Annual Fair Is Considered Successful

Jane Hastings Is Straw Hat Queen

The second annual Farmers' Fair came to a successful conclusion last Saturday evening with the crowning of Jane Hastings as Queen of the Fair.

The Fair, held in the Field House during the day, was highlighted by several contests.

Louise Hilton whizzed down the aisle, the potatoes flying left and right into the basket, to cop honors in the co-ed potato picking contest.

Ruth Upton managed to take first place in the co-ed milking contest.

Clyde Adams and Polly Bartlett teamed up on the big cross-cut to win the sawing contest.

Fred Bigney chomped his way through a king size blueberry pie winning the pie eating contest.

Our own Prexy Hauck gave it the old college try, but lost to Professor Wynn Libby in the faculty potato picking contest.

Game booths and exhibits showing the work of the agricultural students lined the arena.

Twenty high school Future Farmers of America chapters judged cattle. The Old Town club was the high-point team, retaining the Future Farmers of America plaque.

Wieman Grants Visiting Hours To New Dorms

Dean of Men Elton E. Wieman has announced that visiting hours for women in the Dunn and Corbett lounges have been established on a trial basis. The announcement came after two conferences of the Dunn-Corbett inter-dorm council were held with the Dean.

Women guests will be permitted to enter the lounges upon the invitation of residents from 7-9 p.m., Fridays and Saturdays, after duty proctors have been notified. Previous to the plan's establishment, women guests were required to wait for residents in the small reception rooms.

The dorm council suggested the lounges for lobby use because the residents use them only for meetings and study.

BULLETIN

There will be a meeting held in Memorial Gym Tuesday evening at 6:30 for all men interested in participating in the Winter Sports program this year. Faculty Manager of Athletics, Ted Curtis, announced today. Movies of the 1947-1948 athletic season will be shown following the discussion period.

Primaries Show Record Vote Cast By Students

Dr. Cornell Will Leave Maine

According to an announcement by Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, president of the University, Dr. Byron V. Whitney, Bangor, has been named director of the University of Maine health service to succeed Dr. Robert C. Cornell about Dec. 1.

Dr. Cornell, who has been here more than two years, will go to the Shriner's Hospital for Crippled Children, Springfield, Mass., for further study and training.

Dr. Whitney, Maine '41, received his M.D. degree from Tufts in 1944. He served his internship at Boston City Hospital, and was senior medical officer on a Navy cruiser for a year. He has had a year of surgical residency at the Waltham Hospital.

Dr. Cornell has announced that Dr. Elmer Sewell, Dover, N. H., will come to Orono to take over his private practice when he leaves for Springfield.

DR. ROBERT C. CORNELL

Tuesday's primaries for the highest offices of all classes marked the start of a three week election schedule, which will be climaxed by the final vote December 7.

The primaries, which were sponsored by the election committee of the General Senate, aimed for greater interest by the student body in all offices. The committee was pleased with the number of votes cast in the primaries, which showed an increase over last year's primary totals.

Before the final vote in December, the three highest vote-getters in the primaries for each office will be considered by the students. The committee will display their photographs at key points on the campus. The three-week interim between the primaries and the election will probably witness campaigns by the candidates. Posters will be displayed by the committee to acquaint students with the responsibilities of each office.

Those nominated for class offices and the sophomore representative to the Athletic Board were:

Freshman Class—Class of 1952

President: Edgar Bailey; Donald E. Smith; Lloyd A. Rowe.

Vice President: Edgar F. Lord; Virginia M. Norton; Stuart E. West. Secretary: Jeanne Frye; Jeanette Pratt; Caroline D. White.

President: Robert H. Duddy; Russell E. Meade; Richard A. Singer.

Vice President: John M. H. Barnard; Gerald E. Morse; Patricia M. Simmons.

Secretary: Bertha A. Clark; Janice J. Josslyn; Mary E. Marsden.

Treasurer: James E. Elliott; Fran-

Dr. Cornell Says Local Water To Blame For Campus-Wide Epidemic

24 Hospitalized, Scores Sick As Illness Sweeps Dorms And Frats

BY BILL BRENNAN

"Oronoitis," an epidemic of stomach illness which swept through the University Monday night, has been attributed to the drinking water, according to a statement by Dr. Robert C. Cornell, director of health service, Tuesday afternoon.

Commenting on the sickness, which caused approximately 60 men to be treated in the clinic, and hospitalized 24 more, Dr. Cornell said, "It was not food that caused the illness, but apparently the water."

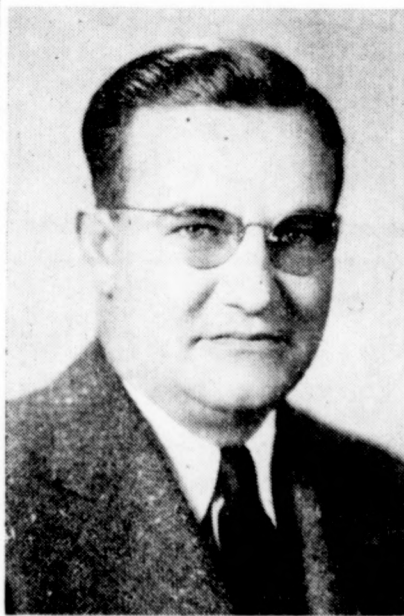

Contrary to popular rumor, the sickness was not confined to men eating only at the New Cafeteria, but was widespread all over the campus and throughout the town of Orono. According to William C. Wells, dormitory manager, minor cases have been reported from several women's dormitories during the past two weeks.

The disorder is due to organic matter in the water, Dr. Cornell said, not a bacteria.

Familiarly termed "Oronoitis," the illness, according to Dr. Cornell, recurs every fall and spring, with students at the University, not used to the water, being more affected than the citizens of Orono, somewhat immune to it now.

Dr. Cornell stated that the water in Orono is frequently examined, and said that the illness is not serious, merely uncomfortable.

Phi Mu Delta Honors Rankin

DR. ROME RANKIN

Dr. Rome Rankin, professor of physical education at the University of Maine, was made the first honorary member of Phi Mu Delta in 26 years at their annual pledge dinner Sunday.

Dr. Rankin, who came to Maine from Kentucky in 1947, is professional advisor for majors in physical education.

Dr. Rankin received his A.B. from Waynesbury, his M.A. from the University of Michigan, and his Ph.D. from Kentucky.

Brennan To Head 'Campus'

Bill Brennan, former associate editor and columnist on the Maine Campus, was elected editor-in-chief of the paper Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the Student Publications Committee.

Former advertising manager of the Campus, and for the past two weeks interim editor-in-chief, Brennan has been previously employed by the Bangor Daily News, the Bangor Daily Commercial, the Portland Press Herald, the Boston Record-American, and the Maine Radio News Service.

During the past two summers, he has been publicity director of the Camden Hills Theatre, Camden, Me.

The only other applicant for the position of editor-in-chief was G. William Robertson, editor of the Maine Annex last year.

Omicron Nu Initiates Three New Members

Three new members, Lois Deering, Mrs. Virginia Lizotte, and Mrs. Emalin Welch, were initiated into the U. of M. chapter of Omicron Nu, home economics national honor society, Sunday, November 7.

President Jean Cunningham was in charge of the initiation. She was assisted by Dr. Marion Sweetman, Miss Mary Billings, Mrs. Ann Smykay, and Mrs. Mary Snyder.

The purpose of Omicron Nu is to promote scholarship, leadership, and home economics throughout the world.

WSGA ANNOUNCEMENT

The WSGA Council was notified Tuesday that the faculty committee on Women Students has approved the resolution that women students be allowed to have 12:10 a.m. permissions on Friday and Saturday nights.

The permissions were granted so that women students could take the 11:30 p.m. buses from Bangor without fear of being late. The new ruling, having been accepted by the WSGA Council, will go into effect this week.

Liberal Arts Comprehensive Dates Given

Written comprehensive examinations in the college of Arts and Sciences will be held on March 12, 1949, and oral comprehensives will be held through the week of April 18 to April 23, Dean Joseph Murray says. All Arts and Science departments planning to give comprehensives must give them on these dates.

English majors are required to take three comprehensive examinations, two written and one oral.

During his junior year the English major must take a written examination covering the mechanics of grammar. The examination this year, however, has been widened to include short business letters, outlines, and bibliographies. Formerly requiring one hour, the examination is now expected to take two hours.

Seniors majoring in English take first a written examination in English and American literature. This examination stresses the ability of students to form their own opinions on literary questions on the basis of facts learned either in class or outside study.

This examination will cover four hours.

The oral examination, taken by seniors only, consists of an hour's questioning by members of the English department covering all general fields of knowledge.

Smoke On Stairs No Joke To Librarian Ibbotson

Mr. Louis T. Ibbotson, university librarian, requests that students sit on the benches recently installed in the lobby of the library rather than on the main stairway to the second floor.

At times there have been so many smokers sitting on this stairway that it has been difficult for people to go up and down, Ibbotson said.

Intra-Debate Entries Listed For Tourney

The first four rounds of the intramural debate tourney are being held this week between nine debating teams in Stevens Hall.

Discussions will be held on the question: Resolved, that the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunities in tax-supported schools by means of annual grants.

Those participating are Avis Zippell, Gennette MacNeil, Anthony D. Marsh, Charles McKay, Marjorie Malloy, Joan Craig, Bob Russell, Richard Packard, Robert Stearns, Robert Peacock, Charlotte Alex, Bob Arnold, Leonard Minsky, Richard LeClair, William Rochon, John Thayer, Carolyn Lindquist, and Ruth Judkins.

The debates will continue for several weeks with each team insured of at least four discussions. The seedings for subsequent debates will probably be determined from the results of the first discussions.

Sorority Rushing Now In Progress

The six sororities held open house Sunday afternoon in the sorority rooms with the freshman women and transfer students as guests.

Each of the sororities displayed jewelry, pictures of the members, copies of their publications, and various exhibits of sorority life, both on the campus and in a national group, in rooms decorated in sorority colors.

The guests were given the opportunity to meet the members of the sorority groups and the advisors of the organizations, and to ask questions about the Greek letter societies.

After-dinner rushing dates began Monday night and will continue through Saturday. These dates give the sororities and the rushees a chance to become better acquainted.

Folk Dances Feature Of Bangor Hillel Social

Palestinian folk dances were the order of the day when the Hillel Foundation held a social meeting at the Bangor Hebrew Center last Sunday.

In addition to folk dancing social dancing was enjoyed.

Sheldon Sokol, social chairman of Hillel, announced that the next meeting of the group will be held at 7 p.m., Sunday, November 20 in the Carnegie Lounge.

Canterbury Club To Meet

A combined social and business meeting will be held by the Canterbury Club next Saturday in the upstairs lounge of the MCA at 7:30 p.m.

Winslow Boy Next Masque Production

"The Winslow Boy," a three-act drama based on one of the most famous trials of modern times, will be the second production of the season for the Maine Masque Theatre, Prof. Herschel L. Bricker announced.

The story of a father's struggles to re-instate his son, discharged from an English school on charges of stealing, "The Winslow Boy" is the story of a happening which held front page space on United States and British newspapers.

In "The Winslow Boy," Prof. Bricker has brought back several Masque veterans to the stage, and at the same time introduced several newcomers who promise to be future favorites of Maine audiences.

Robert Arnold, Paul Payson, Barbara Stewart, Dwight Frye, and Harlan Witham constitute the veteran group, while among the newcomers are Ann Cutts, Wendall Hodgkins, Beatrice Towne, George Sherman, and Marion Keith.

Arnold, who appeared in "Magnificent Yankee" with Witham, portrays the father of the Winslow boy, played by Hodgkins.

"The Winslow Boy" will be presented Wednesday through Saturday, Dec. 8, 9, 10, 11, in the Little Theatre.

Geologists Freeze In Glacier Hunt

Eight students in glacial geology studied the features of glacialification on a field trip in central and western New Hampshire over the past weekend.

Lawrence Goldthwait, assistant professor of geology, led the group which included Charles V. Chapman, John Donohue, Calvin Friar, Francis Matley, Gloria Noyes, Carl Robbins, Philip Stackpole, and Lawrence Wing. They camped out at Wolfeboro and Hanover during the trip.

Hartgen At Island Falls

4 Maine Teams Enter Debates At Vermont

The University of Maine will be represented at the third Annual Invitation Debate Tournament to be held this week end at the University of Vermont by four debating teams. Each Maine team will enter 4 debates, with the final round scheduled for Saturday night.

George Brountas and Donald Waring will handle the affirmative on one team with Robert Moran and Francis Bacon as the other affirmative debaters.

The negative teams are Margaret Mollison and George Vardamis as the first, and Ramona McLaughlin and Doris Vollmer making up the second team.

Prof. Gardner and Mr. Woolley of the speech department will accompany the debaters to the tournament, which will begin Friday evening and will have 112 teams representing 36 colleges participating.

During the tournament the debaters will also organize a congressional session, with committees and the procedures enacted as such a session would actually occur.

Students Laud Sir Olivier Film

Laurence Olivier's production Henry V, voted the outstanding motion picture of the year, was shown at the Strand Theatre, Orono, this week, through the combined efforts of the departments of history, English, and the modern languages. Harold J. Kelly, theatre manager, worked with the University personnel in arranging the local showing.

The movie was received by students and townspeople very favorably. The value of the production is three-fold; it is entertaining; it is an excellent review of English literature; and it is an important educational insight into an interesting period of English history.

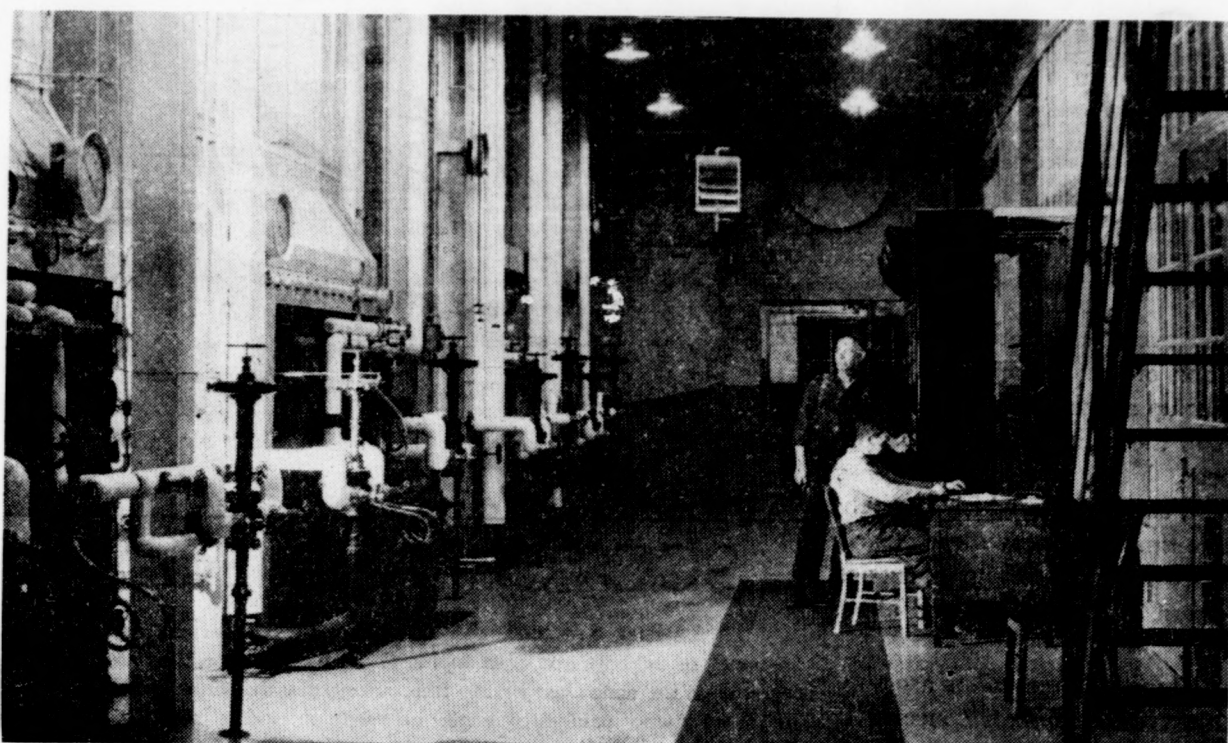

The showing, which is the only one of the movie in this area, is but one of a series of efforts by the University to bring worthwhile foreign films to Orono for the benefit of students.

Chemistry Head Talks At Capital

Prof. Lyle C. Jenness, head of the chemical engineering department, attended a meeting of the committee on relations with non-military federal research agencies of the Engineering College Research Council in Washington, D. C., last week.

Prof. Jenness and Dr. Edward F. Thode, also of the department of chemical engineering, were also present at the 41st annual meeting of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers in New York City last week.

Heating System Of University Explained By Chief Engineer

BY KEN ZWICKER

Although relatively few students on campus realize the fact, there are days in mid-winter when the University heating plant burns nearly 12,000 gallons of oil to keep them warm, according to information received from Don Pressey, the plant's chief engineer.

Commenting on the general set-up and functions of the plant, which was converted to oil in 1946, Pressey said that the heating plant now consists of two new and two rebuilt units that burn heavy, Bunker "C" fuel oil, heating more than 50 buildings.

Pressey said the two new units are capable of 30,000 pounds of steam per hour, while the two converted units can put out 20,000 pounds. The fuel is stored outside in two, 25,000 gallon storage tanks.

Besides supplying the buildings with heat, Pressey pointed out that the plant also produces steam for hot water and cooking in the kitchens of the new cafeteria, the field house, the Commons, Estabrooke, and eight fraternity houses.

Discussing various technical aspects of the plant's set-up, Pressey explained that two reducing stations send steam out, underground, over two lines. Approximately 75% of the water returns, as condensate, to the plant. The water is then picked up and boosted to a receiving tank where it is mixed with water from the city main before it goes through a process of deaeration which removes the oxygen. It then goes to boilers where internal feed-water treatment is employed to prevent scale-forming and corrosion in the boilers.

Regarding other aspects of the heating plant, Pressey said that it was one of the first buildings of its kind in this area to be painted in a 100% DuPont color scheme, which concentrates upon cool color to counteract the general impression of heat in such a building.

There are 13 men employed at the heating plant. Nine men operate the plant in eight-hour shifts, and four men are in maintenance. Six more men work at the North Dorms, which have individual furnaces.

New Dorm, number three, and the East Annex have separate heating units that are inspected daily.

During the recent Homecoming week end several alumni who inspected the University heating plant commented favorably upon its extreme cleanliness and the efficiency with which it is operated.

Bridge Club Leaves MCA

The University Bridge Club, which has been holding its tournaments in the MCA building, will meet henceforth in the Carnegie lounge Friday evenings at 7 o'clock.

MOC Builds Skating Cabin At Ice Rink

Student skaters will receive a boost from the Maine Outing Club this winter by the erection of a 21- by 28-foot cabin next to the skating rink.

A corner of the building will have kitchen facilities for serving hot drinks and sandwiches. A fireplace is also planned. The costs of the construction will be partially met by student volunteer help, which is increasingly necessary with Thanksgiving recess and winter fast approaching.

MOC hopes that the cabin will increase the popularity of skating at the University in the same way that the cabin at the ski tow has done.

Work parties will meet at 9:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. Saturday and Sunday at the cross country course to complete the roof of the building.

Guild Produced Cuban 'Lights

The University Radio Guild was unable to produce its radio show "Cuban Highlights" scheduled for 7:15 p.m. Nov. 10.

The show did go on the air at 7:15 last night, and is to be followed by weekly broadcasts centered about outstanding University of Maine towners.

Notices of tryouts will be posted weekly on the Radio Guild bulletin board at 240 Stevens Hall. Tryouts are open to all students.

Share that idea. Write the editor.

Bridge Tourney For NIBT Team

Members of the Bridge Club have announced that all undergraduate students are eligible to compete for a berth on the team which will represent the University in the forthcoming National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament.

A series of elimination rounds will begin Friday Dec. 3 at 7 p.m. at the Carnegie lounge. It is suggested that all interested players acquaint themselves with duplicate procedure by attending the Bridge Club Tournament Friday, Nov. 9, at 7 p.m. at the Carnegie lounge.

Help China Now

It has been called to my attention that there circulate various malicious rumors concerning the position of the Nationalist Chinese Government which I should like to clear up at this time. In the past, it has been my policy to leave politics to the politicians who deserve this honor as dubious as it may appear. I feel now, however, that with the increasing demand for food and ammunition which is sorely needed by the Chinese Republic at this time to oppose forces detrimental to the values of democracy for which both of our countries are fighting, that I can no longer remain in the shadow and allow such atrocities to remain unchallenged.

Let there be no mistake, that the Chinese Communists are supported by the Soviet Russian Government and that every conceivable means is being used to convince both the Chinese and the American people that there is no connection, thus fighting while we fluster around and debate the factors which we should strike upon. Remember that where we excel in technology the Soviets excel in propaganda devices.

We will first examine in precise fashion the Chinese situation. Let it be understood that I do not think the present Nationalist Government has succeeded in giving China all the values of American Democracy, but in the face of oppositional forces which have infiltrated into the country and which have poisoned the minds of the Chinese peasants with vague promises of future prosperity and warped ideas of the ideals of democracy, this National Government has won a large following and is striving to give China a system of government which is best suited to the needs of this long-suffering country. This is a large task and we must not be too critical in censoring the marvelous task that has been undertaken by the Nationalist forces in China to oppose the Communistic doctrines in a desperate attempt to hold China together.

You must understand that the mass of the Chinese population is uneducated, and that it is extremely difficult for them to understand the principles of democracy which Chiang is attempting to explain and incorporate in a poverty-stricken country. This is a slow process, not such as would be grasped by a comparatively sound and educated American citizen overnight. I appeal to you for support at a time when it is most needed. Give China your aid and together we can build a stable economic system and the democracy for which we are jointly fighting.

—HONG (JIMMY) YUEN

Hunting Accidents Continue

The deer season has now been open approximately a month, and at the time of writing, twelve persons, none of them with four legs or antlers, have been killed in the Maine woods.

Often a mistake is understandable, especially with uninitiated hunters going into the woods wearing light-colored clothing. But, in the long run, the fault lies directly upon the person who pulls the trigger.

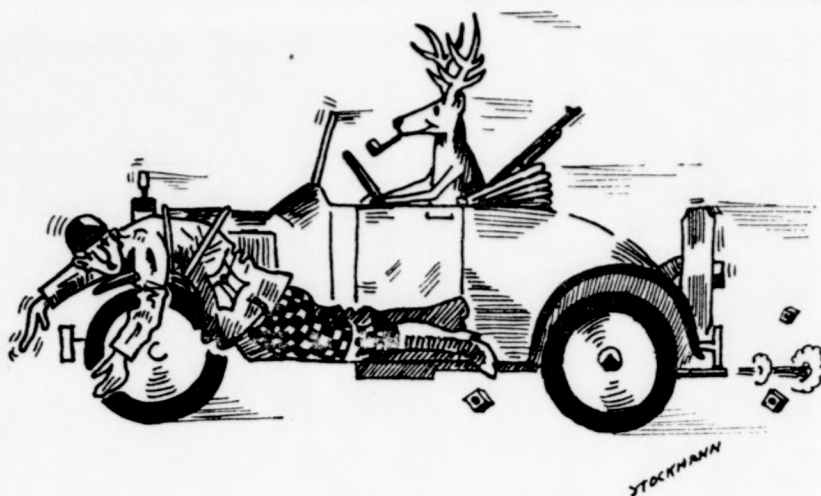

What has all this to do with an editorial in a college newspaper? Simply this—during the Thanksgiving vacation, which comes next week, many of you will take to the woods in an effort to alleviate the shortage of meat in the family larder.

Although the members of the Campus staff are anxious for news, we definitely do not want to print a story about your death in the woods, nor about your mistaking a human being for a deer.

Hunting accidents may usually be prevented by the unstinting application of common sense. The privilege of owning and using firearms in Maine has not been limited by laws requiring permits. But, with the increasing number of deaths directly attributable to hunting weapons, we wonder if some sort of training and examination in the care and handling of weapons should not be required.

However, the old answer comes up again. There is never any protection against downright carelessness. The only way, we imagine, to keep sudden death in Maine's forests to a minimum is for every hunter to be absolutely certain that what he aims at is a deer.

SCOTCH AND SODA

By BIFF SHALEK

A bunch of the boys got to whooping it up over at the dance last Friday nite. The people who paid fifty cents to attend this dance weren't informed that there was to be a floorshow, and so some were pleased, and some were displeased.

A married man was dressed up in a tux, wore a funny tie, and a funnier hat. It was hilarious. His partner was a girl with big busts, but everyone knew she was a man dressed up to look like a woman. They took over the dance floor right in front of the band stand and those that watched all remarked on how cute they looked.

Afterwards some of the dancers who had paid to attend the dance went out to Pilot's Grill for Hamburgers & Coffee. When they walked in who do you think was monopolizing the entire floor? That's right,

Only they were funnier this time. This was because they were pixedated. They did the same routine they had used on the dancefloor, only more so. The GirlMan shook his hips and the marriedman leaped with abandon. All the patrons, who hadn't been informed that a floorshow went with their meals, were very happy. The waitresses were happy. The owner was overjoyed. Everyone shouted Hoorah and Huzza when they weaved out, and trampled down all the shrubbery outside.

A waitress explained that they were from the University of Maine Hell Week and that the school has to do that once a year to keep the eighteen-year-old boys housebroken.

A patron said he always knew that Maine men could hold their liquor and women, but hadn't realized how really virile college life was.

Can you think of a better way of making a debut as an expected-to-be-misunderstood woman columnist than by differing from the views expressed by Bill in his scribbles?

With all apologies to W. J. B. personally, it appears that the Greek-letter societies (fraternities and sororities, in case you didn't know) have to take it in the neck when various persons about our hallowed grounds are in the mood for playing critic. It is actually surprising how much this minority group irritates someone who has to write 250 words or give a three minute speech.

In addition to stamp clubs, photography clubs, and bridge clubs, the Freshman Handbook lists some sixty-odd other organizations, all of which have qualifications for membership. But it remains for the 17 fraternities and 6 sororities to answer all the arguments for putting restrictions upon just who may enter the "inner circle."

How many of us are actually "roosters"—staying on the fence all our lives? If an individual sees ideals, which he would like to adopt, under a couple of noodles from Aristotle's alphabet soup, who is to say that he is contemplating an underground move? The purpose of any group—fraternities, sororities, ladies' aid societies, or chambers of commerce—is to knit together individuals with common principles. Is there any law which says a person can't choose his, or her, own principles?

I am not going on to say further that sororities teach their members that it is necessary to get along with others in spite of faults and personal prejudices, or to ask what might happen to intramural sports without fraternity backing, but I am asking just how much of the campus structure has been destroyed by Greek termites

KALEIDOSCOPE

By SAM JONES

"Knock, Knock."
"Who's there?"
"Students."
"Students who?"
"Students who criticize this University."

Remember that craze? It, like many other fads, has come and gone. But the fad of knocking our University is still with us. Nothing ever seems to be right. Maine can do no good. Or so think the cynics. Stop in the bookstore or the dorm or the classroom corridor, what do you hear? Gripes, gripes and more gripes. "That damn cut system" "When are we going to get some decent profs?" "What a coach" "What a bunch of silly co-eds."

Maybe a lot of this criticism is justified. Maybe, if we knew all the facts. But we never do. This University is a fifty million dollar corporation. Nobody, not even Artie the Boss, can always know all the facts. "Maine is a cow college." Perhaps. "What can you expect from a backwoods state?" Possibly true. Maine isn't any big smoky, industrial state. It isn't a state of big cities. It is buried deep in the north-land. But, whatever our reasons, we're here.

How many students have ever taken the trouble to find out what really goes on in their University? How many know beyond the walls of their own college? How many know beyond the clique of their friends. The smallness of Maine can be found in the smallness of its students.

Get out and mix it up. Get to know more of your neighbors. Get to know more than your own class schedule card. Know your University.

Then if you knock you'll know what your criticizing.

Brennan Is Blasted Byirate Coed . . .

Dear Bill, When on the Thursday of October 4th I opened the Campus to Your Column(s), I'm Usually Wrong, But, I changed an unbiased, and up to that time, unprejudiced opinion of you.

I'm not going to depict you as a man, nor a mouse. I'm not going to delve into hieroglyphics, such as you, about the why's and wherefore's of this and that. I'm not going to tell you how every girl's heart contracted and asked to give you a good trouncing (for that is what you deserve)!

But . . . Last spring there was a fellow during House Party Week-end who didn't draw a sober breath throughout it, and who entirely forgot about his date and sent her home by way of his buddy. Then there, too, is the incident of a fellow dating a campus co-ed for nearly seven weeks, before she learned that he was married.

These are samples of only a few cases, but they typify many many more that are too numerous to even point out. You say, and I quote, "Nothing can change the fact that there are odds of about 4 to 1 here against the male. And with these odds, women can just about make their choice of whom they shall date."

We always have made a choice, so put that in your war drum and pound away. When the time comes that every man thinks that we co-eds have to be hard up enough to say, "Oh yes, I'd love to," to every guy, there had better be words a flyin'. You would no more ask just any girl than we would accept any guy. You make your choice in asking for the date, we make our choice by accepting it.

You tell of a particular case where a girl leaves her date for another fellow—perhaps you say this was "an exception to the rule." If you actually believed this, then why did you bother to expound upon it? We think that it was an exception.

You want to clean up the other side of the fence, eh? Well charity begins at home, and since you're so charitable with your advice to the opposite and foreign sex, how about using a little of it with your own? How about using a little discretion and realize that just as all of us aren't 99.44% beautiful with Lana Turner's figure, Grable's sables, and Rosalind Russell's vivaciousness, neither are you guys all able Gables. Instead of trying to reform exceptional cases of young girlhood, why don't you remember that reformers never get anywhere with worn-out phrases of appeal!

I'm waiting for you to disprove the fact that You're Usually Wrong, with no But's.

. . . But Is Praised By Annex Director

Dear Mr. Brennan: I have been a fairly consistent reader of your column in the Maine Campus. The very constructive emphasis in your recent articles is most encouraging.

The University of Maine is a big project, on campus and off, and has been trying to do an almost impossible job during the past few years. Your support, as displayed in these weeks, will do much to enhance the school for both faculty and students. You will be rewarded in the satisfaction gained for your share in this worthwhile enterprise.

Bear Facts

BY JERRY ROGOVIN

The best news of a long time is the action being taken by Dean Tad Wieman, Professor Stan Wallace, and a group of interested students in the start of a new ice hockey league this winter. It is the intention of the Dean to improve facilities for general skating, and to organize along intramural lines several teams. Interest has been high in the past few years for hockey, but it will have to be evident this year if the plans are to be worked out, because there is a slight possibility that games may be arranged with Colby or Bowdoin if the candidates are strong enough.

The men's athletic office has announced the start of wrestling and boxing classes as of November 15. The classes, which are held from 3-5 p.m. Monday through Friday, are for those who will participate in the intramural contests, as well as others.

My apologies to Blackie Turmelle and Dick Hewes, a pair of fine guards for the 1948 squad. They were not mentioned as likely candidates for the 1949 team in last week's article only because of an oversight.

Intramural football closed last week in a wet contest. Phi Kappa Sigma whitewashed Hannibal Hamlin in the rain, 18-0. The Phi Kaps scored on the opening kickoff, and the game was never in doubt thereafter.

Varsity basketball's first cut came Monday after a week of practice. Thirty-two men were retained after the cut. Except for Stephens, who played fine ball for Husson College last season, the other players all participated on basketball teams for the university, either at the Annex or here at Orono. The brief period of time which is devoted to pre-season basketball practice at Maine may lead the coaches to overlook possible varsity candidates. A remedy of this problem could be an early start of practice, even while Allen is coaching the football team. In that way more students would get a chance to play, even if their past records are not as illustrious as some.

Intramural basketball swung into action Monday. The dormitory picture at present is muddled, but a definite pattern seems to have been established in the fraternity loop. Phi Mu Delta, Kappa Sigma, Phi Eta Kappa, Phi Gamma Delta, and Beta Theta Pi appear to be strong again this year.

Coach Eck Allen's projected visit to Boston's Lahey Clinic, which was set for November 19, has been postponed for several days because his doctor will be out of town. Allen's second visit to the clinic since August will be in regard to a duodenal ulcer which has been causing him great distress. The coach has improved somewhat, and he has gained back some of the weight he had lost. The visit to Boston is for a checkup first, then hospitalization if necessary.

At Tuesday's award banquet the unusual number of 40 football letters were issued. The number alone should remind students of the wonderful team effort of the 1948 squad in completing its season with the surprise win over Bowdoin.

Eck Allen remains the head coach of basketball. Sam Sezak and Rome Rankin will direct the team in his absence, but they are his assistants.

Varsity Drills Show New Men Out For Team

Varsity basketball practice rolled on in earnest this week after the first major squad cut Monday. Coach Eck Allen has retained 32 men who will make up the varsity and junior varsity teams. Bill Kenyon will be in charge of the jayvees.

With the season's opener against Bates less than two weeks away, Coach Allen has apparently settled his mind on the varsity team. About a dozen men have been working out closely with Allen in what may be described as his top group.

Veterans Charlie Goddard, Hank Peasley, Al Hopkins, Jerry Begert, and Al Wing are among the top candidates for the varsity team. In addition, two 1947 Annex stars, Dentremont and Mahaney, have shown up well in the first few scrimmages, with Mahaney apparently ready for a starting role. Lynch and McCormack from last year's jayvees are working with the first group.

Red Norwood, who played for the junior varsity two years ago, but who was ineligible last season, although he was a standout in the intramural leagues, is back. He is hampered by a slowly-mending broken ankle, but he promises aid to the team. John Kelley, Ed Stevens, formerly of Husson, and Higgins of last year's Orono Frosh, are the other prominent candidates.

All-Opponents Listed By Squad

The following selections were made by 1948 varsity football men.

- LE, Mikszenas, New Hampshire
- LT, Pasalis, New Hampshire and Nason, Northeastern (tie)
- LG, Gilman, New Hampshire
- C, Parent, Bates
- RG, Gabriel, Colby
- RT, Leahey, Bates
- RE, Lee, Bowdoin
- QB, A. Blanchard, Bates (Honorary Captain)
- LHB, Rosse, Bowdoin
- RHB, Siroy, Bowdoin
- FB, Ragonese, New Hampshire

Bob Black Cops IC4A Meet; Frosh Take 7th

Bob Black of Rhode Island State won his second straight IC4A cross country championship at Van Cortlandt Park, New York, and broke his own record set last year for the five-mile course in 25.4 minutes, to lead the second-place runner by 200 yards. Michigan State won the team title. Maine's freshman team finished seventh.

Coach Phil Hamm of the Annex journeyed to New York with two varsity runners and six frosh from the Annex. John Wallace and Harland Harndon competed in the senior division, but neither crossed the line in the first 20 in the grueling race between the top harriers of the East.

The six-man frosh team finished seventh with a point total of 213. First place St. John's of Brooklyn won the meet with a low total of 83. There were 17 teams in the frosh run of three miles.

Hockey Plans Move Ahead For Winter Of Intramural Play

Dean Elton "Tad" Wieman has announced a committee of four faculty members and three students to investigate the ice hockey situation at the University. The committee consists of Stan Wallace, Whoops Snively, Ted Curtis, and Kilpatrick of the department of buildings and grounds, Bob Dagdigian, Jack Zollo, and Carleton Smith.

The plans, which have been arranged primarily by Wallace, who heads the group, call for interested goalies to choose teams from those men who are interested. Those who want to play hockey are asked to appear personally at the men's athletic office to sign up. Wally emphasizes the personal appearance, and says that names will not be considered unless the persons present themselves.

If the interest is high enough, and if the league is successful, a game with either Colby or Bowdoin may be arranged with Maine's squad being picked as an all-star combination.

Hermann Seeks Tennis Crown A Second Time

Defending champion Fred Hermann and second seeded Larry Van Peursen will meet in the finals of the Fall Tennis Tournament, when the weather grants a good day.

Both players survived hard-fought four-set matches in the semi-finals after straight set wins in the quarters to reach the last round.

Hermann defeated Les Yoffe, who had surprised in the earlier rounds, and who was unseeded in the quarter-finals, 6-2, 6-2. Yoffe tired early in the first set.

In the next round, the champ faced Harry Allen, one of the top-seeded men. Allen took the lead by winning the first set, 6-4, but Hermann came back to take the next three sets, 6-3, 7-5, 6-4. Allen gave Hermann some trouble, but the champ proved to be more steady, and he took the match.

Van Peursen made the semi-finals by defeating Bob Sullivan, 6-4, 6-4. Bob Thoits provided the opposition in the semi-final round. Van Peursen edged the game veteran in five grueling sets, 6-4, 1-6, 6-2, 4-6, 6-4. The play, as evidenced by the scores, was a see-saw affair. First Van Peursen, then Thoits took the lead until the final set when Van won out.

Women's Sports

WAA opened its basketball season with a Tuesday night jamboree in the Women's Gym. A large turnout showed promise of a good basketball year. Dorm competition will start immediately after Thanksgiving. The games will serve as practice for the inter-class series. The following basketball managers were appointed by Junior Council: Balentine—Barbara Wright; Colvin—Cora Laverty; East Hall—Janet Lapworth; Elms—Elizabeth Marden; Off-Campus—Edith Curtis; South Estabrooke—Joan Wiswell; and West Hall—Helen Hoffman.

The Officials' Club will begin its duties when basketball begins. All girls who are interested in learning how to officiate at games are urged to attend the meetings. The dates will be announced later.

Letter Awards Given To 138 For Five Teams

The completion of fall sports was featured by the annual awards banquet Tuesday night at the New Dorms Cafeteria. Alton Sproul, William Bird, Charles Burgess were elected honorary football captains, and John Wallace and Stephen Hopkinson were elected honorary captains of cross country. Warren Wilson received a trophy for winning the fall golf championship.

Coach Eck Allen announced that all 40-squad members of varsity football won major letters. Robert Waterman won a varsity service letter in recognition of four years' play for the varsity and junior varsity teams.

Fall lettermen in all sports are:

Needle's Fall Issue To Go On Sale At Bookstore Friday

A composite of a more well-known type of campus femininity will glorify the Campus Glamor department of the Pine Needle's fall issue which goes on sale at the Bookstore tomorrow, its editors say.

The removal of the editorial office of the Maine Campus from the MCA to East Annex is the subject of an editorial in this 24-page edition.

Mattress habits of the American male come in for some unblanketing by Clair Chamberlain in an article entitled, "The Whimsy Report."

Another article of the current issue is, "How Do You Rate the Profs?" by Russ Meade.

Cartoons by Lloyd Shapleigh make the edition of fiction, feature, and fun something to look forward to, Needle editors say.

Subscriptions for THE MAINE CAMPUS will be received at 202 East Annex.

Maine Chicks Plea In Verse Moves 'The Campus' To Set Up Ride Pool

The following announcement appeared on the bulletin board at the bookstore last week.

New York

Here we come

We're gonna get there

If we have to bum.

We'll buy the gin

We'll buy the gas

All you got to do

Is get us there fast.

If you're going our way and if

Please grab this nickel and call 476.

P.S. For references call "Pearly's" (Old Town).

Deeply moved by this poetic plea, and those of other less eloquent proletariat, The Campus wishes to donate its humble services.

Names and destinations of students seeking rides, along with a list of car-owners wanting share-the-expense riders, will be posted on the door of The Campus Office at 202 East Annex.

All those interested in reaping the benefits of this Ride Pool are invited to leave their names and other pertinent information at the Campus Office.

Model Flyers To Meet

The organization of a control line, gas model, flying club has been announced by Larry Van Peursem, '49. A meeting will be held in the field house on Sunday, Nov. 21, at 1:30 p.m.

The election of officers and discussion of future plans will be followed by a flying session.

New Fraternity Pledges

Fraternities this week released names of the following pledges:

Beta Theta Pi—Theodore S. Whitehouse, Jr.

Kappa Sigma—John T. Young.

Hillel Choir Makes Initial Appearance In Friday Service

For the first time on this campus, the Hillel service Friday night was highlighted by a choir.

Soloists Carl Lehrman, Les Yoffe, Francis Lubovitz, Ray Rakoff, and Lila Zimmerman led the choir and congregation through the psalms and hymns. Irving Grunes has taken the place of cantor.

Rabbi Elefant, director of the choir and the Hillel group, stated that the group would appear at state and inter-college Hillel and B'nai B'rith functions throughout the coming year.

Hillel services are held every Friday evening at 7 p.m. in North Stevens. Everyone is invited to attend.

Madame De Paris Parle

Mrs. Huguette D. Albert, of Paris, spoke of France under German rule, at last night's meeting of "Le Cercle Francais," in North Estabrooke.

Small Writes Training Plan For Army Brass

Professor of English G. William Small, the vice president of the Maine district of the Reserve Officer's Association of the United States, recently published an educational survey and plan for the guidance of army officers.

Dr. Small's program, which was begun in the summer of 1947, has been adopted by the U. S. Army as a training bulletin for all theatres of operation. The plan forms a part of the service's modernized educational program to prepare capable officers for key positions over a period of years, he said.

25 Aquatints By Doel Reed Are On Exhibit

Doel Reed has loaned 25 aquatints and 10 original drawings to the University of Maine for exhibition Nov. 1-24 in the Carnegie Hall print and lecture room.

Born in Indiana in 1894, Reed is one of America's foremost print makers. He has studied at the Cincinnati Academy of Art, in France, and Mexico.

An observer with the 47th Infantry, 4th Division in France during World War I, he returned a casualty soon after the Armistice. He then taught art at Oklahoma A. and M. where he is now head of the Art Department.

Member of nearly all of this country's honorary art societies, including the National Academy of Design and the Society of American Etchers, Reed has built his reputation on scenes from the southwestern part of the United States, although his lush nudes are a strong contrast to the grim and barren landscape of that area.

Military Ball Dated; Scabbard and Blade Orients Pledges

Scabbard and Blade has announced that the annual Military Ball will be held Dec. 10, 8 p.m., at the Memorial Gym.

Blue Barron, who was slated to play for the dance, has cancelled the engagement, but another name band will be engaged.

The dance, which is formal, will be interrupted by an hour intermission during which Col. Fuller will present the Honorary Lt. Col. with a special trophy in the presence of last year's Honorary Lt. Col., Miss Muriel Applebee.

Scabbard and Blade officials said that the campus will be polled soon to determine who the new Honorary Lt. Col. will be. It is customary for the entire University of Maine ROTC Corps to hold a special review in the spring for the winner of this title.

In the past the Military Ball has featured hte orchestras of Woody Herman, Claude Thornhill, Sam Donahue, and Bobby Sherwood.

Paul A. Albert, chairman of the Scabbard and Blade pledge committee, briefly outlined to pledges present the purpose and functions of the organization at a recent meeting.

Kenneth W. Seaman, treasurer, discussed the distribution of the $15 initiation fee.

Seaman said it is doubtful if there will be any informal initiation this year, as the pledges will not have uniforms in time.

High School Students At Debate Council

More than a hundred high school debate students and their coaches attended the Bates League Debating Council held last Saturday at the New Library.

Students from Bangor, Old Town, Orono, John Bapst, Bucksport, Bar Harbor, Madison, Waterville, Millinocket, and Dover-Foxcroft high schools were present.

Several lively discussions on Federal World Government were also held in Stevens Hall among university students under direction of leaders of the U. of M. Debating Council.

Heading the many groups were Kay Kennedy, Mary Linn, Doris Vollmer, George Brountas, Donald Waring, George Vardamis, Margaret Mollison, Francis Bean, and Norma Drummond.

The discussions were a part of the program included in the activities of the Debating Clinic.

Students' Wives Organize New Club And Elect Officers

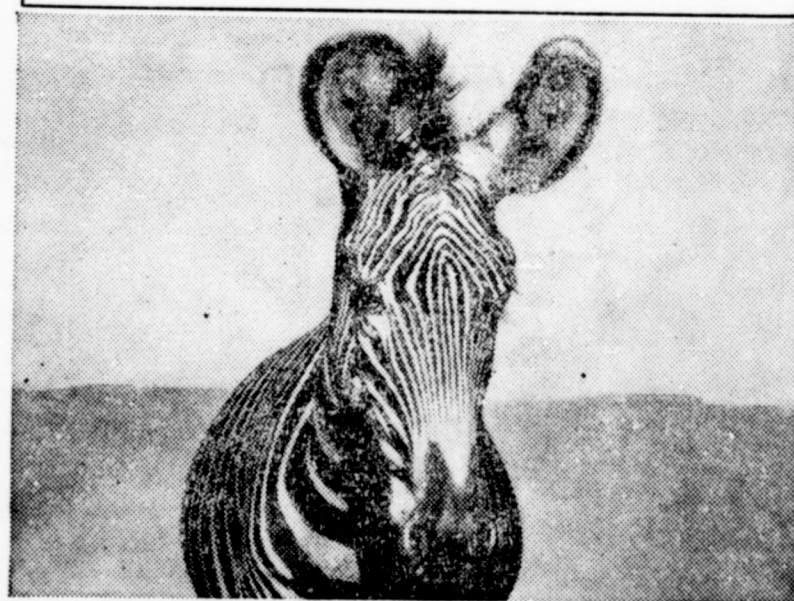

The newly formed Students' Wives Club held its organizational meeting in the Louis Oakes Room, Library, Wednesday, November, 17. Elections for five officers were completed.

Mrs. Verna Buschena, who organized the meeting with the assistance and cooperation of University president, Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, was elected club president.

Mrs. Marguerite Donahue was elected vice president; Mrs. Lala Dinsmore received the secretaryship; Mrs. Mildred Small is the treasurer; and Mrs. Jerry Hatch will direct publicity.

The next meeting will be in the Women's Gym, Nov. 22 at 8 p.m. Basketball, needlework, and bridge will make up the program. A report on the forthcoming Christmas Party will be given by the committee.

J. Paul Sheedy* Switched to Wildroot Cream-Oil Because He Flunked The Finger-Nail Test

IT'S EASY to laugh at someone else's wild untamed hair. But when it's your own, it's a horse of a different color. So why go through life with three stripes against you? A little Wildroot Cream-Oil hair tonic grooms your hair neatly and naturally without that greasy, plastered down look. It's non-alcoholic, contains Lanolin. Relieves annoying dryness, removes loose dandruff. Helps you pass the Finger-Nail Test! Ask your barber for professional applications. And run like a zebra down to your nearest drug or toilet goods counter for a bottle or tube, today! Your hair will look and feel better than it ever veldt!

University Society

Hungah!! In other words, it's another lean week and we're beginning to look emaciated...so is our column...so do the pledges—which may be the reason why there weren't many parties. Pretty soon we're going to have to resort to a "personals" department—you know, one of these...

cutest Calico Queen anyone could ask for...We don't think Janie would mind sharing her honors with the people responsible for those fine decorations for the Calico Ball. The gym really looked super-like.

Frats

Saturday night an informal vic dance was held in honor of the newly initiated members of Theta Chi and their dates. "Side Car" Jones gave out with her own incomparable rendition of Chloe ably assisted at the piano by Kay Cook. "Bobo" LePage then rendered several numbers at the piano and the evening was climaxed by the application of the business end of a paddle to Dave "sore-seat" Winchester by Marion Phinney, glamorous Bangor bed-pan changer.

Hell Week at Phi Kap ended at Saturday night supper. A "vic" dance afterward was well attended by members and pledges. About midway in the evening the crowd was entertained by a makeshift band consisting mostly of pledges. They played the "Anvil Chorus" with all the perfection and assorted sound effects of Spike Jones. The entertainment was topped off by a short speech by one of the new pledges, Al Thorne. Those who could cease their laughter after that continued with the dancing for the remainder of the evening.

Members and pledges of Phi Eta had a post-Hell-week get together at the establishment of Mr. Patrick Farnsworth...After which they adjourned to Club 15 (That's o.k., dear reader, we don't know where Club 15 is either...we must needs ask Bob Cool.)

There's nothing slow about the Phi Gams. Get their pins on Sunday, lose them on Monday;

Pinned: Mary Marsden to Mark Shedd; Ann Burbank to Bob Taylor. Also Eden Forte to Chester Kennedy, Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Vick Company Interviews

A representative of the Vick Chemical Company of New York City, Mr. James Tompkins, will visit the University on Monday and Tuesday, November 29 and 30, to discuss with senior and other students opportunities in the fields of merchandising and advertising.

Have you seen the new CAMPUS office? Drop in.

Tests Offered To Aid Students In Job Choice

Are you undecided concerning your future occupation? Do you think that you are making a mistake in your choice of work? If you think you can use help, the Vocational Guidance service of the Psychology department may be able to aid you.

Dr. Donald L. Quinsey, director of the service, emphasizes the fact that the service does not fit a person into a certain hole, so to say, but rather seeks to bring out the interests and the aptitudes of those seeking help.

The service consists of giving vocational tests and various aptitude examinations. When the results are tabulated the person concerned has a fairly good idea of his interests.

About 150 students are aided each year by the service. Of this number 20 per cent have a good idea of their plans. The remaining 80 per cent however, are not certain of what to do. How much they are aided by the varied tests Dr. Quinsey is not certain. That many have profited is undeniable.

The service is open to all who feel they can use it. No charge is asked. Those interested can contact Dr. Quinsey at 39 Stevens North.

General Senate No Mockery Says Barnett

"Is the General Student Senate a mockery?" This question, derived from a sentiment held by a segment of the student body, was asked of certain members of the General Student Senate. To those who gave an affirmative answer an additional query stated "As a member of this body, what do you suggest be done to improve this situation?"

The following comments were received by Campus reporters.

Ralph Barnett, President of the G.S.S.

"The General Senate is still in its infancy under the new constitution. I think that before the year is out it will do things that the students approve of. I believe that the Senate can stand more defined power. However, contrary to the hecklers, it should never have the power to tell the administration off!"

Ken Vennett, G.S.S. member and President of Men's Senate

"The General Senate has not enough defined real power. I'd ask the administration to give the Senate more real power."

Nancy Hubbard, G.S.S. member

"The form of the Senate is fine, however it could use more power."

James McBrady, G.S.S. member

"The General Senate is not a mockery; it gives the student body complete representation, and performs a valuable function."

Charles Lewis, G.S.S. member

"Yes, it is a mockery; the General Senate's authority is purely fictional, and the students could get along just as well without the G.S.S. as it now is constituted."

Kay Kennedy, President of Women's Student Government

"I think that the General Senate is very valuable as it is the only group on campus that jointly represents both men and women as a go-between to the administration."

Three Leagues In Tourney

The first section of the "long" basketball season started this week for 43 teams and three leagues. More than 300 games have been scheduled by Hal Woodbury, of the Men's physical education department.

The dorm teams will be divided into the Blue and the White leagues. The fraternity teams will compose the third league.

Sigma Mu Taps Twenty-Two For Initiation

Twenty-two students were taken into Sigma Mu Sigma, honorary psychology society, last week at the organization's fall initiation meeting.

New members of the society, headed by Carl Brennan, are Joan Bither, Kathleen Kennedy, Dorothea Butler, Evelyn Ellsworth, Wayne Thurston, Kathleen Heald, Virginia Kennedy, George Madore, Leonard Minsky, Charlotte Pressey, Bernard Braen, Mary Zelenkewich, Helen McKenna, Ann Burbank, Arthur Kaplan, Althea Kirk, Marilyn Seavey, Julia Shores, Robert Webster, Marilyn Simonds, Judith Newton, and Marilyn Kobrin.

The organization is an honorary society for students with an expressed interest in psychology and a superior scholastic standing.

McClurkin To Speak

Dr. Paul T. McClurkin, consultant psychologist and Congregational minister of Hadley, Massachusetts, will be the guest speaker at the Sunday morning service in the Little Theatre on Sunday, Nov. 21.

Dr. McClurkin is the main speaker at the State YMCA conference at Bangor this coming week-end.

SCM Invites MCA To Boston

The MCA office has been invited to send representatives to a conference on churchmanship of the Student Christian Movement in New England.

Students representing colleges all over New England will attend the conference which will be held December 3-5 in Boston. The nature and value of churchmanship in this age will be discussed. The conference will feature outstanding speakers. There will be inter-denominational and denominational meetings.

Conference headquarters will be in the Old South Church and all of the Copley Square churches will be in use for the denomination meetings.

It is hoped that a large delegation from Maine will be present. All students interested are urged to stop in at the MCA office for more information.

Geologists Map Island

The Geology Club, continuing its plan to re-map the entire coastline of Mount Desert Island, sent six members to Bar Harbor Saturday.

Students who made the trip were: Ivory Canty, exploration chairman; James McGuire, John Henderson, Herbert Schneider, Raymond Woodman, and Wayne Plummer.

Final Talk By Rev. Kenyon Ends Series

The Rev. Ernest O. Kenyon, speaking on "The Christian Marriage," concluded the Friendship and Marriage series last Sunday.

The series, which was sponsored jointly by the Canterbury Club and the MCA, with the cooperation of the Hillel Foundation, Koinonia, and the Wesley Foundation, proved to be of considerable student interest.

The committee, which had complete charge of these talks and the discussions which followed each, was made up of Marilyn Wyman, Richard Schonland, and Ray Gross of the Canterbury Club; Jane Sibley, John LaPointe, and John Wentworth of the MCA; and faculty advisors Miss Ruth Wadleigh, Rev. Charles O'Connor, and Dr. Theodore Weiler; and the Rev. Hobart Gary, Episcopal chaplain.

Chem Engineers Organize

A new club has been formed for Chemical Engineers and pulp & paper men.

Officers elected were George Ainsworth, president; Sidney Peachey, vice president; James Mollison, secretary; and Parker Gray, treasurer.

Mr. Oliver Axtell is the faculty adviser for the group.
