Members of the All-Maine Women Society are chosen from the two upper classes on the basis of character, honor, dignity, and willingness to accept responsibility.

Woodsmen Place Third At Dartmouth

With a team of six University men: Charles Brown, Edwin Cates, Earle Moore, and Edward Rockwell, Fred Dean, Allison Catheron, team captain, and team manager, John Gallagher, under the sponsorship of the Maine Outing and Forestry Clubs, Maine entered for the first time a thirteen-event woodcraft contest put on by the Dartmouth Outing Club at Storrs Pond, Hanover, New Hampshire.

Dartmouth, the winner in the competition which lasted two days, was followed in second place by Kimball Union Academy who beat Maine by only a few points in the last event.

The events included chopping, cross-cut and buck sawing, packboard racing, fire building, tree identification, canoe races, and fly casting.

Goff Gets Scholarship From Wayne University

Merle F. Goff of Westbrook, who will receive a degree in public administration at the University of Maine in June, has been awarded a fellowship at Wayne University.

During the coming summer Goff will serve as assistant to the planning director of Portland. He will leave about September 1 to take part in the Volker Program in Citizen Leadership and Public Administration in conjunction with the School of Public Affairs of Wayne University and the Detroit Bureau of Governmental Research.

Ten outstanding students from all sections of the nation are selected annually to study under the Volker Program for careers in public service.

Hillman Is Valedictorian

Arthur M. Hillman was elected valedictorian of the class of 1948 during voting held last Thursday. Class Day exercises will be held June 18.

Ripon Haskell will give the salutatory address, and Bryce Lambert will serve as chaplain.

The class history will be delivered by veteran orator Nick Broutas. Barbara Andrews will write the class ode, and Lydia Backer the poem.

Bob Browne and Carolyn Foley will search into the future for the class prophecy. The last will and testament of the class of '48 will be compiled by Bob Merchant and Jan Scales.

Muriel Applebee Honored By ROTC

A special ceremonial battalion parade, the last of the season for the Reserve Officers Training Corps at the University, will be held Monday, May 24, at 1:45 on the Athletic Field.

The parade will be in honor of Muriel Applebee, honorary lieutenant colonel of the ROTC.

Medals for outstanding cadets will be presented. The U. S. Coast Artillery Medal, being presented here for the first time, will be given to the most outstanding first year student in the artillery corps.

The Military Department Medal will be presented to the best second year student in the basic course.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Nieman Curator Coming To Address Press Club

The University of Maine Press Club will have its final luncheon of the season at 1 p.m., on Friday, May 21, in Room D, South Estabrooke Hall.

Mr. Louis M. Lyons, curator of the Nieman Foundation for Journalism, Harvard University, and editor of Nieman Reports, will be guest speaker. His subject will be "Prejudices About the Press."

Varsity Singers Are Featured At Pops

The University Symphony orchestra, combined Glee Clubs, Modern Dance group, and Varsity singers will present the annual Pop concert on Friday evening, May 28, in the Memorial Gym.

This concert is sponsored by the honorary music society, Mu Alpha Epsilon. Frank Haines is the chairman of the event.

The Varsity singers are a new addition to the Pop concert. Although it is the smallest musical group on the campus, they have presented more concerts throughout the state than any other organization.

Romany Life, by Victor Herbert, is the highlight of the Varsity Singers' program. They will be assisted by Harriette Watson. The glee clubs and orchestra will combine to present the Blue Danube Waltz and other light classical and semi-popular tunes.

No admission charge is made for the concert.

Hildreth To Address Political Clubs

Governor Horace Hildreth will speak in the Louis Oakes Room of the New Library on Friday, May 28, at 7:30, under the sponsorship of the Politics Club and the Young Republicans Club.

The Political Clubs feel very fortunate in obtaining Gov. Hildreth at a time when he is in the midst of campaigning for Senator and busy with his administration in Augusta.

His talk should be of great interest coming very close to the closing of a very hotly contested race for Republican nominee for Senator, and on the heels of charges of maladministration hurled by Mr. Payne, a candidate for the office of governor.

After the talk, the meeting will be open to all questions.

Everyone is welcome and urged to attend.

The final tabulation of the Maine Good Will Drive shows a total of $2124.56 collected.

Although this sum is well below the established goal, the committee considers it quite satisfactory, considering that this is the first year such a campaign has been conducted.

Men's Senate Elects Vennett New Prexy

At its last meeting of the semester Tuesday evening, the Men's Senate elected Ken Vennett President for next year. Ken had been chosen to succeed Bill Hopkins as Vice President shortly after this semester started and has been Acting President of the Senate since Earl White left the University for Belfast a few weeks ago.

Elmer Smallwood asked for a discussion of the Campus Housing Rules. According to Elmer many dormitory students don't understand why they must agree to live in the dorms the full year if signed up for rooms, even if they can get cheaper accommodations off-campus.

Dean Wieman took the floor to assure the body that the Housing Rules had been made by the Administration only after long and careful deliberation. According to the Dean the Board of Trustees had decided that in order to amortize the debt of the new buildings it would be necessary to keep the dormitories full. It is a temporary

The Board of Trustees had also decided that men students rather than women students must occupy the new dorms, the Dean said, because the legislature had appropriated the money for construction with the intention that the buildings were to be occupied by men students during the emergency.

Shapley Tells Seniors To Look To The Stars

Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of Harvard Observatory and Paine Professor of Astronomy at Harvard University, spoke at the annual Recognition Day assembly on Tuesday.

Dr. Shapley's subject was "News from the Galaxies," which left a lot to the imagination. There is an order in the universe, among the stars and constellations that is fixed and capable of study. The lack of order among men due to their capacity to reason and think is what makes it impossible to find a corresponding order here on earth.

Dr. Shapley spoke at some length about his travels and engagements for the week. He is coordinator for an astronomical laboratory and observatory under international control. He has traveled widely and lectured on the workings of the galaxies.

He directed his remarks on the uncertainty of the future toward the Senior honor students, reminding them that the future is in their hands and they should endeavor to follow the example set by the universe and bring an order out of the chaos.

During World War I, 3½ million men were taken into the army, 2 million crossed the Atlantic, and 1½ million took part in battle.

Let's Be Slightly Practical

Let's concede the fact that not everyone is going to be happy over any one thing. But the things that upset some people are difficult to understand.

Perhaps editors are expected to be thick-skinned and aren't expected to appreciate others' feelings. But the limited period spent in the journalistic field by this editor should eliminate such a condition here.

More likely it's simply that no one will ever understand these women. Bless 'em. The uproar raised among the co-eds by the publication of the results of the General Senate election held last week is a little beyond this one.

It seems that publicly announcing the fact that a girl has received fewer votes in a public election than her opponent produces a violent and painful reaction.

Just what the reaction is no one seems to know, except that "they feel bad about it."

If the results had in any way reflected the winners' or losers' characters the possibility of injured feelings might be more readily appreciated.

That condition doesn't exist here. A vote by the general student body picks the winner on the basis of who is known by the most people—not necessarily because the winner has what it will take to lead the world through its troubles.

According to a good many people, although many of them may have been simply expressing their bitterness and frustration, women are naturally catty.

I confess to being unqualified to argue the point either way. But if any one, under the conditions at Maine, can show me any other reason why a girl should be all broken up by having her acquaintances know how many votes she got, please let me know about it. There are some other people who would like to know, also.

It seems reasonable to me that when the student body votes on a group of individuals who are to be its representatives for a year, that it is entitled to know the results of such voting.

In any honest public election I ever saw, the citizens were conceded to have the right of being informed as to the results.

College students are supposed to have passed the stage of childhood and should be prepared to face at least some of the simpler facts.

Did We Recognize Them?

Maybe it's the weather. Nothing pleases me this week.

My latest gripe is the failure of the students to turn out for the Scholarship Recognition Assembly. This is an annual affair, intended to honor students for outstanding and meritorious work during their college career.

In recognizing these students, we are recognizing everything that a university stands for. We are acknowledging that in this country one can still go to college and take what he pleases; not what someone else wishes him to take.

The least we could do is turn out for the assembly in respect for those students being honored.

Admitted: The speech was far from being in keeping with the situation. Perhaps Dr. Shapley doesn't have a very high opinion of what college students can appreciate in a speech, but it is rather difficult to believe his opinion can be that low.

His speech would very likely have been quite appropriate for a meeting of the local poker club; certainly it has no business at a recognition assembly.

May I have this dance?

Mrs. Maine—And Complications

This week we present Mrs. Maine of 1948 (Mrs. Maurice Russell). We wish to extend our heartiest congratulations to the lucky, lovely lady. We think a splendid choice was made.

But we were very unhappy when the winner was announced to the press last Thursday morning, leaving us holding the bag. The story had been scheduled to be released today in the current issue of the magazine sponsoring the contest.

The situation has caused much comment and some complaint among members of the magazine's staff and the local press representatives.

Some of the magazine's staff were highly irritated at the publicity department, claiming undue pressure was exerted to obtain the release of the winner's name.

Here's another opinion: One person knew the results of the election. No one twisted his arm. No one held a gun on him.

The strongest pressure exerted on him was a threat to publish the story of the contest and announce publicly that he had refused to divulge the name of the winner—which would have provided more publicity than his magazine has ever had.

Don't get me wrong. I like the character. He's a swell guy. But I think he booted this one all over the infield.

University Society

By JAN AND KITTY

Don't know why there's no sun up in the sky—STORMY WEATHER!! What did we do to deserve this? It only goes to show that it's never safe to plan picnics for houseparty week end. Sigma Chi and Beta take warning! We hope the gods of sunshine will smile on you as you have your parties this week end.

North Dorms held their semi-formal in the Memorial Gym with music by Bob Percival. Forsaking their original plans of an outing at Great Works, the fellows and their dates picnicked in the Field House, followed by a softball game and square dancing. In the evening an informal dance was held to the music of Sammy Saliba.

Highlight of the Delta Tau formal was the crowning of the first annual Delta Queen. The Delts were fortunate in having President Hauck crown Anne Cederstrom with a wreath of white carnations. Anne was also presented with a loving cup by her escort, Rolly Bouchard. On Saturday an outing was held at the Camden Outing Club lodge with an informal supper and vic dance at the house in the evening.

More than 65 couples danced to the music of Ray Downs at the Lambda Chi Spring Formal Friday night. Saturday Lambdas and their dates arrived at Cold Stream Pond where Chief Cook and Fire Builder, Charlie Brown, supervised the broiling of steaks over a charcoal fire. Torrents of rain caused hardly any trouble at all. Late in the afternoon the gods smiled, providing an opportunity for softball, swimming (the fools!), rollerskating, and boating. In the evening the group returned to the house for singing and square dancing to the music of Squeezebox Fuller, Nimble-fingers Hicks, and Hot-lips Johnson.

Friday night Phi Mu Delta held a formal with 60 couples attending. Saturday the Phi Mus and their dates climbed Cadillac where they viewed the foggy foggy dew. In the evening movies of previous houseparties were shown followed by an informal vic dance.

Originality was the theme of Tau Ep's weekend... they did NOT have their formal Friday night! Instead, a multitude of people crossed the Stillwater to the MOC cabin for a weinie roast, singing, and dancing. The feature attraction of the Saturday night semi-formal was an original skit presented by Gerry Hermanson, Al Mills, Gerry Rogovin, Ronnie Zimmerman, and Joe Gordon.

Jack McDonough and his orchestra played for sixty-five couples Friday night at the Theta Chi formal. Saturday, the Thetas entertained their guests at Lucerne Inn, returning to the house for an informal vic dance in the evening.

Pinnings: Carleen Hoyt to Ed Mikalonis, Lambda Chi Alpha; Beverly Currier to Bob Smith, Phi Kappa Sigma.

Prevue of coming attractions—North Estabrooke will have a turnabout party Saturday night. The girls will call for you, fellas.

I'm Usually Wrong But

By BILL BRENNAN

Friday afternoon I fly down to Washington for a meeting with the SPCA; Karl T. Compton, president of MIT, and I have to attend a meeting of intellectuals of this country, all 78 of them, to discuss how our own little group can show the UN the best method of getting along with Russia.

On Saturday I'm speaking before the New Zealand Association of Higher-Minded People of the world. I'm giving them instructions in clear thinking. The American embassy will meet me at the airport, en masse, with the chief of the Umbiangiagos, a native tribe. I expect the Umbiangiagos will have some of their new recruits, with broomsticks or something for guns, parading in short pants and no shoes.

That reminds me of the time I was returning from Paris where the Amalgamated Association of Philosophers listened to me speak on "Philosophy in the Modern World." We landed at an obscure airport outside of Lisbon and there were all those people waiting for something. No one in my party knew any of them, however, so nothing happened, even though I noticed a little man lurking alongside a big fat—rather, an imposing government official.

Somehow or other, it seems to me that gab like that above belongs in a stag party or to a political campaign. But I must be wrong, for it is typical of the stuff thrown at those of us who went to the Scholarship Recognition Day Assembly.

Dr. Harlow Shapley, Director of Harvard Observatory and Paine Professor of Astronomy, Harvard University, was the guest speaker, and undoubtedly drew a good portion of those people who attended the assembly. He was speaking on, and I quote from the program, "News from the Galaxies."

If my feeble mind serves me correctly, the only time Dr. Shapley mentioned the galaxies was once when he agreed he wasn't exactly touching upon the subject, and again in some vague connection with the Russian threat, or something.

I don't want to come out and say that the assembly was worthless, for it wasn't. Russ Woolley and the other speech instructors should have a field day pointing out what not to do while speaking in public. And then, it was nice to know who received the scholarships.

But look, if we're going to pay out good money for speakers, let's get those who are going to do something besides brag about where they have been and the people with whom they have associated.

And if we want a talk on "News from the Galaxies," Professor Maynard Jordan could probably do a much better job.

Scotch And Soda

By BIFF SHALEK

A couple of Americans, Monday night, did one of the most constructive pieces of work that has been done in this Republican Presidential free-for-all. They sat down and talked things over. Instead of throwing the bull, kissing babies, pacifying labor, assuring management, they sat down and talked things over.

They agreed that:

1. The Communist Party was controlled directly by the Kremlin.

2. The Communist Party advocates the overthrow of any government that doesn't concur with the Kremlin.

3. The Communist Party is a definite menace to United States Freedom.

They agreed on the menace. They disagreed on the remedy. Said Stassen, "Outlaw the Communist Party!"

Said Dewey, "Don't outlaw the Communist Party you'll drive them underground where we'll never be able to get at them!"

Stassen quoted from the Mundt Bill and he stated that the bill definitely outlaws Communism. He used for his sources the President of the Communist Party... (this outlaws Communism)... and a Communist turned pure... (this will wipe out the Communist Party)...

Dewey quoted from the Mundt Bill and he stated that the bill definitely did not outlaw Communism. That it only required Communists to register. His sources... The committeemen that drew up the bill and Mr. Moot himself.

Stassen said that by outlawing the Communist Party we would do away with the coddling policy. Dewey countered with that if you outlaw the Communist Party, thus driving it underground, it would grow to a colossal scale and would endanger the American Way of life.

MOC Plans Katahdin Trip

The Maine Outing Club will sponsor its annual trip to beautiful Mt. Katahdin on June 17, 18, 19 between the final exams and graduation. Busses will leave the Campus early the morning of the 17th and will return the evening of the 19th. The cost of the trip cannot be determined until the organization knows how many will be going. However, the total cost should be under ten dollars.

At the present time a group of twenty-five is considered to be about the right size. Members of the group will be required to take their own sleeping and eating gear while the MOC will furnish the cooking gear and food. No private automobiles will be permitted on the trip.

The group will make Chimney Pond their campsite and will operate from that point, making trips to the peak, the Knife-edge, Pamola Peak, and Pamola's Cave.

All those that are interested are urged to attend a meeting in 11 Coburn on Tuesday evening, May 25 at 8. Movies of Katahdin will be shown and details discussed.

Membership cards may be obtained from Morla Timberlake in the MCA at a fee of $.50.

Movies Shown On Sea Moss Harvest

Colored moving pictures on the gathering of sea moss will be shown by a representative of the Department of Sea & Shore Fisheries of the State of Maine in the Louis Oakes Room of the library on Tuesday, May 25, at 3:30 and 4:30 p.m.

The picture is presented under the sponsorship of the University Placement Bureau as a possible source of a summer vacation income to students. Raking the moss from areas where it is plentiful is a fairly simple process. The department, cooperating with the Placement Bureau, can provide complete information regarding the opportunities.

Work Is Available In Blueberry Factories

An opportunity is available for women students to sort blueberries during the canning season in Millbridge, Maine, from early August to September 12.

The pay rate is 75 cents an hour and estimated earnings about $200. Housing will be arranged and perhaps meals at very moderate cost.

Any women students interested in the opportunity are asked to discuss it with the Placement Director immediately.

In case some of these games must be postponed during the above scheduled times, these games may be played during the week of June 2nd to 7th. At the end of this time the final game will be played off. Softball dormitory managers should arrange a new time for postponed games with each other, first clearing through head manager, Jane Moulton.

Hats off to the Junior WAA Council for ably carrying off elections for Class Leaders in the dormitories. The Jr. Council is trying to prove its worth in order that it may secure its constitution from WAA next year.

The plans for the annual WAA picnic to be held during the latter part of this month are being arranged by Betty Friedler as vice president elect.

Bear Facts

Gene McNabb grabbed the headlines over the past week end by upsetting pre-tournament dope to win the New England Intercollegiate Golf match play. Boston College was touted to win the competition, and a B.C.'er was supposed to have won the title, but McNabb was brilliant on the wet Oakley Country Club course to nip Ernst of B.C., 3 and 2. McNabb qualified for match play with an 18-hole score of 77 to place seventh in medal scoring.

The Yankee Conference golf was run simultaneously with the New England playoffs at the Watertown course. Maine finished second behind the University of Connecticut.

The weather plagued the baseball team for the entire week. Only one date could be filled, and Will Braley highlighted that fair day by blanking Bates 2-0 in 10 innings to help Maine gain an even split in the Lewiston twin bill. Braley repeated his performance of last year in whitewashing the Bobcats. He allowed three hits this time.

Rhode Island swept the Yankee Conference track and tennis competitive meets for 1948. The Rams waltzed across the line more than 30 points ahead of New Hampshire in the track meet at Durham. Maine finished third with 23½ points. George Marsanskis pleasantly surprised Maine rooters by his victory in the hammer throw. He tossed the weight 164 ft. 8½ in. for his best effort of the season. The Rhody tennis team copped the court tournament at Storrs, Connecticut, by a big margin. Maine scored a third place, three points behind the host team.

Spring football practice, which enters the scrimmage phase this week, has brought out new names to be noted for next season. Linemen George Blaisdell and Dick Hewes and punter Bob Dennis have sparkled under the tutelage of Coach Eck Allen.

Our baseball team is constantly being jumped on by the school fans. It's understandable because the wins are rather infrequent, but the students generally understand that conditions here hamper baseball enthusiasts. Nevertheless, it hurts the spectator even more to see the coaches on base simply stand in the coaching boxes, clapping hands only to keep warm. There ought to be a little more spirit on the part of the coach. The players try hard, but they want some encouragement from their mates as well as the crowd.

Along intramural athletic lines, Bit Stebbins of Kappa Sigma reluctantly disclosed that he and Hank Dombkowski scored a repeat for Kappa Sigma in the fraternity handball league by retaining the championship.

Monday's figures on the State Series batting averages place three Bowdoin men at the top of the 10-man list. Joe Coombs is tied for third with a .400 mark. Joe has batted the fewest times of the players in the first 10, but his season average indicates that his current state mark is no flash in the pan.

Senior Skulls Tapped

The following men were tapped as Senior Skulls last Tuesday, following the Scholarship Recognition Assembly: Ralph E. Barnett, Arthur L. Clark, Arnold A. Davis, Henry J. Dombkowski, Robert E. Emerson, Bruce D. Folsom, John R. Schmidlin, Donald M. Spiller, Alton L. Sproul, Kenneth F. Vennett, and John P. Zollo, Jr.

Bears Ran Third At Durham Sat.

The University of Maine track team ran third place at Durham, N. H., Saturday afternoon in the 1st Annual Yankee Conference Collegiate Track Meet. Powerful Rhode Island State won the meet with 79 points. New Hampshire was second with 43½; Maine third with 23½, and Connecticut fourth with 19.

Marsanskis was the only Maine man who was able to win an event, taking the 16-lb. hammer title with a throw of 164 ft. 8½ in., although Emerson tied for first place in the pole vault at 12 feet. He also tied for third place in the broad jump.

Other Maine men who placed in the meet were Brown and Silsby, second and third respectively in the 440 yard run; Wallace fourth in the mile; Beal fourth in the 120 yard high hurdles; Simmons third in the 220 yard dash; Higgins tied for third in the pole vault; and Phillips second in the javelin.

Mary Morris Speaks At Masque Banquet

Miss Mary Morris, well-known Broadway actress and at present a member of the faculty at Carnegie Tech, will be the speaker at a banquet to be held by the Maine Masque Theatre Saturday evening.

Miss Morris, besides appearing in scores of plays on Broadway, has also been seen in several motion pictures, both American and English. Among the better-known plays in which she has had parts are Eugene O'Neill's "Desire Under the Elms," "Great God Brown," and "Seagull," "Crossroads," "Lysistrata," "Double Door," "With-in the Gate," and "Night Over Taos," the latter by Maxwell Anderson.

She has worked under Eugene O'Neill at the Provincetown Play House, and has appeared at many summer theaters throughout the country.

The banquet will be held at 6:30 Saturday at South Estabrooke Hall.

Gene McNabb Wins New England Title

Maine has another champion! Gene McNabb, the mainstay of Charlie Emery's University of Maine golf squad, upset the dope in the New England Intercollegiate golf meet Sunday as he shot a one over par 72 for 16 holes to defeat Harry Ernst of Boston College, 3-2, and cop the meet.

McNabb, the first Maine man ever to win the trophy, showed uncanny ability in his putting on the wet greens as he stroked three birdies to down the meet favorite.

McNabb clinched the meet on the 16th hole as he picked up a two hole advantage on the 12 and held in until the 16th. Qualifying with a 77 on Saturday, the Maine star reached the finals by downing Ed Anderson of Devens 4-2.

Unfortunately, the Maine golf squad didn't finish as high as McNabb. Losing only to their old nemesis, Conn., Charlie Emery's men finished second to the nutmeggers in the Yankee Conference meet.

Spring Football Ends This Week

The University of Maine spring football, which has been taking place the last few weeks, will come to a close this week. Head Coach Eck Allen changed his spring training tactics this year. Instead of working two teams into shape for the annual Blue-White game, he has been stressing more individual work for those who seemed outstanding for positions on the next year varsity eleven.

Close contact-blocking, pass receiving, and split timing in the T-formation have been stressed in training. Included in the group who have been practicing daily, are Alan Wing, end; Phil Coulombe, back; Jack Zollo, line; Phil White, back; Dick Tamm, back; Bob Beals, center; and Buz Sproul, quarter-back. These men were members of the 1947 State Champion eleven.

The complete list of spring trainees are:

Joe Zabalski's Replacement Was Head Coach At Williams

A. Barr "Whoop" Snively, Jr., former football star at Annapolis and Princeton and head coach at Williams College in 1946-47, has been named to succeed Joe Zabalski, who recently resigned as line coach at Maine to become head football coach at Northeastern, Elton E. Wieman, director of athletics, announced today.

Two Games On Week-End Schedule

The University of Maine jayvee baseballers will be seeking their third victory of the season today when they face Ricker Junior College in a home contest scheduled to get underway at 2.

Coach Sam Sezak of the junior Bears has named Ernie Martikainen, Harrison, as his starting hurler against Ricker with Harland Roberts, North Berwick, behind the plate.

The outfield will have Frank Smith, in left; Les Botka, in center; and Beryl Leach, in right.

Joe Flaherty will be on first, Dan Hatch, second, Reggie Lord, short, and Norm Fournier will round out the infield at third.

Sezak also expects to use George Gray, Joe Leclerc, and Pete Lynch, against Ricker.

On Friday the varsity baseball nine will play host to the New Hampshire Wildcats in a Yankee Conference game starting at 2:30.

Varsity Coach, Bill Kenyon, is undecided on his starting pitcher for the New Hampshire game and will probably wait until game time to name his battery.

The Bears will be seeking their first Conference win as against four losses when they face the Wildcats.

Thirteen Men Leave For New England

Thirteen track men will leave this afternoon for the New England meet, accompanied by Chet Jenkins, Ted Curtis, and Lewis Schotterback, the team manager.

On the basis of late experiences the Maine squad has little chance of placing near the top of the list. The Bears haven't won the New England title since 1930, when they completed a stretch of four consecutive years as champions.

Making the trip today are:

Phillips—javelin; Marsanskis—hammer, shot, and discus; Emerson—pole vault; LeClair—high hurdles; Beal—high and low hurdles; Simmons—dashes; Brown—440; Silsby—440; Wallace—mile and 880; Johnston—2 mile; Orach—hammer; Taylor—220; Hammond—100.

George Higgins, who tied for third in the pole vault in the Yankee Conference meet last week, will be unable to go because of a severely sprained ankle.

Minor Canoers Need Parental Permission

The Maine Outing Club wishes to announce that it will be necessary for all women and non-veteran male minors to have a parental permission card filled out by their parents before they take part in any MOC sponsored canoe trips.

These cards may be obtained in 108 Oak Hall or in 35 Colvin Hall. The next canoe trip of the season will be held over the week end of May 29th and 30th.

Write the editor a letter.

George "Eck" Allen, head football coach, says he is especially pleased to have a man with Snively's experience and ability as his assistant.

"We have a big rebuilding job with our line because of the loss of several lettermen by graduation, and 'Whoop' Snively's vast experience will be a decided asset in accomplishing this task," Allen added.

Snively's playing career started with Mercersburg Academy, and continued through the Naval Academy and Princeton University.

He served as line coach at Brown University and at Dartmouth College, and as assistant and head coach at Williams.

While at Mercersburg he played under such coaches as Jim Craig of Michigan and Frank Glick of Princeton. At Annapolis he played left end under the tutelage of Gil Dobie.

At Princeton he played end, blocking wingback, tailback, and guard, under coach W. W. Roper. He was captain of the Princeton gridiron squad as a senior and was awarded the Poe Cup for outstanding ability and all-round contribution to football.

He played basketball at Princeton, and also participated in wrestling, boxing, and crew during his career at Princeton and Annapolis.

From 1929-31, Snively was line coach under Tuss McLaughry at Brown University and in 1945 he was at Dartmouth in the same capacity, still with McLaughry. "Eck" Allen, Maine head coach, was at Brown as backfield coach while Tuss was still head coach.

From 1932-38 Snively was line coach at Williams with Charlie Caldwell, Jr., and was freshman coach there from 1939-41.

He was a Red Cross assistant field director during the war, serving in the Pacific with the Sixth Division.

After the war he became head football coach at Williams, serving in that position in 1946-47.

He also coached hockey and lacrosse at Williams, having about 18 years' experience with these two sports.

For the past 20 years he has served as a counselor in summer camps in Maine. He was also employed by the Oxford Paper Company, Rumford, for a short time several years ago.

Besides his B.A. degree from Princeton, he has received an M.S. degree from Columbia University.

Acting Class Shows New Talent In Play, Ladies Of The Jury

By LARRY JENNESS

A host of talent and at least one promising new star were presented to the opening night audience attending "Ladies of the Jury," an advanced acting class—speech department production.

Barbara Stewart, portraying flighty socialite Mrs. Livingston Baldwin Crane, served notice that she will be in the running for choice Masque roles next season.

The story concerned a lovely French chorus girl, Arlene Doane, on trial accused of murdering her husband. On the short end of an 11 to 1 ballot at the beginning of the jury's deliberations, Mrs. Crane's intuition takes two days to win out.

Dick Irwin, as the exactly correct jury foreman, did an excellent job. Supporting roles were all well carried off. Isobel Josephs and Bill "Hamlet"

Brennan got many laughs from their character portrayals.

Lawyers Bob Arnold and Al Dumais and judge Paul Ford handled the trial court with veteran competence. Other jurors were: Elaine Lockhart, Lorraine Malo, John Crooker, Larry Dunn, Bob Preble, Ted Jennison, Norma Drummond, and Joyce Emery.

Completing the cast were: Francis McCormack, Carol Carr, Marnel Abrams, George Gonyer, Robert Warren, Dwight Frye, and Martin Needham. Carol Carr played the lead role of Mrs. Crane at the Wednesday performance.

Backstage for "Ladies of the Jury" were: Dick Fairfield, Marnel Abrams, Clayton Briggs, Norman Martin, Arthur Kaplan, Harold Howard, Olaf Mercier, Robert Warren, Dwight Frye, Carolyn Beverly, Joyce McGouldrick, and Ellen Stratton.

Professional Photographers Show Exhibit Of Their Work

The University of Maine Art Gallery will feature the First Annual Exhibition of the photographer's art this month from May 4 to 29. The purposes of this exhibition, besides the desire to please the photography fan, are threefold:

1. To promote and maintain friendly relations among professional photographers, either portrait or commercial.
2. To create cooperation and interchange of thought and opinion freely among its members.
3. To formulate and maintain fair trade practices, and to advance photography in all its branches, both as an art and as a profession.

This exhibition proves, beyond a doubt, that there is much need for a greater interest in your local photographer's skill. This exhibition proves, more than words could ever hope to do, the importance of the photographer in your life. His friendly cooperation adds another professional man to your list of family friends.

The Eastern Maine Professional Photographers' Association sponsors the exhibit which will be open to the public every weekday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Some telephone numbers

you ought to know

516,500—It takes this number of men and women to operate the twenty-two Bell Telephone Companies. Each operating company is responsible for furnishing telephone service within its own territory.

26,000—The number of people who are employed in the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. It is their function to provide Long Distance and Overseas service.

131,400—This numbers the employees of the Western Electric Company who manufacture, purchase and distribute equipment and supplies for the entire Bell System.

6,000—That's the number of people in Bell Telephone Laboratories. Through research and development they constantly improve this country's telephone service—already the finest in the world.

2,100—That's the number of people in the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. Through advice and assistance, they coordinate the activities of the entire Bell System.

In all, there are some 682,000 men and women in the Bell System. As this country's communications service is expanded and improved, opportunities will grow still greater. There's a future in 'telephony.

A.V.C. Requests Student Support

It is a fact that political changes in national, state, and local governments which affect your daily life are made through the efforts of organizations—the so-called pressure groups. Don't let yourself be pushed around! If you wish to have a say about your future, you should join an organization whose policies are determined from the ground up, in which you can make your voice heard. The American Veterans Committee (AVC) is such an organization.

The preamble to its constitution reads:

We, as veterans of the Second World War, associate ourselves regardless of national origin, creed or color for the following purposes: To Preserve the Constitution of the United States; to insure the rights of free speech, free press, free worship, free assembly, and free elections; to provide thorough social and economic security to all; to maintain full production and full employment in our country under a system of private enterprise in which business, labor, agriculture, and government co-operate; to promote peace and good will among all nations and all peoples; to support active participation of this nation in the United Nations and other world organizations whose purposes are to improve the cultural, commercial, and social relations of all peoples; to provide such aid to disabled veterans as will enable them to maintain the position in society to which they are entitled; to provide such financial, medical, vocational, and educational assistance to all veterans as is necessary for complete readjustment to civilian life; to resist and defeat all attempts to create strife between veterans and nonveterans; and to foster democracy.

On campus AVC initiated the action whereby veterans were sent to Washington as representatives to lobby for the increase in subsistence. Under AVC leadership a consumers buying club is being organized among the faculty which should be extended next fall to include married students, saving money to all concerned. This can be made successful through your interest and cooperation. AVC is also attempting to organize a book exchange where students can purchase and sell used books conveniently at reasonable prices.

In order to further these aims, we need your support as members of the veterans body on campus. An outfit to which Harold E. Stassen, Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Jimmy Doolittle, Phil Willkie, and Hap Arnold belong must be good.

Come to the next meeting and sign up.

WHY... I smoke Chesterfield

(FROM A SERIES OF STATEMENTS BY PROMINENT TOBACCO FARMERS)

"I think Chesterfield is a good-smoking cigarette and I like them. They have a good, ripe-tobacco taste and they're mild."

"Nobody pays a higher price to get good-smoking tobacco than Chesterfield. They buy sweet, ripe tobacco. Looks like a gold dollar in the barn."
