Army Officers Review ROTC

The yearly Federal Inspection of Maine's ROTC unit and Military Department has been scheduled for next Tuesday and Wednesday, according to an announcement by Col. Francis R. Fuller, professor of military science and tactics.

All students of military science and tactics will be subjected to a series of examinations given by the inspecting party, and the entire ROTC unit will be reviewed at a ceremonial parade at 10:45 a.m. Wednesday. Classes will be arranged to permit the students to attend.

Four regular army officers will compose the visiting inspection team, whose purpose is to determine the proficiency of the training of the unit, and to rate it according to War Department standards.

Cousins To Speak On Memorial Day

Howard Cousins, a University of Maine graduate and a former Army officer, will be the principal speaker at the Memorial Day exercises, May 30, it was announced by Colonel G. William Small. Mr. Cousins is a native of Fort Kent and is now a member of the state legislature.

The program will be an all-veteran affair, with chaplains of three faiths participating. There will be selections by the University Band and Glee Club.

A unit of the R.O.T.C., composed entirely of veterans, will form at Memorial Gym and march to the New Library, where the observance will take place.

Pick Prism Nominees

Nominations for the posts of Editor and Business Manager of the 1949 Prism were announced Wednesday by the Executive Council of the Sophomore Class.

Candidates for Editor are H. Douglas Collins and Clair Chamberlain, both students of the College of Arts and Sciences. Martin Rissel, a married veteran majoring in Civil Engineering, is the only candidate for Business Manager.

Fraternities Plan Weekend Of Celebration

Accompanying the reactivation of frats on campus is the revival of traditional spring house parties. As the week end approaches, the air is filled with talk of formals, orchestras, outings, and picnics.

On Friday night, Phi Eta Kappa will hold a formal, with music by the Southernaires. The dance will have a maypole theme, the decorations being made by the members of the Wives Club. On Saturday, the Phi Etas will take their girls on a picnic at Pushaw Lake.

Ray Downs will provide the music at the Lambda Chi formal. Saturday, Lambda will entertain its guests at the summer estate of E. K. Boggs at Jefferson Lake, followed by an informal vic dance in the evening. Sunday there will be open house and a buffet supper will be served.

18 Initiated Into National Honor Group

Ripon Haskell and Arthur Hillman were the only juniors in a group of 18 students initiated into Phi Beta Kappa at their annual banquet last Tuesday evening. Phi Kappa Phi also held its initiation at the same time.

Others honored by membership into Phi Beta Kappa include the following seniors: Malcolm Blodgett, Irving Broder, Dorothy Bruns, Shirley Castner, Arlene Cleven, Marian Comstock, Donald Crossland, Gladys Friedler, Eunice Hammond, Lois Hovey, Paul McGouldrick, Barbara McNeil, Muriel Polley, Alpheus Sanford, Vaughn Sturtevant, and Anne Woods. Phyllis Pendleton, also a senior, was elected to the honor society last year.

Dr. Henry McCracken, speaker at the scholarship assembly, addressed the two groups at the banquet.

Eleven Junior Men Tapped As Senior Skull Members

Eleven men of the junior class were tapped to membership in the Senior Skull Society, the University's highest ranking non-scholastic honor society, in ceremonies held yesterday on the Memorial Gymnasium's steps.

Those men honored are: Will Anderson, Al Burgess, Jim Donovan, Paul Dowe, Elmer Folsom, Frank Haines, Roland LeClair, George Mansanskis, Will Moulton, Roger Thurrell, and Winslow Work.

All men have been outstanding in various campus activities.

The new members were tapped by the old Skulls, of whom only six are still undergraduates. They are: Bill Brown, Ben Curtis, Will Johns, Bert Murch, Carroll Richardson, and Leon White.

The Senior Skulls cooperate with the All-Maine Women in overseeing freshman "orientation," selecting the cheerleaders.

To Decide Pin Champ

Harry Woodhead and Clem Vose will meet Monday night at the Ames Alleys in Orono to determine the Fraternity Singles bowling championship.

MCA To Sponsor WSSF Fund Drive

The World Student Relief Fund Drive for the Maine campus is scheduled for the last week in May under the sponsorship of the M.C.A. Plans have been made by Ruth Fogler, Esther King, Bernie Prescott, Phil Craig, Pat Rozzi, and Nap Spenard to reach all students and faculty.

This is Maine's annual effort to help those students and faculty in more unfortunate parts of the world, to insure leadership for the future by providing books and medical care and clothing. 400,000 students in Asia and Europe are looking to the World Student Service Fund to finish their education.

Students and faculty of Maine are urged to contribute at least one dollar per person to fulfill a goal of $2500.

Bacon To Give Salutatory In Exercises On June 13

Seniors Malcolm Blodgett and Louisa Bacon were chosen valedictorian and salutatorian, respectively, of the June graduating class in elections held Tuesday. Graduation exercises will be June 13, 14, and 15.

Blodgett is an English major, while Miss Bacon is a home economics student.

Donald Crossland, past president of the MCA and former Campus staff member, will serve as class historian.

Class prophecies, for men and women, will be given by Holyoke Adams and Katherine Mills.

Jean Hufnagel, present General Student Senate president, will give the class will for men, while Lala Jones, long active in the Maine Masque, will present the women's class will.

The class ode will be delivered by Stanley Murray, while Stanley Thomas will act as chaplain.

Class Day will be held Friday, June 13, with Alumni Day the 14th, and Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises coming Sunday, June 15.

Darling, Knight Will Head Tau Beta Pi

Chester Darling and Stephen Knight were elected president and vice-president respectively of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering society, last Thursday evening.

It was decided that the president-elect will be the delegate to the national convention to be held next October 9-11 at the Hotel New Yorker in New York City. The vice-president-elect was chosen as first alternate.

Honorary Lt. Colonel To Be Picked Tuesday

An honorary Lt. Colonel for Maine's Scabbard and Blade unit will be chosen by students in general voting next Tuesday, May 20. The winner will be announced at the Military Ball.

Besides reigning over the ball and reviewing the ROTC unit the next day, the honorary Lt. Colonel will be awarded a loving cup.

Tickets for the ball are still available from Scabbard and Blade members at $5 per couple.

General Senate Holds Election This Friday

All University students will go to the polls tomorrow to elect the four top officers of next year's General Senate. Newly elected students will take office next fall.

Voting will be held from nine to four, in front of the bookstore if weather permits.

The list of candidates is as follows: for president, James Donovan, Frank Haines, and Edward Snyder; vice president, Ralph Barnett, Donald Collins, William Creighton, and Bruce Folsom; secretary, Louise Powers, Margaret Millington, and Dorothy Bunker; treasurer, Barbara Hines, Lorraine Littlefield, Kathleen Kennedy, and Germaine Belleflour.

Donovan Made A.A. President

James Donovan '48 was elected president of the Men's Athletic Association as a result of voting Tuesday. Only 500 men voted.

Active in athletics before the war, Donovan is remembered for his outstanding work in last fall's Union Drive.

Maine Radio Guild Presents Gag Show

The Radio Guild presented a gag show Wednesday evening, directing most of its puns against radio itself. The show was directed by Ralph Higgins and was presented to a "live" audience as well as over the air.

Those taking part in the show were: Bill Mincher, Bill Starbird, Charley Leach, Barbara McFarland, Don Robinson, and Paul Payson.

The show planned for the following week will be "Table for Four," written and directed by Bill Mincher.

Anderson, Johnson Win

Don Anderson and Ev Johnson, E-W, and Sid Howe and Mervin Curtis, N-S, walked off with top honors at Friday night's bridge tourney at the MCA building.

Another tournament will be held at the MCA lounge this Friday evening at 7:30 p.m. The last tourney of the year will be held on May 23, and prizes will be awarded for winning play.

Seventy-Five Receive Scholarships

Seventy-five students were awarded scholarships and ten received prizes at the Scholarship Recognition Day Assembly held in Memorial Gymnasium yesterday morning.

The speaker for the occasion was Dr. Henry Noble MacCracken, president emeritus of Vassar College, and Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, presiding.

The names of the scholarships that were awarded and the students who received them were as follows: Merritt Caldwell Fernald Scholarship (to the highest ranking junior) Arthur

Hillman; James Stacy Stevens Scholarship (to highest ranking junior in the College of Arts and Sciences) Ripon Haskell; Harold Sherburne Boardman Scholarship (to the highest ranking junior in the College of Technology) Robert Parmenter; Leon Stephen Merrill Scholarship (to the highest ranking junior in Agriculture) Ruth Fogler; Charles Davidson Scholarship (to the highest ranking junior in the School of Education) Elmer Parsons.

Our Mayor Reveals His Past In Effort To Set An Example

By JOE WEDGE

When the student body placed Bob Merchant in the mayor's chair, they chose a versatile young man of 23 years to serve them.

The Mayor was reclining on a couch at the Delt house when I interviewed him. Just to show his ability in the various walks of life, he was listening to a symphony program, reading "Hamlet," moderating a bull session on the Maine coeds, oiling up his baseball glove, repairing his roller skates, and chewing on some fancy-colored jelly beans, simultaneously.

"It's been a rough week," His Honor remarked. "I believe that I'll take a short fishing trip down the Stillwater to Orono in a few days. I just want to relax."

With that he tore a page out of Hamlet to mark his place, and I went on with the interview. "Bob, how about your boyhood days?" I asked. "Where were you born and brought up?"

"I've been a Maine man all of my life," he answered. "As far back as I can remember, I spent my time in the salty, coastal town of Camden. It was there I attended and skipped school, made political speeches in the park from my scooter, and got lost in the Camden clamflats."

In the fall of 1941, Bob entered the University of Maine. "My first speech was during November of that year," said Bob. "The Sophomore Owls requested me to say a few words to the student body from the bookstore steps."

Although many hectic and unusual experiences happened during his first two years, Bob suffered his greatest blow as a member of the 1943 varsity baseball squad.

"Bill Kenyon sent me in as a relief pitcher in the New Hampshire tussle. This was my first chance in an actual game for the varsity," Bob related. "The score was tied up, two out, and men on first and second. I took plenty of time, and threw a fast ball down the middle."

"There was a loud crack from the bat. It turned out to be the longest hit ever made on Alumni Field."

As I thanked him for the interview and departed for my typewriter, the mayor was munching on his jelly beans, roller skating to Beethoven's Choral Fantasy, looking over a report that Dr. Hauck is obliged to make to him each week, and gripping a baseball and glove between his teeth!

Yes, siree, this new Mayor of the University of Maine is a versatile fellow!

A blithe braggadocio air surrounds Elsie Sjostedt in the very latest of suit news. The effect is created by the great, flouncing sleeves, which are fitted into tight, six-inch cuffs, and accentuated by a flaring tunic caught in at the waist by a woven suede and gold illusion.

The skirt is provocatively slit, not once or even twice, but four times. Look closely and catch a glimpse of the latest in shoes, pert and snub nosed covering the feet and clinging to Elsie's ankles by a saucy strap.

Snyder And Blake To Head Ocummo For Coming Year

OCUMMO, the off-campus men's organization, held an election of officers Monday evening in the MCA Building. The following officers were elected for the coming year: Edward Snyder, president; Roy Blake, vice president; and Warren J. Turner, secretary-treasurer.

New committees were also elected: Executive Committee—Merle Grindle, Earl Ingalls and Kenneth Seaman; Social Committee—Joe Murray, Ralph Snyder and Elton Crossland.

Joe Murray was elected representative to the Intramural Athletic Board.

A smoker following the election gave an opportunity for a discussion of plans for next year. OCUMMO is an organization which all men students living off-campus are invited to join.

Opinion Department Finds That Women Want To Legislate

This week The Campus begins a Student Opinion department with student government as the first chosen subject.

The Campus intends only to be helpful in this work. Suggestions for poll topics will be taken by the Editor.

In this week's student government poll, ten percent of the women living on campus were asked these questions: 1) Do you feel fairly represented in the governing bodies of the campus? 2) Would you, if given the opportunity, be willing to take an active part in such meetings should be open, except on personal cases of WSGA? 3) Do you feel that you attend if they were open?

79 per cent felt they were fairly represented, while 92 percent said they were willing to take part in student government. 80 percent felt that student government meetings should be open, while only 65 percent said they would want to attend.

Interesting sidelights were several "no" answers to questions 3 and 4 from persons who have served or are serving on student government. They felt that students wouldn't attend such meeting even if they could.

Next week, The Campus hopes to poll men students on the same questions.

Atlantic Editor Speaks

Dudley Cloud, managing editor of The Atlantic Monthly magazine, spoke informally with a group of Maine students in the New Library Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. Cloud stressed the opportunities that The Atlantic offers to young writers.

Katharine Walters, and Beatrice Thornton.

We Have Politics?

The recent mayoral election gives cause for more thought on Maine's student government system. After a lengthy campaign, including speeches, rallies, and posters, 1875 students turned out to vote.

That's not a count to be proud of, but it is an improvement over the 300 votes cast in the referendum on the General Senate's constitution.

Tomorrow, students will vote on next year's General Senate officers. Climbing out on the prediction limb, this corner will say that not over 1000 ballots will be cast, and that of the people voting, not over half will know much about the person they are voting for.

This is not the fault of the student-voter. The fault lies in the method of election.

The United States has a political system which calls for an office-seeker making his intentions known. As in our mayor campaign, a man must show an interest for the job he is after, he must let the voters know who he is, and he must convince them that he is capable of doing the job.

Here on the Maine campus, candidates for important positions are carefully handpicked in a quiet manner and voted on by a sleepy and not-too-interested student body. No form of voter education is attempted, either by the candidates or by the governing body concerned.

Thus, politics that we will have to contend with as citizens aren't run in the same manner as these we face here. If this training period is to be at all useful to us, it seems that we might at least get used to handling the same type of situations we will face all the rest of our lives.

Other colleges have their two, or three, party systems, and run regular political campaigns. According to their college papers, such systems seem to enjoy a good deal of success. At least they get more than fifty percent of the student body to vote.

It's worth thinking over.

Editor's Notes

Hope the General Senate will follow the WSGA in tacking up pictures of their candidates so people will know who they're voting for....

Congrats to the NorDorm committee for arranging an excellent week end....

Must be about baby's bedtime.

University Society

Big things are being planned for this, the 1947 Spring Houseparty week end, by both the fraternity and North Dorm men. The fraternity houseparties will comprise the usual events—a formal dance, picnic, sports contests, informal dancing party, and Sunday dinner at the fraternity house.

The North Dorm week end will include a semi-formal cabaret, double header ball game, picnic, and Barn-dance Frolic. Johnnie Dunn and his orchestra will provide the music. Sounds like fun for everyone!

The Phi Mu Delta boys lost a softball game to their dates last Saturday evening. The girls led with a score of 10-8. A weiner roast and vic dance followed the game. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. Cornell and "Ma" Yale.

SAE held a "Victory Vic" dance last Tuesday night after the Interfraternity Sing which the house won with their rendition of "Johnny Peel" and a medley of SAE songs. Thirty-five couples attended the party. On Sunday the boys were hosts to many parents for a Mother's Day dinner. Over 100 people attended. The annual Minerva Club meeting was held for the Mothers and a Smoker was held for the Dads.

The Junior Prom was held last Friday evening in the Memorial Gymnasium. Theme of the decorations was starlight and silhouettes of couples dancing on clouds. White palm trees were silhouetted against a blue starlit sky. About 150 couples attended the dance, making the floor uncrowded and conducive to dancing. Chairman of the prom was Lennie Plavin. Others on the committee were Connie Thomes, Harry Crowell, Bob Preti, and Joan Look. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. Himy Kirshen, and Dr. and Mrs. Henry Hawley. In the receiving line were President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck, Dean and Mrs. Glenn Kendall, Mr. James Gannett, and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Burgess.

Pinned: Alberta Clossen to Norm Moulton, Phi Eta Kappa.

Engaged: Kay Bridges to "Bud" Grant, and Hazel Calvert to Joe Colcord.

MORE MONEY FOR VETS?

The Rogers Bill, calling for an increase in veterans subsistence, has a good chance of being passed by congress, according to a letter from Operation Subsistence headquarters to Bernard Dubay, Maine AVC chairman.

Senator Claude Pepper (D-Fla.) has introduced a similar bill with a provision to allow any student who has a B average to complete his education regardless of the time allotted by the present Bill of Rights.

Operations Subsistence, as the drive is known, is a combined effort of all veteran organizations to work for the passage of the Rogers Bill.

To carry on the drive, college groups are asked to contribute an assigned quota of money. The University of Maine has been asked to give 25 dollars.

Any person, or group of persons, who are interested in contributing should contact Bernard Dubay, South Apt. 12a.

High spot of the week... "I'll Be Yours," Deanna Durbin, Tom Drake, and My Boy William Bendix. Deanna sings just like always, Tom Drake is sheepish, like always, Adolph Menjou dresses according to the rules, like always, and of course, Bendix steals the show every time he sticks that repulsive face of his on the screen. Deanna can still turn 'em out.

Vipers, Arise!!! Members of the artificial society represented on this campus are hereby invited—nay, dared—to join the newly formed Vipers Club. No dues, no buttons, no passwords. There is only one prerequisite. The initiate must have read, understood, and argued about either "Generation of Vipers" or "An Essay on Morals," both by Philip Wylie, Dean of the World Intelligentsia. See me anytime, day or night.

For Women Only... "Sea of Grass," lately flooded out of the Opera House. Hollywood, in a sobberty, slobberty arrow aimed at the very heart of maternalism, is causing more flood waves across the country than Rudolph Valentino's sad demise. Time, the weekly magazine, wonders in a frank manner why Spencer Tracy spends so much time looking at weeds when Katy Hepburn is around to be ogled.

Middle Spot of the Week... "Blaze of Noon," with an outstanding collection of talentless dopes. The whole cast shoulda stood in bed. The picture is almost saved by the excellent interpretations of William Bendix (My Boy), and Howard DaSilva.

Note on Life... The Bangor Symphony Orchestra delivers bad music in an honest manner. Do you have $75 hanging around loose? Go ahead, give a listen (I'd rather stay home and listen to my records of the great artists of our days) but don't complain to me.

Hurray For Hammers

Recently my colleague, Henry McLemore, a syndicated columnist, said that the only person he envied was Jim Farley, because Jim can always remember names of people he has met. I hate to say it, Henry, but you're on the wrong track. The man to envy these days is the hammer manufacturer.

Ostentatiously just another plant owner, the hammer makers of the United States are in for a big boom. Soon Rockefeller's and Vanderbilt's millions will just be drops in the buckets as compared with the millions of millions the hammer tycoons will be pulling in. Why? Elementary!

When Henry Ford or General Motors (both old friends of mine) turn out new convertibles, they always equip their cars with hammers. Most people think those are to be used changing tires, but actually their purpose is to beat off the women that flock around the new owners, just dying for a ride.

And why will the hammer makers get so rich? Because males, having read this, will flock to their auto dealers, buy new convertibles, and beat off the women with the supplied hammers. An increase in convertibles naturally means an increase in hammers, which in turn means the expansion of hammer plants. More young men go to work making hammers, more money is brought in, wages go up, more young men buy new convertibles, and more hammers are sold.

And there, in four short paragraphs, is not only why you should go into the hammer manufacturing business, but why posterity is just around the corner. Hurray for hammers.

—BILL BRENNAN

Monty Higgins Says:

Have you noticed the faces of any psychology majors lately? Ah, a lonely lot indeed is that of the psychologist. Everyone else comes to him to unburden trouble, leaving no one to tell his own troubles. The result sooner or later is that the psychologist becomes saturated with troubles and a danger to society. The usual expression found on the face of a psychologist resembles the wistful look of a hungry hound-dog before supper. This is more understandable when we realize that the main business of psychology is going around tapping people on the patella with a rubber hammer. If the subject does not respond with the expected knee kick, he is packed off for observation which means an x-ray will be made of his head to see if the cogs mesh. If the wheels don't turn properly, the poor patient is thrown to the looney bin. How surprised these psychologists are going to be when the rest of us reveal to them we know they are really the insane ones and that they are merely packing us off to institutions so they can have the world to themselves for their own fiendish devices.

When someone told me college students should try to develop large vocabularies, I was impressed. So, I did cross-word puzzles. I learned ten new words a day. My dictionary became dogeared from thumbing. Still, I made very little progress. At last a prof told me a short cut: "The real way to acquire a large vocabulary is to marry one."

In the dormitories hash is often on the menu. Hash is where the chef puts all he has into his cooking. Dormitory hashes may be bad because we don't know what goes into them, but even worse are homemade hashes where we do.

They say when better money is made, college students will write home for it. Today, with so many being put through by Uncle Sam, it doesn't do too much good to write home or anywhere else for money. For spare cash, the vet must work himself in spare time.

I tried explaining to an economics professor why I wanted to live on a farm. I plan to live off the fat of the land and thus eliminate the middleman. The economics prof drawled "...reminds me of another man who lives off the fat of the land—girdle manufacturer."

This annual awarding of Phi Beta Kappa Keys is so depressing to us run-of-the-millers. It reminds us of what we could have done and didn't. But, no doubt the award does really mean something, for you can't buy a Phi Beta Kappa Key. My check arrived back by return mail yesterday.

Maine To Play Doubleheader With UConns

Maine's second baseball double header of the year will be played next Saturday at 1 p.m. on the local diamond when the University of Connecticut opposes Coach Bill Kenyon's Bears.

The Nutmeggers have plenty of class and show a good record for the year, but on the other hand the Kenyonites are fast rounding into top form.

Today the Bears travel to Durham to take on New Hampshire.

Phi Mu Delta plans a Friday night formal, with Watie Akins' orchestra. Saturday there will be a picnic at Great Works and open house at the frat house.

After dancing to the music of Bob Percival on Friday night, Saturday the Phi Gams will have a picnic at Bucksport.

ATO has engaged Lloyd Rainel to provide music for its formal. Saturday, the ATO's will go to Bar Harbor for a clam bake, returning to the house for a buffet supper and vic dance. Sunday the girls will be dinner guests at the house.

Beta will have a Friday night formal and on Saturday a picnic at an undisclosed location.

Bob Marden's "Melodeers" will play at Theta Chi, and an all-day picnic will be held at Belfast, followed by an informal vic dance.

The Sigma Nu's formal will feature Nat Diamond and his orchestra. They also plan Saturday open house and Bowery Brawl.

Sigma Chi is planning a "Sweetheart" dance, at which the "Sweetheart of Sigma Chi" will be chosen. The lucky girl will be presented with flowers and a loving cup. Saturday plans include a picnic at Echo Lake.

Phi Kappa Sigma will have a semi-formal, with music by a fragment of the Maine Bears. The other section of the Bears will play at Kappa Sig, whose Saturday plans include an outing at Herman Lake.

SAE plans a formal with the Maine Cubs to provide the music. Saturday they will go to Southwest Harbor on a boat cruise.

State Championship Track Squad In Tri-Meet Saturday

Bear Facts

By MURPH LINEHAN

Paul Mitchell, Bear second baseman, has turned out to be a valuable asset to Coach Bill Kenyon's baseball clan. As lead-off batter, Paul has done an admirable job in getting on base safely by the various means at his disposal. To add to his desirable qualities he is fast on the basepaths once he gets on...not necessarily a good hitter, Paul is of small stature so pitching to him is a real headache to opposing flingers. Stay in there, Mitch, you're lookin' good.

Still a Battle

Here's the way the State Series race appears right now... Colby is on top with a record of two wins as against a single reverse, Bowdoin comes next with three victories and two defeats, Maine is in the third spot with wins and losses even up at two, while Bates is in the cellar, having been set back three times and garnering only one triumph. The Kenyon troupe has a pair of Series contests yet to play, one with Bates on the 20th and the other with Colby on the 21st—both tilts away. The Waterville Mules have still to play games with the other three contenders, one of which will be played today with Bowdoin, and will be the Polar Bear's final. Bates is out of the running for all practical purposes, but the Lewiston bunch can still pray for a quadruple tie.

Bravo!

It was unfortunate that Coach Chester Jenkins could not be at Bowdoin in person last Saturday when his Bear track squad captured the State title by a very comfortable margin, but the results of his superb and careful training was very much in evidence. Even if Maine hadn't won the meet, Jenkins would still rate as one of the top track mentors in the country...just ask any other college cinder coach.

At Last...

Well, the Maine J.V.'s finally played Husson College of Bangor. The game won by the J.V.'s 8-1 last Monday has been postponed, rescheduled, moved ahead, and just about everything else, but this week Sam Sezak and company put it on the records. Ev Morrison who has been away from the baseball wars for five years did the pitching for the Cubs, and he certainly turned in a masterful performance in allowing the Husson boys but two safe hits, and both of these of the very scratchy variety.

Our Boy!!!

With a very impressive .500 batting average Maine centerfielder Joe Coombs is leading the parade of State Series hitters. Joseph has been very consistent this spring and batting isn't his only accomplishment, for his patrol of the garden has left nothing to be desired. Fleet of foot, he has committed grand larceny of potential enemy base hits on numerous occasions.

Potpourri

Maybe the Red Sox are coming to life after all; in second place and fighting... Bowdoin's Bobby Friberg is living up to his advanced notices... Congrats to Maine's Dick Smith for upsetting Polar Bear's golfer Ray Lebel; it doesn't happen very often!... When is Gerry Poulin goin' to start hitting—125 doesn't look good in print...

Maine Tracksters Take Title In State Meet At Brunswick

By LEN PLAVIN

Coach Chester Jenkins' University of Maine track team ran, jumped, and threw to an easy State Title at Brunswick last Saturday. With Jenkins ill at Orono, the team was conducted by Sam Sezak who saw the Pale Blue garner 67 points to 45 for Bowdoin, 23 for Bates and nothing for Colby.

The best race of the afternoon was the quarter mile which was swept by Maine. Sam Silsby was first, closely followed by Wally Brown and Ken Vennett. The time for the 440 was 51 seconds.

George Marsanskis made the best throw of his career in the hammer throw, taking first place in this event with a toss of better than 152 feet. This, considering the little experience George has had in the event, is truly amazing.

The two mile run was another good race and was taken by Arnie Davis, trailed by Doug Morton in second place. The lead shifted throughout the eight laps and at various times it was held by men from each of the four colleges.

Carrol Taylor led the field all the way to take first in the 220 yard dash.

Folsom ran beautifully to win the mile in 4:31.5. Folsom had to pace himself perfectly in order to choke off the bid of Bates' Red Horne. Horne was a close second at the tape.

Maine's chances for taking a first place in the broad jump were indeed darkened when Bob Emerson pulled a muscle in his thigh. Emerson did a wonderful job of tying for first in the pole vault despite his injury.

In the javelin throw it was Maine all the way with Freeman Phillips supplying a great deal of competition for Earle Vickery, who won the event last year. "Vic" got off his best throw of 179 ft. 6 in. in his last attempt. Phillips was second and Angelosante of Bates was third.

Maine had to be satisfied with a third in the shot put when Taussig of Bowdoin got hold of one and sent the ball over 44 feet through the air. Marsanskis placed for Maine in this event. Taussig also won the discus with a throw of 123 feet. Maine had a third in this with Totman less than a foot behind the winner.

Matt Branche was the meet's only other multiple winner when he tied for first in the high jump with one of his Bowdoin team mates, and won the 220 yard low hurdles.

Sam Silsby took second in the half mile and really had to fight for that position in a very close race in a time which was a fraction of a second over two minutes. Wally Brown was leading the pack in this 880, but was forced by a cramp to drop out after almost one lap.

Tennis Draw Announced

Dot Stanley, tennis manager, announces that the results of the tennis draw are posted in the women's gym. All players are urged to contact their opponents immediately and arrange a date to play. Preliminary games must be played off before the week end of May 24, when the finals will be played.

14 Girls Go To Bates

Fourteen girls from the University Modern Dance Club recently attended a recital at Bates as guests of the Modern Dance Club there. Bates presented the "Ballad of the Pine Tree State" a series of original compositions of choreography done to an original descriptive poem.

Coaches Ask Students To Stay Off Diamond

The coaching staff is asking the student body to refrain from walking on the infield of the baseball diamond.

The recent heavy rain has made the diamond soft and muddy, with the result that persons walking on the grass dig holes.

Run Against Bates And Northeastern

Victorious in its last two meets, Coach Chester Jenkins' high flying track squad will wend its way to Lewiston next Saturday to take part in a triangular meet with Northeastern and Bates.

Indications point to the fact that this meet will be practically a repetition of the State meet held last Saturday. Northeastern rates about on a par with Bowdoin, and Bates should finish in the same spot that they did before.

The Boston club will enter the contest with several star performers. Del Alberghini, probably the best low hurdler in New England, will be running in his favorite event as well as the high hurdles and possibly in the dash events. Del left a good impression from the winter season, when he piled up 18 points by his lonesome.

Net Men Back In Series Race

By KEN LABARGE

Coach G. William Small's tennis team bounced back into the State Series race by carding wins over Bates and Colby last week end, 6-3 and 9-0.

In the events with Bates, Maine took four of the singles and two wins in doubles to clinch the contest. The only match which went to three sets was the one played by Maine's number one man, Van Peursen.

In the event with Colby, again Van Peursen was the only man to encounter opposition which necessitated a third match.

Bowdoin took Colby 8-1, and according to Coach Small, this sweep by Maine predicts an extremely close match between Bowdoin and Maine when they meet here Saturday.

Nine League Games Launch Softball

Despite rainy weather the 1947 intramural outdoor softball season got under way this week with several games being played in each league.

In the Southern Fraternity League, Lambda Chi Alpha nosed out Phi Gamma Delta, 16-15, and Phi Kappa Sigma edged Alpha Tau Omega, 12-11. Lambda Chi scored two runs on two errors in the last half of the seventh inning to beat Phi Gam. Tom Allen led the victors with three hits and also fielded his left field position well. John Cervone of Phi Gam proved to be a good leadoff batter for the losers as he collected three bingles. Phi Kappa Sigma, paced by Vic Pooler, squeezed past ATO in a game that was close all the way. ATO tried hard to tie up the game in the last inning but fell one run short.

Both Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Delta Tau Delta racked up wins in the Northern Fraternity League. SAE pushed over four runs in the seventh to tie up the game and scored one in the eighth to beat Tau Epsilon Phi, 6-5. Tau Epsilon could gather only three hits off the deliveries of Hagman, SAE pitcher. Delta Tau, indoor softball champion, continued its winning ways by slapping down Beta House, 19-9.

Braley Leads Bear Pastimers To 7-6 Win Over Bowdoin

By LEN HARLOW

Will Braley pitched the University of Maine baseball team to its second straight state series victory here last Saturday, 7-6. The tall righthander took over for Dick Preble in the third inning and went the remaining distance, allowing three runs and two hits, to gather his first win of the season.

Bowdoin started strong by collecting single runs in each of the first three innings. Bob Friberg, classy Bowdoin shortstop, doubled in the first and later scored on a fielder's choice. A walk to Gillen, who then stole second, and a single by Shanahan gave the Polar Bears another counter in the second. Their third run came after three consecutive bases on balls and an error.

Meanwhile, Maine couldn't touch Bob Shanahan, the Bowdoin pitcher, until the third. In that frame they scored one run on walks to Miles and Mitchell, and a fielder's choice by McManus. They picked up another in the fifth on a base on balls, a stolen base, and a single by McManus.

The Black Bears won the game in the sixth when they came up with five big runs. After Red Clark had grounded out, Gerry Poulin was hit by a pitch, Joe Coombs singled and Walker forced him at second. Walker then stole second and Poulin scored on the throw to the keystone bag. Both Gillen, the Bowdoin catcher, and Poulin collided at the plate and Gillen was knocked out. He left the game and was replaced by Cox. Miles then doubled scoring Walker, Braley singled scoring Miles, and Mitchell slapped a one-baser to right to send Braley to third. Bowdoin attempted to catch Mitchell stealing and Braley scored. Mitchell then stole third and scored on an error by the left fielder.

Maine Golfers Lose To Bowdoin Team

Charlie Emery's golf team tasted defeat at the hands of Bowdoin by a score of 7-2 Saturday at the Penobscot Valley Country Club.

With Ray Lebel leading the Polar Bears, Bowdoin took all but one match, which was won by Dick Smith.

The match play is as follows: Lebel (B) defeated Dow (M) 7-6; Noyes (B) defeated McNabb (M) 3-2; Lebel and Noyes won best ball, four and three.

Wilkinson (B) defeated Bickford (M) 6-5; Johnson (B) defeated Wendell Wilson (M) 2 up; Wilkinson and Johnson won best ball, four and three.

Smith (M) defeated Davis (B) 6-5; Levin (B) defeated Warren Wilson (M) 5-4; Smith and Wilson won best ball, two and one.

Music Groups Hold Election; Plan For PVCC Banquet

The University band and orchestra organizations had an election meeting recently and announced plans for a banquet to be held at the Penobscot Country Club on May 22 at 6:30 p.m.

Newly elected officers of the band are: president, Evan Johnson; vice president, William Bodwell; and secretary-treasurer, Florence Bruce.

In the orchestra the new officers are: president, Doris Stanley; vice president, Barbara Goodwin; secretary, Margaret-Jane Gorham; manager, Evan Johnson; assistant manager, George Ainsworth; publicity, Elizabeth Johnston; and librarians, Aletha Meade and Barbara Burroughs.

Don Crossland will act as toastmaster at the banquet. Plans call for singing and dancing after the dinner, with Sherry Lane at the piano.

"Sure he loves you, Mabel, do you think you're an exception?"

Club Notes

Women's Forum

Elections for next year's officers of the Women's Forum will be held at the last meeting of the year next Monday at 4:30 in Room B, North Estabrooke. All girls wishing to join the group next fall are urged to attend.

Square Dance Club

The University of Maine Square Dance Club held its annual Spring party Tuesday evening. At this time the group enjoyed two hours of dancing, entertainment, and refreshments.

German Club

The Deutscher Verein, under the supervision of Dr. John F. Klein, enjoyed an all day picnic Sunday at the University of Maine Marine Biological Station at Lamaine. Sunny weather, good fishing, and plenty of good food made the trip a success.

Koinonia

Reverend William Gardner, Minister of the Universalist Church in Bangor, spoke on "Liberalism" at the meeting of Koinonia held on Sunday, May 11, in the M.C.A.

Reverend Gardner stated that the Liberal believes in truth revealed and truth to be revealed through reason and conscience and in universalism in its broadest sense.

A question and discussion period followed the talk, the group discussing the church and its relation to the race problem.

Koinonia will hold its next meeting Sunday, May 18, at 7 o'clock in the M.C.A.

IRC

Dr. Henry N. McCracken, Scholarship Day speaker at the University, was the guest speaker at an International Relations Club luncheon meeting held Wednesday, May 14.

Lois Nicholson was in charge of arrangements.

Spanish Club

The Spanish Club held a special reorganization meeting Tuesday night, May 13. At this time plans were made for the coming year.

Photo Club

The University of Maine Photo Club will meet Wednesday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m. in the Faculty Room, South Stevens.

Military Club

There will be a Scabbard and Blade meeting tonight at 7 in 15 Coburn Hall. It is important that all members attend this meeting.

ASCE

New officers of the Maine student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers are Stephen Knight, president; Philip Stackpole, vice president; John Chapman, secretary; and Lee Clifford, treasurer.

German Club Offers Program Of Films At Little Theatre

Der Deutsche Verein will present the short French sound film "Letter From Paris" and the German full length movie "Emil und die Detektive" on Tuesday, May 20, at 3:15 and 6:45 in the Little Theatre.

Tickets are 25 cents and are being sold by members of the Deutscher Verein. They may also be had from Professor Klein in 320 Stevens.

The profits from the showing of these films will be used by the Deutscher Verein to make a contribution to European relief and to plan for the showing of foreign films next year.

"Letter From Paris" was produced by Les Actualites Francaises of Paris for distribution in North and South America, and portrays the post-war Paris of American soldiers, food lines, factory workers, and nightclubs. It is a Paris, still gay and charming and beautiful, trying to regain the carefree charm of the prewar days.

"Emil und die Detektive" has been edited in German, French, and Spanish for the American classroom. The novel was written by Enrich Kastner, a German who stayed in Germany and resisted the Nazis. Few films that star children are as satisfying as this one. Emil, like Tom Sawyer, has the qualities that appeal to young and old.

Bangor Chorus To Sing

The Bangor Male Chorus will give a concert on Tuesday, May 20, 8:15 p.m., in the Garland Street Junior High School Auditorium in Bangor. Tickets, at $1.00 each, can be purchased from Professor Matthew McNeary.

SENIORS

and all participating in graduation exercises, requiring cap and gown, please place your order now.

Health, Wealth, And Wisdom Bring Awards--WAA Theme

Eating—America's Number One pastime—is always popular at the University of Maine—especially, at all our tantalizing banquets. Food, food, food, drink and be merry, comical, "brief" after-dinner speeches, is the clamor of all students.

Ah! and you shall have it, girls—at our annual W.A.A. banquet to be held at 6:00 p.m., Wednesday, May 21, in Estabrooke, which will be highlighted by the awarding of the Maine Seal, highest women's athletic award given by the University and other awards consisting of numerals, letters, chevrons, and dance club emblems. And due honors will be paid to our departing seniors who have done more than their share in our athletic program.

You girls—the pride of the University—are all invited to attend our lavish affair; all women students being members of the Women's Athletic Association. Price of the banquets is 50¢ to all off-campus students and the Elms girls and 25¢ to all dormitory residents. Don't forget to put your "John Hancock" on our posters found at the Women's Gym, in all dormitories, at the M.C.A., and at the Elms. Yes, girls, 100% out for the funniest banquet of the year to honor all those worthy of such honor. And to pay respect to the pride of our University—the Health Girl of our campus.

"Health, wealth, and wisdom bring awards" is the theme of the affair. Feature guest speaker is Dean Glenn Kendall. Student speakers are Pauline True, President of "M" Club; Betty Friedler, Freshman Representative; and Elaine McManus, who will speak on "Epitaphs to Athletes." Toastmistress will be Barbara Andrews, president-elect; the welcome will be by Evelyn Foster.

Tri-Delt Banquet Ends Delta Week Saturday Evening

A formal banquet at the Bangor House Saturday night highlighted the activities of the Maine Tri-Delts during national Delta Week, May 4-11.

Una Jean MacDonald was toastmistress at the banquet. Speakers included Saralyn Phillips, Emma Kilburn, Florence Bruce, Shirley Hughes, and Louise Perkins, an alumna.

During Delta Week, four new girls were initiated into the sorority. These were Carolyn Moores, Betty Boterf, Pauline Stevens, and Barbara Tibbets.

Sunday morning the Tri-Delts held their annual Pansy Breakfast in the Field House Dining Room at 6 o'clock. Sunday afternoon a tea was held in

Naval Air Reserve To Be Formed Here

Plans to formulate a volunteer unit of the Naval Air Reserve here on the Maine campus are now underway, according to Russ Woolley, ex-naval pilot.

Former officers and enlisted men with aviation ratings and classifications, interested in becoming part of such a unit, should contact Mr. Woolley at 240 Stevens Hall in the near future.

Plans call for aircraft being brought here for local use.

Maine Glee Clubs To Take Part In 5th Pop Concert

Inez Frost, soprano, and the University of Maine Glee Clubs will be guest participants in the fifth and final "Pop Concert" program of the Bangor Symphony Orchestra's 51st season. Under the baton of Adelbert Wells Sprague, the concert will open at 8:15, tonight, May 15.

James Gordon Selwood will conduct the combined Glee Clubs in their presentation of a medley from Rodgers' "Carousel," two spirituals, and a "Mosaic of Operetta Favorites," from Victor Herbert. Orchestral numbers will include Rossini's "William Tell" Overture, two of Sousa's marches, "Emperor Waltz," by Johan Strauss.

Amusing 'Blithe Spirit' Marred By Dropped Lines

BY DENNY EVANS

Second night audiences of "Blithe Spirit," the Maine Masque's current production, can expect a delightful and amusing show, but might keep their fingers crossed and hope for a few less dropped lines. The production, beset by illnesses, was carried off in the best possible manner.

The opening performance last night moved swiftly except for the bare spots when the cast waited for the prompter to give lines. These blanks slowed the tempo, but once the players got moving, it went excellently.

Bill Brown turned Charles from a sophisticate into a serious writer of half-hearted morals. His dropping of lines and haunting of the stage right corner were annoying. He was helped considerably, however, by his fine voice, presence of mind and poise while on stage.

Having been a classmate of both Jan Scales and Jeanne Day, I found it hard to accept them as believable in their assigned roles. Jan, a serious gal from

'way back, was strained to show Elvira as flippant. Jeanne, on the other hand, is the laughing kid; she really tried to be grownup and mature.

Arlene Tankle was delightful as the precocious old witch. Her projection, which came from the upper register only, was clear and wonderfully wavery. At times she stole the scene from the leads! Glenys Sprague, suitably mediocre, played her part straight. Irv Marsden missed the opener due to laryngitis and Dayson DeCourcy stepped in on last minute notice. Beth Clement played the timorous maid in a hurried frenzy as was demanded by the role.

The production was directed by Herschel Bricker, who was assisted by Dayson DeCourcy. The stage managers were Saralyn Phillips and Marnel Abrams. Robert Wells was the Technical Director, Henri Cassavant handled the difficult make-up, and Doug Cooper headed the property committee.

NEW CENTER puts extra liveliness in the Spalding and Wright & Ditson tennis balls. In recent tests, both bounced consistently to the upper limits of U.S.L.T.A. rebound standards — another reason why these Spalding-made tennis balls are first choice of most tournament players. Sharpen up your game with one of the Twins of Championship Tennis.
