BARROWS CUP STAYS AT MAINE

Hell Week Starts For Pledges Length of Tenure Depends On Bates-Colby Contest

Ten Houses Hold Rites For Pledges

Hell and Greek Weeks began on campus Wednesday evening for the majority of the fraternities, with only two holding over Hell Week until a later date.

Fraternities having Hell Week, in favor of the newly created Greek Week, include ATO, Delta Tau Delta, Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Sigma, Phi Gamma Delta, Phi Kappa Sigma, Phi Eta Kappa, Phi Mu Delta, Tau Epsilon Phi, and Theta Chi.

Alpha Gamma Rho and Tau Kappa Epsilon have started Greek Week programs according to their fraternity rulings.

Two organizations, Sigma Chi and SAE, will hold their Hell Week later this month.

In the past years, fraternity stunts during Hell Week have included both public and private affairs, with much of the initiation process being carried on within the house—much which the non-fraternity student never visualizes.

Until the recent University ruling, pledges were sent out to do seemingly impossible tasks, but this practice has been discontinued in recent years.

Currently, most campus activities are restricted to the pledges carrying stacks of books, having their hair well-slicked down and parted in the middle, etc.

Inside the fraternity house, the pledges learn the organizational set up of their chosen society, collect autographs through the well-known paddle system, and indulge in other stunts peculiar to each fraternity.

Officers of fraternity pledge groups have requested that in the event a pledge makes ridiculous requests of the members of the student body, the students approached comply with the requests as far as possible.

The pledges, say the officers, will be grateful for the cooperation.

University Senior To Run For Council In Bangor Election

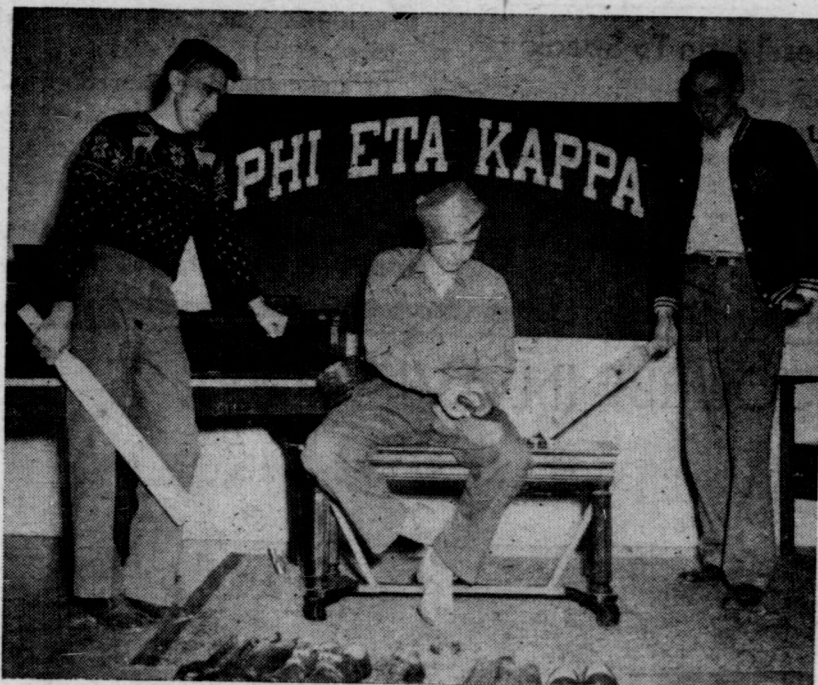

Duncan M. Robinson, 24-year-old ex-GI and senior at the University, has announced that he is a candidate for a position on the Bangor City Council in next month's election.

A former sergeant in the Army and graduate of John Bapst High School, he entered the University in February, 1946, and will be graduated in June.

Robinson expects to compete with a large field of candidates for the three councilor positions which are to be voted upon.

Election day is the first Monday in December.

WANTED—A reader for the staff of the Maine Campus, whose primary duty will be to read other college newspapers, clipping articles of interest to Maine students.

Shakespearian Film Set For Orono Theater

The Strand Theatre in Orono has announced that it will feature the English movie production "Henry V" November 16, 17, and 18. Comments everywhere, would indicate that it will be well received.

Prices for "Henry V" will be advanced over regular prices: matinee, $90 for adults, and evening, $1.20.

The film is in Technicolor, and is longer than most, having a running time of two hours and ten minutes.

This will be the first showing of the movie in this area, and that together with the rave notices of critics

Masque Meets Tuesday; Brennan To Stage Play

The Maine Masque will hold a general meeting of all members Tuesday evening in the Little Theatre. Masque members will be notified later of the time of the meeting.

Entertainment will consist of a one-act play written and directed by Bill Brennan.

Interscholastic Debaters Here On Saturday

Over 100 high school debaters and their coaches will attend the Bates Interscholastic Debate League Clinic, sponsored by the Maine Debating Council and Bates College, here on the Maine campus Saturday.

James D. Ewing, co-publisher of the Bangor Daily Commercial, and William Bair and Norman Suarez, instructors in history and government, will address the students.

The afternoon sessions will include round table discussions and a debate between Bates College and the University of Maine. Leon Gray and Larry Smith will represent Maine.

Committee Seeks Editor

The Student Publications Board, at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon, announced that candidates for the position of editor-in-chief of the Maine Campus should present themselves before the board at a meeting next Tuesday, Nov. 16, at 3:45 in 208 East Annex.

An application for the position should be made in writing, and the applicant should also present himself in person, the board ruled.

The vacancy was created Nov. 2 with the resignation of Cliff Whitten, elected editor last spring, and has been temporarily filled by the appointment as interim editor of Bill Brennan.

A second vacancy, that of news editor, was created when Miss Doris Vollmer resigned.

Election Committee Picks Dates For Choosing Class Officers

Campus politics swing into high gear this week as Hal Marden and his election committee begin preparations for the annual class elections.

Marden, heading a committee composed of Alvan Mersky, Richard Bate, Frank Foster, Martha Coles, Polly Rawlinson, and Rose Gagnon, has set Nov. 16 as the date for primary balloting, and Dec. 7 as final election day.

The election committee stated recently that it felt a three week interim between election days will give the student body a better chance to get acquainted with the candidates for the class positions.

It will also give the candidates an opportunity to appoint representatives to hold them publicize their platforms and to explain their aims and policies if they are elected.

According to Marden, the voting procedure will be simple. Ballot boxes for each class will be placed in the foyer of the Library, and will be staffed from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. by representatives appointed by the Women's Student Government and the Men's Senate.

In addition to choosing class officers at the primary elections, students will be called upon to select three of eight sophomore men to be put on the final ballots for the sophomore representative to the Athletic Board.

The three candidates for each office getting the most votes in the primaries will be placed on the final ballot.

The final election will name the president (male), vice president (male or female), secretary (female), and treasurer (male or female) of each class.

Orono Citizens Restrict New Fraternities

The citizens of Orono restricted the construction of fraternity houses at a special town meeting Monday night.

By an almost unanimous vote, the town decided to amend the zoning ordinance so that fraternity houses cannot be constructed in the residential sections of Oak, Summer, and Main Streets.

An adjusting board was set up which can issue permits for conducting "boarding and rooming houses and a fraternity house" if such structures are not "detrimental to the character of the neighborhood."

The action was taken as a result of Tau Epsilon Phi's effort to purchase a large house on Main Street for living quarters.

The fraternity's vice president stated today that he feels no fraternity will be able to purchase property in the Orono residential sections because of the amendment and the use of the word "detrimental" which would be up to the board to decide.

Traffic ordinances and parking rules were enacted at the meeting.

Intramural Debate Tournament Starts Thursday Night

Competition will begin Thursday evening, Nov. 18, for entrants in the 1948 intramural debate tournament, Debate Council President Larry Jenness announced today. The debates will be held in South Stevens Hall, beginning at 7 p.m.

Students interested in entering the tournament may still do so by contacting Professor Gardner in 310 Stevens Hall. Entries may be made individually or by teams.

The question for debate is "Resolved: that the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunities by means of federal grants."

Dribblers Over Dancers

The Square Dance Club will not meet next Tuesday night because of the WAA basketball jamboree.

Saturday, November 13, is the date for the second annual Farmers' Fair sponsored by the Aggie Club.

For further news and highlights on the Fair turn to page 3.

Major Healy Cites Importance Of Student Officer Training

"A student should spend time in ROTC training because first, his country needs him, and second, in the event of a future war his experience will better qualify him for officer training, which brings with it the prestige and added responsibilities of commissioned personnel," Major Richard W. Healy told a University seminar Thursday.

Commenting on the historical background of the ROTC, Healy defined its past and present mission in training college men to answer the call of their country in event of national emergency.

Healy pointed out that students who are taking courses in the College of Arts and Sciences and Agriculture are eligible for the Infantry advanced course, while those pursuing studies in Engineering may be chosen to take the advanced courses in Coast Artillery and Signal Corps.

"The present requirements for regular commissioned officers are about 52,000 for all branches of the service as against 16,000 of a few years ago," Healy said.

Major Healy attended the public schools of Augusta, Maine, and was graduated from the University of Maine in the class of 1938.

Commissioned a second lieutenant of infantry in the regular army in 1942, Healy went to Trinidad with the 33rd infantry.

Healy returned to the United States in 1945 and attended school at the Command and General Staff college at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas. He resumed his present duties as assistant professor of military science and tactics here at the University in the fall of 1946.

He holds the bronze star medal and the army commendation ribbon.

Dorms Receive Recreation Supplies; Laundries To Come

William C. Wells, Manager of Dormitories, has announced that table-tennis equipment will be installed in Dunn, Corbett Halls, and New Dorm 3.

In reply to a recommendation by the Dunn-Corbett Inter-Dorm Council, Mr. Wells stated that the University would install self-supporting, coin operated washing machines in the three new men's dorms.

The machines will be of the 25 cent or 10 cent type.

Minsky Named Chairman Of Hillel State Board

Leonard Minsky, a University of Maine delegate, was elected chairman of the Hillel State Board, at a meeting held Sunday in Waterville. Representatives of the Colby, Bates, and Maine chapters of Hillel met at the Mayflower Hill campus to set a convention date and to set up a budget for the group as a whole. Plans for two or more chapters to hold combined social meetings were also made.

Catholic Chapel Nearly Done

The new Catholic Chapel and recreation hall, formerly the Spruces, will be finished in approximately two weeks, Father LeTourneau, the Catholic Chaplain, announces.

The work has progressed so far without difficulties he said.

The old banquet hall is being extended 40 feet to the rear to make a permanent chapel seating 300 persons and the former dining room and kitchen will be Newman Hall, for the use of the club and as a recreation room.

Newman Hall will be open daily until 10 p.m.

You don't have to write it. You don't have to wait for a reporter to visit you. Just phone Extension 52 and ask for the City Editor.

Gala Time In Store For All At Farmer's Fair Saturday

BY SAM JONES

Dungarees and gaily-colored shirts will be the uniform of the day as the University's Agricultural Club invites everyone to attend the all-day variety of free entertainment at the second annual Farmers' Fair, Saturday, Nov. 13.

The activities will get underway at 10 a.m., with the student cattle judging and showing contests, and the Future Farmers of America will take over from 11 a.m. until 1 p.m. F.F.A. teams from all over the state compete to annex the Grand Championship Plaque won last year by Old Town High School.

The coed cow-milking contest, which was a popular feature of last year's Fair, is scheduled again. Other activities will include a pie eating contest, potato picking contests, a potato relay race and a baby show.

"Boopsie" and the "High Striker" will both be featured again, and there will be dart games, baseball pitching, nail driving, bean counting, penny pitching, and basketball throwing.

The Forestry Club will present a wood-sawing contest and an educational exhibit. The Home Ec Club will stage a fashion show, and there will be a flower display by the Horticulture department, and exhibits by the Agronomy and Poultry departments.

The Calico Ball will climax the day's events when Lloyd Rafnell and his orchestra will furnish music from 8 p.m. until midnight.

The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the Calico Queen during intermission.

Beautiful coed aspirants for the title are:

Connie Green, Lewiston; Jane Hastings, Fryeburg; Jo Josslyn, Portland; Betty Leard, Hampden; Mary Marsden, Lewiston; Dorrine McMahon, Houlton; Pamela Shattuck, Fort Preble; and Eva Stinson, Prospect Harbor.

Francis Hawkes, South Windham, spill-the-milk; Robert Waterman, Sabattus, coed cow milking contest; Roland Mayberry, Stillwater, baby judging; Bernard Pooler, Washburn, pie eating contest; John Findlen, Fort Fairfield, coed and faculty potato picking contest.

Norman Cummings, Lagrange, potato relay race; Edward Johnston, Easton, seed counting; Harry Trask, Easton, basketball pitching; Albert Mosher, Gorham, penny pitching; Foster Gordon, Medway, exhibits; Lewis Wyman, Orono, arrangements; Robert Cratty, Patten, treasurer.

Editor Plans Minor Changes

This week, the Campus comes out under new editorship. Outwardly there are few apparent changes, with the exception that the editorial page has been shifted from page three to page four, and that the column "I'm Usually Wrong, But..." is no longer in existence.

There will be, however, a slight change in policy. The Maine Campus is a student paper operated by students. Let there be no mistake about that. But, The Maine Campus, while being operated by the students, needs guidance, in order for it to be a paper which students will like.

It would be possible for the staff to put out a paper without any outside advice, but the question arises, would it be as good a paper, morally and physically, as it can be with expert advice? The editors think not, and have made their decisions accordingly. Professor Wayne Jordan, if the wishes of the editor and the majority of the associate editors are complied with, will continue his normal relationship with the Campus, that of advisor.

There will undoubtedly be much talk about the sudden change of editors. Former editor Cliff Whitten submitted his resignation, dated November 2, for reasons of his own which do not affect the present staff. The vacant position is now temporarily filled by the writer. The position left open by the resignation of Doris Vollmer, news editor, has been filled by joint cooperation of the entire staff.

The Campus is always open to inspection by any student, group of students, faculty member, group of faculty members, or by anyone expressing an interest in the paper. An open invitation to work with the editor during the process of preparing any issue is cordially extended.

We firmly believe that the Campus, despite the few changes, can be as good, if not better, than previously. We have the equipment, the personnel, and the material, and we will continue to give you a paper which we hope will fulfill your desires and needs.

Acting Editor-in-Chief

Wide Open Election Scheduled

Class elections are drawing near—and this year they are going to be different! Hal Marden and his election committee are not just making arrangements for four officers to be elected to the helm of their respective classes; they are going one step further in trying to remedy the causes for the weak support which has taken place at the polls during the past several years.

The Election Committee promises the student body one thing—they are NOT going to LECTURE on school spirit, they ARE going TO DO something about it!

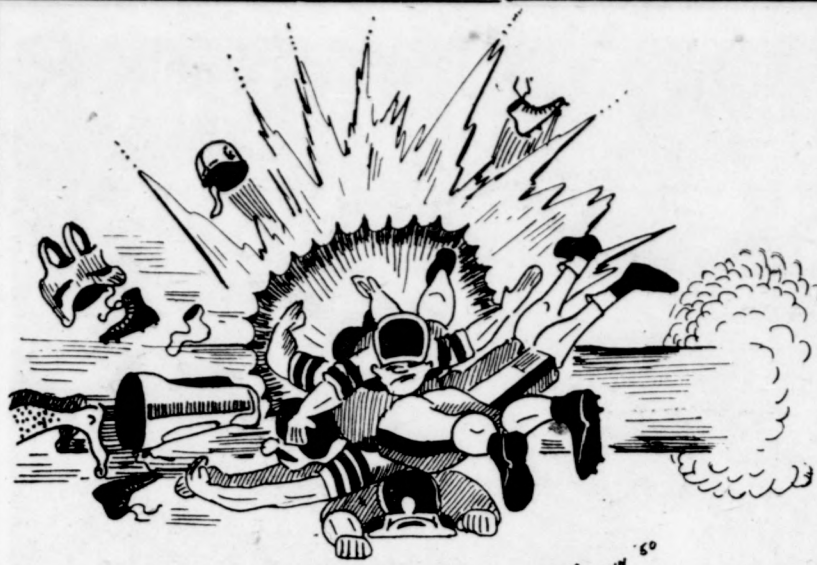

The primaries and final elections this year are going to be wide open. Anyone who is willing to work will have just as good a chance as any of his opponents in securing the office which he desires. The preparation for the voting procedure is being arranged so that only individual campaigning for support and a personal display of ability will mean the difference between victory or defeat.

Those of you who feel that you have the qualifications to fill the position of an officer of your class, now have a chance to do so. You now have the opportunity to challenge any organized campus group's candidates for class office. If you have felt in the past that the odds were too much against you now is your chance to announce your candidacy for class office—and now will be your best chance of winning.

Details of the election procedure will be published soon in the Campus. In the meantime look for, and think of, the members of your class whom you feel will best represent your interests and best work on your behalf.

There are always a few that spoil a good thing for the others. Some of the vets on campus may have been wondering why their GI supply allowance has been cut from no limit to a three dollar limit this year. It seems that some of the vets were capitalizing by buying more supplies than they could possibly use and selling them to non-veteran students for pin-money. Now, boys, was that cricket?

The building boom is going in great style at Maine now, but the chances are that within ten years the new structures will be used for storing all the road blocks used during the erection of said buildings.

SCOTCH AND SODA

BY BIFF SHALEK

Two years ago a representative group composed of six faculty members and six veteran students under the chairmanship of Professor G. William Small met to decide future University policy concerning Armistice Day, V-E & J days. It was decided that Memorial Day, May 30, would serve as a collective commemoration day for the three.

It was pointed out to the Campus this week that it was rather paradoxical to declare a student holiday on November 6, the date of the Maine, Bowdoin game, and then to let November 11, Armistice Day, pass unobserved.

University policy is such that in the final analysis on May 30, bless us, we will be given one assembly period.

Regardless of the students who would use the day to sleep late, go hunting, catch up on their studies (is that bad?) and the young lady who expressed the opinion that she didn't like holidays in the middle of the week because it broke up her weekends, there are some students who feel keenly the apparent, although unintended, snub of Armistice Day.

So what if we don't blow bugles, thrill to the sound of martial music, and all that hoopla. One of the most impressive things that could be done would be to take a minute. One minute—to be thankful, to be humble, and to meditate on ways and means of keeping this world safe from the Atomic sword of fear that dangles by a Security Council hair, above our heads. Think it over, Committee, and see what you can do next year....

Note to General Senate in connection with the President's Day. This is President Hauck's fifteenth year as President of Maine.

Kaleidoscope

BY SAM JONES

Fraternities are here. They have been here a long time. They will remain as long as men want their twin benefits...fellowship and sociability.

However, recently, three of our leading editorialists have taken wild blind swings at the fraternity system. Some of what these social anarchists have criticized might be true. Might be true if seen from the inside. These three quasi-crusading scribes are not on the inside. This, of course, does not affect their right to opinion, but it does their facts.

We don't wish to make an issue of the fraternity system. Yet it is only just to all concerned, that both sides of the issue be presented. We certainly desire no wall between frat and non-frat. Fraternities have mellowed and modernized with time; the line between the two groups is no longer so finely drawn. This is as it should be. It is time that instead of this inter-bickering we should have cooperation in all phases of campus life.

Our three oracles seem to think that the two main difficulties with fraternities are Hell Week and Segregation.

Hell Week too, has mellowed with age. True, Hell Week by its very nature is a physical and mental strain on its participants. Yet there are worthwhile results, the intangible benefits of harmony, solidarity, and chapter understanding. This is its measure. Some chapters have abandoned Hell Week. Theirs is their own right. Ours is too.

Fraternities are exclusive. So is all of life. It is our contention that the race problem here at Maine is slight. That, too, is as it should be. And we will not write for a minority thought to raise a majority controversy. There is segregation. National rules often prohibit open membership, this is not the fault of the chapters (It is not our province to predict the results if these National bans were removed.) Fraternities are often no more restrictive than many other campus organizations. Fraternities are often less dogmatic. True, two wrongs do not make a right. But none of us are gilded.

This column has been, for the most part, opinion. But opinion seasoned by long discussion and thought. Our facts are, both as strong and as susceptible as any others: susceptible to misuse and rationalization. Our opinions, just as valid.

The issue should now be turned aside in the application of the energies of all students for better cooperation and friendlier contact; for a better campus life. Greek and non-greek are not a problem nor should they be. So be it.

It seems to be too great a discrepancy looking at the continual enlargement of the athletic facilities and comparing this to sweating out class assignments in the library with only one copy of a book on the reserved list and some forty people trying to share it.

Looking over the women on campus in their New Look finery, leads one to believe that the creator of Olive Oyle must have had the ideal of feminine beauty a number of years in advance of the times.

Campus Errs Says Department Head

Dear Editor:

I should like to call your attention to a serious misstatement made in your publication of October 21. In that you stated: "The Maine Home Economics Association has been conducting a recruiting drive for young women with degrees to enroll in the courses." We are not conducting a drive to recruit women with degrees. We are attempting to inform high school graduates about the many fine opportunities in home economics in the hope that they may choose it as a major in college. At the present time we are centering our emphasis on the undergraduate level.

From B.U. News October 28, 1948

To the Editor: As a freshman, perhaps I fall in the bracket "to be seen and not to be heard." I, however, don't feel that way and am about to sound off.

I have now seen four issues of the News and much to my disappointment have found nothing of interest to me in this newspaper (?). As a student of Boston University I am more interested in the activities and fellow students that will affect me either directly or indirectly rather than Prof X's trip to Europe, Dr. Y's new theory, or a new teacher's society.

Coming from a site of another University, I have had an opportunity to see another newspaper. Although not a student of that University, I enjoy and find more interesting their newspaper for it is quite simply a STUDENT newspaper. Aside from its excellent news coverage of student activities, it is dedicated completely to student interest and entertainment. It contains several columns such as "Scotch and Soda," "I'm Usually Wrong, But—," "The Bear Facts," etc. These columns are devoted entirely to the students through impersonal, informative gossip, stories, comedy, behind the scene stories of sports and activities, etc.

I hope in the future that News will cater more to the student and his activities

Frosh Rules Cause Needless Confusion

To the Editor: No longer being a freshman, I feel myself in a position to complain about something that has bothered me for some time. That complaint concerns freshman rules imposed upon first year men here at the University of Maine.

When a young man enters college he is trying to gain some knowledge for later life. He goes to school to learn, not to be made a fool of. He usually finds things pretty confusing and mixed-up for awhile. He has a hard time adapting himself to the differences between high school and college. In general, a freshman has a tough time at first. Throwing those caps and rules at him doesn't help him much either. It only adds to his confusion and embarrassment.

I think that upperclassmen ought to try to help first year students adjust themselves to their surroundings by being friendly to them and encouraging them instead of ridiculing them.

OSSER

Bear Facts

BY JERRY ROGOVIN

Rabbit Dombkowski's important conversion in the Bowdoin game was more than the ordinary feat of booting the ball between the uprights. Maine's top back had to wait until two would-be blockers attempting to erase Art Clark from the play had fallen to the ground before he attempted to kick. Although hit by both men, Clark managed to hold the ball perfectly for Dombkowski.

Faculty Manager Ted Curtis has announced officially that Springfield College will replace Northeastern on next year's football schedule. Vermont will fill that date starting in 1950. Maine is taking the step to ensure acceptance into the Yankee Conference, which calls for a minimum number of conference opponents. All varsity sports will be affected.

Basketball practice started Tuesday with a fair turnout. The Bangor papers picked up the rumor that Coach Eck Allen may not lead the courtmen this year, and have suggested Sam Sezak and Rome Rankin as likely replacements. In addition, the name of Nat Crowley, the popular John Baptist coach, and former Maine star, has been mentioned as a possibility. Coach Allen will enter Leahy Clinic, Boston, according to reports, sometime this month.

The Bowdoin upset should quiet the squawks of a good many critics. More than a one-point victory, the game marks a milestone in an entire school's comeback. From Coach Allen and the starting eleven right down the line to the students and faculty all rose from the depths after the Bates fiasco, recovered enough, and supported the team to its series tie.

Maine's varsity harriers did not fare as well in the New England this season as in last, finishing ninth.

The Colby-Bates game of this afternoon may prove to be another thriller. The Mules upset pre-game dope last season with a stunner, 9-7. A Colby win would leave the State Series in only a two-way tie. A Bates win would split ownership of the Barrows Cup to three four-month periods.

Coach Eck Allen and Dean of Men Elton "Tad" Wieman have been invited by the Providence Gridiron Club to attend their annual banquet November 15.

Intramural touch football will close with Hannibal Hamlin opposing Phi Kappa Sigma for the campus championship Saturday. The game will be a good one; Hannibal Hamlin has more than nine offensive plays, and the Phi Kaps have a fast, tall team, which proved its ability by upsetting Kappa Sigma.

Bowdoin's football rally last Friday was a darn sight better than any that Maine has held this fall. True, the Brunswick school is slightly more liberal, and it isn't co-ed, but the rally itself had more punch, and was far less the vaudeville show than those we have witnessed here. One of the features of the Bowdoin pep show was that faculty members spoke, and they were good. Humor and pep was intermixed before an outdoor crowd of some 700 people by the light of a bonfire with loud cheering and good, short speeches.

Intramural basketball will start this week. The IMAA has emphasized the need of good officials by raising the pay per game and suggesting punitive measures if dorms and fraternities fail to provide good men

Maine's Comeback Predicted By Eck Allen

Allen Or Trio Will Conduct Court Sessions

Basketball practice for the varsity started Tuesday under the leadership of Coach Eck Allen. Only six lettermen appeared the first two days of sessions. Annexmen and others who were being counted on to help the team this season are scholastically ineligible, and graduation has claimed four of last year's starting five.

Coach Allen, who will definitely go to Leahy Clinic, Boston, for a physical check up November 19, or sooner if he can arrange it, will be assisted by Coaches Bill Kenyon, Rome Rankin, and Sam Sezak. If Allen is O.K.'ed by the doctors he will return to the campus within a few days. If, on the other hand, he must be further examined, or operated upon, the head coach will be absent from the University for three to four weeks. The trio of coaches will then run the team, with Rankin the probable head coach. Nat Crowley, young mentor of John Baptist High, who has been spoken of by many as a possible replacement, was not mentioned by Allen as a substitute.

Charley Goddard, Hank Peasley, Al Hopkins, Jerry Beggert, Al Wing, and Bob Kelley lead the returning courtmen back to practice. The first game of the season will be played on the home court against Bates December 4.

Annex Blanks Jayvees, 6-0

The Maine Annex blanked the Jayvees, 6-0, at Brunswick Saturday with a second period touchdown.

Gordon Pendleton recovered a fumble on the J. V. 18 and set up the score. Bernie Walker carried the ball to the three, and after two tries by Pendleton, Gene Sturgeon punched over from the two-yard line.

Varsity, Frosh Run Well At Boston NEIC

Bob Black and Rhode Island State took individual honors again in the New England Intercollegiate cross country run at Franklin Field, Boston, Monday. Black won the 4 1/4-mile jaunt for the third straight year, and Rhody won the team for the eighth time in the last ten years. It was the 36th running of the event.

Maine ended up in ninth place with a point total of 205. The Rams' winning total was 51, 70 better than second-place Massachusetts. No Maine runner finished in the top ten places. Rhode Island also won the Yankee Conference title at stake at the same time with 24 points. The Bears were third with 83 in the five team competition.

Maine's freshman team climbed into third place in their standings, only 30 points behind winning New Hampshire, and four points out of second spot. Dick Dow of the Annex completed the 3 1/4-mile course in 17:37, 20 seconds behind the winning time.

Women's Sports

Maine WAA entertains Bates and Colby colleges Saturday, November 13, in the Women's Gym with a day-long sports program. Fourteen girls from each of the colleges are planning to attend. General chairman Caroline Strong has announced the plans as follows: the program will begin at 10 a.m. and continue till 4 p.m. It will include hockey relays, archery, two hockey games, dinner at South Estabrooke followed by a social hour, and four hockey games in the afternoon. The other committees for the day are Relay—Lee Ambrose, Connie Berry; Scoring and Equipment—Liz Marden, Julia Shores; Refreshments—Beryl Lyons, Marilyn Seavey; Registration—Betty Leard. An indoor program has been planned in case of inclement weather.

Basketball Jamboree

All women basketball enthusiasts are invited to attend the Basketball Jamboree Tuesday at 7:45 in the Women's Gym to celebrate the official opening of the basketball season. Basketball Manager Evelyn Ellsworth and assistants Betty Arnold and Lora Moulton have arranged a round-robin tournament in which all the dormitories will take part. Another game will be played for rules interpretation, followed by an explanation and demonstration of a possible new rule.

'48 Squad Defends '47's Crown; '49 Team Shows Title Material

Allenmen Nip Bowdoin, 7-6

Maine's 1948 gridiron season closed in a blaze of glory for Coach Eck Allen, his varsity eleven, and the entire student body with the stirring 7-6 upset over Bowdoin. The game threw the State Series into a two-way, and possibly a three-way tie for first place.

A wet and dismal day greeted more than 2,000 Maine fans who had journeyed down from Orono, some hopefully expecting a win, but more expecting to see the Polar Bears whip the defending state champs, and take home the trophy themselves.

Bowdoin started proceedings in the expected manner. The visitors received, but after a first play gain by Phil Coulombe netted a first down, Russ Noyes was sent in to punt Maine out of a hole. A Burke to Lee aerial was good for 14 yards. Rosse swept the end, McAvoy hit the middle for long gains, and Maine was on the defensive on their own 28. The first of four pass interceptions by the Maine secondary stopped the first threat. Al Sproul was the stalwart in that case.

After an exchange of punts, the Walshmen were again on their way. The drive eventually ate up 56 yards and culminated in Bowdoin's six points. The feature of the drive was a 38-yard pass play from Burke to Zdanowicz to the 14. In two plays the ball rested within two feet of paydirt, and on the first play of the second period, Bob McAvoy crashed over.

At this point came the most decisive line play of the game. None of the 9700 spectators realized its importance when Al Wing partially deflected the extra point try enough to cause it to go wide.

Maine's score came in the second period after a poor kick had gone out of bounds on the Bowdoin 42. The punt netted less than 10 yards from scrimmage, and it was just the lift Maine needed. Coulombe and Lord alternated to carry the ball for a first down. Lord faded back on the next play to pass, but the rushing Bowdoin ends bothered his aim, and the pass went incomplete. On the next play Lord started the same maneuver, then ran to his left and outdistanced the sucked-in ends, gaining 23 important yards. Coulombe hit right tackle for nine, to put the ball inches from the goal line, and Bus Sproul bucked over on a quarter back sneak. Dombkowski's conversion was perfect, and Maine led, 7-6.

Second half play was the most exciting of this Maine season, and of many others. The Bears nearly iced the contest in the third stanza, but a fumble was recovered by an alert Bowdoin tackle, and the Polar Bears took the offensive reins.

Six successive first downs marked the Polar Bear march from their own four-yard line to within the Maine 15. The Bowdoin backs cut through the Maine line almost with ease for steady gains of four and six yards, but Ed McDermott recovered a fumble on a reverse, and Maine took over again.

One last Bowdoin march was started but the Bears halted the last desperate effort, and took the win deep in their own territory.

Another State Title Is Expected In 1949

Prospects for the 1949 football season are the brightest in many years. The coaching staff will be greeted by 29 returning varsity squad members and graduates from the Annex and Orono freshmen, and the junior varsity team. With the nucleus from this season and the added strength of new men, Maine's chances of taking a share of the state lead for a third successive year are excellent.

Rabbit Dombkowski, Al Sproul, Jack Zollo, John Schmidlin, and Bill Small are the only seniors on this year's squad. Their loss will be felt by Coaches Eck Allen and Whoops Snively, but the promise of next year may help them forget the graduation of one of Maine's greatest gridiron stars in the backfield, a great lineman, a great defensive back, and two second-string linemen.

The varsity squad alone will contribute 29 men to a team which will face a tougher schedule than that of 1948. Springfield College will replace Northeastern to give the Bears another Yankee Conference opponent. In addition, the Frosh, Jayvees, and the Annex team will all aid the varsity rebuilding process.

Art Clark will be a leading contender for full-time quarterback duties. Phil White, Hal Marden of Colby, Charley Loranger, Morse, and Roy will compete with Reggie Lord for halfback spots. Phil Coulombe, punting specialist Russ (Butch) Noyes, and Joe Pruett may divide the fullback chores. Frosh candidates will include passer Leon Trenholm and Bill Bird in the backfield. Coaches Kenyon and Jones have promising men in Soucy, Burgess, and Soucie. The Annex team has men who will contend the starting spots.

The forward wall picture is almost as bright. Only at center and at the guards is the manpower subject in question, and the availability of the lighter teams has not been fully considered. Ed McDermott will return for his fourth year of varsity competition. Beisel, Gardner, and Beals will bolster the pivot position. Jim McBrady's status is unknown at this writing.

Charley Salisbury, Seymour Card, Stan Trask, and Dick Reilly will return to the varsity at the tackle slots. The nucleus is strong. In addition, Fogler and Dow of the JV squad are strong contenders.

At the ends, Maine will be strong. This season's starters will return. Al Wing and Randy Adams will be aided and abetted by Blaisdell, Cates, Dennis, Leggett, Largay of the Jayvees, and Castner of the Annex, among the outstanding possibilities.

Jack Zollo's absence will be felt at guard, but 1948 starter Don Barron will return. To ease the burden, Duddy and Fecteau can be expected to help a great deal. Stone of the Jayvee squad will be high on the substitute list.

This season's 4-3-0 record may not rate the high ranking of national team, but it has brought a state series tie.

The fall award banquet will be held Tuesday, November 16, at the new cafeteria at 6:45 p.m.

Bridge Club Accepts Bid In National Play

Elliot Lamb, president of the University Bridge Club, has announced that his organization has accepted the invitation of the National Intercollegiate Bridge tournament to compete.

A preliminary round of contract bridge will be played by mail in February with game hands sent here by the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee. If the Bridge Club wins, its players will be among the 16 highest ranking pairs to meet in Chicago April 22 and 23.

Only undergraduates are eligible for the championship title and silver trophy. Players who go to Chicago will be guests of the Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament Committee at the Drake Hotel.

The Bridge Club holds tournaments Friday evenings in the MCA Building at 7:30. Students who play contract bridge are invited to join. Yearly dues are 50 cents.

Rushing Of Frosh Coeds Will Begin On Monday

The first week of informal rushing of freshman women by the sororities will extend from Nov. 15-23.

During this time the sororities will entertain small groups of rushees in the sorority rooms at after dinner dates. These dates give the freshman girls a chance to meet members of the various sororities and also afford an opportunity to ask questions about sorority membership, activities, and expenses.

Viennese Coed At University Heading For Teaching Career

By SIMON SKLAR

From the University of Vienna via Washington State Normal School to the University of Maine is the academic itinerary of attractive Mrs. Roland Mann, a junior in education and part-time library assistant.

A former resident of the Austrian capital where she was born, Mrs. Mann, the former Fraulein Ingrid Ziska, speaks English fluently with an attractive accent. Eight semesters of English in high school while in Austria plus American residence since June, 1947, has enabled her to master the English language as only a few of her countrymen have been able to do.

Mrs. Mann specifically desires to be a physical education instructor. She met her husband, a sophomore in the college of Arts and Sciences, in Salzburg, where he was stationed as an employee of the War Department following overseas military service.

Having attended the University of Vienna for one semester, Mrs. Mann notes that the basic difference between American and European universities is that specialization is stressed in Europe, while American institutions lean toward a broad field of education. She added that attendance is never taken at class meeting at the U. of Vienna.

Mrs. Mann finds that she likes both the University and the state as a whole, but is apprehensive of her second Maine winter.

Friendship-Marriage Series Ends Sunday

Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon will lead the closing discussion in the Friendship and Marriage series, next Sunday, on the subject of "The Christian Marriage."

Rev. Kenyon, rector of Saint Peter's Episcopal Church in Rockland, will give the concepts and responsibilities of the Christian marriage as accepted by society.

Marilyn Wyman, secretary of the Canterbury Club, is the student leader of this meeting to be held in the Louis Oakes Room.

Mr. John Romanyshyn, member of the sociology department, discussed "That First Year" in last Sunday's meeting.

Dorm Administration Costs A Million—Wells

William C. Wells, University manager of dormitories, told the Spectator Club at a meeting in the home of Professor Robert I. Ashman that dormitory administration is a million dollar-a-year business.

Wells explained the responsibilities of housing management and the duties of food supervision.

Registrar Office Lists Lost Items For Students

If you have lost something, the chances are that you can find it in the Registrar's office. So far this year students have misplaced an imposing array of articles ranging all the way from a strand of pearls to a dissecting set.

The list of articles found include: Books: Land Drainage and Reclamation, Review of Technical Periodicals, Essentials of Effective Public Speaking, Child Psychology, An Introduction to Astronomy, Preface to Philosophy, Four Great American Novels, Entendamonos, The World in the Twentieth Century. Glasses: 1 pair of pink shells. Mechanical pencils: 1 blue—Maine Bear, 1 black—Champion Motors, 2 gray. Fountain Pens: 1 black—Sheaffers', 1 dark green and gold—Autograph, 1 dark green and gold—Wearever, 1 gray and Silver—Parker.

Gloves 1 pair black—leather, 1 pair black—white edging, 1 pair black—cotton, Scarfs: 1 white—U. S. Navy, 1 printed silk. Odds and ends: 1 strand of pearls, 1 dissecting set, 1 silver ring (Manila 1945), Rosary beads, 1 brown and white sport coat, 1 tan jacket—U. of M. seal, 1 cloth jacket—Windward, 1 black coat—Lady's, 1 tan raincoat—Cravenette.

Demonstration Given

Dr. Frederick T. Martin of the chemistry staff spoke and gave a demonstration of glass blowing at last night's meeting of the chemical society in 365 Aubert Hall.

Three Seniors To Speak To Tech Groups

Three seniors in Electrical Engineering will give short talks at the next meeting of the Student Branches of the AIEE and IRE, to be held Wednesday, November 17, at 7:30.

Two of the speakers will discuss briefly the subjects on which they are writing theses. Henry Wallace will talk on "Dry Oxide Rectifiers," while W. David MacLean will discuss "Loran—Navigational Aids." The third speaker, Robert Hanson, will give a preview of what to expect in industry as an electrical engineer. Hanson was associated with the Western Electric Company during the summer vacation.

A short but very important business meeting of all members or prospective members of the IRE Student Branch will be held immediately following the above program.

Grounds Dept. Prepares For Winter

The Department of Buildings and Grounds, under the direction of Superintendent J. Carroll Dempsey, is making preparations for the long winter ahead.

New anti-draft porches are being added to the south and west entrances of the Dunn-Corbett Cafeteria.

Dempsey said recently that, to his knowledge, no action has been taken toward building a wind-break on the Beta house bus stop. This matter will be presented at the next meeting of the General Senate.

Survey Shows Apathy Exists In Class Voting

In the wake of the national elections it would seem that the coming student elections would be of greater interest than usual. However, a survey by a member of the Campus staff indicates that poor publicity and organization plus the powerless position of the class office holders are once again creating an unhealthy apathy which in all likelihood will once again produce nothing more than a token vote.

The following comments were made by students that were asked the question, "Are you going to vote in the coming student elections, and if not, why?"

Jim Jordan '50: "It depends on the location of the ballot boxes. If I'm walking by, I'll vote."

George Gonya '50: "I will vote. It's the duty of everyone to practice this function."

Paul Kline '50: "Don't know enough about the set-up. I won't vote."

Ralph Colwell '50: "I'll vote if I know enough about the candidates."

Robert Baillargeon '50: "Maybe, if I knew the set-up would improve."

H. W. Howard '50: "No, as long as the situation is what it is."

Mrs. Isabelle Sampson '50: "Yes, I plan to vote; I always have."

Norma Drummond '49: "Yes, I will vote because I believe everyone should."

David Hall '49: "No, it doesn't amount to anything."

Donald York '51: "No, the officers don't have any authority, anyway."

Victor Pooler '50: "Yes, the policy of voting is good, even if the actual office holders' functions are limited."

George Vardamis '49: "Yes, because everyone should vote, but the present system does need change."

Malcolm Josephs '49: "No, because voting under the present set-up is a mockery."

Ralph Stark '49: "No, the election of officers under the present set-up is meaningless."

Whitney Cites Problem

"What, No Basement?" an article by Professor Whitney appears in the current issue of Better Homes and Gardens.

Student Aides In Library Cite Book Shortage

"Maine students in the library are quiet and orderly, but they are inclined to complain about the lack of books they need for outside reading," according to Elaine MacNichol and Robert Gilchrist, two of the student assistants who work in the Library. Miss MacNichol, a junior majoring in history and government, also works at the main desk, locating the books in the stacks for students.

She finds the books most in demand are those pertaining to history and literature. The students' biggest complaint is they cannot get the books they want because they are on reserve or are out.

Robert Gilchrist, a senior whose major is education, agrees that grumbling is quite common. Behind the reference desk most of the time, Bob says the job is busy, getting books and then returning them to the stacks. There are quite a few books, he declared, but what they are and where they are is learned in a week.

History, sociology, and education books are the types of readings that he finds most frequently called for. In regard to the students he can't recall any time when the library silence rules have been abused to the extent that a disturbance was caused.

Both agree that they like their jobs. There is quite a bit of walking, but when there is a lull they have a chance to catch up on their studying.

University Society

'Twas a hot time in the old town Saturday night. Too bad we weren't in the right town—purely from the reporter's angle, you understand. Perhaps the bubbling spirits were due to our smashing victory over Bowdoin—at any rate, a high time was had by all.

KITTY

After the mass evacuation to Bowdoin, who was left on the campus? You guessed it! The Maine Masque!! The show must go on, and as a reward to these hawd wukkin' Thespians—cider and donuts were served. Not only that, but there was entertainment by Al Dumais and Paul Payson at the party following the closing of that very successful production of "Arms and the Man," starring Marnel Abrams. Whoop-de-doo!!

We trust that all you lovely people are planning to attend the 2nd annual

Farmers' Fair?? Sounds like a lot of fun... especially the Calico Ball featuring Bob Percival and his orchestra. (Ed. note—Any organization or prominent citizen wishing a plug in this column, please let us know. We'll try to fit you in some lean week... for a nominal fee, of course.)

We'd really like to agitate about something this week but we can't think of a thing to agitate about... Brennan has taken care of class elections, Shalek's taking care of Armistice Day commemoration... so, dear reader, WE give you this week's pinnings...

Navy Research Has Openings For Engineers

Philip J. Brockway, University placement director, has announced that Dr. Austin L. Howard, a representative of the Naval Research laboratory at Silver Spring, Md., will be on campus Nov. 15 to interview juniors and seniors for Civil Service examinations for student aides in naval research.

Seniors who will graduate before June 30, 1949, are eligible. If accepted, they can become engineers. Juniors majoring in technology, physics, and the physical sciences will be tested in February. Leaves of absence will be granted to them to complete college, upon acceptance. The seniors do not take examinations. They need only to submit a record of education and experience.

Mr. University To Interview Ex-Royal Marine Bodey On First Broadcast

Mr. University will welcome a student from Bristol, England, on the broadcast from University Town next Wednesday evening at 7:30 over station WLBZ. John Bodey, the student, is an ex-member of the Royal Marines. He is here at Maine to study the pulp and paper industry.

Coming straight from England, John has a very pronounced British accent which gives color and charm to his interview with Mr. University.

University Towners will not be surprised to learn that John has the usual English fondness for tea; but what is surprising is the fact that John came to the University of Maine as the result of an afternoon tea. However, more about that on the broadcast.

The script for this program was written and will be directed by Malcolm "Mac" Chadbourne, a member of the class of 1951. A newcomer in the Radio Guild, this is his first attempt at radio writing. Deviating from the straight interview, Mac has successfully dramatized interesting parts of John's civilian and military life.

This year's University Town programs opened last night with Cuban Highlights, a script based on Janice Crane's experiences in Cuba last summer. The production was written and directed by Margaret Hanks.

Subscriptions for THE MAINE CAMPUS will be received at 202 East Annex.

We've proved it!

Problem: To hold down costs, and speed the extension of telephone service.

Solution: High-strength wire whose use allows the span between poles to be increased from 150 feet to more than 300. One pole now does the work of two.

The problem, of course, is a continuing one for telephone people. High-strength wire with required electrical qualities is only one of many things they have developed to help solve the problem in these days of high construction costs.

In total, their developments are the reason why telephone service here is the best in the world—the reason why a telephone call costs only a few pennies.
