnets of Keats," a married war veteran living in a trailer has won first prize in the annual senior essay competition at the University of Maine.

The winner, Malcolm Blodgett, will receive a $20 award, one of the Hardison essay prizes established by Helen Crane Hardison of the class of 1937.

A second Hardison prize, of $5, was awarded to Dorothy Ward, whose subject was "The Influence of the Lives of the Bronte Sisters upon Their Works."

Edith Strout won third place, while Anne Woods was fourth.

A three-way tie for fifth place was achieved by Elaine McManus, Donald Thomas, and Stanley Thomas.

Student Drive Nears Goal, Needs $6000.

After a week of active campaigning, 2,676 Maine students have subscribed nearly $80,000 towards the building of a student union in memory of University war dead. With organization gifts added, the grand total stands at $93,791 pledged.

The "clean-up" phase of the campaign is being carried on this week. Many off-campus students have not been contacted, and some organizations are considering gifts. 84% of the student body have pledged in the drive.

Fifteen of the campaign teams reached or exceeded their quotas as follows: Balentine, Colvin, Estabrooke So., Alpha Tau Omega, Kappa Sigma, Phi Eta Kappa, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Mu Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Sigma Chi, Tau Epsilon Phi, Hannibal Hamlin, Oak Hall, Hampden.

Teams in the 90% bracket are The Elms, East Hall, North Dorms.

Twenty-three student organizations have thus far contributed or subscribed to the Fund. Frank Haines and Saralyn Phillips served as co-chairmen of this phase of the campaign. The following organizations have subscribed to the Fund thus far:

Panhellenic, Women's Student Government Assoc., Home Economics Club, Alpha Omicron Pi, Pi Beta Phi, Phi Mu, Women's Athletic Assoc., All-Maine Women, Off-Campus Women, Chi Omega, General Senate, Intramural, Senior Skulls, Sigma Mu Sigma, Maine Masque Theatre, M.C.A., Off-Campus Men, Agricultural Club, Debate Society, American Society of Civil Engrs., Newman Club, Hillel, The Maine Campus.

Ray Thomas Handles All Family Housing

In the future, all students desiring family residence at the University will contact Mr. Raymond Thomas, FPHA representative, rather than Mr. Worrick, assistant dean of men.

The assignment duties, formerly in the dean's office, have been taken over by Mr. Thomas according to an announcement made by him Tuesday afternoon. It was pointed out that assignments of single men's quarters in the North Dormitories area as well as the permanent dormitories will still be handled by Mr. Worrick.

Maine Radio Guild Produces Program

The Maine Radio Guild will produce "The Work of the World" on its fifteen minute program next Wednesday evening, 7:30 p.m., over WLBZ.

The script is based on a poem by Richard Henry Stoddard, and tells of a husband who came to learn that men don't do all the work in the world. Margaret Hanks, an advanced radio student, will direct the show.

STORMY WEATHER DUDS ARRIVE

"The flowers that bloom in the spring tra-la." Yes, sir, spring's on its way, which means warm days, green grass, budding trees, but alas, rainy weather also. So, gals, take a quick inventory on your spring stormy weather duds so that those April showers won't catch you at an off moment.

First of all, how about a raincoat? The lucky girls are those who either have belted gabardine water-repellent coats or the transparent plastic jobs which may be worn over heavy suits or outer garments. The cloth ones come with a satin finish also and these may be bought in a multitude of colors. Those plastic coats are sold with matching kerchiefs and umbrellas and they really make smart outfits at low cost.

Most girls aren't fortunate enough to have naturally curly hair. They have to keep their head under cover in even just plain damp weather. For them we suggest the usual kerchiefs or rain hats to match their coats.

How about keeping feet dry? Boots are as fashionable as ever, or perhaps we can suggest puddle jumpers, those shoes with heavy rubber soles. And to top the whole outfit, how about an umbrella? Maybe you think they're old fashioned and a nuisance, but they come in such sharp colors and fabrics these days that we think they're mighty cute on a stormy day. Surely they still serve the purpose though they have been in use a few centuries.

See you the next time it rains. Golly, we'll be a sharp campus in our bright duds, and not the least bit wet.

Rushing Season Brings Parties, Slows Engagement, Pinnings

Many of the fraternities had informal vic parties last week end to start off the spring rushing season. Frat members, rushees, and their dates attended.

Phi Gam went all out for a rustic dance. Plenty of hay, a regular barn dance theme, plus the merriment of the thirty-five couples who were present adds up to a grand time. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hill were chaperons. Kappa Sig entertained nearly seventy couples. Refreshments were served throughout the evening. SAE had about fifteen couples at its vic party Saturday night. On Sunday the boys held a Smoker party. Thirty-five couples went to the parties at Theta Chi and Delta Tau. ATO's house-mother chaperoned the rushee party held there Saturday night.

North Dorms has the only engagement of the week—"Sandy" Smith and Maryrose Delano, Balentine.

Beverly LaFrance, of Watertown, Mass., is wearing the Kappa Sig pin of "Herb" Peterson. Joe Cervone of Phi Gam pinned Carol Smith. Marit Andersen has the Nu Sigma Nu pin of Bill Wilson. Bill, a former "Maine" man, is now a "med" student at the University of Penn.

Alan Shulman became the first Tau Ep to hang his pin since the war, giving it to Ruth Madow of BU.

These seem to be the only four this week. Rushing must be keeping men busy elsewhere.

Maine Organizations Sponsor A Program Over WJOR

A new radio program entitled "Youth Speaks its Mind" was aired over Bangor station WJOR last Monday night at 8 p.m. It was the first of a weekly series.

Two Maine students, Mr. Paul F. McGouldrick and Mr. Herbert Gillis, joined Dr. Foster of our School of Education and two Bangor citizens in a forum discussion on "Germany's Place in a United Europe."

The program is being sponsored by the Politics Club, the Political Breakfast Club, and the International Relations Club, as a series to run for an indefinite time. McGouldrick and Howard Gottlieb, a former student at George Washington University and recently returned from Germany, thought up the idea and worked it out.

This first forum discussed several problems: German youth, denazification, the Potsdam agreement, coal production in the Ruhr, and others. No final conclusions were reached in this limited discussion, but everyone had a chance to air gripes and advance pet solutions.

Other students here are expected to take part in succeeding discussions, which will cover such varied topics as "Britain's Future as an Imperial Power," "Can Communism and Democracy Live Together?" and "Yes, What About Labor Bills."

Publications Group Prepares To Do Business

A student-faculty committee on publications, appointed by President Arthur A. Hauck last fall, has completed its organization and is now ready to do business, according to chairman Wayne Jordan, professor of journalism.

The purpose of this committee, said Jordan, is to represent the interests of the students and the University in an advisory capacity, as well as to insure that the journalistic needs of the college community are met. Students and faculty members are invited to contribute criticisms and suggestions to the board.

The Administration is represented on the committee by, in addition to Jordan, Professor Cecil Reynolds, Mr. Howard Keyo, Publicity Director, and Mr. Irving Pierce, of the Treasurer's office. Marit Andersen, Louisa Bacon, Tom Stotler, and Rip Haskell are the student members.

Peephole to Politics

Brewster Revives Hope For Maine Democracy

Of all the sweet and reassuring gentlemen to strike the campus lately, Senator R. Owen Brewster was certainly the most so. I regret that circumstances prohibited this column from acknowledging his visit sooner; however, I feel assured that his undying words will still remain fresh enough in the minds of those who heard him to make our remarks still pertinent.

The Senator struck a note of interest regarding the situation of weather control stations in the Arctic regions. He modestly admitted having introduced a bill to establish such an institution—America's first in the northwest icefields. He was rather pleased, or so he inferred us, that the Russians had been displeased by this action. But the Senator felt that the fact that the Russians maintain some two hundred similar establishments constituted too great a threat to our security to be ignored.

When asked why he was opposed to the Lilienthal appointment, he replied that for twelve months the Democratic administration had held off from making an appointment to the Atomic Control Board, and he saw no reason why three or four more months would make any difference. This explanation delivered in a few thousand well-chosen words was well received by the audience. He then added that he also considered Lilienthal's dictatorial temperament a liability for the position to which he aspired.

Like the true public servant he is, Senator Brewster did not neglect to remind us of the ever present danger of Communist infiltration into the administrative branch of the government. Lilienthal, he did not believe, was a Communist, but the atmosphere in the TVA district was definitely friendly towards them. Even the Tennessee watchdog, Senator McKellar, had been unable to discover this.

Those of us who were fortunate enough to hear our Senator speak on the subject of International relations left the Little Theatre assured that the greatness of our nation could not fade as long as it reposed in the care of such men. Maine has sired a distinguished line of statesmen of whom Mr. Brewster is not the least.

More I will not say, save that if he continues his speaking tour and reaches enough of the Maine citizenry, there is still hope for the two party system in this state.

—RIP HASKELL

The University Wakes Up And Gets Married

Mi Gawd. The campus commandos have really been busy. If you don't hear of half a dozen coeds getting pinned, engaged, or hitched each week, news comes of ten or twelve new babies showing up in the South Apartments.

Professor Ceit claims that the young people of today are going into marriage half-cocked. He explained further that they are not ready for such a step. As an example of this he told the tragic story of ex-Major General K. P. Pushah.

General Pushah, at the time of his marriage, had only attained a Ph.D. Furthermore, he had taken only five two-semester courses in subjects that would help him travel the lovely road of matrimony. Three of these dealt with marriage and the family, one with animal husbandry, and the other, a course he received in basic training, sex hygiene. Naturally his marriage went on the rocks.

Professor Ceit, who, although only 64 years old, is thinking seriously of hanging his Phi Beta Kappa key on a female friend, gives a word of warning to those already married, and those about to be married.

"Think the situation over seriously before taking the fatal step. You are not prepared for marriage until you have the proper education. I waited, and am now confident that my married life will be better because of it."

—BILL BRENNAN

Resumption . . .

Is the food bad again? After weeks and weeks of official platitudes about the University dining halls and University food, the letter we received this week from forty-four students was discouraging.

We don't like to rile up the muck on campus. But if there are legitimate complaints, we welcome them for publication in the letters column.

That's the first step we use in trying to help conditions on campus.

From past experience, however, we judge that nothing much will be done simply on the publication of a single letter. After all, "if you're feeding a couple thousand people, there's bound to be somebody who's dissatisfied."

44 Men Don't Like Dried Spuds Served

Dear Editor:

According to the latest figures, Maine produces more potatoes than any other State in the country. In this morning's paper we read that approximately 11,000,000 bushels of potatoes had been dumped in Aroostook County.

It made us angry, and we think we are justified in being so, when we went to chow today and found they were serving dehydrated potatoes. A large number of us had to eat that stuff when we were overseas, and see no reason for it in a potato-producing State. It seems to us that the people responsible for obtaining the food for the Field House Dining Room should be able to do a better job than that.

The visiting track teams ate there; that meal must have given a very good impression of U. of M. chow.

Job-hunting Could Be Made Easier For Arts Men

Dear Editor:

I am a senior here at the University and have what I believe to be an honest gripe. It concerns the Placement Bureau, and its methods.

In the first place, four of my friends in the Technology college have had interviews arranged with prospective employers. I have not had one. Several psychology majors I know have been running back and forth between interviews. I still have not had one. What's the matter with Arts students?

Another thing: are the employers the students are placed with properly investigated. I know of a case where one girl was placed with an employer who was shortly later convicted of embezzling. She was accused of sharing in the stolen funds but proved her innocence. What kind of people are we being placed with?

The Placement Bureau as it now runs is hardly better than the USES; I probably would be better off if I found a job myself, if I could.

Phi Eta Kappa Clinches Cup In Fraternity Bowling Race

By LEN HARLOW

With only a few matches remaining, Phi Eta Kappa has clinched the fraternity bowling championship of 1947 and the prize silver cup.

A Phi Eta team, composed of Dick Spiller, Bob Brewster, Oscar Paradis, Harry Hawkes, and Bob Cool, has run roughshod over all opponents this season.

Sparkplug for the winning pinsters has been Oscar Paradis, who holds this year's record for the highest three strings with a total score of 338.

According to Sam Ames, proprietor of the Orono alleys, this is the first year in many that neither Sigma Chi nor Sigma Nu has won the bowling cup. Sigma Nu ended in third place this year but included standout bowlers such as Larry Standish, who was second only to Paradis with the high three strings total of 337 and also second in the high single strings with 135, and Joe Adler, who recorded a three string mark of 332.

Bear Facts

BY FRED McDONALD

BY FRED McDONALD

The schoolboys take over on the Maine campus this weekend as eight high schools battle for the Eastern Maine class A basketball championship at Memorial Gymnasium Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. If you want tickets for these games there is only one place to get them and that is from the principals of the competing schools. There are no tickets on advance sale at the University.

From the Hat—Stearns

The experts have been all trying to pick the winners with the choices ranging from the co-favorites down to the number eight team, Ellsworth. Our choice, strictly in the long-shot line, is the minutemen from Stearns High School. It's about time that those boys finally came up with a tourney crown and this could be the year.

Bear's Finale

The Pale Blue basketball team wound their season up in a real spurt, taking four out of five from their late season opponents. That game at New Hampshire must have been a thriller last week end. The boys trailed 27-15 at the half but came roaring back to cop the decision by a 39-37 margin. On a won and lost basis it was one of the better seasons that a university basketball team ever had. Last year's 10-4 record was the best in history. You must consider that four of the eight losses that Maine suffered this year were at the hands of Connecticut and Rhode Island who are both in the running for the post-season tourney at New York.

New England Notes

Did you see where Rhode Island fell before the fast charging U-Conn last Saturday night at Storrs? Eck Allen called that one right about six weeks ago. At the time it didn't seem possible that the Nutmeggers could pin one on the Rhodiers but after seeing Fisher and company in action up here in the Maine gym, we could see the wisdom of Allen's reasoning. Included in Connecticut's wins this year is a decision from Army. Also noticed in past scores that Conn. trounced New Hampshire recently. The Connecticut men rolled up 94 points.

Tracking the Tracksters

Indoor track enters its final week of the current campaign when Jenkins' men meet Northeastern University in the field house Saturday. The Maine squad is undefeated this season with several men unbeaten in their specialties. . . . George Marsanskis gave the fans heart failure last week when he waited until his last toss to get that 35 pound weight out there for first place. . . . Also understand that on one of his throws, George drew a fairly good line on Gerry Poulin. . . . Poulin scrambled out of the way at the last minute and the weight dropped right where he had been sitting. . . . If Gerry moves that fast this baseball season he should beat George Case's record for base thefts.

Well Done

We take this time to offer congratulations to the winter sports squad for a swell job done in the ISU's at Montreal last week end. Jan Willoch beat the highly touted Ralph Townsend of New Hampshire who recently copped the National Amateur Ski Championship at Lake Placid. From all reports Charles Barr rates as one of the most highly improved men on the ski team. Curtis reports that all the boys did a fine job. . . . They had to finish in second place against that competition.

Track Team Prepares For Northeastern

The undefeated Pale Blue track team will meet its final indoor foe of the season Saturday afternoon in the field house when Northeastern University pits its strength against Coach Jenkins' charges.

The Maine squad rolled to an impressive victory in last week's state meet, marking up 72 points to Bowdoin's 25, and Bates' 20. Maine men took 11 out of 13 of the first places in the meet, Bates men taking firsts in the discus and broad jump.

Martin Hagopian equalled his own university record in the 50-yard dash when he was clocked at 5.5 seconds. Elmer Folsom and George Marsanskis came up with two firsts during the afternoon. Bob Emerson contributed a first in the pole vault and a second in the broad jump.

Little is known about the strength of the Huskies from Boston other than that they placed second behind New Hampshire in a triangular meet at Lewiston with Bates.

Bleachers will again be set up for the spectators and results of each event will be relayed to them via the use of loudspeakers. This arrangement worked out very well last week, the events moving along smoothly and with a minimum of confusion.

Boxers And Wrestlers Slow In Reporting For Physical Checkups

The athletic office reports that many of the boxers and wrestlers who have signified their intentions of entering the tourneys that will be held at the University on March 19-20, have not had their physicals as yet. Stan Wallace, director of intramural athletics, said that all men who do not undergo a physical will be ineligible to represent their house in the tournaments.

"Also," Wallace said, "some of the men are not reporting out for their three practice sessions per week. If this rule is not followed, they will be scratched from the list of entries."

Coach Small Calls All Tennis Men To Meeting Friday

Coach G. William Small has announced that the first organization meeting of the University tennis team will be held tomorrow, Friday, March 7, at 4:45 in the East Class-room of the Alumni Memorial Gymnasium. It is imperative that all tennis team candidates report at that time.

High Schools Vie For Eastern Crown

Schoolboys will be in the athletic spotlight at Memorial Gymnasium these next two weekends as the high school and prep school tourneys get under way at the University.

This weekend it will be the Eastern Maine class A high schools that will be competing for the right to meet the western Maine winner for the state title. The state title game will also be held on campus Saturday night, March 15.

Ted Curtis announced this week that the four teams for the Preparatory School tournament had been selected by the University Athletic Board. The teams, picked on the basis of their seasonal records, are Higgins, Maine Central Institute, Coburn, and Hebron Academy. The prep school boys will battle it out on Friday and Saturday afternoon, March 14-15.

This week's activity lists John Baptist vs. Waterville, Bangor vs. Fort Fairfield, Presque Isle vs. Cony, and Stearns vs. Ellsworth. Preliminaries are slated for Thursday afternoon and evening, with the semifinals on Friday evening. Finals will be held Saturday evening.

Pale Blue Upsets Wildcats, Closes Season On Court

BY MURPH LINEHAN

The University of Maine Varsity basketball team wrote the final chapter to the 1946-47 court season in bang-up fashion last Saturday at Durham, by upsetting the favored Wildcats 39-37.

It looked like a gone ball game at the half with New Hampshire on top by the decisive margin of a dozen points, but the boys from Orono turned on the heat in the third period when they held the Granite Staters to a zero score while they tied it up. The fray was whisker-close right down to the final gun when in the final minutes, Maine applied the time-honored "freeze" to preserve their two point lead for the victory.

Looking back on the just-ended schedule, Maine took nine out of the seventeen games played, and if you like statistics that's a .529 average. The mid-season slump which started January 9 at Storrs, and ended February 13 at Orono, saw Maine drop ten of the thirteen games played in that period.

Graduation will result in the loss of only two of "Eck" Allen's charges, Dinny Presnell and Ben Curtis. Consequently, next year should see an experienced and seasoned team take the floor. The arrival on campus of Annex personnel should strengthen the squad immeasurably.

Perhaps less pre-season first team forecasting by Bangor scribes would result in fewer prides being hurt, and make for a lot more cooperation between coach and player. . . . we certainly hope so.

Dr. Kellogg's teaching years were spent at Southern Illinois Normal University at Carbondale, where she became a full professor of English.

Dr. Kellogg's will provides for the creation of a trust fund the income to be paid to a relative during her life. At the termination of the trust the fund is to be distributed equally to Radcliffe College, Southern Illinois Normal University, and to the University of Maine.

The fund is to be known as the "Thelma Louise Kellogg Fund" the income to be used as the directors

Curtismen Take Second At Montreal

Ted Curtis and his winter sports squad returned Monday from Montreal where they won second place in the senior International Ski Union meet held at St. Marquette last week end. Won by Middlebury College of Vermont, the meet brought together the ten best college ski teams in the Eastern United States and Canada, including McGill, Dartmouth, New Hampshire, Williams, Harvard, Vermont, and Norwich.

The Maine squad, trailing the winners by only 6 points, was spark-plugged by Jan Willoch who took first position in the eight and one-half mile cross country course, timed at 49 minutes and 52 seconds. Willoch led 47 competitors across the finish line of the grueling course that went over, across, and around mountains, and which, according to Curtis, was as fast in some places as the downhill course at Mt. Baldy.

Snow conditions at St. Marquette were ideal, Curtis said, and remarked that the downhill course was a real test of skill, with 37 gates, one between two huge boulders, followed by a sharp turn. There were plenty of spills, and several injuries, but the Bears got by without any trouble.

In all the events at least three Maine men finished in the top half, usually placing a man in the first ten. The slalom was the only event in which the Bears were weak, and that is attributed to the fact that snow conditions here during the past few weeks have been poor, cutting down on necessary practicing.

Among the members of the eleven teams that competed, were several men who are almost certain to be on the U. S. Olympic ski team; including Ralph Townsend, Dartmouth ace, who was defeated by Willoch in the cross country. Toronto, who was the eleventh team, was in the meet unofficially, having won the junior ISU championships previously, and earning the privilege of moving into the senior division next year.

of the Foundation may determine. . . . we certainly hope so.

Leaving basketball and turning to the diamond sport, it was interesting to note that 27 pitchers and 16 catchers answered Bill Kenyon's first call. Spirit like this should be applauded and a fervent prayer be offered up that it will exist throughout the season.

Obviously all of the men going out for baseball will not find a berth on the first club though they do have talent for the game. This fact portends a great year for intramurals, and the spring softball league will absorb all those not playing varsity or junior varsity ball.

Babies Form Cheering Section As Mommy Plays Basketball

According to the latest reports from the Women's Gym, women's athletics is becoming a family affair. First, football-playing poppas invaded the females' sports sanctuary to join Miss Cassidy's class in folk-dancing. When the basketball season rolled around, it brought some mothers with a yen for the court they had haunted in their not-so-long-ago student days.

Not to be left behind, the younger generation insisted on coming along to root for the home team. So now the Women's Gym converts itself into a combined nursery and rumpus room when the carriage-trade wheels in for an afternoon of riotous wreck-recreation.

"Who says basketball and babies don't mix?" query the athletic alums, who claim their offspring in the cheering section are tops as morale boosters.

While their Moms are on the floor netting the baskets for the Marriageville, the youngsters cheer lustily and impartially from the makeshift bleachers that double as a pen. The frisky fans are picking up pointers on the game from no less an authority than Miss Lengyel, who keeps a genial but vigilant eye on these Phys. Ed. minors.

Still a little hazy regarding the rules and regulations governing spectator participation, more than one imp has put a crimp in the play by dashing headlong into the midst of a scramble for the ball.

Interference is only one problem which a self-appointed referee of the rollicking rookies has to cope with.

club in the recent small schools' tourney at Brewer and they really looked like a well coached team. Observers remarked that they had never seen a small high school team screen as Gates' boys did. One little fellow, Pauplis, stood around four foot four (with high heels on). . . . Noticed that the Brunswick Campus team rolled up 101 points in a tilt with Hebron last week. . . . Those Brunswick boys will come in handy next basketball season.

Open doorways and unfamiliar territory bring out the exploring instinct in some of the more venturesome males who are continually being lured out of bounds.

When a personal foul, such as pushing or tripping, is called, the victim gets a shot at the cookie box. But it's a hard-hearted ref who can penalize these sporting kiddies for tussling over a point of honor as to whose Mom has the best shooting eye.

Maine Foundation Receives Gift From Mrs. Kellogg

Dr. Thelma L. Kellogg '18, late of Vanceboro and for many years a professor at Southern Illinois Normal University, bequeathed one-third of her estate estimated to be $90,000, to the University of Maine Foundation according to her will which has been filed for probate in Washington County.

In addition to this fine bequest, the will also directed that her library in Maine shall be given to the University. Dr. Kellogg died recently in St. Stephen, N. B., after a long illness.

As an undergraduate Dr. Kellogg was active in musical and literary societies. She was elected to Phi Kappa Phi. During her senior year she was a teacher of English, a career which she followed until illness forced her to relinquish her profession.

After graduating in 1918, she studied at Radcliffe College from which she received a doctor's degree. Most of

Kauffman Spoke Friday At Dinner

Reginald Kauffman, editorial writer for the Bangor Daily News, was guest speaker last Friday at the first of a series of dinners to which students interested in journalism are invited.

Asked many questions by the students, Mr. Kauffman reached into his long career as a newspaperman for the answers.

"Is journalism a 'healthy' profession?"

"Absolutely not!" Mr. Kauffman said.

"Does journalism interfere with one's home life?"

"Absolutely!"

But he said that journalism, for all its trials and tribulations, is a very satisfying profession.

Mr. Kauffman stated that a good journalist must know about everything from the Knights of Columbus to the fine arts.

Journalism students are planning to hold these dinners frequently.

Bishop D. J. Feeney Will Be Speaker At Newman Club

Bishop Daniel J. Feeney of Portland will be the guest speaker at the University of Maine Newman Club meeting on March 11. The Public has been invited to attend the lecture at 8 o'clock in 305 Aubert Hall.

Bishop Feeney's presentation of "An Appreciation of Spiritual Values" will be his first appearance at the University since his consecration last September. He has served four and a half years at St. Mary's parish in Orono and has also taught in the town's Catholic high school.

This talk is one of a series being presented under the auspices of the Maine Newman Club as a part of their spring semester program. Addresses by the resident Catholic chaplain, Fr. Francis E. LeTourneau, and Fr. W. Edmund Fitzgerald, Rector of Cheverus High School, Portland, have highlighted the program.

100th Anniversary of the Birth of Alexander Graham Bell • March 3, 1947

ALEXANDER GRAHAM BELL
by Moffett, 1918.

He gave the world
a new voice

Alexander Graham Bell was a teacher of the deaf. He was also a trained scientist who made it possible for millions upon millions of people to hear each other by telephone.

The telephone brought something into the world that had not been there before.

For the first time people were able to talk to each other even though separated by long distances.

Horizons broadened. A new industry was born, destined to employ hundreds of thousands of men and women and be of service to everyone in the land.

Alexander Graham Bell was a great humanitarian, not only as a teacher of the deaf, but in his vision of the benefits the telephone could bring to mankind.

Bell's vision has come true. It keeps on being an essential part of this nation-wide public service.

Brick By Brick--And Now The Shingles!

Alumni Union Drive Starts On April 1

The general alumni campaign for the Union Building Fund will open on April 1. "Kick-off Meetings" are scheduled consecutively over the whole country. Nearly 2000 campaign workers will go into action, and the campaign will be short and intensive.

The alumni goal is $750,000, and it is hoped that this sum of money will be raised before the 1947 commencement.

Chairman James Sims '32 is already at work, with fifty key alumni in various areas. Substantial progress has been made up to this time, although no official release of figures has been made available. So far, gifts already exceed those in the special gifts category for the Library Fund.

but are unavailable.

As the chart says, a few more shingles are needed. Only six thousand more dollars will bring the students over their goal.

Strange to say, there is a good deal of truth in the chart on the Bookstore. There actually will be no hipped roof on the Union, if the total goal (students, faculty, and alumni) is not met.

But more and more contributions are coming in to the Union Fund office in the Library every day.

There is still a good probability that the student campaign will go over its $100,000.00 goal. Like all campaigns to raise funds, the last few dollars are the most difficult to get.

Radio Guild Elects 14 New Members

Fourteen students were elected to membership in the Maine Radio Guild at its meeting last night. Action was also taken on the purchasing of new equipment.

The new members include Herb Gillis, Bill Starbird, George Gonyer, Bill Mincher, Bob Patten, Paul Payson, Gerry Hermanson, Henry Hagman, Paulie Marcous, Mary Marvin, Margaret Gorham, Margaret Hanks, June Swanton, and Ed Cormier.

Charles Leech, a special student, was voted honorary membership. Dayson DeCourcy, recently graduated and now a faculty member, was asked to become assistant faculty adviser.

Mrs. Phyllis Williamson, instructor of radio and adviser to the Guild, holds open tryouts for each radio program on Tuesday afternoons in either 240 or 275.

The Guild itself was reorganized last spring, with the purpose of aiding the department of speech in the preparation and production of the University's weekly fifteen minute show, carried over WLBZ, Bangor.
