Largest Vote In History Brings New Campus Mayor

Campus Mayor Bob Merchant, surrounded by presidential looking bodyguards, rolled up to the New Library steps at 8:25 yesterday morning to officially inaugurate the 1947 Maine Day program. Merchant was elected Tuesday in one of the heaviest ballots ever recorded on campus.

MAYOR MERCHANT

Nearly 1,900 students voted.

After thanking the students for their support and praising the other candidates, Mayor Merchant assured the gathered crowd, numbering over 500, that President Hauck would be allowed to remain in office, on probation.

The Mayor, who admitted that his soul was sold to the Military department for $20 per month, countered by saying, "But my body is dedicated to the well-being of the students."

Mayor Merchant was introduced by Roger Thurrell, who first eliminated the other candidates. President Hauck, axe in hand, spoke briefly in praise of the Maine Day committee, and encouraged the student body as a whole.

With the words of Mayor Merchant ringing in their ears, students and faculty alike spread over the campus to begin Maine Day work projects. Later in the morning, Mayor Merchant and Carnival Queen Paulie Marcous toured the rounds distributing refreshments.

Despite threatening clouds, the Maine diamond squad met Colby before a capacity holiday crowd in the afternoon.

Colby won, 7-2.

Maine On The Air

Bowdoin College has become the most recent addition to the rapidly growing group of educational institutions with their own radio stations, bringing to mind what might be done at Maine.

First of all, campus radio must be explained. Such a station uses regular equipment—microphones, a control panel, and turntables—but its programs never reach the air waves. In order to comply with existing FCC laws, campus radio stations "pipe" their shows directly from the studio to the consumer (i.e., dormitories).

Here at Maine, we have a few interested individuals and several organizations which should be interested in making such a scheme work.

There is the Maine Radio Guild, with many members experienced in the promotion and production of a regular radio program. The Radio Society could produce the personnel technically qualified to maintain such a station.

A campus radio station could be useful to everyone connected with the University. The publicity angle is obvious.

Cost connected with the setting up and maintenance of such a station is another question. A possible solution might be the sale of advertising. For help in the initial stages, the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System offers a large staff of technical advisers.

This is a problem which merits careful consideration. The Maine Campus will be glad to assist in seeing that all angles are covered. Comments and suggestions will be gratefully accepted.

Editor's Notes

Congratulations to all sorts of people this week. . . .

To our new Mayor, from whom we can look forward to many moments of enjoyment. Also a little leadership. . . .

To the nine girls recently honored with election to the top positions in their respective organizations—WSGA, WAA, the six sororities, and Panhellenic. They're big jobs which must be done well. . . .

To the mayoral committee for a well-run campaign. . . .

And to every Maine student who cooperated in making this year's Maine Day the biggest and best ever.

A Question And Answer To The Question Of A Catholic Fraternity's Reactivation

Dear Editor:

At the present time no fraternity on campus discriminates between Catholics and Protestants. There are some among us who are planning to institute a new fraternity which would be open only to those professing the Catholic faith. This is a step in the wrong direction. Now more than ever before men of different faiths must work and live together. Why talk about world unity and understanding other peoples when at the same time we separate ourselves into particularized groups with narrow outlooks?

Perhaps it is too much to hope that we can wipe out the intolerance already existing here in regard to the Jewish students; but all of us, the students, the MCA, and the administration in particular, should take steps to see that intolerance does not spread to further divide those who profess a Christian faith. This is not the time for further intolerance.

In order to clear up any misunderstanding which may now exist on the subject of a Catholic fraternity, the Campus asked that a responsible party draft a reply to the foregoing letter. The following is the reply.—Ed.

Dear Editor:

At the time (year of 1926) that Phi Kappa Upsilon was activated at the University of Maine there was a situation of intolerance toward Catholics; at the present time there is no discrimination between Catholics and Protestants by the fraternities, and the campus spirit in general is one of perfect understanding and tolerance. So it has been decided by the group that was interested in the reactivation of Phi Kappa Upsilon not to petition the trustees for its reactivation. No steps are being taken at present to form a Catholic fraternity at the University of Maine.

Panhellenic In Spring Theme; Mayors Have 'Coming Out'

The annual Panhellenic formal was held last Friday night in the Memorial Gymnasium. The decoration theme was "Spring Frolic," featuring lambs, flowers, and a maypole. Music was provided by Jim Sprague and his Maine Bears.

Informal open-house parties were held Saturday night at the Phi Gam, SAE, and Delta Tau Houses for the purpose of introducing their respective candidates for campus mayor. Entertainment and refreshments were provided at the parties, and an evening of dancing followed.

Theta Chi held a "poverty party"

Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Knollmeyer acted as chaperons. Twenty-five couples attended in appropriate costumes.

Pinned: Betty Jane Durgin to Dick Banton, Alpha Tau Omega; Shirley Doten to Jack Zollo, Kappa Sigma.
Engaged: Connie Wilbur to "Murph" Linehan.

Married: Joan Vermette and Fred Glover, in Orono Saturday, May 2. Charie O'Connor officiated, and many college students either took part in the ceremony or attended as guests. The couple will live in Orono, and will continue studying at the University.

ONE FOR THE REDS

It's getting so that everytime you pick up your newspapers you read nothing but big black words that condemn Communism; big words like COMMUNIST, RED, and ANTI-RACIAL. Which brings us all around to the subject of whether or not the whole setup is true or false. Here's the way I sum it up.

A lawyer, a doctor, an architect, and an ardent Communist are lunching in a restaurant in America. The conversation soon turns into an argument over which profession was first established in the world.

"A lawyer, of course," says the lawyer. "Man could never have survived without a few simple laws to govern him."

"Nuts," says the doctor. "Without an obstetrician, how could Cain and Abel have been born?"

The architect sneers. "Long before that, my friends, before Adam and Eve, some architect must have been on the job to bring order out of the chaos."

"Ah, ha!" beams the Communist. "AND WHO CREATED THE CHAOS?"

Which reminds me of the English student who refused to capitalize his sentences. He said he was a Communist and didn't believe in capitalism.

Which Mayor?

I saw by all sorts of banners that there was a mayoralty campaign going on. I thought we already had a mayor named Alty. Sure that was his name—Mayor Alty. Of course with the official campaigns going on, that automatically meant that people ran for things. Candidates ran for office, coeds ran for cover, and I ran for a coed. Dogs ran to Canada. They couldn't think of a better place to run to.

I waited for some character to swim the Stillwater. Waited for another to dive off the Orono Bridge, or ride a bicycle on the roof of the Field House—not forgetting, of course, the memorable ride over the dam in a barrel.

The campaign brought out the orators making with the oratory. (Oratory—that's Latin for the art of making a loud noise seem like a deep thought.) All the other candidates were crooks. (A crook is a business rival who has just left the room.) The action of a competitor became what the man who used the word wished he could have done himself—undignified. Even the professors took interest. (We all know what a professor is—a man whose job it is to tell students how to solve the problems of life which he himself has tried to avoid by becoming a professor.)

They all intended to make a name for themselves (the forgers). And then again there was the fact of platform promises. One candidate made the promise of furnishing shovels for snow until the first day of June. Guess I'll take a babble-bath on that one—they say there's no place like foam.

Money, Scads Of It!

For a select few on the Maine campus, the future is bright and unblemished. Their days of working are over; they need never worry again about the precious stuff called "filthy lucre."

How come? For the next few days positions are open to hard working, conscientious people anxious to make a small but tidy fortune. People who have worked on Red Cross, MCA, and Student Union drives will get preference. I am going to start a drive.

Of the thousands that come to me seeking employment, I shall select four, two men and two women. I shall take the student list, tear it in four parts, give one part to each worker, and say, "Contact all the people whose names you see written on these pages. Persuade each one to pledge, or give, ten dollars to you. If they should become curious, tell them it is a fund to ship me away to a desert island. But bring back ten dollars from each student."

When my workers return, their pockets and arms filled with ten spots (although two fives will be accepted), I will split the money fairly; 70 per cent to the worker, thirty per cent for myself. With at least 3000 students on campus we should get thirty thousand dollars. Thirty per cent of that is nine thousand bucks.

Buddy, I've got my bag packed already.

—BILL BRENNAN

Monty Higgins Says:

Some undergraduate has a whole picture gallery of stickers on his car windows. Of course, he must have on his windshield a University of Maine student sticker, a 1947 registration sticker, and a spring inspection sticker. But—this lad has also a Greek-letter sticker for his fraternity and another for his wife's sorority. On the left half of his windshield is a Maine Black Bear sticker all poised to heave a forward pass to a Black Bear on the right half. There are capital letter "Maine" stickers plastered here and there. The upshot of the business is a periscope sticking out of the car roof so the driver can see where he is going.

While driving, a pal and I had to jump a ditch and go crashing into the brush. A coed driving the other way crowded us off. She was one of these women drivers who ask for only half the road but leave just a quarter of the road on either side of their cars.

Mark Twain said he never allowed his schooling to interfere with his education. I see what he meant. At times, my going to college most annoyingly gets in the way of my serious work. Though no doubt college never hurt anyone who was willing to learn something afterwards, I shall be happy when I finish formal schooling and can devote myself to getting an education.

gave two hilarious performances of their respective skits.

The faculty skit, "Let's Reciprocate," which included the talents of Prexy Hauck, Stan Wallace, "Skippy" Bennett, Matt McNeary, Louis Thibodeau, and many others, was written by Dayson DeCourcy and Russ Woolley, with assistance from Walter Whitney, an old hand at faculty skit writing.

"Let's Orientate," the student performance, gave out with the inside dope on just what's what on a college campus. Betty Lehman and Johnny Ballou, assisted by George Berger, Ted Jennison, "Trapper" Reynolds, Barby Sewall, and Dick Sprague, did the writing.

Dancing followed the second performance. Late permissions for the girls did things up brown for one of the best Maine Days ever.

Bill Wells Pledges Good Dorm Service

William C. Wells, who recently replaced Lindsay B. Chalmers as dormitory manager, said in an interview that he was going to do everything he could to make living conditions in the dorms comfortable.

"In my position as manager of dormitories, I will strive to give the students living in the dorms the best possible service," he said.

Commenting on campus changes, Mr. Wells said, "The sudden and great expansion of the University awes me. It doesn't seem possible that so much of a change could have been made. Somebody rose to the occasion and overcame terrific obstacles, I am sure."

"Alumni who have not visited the campus in years will be quite lost to find the old places," he continued.

As regards the Campus publication he said, "Your Campus appears to be meeting the needs of the students as far as a weekly paper is concerned. I've enjoyed reading it and look forward to receiving it every Thursday."

Maine Favored In State Meet At Bowdoin Saturday

Bears Strong In All Events, Bowdoin And Bates Rate Next

BY JERRY ROGOVIN

Fresh from their first victory in the young outdoor track season, the Maine Black Bears are getting set this week for the 49th annual Maine Intercollegiate Track and Field Meet which will be held at Whittier Field, Brunswick, on Saturday.

The margin by which Maine won the indoor state meet and the individual meets with Colby, Bates, and Bowdoin, indicates that, despite lack of practice, the Bears will be the heavy favorite to lead the Maine schools in this week's meet.

Maine's superiority is evident in the field events. Sproul and Marsanskis are Maine's hopes in the discus, as is Totman, who won the event at Boston College last week. In the shot, the point-getters should be Collins and Marsanskis, and, possibly, Phillips. Again it is Sproul and Marsanskis in the hammer throw. Bates will depend upon Mitchell and Shea; Bowdoin's hopes will be represented by Parsons and Newton; and Lucy, in the shot, is Colby's best man.

Vickery appears to be the likely winner in the javelin. Emerson and Dow are Maine's candidates for the broad jump. Against them will be Matt Branche of Bowdoin, Lategola of Bates, and Colby's Mahoney and Dove. Clements, Emerson, Beals, and Jacobs will represent Maine in the high jump. Colby will counter with Jordan and Gates, and Bates' best bet is Baxter.

Maine appears to have the edge in the pole vault. Emerson, Higgins, and Jacobs will be in the running against Nichols and the Cross brothers of Bowdoin, and Lawson of Colby.

On the basis of past performances the closest competition will probably be seen in the dashes and the two mile run. The 100 will find Heap of Bates, Swann, Dunn, and Davis of Bowdoin, Colby's Igoe, and Maine's Dow and Taylor pitted against each other. In the 220 Maine has entered Brown, Taylor, Chapman, and Vennett against Igoe of Colby, Swasey of Bates, and possibly Bowdoin's top sprinter, Holmes.

The mile run will probably be close for three-quarters, but Elmer Folsom of Maine should outdistance Robinson and Horne of Colby. The two mile will probably go to Robinson.

Revised Schedule

- Revised Varsity Baseball Schedule

 - 10 Bowdoin at Orono
 - 14 New Hampshire at Durham
 - 17 Connecticut at Orono (Two seven-inning games)
 - 20 Bates at Lewiston
 - 21 Colby at Waterville

Baseballers Meet Rhody And Bowdoin

Maine's oft-rained out baseball team will play Rhode Island tomorrow and Bowdoin on Saturday on the local diamond. Earlier this season, the Bears and Rams ended a fray after four innings with Maine ahead 6-4 due to the heavy precipitation which descended at Kingston. The Bowdoin tilt will be a return engagement of the two clubs... Bowdoin copped the first meeting 5-2 last Monday at Brunswick.

Coach Kenyon has not decided on any particular hurler due to the fact that the Bears have two games prior to the contest with Frank Keany's company. Pitching will probably be the big question this week, for the crowded schedule offers no rest for the hurling department.

The starting nine will probably see John Whitten at first base, either Eddie Woodbrey or Paul Mitchell down at second, Beals at short, Gerry Poulin will be at his usual third base position, and either Ernie Miles or Mike Cherneski behind the plate.

In the outer pastures Clark, Walker, Coombs, and Card should all see action... the particular three players depending upon the opposing pitching.

Coach Allen Holds Spring Grid Practice

Spring football is moving into its third week with all of the backfield and line candidates in uniform and working out daily under the careful surveillance of Coach George "Eck" Allen.

Assistant Coach Joe Zabalski will not join the squad at Orono as expected, but will organize grid practice for the Annex hopefuls at Brunswick. It is expected that the varsity will rely on the Annex personnel for material for key positions.

Jack Zollo, named to the Little All-American squad for his bruising guard play of last year, has been assisting Allen by working with the line candidates.

This week baseball will predominate on the practicing field, consequently only one workout will be scheduled. These sessions will be confined to the basic fundamentals of play-learning and individual blocking and tackling.

"M" Club Elects Officers Hears Ralph Barnett

At a meeting of the 'M' Club last Tuesday evening, officers for the 1947-48 year were elected. Ralph Barnett spoke to the group concerning the results of recent proposals made to the Athletic Board by the Club.

Those chosen for the various positions were: president, George Marsanskis; vice president, Clair Cianchette; secretary, Jack Zollo; treasurer, Sherwood Gordon.

Bowdoin Drops Bears 5-2; Takes Lead In State Series

The Maine Bears suffered their first state series loss at Brunswick Monday when Bowdoin pounced on pitcher Charlie Wilcox for all of its runs in the sixth inning with three hits, two walks, and an infield error, to overcome a one run lead and go on to win, 5-2.

There was one out in the sixth when Slattery drove a single into center field. A sacrifice by Pendleton advanced him to second, and he went to third when Poulin erred on Whiting's roller, letting it go into left field. Clark was sent in to run for Slattery, but was thrown out at home by first baseman John Whitten when Burston tried to squeeze in the run. A double by Spiers with two out caused Wilcox some trouble, and before he had settled down Giddings and Gillen had been passed to fill the bases, and Bob Friberg had pasted a triple to clean the sacks.

With the exception of the sixth, Wilcox pitched an excellent game, keeping pace with Bowdoin's Pendleton, who tossed a three-hitter at Maine. Both teams were scoreless until the fifth when Maine scored its first run on a walk, a sacrifice, and a single to right by Joe Coombs. Maine scored again in the first of the ninth on a walk to Stebbins, a blooper single over second by left fielder Bill Walker, and the second pass of the inning, to Charlie Wilcox. Pendleton's wildness continued when he allowed Stebbins to score from third on a wild pitch, and walked pinch-hitter Skip Hart to reload the bases. But with the tying runs on base, the Bowdoin moundsman settled down to fan Joe Coombs and force pinch hitter Will Braley to pop to left.

Pendleton and Wilcox were about even in the pitching department except that the Maine hurler allowed three more hits. Both made six strikeouts and Maine batters culled seven bases on balls off Pendleton's offerings, to four given up by Wilcox. In the field Wilcox made a fine play in the fifth to snuff a Bowdoin attempt for a squeeze play.

Bear Facts

BY MURPH LINEHAN

Plaudits to Coach Chester Jenkins and company on their comeback last week at Boston. Earlier this season Coach Jenkins ventured that his squad would not be ready until after the New England meet... he certainly called that one on the nose. Winning 11 out of a possible 15 events is an accomplishment that should not go unnoticed... Yankee Conference track squads look sharp, Maine is getting hot!

Rained In

Maine's champion javelin tosser, Earle Vickery, has been noticeably bothered by lack of outdoor practice as of late. Against Boston College "Vic" hurled the spear about 150 ft... far below his par for last year when he averaged in the neighborhood of 190 ft. In the field house it is impossible for him to throw with the benefit of a run. Consequently, when he goes outdoors his timing is off and his distance is lessened. With the impending fair weather, "Vic" should get into high gear again and show his old form.

Big Money Man

Mr. Frank E. McKinney, a Philadelphia banker and president of the Pittsburgh Pirates, has decided that money makes a major league pennant winner. This theory has resulted in his purchasing the famed slugger Hank Greenberg from the Detroit Tigers, and more recently, pitcher Kirby Higbe, a 22 game winner for the Dodgers last season. Banker McKinney plans other transactions for star players, and in his words, no player is beyond a price. Perhaps Tom Yawkey, owner of the Red Sox could "put a bug in Frank's ear," for Yawkey spent millions of dollars in an effort to hoist the pennant over Fenway Park, but learned the hard way that it takes time to build a championship team... Be careful, Mr. Capitalist!

Tab

It is quite apparent that the Annex is well stocked with good ball players this year, judging from the 11-7 beating they handed the J.V.'s last Monday. Bob Johnson, who pitched 4 innings for the Brunswick boys, fanned 10 of Coach Sam Sezak's charges. Could it be that Johnson and Fred Thurlow compare notes on this strikeout business?? Catcher Ray Lord made his presence felt in that tussle also... Ray banged out three hits including a mighty homerun. Things look pretty good for the Kenyon clan next year, with ball players such as these coming up!

Ferry To First

Baseball is having a rough time of it at Maine these days... the diamond resembles a duck pond, and so far this season the Maine club has been able to play but three games, and all of them away. Schedules have been revised, and then revised again when the downpour commences. Coach Kenyon is strongly urging his pitchers to get plenty of rest, for there's no telling just how long or often one of them may be doing a twirling chore. Four ball games in a week is no picnic for any hurling staff... This liquid sunshine certainly rules the roost right now.

What's Wrong?

The Boston Red Sox and the St. Louis Cards are finding things not as they were last year. No one can actually point out the trouble...

Bear Netmen Smacked 7-2

Coach G. William Small's tennis squad bowed to a strong and undefeated Bowdoin to the tune of 7-2 at Brunswick last Tuesday afternoon.

Individual results for the singles matches are: Branche (B), defeated Van Peursem (M), 6-4, 2-6, 9-7; Rosander (B), defeated Southard (M), 6-4, 4-6, 6-4; Hebb (B), defeated Herman (M), 6-1, 6-1; Curtis (B), over Stebbins (M), 6-1, 7-5; Emmons (B), defeated O'Neil (M), 4-6, 6-2, 9-7; Batherson (M), defeated Kuh (B), 6-1, 6-3.

Results for the doubles are: Branche and Rosander (B), defeated Van Peursem and Southard (M), 7-5, 6-4; Herman and Stebbins (M), took Hebb and Cole (B), 3-6, 6-4, 7-5; Curtis and Emmons (B), won over O'Neil and Batherson (M), 6-2, 6-3.

The number of matches running into three sets indicates that it was a closely contested battle.

Ray Lebel, Bowdoin Beat Bear Golfers

BY KEN LABARGE

Coach Charlie Emery's golf squad was defeated by Bowdoin in their match Monday at Brunswick. The score was 5½ to 3½. Ray Lebel of Bowdoin led the scoring with a 35-35-70.

Individual results are: Lebel (B) defeated Dow (M), 8 and 6; McNabb (M) defeated Noyes (B), 1 up; Wilkinson (B) took Bickford (M), 4 and 3; Johnson (B) defeated Wendell Wilson (M), 6 and 5; Dick Smith (M) halved with Davis (B); Warren Wilson (M) defeated Marshall (B), 4 and 2.

For best ball: Lebel and Noyes defeated Dow and McNabb, 7 and 6; Wilkinson and Johnson defeated Bickford and Wendell Wilson, 4 and 3; Smith and Warren Wilson defeated Davis and Marshall, 3 and 2.

B.C. Swamped By Pale Blue Track Squad

The Eagles of Boston College were the victims of a University of Maine onslaught in a track meet at Boston last Saturday, in which the Bears rolled up 97½ points to B.C.'s 37½.

Held on a day which was hardly conducive to setting records, Coach Jenkins' charges swept four events and placed in each of the remaining.

Carl Parsons and Jim Taylor proved to be the main opposition for the Orono squad as they led the way in the dash and middle distance events.

Individual winners for Maine were Marsanskis and Totman in the two hammer throws, Key Collins in the shot put, and Earle Vickery who collected a victory in the javelin toss.

"Red" Leclair took a first in the high hurdles and Beale repeated in the low hurdles. In the 440 yard run, Wally Brown ran his opponents into the ground for one of his best wins of the season. Elmer Folsom reigned supreme in the mile and Doug Morton came home ahead in the two miler.

The pole vault was an easy win as Emerson, Higgins, and Jacobs all tied for the victory.

Annex Hands J.V.'s First Loss of Year

Three runs in the first inning and six more in the seventh stanza were sufficient to give the Maine Annex a victory over the Bear Jayvees by a 11-7 score, last Monday at Brunswick.

Fred Thurlow was touched for three hits and hit a batter to give the Annex their early lead. The Brunswick club added another run in the third and another in the fifth. It was also in the fifth canto that the J.V.'s pushed across their first marker, but at that point the Annex was on top by four runs, and were still threatening.

The axe fell in the aforementioned seventh inning. A triple, two singles, two bases on balls and an error combined to register the half dozen tallies, and practically sew up the fray for the frosh clan.

The junior Bears could do nothing in the seventh, but in the eighth, three solid base hits and a walk, with an error thrown in, produced four runs for the Sezak-men.

In the ninth, the Orono club brought home two more runs without a hit on two walks and a hit batsman.

Nundi Romano led the Cub's batting attack with two hits, and also scored a brace of runs in the lost cause.

Dennison Family Wins

Judy Dennison defeated her sister Jean to win the women's badminton tourney, played as an added attraction of the WAA's annual Play Day.

Judy took the three-game match in 5-11, 11-5, and 11-1. An audience of over 60 girls watched.

Senate Names New Committee To Handle Summer Problems

The Men's Senate met Thursday evening for the last time this spring, established a committee to act as a governing body during the summer months, and heard a report on the Field House Dining Hall expenses.

The committee named will remain in force until next fall and will represent the students in any matters ordinarily handled by the Senate. Ken Vennett will act as chairman of the group, with Fred Libbey the secretary. The committee will operate under the articles of the old constitution.

Committee chairman Ken LaBarge presented the Senate with the facts on the Field House Dining Hall expenses. It was revealed that each dollar a North Dormitory student turns in for board is divided into six parts.

The divisions listed by LaBarge are: 53¢ for food; 24¢ for salaries and wages; 5¢ for supplies and equipment; 2¢ for maintenance and repairs; 8¢ for other expenses; and 8¢ for excess of income over expenditures. He said that the 2¢ for maintenance and repair included the prorated share of salaries for the business manager's office and personnel.

Andy Britt, member of the constitution committee, pointed out that there would be little time for the Senate to place the constitution before the student body for ratification this semester. The committee recommended that the constitution be further studied and revised.

Library Gets New Books

The University Library has received 42 volumes as a bequest of the late Fannie Hardy Eckstorm of Brewer. These volumes of folk-songs and ballads were the working library of a scholar who, as co-founder of the Folk-Song Society of the Northeast, did much to revive interest in the collection and recording of the folk-songs of New England.
