Student Fire Wardens Are Organized

Asst. Fire Chief Outlines Duties

More than 100 student fire wardens, representing all residential units on the University campus, met last night in the Oakes Room of the New Library for the first in a series of meetings designed to train students in fire prevention, safety of life and protection of property.

Members of the group, elected by residents of the various dormitories and fraternity houses, heard Charles Moran, assistant chief of the University fire department, discuss the fire warden's duties and a few of the more simple preventive measures.

Professor Robert I. Ashman, forestry department head, outlined plans for the organization of crews for off-campus duty in the event of forest fires. Charles E. Crossland, director of student and public relations, conducted the meeting.

The fire wardens have been organized in four sections, comprised of representatives from women's dormitories, men's dormitories, fraternities, and residence units of married veterans. Instruction in problems concerning the individual groups will be given at sectional meetings scheduled for the next two weeks.

These meetings will be devoted to combating specific situations, methods of checking buildings to assure the safety of all residents and the proper use of fire extinguishers. Last step in the plan calls for the fire warden to pass on his information to the residence group he represents.

The fire prevention training program was planned and arranged by Charles E. Crossland, chairman; Dean Edith G. Wilson, Dean Elton E. Wieman, Henry L. Doten, business manager; Francis McGuire, plant facilities director; and Leigh Plaisted, chief of the University fire department.

Politics Club Will Have Labor Talk

The Politics Club will have its first meeting of the year at the North Estabrooke Rec Hall on Wednesday, Oct. 13th, at 7:30 p.m.

Guest speakers will be David Fuller, Attorney and City Council Member in Bangor, and F. Davis Clark of Milo, Democratic candidate for Congress in the last election. They will discuss the Taft-Hartley Act.

This meeting is open to all students and faculty interested in politics. Present plans indicate an active year. This is the club in which you may air all your political views

The CAMPUS Editor and Business Manager invite all students who wish to participate in publication of the CAMPUS to see them at the CAMPUS office, 202 East Annex.

Masque To Stage Shaw Comedy

Seats On Sale As Play Cast Takes Form

"Arms and the Man," a three-act comedy by George Bernard Shaw, will be produced by the Maine Masque Theatre early in November, Herschel L. Bricker, director of the Masque, said today.

The play, one of Shaw's finest comedies, was chosen by the Masque council after careful deliberation, Bricker said. It is now in the process of being cast.

"Arms and the Man" is the light story of a Swiss officer in the Serbian army and the girl he meets while climbing up a drain pipe.

Complications develop when the Swiss learns that the girl is the daughter of a major in the Bulgarian army, and is engaged to the Bulgarian officer whose charge put the Swiss troops to route.

Typical of Shaw, "Arms and the Man" has a twisted plot which keeps the audience wondering how it is going to end. And, typical of Shaw, the ending is hardly what one expects.

Season tickets, which admit the holders to "Arms and the Man" as well as to the three other major productions of the season, are now on sale at 330 Stevens. They may also be obtained from dormitory and fraternity representatives.

Professor Herschel Bricker announced Wednesday that the Masque season ticket campaign will be extended one week. "This move is being made," he said, "to allow those who do not have the necessary funds now the privilege of still being able to save money by buying season coupons later in the month when they do have money."

New Dorm Three Sponsors Dance Sat.

The new men's dormitory, designated as Number Three, will hold a tea dance as their first social function Saturday, October 9, immediately following the New Hampshire game.

Arrangements have been made for the cooperation of a committee of East and West Hall girls to help with refreshments under the chairmanship of Jim Elliott.

Mrs. Tait, house director at East Hall, and Mrs. Hull, director at West will attend the dance.

Guests will be Dr. and Mrs. Hauck, Dean Wieman, Dean Wilson, and Mr. and Mrs. Worrick.

Influenza Shots

The University Health Service has announced that one hundred per cent immunity was produced among those inoculated with the influenza virus vaccine last year.

The Health Service offers to each faculty member, student, and University employee the opportunity to receive the single injection for 75¢. Persons desiring inoculation should report to the Health Service.

Duck Count To Be Made By Wildlife Unit

The University of Maine Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit under Howard L. Mendall will join with the Research Division of the State Fish and Game Department under Merwin Marston to make a count of the kill of ducks during the present season. From the data obtained it will be possible to determine the success of last summer's breeding season.

Participating from the University are Mr. Howard L. Mendall and Graduate Students

Lift The Cheers For Judging By Miss Shelton

In order to improve the quality and spirit of the cheering, a General Student Senate Committee, composed of Martha Coles and James McBrady, have invited all fraternities and dormitories to engage in a competitive cheering session with Miss Shelton and two members of the Senate acting as judges.

The cheers will be selected for uniqueness and originality and will be used for the remainder of the season under the name of the organization (Continued on Page Eight)

Sgt. Rinkaus Leaves Maine For Ft. Dix

After 13 years with the University of Maine ROTC unit as Sergeant Major, Master Sergeant Joseph J. Rinkaus, DEML, U. S. Army, has been transferred to Fort Dix, N. J.

"Sergeant Rinkaus has been the mainstay of the ROTC unit since his appointment here by the War Department in 1935, and his remarkable knowledge of Army Regulations and administration has proved of great value to the new officers who have come and gone," Colonel Fuller said.

Hagopian, Veteran Athlete, Winning His Toughest Contest Against TB In Mass. Vet's Hospital

"What ever happened to Martin Hagopian?"

Not only here at Maine, but at other schools where fans had come to expect the keenest kind of competition from Hagopian, that question has frequently been asked.

Only a few of Hagopian's former teammates and fraternity brothers know that he contracted tuberculosis and dropped from 160 to 98 pounds.

During six operations, he had one lung collapsed, three ribs removed, and temporarily lost the use of his right arm.

A promising halfback on the Bears' 1945-46 football squad, Hagopian alternated with "Rabbit" Dombkowski, and caused Monty Moore, athletic trainer at Bates, to tell Maine coaches, "We feared Hagopian more than we did Dombkowski."

In February, 1947, Hagopian tied

MARTIN HAGOPIAN

Maine's 50-yard dash record of 5.6 seconds, and at Lewiston he tied the meet record of 4.6 seconds for the 40-yard dash. In subsequent meets he set a new record in the 60-yard with a time of 6.4 seconds, and went on to set a new meet record for the 50-yard dash in the New Hampshire meet at Orono of 5.5 seconds.

"He was the best prospective dash man I've ever had," Chester Jenkins, Maine's cinder coach, says, "and if he'd kept going he would have equalled the Charley Rice record of 9.8 for the 100-yard dash."

Hagopian exemplified something more than mere athletic ability, for during the 1946-47 school year he was the recipient of the Phi Gamma Delta Buck Scholarship, an award based on leadership, extracurricular activities, fraternity, and scholarship.

New Assistant Will Aid Alumni Sec. Sealey

Mrs. Donald Kilpatrick, Orono, formerly of Bangor, has assumed her new duties as part-time assistant alumni secretary. She will handle the work directed for the past 14 years by Philip Brockway who will devote his full time to the placement bureau.

As assistant to John Sealey, executive-secretary of the Alumni Association, Mrs. Kilpatrick will devote much of her time to working with alumnae clubs.

As an undergraduate, Mrs. Kilpatrick, formerly Miss Bette Barker, was a dean's list student and outstanding in extracurricular activities including president of the All-Maine Women, Senior Resident in Colvin Hall, Radio Guild, and many others.

Following her graduation she joined the Kendall Mills, Walpole, Mass., as an executive apprentice. Mrs. Kilpatrick became registrar of the national office of Alpha Omicron Pi at Oxford, Ohio, in 1946.

Women Hear Stevens At Forum

The University Women's Forum met Thursday, September 30, in the President's room of North Estabrooke for the first meeting of the year.

The speaker was Mrs. Joyce Stevens, speech instructor. Mrs. Stevens spoke on University of Maine traditions, illustrating her talk with old copies of the Prism.

Margaret Mollison, president, announced that Valerie Esty would serve as program chairman. She will be assisted by Pat Woodward and Margaret Hanks.

Coffee was served.

Fall Fashion Show Is Staged With Home Ec Girls As Models

The first fashion show of the season, Fall Fashions and Futures, was presented last Thursday evening in the Little Theatre by the Home Economics Department. Miss Olive Berry, college and career stylist for the Simplicity Pattern Company, was in charge of the showing.

Miss Berry presented this fall's styles and discussed the ways they should be worn. She also showed various accessories which add style to smart clothes.

The models displayed a variety of costumes for every occasion, including campus classic, future executive, career girl, cover girl, evening glitter, and off-to-work styles.

Mary Luce, Marion Carter, Carolyn Doyle, Mary Dirks, Joan Hopkins, Margaret McDonald, Pat Ward, Elizabeth Shaw, Gloria Fisher, Dorothea Butler, Irene Stimpson, Priscilla Nason, Peggy Flint, Lorraine Littlefield, Nancy Whiting, Hortense Noel, Muriel Applebee, and Verna Wallace were the student models.

Mrs. Fern Witham, clothing instructor, directed the models. Joanne Lindgren and Valerie Esty assisted her.

OCUMMO Women Elect Delegates To MCA Cabinet

Members of the Off-Campus Women's Organization met Tuesday evening at the MCA lounge and elected delegates to the Maine Christian Association Cabinet.

Those named were Mary Mehan, Ervina Cunningham, Bangor; Thelma Crossland, Agnes Haggerty, Orono; Gloria Brangwynne, Frances Smart, Old Town; Eleanor Coney, Brewer; and Patricia Jones, Hampden.

Officers announced that meetings would be held the second and fourth Tuesdays each month.

Three Student Papers To Renew Publication

The three student religious publications on campus, The MCA News Letter, The Hillel Scroll, and Newman Tidings, will reappear this month.

The MCA News Letter staff, with Alan Cuthbertson as editor, plans four to six issues. The first will be coordinated with the MCA membership drive.

The Hillel Scroll staff is headed by Melvin Lavine, who spent last summer with the Boston Post.

Walter St. Onge, Jr., editor of Newman Tidings, said that the first monthly issue would be out before the end of October.

John Bach-Wiig, president of the Nordorm Council, reported that the council had not yet decided if it would publish the North Star again.

Prism Proofs May Be Had At Office

Lyn Hill, editor of the Prism, has announced that appointment cards for yearbook pictures have gone out to those in the first half of the alphabet.

Proofs have begun to arrive, and they may be picked up about a week after the picture is taken. The office on the second floor of the MCA building is open from 8:15 to 11:45 and 1:15 to 4:30.

Yom Kippur Holiday

Guild Players See '50 Program At First Meeting

The initial meeting of the Maine Radio Guild for the new school year was held at Stevens Hall Thursday evening. Lois Litchfield, Vice-President, presided in lieu of President Al Weymouth who did not return to school this fall.

The aims and activities of the Guild were outlined to a turnout of 24 students, both frosh and upperclassmen. The first radio program is tentatively scheduled in two weeks. Vice President Litchfield extended an invitation to all members of the student body who are interested in radio to get in touch with faculty adviser Mrs. Phyllis D. Williamson at 240 Stevens.

MOC Overnight Trip This Week End

The Maine Outing Club has planned an overnight trip to Camp Lee for this week end to be featured by hiking, canoeing, square dancing, and story-telling. The trip will be the last MOC affair of the season to be open to the entire student body.

Those interested in making the trip are requested to sign up before 4:30 p.m. Friday on one of the envelopes provided at the entrance to the Bookstore. A deposit of $3 is required to cover transportation and food.

The bus will leave campus for Camp Lee (near Lincoln) a half hour after the Maine-New Hampshire game on Saturday afternoon. The place of departure will be the Lord Hall parking area.

Mrs. Witherspoon To Speak Saturday

Mrs. Herbert Witherspoon, wife of the former manager of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will address interested students and faculty members on the work of the Metropolitan Opera Guild in Carnegie Hall, Room 101, at 11 a.m. on Saturday, October 9.

Prof. Lewis H. Niven will introduce Mrs. Witherspoon, who is appearing at the University through the courtesy of Mrs. Guy P. Gannett of Portland.

Let's Hear Yours

The Campus has completed its move to new offices in East Annex. We feel that in our new location we are equipped to do a better job of turning out a paper than we ever have been in the past.

We would like to remind the student body that this is your paper. You are the only reason we have for putting it out. It belongs to everyone of you.

Since it is your paper we naturally want to do the best job with it we possibly can. We can't hope to please everybody. We do want to please as many as possible. Occasionally someone's feelings are bound to get hurt, either by something we do or we neglect to do. We are sure to make mistakes, but we don't feel that this is a condition peculiar to the newspaper field.

It's impossible for a group as small as the Campus staff and with our limited time to keep track of 3800 students and all their activities. We need your help if we are to give you the best paper possible.

If you know something that will make news, let us know. If we do something you don't like, let us know. And if we do something that you like, it would be nice to let us know about that too. You're the people we're trying to please, but it's difficult to do much when we can't be sure what you want.

We intend to express the opinion of the student body to the greatest possible extent. But we want to be sure what that opinion is.

It doesn't even require a postage stamp to get a letter to us. Just drop it in the campus mail. We'll be glad to hear from you.

Rally Round The Team

A football rally will be held tomorrow evening in Memorial Gymnasium. It will begin about 7 o'clock, following a parade which is scheduled to start at Carnegie Hall a half hour earlier.

A lot of time and work go into the planning of a program for a rally. A lot more work goes into the training of a football team. The players work long hard hours with no reward. They want to win games and will do the best they possibly can. Most of the students want to see them win games. There would certainly be plenty of complaining if they lost two or three games.

Gripping about a losing team may be part of the game. Some people think so. On the other hand, what right does anyone have to gripe who has done less than his or her best to insure victory.

There are about 3800 students enrolled at the Orono campus, and about 3000 of them live on campus. Memorial Gymnasium seats only 2600. It doesn't require integral calculus to show that the SRO signs should be up in the Gym at 7 tomorrow night.

And then there is Saturday afternoon. It's encouraging to a team to hear a crowd yelling for them; to know that the fans are on their side. Let's cut out the dignified silence and act as though we wanted Maine to win.

Soupcen and friend

"Mephitis Nigra" Proves Life May Be "Attar Of Roses" When Descended

Some people are satisfied with crocodiles or pythons as pets. Not John Cameron, graduate assistant in the Department of Botany and Entomology. He prefers the species Mephitis nigra, more commonly known as the skunk.

Mr. Cameron's pet, a 5-month old male member of the species, was acquired at a summer camp in Vermont last summer.

The little fellow is named Soupcen, which in French means Little Smell, but he has been deodorized so the name isn't to be taken literally.

His owner says that skunks make splendid pets and mind very well, but that they are inclined to be somewhat stupid.

By JAN AND KITTY

Wormwood and Gall... The Red Sox were done in. There is no joy in Beantown—oh, but there was in Orono last weekend—leastwise at Sigma Chi and Lambda Chi.

Gambling's fun as long as you don't lose your pants, as everyone who attended Sigma Chi's Monte Carlo party will testify... just ask Ted Hawkes. Guests could try their luck at roulette, bingo, and various other games. Sue Harris was high woman on the totem pole when the final reckonings were made. Mrs. Jenkins, chaperone, won the woman's booby prize. Lotsa fun!!

A rowdy-dow party was held at Lambda Chi Alpha Friday night; Madelyn Duffy and her orchestra provided the music. All the foresters really had a chance to outshine the Arts and Tech men who don't know a 'Lady of the Lake' from 'Minnie the Mermaid.' Doughnuts and vinegar were served.

Note to all social chairmen... How about getting some info to us about your parties?—unless, of course, you advocate providing us with passes to all campus social functions.

While waiting for a seat in the University snack bar, it occurred to us that there is a lot of space wasted.

Chi Omega had a party. Thirty people attended. Cider and donuts were served!! Theta Chi held rushing dance Saturday night, 30 couples attended. (this is an example of the sparkling bits of news some of these fowl ball social chairmen send in)

And now, dear readers, (with a catch in our voice, tears in our eyes, a shake in our hands—Thay, thith could develop into thomething, couldn't it?) here is that which you have been waiting for and which, dear reader, we have been trying to give you. Due to some tragic circumstance our engagements and marriages were cut.

Tossed Away, JUNKED! last week! Here they are, dear reader...

Scotch and Soda

By BIFF SHALEK

Let's talk about this safe little vacuum we live in here at Maine. This cozy plot of ground the state has set aside for study of the daisychain variety.

The system of education that has evolved from the earlier forms, has become a mass of irresponsible guff. A college student of today graduates loaded for the bear market, but any resemblance to a humanbeing is purely coincidental, or the result of a catnap course in Philosophy 1. The definition of ethics is, anything you can get away with or make a buck on. It seems that the primary obligation of man unto man, must reach the student through a mystical process of osmosis.

The Technology Department seems to be worshipping the great god Machine. That would be fine if the students were robots with mimeograph minds, graduated screwdrivers for fingers, open end wrenches for toes, but unfortunately they are thinking humanbeings who must be taught responsibility for their creations. Even if it takes FIVE Years instead of four. Civilization can afford to wait.

The English Department in teaching the great literature of the past seems bent on teaching it with a baton. True it has a lyrical quality, but there is no need to fall head over heels in love with it. Unfortunately the world at this time can not be helped by barefooted dancers. It has been pointed out that form and content are wedded. True, but less attention to the bride and more to the groom is needed.

The University of Maine has an obligation that exceeds the material. Their primary duty is NOT only to graduate students equipped to gladden the hearts of industry, but to graduate clearthinking levelheaded young men and women willing and eager to combat the bitter, cynical, pessimistic attitude that has come to identify itself with our generation.

We must offer courses in college study which will give the student the opportunity to find himself. We cannot go on hitting him over the head with ideas that should have died years ago. Certainly I have no prejudice against money, but I should hope that my character development would reach farther than a mechanical process of feeding and clothing myself. If anyone is responsible for the mode of social respectability that is in force today it is the Universities.

I challenge the professors of Maine to ask themselves of what use they are to their students. I ask them to question themselves as to the ends they are attempting. Are they satisfied that the mass of students that pass through their classes are well rounded personalities. Are they satisfied with the mode of teaching, with the end results in view of one world responsibilities.

It is true that one gets out of college what one puts in, but without guidance the dividends are few. The professor has a great task, a greater responsibility in what he teaches. I say that he has failed. Failed the student and himself. I lay not the sicknesses of the world at his feet, but I say he, through his students, has the ability to cure. Humanized your facts and figures. Flesh and blood conceived them. Show how the past met wars, plague, bigotry, and lived on with a firm faith in the future—Based on reason and confidence.

Is it waving the flag to bring in the dead? The unknowing dead who knew not why they died? Help us to define and clear away the feelings of bewilderment—So that we can go on. Or if you too are bewildered—Let's go together.

Pine Needle Staff Meets Fri.; Subscription Drive In Progress

Members of the Pine Needle editorial staff are scheduled to meet Friday afternoon at four o'clock to discuss material and assignments for the first issue of the magazine scheduled to be published October 25th.

Department heads are expected to present a brief outline of material they will have on hand as well as a tentative deadline.

Requests for art and photographic material will also be accepted at that time.

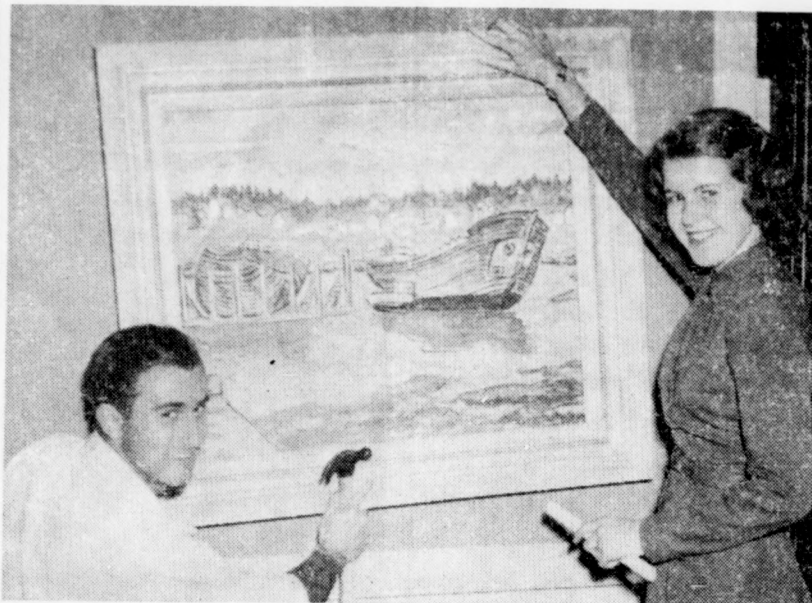

Newcomers to the University who wish to contribute to the magazine either as editorial workers or writers, are cordially invited to attend. Those interested in either circulation or advertising duties should contact Roger Thurrell, Phi Gamma Delta.

A drive for subscriptions to the University of Maine's college magazine, The Pine Needle, started yesterday and will continue through next Wednesday.

The magazine will be published quarterly and be priced at a dollar a year. No single copies will be sold.

Subscription representatives have been located in each of the men's and women's dormitories, by circulation manager Jerry Kamiński.

Representatives in the women's dormitories: Balentine: Callie Cole; East: Lois Murphy, Ruth Judkins; West: Dot Hubbard; South Estabrooke: Peggy Knight; North Estabrooke: Sue Dartnell; Elms: Ruth Clark; Colvin: Nancy Hubbard and Judy Black.

Hanging Kent-Peirce exhibit at the Art Gallery are Virginia Littlefield and Langdon Wood.

Unconventionalities Are Reflected In Current Waldo Peirce Exhibit

Presumably everyone on campus knows by now that the art department is featuring an exhibit of the original works of Waldo Peirce.

Peirce is a native of Maine, born in Bangor and now living in Searsport. His personal eccentricities of dress and habit are well known. He is the typical 'crazy artist'—a man who walks the streets of Bangor wearing a paint-smeared T-shirt, dungarees, and no shoes.

The same unconcern for the conventional observed in his personal habits is to be found in his paintings. He uses bright colors and short, nervous brush strokes to achieve an effect of gaiety and happiness which immediately captures the viewer's attention.

A prominent critic once remarked that Peirce's works are too fresh and alive that they should never be hung in buildings but should be hung on trees in the sunlit outdoors.

This vividness is found especially in his portraits of young children. "Jonathan's First Birthday," a picture of a diapered tot staggering along on chubby legs, face alive with boyish mischievousness and joy of life, invariably charms spectators.

Seascapes, such as "Old Hulks at Boothbay," recall the carefree life of the past summer, before the humdrum of school life was resumed.

Rifle Club Met, Plans Discussed With Maj. Smith

A group of students interested in the Rifle Club met recently with Major M. D. Smith of the ROTC Department to discuss plans for rifle teams.

At present there are three teams on campus. These are a Varsity team, a ROTC team, and a Women's team. To date thirty students have signed up for the teams. Among these are Leroy Rand, Walter Buckley, Wesley Wight, Allison Catheron, Russell Meade, members of the Varsity team of last year, and Don Stanton.

Major Smith has announced that the first team for competitive firing will be composed of the five men who fire the highest total scores during practice sessions of the previous week.

Although freshmen are ineligible to compete in the intercollegiate meets, they are eligible for the intra-squad meets. Freshman members of the ROTC team are also eligible to fire in the ROTC postal matches.

Persons interested in joining the Rifle Club should see Master Sergeant Gorham at the firing range.

"Call it guts, courage, or whatever you will," Ted Curtis, faculty manager of athletics, says, "Hagopian exemplified that sort of something in all he did."

Martin Hagopian was a sick man when he set that 50-yard dash record, although the seriousness of his illness had not been evident. For a week before the meet he was not out of practice. He complained of not feeling well the morning of the meet. But that afternoon he felt deceptively well and competed successfully.

Shortly after this, Hagopian developed a hacking cough and turned into "sick bay." He was in the infirmary for awhile, but was up and around without the knowledge of his real sickness.

Hagopian feels that he must have contracted TB in the Army, where he served three years in the infantry. Yet, somehow, he was discharged without its being detected. But in May he learned in Boston that both lungs were affected.

Hagopian's fraternity brothers at Phi Gam visit him whenever they're near Rutland Heights, Mass., where he is in the Veterans Hospital. They keep in contact with him by telephone, and on two occasions everyone in the house spoke to him on the phone. He reads the Campus and the Bangor papers thoroughly, and listens to his radio, a gift of the "M" Club.

It may be a year before Hagopian gets back on his feet, but he's now gaining weight. He'll probably never participate in sports again, but the "something above ability" that he exemplified here at Maine—call it guts, courage, or what you will—is the "something" that is making Martin Hagopian a winner in his greatest contest.

Bear Facts

Maine scored its second win of the 1948 season at Boston last Saturday, but the score does not indicate the difficulty with which the Bears took the Huskies of Northeastern into camp.

The home team seemed to be laying for Rabbit Dombkowski in the Northeastern game. Joe Zabalski played a man-to-man defense against Rabbit by covering him with one, and sometimes two players all afternoon. In addition, the Huskies seemed to be tackling Maine's star with a good deal of viciousness to the apparent delight of the Northeastern fans.

Notes from the Connecticut scout's report on Maine against Northeastern: "Sproul's passing lousy. Noyes great on punts. Watch Dombkowski and Lord (better passer)." And the Nutmeggers held a strong Yale team to one touchdown last week, although two more scores were nullified.

Wesleyan won its 16th straight game, 13-0, over rugged Bowdoin. Colby was whitewashed by Tufts, 21-0, and Bates fell before Middlebury, 20-7. Bowdoin still appears to be the strongest team in the state, but the continued improvement of Maine's line play will tab the Bears had a distinct threat to Adam Walsh's title hopes.

The football coaches aren't admitting it over at the practice field, but the Maine JV's will tell you how their defenses rocked the second Varsity team a week ago Monday. The Junior Varsity upset the second eleven's plays throughout a long scrimmage.

The Cleveland Indians won their first American League flag in 28 years in the unprecedented playoff at Boston Monday, and are favorites to whip the Boston Braves in the World Series. The Indians, like the Red Sox and the New York Yankees, are a power-laden club, but they hold the necessary balance in their pitching staff. Bearden, Feller and Lemon notched 58 wins between them, and they are backed by a strong relief corps.

Maine's hopes for an Olympic representative went flying last summer in the final United States tryouts. George Marsanskis, IC4A hammer champion, fouled out of competition when he stepped over the line in his three attempts to hurl the weight. Marsanskis, who graduated in June, had kept pace with the American leaders until he was disqualified. The first three places in the London meet were won by the Americans.

Reggie Lord's 77-yard return of a Northeastern punt was a picture of a run. He made his touchdown with excellent blocking by the entire team. Dombkowski made a key block which screened three Northeastern men out of the play, and five Maine men formed a protective cordon around Lord when he reached within 25 yards of pay-dirt.

Coach Charlie Emery's plans for a big 36-hole golf tourney at the PVC suffered a setback when the play did not receive enough publicity. Nevertheless, the tournament started on Tuesday, and continued through Wednesday, and it gave him enough of a look at the entrants to form plans for next year's team.

Maine's football men are very optimistic about their chances against New Hampshire this Saturday. Some point to the Wildcats' opener against Rhode Island State. They won, 19-7. I won't put the whammy on the Bears, but they will give the 'Cats a tough time of it.

Bears To Hunt Wildcat After Huskies Fall

Wildcats Will Invade Orono On Saturday

Fresh from a 19-7 triumph over Rhode Island State, the University of New Hampshire Wildcats will invade Orono Saturday to face the Pale Blue of Maine. The game should be one of the toughest on the Bears' schedule this season.

The veteran New Hampshire team completed the regular 1947 season undefeated and untied, then journeyed to the Glass Bowl in Toledo, where they were defeated by that team, 20-14. They overpowered a strong Maine eleven last season, 28-7 at Durham.

Coach Biff Glassford has 14 letter men from last year to mold another potent team. The probable lineup Saturday will feature fullback Carmen Ragones, who gained 1003 yards in nine games in 1947. He was given honorable mention on the Associated Press All-Eastern team, and he was chosen first team fullback on the United Press All-New England eleven. Bruce Mather, the 175-pound quarterback of last fall's Glass Bowl squad, returns to the Wildcat lineup with the same honors as those which Ragones received. He is the passing ace for New Hampshire. Rounding out the backfield will be Jim Prichard and Irv Gould at the halfback positions.

Bob Mikszenas, the receiving end of the sparkling Mather-Mikszenas aerial attack, will be a probable starter at left end. Lou Pasalis and Gus Gilman will hold down the starting assignments at left tackle and left guard. Co-captain Maurice should get the nod at center. He should prove to be a bulwark at that spot because he starred at that position last year.

Woody Noel is the most likely starter at right guard, and co-captain Ted Piciorak, a bruising 210-pound New Yorker, will be in the right tackle slot at game time. Jim Nestor of Medford, Massachusetts, completes the rugged line at right end.

The Bears lead New Hampshire in the historic series by three games. Maine has won 17 contests and tied four in 35 years. Since 1939, however, the 'Cats have had a decided edge. The games between the two schools played in the war years are not included in the official records.

Rhode Island State is the only common opponent of both teams this season. Maine opened its year against the Rams with a 13-7 win at Alumni Field, and the Wildcats opened their schedule a week later defeating Rhody, 19-7. Maine will have to be "up" for this game, even with the advantage of playing at home.

The starting lineup for Eck Allen's crew probably will be unchanged. There were no injuries received at Northeastern last week.

Net Hopefuls Number 72

The Fall Tennis Tournament, which decides the University championship, got under way Monday afternoon at the Memorial Tennis Courts. Seventy-two players reported for this year's tournament.

Fred Hermann, '49, of Melrose, Mass., will be defending his title won in last year's tournament. Seeded number one is Larry Van Peurse of Bangor. Van played in the number one position for most of the season on last year's varsity team. Seeded third is Bob Thoits, '50, of Portland, runner-up last year. Owen Southard, '49, of Presque Isle, winner of the 1946 tournament, is seeded fourth. Southard, who had an arm injury last spring, is expected to put up a strong challenge this fall.

The fifth seeded position is held by Harry Allen, '49, of Hopedale, Mass. Sixth, seventh, and eighth spots are occupied respectively by Frank Potenzo, '50, of Portland; Bob Sullivan, '50, of Morristown, New Jersey; and Charles "Chuck" Leach, of Palm Beach, Florida.

Experienced players who are expected to make a good showing this fall are: Dick Edes, Bob Avery, Charles Shaw, Bill Chesley, Bob Campana, Ed Walden, and Jack Hawley. Dick Preble, Paul Peterson, and Ken Dyer are possible dark horses.

The doubles tournament will start next Monday and entries may be sent to Coach Small, Faculty Manager Ted Curtis, or Tennis Manager Walter Allen, Sigma Nu.

Jayvee Harriers Nip MCI 27-28

The Maine JV harriers nipped Maine Central Institute on Monday, 27-28, over a 2-mile course.

Norm Levasseur of MCI crossed the finish line first in 14 minutes, 11 seconds. Harland Harndon, Maine, was the first University runner to complete the race, and he finished in second position, ten seconds behind Levasseur.

MCI placed a man in third place, and he was followed by Johnny Barnard, Aaron Nelson and Dick Packard, all of Maine. Strout, Sekins and Smart of MCI and Hubert Hersey (M) rounded out the scorers.

Maine Golfers Tee Off At PVC

Golf coach Charlie Emery's links-men will have jumped the regular season by six months as you receive the Campus in a tournament at the Penobscot Valley Country Club.

A 36-hole tourney will be split into two rounds of 18-holes. Some of the golfers played on Tuesday and Wednesday, and the remainder of the entrants will play today and tomorrow.

Groups of four will play together each round. The tournament has been run to give Coach Emery a chance to "get a line" on likely prospects for next spring's intercollegiate team. Play in the tournament is not compulsory. Emery will hold tryouts for additional candidates in April, but the University champion will be the winner of the 36-hole contest.

Women's Sports

The Modern Dance Club is sponsoring an after-the-game dance in the Memorial Gym this coming Saturday after the New Hampshire game. Come to the dance in the clothes you're wearing to the game. There'll be dancing to a jukebox and refreshments.

Class hockey games begin next Monday. A list of the games to be played will be posted in the dorms by Friday. Class practice games are still going on this week. The Juniors and Seniors have a practice game scheduled for Thursday at 3:30, and again Friday at the same time.

The Official's Club held its first meeting Wednesday afternoon at five o'clock. At these meetings the members are given instructions in officiating for tennis, hockey, basketball, softball, and archery by Miss Therese Shelton and Miss Catherine Shaw of the Gym Department. Anyone who is interested in learning how to officiate should notify this department.

Twenty-three women met Thursday night in the Gym to take part in the first Tumbling Club meeting. Many Freshmen as well as regular members attended. Anyone is welcome to attend the regular Thursday night meetings at 7 o'clock. In order to become a member the women must go through an apprentice period for the first semester and may become members by passing the fundamental skills in the second semester.

Bears Romp On Long Runs, Many Breaks

The Maine Black Bears swept to their second win of the season on Saturday, whipping Northeastern, 19-7.

Reggie Lord and Rabbit Dombkowski were the leaders on the offense in the victory. Lord romped 77 yards on a punt return, and threw a 35-yard pass to Al Wing for two touchdowns, and Dombkowski set up the first two Maine touchdowns with his hard running and fine blocking, especially on Lord's long run.

The home team surprised Maine in the opening minutes with a passing attack. In four plays the Huskies had scored their first touchdown of the year. Kearney and Koulopolous shared the passing chores, and the receivers were Northbridge and DeBlois. The scoring pitch went from Koulopolous to DeBlois from 24 yards out.

Maine tied the score as the first quarter came to a close. Les Leggett recovered a blocked Northeastern punt on the Husky 16-yard line and it was the Bears' ball. Dombkowski gained five yards and a Sproul to Lord pass plus an offside penalty against the home team put the ball on Northeastern's one-foot line. Acting Captain Bus Sproul bucked over for the score. Dombkowski missed the conversion.

Midway through the second period, DeBlois punted to Lord on the Maine 27-yard line. He gathered in the ball and raced laterally across the field to the Northeastern side where a host of defenders were set to meet him on the 45. The Maine interference collected at this point and with Dombkowski throwing a decisive block, Lord broke into the clear at midfield and sprinted to the goal line. Phil Coulombe's placement was blocked by Coravos.

Maine's final score came at the beginning of the fourth period. John Schmidlin recovered a fumble by Kearney of Northeastern on the Husky thirty-five. On the first play from scrimmage, Lord faded deep and passed to Al Wing on the two. Wing stepped over for the score. Dombkowski split the uprights to make the score 19-6.

Paper Experts Give Series Of Lectures For Chem Students

Officials of various paper making concerns in Maine and out-of-state points are giving a series of 15 weekly lectures at the University of Maine on pulp technology, a requirement of the pulp and paper division of the chemical engineering department at the University.

About 25 students are enrolled in the semester course which includes the lectures, and will receive academic credit. The lectures are approximately two hours in length and a third hour is devoted to recitation and examinations.

Professor Lyle C. Jenness, head of the department of chemical engineering, who has arranged the series of lectures, reports that executives of various paper making concerns have been "extremely cooperative" in making the series possible.

John Lewis of Skowhegan has been named instructor for the course.

Disabled Vets Select Maine Alumnus For "Hero Of The Month" Citation

Howard Cousins, Fort Kent, a University of Maine alumnus, and the state's most decorated Marine veteran, has been selected as the "Hero of the Month" by the Disabled American Veterans.

Cousins, a major in education and history while at the University, graduated in the class of 1942, at the age of 18.

Two months after graduation, on his 19th birthday, he enlisted in the Marine Corps. He was sent to officers school and was commissioned and assigned to the Third Marine Division. At 22 he was one of the youngest Marine captains in the Pacific.

At 24, after his discharge from World War II service, he served as the youngest member of Maine's 93rd Legislature. When the legislature adjourned Cousins became chief of the Veterans Administration prosthetic appliance division at Togus, Maine. He resigned to direct a political campaign and plans to study law at Georgetown University.

Cousins has this to say of his disability—a missing leg which resulted from the Japanese artillery shells—that it has done little or nothing to dim his enthusiasm or ambitions. It may have slowed him down a little, but he's determined he will make the grade anyway.

Student Car Value Placed Near Million

Students at the University of Maine are driving nearly a million dollars worth of cars!

According to information obtained from the auto registration files there are almost a thousand student-owned automobiles registered on campus.

These vehicles range from a '22 Lincoln to 1949 Fords, Mercurys, Hudsons, and Studebakers.

The Ford seems to be the favorite, comprising 252 of the cars registered, with Chevrolets and Plymouths coming second and third with 165 and 108 respectively.

Of the Fords the 1931, Model A, is the most prevalent—there are 26. The '36 and '41 Fords tie for second place with 24 each.

Of the total number of cars registered more than 220 are, strangely enough, 1946 models and later.

Besides the three most popular makes, the registration list includes, in order of popularity; the Oldsmobile, Pontiac, Buick, Dodge, Studebaker, Nash, Hudson, Packard, Mercury, Chrysler, De Soto, Jeep, Willys, Crosley, Cadillac, Kaiser, Lincoln, La Salle, GMC, Frazier, Hummobile, and Lafayette.

Friendship Series Will Have Marriage Talks Sunday Eve

The committee planning the Sunday evening series of Friendship and Marriage talks has announced the complete schedule for the lectures.

Speakers have been engaged to lead each informal discussion of the five-week series.

October 17: "Friendship and Dating"

October 24: "Choosing a Mate," Dr. Theodore Weiler

October 31: "What is Marriage?" Rev. William Gardner

Nov. 7: "That First Year," Mr. John Romanyshyn

Nov. 14: "The Christian Marriage," Rev. Ernest Kenyon

Members of the committee working on these sessions are Jane Sibley, Marilyn Wyman, Ray Gross, John LaPointe, Richard Schonland, and John Wentworth.

Dr. Theodore Weiler of the sociology department is consultant for the group. Miss Ruth Wadleigh, Rev. Charles O'Connor, and Rev. Hobart J. Gary are the advisers on the project.

The lectures and discussions will be held in the Louis Oakes Room, New Library, at 7 p.m.

Mr. University Goes On The Air

Are You Mr. University?

This month Mr. University returns to the air with University Town—he returns if we can find him.

Mr. University originated last year with a series of programs about University life called University Town. He is the man who opens and closes all Radio Guild Productions, a big wheel in University Town.

Lee Davis, our Mr. University of last year, has graduated, so you see, we of University Town need a new M.C. Someone on this campus has the voice we need, maybe it's you.

Next Tuesday and Wednesday, October 11 and 12, Rita Graham, program director for Radio Guild this semester, would like to have people tryout for speaking parts on Radio Guild shows, as well as for Mr. University. Both fellows and girls are welcome to try out. We'll need you on Guild Productions this year. Shake off your mike fright and get on the beam. Tryouts are in 275 Stevens Hall at 3:45 next Tuesday and Wednesday.

Dr. Milton M. McGorrill Will Address Temple

Dr. Milton M. McGorrill, pastor of the Church of Universal Fellowship, will speak at an open meeting of the Order of the Temple, Tuesday evening, October 12, at 7:15 p.m. in the Orono Lodge Hall. All Master Masons connected with the University are invited to attend.

Worshipful Master Larry Jenness '49 will outline the aims and activities of the Order of the Temple. Refreshments will be served following the meeting by Junior Warden John Graffam '50.

Admission Test Announced For Med, Law

The Educational Testing Service announces the Medical College Admission Test, required of candidates by many leading medical colleges and the new Law School Admission Test which partially satisfies admission requirements of many law schools.

The MCAT will be given October 30, 1948, and February 7, 1949. Candidates for admission in 1949 should take the October test if their schools require it. No special preparation other than a review of premedical subjects is necessary.

The LSAT will be given November 13, 1948; February 19, May 7, August 6, 1949. Candidates who expect to enter in 1949 are advised to take the November or the February test. The LSAT is not universally required.

Application forms and an information bulletin are available from the Educational Testing Service, Box 592, Princeton, N. J. Completed applications for the MCAT must reach the ETS office by October 16 and January 24 respectively.

Col. William B. Greeley Speaks To Foresters

Col. William B. Greeley, chairman of the board of the American Forest Products Industries, and Charles Gillette, forester for the AFPI, who has been coordinating the Keep Maine Green campaign, spoke to a meeting of forestry students in the Louis Oakes room, Library, Monday morning, Oct. 4.

Cord Meyer Speaks At 3:45

Cord Meyer, Leader of the United World Federalists, will speak in the Little Theatre at 3:45 this afternoon on the purpose and importance of World Federalists.

Mr. Meyer is a 27 year old war veteran with a distinguished record. He attended St. Paul's School, was Phi Beta Kappa at Yale, entered the war and was blinded in his left eye in battle on Guam.

The purpose of the World Federalists is to persuade the countries of the world to join in a single government in order to avoid future wars. The organization now has a membership of about 34,000; the student enrollment is near 7000. It is a young organization with young ideas for a better world and for the revision of the U.N. into a permanent government. Such notables as former Under Secretary of State for Economic Affairs, William L. Clayton and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas served on the advisory board of the World Federalists.

"Hell Week" May Be Replaced By "Greek Week" For New Pledges

There are a possible 111 vacancies to be filled in the fraternities this year. The concentrated rushing period will end for most fraternities by November 16 or 17.

It is expected that the Hell Week activities will be restricted almost entirely to the immediate fraternity grounds. There has been a growing sentiment in University of Maine fraternities in favor of replacing Hell Week with "Greek Week," in which the initiation activities consist mainly of indoctrination and study.

The new pledges are as follows:

Beta Theta Pi

Robert F. Dennis, Frederick W. Eaton, Jr., Richard E. Gordon, Ralph J. Jewett, Leroy E. Peasley, Charles S. Perkins, James H. Rice, Walter F. Tweedie, and John R. Shipley.

Phi Eta Kappa

William H. Annis, Burt Brown, Jasper D. Bull, Richard O. Chase, Arthur E. Dentremont, Larry K. Mahaney, J. George Paradis, and Hazen A. Moores.

Phi Gamma Delta

John E. Chadbourne, Norman H. Cummings, James DeLois, Frank Goodie, Jr., John B. Leet, John R. Parker, John E. Squires, and Roy P. Webber II.

Phi Kappa Sigma
