Woodward To Address Graduates

Dr. Carl Woodward, president of Rhode Island State College, will be the speaker for the University's mid-winter graduation exercises to be held in the Little Theatre Friday, February 13. Approximately 85 students will receive degrees, among them being four women veterans.

Commencement activities will get underway Friday evening with a banquet under the auspices of the General Alumni Association. Speaker for the occasion will be James E. Totman '16, president of Summers Fertilizer Co. He has been active in Union Building Drive.

In the Army

As a part of graduation, 13 senior men will receive commissions in the Officers Reserve Corps. These are the first commissions to be awarded since 1943.

Rutgers Grad

Dr. Woodward holds B.S. and A.M. degrees from Rutgers and a Ph.D. from Cornell. He held a position as assistant to the president of Rutgers from 1928 until 1936, and took his present job in 1941. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Kappa Phi, and Phi Gamma Delta.

Placement Director Phillip Brockway reports that over 60 per cent of the graduating students have received at least one job offer, although there have been few definite acceptances.

Gray And Jenness To Debate At BU

Leon Gray and Campus Editor Larry Jenness will represent the University of Maine at the 2nd annual Boston University Debate Tournament to be held at Boston, Friday and Saturday, February 13 and 14. Debate Coach Wofford Gardner will accompany the students.

The tourney will be run on a direct elimination basis. Proposition to be debated will be "Resolved: that a federal world government be established."

Activities will get underway with a "seeding" round Friday night, followed by four possible rounds Saturday.

In the Vermont tournament last December, Gray and Jenness defeated Army, Dartmouth, and Holy Cross, losing only to Penn State.

They will leave Orono on Thursday, getting in a practice debate with Bates College at Lewiston that evening.

Sophomores To Pay Dues

Sophomore class dues of $1.00 per member are being assessed on the spring semester bill for the purpose of creating a Class of 1950 Fund to take care of initial financing of the 1950 Prism published by the class, any deficit incurred by the Sophomore Hop, and minor expenses of elections.

Politics, IRC To Sponsor Monday Talk

BY MARILYN GOLDMAN

Congresswoman Margaret Chase Smith will speak here next Monday afternoon, February 2, before a joint meeting of the I.R.C. and the Politics Club at the Little Theatre. Her talk, covering current national and international affairs, is scheduled to begin at 4 o'clock. All interested people are invited to attend.

Mrs. Smith, born in Skowhegan, Maine, on December 14, 1897, is the first woman member of the House of Representatives' Naval Affairs Committee and the first woman to represent Maine in the House. She was elected in September, 1944, to her fourth term in Congress. A Republican, she has a record of progressiveness in labor legislation.

Married Into It

Mrs. Smith became active in politics after her marriage to former State senator Clyde H. Smith in May, 1930. She served on the Republican State Committee of Maine from 1930 to 1936. She is also past president of the Maine Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Margaret Smith found time also to serve as treasurer of the Congressional Club.

After Clyde Smith's death in 1940, his widow was chosen to fill the unexpired term, and in September 1940 she was re-elected to the Seventy-seventh Congress. She requested a seat on the Labor Committee on which her husband had distinguished himself but was assigned to three lesser committees: Education, Invalid Pensions, and Post Office and Post Roads.

Mrs. Smith usually voted along regular Republican lines, but cast an occasional vote for Administration measures. From the beginning she voted 100 per cent for the Administration's foreign policy. She has always been interested in maritime affairs and advocated naval expansion in the neutral days of 1938. She filled a vacancy on the Naval Affairs Committee during the Seventy-eighth session of Congress.

Labor Supported

After being re-elected to the Seventy-ninth Congress, with the endorsement of A. F. of L. leaders and the support of the railway unions, she served in April as one of thirteen advisers to the United States Government delegation at the International Labor Organization in Philadelphia, and led the Maine delegation to the Republican National Convention in July. In December she left for the South-Pacific, returning in time for the opening of the Seventy-ninth Congress in January 1945.

Bears Back For Dancing

Proceeds from this Friday night's stag dance, sponsored by Pi Beta Phi sorority, will go to the Student Union building fund.

With the Maine Bears furnishing music, dancing will last from 8 until 11:30 p.m. Admission is 50 cents.

Students Pick Carnival Queen From Five Comely Candidates

Students will go to the polls Wednesday, February 18, to elect a Winter Carnival Queen from five candidates chosen by the Intramural Athletic Association. The candidates are Carolyn (Kayo) Foley, Balentine, '48; Elaine Lockhart, North Estabrooke, '50; Nancy Jane Ryan, West Hall, '51; Marge Waterman, Colvin, '50; and Dotti Jack, West Hall, '51.

Voting will take place in the library under the direction of the Intramural Athletic Association.

Bill Creighton, Sigma Chi, Chairman of the Intramural Ball Dance Committee, has announced that Ben Hall and his orchestra will play for the dance.

Dancing will be from nine until two, formal, at $4.00 per couple.

Ticket distribution, a major problem, was settled at an intramural meeting last Tuesday. Each organization reported the number of tickets it required. The total was divided into the number of available tickets, and from this a percentage was established. Intramural representatives who have not picked up their share of tickets at the Physical Education Office are urged to do so immediately.

The Winter Carnival will get underway Friday, February 20, with the crowning of the Carnival Queen at the Intramural Ball. Saturday winter sports events and a snow sculpture contest are scheduled; and Saturday night, the Maine-Rhode Island game will climax the carnival.

Math Club To Meet

The Math Club will hear three speakers at its next meeting, to be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening, February 18, in 170 Stevens.

Sutton Munroe will give a talk on games of chance. Also on the program will be Roger Pinkam and Jean Hart. All interested students are invited to attend.

ASAE Will Sponsor Carnival Dance

In a move designed to give everybody dancing room on Winter Carnival night, a Carnival dance will be sponsored Friday night, February 20, by the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

An informal couples dance with stags invited, the affair will feature the music of Ray Downs and his orchestra.

In sponsoring the dance, ASAE took a leaf from last year's record when lack of space in Memorial Gym left many would-be Carnival Ball dancers home at their radios.

Bookstore Open Nights During Spring Rush

The bookstore will stay open evenings until 9 o'clock during the next semester's rush for books. This is official, as reported by Jim Hinds and John Barrows of the Men's Senate and confirmed by Mr. Bruce.

It is pointed out that there are two weeks in which to get books and with the bookstore open evenings there will be no need for standing in line.

Graduating Students Should Get Gowns Early

Students who will be graduated at the end of this semester may pick up their caps and gowns at the bookstore any time after February 9. Mr. Bruce warns that orders for gowns must be in early. Graduates will return their gowns in Alumni Hall directly after the exercises.

Ralph Barnett Named Chairman Of Union Building Fund Drive

Orono, Me., Jan.—Ralph Barnett '49, has been named chairman of a 1948 Organization Committee which will lead this year's student subscription campaign for the University of Maine's Memorial Union Building Fund.

Barbara Hines and Willard Nisbet have been selected as assistant chairmen of the group. Their committee will plan one phase of a campaign designed to contact all persons connected with the University and raise funds for a $900,000 memorial to the school's men and women who served in World War II.

Other members of the organization committee who will serve as section captains include: Elaine Perkins, to represent Balentine Hall; Louise Powers, Colvin Hall; June Smith, North Estabrooke; June Swanton, South Estabrooke; Doris Stanley, The Elms; Phyllis Osgood, East Hall.

Nancy Hubbard, West Hall; Jane Hinckley, Bangor women; Margaret Ketchen, Old Town women; Mary Dirks, Orono women; Roger Thurrell, Fraternities; James H. Tuttle, Hannibal Hamlin Hall; David Hamlin, Oak Hall; Harlan Witham, Dunn Hall; Richard Edes, Corbett Hall.

Edward R. Cowles and Millard Whitaker, North Dorms; Mark Shedd, Bangor men; Robert W. Anderson, Old Town men; Constance Drew, Brewer district; Morna Kimball, Hampden; Arthur Clark, the University trailers; and Lawrence Hadley, the South Apartments.

Youth Leaders Out To Defeat UMT

Nineteen youth leaders have issued a call for action to defeat the universal training bill which will come before the new session of Congress, it was learned today from Mrs. Elsie Van-Buren Willcox, Smith '47, who is serving as executive secretary of the group.

A National Youth Assembly is planned for Washington for Sunday and Monday, February 15-16.

A call has been sent to 2,000 youth and campus leaders, suggesting that Congress "adopt instead of U.M.T. a constructive plan to meet the real needs of American youth for housing, education, health and security."

Recipients of the call were asked to join the 19-member committee as sponsors, to participate in planning the assembly in Washington, and to make arrangements for delegations from their own campuses and youth organizations. The Assembly has established an office at 38 Worth St., New York City.

News In A Nutshell

By TRAPPER

A few weeks ago this column began, "let me call you Comrade," and further continued to assert that Russia was preparing to wage war against the U. S. . . . As soon as the paper came out my troubles began. When I appeared on campus, Ancient-Mariner-eyed zealots would point an accusing finger against my chest and back me up to the nearest wall or tree. With arguments suspiciously like those of Henry Wallace, they would prove to me that poor, peace-loving Russia has been criminally misrepresented in the U. S., and that we, in order to make amends, should withdraw the ERP and aid to Greece, call our troops back from overseas, and avoid U. M. T. . . . Because I am a modest, unassuming, young chap, I had no words to refute them, and crushed by their logic, humbly went my way. . . . Now everything is reversed. I am seeking out those same zealots to call to their attention the secret German documents which have been made public by the U. S. State Department. These documents prove conclusively that, until their break, Russia and Nazi-Germany were partners in aggression and had agreed to split Europe between them. But I cannot find the zealots anywhere. They disappear when they see me coming; and I am wondering just what they would say to defend poor old Russia now.

Recently, it has been announced that Gen. Eisenhower is, by his own choice, out of the presidential nomination race. Now, if Gen. McArthur should follow suit, there would be no danger of signs on the White House reading "off limits to enlisted personnel."

In London, last Thursday, Ernest Bevin declared a new foreign policy for Britain. In general the policy is the opposition of Soviet aggression, and a consolidated Western Europe. . . . Opposition leader, Winston Churchill pointed out that the new policy is almost the same as the proposal of two years ago, for a United States of Europe to counterbalance Russia.

The French government has finally performed an unpleasant necessity; the franc has been devalued to the rate of 216 to the dollar. Would this, do you suppose, make ninety dollars a lot of money in Paris today?

March Of Dimes Dance

The annual March of Dimes dance, sponsored by Chi Omega, will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium this Saturday evening, January 31.

The proceeds from the dance will go to the Infantile Paralysis Fund. Admission will be $.50.

Fraternity Social Relations Have Room For Improvement

By SAM JONES

NEWS ITEM . . . Alpha Gamma Rho, under the leadership of its president, Otto Wallingford, and its social chairman, Carl Estes, held an invitation buffet supper and dance for the girls from the Elms last Friday evening. Dr. and Mrs. Howard Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smythe and Miss Oliver, house director at the Elms, served as chaperons for the affair. Nearly 65 persons attended.

We give our Maine Friendship Award for the week to Alpha Gamma Rho. Their revival of an old custom should set the pace for some of the other fraternities on campus. Most of our fraternities are presupposed upon sociability.

Radio Guild Tells Subba Rao's Story

The series of events which induced Langan Subba Rao to enter the University of Maine was narrated last night over WLBZ on the Maine Radio Guild Program.

Subba Rao, a native of India, appeared briefly at the close of the show. During the story, his part was taken by George Gonyar.

Other members of the cast included Al Weymouth and Bob Arnold. Lee Davis, as Mr. University, recounted the story. The script was written and directed by Rita Graham.

Next week the Guild will produce a quiz program.

Let's start getting sociable!

Alpha Gam's gesture has opened the door. If the others follow suit, many who would otherwise not enjoy the benefits of fraternity social life, would have a chance to partake of the social benefits which fraternities can offer.

Also what happened to that idea of exchange suppers? We heard of it this fall but nothing more has been done. An informal survey taken among the fraternity members showed great interest. If we don't stay together we shall soon become small isolated living units instead of social-friendly-fraternities.

What better way can there be to start this much-needed revival of interfraternity spirit than exchange dinners?

How would this plan operate?

Perhaps we could set aside one night a week, say Wednesday, for a starter, during which five or six men from each house would have dinner in another house as their guests. A rotation of persons and houses visited could quite easily be worked out. Results intangible of course, but better spirit and greater cooperation should occur!

This matter rests with the interfraternity council, but they are but representatives of the houses and rely upon house opinions for guidance. A majority of houses are needed to put this idea into operation, but with the members behind it, it can be done. It is done at other schools!

Must our fraternities become stagnant? Talk it over in your house. Let's get sociable. It pays off!

A Whale Of A Problem

Universal military training has become a whale in the military puddle. In fact, it's so big that every other creature struggling for survival in the same water has been snuffed out. Under the present program, the proposition is hotter than the proverbial snowball.

Military authorities seem to agree on one thing—if we have another war, it will be of short duration. Yet, they persist in training personnel in the use of now obsolete weapons. Placed in the hands of unthinking youth these weapons are about as useful as matchsticks. The puddle must either be drained dry or enlarged to take in an entirely new phase of warfare, defense against the atomic bomb and the jet-propelled plane.

What can possibly be done under the old set-up? Man must think if he is to survive. The emphasis must be placed on an educational program that will cover a longer period of time than one year.

Why should the facts be glossed over? What should be the place of the college in the future on this important question?

Give A Dime

The 1948 March of Dimes program is well under way. Throughout the Nation the call resounds. There is a greater need than ever for the answering tinkle of that small coin, the dime.

Don't pass the boxes by. This is one time when a dime buys more than any other coin. Of course, the more dimes the better!

Editor's Notes

Bouquet of the week goes to the local chapter of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers who have made plans to hold a second dance Winter Carnival eve. Many students will thank the ASAE for this far-sighted effort.

A report this corner has not had time to investigate concerns some University fire escapes. Mentioned as not being in too good condition were those at the infirmary and the Administration building. We intend to take a good look before next press time, perhaps they'll be a little better by then.

On the point of conserving electricity, what about all these empty buildings with door lights burning all night? Half-way cooperation will help but little.

No Campus for two weeks. The staff has finals, too.

SCOTCH AND SODA

By BIFF SHALEK

Blessed be the male animal. He walks about on his hind legs, grunting, pounding his chest, and patting himself on the back. With the girls he's a killer, a man about dorms, a Casa-NovaEstabrookeBalentine, or what have you.

That's what he thinks!!

With the girls he's:

"I went out with the cutest Cadillac Convertible last night. You push a button and the windows go up. Boy a super bus."

"I had an awful time last night. He never said anything and when he did talk it was all about world problems, or some drippy thing like that. He didn't know the first thing about parties, dances, or anything. I don't know why the boys of the house ever pledged him."

What's wrong with that? Nothing, actually, nothing. In the case of the girl and the convertible, the car made a bigger impression on her than the guy. That's Life, fifteen cents a copy. All she has to be careful of is that the Cadi doesn't backfire. The other girl? Well, all work and no play makes Jack... But look, little feather-brain Flossie, there's a little more to college than bending a pseudo-sophisticated elbow in the bookstore. Especially the way you louse up the coffee-cups and cigarettes with your lipstick.

Strange as it might seem, your cocktail-party education isn't what most men are after. They read the book instead of the bookjacket. Their education is to make them dough, not pleasant conversation.

Forgive them will you? Now I think I will go back to bed.

THE NEW LOOK

The pride of all college men, winter sports enthusiasts or armchair sportsmen, is a ski-sweater hand knit by a fond acquaintance, be it grandmother or girl friend. Bob Eddy's specialty is patterned with ski figures in blue making two bands across the top and bottom on a white background. Blue snowflakes are scattered in between and on the sleeves. Very attractively done in a forest green with red figures forming a wide band at the waist is the colorful sweater worn by Hugh Hunter.

Showing his fraternity spirit, Johnny Parsons wears a good-looking sweater with a black background and a distinctive pattern made up of the Greek letters, Sigma Chi and the Maltese cross.

No, you are not seeing double.

Those ski-sweaters proudly displayed by Jane Hastings and Johnny Folsom are knit from an identical pattern. They both have a navy-blue background broken up with white figures. The only difference is the red stripe underlining the shoulder design on Johnny's.

With the growing interest in skiing in this country, the modern ski-sweater, the product of an old Scandinavian tradition, has come to this side of the Atlantic. In those old days when skis were the only means of transportation, each housewife was expected to keep her whole family outfitted for travel so she spun and dyed her own yarn and worked it into colorful patterns to keep the drudgery out of constant knitting. Thus we have the attractive ski-sweater of today.

University Society

By Jo Look

The Freshmen held a dance in Estabrooke last Friday night. Decorations were silhouettes in red and white crepe paper. Refreshments, dancing, and ping pong were the evening's entertainment. Chaperons were Dr. and Mrs. Brush and Mr. and Mrs. Byer.

The Maine Radio Guild sponsored a stag dance Friday night in the Mem. Gym. Entertainment by the Guild members was the highlight of the evening. The Pandas played for the dance which followed.

The boys of the new dorms were hosts Saturday evening in the Estabrooke "rec" rooms for an evening of dancing. A bay ride preceded the dance.

Saturday night the Combined Glee Clubs sponsored a Cabaret and dance in the Memorial Gymnasium. The entertainment proved very enjoyable. The "Frankie and Johnny" ballad was acted in pantomime while James Selwood, musical director, interpreted the antics. Sammy Saliba and his Orchestra provided music for the dance which followed.

Engaged this week are Sylvia Benson and Charles E. Day, and Betty Noyes and Harold Hopkinson.

Martha Fogler is now wearing the Sigma Chi pin of Don Hobbs.

I'm Usually Wrong But

Be happy, people. This week the words of wisdom which pour out through the typewriter to you shall be limited, as we wish to give Monty Higgins the best of going away presents, a lot of space for his weekly Robert Benchley-like ramblings.

The subject under discussion in this pillar might just as well be termed "How the students of Maine failed to get co-operation," or "Under the thumb in darkest Siberia." I refer, as you have already grasped, I presume, to the monkey business about the cut system.

Last week the Campus reported that the University Committee on Administration turned down a proposal that a trial period be set up during which cuts would be unlimited. No good reason was given for the refusal, other than the vague offering that it wouldn't work. To spare innocent people from undue criticism, let it be known here that Maynard Jordan was not among those advancing this theory.

I suggest that you students, if you really want a change in the cut system, write to your parents asking them to send back a letter approving the unlimited cut method. Turn over the letters to the General Senate. If enough people carry this out, the letters should have some effect on the final decision. If that doesn't work, it looks like the only thing left is for everyone to take off the day before a vacation. It would be fun to watch the fireworks.

P.S.—Members of the Faculty and Administration: Don't read the column this week; it's not very interesting. And besides, I do want to graduate someday.

—BILL BRENNAN

Monty Higgins Says:

I overheard an artist say, "It is the duty of every artist to go about the world looking at everyone as though they were undressed."

Well now, I knew I'd find some good reason for taking At 11 (Advanced Free-hand Drawing and Sketching) if I searched long enough. Before I learned this important duty of every artist, my wife got very angry whenever from long force of habit my eyes wandered over the form of some lovely young girl. My wife pulled my hair, hit me over the head with croquet mallets, and put buckshot in my peasoup. Things had got to the point that I had trained my inboard eye, next to my wife, to stare straight ahead while my outboard eye, on the side away from my wife, took in the beautiful things of life. This business was making me crosseyed, and besides one needs both eyes to do justice to the hobby. So nowadays I just tell my wife I am doing homework for my art class and stare away.

Now don't get me wrong. I love my wife. I think she is beautiful. But when some healthy young thing ankles past, I am an artist through and through.

In one of my classes we are allowed to smoke. It wasn't so bad last year when eight of us smoked in a seminar class, but with thirty of us puffing this year—well, we come out of there with our clothes smelling like a Boston and Maine smoking car. The air—ranging in color from blue to yellow—fills your throat and nose until your head feels like an overstuffed sofa cushion. Can't see much either.

Thinking to fight smoke with smoke, I took my Arabian hookah (water-pipe, that is) to class. I lit it and sent up a grey smudge. That along with the corncobs, briars, cigarets, and Havana lettuce was too much. They had to drag me into the hall and give me artificial respiration.

I am browsing about the Army Surplus Stores looking for a gas mask for class wear.

One disadvantage this postwar enrollment has caused is irregular arrangement of hours on class schedules. Many of us are dragging toward classes before daylight, have the day broken up by occasional classes, and drag home again after dark. Saturday classes too! Gad! Six days makes one weak!

On my wedding day last June, my wife's little brother observed, "Nyaa, nyaa! You're taller than he is!" Well, it was too late for her to back out by that time, and I must say she has been a good sport about it all. Just the same, whenever we pose together for snapshots I make sure I am uphill from her. My mail order, elevator shoes should arrive any time now.

A FRIEND IN NEED, and Marguerite DesJardins, West Hall, has two. Margie broke her ankle while resting from a hard day of skiing, but Pat Hamilton and Joan Craig make sure that she gets to class.

Musical Christened "Then And Again"

The original musical play by Al Dumais and Peggy Preble has finally been christened, Herschel L. Bricker announced today. Born early this semester, the play has been un-named until this week when the title "Then and Again" was finally chosen.

Student interest in the play, written in accordance with the modern manner—that of having a definite and substantial plot to a musical—has been high, Professor Bricker reported, adding that it would be impossible for him to name those chosen for the various parts at the present time.

Any student who was unable to try-out during the regular reading periods, but is interested in being auditioned, should contact Professor Bricker at 330 Stevens as soon as possible.

NCAA Meetings Are Largest And Best, Says Dean Wieman

The recent meetings of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's representatives in New York and of the Football Rules Committee in Savannah, Georgia, are said by Dean Wieman, president of the Football Coaches Association, to have been not only the largest ever held but probably the most successful as well.

Two major problems discussed in the NCAA meeting were post-season football games and the giving of financial aid to athletes.

A committee was appointed to investigate the matter of post-season games, since it is felt that the almost unlimited increase in bowl games, most of them presented purely for publicity purposes, may become detrimental to the game.

The NCAA adopted an amendment to their constitution concerning aid to athletes which states, in effect, that no financial support shall be offered to athletes which is not available to any other student attending the institution.

Many colleges and universities, including Maine, are already complying with this rule and have been for some time, but schools which have been approaching professionalism in athletics will be required to change their methods or face possible exclusion from the NCAA.

The Rules Committee approved a number of recommendations made by a sub-committee, of which Dean Wieman was a member, suggesting compromises which might be made between colleges and high schools in order to provide a common code for both.

Only three minor changes were made in the existing rules. In the future it will be permissible to use a tee on all free kicks. If a free kick goes out of bounds it will be kicked over from its original position. If it goes out again it will be given to the receiving team 10 yards ahead of the point where it was put into play.

After a team has had its four time outs, if time is called because of an injury to a player, only the injured player can be replaced without drawing a penalty for too many time outs.

Penny Carnival Has Mardi Gras Theme

Penny Carnival, the event of the W.A.A. year, will take place March 5 under the chairmanship of Martha Bond. The theme this year is the "Mardi Gras" and we'll all go Southern to the tune of Ray Downs' orchestra. Martha has appointed her committee chairmen who will need many assistants. Plan to come in costume for the Mardi Gras.

The W.A.A. Officials Club, with Sue Dartnell, chairman, and Liz Zaitlin, secretary, announces that application for membership may be made by all girls. Prospective members must be able to pass a qualifying examination which is both written and practical. Girls passing these exams receive intramural official's rating. To maintain standing in the club, members must officiate some minimum number of games to be established at the beginning of the season. The official's club will be set up for four sports but members are not required to officiate in all sports. No dues are required. Standards were set up by Helen Buzzell, Morna Kimball, Peg Millington, and Sue Dartnell. The object of the club is to prepare nationally rated officials.

Bear Facts

By MURPH LINEHAN

Finals are upon us, but Maine's varsity basketball crew is faced with the tough proposition of a gruelling battle with Connecticut's Nutmeggers next Monday night on the Orono court before they'll be able to hit the books successfully. This game is the last of the semester, and the Bears won't be in action again until the fourteenth when they play a return engagement with Northeastern in Memorial Gym. This season as per usual, Connecticut brings up a big smooth-operating team, and judging from recent performances, they will be hard to lick. A couple of weeks ago, the Nutmeggers lost a game to their arch rivals Rhode Island by two points, so that should present an idea of their prowess. Preceding the varsity match, the Maine J.V.'s will attempt to knock off a high flying M.C.I. troupe, and this promises to be a humdinger also.

For the Sake of Competition . .

Grover Rist, patron and benefactor of Bangor's Potters, a professional court club, has hit upon an interesting device to secure competition for his excellent team. By contracting with opposition quintets to make remuneration to them only in proportion to the number of points they score, Mr. Rist has set himself up as treasurer of the realm. The plan hasn't produced any tough foes as yet, but it will probably bring good professional teams to Maine as soon as the word goes around. The Potters' next opponents will be the Gardiner Dynamos this Sunday, and the "dough for points" plan will also be in operation in this contest. The idea reminds one of the fabulous John McGraw of a couple of decades past when he paid his pitchers a bonus for every shut-out inning they hurled.

Merely a Suggestion . .

The news that Jorge Pasquel is on the rampage again has struck terror to the hearts of major league baseball magnates. Pasquel's particular aversion is when he sees a diamond performer who takes his royal fancy, he simply offers said ball player an ungodly sum of money to come to Mexico and play in the new Mexican league. Assuming this same ball player appreciates the almighty dollar in the appropriate manner, he just packs up and takes off for south of the border. So far U. S. baseball managers and owners have done nothing but accuse Pasquel of banditry and kidnapping. Now the suggestion: That major league baseball reorganize and include all of the countries that have a baseball-minded populace and the money to back a club of big league calibre. Why should a few cities, east of the Mississippi be blessed with a major league entrant, especially when they can't support same (St. Louis, a shining example), while there are others all over the continent ready, willing, and very capable of nurturing such an organization. This idea is not original, it has been voiced in print many times . . . too many to ignore.

Fall Out!

This Saturday afternoon at 2, Maine's frosh team, fresh from its victory over a good John Baptist High School quintet, will provide an escape from studying when they tangle with Presque Isle over in Memorial Gym. The affair will be a good one for the two clubs appear evenly matched, so take a break and get over there.

Bears To Meet UConns, Huskies Here Next

Ski Teams Will Meet Annex Squad

University athletics for the next two or three weeks will be somewhat restricted by final examinations, but the program is far from lacking. This coming Saturday the A and B squads of the Maine ski team compete against a team from the Brunswick Annex, at Orono. The Brunswick team will compete as a unit, and the events will be run off like the meet with Colby, with the two University squads being separate teams.

The Ski team practiced the past week end in preparation for this coming meet, and the next intercollegiate competition, which will be held at the Dartmouth Carnival on the 13th and 14th of February. The team's six best jumpers spent Sunday at Rumford, while the remaining skiers practiced downhill and slalom on Bald Mountain, in a program of training and conditioning (and the tow was not working).

The Dartmouth Carnival will pit the best teams of the country against the Maine outfit, with such units as Middlebury, Vermont, St. Lawrence, McGill, New Hampshire, and the home team competing. Dartmouth recently upset the Middlebury team, at Underhill, Vermont, in combined cross country and jumping, to establish themselves as a distinct threat in the coming meet. Maine placed ahead of Dartmouth last year, behind McGill and St. Lawrence.

The team has been rounding into shape, with Willoch getting his form for the cross country, and Bruno Baldacci showing such improvement that Coach Curtis has stated that he will surely be on the jumping team at Hanover, and in the combined as well. Ted Hawkes is another dark horse who has been moving up to press the first team members in the downhill-slalom combined.

The indoor track squad, returned from the K. of C. meet in Boston on January 24, where the mile and two-mile relay teams each finished fourth in their event, will probably have to skip the B.A.A. on the seventh of February, because of the conflict with examinations.

The Freshman basketball team will be seeking its second win this coming Saturday, when the Presque Isle Wildcats tangle in the Memorial Gym. The Frosh nosed out Baptist 69-62 last Saturday on the home floor.

Simpson And Gates Lead State Series Scoring Race

Bobcat center Bill Simpson and the Bates College cagers have taken over first place in the State Series scoring race in individual and team averages, according to figures released today.

With his 29 points against Bowdoin and his 15 against the University of Maine, Simpson sped well ahead of Maine's Bob Gates with a total of 109 series points in six games. The Maine squad still has four men in the top ten, however, while Bates has three, Bowdoin two, and Colby one. Gates is now in second place with 98 points, and Ace Bailey of Bates has third nailed down with a total of 94.

The Petromen lead the state in team scoring with 396 points in six games for a 66 point average. The Bobcats stand fifteenth among the nation's small colleges in that department.

Only new face in the top ten scorers for this week is Russ Burns.

Beta Continues To Set Pace In Intramural Basketball Race

Intramural Basketball reached mid-season this past week with the same teams leading the different leagues, and with but few changes in the individual standings.

In the fraternity league, Beta continues to pace the pack, with Phi Gamma hot on their heels. Kappa Sigma, Phi Mu, and Phi Eta are close behind the two top teams, while Tau Ep, which held third place last week, dropped to a sixth place tie, losing to Kappa Sigma on Sunday, 47-40, and to Phi Eta on the following day, 65-55.

The Kappa Sigma game was close right to the wire, but the sensational set-shooting of Gerry Poulin and the fine passing of the Kappa Sigs was too much for Tau Ep. Ev Beals was the big gun in the Phi Eta win, with 32 points, 14 of them collected via the foul route. Phi Eta led all the way, and never was in danger of losing.

In other fraternity games, Sigma Nu suffered losses to SAE, 39-29, and Delta Tau, 38-36, in a thriller; Theta Chi thumped Alpha Gam, 40-21.

The most thrilling game of the season saw South Apartments edge Center Oak, 54-52, after two overtime periods, and in "sudden death." 11 & 13 eked out a 38-35 win over #1, despite Lewia's 12 points. DIF3 copped a five-point win this week, defeating DIF4, 40-35. Ocummo ran over 4 & 6, 58-39, led by Pressley, with 21 pointers, and Building 16 drubbed #2, 69-17, with Davis and Loranger accounting for 26 points between them.

Informal hockey continued this week, although hampered by snow. First round matches were concluded Saturday when Phi Gam and Phi Mu combined to beat Delta Tau, 5-2, and SAE and ATO edged out Corbett-Dunn, 3-2.

ROTC Rifle Team Wins Two Of Four Matches

During the past week the ROTC rifle team at the University defeated the University of Vermont and the University of Alaska and lost to Pittsburgh and Indiana. Teams participated on their own rifle ranges and notified opponents by mail.

Final scores of the meets, including standing, prone, and kneeling positions were: Maine 1,369, Vermont 1,359; Maine 1,841, Alaska 1,636; Maine 1,369, Pittsburgh 1,391; Maine 1,841, Indiana 1,872.

The six high men to date for Maine are Richard Coffin, 380; Don Stanton, 369; Butler Pratt, 369; Wesley Wight, 367; Leroy Rand, 356; Mardelle Griffin, 355.

Visiting Team Is Favorite For Monday

Maine hoop fans will have the opportunity of seeing one of New England's top college basketball teams in action when the powerful Connecticut team invades the Memorial Gym next Monday night. Bringing a strong club which has faced a rugged schedule to date, the Uconns show a fine record and will enter the game as favorites to edge the home forces.

Quite a few of the Conn. squad will be familiar to Maine fans because of the parts that they played in routing Maine here last year. Art Fisher, high scoring forward, Stan Sorota, Joe Maloney and Charley Muzikevic are all veterans and will be remembered. Sorota, who is the team's high point man, paced the scorers in an earlier meeting between the two teams in which the Conn. team had little trouble in rolling up a 63-29 score on the Bears.

Since that earlier encounter the Uconns have dropped close games to Rhode Island and Yale, and they appear to be even stronger. However, the Maine squad has been working together much more smoothly of late and has hit a stride which has given it impressive wins and an excellent 8 and 3 record.

The preliminary fray will find the Jayvees facing the potentially strong M.C.I. team. The prep school outfit has not been too successful so far this year but will be gunning for the acclaim which would result from a win over the Junior Varsity combine.

On Feb. 14 the Bears will play host to the Northeastern Huskies in the second of their two yearly tussles. Maine came from behind in the first game to earn a 56-52 verdict, as Bob Gates counted twenty points to lead a last half surge to victory.

The Huskies' line-up includes a number of court stars who played fine ball here last year. Tom Blair, who showed so well as a rebound artist and smooth ballhandler, is back again as are Al Rodenhizer and George Watts. Blair scored 13 points in the first encounter and was aided by Fran Walsh and Tony Magliozzi, both of whom scored in the double figures.

Maine is expected to use the same line-up which has started in most of the games so far. Bob Gates, the team's leading scorer with 150 points, will be at one forward spot with Ted Boynton at the opposite post. Charley Goddard will perform at the center position, and George O'Donnell and Al Hopkins will hold forth at the guards.

Off-Campus Team Wins, White League Champs

Monday afternoon saw the championship of the White League determined when East Hall and Off-Campus played off a first place tie. Off-Campus captured the title with a 32-17 win. Members of the Off-Campus team are: R. Linkletter, H. Buzzell, J. Sullivan, E. Curtis, P. Jones, M. Kimball, L. Small, R. Graham, J. McGouldrick, S. Woods, and E. Statten.

The Off-Campus team will play the Elms, winners of the Blue League, next Saturday. Members of the Elms team are: E. Waltz, D. Stanley, A. Dibblee, L. Hilton, M. Zelenkewich, P. Bartlett, C. Strong, S. Johnson, E. Marden, B. Arnold, B. Lyons, and S. Jackson.

Ray Downs Band Is Newest Addition

The newest musical organization to hit the Maine campus is the Ray Downs orchestra. Having played throughout this section for a few months, Ray made his first appearance locally two weeks ago.

The outstanding feature of Ray's music is the playing of nearly all special arrangements, many of them written by Ray himself, Greg Osgood '50, and Red Markle '49.

Other members of the orchestra include Bing Pettigrew, a graduate student, Roger Rackliffe '49, and Bill Gordon, Bangor High School.

Ray, a freshman engineer, was very pleased at the fine reception given his band by the students. Any interested organization may contact him by calling Bangor 22179.

MOC Asks Student Courtesy In Filling Holes Made By Spills

The Maine Outing Club wishes to urge all students to exercise a courtesy while skiing across the river. There seem to be some people who just refuse to fill up the holes after they take a spill. If the holes are not filled up, a hazard is created and the next fellow down may hit the hole and spend the rest of the season in the hospital. Some of the better skiers have been cutting some pretty sharp turns in front of less experienced people, and thus spoiling their fun. The slope is for everyone to enjoy and the MOC hopes that a little courtesy will be shown.

The tow is set up to allow skiers to go up either side of it. The procedure is to alternate from one side to the other so that both lines may move along at the same rate of speed. If people continue to cut in without waiting their turn, the Outing Club will be forced to ask them to stop using the tow altogether. The outing club built the tow for the students at great cost and many many hard hours. The club hopes that the students will repay them by just thinking of the other fellow first.

The Maine Outing Club also wishes to announce that it is not compelled to return trip fees if an individual merely doesn't show up. The outing club pays a part of every trip that it sponsors and it is not always possible to make both ends meet. However, the club returns the money if it possibly can. If a member finds he can't go on a trip after he signs up, he is urged to call some member of the Pack and Pine to assure himself that his money will be returned.

Professor Evans Attends Meeting

Professor Weston Evans, head of the department of civil engineering, attended a meeting of the American Association of Civil Engineers in New York, Wednesday to Saturday of this week.

He also attended the meeting of the Civil Engineering Division of the American Society of Engineering Education. Last year Professor Evans served as chairman of this division and this year he is director and editor of the bulletin.

Professor Hamilton Gray, of the College of Technology, attended the Soil Mechanics Division meeting. Professor Gray serves as secretary of this division.

NSA Delegates Address Senate

Following a brief General Senate meeting last Thursday night, Larry Ward, Joe Wheeler and Ray Trough, all of Bowdoin, addressed the Senate members and a number of interested students and faculty members on the organization and aims of the National Student's Association.

Joe Wheeler, who was a delegate to the Association's constitutional convention held at Madison, Wisconsin, last summer, briefly outlined the history of the organization. According to Wheeler, the first move to organize was begun by a group of 25 students who represented the United States at the meeting of the International Union of Students last summer at Prague, Czechoslovakia.

Better Understanding

These students were deeply concerned over the faulty impressions that foreign students were getting of Americans, and organized NSA with one of their primary aims being to bring about understanding among student groups on a world basis.

Ray Trough, president of the Bowdoin Student Council, described the plans of NSA to strengthen student governments by dissemination of information concerning plans and methods used by other organizations to colleges which have ineffectual or no student governments.

Details Explained

After the addresses, a question and answer period was conducted as the Bowdoin representatives explained details of the organization and operation of the Association.

It was explained that the NSA is financed by dues from the member colleges, the dues being proportional to the enrollment of the college—$177 annually in the case of the University of Maine.

Representation is also on an enrollment basis, the maximum number of representatives allowed any college or university being seven.

$34,844 Budget

It was further explained that the national budget of the Association is now $34,844, twelve thousand of which is used for the salaries of the five national officers and a secretary.

The Bowdoin representatives stressed the fact that membership in the Association is by vote of the entire student body of the college and that no independent groups can be represented. It was also brought out that any college can disaffiliate from the NSA at any time.

Union Building's Main Dining Room Will Be Gift Of Ford Mfg. Company

A donation of $19,000, the largest non-alumni gift received to date, has been presented the Union Building Fund by the Ford Manufacturing Company of Cambridge, Mass.

At the request of Joseph Ford, president of the company, the money will be used to construct a large and attractively furnished main dining room. Situated on the first floor and measuring 34 by 50 feet, the room will hold about 100 persons.

In addition to accommodating students and faculty, the proposed "Ford Room" will be of particular benefit to visiting alumni, parents, and other campus guests. According to present plans, the room will also be available for alumni and student banquets.

Mrs. Rena Bowles, chairman of the Union Building Fund drive for Penobscot county, has announced that Penobscot County Alumnae have reached 95 per cent of their quota in the drive. This organization now stands in third place behind Rhode Island state with 104% and Canada with 101%.

Within Penobscot county, the Orono women are leading all other groups with 59 per cent

Club Seeks Help For Hungry Editors

The University of Maine Press Club is conducting a campaign to call attention to the present plight of the newspapermen who, under United States guidance, are trying to give Germany a free press.

According to Fred W. McDonald, president of the club, a member has received a personal letter from an American military government official who says, "The effects of the extraordinarily dry summer are now making themselves felt, with a number of our editors fainting at their desks for lack of proper nourishment."

The letter-writer expresses the hope that persons and groups who are sending packages to Germany will "send a few packages to the newspapers, who so richly deserve aid."

The Press Club, McDonald says, is not engaging in direct solicitations or collections, but hopes to bring the facts to the attention of persons who may wish to help through CARE or other regular relief channels.

Youngs Explains $100 Ruling As Aid To Struggling Veterans

In an effort to bring the facts of the university is willing to accept in lieu of the general regulation that all bills are payable on registration day.

Wood Chopping Project

The $100 bill, according to Youngs, must be met at the beginning of the semester. It is assessed in an effort to avoid having students faced with a deficit not covered by GI checks at the end of the spring semester.

According to regulations set forth in the University Bulletin, all University bills are payable on registration day.

Youngs explained that University authorities, taking account of the veterans' situation, evolved a plan of monthly payments. If a student was unable to pay his bill in full at the beginning of the fall semester, he was able to make a $100 deposit and monthly $55 payments. In this fashion the total would have been paid by May 1.

A few students who followed this plan now have sizeable credits to their account, said Youngs. This credit will be applied against the $100 bill. Many students, however, did not meet the monthly assessment regularly, and are thus behind in their deposits.

The $100 payment, according to Youngs, is the amount that the Uni-

As a community project of the MCA, students have been doing some wood-chopping at the University lot in Stillwater. Carl Perry has acted as foreman of the woodchopping activities, and Charlie O'Conner went along on the recent trip. Students taking part last week were Nancy Whiting, Fred Bigney, Shirley Lang, Barbara Hastings, Martha Bond, Carl Perry, Arthur Linnell, Kenneth Giddings, Gwendolyn Small, Valerie Smith, Richard Young, and Milton Mills.

Senate Votes To Send Powers To NSA

The Men's Senate Tuesday evening voted to send William Powers, North Dorm 1, as a representative to the National Student Association congress at Boston University February 6-7.

The Men's Senate will petition the General Senate to provide funds for Powers' expense. Powers is to report to the Senate at its next meeting.

Harlan Witham, New Dorm 1, continuing his investigation of laundry complaints, revealed that he had extracted promises of better work in the future from the New Franklin Laundry. An immediate result of his probe will be the use of heavier paper to wrap clean laundry.

The Senate also voted to approach the Deans of the various colleges and request them to have representatives from their faculties at the next Senate meeting to discuss the proposed revisions of the cut system.

Jack Hawley, Old Town, Bill Skolfield, Orono, Ken Vennett, Sigma Nu, and Frank Mace, Old Town, were appointed for this task.

The Senate is interested in hearing the various objections to the present system or proposed systems explained.

Bridge Play-Offs Held

Eight Maine students have reached the final round of the Bridge Tournament play-offs, and will represent the University in an intercollegiate bridge tournament to be held during the last part of February.

Winners in the play-offs were: (1) Paul Palmer and Philip Whitney, (2) Richard Sturtevant and Walter Verrill, (3) Sidney Howe and Mervin Curtis, and (4) Elliot Lamb and Edgar Merrill.

Recognize This Picture?

It's familiar to almost everyone because pictures and stories of the atomic bomb tests at Bikini appeared in newspapers throughout the nation within hours after the historic blast.

Speed is a creed with newsmen and the Bell System helps make that speed possible.

It provides the local, Long Distance and radio-telephone, telegraph, teletypewriter and wire-photo facilities over which news is channeled to presses and microphones.

Keeping these facilities in top condition, ever improving and ever expanding, is the interesting job of many qualified men.

It is but one phase of the many-sided telephone industry in which thousands have found challenging and rewarding careers.

There's a future in telephony.
