'Twelfth Night' Goes On This Saturday

"Twelfth Night," by William Shakespeare, the second of two May productions by Herschel Bricker's advanced acting class, will open for a one day stand at the Little Theatre this Saturday.

Two performances will be given, one in the afternoon and one in the evening. Tickets, at 60 cents, will be on sale at the door. Curtain time is 2:30 p.m., and 8:15 p.m.

This first Shakespearean production since the war, sponsored by the Masque, is being called a "383rd birthday production of the author, William Shakespeare." "Twelfth Night" is also the birthday production of the Shakespeare Festival which opened yesterday at Stratford-upon-Avon, England.

The acting class performance is being directed by Earle Rankin, well remembered for his leading role in the Masque's pre-war production of "Hamlet." Those taking part are: Robert Brown, Lydia Backer, Mary Dirks, Leon Shalek, Joe Tillem, Ethel Morris, Arnold Colbath, Ralph Higgins, Royal Graves, John Crooker, and Charles Leach.

WSG Sets Up Election Slate

A slate of nominations for next year's Women's Student Government officers was announced Tuesday by B. J. Durgin, present WSGA president.

Election date, not definitely set, will be sometime next week. The slate is as follows:

For president, Marit Andersen and Donna Welts; vice president, Nancy Carter and Kathleen Kennedy; treasurer, Janice Crane and Barbara Hinds; secretary, Betty Arnold and Louise Powers.

Screens Going Up On North Dorms

Screens for North Dormitories are available, and will be hung in the near future, according to an announcement by Mr. Ray Thomas, FPHA representative on campus.

The statement followed the report heard by the Men's Senate last week, that no screens would be available for the North Dorms.

Mr. Thomas also announced that South Apartments will be screened in addition to North Dorms, but that more screens must be constructed.

Music Night Will Be Held This Friday

Music Night, sponsored by Mu Alpha Epsilon, will be presented Friday evening, April 25, at 7:45 in Memorial Gymnasium, with a dance to follow the entertainment.

The annual senior award of Mu Alpha Epsilon will be presented by Professor Adelbert Wells Sprague as the entertainment draws to a close. The award will go to the senior who has been the most beneficial to musical advance on the Maine campus during his college career.

The proceeds of this year's Music Night will be used to grant one or more music scholarships.

The program for Music Night entertainment is as follows: Overture from "The Barber of Seville," Rosini, by the Orchestra; The Debutante, Clark, by the band and soloist Evan Johnson, trumpet; Cantata: Hear My Prayer, Mendelssohn, by the Glee Club with Arline Tankle, soprano soloist; Introduction to Act III from

Dr. Brush Is Banquet Guest

Dr. Lillian Brush will be guest speaker at the annual All-Maine Women's banquet to be held Wednesday, April 30, in North Estabrooke Hall. New All-Maine Women will be tapped at this time.

The topic of Dr. Brush's talk will be "Woman in her Role." Two students, Kay Kennedy and June Swanton, will also speak.

All-Maine Women are chosen from the junior and senior classes on the basis of character, leadership, honor, dignity, willingness to accept responsibility, and Maine spirit.

Present All-Maine Women are: Betty Durgin, Evelyn Foster, Peg Spaulding, Lois Ricker, Sal Phillips, Barbara Mills, Shirley Sibley Morrow, and Barbara McNeil.

Clock Ahead One Hour And We All Lose Sleep

Night owls will suffer this week end, as Daylight Saving time goes into effect Saturday and everybody loses one hour's sleep.

Exactly, clocks should be set ahead one hour Saturday midnight.

Fields Is President Of Sigma Mu Sigma

Phillip Fields, junior psychology major, was elected president of Sigma Mu Sigma, honorary psychology fraternity, at the regular meeting in the psychology lab last Thursday evening.

Mina Sibley was elected vice-president, George Cooper was made secretary-treasurer, and Martha Leeman became social chairman.

Dr. Grace Foster, psychologist at the Augusta State Hospital, will speak at tonight's meeting.

Reed And Fulton Absent For Two Weeks Now

Although the search for Noreen Reed and Bruce Fulton, missing students, is entering its third week, no concrete lead has been found to indicate their whereabouts. State and local police have traced down numerous leads, but without success.

Speeches To Begin May 2; Other Plans Start Soon

Six prospective Campus Mayors, passed on by the General Senate Tuesday night, have tossed their hats into the local political ring and will probably begin to show signs of their ambitions in the near future. Actual speeches and debates cannot be held until Friday, May 2.

Senate Seeks Nominations For New Posts

The General Student Senate, after receiving an "ok" on their proposed constitution in Friday's referendum, will meet Tuesday to nominate students for the four top offices of next year's Senate.

These offices are president, vice president, secretary, and treasurer, and are drawn from and voted on by the student body at large. The president must be a senior, the vice president and treasurer are juniors, and the secretary will be a sophomore.

Senate members will be busy this week hunting down prospective candidates for these positions.

The Senate plans to hold these elections, plus those of the Men's Senate, Men's Athletic Association, Men's Watch Award, and Class Parts on Friday, May 13.

Three hundred and eight students voted in Friday's referendum on the constitution, 168 being for and 140 against.

Twelve Page Campus Will Mark Maine Day

The Maine Campus will add four extra pages to its next week's issue, making room for a special Maine Day supplement.

The supplement, carrying students' names and the projects to which they are assigned, plus special Maine Day features, will be the result of extra effort on the part of the University Print Shop, the Maine Day Committee, and The Maine Campus.

Faculty And Student Skits To Be Shown Twice Maine Day

This year's Maine Day faculty and student skit will be shown twice on Wednesday evening, May 7, in order to accommodate the maximum number of persons expected to attend the joint performance.

Because of the increased number of both students and faculty, the facilities at the Memorial Gymnasium will not hold the audience expected for one showing. This is the first year that it has been necessary to have two presentations.

The first show will start promptly at 6:30 and the second will follow at 8:15. A short interval will elapse between the two and it will be necessary for the first audience to leave the gymnasium as quickly as possible to allow ample time for the second group to be in place prior to the start of the second performance.

After the second performance, a dance will be held at the gymnasium until 11:30 with music provided by the Maine Bears.

The entertainment committee of the Maine Day Committee emphasize the necessity of having a large audience at the first show. If the majority of persons wait for the second, they predict that an insufficient number of seats will be available and some persons will be turned away.

The six candidates, who will stake their luck on the student body's not-too-efficient electoral wheel, are: Pete Ascher, John Ballou, Angus Black, Arthur Boynton, Phil Catir, and Bob Merchant.

Ascher, frosh mechanical engineer, resides in South Hannibal, and will be managed by Don Pratt. Ballou, with Joe O'Neil as manager, is a Phi Gam sophomore in Arts.

Harry Gibbons will manage Black, Alpha Gamma Rho's representative. Black is a forestry sophomore. North Dorms will see Boynton as its candidate, managed by Charles Preble. Boynton is a junior EE major.

Bob Prince will be head man for Phil Catir of SAE, a sophomore Arts

Newman Club Elects Gagnon

A new slate of officers were elected for the Newman Club Tuesday evening, with Dick Gagnon, a member of the class of 1948, being named new president.

Other officers that were elected are: vice president, Pat Rozzi, 1950; recording secretary, Elizabeth Clark, a sophomore; corresponding secretary, Ed McDermott, 1950; and treasurer, Mary Healey, 1948.

The retiring officers are: president, Joe Wedge; vice president, Marguerite Sullivan; recording secretary, Mary Ann Dineen; treasurer, Alice Raymond; and corresponding secretary, Will Anderson.

Tickets To Be Sold For Junior Prom

Junior Prom tickets will go on sale Friday, May 2, to members of the junior class only, at a price of $3.00 a couple. The place of sale will be announced in next week's Campus.

The dance, strictly formal, will last from 9 to 2, and music will be provided by the Maine Bears.

Members of the dance committee are Lenny Plavin, chairman, Jo Look, Connie Thomas, Bob Preti, and Harry Crowell.

Interested Men Plan To Form New Frat Here

All men that are interested in forming a chapter of Kappa Sigma Kappa fraternity should contact Ken Labarge at North Dorm 10, Room 15.

Through an error, interested parties were previously referred to Ralph Barnett at Oak Hall, who, being a member of Phi Mu Delta, cannot instigate a new fraternity.

Child Health Conferences Being Held At Merrill Hall

The Health Council of the South Apartments reports that to date over 50 children have attended the six Child Health Conferences. These are held in Merrill Hall, Saturday afternoons, from 3:30 to 5:00.

At regular intervals, the children are weighed, measured, and given complete physical examinations. Immunizations for whooping cough and diphtheria, vaccinations for smallpox, and the Schick test are given to those who desire them.

In addition, there is a nutritionist present for consultation. Literature on child care may be obtained from the State Department of Health.

There will be two or three more conferences before school closes in June. Any resident at the South Apartments, Trailers, and Cabins whose child has not attended the conferences and wishes an appointment should contact Mrs. Walter Wyman, 1E, as soon as possible for details.

Mrs. Brush Will Speak

Mrs. Edward N. Brush will be guest speaker at a mass meeting of the Off-Campus Women's group Thursday, April 24, from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. in the MCA lounge.

All members are invited to attend.

Working at these conferences are Dr. Cornell or Dr. Theriault, assisted by Mrs. Jean Turner, R.N., a volunteer from the Health Council. The Extension Service, Dr. Hauck, and Dean Wieman have been most helpful in making these conferences successful.

It is hoped that the Child Health Conferences will be continued in the fall for the benefit of every child in the community.

Critic Lauds Good Acting In 'Seven Sisters' Play

BY DENNY EVANS

High spot of the week is "Seven Sisters," presented by the Advanced Acting Class.

A fast-moving, well-written play, packed with fun and situations. A good job was turned out by practically every member of the cast. Why? Because they had fun on stage doing the play, and that feeling invariably communicates itself to the audience. The first laughs from the small but appreciative audience wiped out all awkwardness and the cast's confidence zoomed. The play bogged down a wee bit in the second act, but picked up again in the third.

The pig-tailed set was cute, so much so that they seemed rather young to be going to college here. Jean Campbell—"My Favorite Blonde"—made a lovely transition from maiden to wedded woman. In the second act, was her knitting just stage business, or was it part of the play and plot? And did anyone notice? Hmmm. Joyce Faulkner, as Ella, began to get the feel of her role in the third act, and there she did a good portrayal of an adolescent. Dick Pratt, with what lines he had, made a surprisingly good family butler.

And little Jo Childs! Where has she been in the life of the Masque? Mitzi was never cuter or more provocative. More of her, please! O Knight of Not-So-Shiny Armor, speak up! You were shy, yes, but let the audience know it. George Berger, improved since his last two roles, could let his gestures flow a little more and his face be more expressive.

And then there was Alvah Ford! Gad, sir, such bombast! An excellent job by an excellent actor. He has the ability to command the stage at all times. Good show, Burbage! Should Marney Abrams again play the diffident lady-killer, for a really polished job he might take lessons from Errol Flynn. The matriarch of the family could have been much stronger. For a production of this type, the show was good, fast, and well-directed.

"Sinbad the Sailor"... Shades of Doug Fairbanks, Sr.! Top man in the business for this type of role, Doug, Jr. is magnificent. But he is still in the shadow of Doug, Sr., who never used a double, whose shoulders didn't belong to the Prop Dept., whose truly infectious laugh bubbled up from his toes, and whose every gesture and movement was pure harmonious magic. Senior acted with every fiber of his superbly-muscled body in a flamboyant style all his own.

"Abie's Irish Rose"... 5 years on Broadway, 32 months on the air, and 4 days in Bangor. If you haven't yet, do.

Low spot of the week... "Mysterious Intruder"... at the Olympia... another "Whistler" pic... I didn't bother—did you?

Coming up this week end.... "Twelfth Night," by Vilhelm Shakespeare, wrapped up by the Advanced Acting Class. There will be a matinee on this show, so don't crowd in at night. Should be good, from all reports.

Platters... Have you ever heard Louis Jordan's "Beware"? It's sharp, kid, sharp. Just out... Jimmy Dorsey's "Quien Sabe, Who Knows?" is a good cutting of an unusual arrangement with good duet harmony.

Big Vote

Responsibility on the part of the student body hit a new low last Friday when only 308 voters turned out to cast a ballot in referendum on the General Senate constitution.

Despite the low vote, opponents of the constitution have no complaint coming, as it is the practice of the several states and the federal government to accept majority votes in referendums, whatever the total vote may be. The new constitution was legally accepted by the student body.

The time and place of ballot was well publicized. Discussion on the constitution had raged pro and con for several weeks. Still only 308 students voted.

It would almost seem to confirm a rumor passing the rounds here the past few months. Too many students haven't received their discharges as "arm-chair generals." Thus it is still their sacred duty to gripe loudly, as long as they don't have to do anything about it.

The war is over, buddy.

Growing Pains

The case of the University's two missing students only seems to emphasize the fact that things on the American college campus aren't all bright.

Veteran students have fallen to their studies with great abandon and grades have gone up; but somewhere along the line, the college campus has become a little worldly. Some of our growing pains hurt.

During the past year, American students have taken part in all sorts of episodes from big time gambling to murder. Here at Maine, our present mystery culminates a string of petty events including fraternity house and dormitory robberies and prowlers in the girls' quarters.

Seeing that students are supposed to be grown-up these days, the cure is due from within. It's up to the student to take care of the student.

A fine time to begin would be now.

Editor's Notes

An orchid to those responsible for two extra plays this month. We need more campus entertainment....

VET'S PAY

Bernard W. Dubay, chairman of the AVC at Maine, has announced that National Headquarters of the AVC is urging all veterans to write to their Congressmen asking their support of H. R. 870, otherwise known as the Rogers Bill. This bill provides for an increase in veterans' subsistence to $100 a month for single men and $125 for married men with $10 per additional child. All in favor of this legislation should act immediately to make sure it will pass, AVC says.

National AVC claims that letters emphasizing the inadequacy of the present allowance are most effective. Facts and figures from individual budgets, says AVC, are the best proof that an increase is justifiable. According to AVC, immediate action must be taken if this bill is to be passed. Of the five members of the sub-committee on education, training, and rehabilitation, AVC says, only one will definitely support the bill. The other four members are undecided or opposed. It would be difficult to get this bill through an economy minded Congress; therefore, AVC calls for wholehearted support and cooperation in a letter writing campaign.

Patriotic Theme At Soph Hop As Couples Pledge Allegiance

The Sophomores were in the limelight this week end when they sponsored their class formal, the "Soph Hop." It was held Friday night in the Memorial Gym with the Maine Bears providing the music. Decorations followed a Patriot's Day theme of red, white, and blue. Chaperons were Professor and Mrs. R. C. Hill, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schofield.

Many of the fraternities held informal vic dances on Saturday night—Kappa Sig, SAE, Delta Tau, and Phi Mu Delta were among them. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wallace and Mr. and Mrs. James Harmon and house-mother "Ma" Yale were chaperons at Phi Mu.

Phi Gam and ATO had special Saturday night parties. The Phi Gams had a Fiji Island Party. Stalks of real bananas, coconuts, and pineapples gave the frat a South Sea Island atmosphere. ATO's was a Daisy Mae Party. The girls dressed in the traditional Daisy Mae manner, and the boys went as Lil Abner. The house was complete with hay, animals (two very scared lambs), and an Ozark Mountain "still" for punch. Everyone entered into the spirit of the parties and had a grand time.

Pinned: Evie Foster to Jack Adams, Sigma Chi; Margie Watson to Al Savignano, Kappa Sig; Janice Ross of Lexington, Mass., to "Pie" Banner, Kappa Sig; Josette Morin to George Cooper, Sigma Chi; Emily Ochmanski of Augusta to John Quinn, Sigma Chi; Irene Whitney of South Portland to Joe Hamblen, Phi Mu Delta; and June Heap of Wells College, N. Y., to Don Eames, Phi Mu Delta's new vice president.

Engaged: Nancy Wooster of Bangor to James Logan, Jr., of St. Lawrence Univ.; Mary Quinn to Charlie Scribner, Delta Tau; Ruth Butcher of Needham, Mass., to Bob Capers, new president of Phi Mu Delta.

Married: Edna Rankin and Douglas Libby, both of Camden, at Camden, Maine, on Saturday, April 19. The couple plan to continue school and live in Orono.

SPRING AND FIRE

By Ike Webber

With spring practically here (and save for the fact that there are two inches of snow in Vermont it would be here), I see where a young man's fancy turns to fire. Of course this is not the same kind of fire whereby "you set a co-ed's heart on," but, on the contrary, this is the kind whereby you "burn a house down by setting it to."

Fire is a strange thing. It's pretty. It's hot. In other words—it's pretty hot!

Speaking of fire reminds me of a Fire Controlman I once knew. For those who don't know what a Fire Controlman is let me explain. On board a battleship he is the man who helps compute the distance from the target, angles of deflection etc.

Well, this particular Fire Controlman had just gotten home and was spending the first night sleeping off three years of war. His wife thought she smelled smoke and, upon opening the bedroom door, could see that the downstairs hallway was entirely in flames.

"FIRE!" she yelled. And so the Fire Controlman jumped out of bed, put on his shoes, picked up the cat, opened the oven door, threw in the cat, closed the oven door, stood at attention and said:

"No. 2 is ready, Sir!"

Brennan's Umbi

By BILL BRENNAN

Yesterday, I mailed a letter to J. Edgar Hoover in Washington. It was more or less a warning, telling him of the newly formed U.M.B.I. (University of Maine Bureau of Investigation) of which I am head. I think it only fair to let Edgar know that he is in for some stiff competition.

The Bureau was formed Friday night and still looks like a good idea. Crime is running wild at Maine, and my bureau, for it is a private organization, should make a mint of money after it has solved a few mysteries.

Right now, my agents are working on several really tough cases. Agent number one is on the Muddy Shoe mystery, trying to find a shoe that fits the prints left on the grass between the MCA building and Stevens Hall.

Agent number two is on the Red Pencil case, searching for the person who wrote "Kilroy hasn't been here" in the ladies' room of the Library. That was really a tough case to get our hands on. Naturally we had to see the writing on the wall, and had no little trouble doing so.

The head of any detective agency always gets the hardest case, so at the present time I am trying to find the man who was in Balentine Hall last Friday night. I plan to use the theory that the criminal always returns to the scene of his crime, so tonight I shall wait for him in Balentine. I suppose I should wait on the second or third floor so I can catch him with the goods, and have sufficient evidence to send him up for a few years.

This job will undoubtedly go down in our files as the case of the year, so I'm using some of our newest equipment which includes my private eye. I couldn't have one of my regular eyes going bad at a time like this.

Monty Higgins Says:

There rises again as always the problem of what to do with women in higher education. Every so often the dean of women in a coed university will state she thinks the girls benefit from association with boys in classes, that the girls are more conscious of and more careful with the way they look. Then, the dean of some university for women will say the girls there do better because they are not distracted by men.

Whenever someone ventures that mother and father send daughter to a coed university so she can snare some eligible young man, the five-year nurses, medical technicians and the like raise a mighty protest. Nevertheless, we admire the honesty of the Home Economics girls.

The effect of coeds on their men classmates must also be considered, for if a girl is unattractive, boys don't want to study near her, and if she is good looking, they can't study near her. Anyway—this coeducation may once have been a race for supremacy between the sexes, but now it's neck to neck.

We appreciate the fact that the American coed should hang onto her youth—but not while he is driving! These gals who sit so close to their guys when driving that were they any closer they would be on the other side are a menace to themselves and the community at large. For safety, we suggest at least a foot of daylight in between.

Probably the coming mayoralty race will see the usual braying by the usual part-time politicians—politicians being persons whose time is divided between running for office and running for cover.

Unfortunately, the Maine "Hello" stands to become extinct as the dodo. But little wonder. Why, the other day when I beamed a "Hello!" at what I thought a lovely coed, her husband riz up from behind a bush and swatted my noggin with a Louisville Slugger bat. From now on the only characters I shall venture a "Hello" to will be men—and maybe dogs.

The used-plane market is in a terrible mess. So long as the thing looks clean outside and will get off the ground, the dealer unloads it on you for an outrageous high price. Why, the other day a dealer tried to sell me an old battered biplane which he said had formerly belonged to an elderly couple who never flew it over a hundred and fifty. Even when he offered to throw in four new spark plugs, I turned him down.

Anyone interested in chemistry, either the industrial or engineering aspects, is invited to attend the coming meeting to be held in 362 Aubert on Friday evening, April 25, at 3:45.

Tex Beneke and the Miller Orchestra, who have skyrocketed into the limelight during the short space of a year, placed first in the Martin Block annual poll as favorite band.

Maine Track Squad Competes In Tri-Meet At Boston

Bear Facts

By MURPH LINEHAN

It was interesting to note that in the Maine-Colby game last week there were six two-base hits recorded, and all of them by Mule sockers. In a way it's really surprising that there weren't a lot more since the distance to the left field fence is about 300 feet—even Colbyites expected more since they have a ground rule which states that anything hit beyond ye olde board edifice is good for only half the journey around.

The Lewiston Lowdown
Coach Ducky Pond, Bates' diamond mentor, has announced his strategy for the spring campaign. . . . Says Ducky, "It will be a two-fold plan—to get the best nine hitters on the field and to emphasize speed and stealing on the base paths." These are sage words, but not exactly original. Pond also figures that the Bobcats have an even chance to win the State Series. . . . a more conservative prediction than was the case last year, when everybody down that way had Bates pegged to win it after the first game . . . and they did.

... Sez Who??

It has been suggested that the University be a little more particular as to whom they hire to umpire home ball games. Let's not have the wishy-washy type that can be bamboozled into reversing his decision by the bellying of the offended coach. We're thinking of the Maine-Rhode Island game last year in which the man in blue rendered his verdict on a play not favoring the Rhodies, only to have one Frank Keaney of Kingston display his disapproval. "Keaney's Burlesque" lasted about a half hour and at the end of that time, everyone, including the players, the spectators, and the non-plussed ump was fed up. In major league competition when a manager protests too vehemently he is "advised" to leave the premises, and there's no reason why this policy shouldn't be followed in the collegiate ball parks.

Sorry, Folks . . .

In last week's issue of the Campus, it was stated that the game with Colby would be played at Orono. Our apologies to those Maine fans who were inconvenienced by this statement. Thru some oversight we neglected to mention that if the weather were inclement the game would be switched to Waterville. . . . It won't happen again.

Bon Voyage!

This week end will see Maine's track and baseball clubs on the road . . . and a tough road it is. Coach Jenkins' aggregation tangles with Brown and M.I.T. at Beantown on Saturday. Both opponent squads are powerful and well-balanced, so we look for a close battle and a "warm" afternoon. Following a Friday contest with Rhode Island, Bill Kenyon and his men take on Northeastern at Brookline Saturday, and it's Bill's fervent hope that he's brought along enough pitchers. New England sojourns are no picnics—just ask any Bear coach.

Coeds Become Referees

Three Maine coeds qualified as girls' basketball referees Saturday, receiving their local ratings in Portland. They are Helen Buzzell, Barbara McNeil, and Morna Kimball.

Miss Marion Rogers, women's Physical education instructor, renewed her national rating.

Bears Trounce Colby 14 to 8 In Game Marked By Errors

By MURPH LINEHAN

Last Saturday at Waterville, Coach Bill Kenyon's Bears went on a scoring spree and swept over the Colby diamond troupe by a score of 14 to 8. The game was typical of most season openers with more errors and bases on balls than hits being chalked up, but it should serve to give Coach Kenyon a better line on his charges so that he may prepare for the New England expedition coming up tomorrow.

Johnny Whitten's big bat drove home three runs in the first frame when the Maine first baseman lofted a Colby pitch out of the ball park to send Joe Coombs and Gerry Poulin across the plate ahead of him.

Three doubles, a single, and a walk plus an outfield fly produced four markers for the Mules in the last half of the inning to give the Colby club a short lived lead, but in the top half of the second Bill Walker cashed in on his single by coming in on a ground ball to tie up the contest.

The Bears came through with another pair of runs in the third canto on a couple of wild pitches with Red Clark and Beals on base, and added another in the fourth when Will Braley scampered home on Gerry Poulin's fielder's choice.

Colby manufactured a run in the last of the sixth to make the score 7 to 5 in favor of Maine, but it served only to set the Bears on fire as they pushed home five runs in the next inning to refrigerate the game.

Red Clark was the big gun in this frame, for it was his home run with Poulin and Eddie Woodbrey aboard that accounted for three of the runs. A walk to Beals, and successive singles by Tom Talbot, catcher Ernie Miles, and Joe Coombs produced the fourth and fifth markers.

The Waterville clan picked up single tallies in seventh, eighth, and ninth, and the Kenyonites batted home a brace in the first of the ninth to finish the scoring for the day.

Golf Team Set For Trip

By KEN LABARGE

Golf Coach Charlie Emery is busy readying his golf squad for their invasion of Rhode Island and Connecticut this week end. The team is scheduled to leave this afternoon to meet Rhode Island State College at Kingston tomorrow, then to meet the University of Connecticut on Saturday. They will return on Sunday.

Four of the six men to participate in this Yankee Conference trip have already been selected. They are: (1) Gene McNabe, (2) Wendell Wilson, (3) Phil Bickford, (4) Bill Dow.

The other two positions will be determined from the play-offs of the following four contestants: Warren Wilson, Dick Smith, R. A. Stoten, and Ed Thayer.

Annex Sports Scene Shows Four Teams

Ted Curtis, faculty manager of athletics, recently announced that the Brunswick Campus of the University of Maine will enter four teams into State sports competition this spring. The annex has scheduled contests in baseball, track, tennis, and golf.

The varsity baseball schedule contains three home games, with six tilts slated to be played away. The Brunswick Campus will open its slate at Brunswick against the University of Maine Jayvees on April 30. Games are also scheduled with MCI, Portland Junior College, Bowdoin J.V.'s, Maine Maritime Academy, and the Bates J.V.'s.

Like the varsity squad at the University, the boys from Brunswick will meet all their track opponents away. Beginning May 3, five meets are to be held, with the squad taking part in the New England Intercollegiate on May 22-23.

Coach Cliff Little's tennis team will play a schedule of eight matches with an entry in the state meet pending. The team will play Bowdoin, Hebron, P.J.C., and the Maine J.V.'s on a home-and-home basis.

Tennis Team Leaves For Weekend Tilts With Rhody, Conn.

By KEN LABARGE

Coach G. William Small's tennis squad took off on its New England tour today to do battle with Rhode Island and Connecticut on Friday and Saturday respectively.

New Hampshire has usually been included in this trip but due to the fact that that school now has no available courts, this contest must be bypassed this year.

Those men making the trip, in their listed positions, are: 1. Larry Van Peursem, 2. Fred Herman, 3. Owen Southard, 4. Don Stebbins, 5. Joe O'Neil, 6. John Batherson, 7. Charlie Leach.

Coach Small is fairly optimistic and he sums it up in this manner. "I feel that I have a very well balanced team and I should break even on the New England trip and make a strong bid for the state championship."

The team will return Sunday and then prime itself for Bowdoin

Expect Strong Opposition From M.I.T. And Brown

A triangular meet with Brown and MIT will open the 1947 spring track season for Coach Chester Jenkins' hard-working squad on Saturday next. The contest will be staged in Boston and plenty of tough competition is expected, as both opponent clubs rate highly in intercollegiate ranks.

Bear Pastimers Leave Today On N.E. Trip

Maine's baseball club will start their New England trek today at noon, when Coach Bill Kenyon and the squad head for Kingston, and a game with the Rhode Island Rams.

After the tiff with the Keaneymen, the Bears will be the guests of Northeastern for the final game of the tour.

Coach Kenyon wants to take the following men on the journey, but he is limited to only sixteen players, so he probably won't decide until the last moment who will go.

The tentative list is: Battery: Miles, Cherneski, Stuart, Braley, Preble, Wilcox, Thurlow, and Parrott. Infielders: Whitten, Mitchell, McManus, Woodbrey, Poulin, Beals, White, Morrison, and Talbot. Outfielders: Walker, Coombs, Clark, and Card.

Allen Starts Work On Spring Football

Head Coach "Eck" Allen has started Spring drills for the University of Maine footballers. As yet it looks as though there will not be any definite game scrimmage at the conclusion of the session, but a lot of work will be put to the candidates by Allen, who will handle most of the chores by himself.

Coach Allen is not having all the men report at once, but rather is having the backs and centers at one time, the linemen at another time, and the ends at still another time. They will, however, all be out together for approximately two weeks.

The candidates will not step right into learning plays and the intricacies of the game, but will first work on fundamentals

Four Teams Still In Running For Softball League Honors

By LEN HARLOW

The close of the second round of the indoor intramural softball elimination tournament found two teams in each league still in the running for the championships. These winners will play off this week for top honors in the respective divisions.

In the Northern Fraternity League, Delta Tau Delta and Phi Eta Kappa are tied for the loop leadership. Last week Delta Tau demonstrated its power by smothering Beta Theta Pi, 21-6. The winners scored in every inning and the game was never in doubt after the first. Nick Johns of Delta Tau collected three hits in four official trips. Phi Eta Kappa edged by SAE, 9-6, to remain unbeaten in the same league.

Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Gamma Delta, two power-laden outfits, lead the Southern Fraternity League. Phi Kappa kept its unbeaten record by squeezing by a good Phi Mu Delta nine, 6-4. The game was fast and close all the way, with neither team gathering many hits. The fielding, however, was brilliant in many spots. Bob Bleakney of Phi Kappa got two hits for the winners.

The West Oak softballers are currently locked with barracks 20 for leadership in the Dormitory's A League. The freshmen showed their superiority last week by trouncing Building 15, 26-6.

In the B League, barracks 11-13 and Center Oak are the top teams. Center Oak pulled one of the biggest upsets of the softball season recently by shading Building 16, 5-4. Center Oak scored its winning run in the seventh when Les Ray singled home Jim Currie.

Other scores: Phi Gamma Delta 19, Sigma Chi 4; #20 12, #19-21 9; #11-13 17, #7-9 6.

The Pale Blue will not be without their power, though, for Elmer Folsom and Arnie Davis will be hard to conquer in the distance events. Folsom is unbeaten in the mile and 1000 yard jaunts and was never actually pushed to his limit, so even more is expected of him. The two mile run was Davis' meat in the winter season, and all indications point to his carrying on in winning fashion.

Maine's hope in the sprint events will lie in the efforts of Charles Chapman, who jumped into Martin Hagopian's shoes upon Hagopian's illness and has been improving consistently.

Earle Vickery is considered practically a sure thing in the javelin toss, and many expect him to set new records.

Prominent among the roster of the opposition is the name of Bob Bennet, a weight man and a former Maine athlete, who has transferred to Brown, and is headed for the 1948 Olympics.

J.V.'s Open Against Brewer Saturday; Sezak In Charge

The Maine Junior Varsity baseball team goes into action against Brewer High School on Saturday, April 26, under the tutelage of Coach Sam Sezak. Saturday's game will serve as a proving ground for the squad since five or more men are listed for every position. Cuts have not been made as yet because cold weather has prevented the team from playing outside enough for Coach Sezak to really examine his material.

This week end's trip to Massachusetts and Rhode Island by the Varsity leaves Coach Sezak with enough men for five full teams. Those men who may expect to see action soon include Harlow, Morin, Beals, Mealley, Parady, Hart, Stewart, Hinds, and Allen, catchers; Webb, Sherwood, Johnson, Chick, Merchant, Hazelton, Parrot, Morrison, Stanwood, and Thurlow, pitchers; Goddard, Lynch, McNeilly, Anderson, Boynton, and True at first base; Matthews, Creighton, Rogers, Romano, and J. Cervone, second base; at third are Whitney, Anderson, Burdine, and Presnell; Hatch, Graham, Morrison, Talbert, Cushing, Botka comprise the third basemen; Haines, Hawkes, Perry, Baldacci, and Stebbins are the outfielders.

Leclair Leads Field In Bowling Tourney

Gilbert LeClair of Sigma Alpha Epsilon headed a long list of winners last week in the fraternity singles bowling tournament. LeClair beat his opponent in the first round of play by piling up a pin total of 545 in five strings.

Joe Adler, highly rated bowler from Sigma Nu, survived the opening round by defeating Bob Cool of Phi Eta Kappa, 502-421. Adler also turned in the highest single string bowled to date.

Phi Eta Kappa's Harry Hawkes, Oscar Paradis, Dick Spiller, Harry Woodhead, and Bob Brewster were all first match winners.

Advanced Acting Class Comedy Helps Enliven Campus Scene

Herschel Bricker's class in advanced acting enlivened the campus scene last weekend with a bouncy and entertaining presentation of "Seven Sisters," a farce-comedy adapted from the Hungarian stage by Edith Ellis.

Directed by Bill Brown, the play, in three swift, laugh-packed acts, told of marriage problems from a dowry-less daughter's point of view.

Notable for fine performances were: Jean Campbell as eldest daughter Katinka; Dotty Salo as overworked Sari; Jo Anne Childs as Mitzi, the helping hand in all matrimonial plans; George Berger, and Alvah Ford as the bombastic Colonel Radvany.

Others in the cast included: Phyllis

Fraser, Margaret Gorham, Saralyn Phillips, Joyce Faulkner, Betty Lehman, Dick Pratt, Clayton Briggs, Marnel Abrams, and Parker Bogue.

Patricia Hutto Reynolds was stage manager. The play was sponsored by the Maine Masque Theatre.

Masons Install Officers

Installation of new officers of the Order of the Temple, student's Masonic organization, will take place this Thursday evening at the Orono lodge hall.

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Professor Wayne Jordan, Howard Keyo Praise Work Of Old Campus Staff

Professor Wayne Jordan of the English department and Howard Keyo, director of publicity at the University, were guest speakers at the annual Campus banquet held at Spruces' Log Lodge last Wednesday night. Both praised the work of the retiring staff heads and spoke words of encouragement to their successors. Mr. Jordan told the group that it is the hardest won fruits which give the most personal satisfaction.

Sandy Adams presented the speakers and then introduced his successor, Larry Jenness. Dana Whitman, after speaking a few words, introduced Don Spiller who will take his place as business manager on the Campus.

At this time keys were awarded to thirteen staff members for work done on the paper this year. Workers so honored were Sandy Adams, Larry Jenness, Don MacLeod, Don Gross, Fred McDonald, Lill Brennan, Toni Doescher, Fay Jones, Dana Whitman, Alice Fonseca, Martha Leeman, Bonnie Andrews, and Jo Look.

Over fifty attended the dinner.

Nearly 100 students representing 32 Maine high schools will compete here Friday for top honors in the University's annual Secondary School Speaking contest.

Under the direction of Dr. Howard L. Runion, the contest will commence at 2:45 p.m. and continue into the evening.

Finals will be held in the Little Theatre Friday night. The public is invited to all contests. Headquarters during the day will be 275 Stevens Hall, and all afternoon contests will be held in Stevens.

There will be five divisions of competition, including humorous reading, serious reading, radio speaking, original oratory, and extemporaneous speaking.

Judges for the contest will be members of the department of speech, speech majors, and some students in advanced speaking classes.

Square Dancers Hold Forth Every Week In Women's Gym

Old fashioned square dances are taking the place of jitterbugging in many parts of the country. The polkas and reels our grandmothers enjoyed came back with the bustles a few years ago; and now at the University of Maine a large group of boys and girls get together every Tuesday night at the Women's Gym for an hour of this square dancing.

The girls have a regular Square Dance Club under the supervision of Miss Marion Rogers. Shirley Castner is the president. The only requirements for membership are payment of dues, the learning of four of the calls, and attendance at three fourths of the meetings.

The club has come a long way this past year. A loud speaker has been set up for the calls; and Madalyn Duffy of Orono plays the piano. The boys and girls have turned out in droves and have learned to swing their partners, dose-y-doe, and reel off with great gusto.

One or two waltzes are played during the evening so that the dancers may catch their breaths; and then the group splits into two large circles for a mixer. In one mixer the girls march one way and the boys another until the music stops. At this point a boy grabs the nearest girl and she is his partner for the next set. Other mixers are called and there is a constant change of partners at a fast moving pace.

Sometimes refreshments are served. To cover costs, members of the club pay dues and others attending bring a nickel for the evening's fun.

This good natured, wholesome entertainment furnishes a good time for the awkward and graceful alike. The calls aren't hard to follow and newcomers are always welcome. The only requisites are a happy frame of mind, attention to calls,—and a nickel.

Interfraternity Sing Held For First Time Since 1943

The Interfraternity Sing, last held in 1943, is being revived this year and will be held as a part of Maine Day on Tuesday evening, May 6, at 7:30 in Memorial Gymnasium.

Ten fraternities have entered this year's competition. The teams and their leaders are: Theta Chi, led by Gordon Buck; Sigma Nu, Parker Leonard; Phi Eta Kappa, Richard Cutts; Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Philip Stockpole; Delta Tau Delta, Conrad Beaulieu; Beta Theta Pi, Phil Murdoch; Alpha Tau Omega, Foster Jacobs; Tau Epsilon Phi, Lester Yoffe; Phi Gamma Delta, Philip Cabot; and Sigma Chi, Benjamin Warner.

Each fraternity group will sing two songs in competition. After the judges have voted, and the award has been presented, the entire body of singers will join in singing "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" and the "Stein Song."

The event is sponsored by the Men's Glee Club and the Interfraternity Council, and is supervised by Mr. James Selwood of the Music Department. The committee in charge of the 1947 presentation includes Clem Vose, chairman, Bill Lamprell, and Ed Atkinson.

Dean Elton Wieman and Mr. James Gannett will draw lots to determine the order of singing. Dr. Arthur A. Hauck will be chairman of the Judges

Committee and will announce the decision of the judges after the competition has been concluded.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Sigma Nu ran off with first prize in 1942 and 1943 respectively.

300 Club Hears Reynolds

Prof. Cecil J. Reynolds will speak on "English Schools and Colleges" when the 300 Club meets Sunday, April 27.

There will also be a brief business session, and refreshments will be served. The meeting will be held at 7:00 in the M.C.A. lounge.

The formal initiation of thirty-three pledges to Delta Zeta Sorority, will take place this Saturday, April 26.

NEW ALL-MAINE WOMEN ARE NAMED

Senate Fails To Nominate New Officers

Election of the four top General Senate officers was put back for at least another week when Senate members, in a special meeting Tuesday night, failed to produce a slate of nominations.

Senate President Gene Hufnagel has called a meeting for this Saturday morning, at which time another effort will be made to name a slate of candidates.

A constitutional clause which calls for a two week period of discussion between announcement of candidates and actual voting will hold up final election until past the middle of the month.

When the election comes, those of Men's Senate, Men's Watch Award, Prism, and Class Parts will be held in conjunction with it. Class Parts winners will have less than a month in which to prepare. Last year, Class Parts elections were held April 30.

In the General Senate meeting Tuesday, nearly a full slate of candidates had been decided upon when objections arose from the Women's Stu-G representatives. They felt that the General Senate should wait until after Women's Stu-G and WAA elections had been held, in order to take advantage of girls not elected to those offices.

An unwritten, but traditional rule holds that no girl shall be nominated for two major offices at the same time. The Senate concurred with these objections and held off further action.

Dance Ducats On Sale Today

Chairman Frank Kember announces that tickets for Nordorm week end will go on sale Thursday, May 1st, through the social committee representatives in each building.

Tickets will sell for $5.00, and will include the Friday evening semi-formal dance as well as the double-header baseball game on Saturday afternoon, May 17. The ticket will also entitle the bearer to a picnic lunch at the Stillwater picnic grounds and the informal dance Saturday night.

For those who are inviting out-of-town guests, 70 rooms have been reserved in the Bangor House. Those interested should contact Frank Kember, building 16A.

State Earmarks Funds For Orono Bridge Work

Renovation of Orono's Ferry Hill bridge, at a cost of $400,000, has been earmarked for the fiscal years 1947-48 by the Maine State Highway Commission, according to a bulletin from that department.

Termed a "major bridge project," the Ferry Hill bridge is one of four such undertakings with a cost totaling an estimated $3,220,000.

Voting Will Be By Student Body

Five Maine coeds have been selected as candidates for Honorary Lt. Colonel by Company D, 2nd Regiment, Scabbard and Blade. The winner, elected by the student body in general voting, will reign at the coming Military Ball and review the ROTC Unit the next day.

The five candidates, who were selected from a list submitted from the All Maine Women, are: Barbara Andrews, Jean Campbell, Elaine Perkins, Janice Scales, and Polly True.

Scabbard and Blade plans to have the election on or about May 11.

The Military Ball, to be held May 23, is to be formal, with music by what the committee in charge terms a "name" band. Former officers or enlisted men may wear their uniforms.

Tickets, at $5 a couple, are now on sale from Scabbard and Blade members. Decorations, from Dennison's, will be on a military motif.

A New Building Is On Its Way

A large, two-story building, used during the war as bachelor officers' quarters, will soon be moved to the campus of the University of Maine from the Naval Air Station at Sanford. Next year this building will provide additional space for classrooms, laboratories, and offices.

At Orono, the new foundation is being constructed behind Crosby and Stevens Halls, and workmen in Sanford have begun cutting the building in sections for moving in trucks. T. W. Cunningham, Bangor contractor, is in charge of the moving operations.

The flat-roofed building has its own heating plant, hardwood floors, and cement-asbestos shingles covering the exterior. Plans have been made to use this building for a civil engineering drawing room, two zoology laboratories, general classrooms, and offices.

Florence Palmer Second Woman To Receive Tau Beta Pi Bent

Florence Palmer will be awarded the Bent of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society, at their annual spring banquet at the Penobscot Hotel tonight. Association rules forbid full membership to women; however, those showing outstanding achievement in engineering are authorized to wear the Bent. Miss Palmer is the second woman to be so honored in Maine history, and the 49th in the annals of the national association.

Outstanding among the other nine initiates are Dr. Roy Whitney, chemi-

Four seniors, ten juniors, and one faculty member were named members of the All-Maine Women Society when the annual banquet of the organization was held in North Estabrooke Hall last night. More than 200 persons were present for the affair.

Barbara McNeil, president of the society, was toastmistress. A welcome to the new members was extended by Dean Edith Wilson and the principal address of the evening was given by Dr. Lillian Brush, who spoke on "Woman and Her Role." Student speakers were Kay Kennedy and June Swanton.

Members of the All-Maine Women Society are chosen from the junior and senior classes on the basis of character, honor, dignity, and willingness to accept responsibility.

Anna Crouse Receives Senior Award; Sprague Announces Six New Members

Anna Crouse, present president of Mu Alpha Epsilon Society, was awarded the Mu Alpha Epsilon Senior Award last Friday evening during Music Night. Presented annually, the award is given to the senior voted most outstanding in music during his or her four years at Maine.

Miss Crouse, in addition to being a member of the orchestra, playing the french horn, is Chapel organist and accompanist, and a member of the band.

At the same time, the six new members of Mu Alpha Epsilon were announced by Prof. Adelbert Sprague, head of the music department. They are: Barbara Goodwin, pianist and organist; Mary Anne Dineen, pianist, organist, and director of the Catholic choir; Evan Johnson, trumpet soloist; Philip Stackpole, student band leader; Jane Needham, violinist; and Frank Haines, trombonist.

High point of the program, which included selections by the orchestra, band, Glee Club, and Modern Dance Club, was the combination of the orchestra and Glee Club in a rendition of Beethoven's "Fantasy for piano-forte, chorus, and orchestra." The difficult piano solo was done by Stan Murray. Other soloists were: Arline Tankle, who did the soprano solo in "Hear My Prayer"; Evan Johnson, trumpeter; Evelyn Foster, who, with the Modern Dance Club, performed the Fire Dance from LaFalla's "Nightmare"; and Jean Wallace, solo dancer in the presentation of Debussy's "Clair de Lune."

Dancing followed the program.

Part of the University forest will be cultivated as a memorial area centered around a plaque dedicated to the memory of the previously enrolled forestry majors. A background of various tree species will be planted this year and present plans call for additional landscaping during the next three years.

Plans for the memorial, originally thought of by forestry Professor Ashman and sponsored by present foresters and their alumni, include an amphitheater, flagstone walks, and a center design of concentrically placed trees of varying size.

An Important Man

Picking a campus mayor, although it affords a great deal of fun, is really serious business.

We get a lot of laughs from our mayoral candidates, and from the final winner, too. The pranks, jokes, speeches, and general campaigns are generally a big horse-laugh from beginning to end. And it's good that way.

But when we come to pick our man, let's think of something more than the puns.

For, besides being able to make us laugh, our campus mayor must be a leader. He is a representative of the student body—as much so as the student governments, our teams, or our school paper.

Our mayor will meet people. He will make impressions. He will lead us. When we are tired, he will make us laugh. When we are wrong, he must be right.

Laugh and have a good time. But don't forget that your mayor will be a mighty important person, and you elect him.

Maine Day Is For All

Next Wednesday will be Maine Day.

President Hauck will be in overalls, laboring alongside the five mayoral candidates and other student workers.

Professors will forget their lectures and toil. Students will cease studying to take a holiday.

The campus will become busy, with much needed projects being carried out.

But only half of the student body has signed up for Maine Day work. One half says it will work. One half doesn't say.

This is not a half and half deal. The benefits of Maine Day will go to all.

So, when Maine Day comes, let's have no halves. Don't let Prexy work alone.

Editor's Notes

A word of praise to the Maine Day Committee for the fine work it has done in getting ready this year's shindig. Here's hoping that all students will fall out to complete the deal...

And luck to the mayoral candidates. Wish we could enter the fracas ourselves...

Music night was a fine affair, well done, entertaining, and shorter than other Music department productions, too...

Oh, Oh, what did you say I would get in Physics?

After Dark

High Spot of the Week.... "Twelfth Night"—presented by the advanced Acting Class.

Joe Tillem as Sir Toby, despite a tendency to roar, thus throwing his lines away, made the Old Belcher come to life in a remarkable manner, both lovable and roguish.

John Crooker as the Duke, has been in two Masque productions and still hasn't learned that for a character to live and breathe while on the stage, the actor must live and breathe the part in every ramification of it. The fire that exists in Shakespeare's lines must be worked upon, again and again, until it flares up into beauty and life. Mr. Crooker should realize that a colorless job of acting brings out nothing more than a colorless area in the woven framework of the play.

Despite being tone-deaf and rhythmless, Biff Shalek made an easy-going characterization of Feste, the Fool. Type-casting, of course. (It was obvious that he had fun doing the role, wasn't it?) Arnold Colbath was priceless in what seems to be one of the finest portrayals of Malvolio yet put on the boards. Polished, piqued, and pitiful, Sucker Malvolio was a glad some sight indeed. Arnold, in case you didn't notice, also designed that unique scenery which added immensely to the show.

Ralph Higgins, an old hand at this stuff, displayed an admirable leg as he added to the list of well-done performances.

He is an excellent example of what has been said before, i.e., each part can fully help in the weaving of the play's fabric, no matter how small. Good showmanship, Ralph. Charlie Leech, a some-time professional performer, was suitably quavery as Fabian.

The Novices, bless their hearts, all turned in really swell jobs. Lydia Backer, a distaff with sword, was very personable as Viola, the disguised twin—a heart-warming, satisfying performance. Peg Morris, sure and confident, swept through her role in a beautifully wenchish manner. Bob Browne, like a frisky terrier, made Ol' Agueface highly enjoyable with the aid of some excellent pantomime.

Mary Dirks, despite occasional faulty projection, was lovely, sweet, and wholly believable as Olivia, the cause of it all. Royal Graves, the other twin, was calm, worried, but sincere. Even a dropped line, which has made many an actor go hay-wire, failed to ruffle Sebastian's soul in his quiet search.

The directing honors go to "Iron-lung" Earl Rankin, who brow-beat every ounce of acting out of his group until he had what he wanted. Paul Payson and Rankin slaved to dig up old Shakespearean songs as a musical background for the play and wrote the score themselves. To all of the cast, who set themselves a high mark of achievement and then hit it, I'd like to say, "Congratulations. It was a good show!"

University Society

Pi Beta Phi held their annual banquet and semi-formal at the Penobscot Country Club last Saturday night. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Dorsey and Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Waring, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilmarth Starr. The Southernares played. Sorority flowers were used as place cards. Many alumnae were guests.

The Chi Omegas gave a semi-formal at the Y.W.C.A. in Bangor Saturday evening. The Maine Cubs played. The room was decorated in the sorority colors of red and yellow with lambs prancing about the walls. Refreshments were served. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. Dolloff and Prof. and Mrs. John Stewart.

A Panhellenic Tea was held in the South Estabrooke livingroom Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:00, honoring the newly organized and initiated Delta Zeta sorority girls. The centerpiece was pink snapdragons. Over 175 guests attended, among them were several Delta Zeta alumnae from Bangor. In the receiving line were Dean Edith G. Wilson, Janice Brown, Mrs. Gayles, Mrs. Boughton, and Gloria McGinley. Serving were: Mrs. Nystrom, Mrs. Hitchner, Mrs. Douglas, Mrs. Doten, and Alice Fonseca. Barbara Hines was chairman of the tea.

Delegates from a number of the women's organizations have recently returned after attending conventions at Middlebury, Vt., Boston, and North Carolina. Marit Andersen and Donna Welts, candidates for the position of president of Student Government, were Maine's representatives at the Student Government Conference at Middlebury, Vermont.

Sigma Chi held an informal vic dance last Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Keyo were chaperons. About 35 couples attended.

Pinned: Therese Desjardin to Bob Hannigan, Sigma Chi; Hazel Hayman of Auburn to Ralph Gould, Alpha Tau Omega; Dorothy Cormier of Bangor to Charles Furbish, Phi Gamma Delta; and Madelyn Dickey to Al Keith, Phi Gamma Delta.

Engaged: Polly Stevens and Al Clements; Fay Jones and Shiang Eng of Jacksonville, Florida; Jean Ritchie and "Hokie" Adams; Mary Judkins and Midshipman Kenneth McHenry; Irene Hamlin and Ashley Thorndike.

Maryrose Delano and "Sandy" Smith (Phi Kap) were married on April 19. They will make their home in Orono.

Late adds to the column are the pinning of Jackie Morse (Bangor) to Ernie Parizo (Theta Chi).

Young Willie

On April 23rd, William Shakespear had his 383rd birthday. And I forgot to send him a card.

When any man gets to be 383, I think the least he deserves is a card wishing him happy returns of the day and many more of the same. Next year let's all band together and buy a lot of birthday cards to send to him. I'm certain that he would enjoy hearing from the students of the University.

Several big problems arise, though, in sending him a card. Who knows his address? As my guess, I'd send a card to an old man's home someplace in England, because a man 383 years old would hardly be running around like a youth of 75. But then again, maybe Shakespeare has unusual stamina or something. He might be one of London's famous play boys. (Maybe he's running around after Princess Elizabeth and her 60 thousand dollars a year allowance.)

Another difficulty we will probably run into is finding a suitable card. Although I haven't investigated recently, I hardly believe that we could find cards saying, "Best wishes to you on your 384th birthday," in a Bangor store. Perhaps some art students could help out the cause.

(The usual spelling of the old gent's name is Shakespeare, but as I am a G. Bernard Shaw man myself, I have used Shakespear as he does.)

—BILL BRENNAN

Look Sharp!

Being fashionable and liking what you wear don't always go together. This spring, however, styles are so diversified that you can feel chic and comfortable at the same time.

Do you like to wear a short boxy jacket and a full pleated skirt? Wear it, then; it's in fashion. Would you like a new suit with a trouser-slim skirt and a cutaway jacket with either a peplum or a fish-tail bustle in the back? Get it, because it is also oh-so-right for this spring.

Last Sunday, J. H. wore a straight black skirt with a pretty lace portrait blouse, an ensemble as stylish this season as the small bolero and the pleated skirt. R. H. was seen in a pretty crisp cotton in a once again available delicate pastel shade which leads the cotton parade.

The American golfer, such as the one hanging in M. M.'s closet, so new with its action back and sleeves, has been traditionally perfect for casual wear.

By the way, dresses are at least two inches longer for street wear. If you want to you can offset that longer look with higher pumps, or the distinctly new platforms.

"So look well—and look out, for you are making fashion."

—NANCY JORDAN

Monty Higgins Says:

Before long, June and graduation will be here. Some senior men in the College of Arts and Sciences have begun to think and worry on what they will do after June. Some have even considered taking a job! They will discover that the great commercial world has little patience with the Arts man.

Nevertheless, we Arts men must bear up bravely, and above all we must never let the engineers in Tech know we are worried about future employment. These engineers may strut around safe in the knowledge that they are assured of a job, but we Arts men shall have our just reward.

Yes, in days to come, we can look up from our ditchdigging, lean on our pickhandles, and astound the civil engineer on the job by reciting passages from Shakespeare. That civil engineer may look pretty sharp in his slouch hat, sports shirt, riding breeches and high black boots; but he need not scoff at the overalls of us Arts men.

If he does, we shall make him feel inferior by quoting from Freud, Jung, and Karl Marx. Won't he be jealous! Hah, he'll be green with envy. Of course, our impressing him depends on whether he will let us take time out so we can lean on our pickhandles and talk. But—if he keeps our light under a bushel, we shall know within ourselves we are better than he—even if he doesn't know it.

Yes, but even though the cost of living has gone up, life is still worth it. Anyway, in one sense the cost of living always remains about the same—all a person has. Prices come down? Why, the only thing nowadays that comes down is the rain, and even that soaks you.

Politics Club Discusses Need For 3rd Party

The Politics Club heard Dr. Oliver Garceau, debating instructors, Micheal Romanyshyn and John Gallagher on the need for a liberal third party at their Tuesday night meeting.

The two instructors took the affirmative side, while Dr. Garceau upheld the negative.

The affirmative presented for basic assumptions: 1. That the U. S. will in the near future, experience a severe depression. 2. Neither the Republican or Democratic party will be able to deal effectively with the crisis. 3. A socialist third party will have to arise to deal effectively with the situation. 4. If the situation is not dealt with properly there will be a world crisis.

There were four points to the negative argument: 1. The established parties would swallow up a third party. 2. A Third Party would also fail by staying separate from the established parties and thus alienating its friends. 3. The cost of starting a Third Party would obviate it. 4. A third party would have to have an immediate opportunity to capture the Presidency, for a new party cannot stand continued defeat.

Senate Men Discuss Plans With Prexy

Student Senate representatives of the North Dormitories gathered at President Hauck's home Tuesday evening, April 22, to discuss plans for Maine Day.

The representatives heard Dr. Hauck tell of former Maine Days and saw pictures of last year's activities. The president spoke of the birth of Maine Day shortly after his arrival on this campus more than ten years ago as an effort to create a work-day for students at the University. He said that he had signed up to work in the North Dorm area where there is much to be done in clearing a pile of debris near building 11.

Representatives asking about future plans for the North Dorm area, found that the administration hopes to re-tar the streets later this spring as a means of keeping the dust down. It was pointed out that the quality of the soil around the dorms would probably not support grass. In regard to the Field House Dining Hall, the representatives were assured of further attempts to improve conditions there.

Many of the group offered suggestions regarding Maine Day and these were listed.

Unbeaten Pale Blue Pastimers Play Host To Bobcats

Bear Facts

By MURPH LINEHAN

From this perch it appears that Coach Bill Kenyon really has himself a good ball club. That 7-0 win over Northeastern last Saturday was quite impressive, and the fact that Dick Preble allowed but five hits over the route is gratifying in itself. "Ole Jupe Pluvius" (rain, that is) dampened the Bear's chances of knocking off Rhody the day before, otherwise the Pale Blue might have had a double victory.

A Soft Touch

It was the old story of class and experience that told the tale in the J.V.-Brewer slaughter. Worthy of mention, however, was Fred Thurlow's feat of striking out 14 of the 18 high schoolers that faced him. Winning ball games will not come as easily though, when prep school opposition is encountered, but Coach Sam Sezak has plenty of good material at his disposal and the junior Bears should prove to be a power in their circuit.

Hear Ye...

Husson College of Bangor will come to Orono next Monday afternoon to play the jayvees in the "snowed out" game scheduled for last Tuesday. The visitors have seen little practice so far this year, and the student-coach of the club states that his charges might be a little rough around the edges, but will be battling all the way.

...One Way to Win

An interesting story comes from Pimlico racetrack in Baltimore. ... It was the first steeplechase run of the meet, and eight stalwart steeds were vying for the top honor. At the fourteenth jump there were only three of the starting eight left to attempt the hurdle. The first two horses went over successfully, but the third, a filly named Valiant, decided that was enough for her. She came to a dead stop before the barrier, promptly tossed her jockey to the turf, turned on her heels, and trotted off in the direction of the barns. But she was not quick enough, for a spectator (a two-dollar bettor, no doubt) made a dash after the animal, caught her, and led her back to the rejected rider. The horse-chaser assisted the jockey in remounting the plug, who then coaxed his equine over the hurdle to a belated finish in the vacant third position.

Mentionables

First home game for Bear diamond-eers tomorrow—get out and cheer them to a win! ... New Hampshire's "Boo" Morcom set a new record of 14 ft. 3 in. for the pole vault in the Penn Relays last Saturday. ... Bob Bennett, formerly of Maine and now of Brown, didn't compete in the Tri-meet last week end; instead he went to Philly and captured the hammer throw event.

Prognostications

All of Maine's baseball clubs will be in action this week end, so we'll venture back out on that very insecure limb and try and call 'em as we see 'em. ...

Brown, M.I.T. Take Maine In Tri-Meet

By JERRY ROGOVIN

Despite the absence of two of its stars, who were participating in the Penn Relays at Philadelphia, the Bears of Brown University trounced M.I.T. and the Maine Bears in a triangular track meet at Cambridge last Saturday. Brown ran up 74½ points to 47 for M.I.T. and 43½ for Maine.

With Bob Bennett out of the hammer throw, George Marsankis became the only Maine man to win an event at Briggs Field, tossing the hammer 147 feet, 10½ inches, for the best throw of his career. He added a second in the shot put which is also the best mark he has ever attained in this event. Other Maine men scoring in the weights include a fourth for John Collins in the shot put and another fourth for Al Sproul in the hammer throw. Maine was scoreless in the discus. Earl Vickery, hampered somewhat by lack of practice, took second in the javelin with a heave of 177 feet, and Freeman Phillips, of the Annex, took third with a throw of 170 feet.

Josh Tobey, a double winner for Brown in the mile and the 880, pulled away from Maine's Elmer Folsom in the final lap of the mile run and broke the tape in four minutes, twenty-eight seconds. Folsom finished five seconds later. In the 800, Tobey also led three M.I.T. runners across the line in a race that saw no Maine man place.

Morton and Davis finished second and fourth, respectively, in the two mile, and in the 440, Sam Silsby took a fourth behind the winner, Crimmins of Brown, who won in 49.4 seconds in a time trial. Russ Dow took second and Charlie Chapman finished third in the 100 yard dash to give Maine valuable points. Carroll Taylor came in fourth in the 220 to keep Maine in the running.

Joe LeClair was second in the 120 yard high hurdles, running in the event for the first time since 1945, when he competed in the Pacific Olympic games at Manila. Blaine Beal, who also took a second in the 220, crossed the line in fourth place.

In the jumping events Maine's entries varied in their performances, with respect to past records, from good to bad. The pole vault found Bob Emerson clearing 11'6", far below his winter high marks, but good enough for a second place tie. In the broad jump, Emerson roared back with a leap of 21'3" to take another second place.

It should be remembered in Maine's behalf, however, that until last Monday the squad was without facilities for pommel vaulting and high and broad jumping. The weight men were confined in their practice sessions to space and time not allotted to the baseball team in the field house. The javelin men could not do their best on many days outside because of adverse weather conditions. Wind and cold hampered them considerably. Many of the runners were not in top shape for this meet for the reasons enumerated.

Senior Girls Win

The seniors won the interclass volleyball tournament with an undefeated record. The juniors and the freshmen tied for second place with three wins and three losses each.

Championship To West Oak And Delta Tau

Delta Tau Delta and West Oak walked off with the championships in the indoor intramural softball league this week.

Delta Tau, by virtue of a two run last inning rally, nipped Phi Gamma Delta, 10-9, for the fraternity honors. The boys from Phi Gam were leading 9-8, going into the seventh, but the middle of Delta Tau's batting order Coons, Sabattus, and Paradis came through for the win. Bob Ames and third baseman Doug Williamson played fine ball for the losers. Ames collected three straight hits.

West Oak, again an intramural champion, defeated barracks 11-13, 5-3, in the Dorm Division. "Rocco" White and Paul Lynch led the freshman attack. Barracks 11-13 scored all its runs in the first two innings and was handcuffed after that. Fred Branscomb was the leading sticker for the losers with three hits in three appearances at the plate.

Square Dance

The square dance club will hold its annual party May 13. All who have come to Square Dance during the year are invited to attend. There will be no meeting May 6.

Jayvees Topple Brewer, 11-0; Fred Thurlow Strikes Out 14

The University of Maine J.V. baseballers opened their 1947 season last Saturday by whipping Brewer High School, 11-0.

The game was close for five innings but in the fifth, sixth, and seventh frames the Junior Bears exploded for all their runs. Coach Sam Sezak used twenty players during the contest, with at least two men at every position.

Fred Thurlow, who has been considered good Varsity material by Bill Kenyon, started on the mound for the Jayvees and was practically invincible. In the seven innings he worked, Thurlow fanned 14 Brewer batters. The only man to get a hit off the lanky Maine pitcher was Don Cust.

Led by the hitting of third baseman Bob Whitney, the J.V.'s broke the ice in the sixth with two runs, gathered two more in the seventh, and split the game wide open with seven runs in the eighth. Whitney started this rally with a long triple. The two run seventh was featured by a steal of home by shortstop Hank Allen.

Other men who played good ball in the opener included Paul Lynch, who made two hits in four appearances at the plate, and Halver Hart, who caught the entire game.

Bates Team Comes To Orono With Good Hitting, Fielding

By MURPH LINEHAN

Unbeaten thus far this season, Coach Bill Kenyon's diamond clan will play host to Ducky Pond's Bates Bobcats Saturday afternoon on the local greensward.

Allen Held Up By Elements; Goes Indoors

Coach "Eck" Allen, hampered by cold weather, has been unable to hold an outdoor spring football practice session, and has had to work his candidates on the basketball floor of Memorial Gym instead.

The only men who have reported so far are the backs and the centers. Over 50 candidates have reported and it is believed that Allen will have over 100.

Most of the work up to this time has involved the proper stance for the different positions and a few of the other fundamentals.

The men who have reported to Coach Allen are:

At Brookline last Saturday, pitcher Dick Preble allowed no runs and relinquished but five hits as the Kenyonites rolled over Northeastern by the comfortable margin of seven runs.

A Friday encounter with Rhode Island was rained out at the end of the third inning with Maine on top, 6-4.

In the 21 innings played to date, the Orono club has registered the remarkable total of 27 runs. This boils down to an average of 1.285 per frame, and is winning baseball in any man's language.

Against Northeastern, backstop Ernie Miles led the hitting parade with a couple of singles; Joe Coombs, Eddie Woodbrey and John Whitten each connected for solo base knocks.

The Huskies bobbled the ball exactly seven times and these errors plus five hits along with the right timing accrued Maine's seven markers.

The Lewiston aggregation, winner of last year's State Series, will be at full strength and the game should give an indication as to what team is the leading contender for this season's crown.

The Bears will follow up their exhibition contest with Colby played a couple of weeks ago, with a Series battle with Eddie Roundy's men on next Tuesday at Orono. The locals are fast shaping up as a smooth baseball machine, and the Mules will find the going difficult.

Bleachers have been set up along the first and third base sides and behind home plate, so there'll be sit-down room for the early birds.

Maine Tennis Team Beaten By UConns

Coach G. W. Small's tennis squad bowed to Connecticut University to the tune of 6 to 3. The event took place at Storrs, Conn., last Saturday.

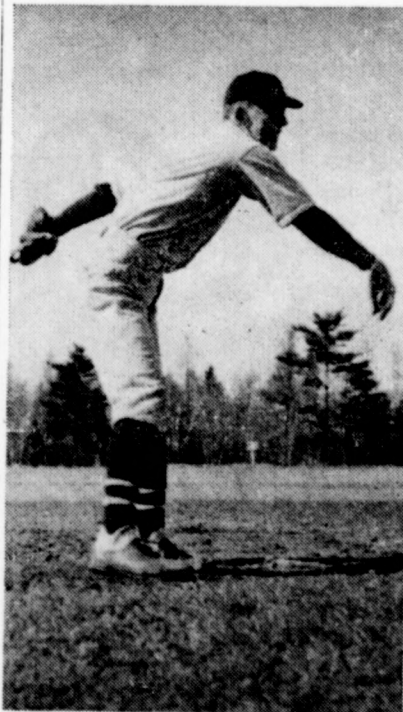

Although inexperienced at the time of the contest, Maine caused considerable worry for the U-Conns, who already had four matches under their belts this year.

The results of the Singles were: (1) Van Peursem (M) vs. Sweeny (C), 4-6, 6-4, 7-5; (2) Dietz (C) vs. Southard (M), 6-4, 3-6, 6-2; (3) Herman (M) vs. Lopatin (C), 8-10, 8-6, 6-4; (4) Sheffs (C) vs. Stebbins (M), 6-3, 6-3; (5) Quintor (C) vs. O'Neil (M), 7-5, 6-0; (6) Harris (C) vs. Batherson (M), 6-1, 7-5.

Results for the Doubles were: (1) Van Peursem and Southard (M) vs. Sweeny and Sheffs, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4; (2) Lopatin and Dietz vs. Herman and O'Neil (M), 6-2, 6-3; (3) Strong and Harris vs. Stebbins and Leach (M), 6-1, 11-9.

Thirty-One Girls Initiated Into Reactivated Delta Zeta

Thirty-one girls were formally initiated into the newly reactivated Alpha Upsilon chapter of Delta Zeta sorority at formal ceremonies in North Estabrooke Saturday. These ceremonies opened a full week end of sorority events.

Saturday evening a formal banquet was held in Estabrooke in honor of the new initiates, the visiting national officers, and three guests from the Delta Zeta chapter at Rhode Island State College. At the banquet, song-books and plaques bearing the sorority crest were presented to the girls by Mrs. Bernice Hutchinson Gale, national membership vice-president, and Miss Irene Boughton, national executive secretary.

Sunday, Panhellenic Council honored Delta Zeta at an afternoon tea held in South Estabrooke.

Rev. Edward Kezarian Speaks To Koinonians

Rev. Edward Kezarian, pastor of the Old Town Baptist Church, spoke to Koinonia on "The Fundamentalist Viewpoint" at its last meeting on Sunday, April 27, in the MCA. Reverend Kezarian stated that the so called Fundamentalists of religion are really "true believers in the Bible."

He also presented as one of his main arguments for the fundamental point of view the fact that if a person accepts the Bible as the basis for his life, he must accept it in its entirety. He asked the question "Who can say what passages in the Bible can be kept as veritable and what can be discarded as false?"

To continue its discussion on the various aspects of the Protestant Faith, the group will have as its next speaker Reverend William E. Gardner, Minister of the Universalist Church in Bangor, speaking on "The Liberal Viewpoint." The time of the meeting will be announced later.

Mayoral Candidates Speak Out For Support

Maine's 1947 Campus Mayoral campaign will break into a furious frenzy this week end when all five candidates hop on the bandwagon for a round of speeches and vote-getting.

Last week, while things were relatively calm, The Maine Campus asked each candidate's manager to submit a 75 word statement for the enlightenment of the students.

PETE ASCHER

Mr. Pete Ascher came into this world 19 years ago, singing a railroad ballad. Since that memorable day, both Pete and his repertoire have been in a constant state of growth, until today he stands some six feet tall, knows 1000 ballads, 2000 stories, and 3000 good telephone numbers.

Honest Pete has been politically tailored by the eminent J. M. Curley, and upon election he vows to execute a most progressive administration.

Vote for Pete. He can't be Beat.

JOHN BALLOU

The facts are clear. Mismanagement rules the University. Now is the time to overturn the policies of the Administration. Student's rights are being abused and restricted. Education is the by-word! Let us remove this halter of authority, throw off these bonds and create a student administration.

This can be easily accomplished. At the polls next Tuesday cast your ballot for Ballou, if you wish to join this great reformation. Students of the University—ARISE!!

A. CECIL BLACK

A. Cecil Black, known to his associates and followers as "Astute Angus," has announced his candidacy for Maine's Mayor.

A sparetime resident of Brattleboro, Vermont, and a Forestry major at the University, Black is reputed to have strong backing from an agricultural organization.

In a recent statement he said, "The present administration's miserable failure to follow the program mapped out by former mayor John Goff has forced me to run. The students must be served."

PHIL CATIR

I, your inimitable and humble servant, Phil Catir propose through the powers that will be invested in me to govern this campus in a manner that will be acceptable to all of you. My platform does not have a plank in it. It's all welded construction and is the only guaranteed iron clad mayor's platform in existence.

Remember if you wish to stay out later, vote for big Phil Catir.

BOB MERCHANT

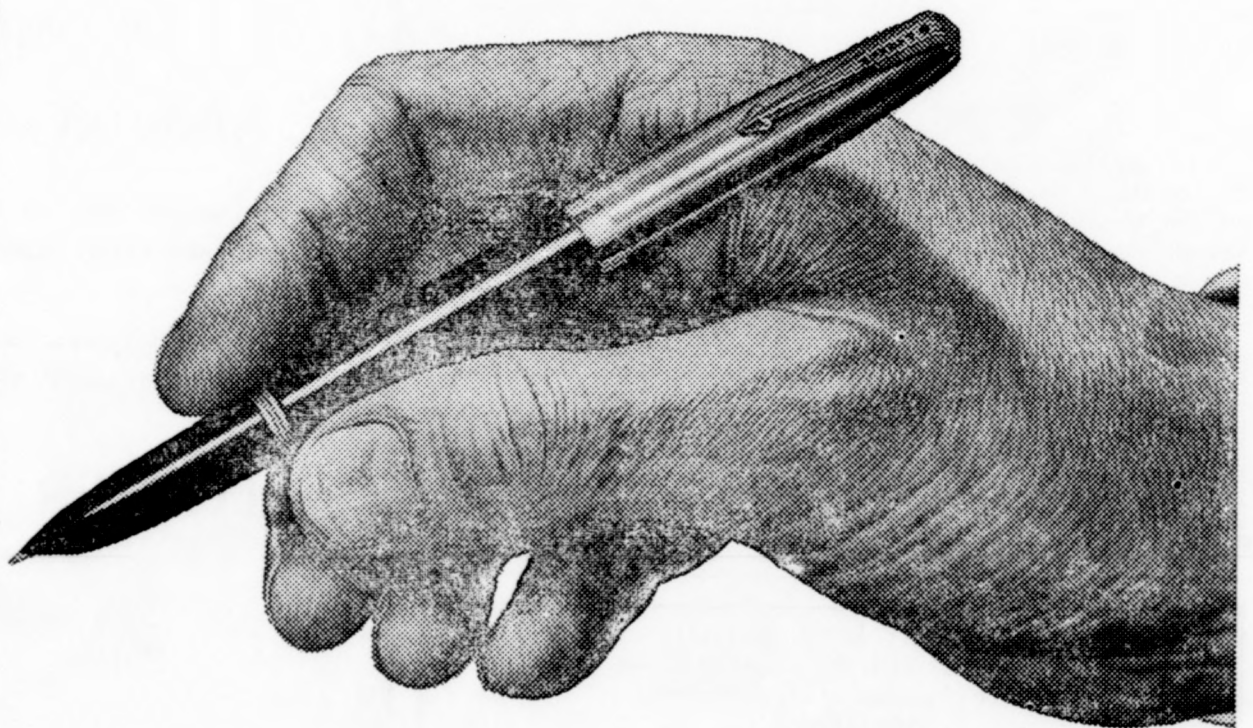

Says Bob Merchant:

"Words, idle words, what are they? My actions shall speak!"
