Senate Raises Skull Membership To 15

After a long silence the Men's Senate came up with one major revision in the constitution and by-laws of the Senior Skulls Tuesday night.

While reading the Men's Senate Senior Skulls committee report, Chairman John Graffam proffered the suggestion that the Skulls' membership be limited to 15 instead of 11 during one school year. The motion was put to a vote and passed.

Another motion was passed which eliminates the "blackball" in Senior Skull elections. From now on a student will have to receive only a majority of votes to be elected.

Outgoing president Bob Fletcher retired in favor of president-elect Dwight Demeritt at the end of the meeting, which was the final one of the current year. Fletcher was tendered a vote of thanks for his services during the year.

Mayor Fletcher Lays Plans For Staging Big Show In Fall

Robert B. (Tiny) Fletcher, alias "Beef of Bagdad," the only candidate ever elected to the position of campus mayor without benefit of campaign, is already engaged in drawing up his plan of action for the next school year.

"At the moment," Mayor Fletcher said, in an interview yesterday, "I am planning a show for the first football game next fall. I have a couple of good men working on the plans for this and other school events, and I think it's safe to predict that we'll have a good show."

Glen Gray Plays For Senior Ball

Glen Gray and his Casa Loma Orchestra, playing for the 1949 Commencement Ball, will feature a varied program of entertainment and multi-styled dance music.

The Gray band was formed in 1929 and achieved nation-wide fame before disbanding less than two years ago. Early this year, the 16-piece group, which features vocals by Julie O'Brien and the clarinet-work of "Fats" Daniels and Morgan Miller, was reorganized.

Bruce Folsom, chairman of the dance committee, has announced that the dance will be formal, with optional dress for men. The affair will run from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with the informal receiving line lasting until 9:45.

President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck, Dean and Mrs. Paul Cloke, and Dean and Mrs. Edward N. Brush will be the faculty and administration members of the receiving line.

The $3 assessment for seniors, which was voted by the class at spring registration, will be billed about May 20 and must be paid by June 6.

Unassessed seniors who graduate in February, 1950, and who wish to attend the ball may obtain tickets at the Treasurer's Office for $3.

Two dance programs will be issued with each couple's ticket.

Refreshments will be served in the New Cafeteria in a snack bar style if enough seniors plan to attend.

The Mayor, a 275-pound junior and psychology major, is by no means new in the game of politics. Since 1947, he has played an active part in the Men's Senate, serving as president of that organization during the past year.

While a freshman at the Brunswick Annex, Tiny was on the football team. While at the Annex, he first became interested in campus politics.

"It's rather odd," Tiny remarked, "that at the Annex I was a candidate for the mayor's position and lost out; up here I had no intention of running and look what happened."

During spring football practice the Mayor has been one of the most active candidates for a position on the squad. Near the end of the practice season, however, he was sidelined with an injury.

"My one big aim during next year," the Mayor said, "will be to boost the old Maine spirit to a new high. I would like to see the same high spirit prevail at all the games that was evidenced at the presentation ceremony in the Fieldhouse on Maine-Day evening."

Exam Schedule Released

The schedule of final examinations for the spring semester has been released this week. It may be found in full on page five.

President And Mrs. Hauck Thank Students For Gifts

President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck this week expressed their thanks for the tribute paid them by the student body on their fifteenth anniversary at the University.

"Mrs. Hauck and I wish we might thank you individually for what you did to make last Maine Day such a happy and memorable occasion for us," said President Hauck.

"Your expressions of friendship and esteem warmed our hearts. Your generous gifts we shall always enjoy and cherish."

"It is impossible for me to express adequately the satisfaction and pride

Reorganization Of MCA Aimed At Service To All Is Under Consideration

Proposed New Set-Up Is Designed To Give Autonomy To Each Faith

By CLIFF WHITTEN

The Maine Christian Association, one of Maine's oldest organizations and 1600 members strong, may become a thing of the past if certain proposals made by the organization are followed.

In its place will come a new organization, probably to be known as the Student Religious Association, which leaders of the MCA believe will be of even greater benefit to the students than the old one.

The new organization will be an attempt to do in practice what the present one is supposed to do in theory—be of equal service to every student, regardless of the student's faith.

Until recent years, with no strong sectarian groups on campus, the MCA had been able to furnish this service in fact as well as in theory.

Criticism Is Justified

With the development of Hillel and the Newman Club, students belonging to those groups began to devote more and more of their time to activities within their groups. As a result, an ever-increasing majority of MCA activities have become almost completely Protestant in character.

Consequently, the MCA, while still trying to operate as before, has become predominantly Protestant, causing what the leaders feel is a justifiable criticism of the organization.

Activities Separated

Extensive discussion of the matter produced the conclusion that, if the program were to be successful, it would be necessary to separate the strictly religious activities of the various faiths entirely from general activities involving all students.

This would have to be done in such a manner that each faith could conduct its own religious activities without conflict with others, yet provide coordination among the groups so that religious programs like Embassy Week, Brotherhood Week, and other inter-faith activities could be conducted efficiently.

At the same time, groups in which students of all faiths might care to take part should be separated entirely from sectarian considerations, permitting all students to participate freely (Continued on Page Three)

Action Taken To Curb Polio

Three children in the South Apartment area have been hospitalized because of polio.

James, 13 months, and William, Jr., 2½ years old, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Taylor, were taken to the Eastern Maine General Hospital, Bangor, May 7.

Steven, 7, son of Prof. and Mrs. Wofford Gardner, was hospitalized May 15.

In all instances attacks have been mild and complete recovery is predicted.

Upon recommendation of the State Bureau of Health and Orono officials, to prevent further spread of the disease, all children of the South Apartment area are restricted to their homes until further notice. The three kindergarten schools have been discontinued temporarily.

"I believe," Dr. Byron V. Whitney, Director of the Health Clinic, said, "that it is a coincidence rather than an indication of the contagiousness of the disease that two children of the same family should have the illness at the same time."

Dr. Whitney stressed that he does not believe it necessary for families to move out of Orono. However, large gatherings should be avoided, children should have adequate sleep and diet, and pasteurized milk should be used, he said.

Charter Physics Society Installs

Six faculty members and 42 students will become charter members of University of Maine chapter of Sigma Pi Sigma, national physics honor society, at 5:00 p.m. May 25 in Louis Oakes room.

National Executive Secretary Dr. Marsh W. White, physics professor of Pennsylvania State College, will install the following officers: president, Fernand F. Daigle, '49; vice president, William True, '50; secretary, William Outhouse, '50; treasurer, Robert Freeman, '50; and chapter adviser, Victor Coffin, instructor of physics.

Dr. Homer L. Dodge, president of Norwich University, and national president of Sigma Pi Sigma, will speak at the meeting at 8:30 p.m., which is open to the public.

A banquet in Estabrooke Hall will take place at 7 p.m.

Auditions Monday For Scholarships

Applications for scholarships in music offered by Mu Alpha Epsilon, honorary music society, will be received until Monday, May 23, 1949. Any student showing talent and who has completed at least one year of musical activity at Maine is eligible. Application blanks may be obtained from Mr. Selwood at the Music Department and should be returned to him when completed.

Past officers of the organization are Fred Bigney, Greenville, president, and Merle Blaisdell, York Village, secretary-treasurer.

WSGA Leader Has Prominent Campus Career

This is the second of a series of biographical sketches of the new leaders of student government organizations.

By BOB MORAN

Dorothea Butler's election to the presidency of the Women's Student Government Association climaxes a long list of honors she has earned since coming to the Maine campus in 1946.

Her all-round intelligence, ability, and charm have contributed to the enviable record she has established, and has placed her among the best-liked and most popular Maine coeds.

A home economics major, she proved her ability early and was tapped for membership in the Sophomore Eagles at the conclusion of her freshman year.

Experience

Dottie's experience in leadership of campus organizations has been gained from serving as secretary of the General Senate, president of Neai Mathetai (Freshman Scholastic Honorary), Treasurer of the WSGA, chairman of the Home Ec Open House, and co-chairman of the 1949 Embassy Week. She has also served Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority as rushing chairman and Vice President, and the Maine Masque as membership secretary. Her many other activities include MCA Cabinet, Leadership Conference Committee, and Home Ec Club. She is also a member of Sigma Mu Sigma (Honorary Psychology).

MCA Plan Is Designed For Efficiency

The suggested reorganization of the MCA (see chart) is intended to permit (1) separation of sectarian and non-sectarian activities, and (2) more efficient operation than does the present system.

The increased efficiency is expected to be obtained by decreasing the student cabinet from the present 32 members to 13, and by the elimination of overlapping authority in student activities.

The parent organization of the proposed Student Religious Association would be composed of members of all faiths, on both student and advisory levels.

Advisory Board Sets Policies

No actual changes are contemplated in the Advisory Board, which now includes faculty, administration, religious advisers, and alumni members, in addition to the officers of the MCA student cabinet. The Board is responsible for hiring the MCA director and his assistant. It also establishes general policies, and raises all funds received by the MCA except those obtained through membership drives.

Members of the cabinet, and officers, who will be elected from a group named by a nominating committee representing all faith groups, will be representatives of the four major divisions of student activities. Three of these student divisions will be organized on a non-sectarian basis, and the fourth will deal primarily with activities of an interfaith religious nature.

It is proposed that two representatives be named for each of the three non-sectarian, and three for the interfaith group, providing a cabinet of 13 members.

The Coordinating Commission will serve the Newman Club, Hillel, and the Student Christian Movement, and will handle such activities as Brotherhood Week, and Embassy Week.

Protestant Organizations

The Student Christian Movement, which will probably be organized around the already active Campus Church Group, will provide a definite organization of Protestant groups. Included in the SCM will be the Canterbury Club, Wesley Foundation, Questors' Club, Conservative Fellows, and other Protestant groups on campus.

The Campus Commission will be responsible for all social activities that are limited to campus functions, including sponsorship of the Friendship and Marriage Series, and other activities that take place in the SRA (MCA) building.

The Community Commission will conduct social programs that are not limited in scope to the campus, such as community projects, relief drives, and effective citizenship campaigns.

Answers To Questions

An attempt is being made to answer some of the questions that may arise concerning the organization of the Student Religious Association. Here are some of the questions and the answers:

Q. How would the SRA cabinet be elected?

A. Three proposals have been made. They are (1) that the outgoing cabinet select its successors, being careful to include members of the Jewish, Catholic, and Protestant faiths, (2) that nominations be made by a committee representing the SRA cabinet and all faith groups, and a general election be held, and (3) that officers be chosen in a general election, the Commission representatives to be named by their own group.

Q. How do the Commissions work?

A SUGGESTED STRUCTURE FOR STUDENT RELIGIOUS ASSOCIATION UNIVERSITY OF MAINE

A. Commissions are areas of program interest. Each Commission has co-chairmen to represent its work on the cabinet. Within the commission there may be four or five other committees functioning under the direction of the co-chairmen.

Q. How would faith-group advisers be related to the SRA programming?

A. The advisers could be members of the coordinating commission.

SRA Cabinet

Q. What provisions are made for directors of the SRA cabinet?

A. The plan calls for one or two directors as advisers in the student program of the SRA. They would have responsibility only for interfaith activities, and probably would not advise the groups.

Q. What are the advantages for the Protestant groups in the SCM?

A. The SCM is a clearing house of Protestant activity. It can provide personnel for Protestant representation on the coordinating commission. It can also provide the avenue for co-operation in programming, use of speakers, and fellowship of the Protestant groups.

Q. What activities will the Protestant group promote?

A. This group will sponsor several activities now provided by the MCA. These will include the Sunday worship services, and Vespers. This group could also provide the programs for Lent, Bible study, and discussion groups in the Christian heritage.

Coordination of Groups

Q. What is better about this proposal than what we now have at Maine?

A. We now have no structural coordination of all religious activities including MCA, the Newman Club, the Hillel Foundation, and Protestant groups of the nearby churches. This proposal provides for inclusion of all religious groups, inter-faith projects, and general activities of religious concern for members of all faiths.

Q. How could this reorganization provide a program that would be truly interfaith?

A. The Coordinating Commission of SRA, equally representative of Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish groups, would sponsor strictly inter-faith activities. This would eliminate possible dominance by any one faith group. Non-sectarian activities of general student interest would be available to everyone under the Personnel, Campus, and Community Commissions. On the SRA Cabinet there would always be full inter-faith representation.

Coordinating Commission

Q. What would serve to safeguard interests of the major faith groups?

A. Each group would be represented by two students and one adviser on the Coordinating Commission, which would assume the clearance and programming now performed by the Inter-Faith Council. One member of each faith would represent the Coordinating Commission on the SRA Cabinet.

Q. Is it necessary to have a Coordinating Commission? (Divided opinion on this issue prompts 'yes' and 'no' answers.)

A. Yes. The Coordinating Commission is the only level of the reorganization proposal for equal representation of the major faith groups. Here, too, is the logical sponsoring commission for strictly inter-faith programs, such as Brotherhood Week, and Embassy. Reorganization based upon proportional representation of faith groups only would provide strong Protestant dominance as the present enrollment ratio would be: 14 Protestant, five Catholic, and one Jew.

A. No. The Coordinating Commission would be a group competing for control with the SRA Cabinet. Instead, have direct representation from faith groups on SRA Cabinet and place inter-faith projects under appropriate places in programs of the Personnel, Campus, and Community Commissions. Proportional representation on SRA Cabinet would provide a true-to-enrollment basis for an inter-faith organization.

Q. How may this student program be financed?

A. There are two suggested methods: (1) By inclusion in the student activities fee, or (2) Through a joint Membership Drive sponsored by all faith groups, with one part of the fee going to SRA and the remainder to individual faith groups according to preference, e.g. $2 membership fee—$1 to SRA, and $1 to preferred faith group.

Proposed MCA Set-Up Is Now Under Study

and allowing student leaders to be named without regard to religious affiliations.

Under the proposed reorganization of the MCA, which is actually less a reorganization than a clarification of jurisdiction, it is believed that this separation of activities centered around a particular faith from those with general religious motivation may actually be achieved, thus providing an organization which can be of service to every student, no matter what he or she believes.

MCA Presents Proposal

The MCA is presenting this proposal (explained in detail on this page) for the consideration of the entire student and faculty body, believing that it is of significance to everyone.

No definite action will be taken before next fall.

"Hizzoner" Takes Over

This week Maine has a new Mayor. His election, or better, his method of election, is the first of its kind in the history of the mayoral campaigns. He gained the office through no definite plan of campaign. He made no speeches, put on no stunts. In short, he did not run for the office.

To a great many people this means that he should not have accepted the honor accorded him by the majority of the student electorate. There are also several persons who feel very strongly about his polling the number of votes he did. One short glance at our letter column this week will substantiate that.

But after all is said and done, the fact remains that Tiny Fletcher, after being drafted by the majority of the student electorate, now occupies the office of Campus Mayor. The office is his to have and to hold, for one year. From here on in he deserves to be addressed as "Hizzoner."

Therefore, he must exert every possible effort to deserve the faith of his supporters. It may call for a little burning of the midnight oil, but he must prove himself worthy of the office and the honor accorded him. His is the chance to make the worthy office of Mayor mean something more than it has in the past.

The CAMPUS extends to him a vote of confidence, and wishes him all the luck in the world.

MCA Reorganization

In connection with the proposed reorganization of the MCA, The CAMPUS this week is publishing the tentative plans as set forth by the MCA itself.

The need for this reorganization is self-evident, and since it directly concerns the 1,600 who belong to the organization, and indirectly concerns everyone on campus, the change should be weighed carefully and thoughtfully. The object of the change is to broaden the scope of the MCA so that it will be of an equal benefit to those of all faiths.

The success of this reorganization depends on each and every one who is concerned with it. Knowing this, the MCA desires to hear all the pertinent pros and cons in connection with the change, so if you have any feelings about the proposed change, drop a line to the MCA and tell them about it.

The organization is of and for the students, and any and all changes should have their sanction. —LARRY PINKHAM

Dr. Payson Smith, distinguished philosopher and educator, is well-known to the University of Maine students for his theory that "it is impossible for a thought or an idea to pass from the mind of the originator to the mind of the recipient in exactly the same form in which it left the mind of the originator." (Why professors get gray!)

H. Allen Smith's uncanny ability to understand human nature may be noted in the following quotation (paraphrased) from his book, "Life in a Putty Knife Factory." He is comparing the Stork Club to Harry's Palace Bar and Grill. "In the Stork Club one is likely to hear, 'Why, daw-h-h-ling, how clevah of you to guess I was heah!' But at the Bar and Grill you hear, 'Git yer filthy hands off me, ya big lug.'"

According To St. James

By DICK ST. JAMES

The recent mayoralty campaigns and the subsequent election of a dark-horse candidate to the office have provided a lot of food for discussion and argumentation among the students.

Let's take the developments in their chronological sequence. On Monday, when the race was at its peak and in the final day, many observers were saying that both campaigns (two-count'em-two) were lousy. That is all a matter of opinion. But the obvious and irrefutable answer to those critics who cried, "They stink!" is, "If you think you can do any better, why don't you run for mayor yourself?" At this point any self-respecting critic should shut his big, fat mouth and be glad he got off so easy. Trying to be funny in front of a bunch of wolves is not as simple as it looks.

Election day dawned and two more—I mean one more candidate was in the race. Tongues began to wag again. They were saying that it wasn't fair for students to vote for a fellow who hadn't put on a campaign. The statement is silly from the start. Every student had the inalienable right to vote for anyone he wanted to in that blank space opposite the names of the other two candidates. Anyone at all! Even Thaddeus Q. Sludgemire, who couldn't be funny to save his life.

Tuesday evening a rumor was buzzing around. This rumor stated that the vote-counting crew was throwing out ballots which had the name of Fletcher written in but which had no check mark beside that name. This may or may not be true. I don't know. But no matter how cruel the act may seem, we must admit that the vote-counters would be entirely justified in casting out those incomplete ballots. The fault lies in those students who neglected to make the check mark.

Wednesday afternoon I checked into Pat's for a random interview with anyone who'd had enough to be talkative. After cornering my quarry I asked him what he thought of the election.

"The office of mayor is done for after this latest election," he said, batting an eyelash into left field. "The lousy campaigns and the election of a guy without a campaign made a farce of the whole affair. There won't be any next year."

"You're wrong, friend," I said, throwing his eyelash into second base and holding him to a single. "If the campaigns were a little inferior to those of past years you can be sure that the students will do all they can to make next year's the best in Maine's history. This year's candidates did the best they could and deserve a lot of credit for just being in the race, let alone sacrificing time and money."

Campus Inside Jobs Need Investigation

To the Editor: Getting on the mayoralty committee, getting the inside dope, seems to be the newest approach to becoming elected mayor. It seems that when a man is chosen to be on the mayoralty committee he should devote his time to furthering its function.

I happened to be a member of that particular committee myself, and although I would have liked to support wholeheartedly one of the seekers of the mayoralty post, and was asked personally by one to act on his committee, I refused, telling him that as a member of the committee I felt that I should not commit myself, but should act in my capacity to the mutual interest of both candidates.

Mayor Fletcher acted as a member of the mayoralty committee; Mayor Fletcher knew all the inside dope.

The sincerity of Chairman Joe Murray in attempting to put on a good final-night show is unquestionable in my mind, but the naivete of the mayor is something else again.

Fletcher and company made a good show. If he is the man the students want he should be the mayor. But I think a good cleaning and scalping of a few of these inside jobs should be of prime interest to the students when activities with which they are directly concerned are at the fore.

Spanish Display Is Highly Praised

To the Editor: I should like to use your letter column to congratulate Professor Stuart M. Gross, the Spanish Club and anyone else who had anything to do with that Latin American magazine exhibition in the Library. It was one of the best displays of this school year.

It seemed to be just as representative a collection as one could be this far from Latin America. The display showed that our southern neighbors have just as wide a variety of periodicals as we do and that their types of magazines just about parallel ours, also.

Moran Clarifies "Angles" Statement

To the Editor: Petticoat Angles has never been my idea of a journalistic masterpiece, but the most recent edition has hit new depths. It is disgusting that such an unfounded article ever got into print.

To enlighten anyone who might have taken Miss Wyman seriously, I would like it known that the fifteen off-campus representatives to the Men's Senate represent 1,200 male students. True, OCUMMO—the off-campus social organization—has only 25 members, but let us not get social and political facts confused. One member of the General Senate represents the Southern Fraternity Group. The truth is, this fraternity group never meets, so Miss Wyman will probably say that this delegate represents no one but himself.

Membership in the Men's Senate is based on representation according to population—not how many people attend this or that social function. In the future I hope she will take the trouble to locate the facts and avoid columns as appalling as her latest.

Thots In Passing

by Dick Willis

A Thing

There was a lady named Banker
Who slept as the ship rode at anchor
She awoke one nite in a terrible fright
When she heard the mate say
Hoist the top sheet and spanker.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank all of the swell people who voted for me in the past election. You were both real followers.

Comment

This is the last column of Thots in Passing and I hope that it has given you readers a jolly or two. Some of the stuff was pure corn, he sed modestly, but it was all stolen from the best of sources. I hope that some will pick up the cornstalk and carry on otherwise I now give the column a decent burial. (R.I.P.)

P.S. (My wife says my career at the University has been a failure. I've never won the Hillson award.)

Secret whisperings, detailed plan-nings, and lengthy discussions about formals and tuxs suggest that something is in the air. There is—spring houseparties. Two frats started the ball rolling this week end.

MARILYN

Under the title of "Spring Teptations," Tau Epsilon Phi had its houseparty at the Country Club last Friday. The party got under way
with a banquet,
followed by dancing to the music of the Bobcats.
Saturday the
TEPs had a picnic in Bar Harbor and then returned in the evening for an informal party at the MOC log cabin.

Carl Lerman, who headed the dance committee, was assisted by Don Po-vich, Lennie Minsky, Rip Lane, and Norton Sinert. Chaperons for the formal were Mr. and Mrs. Norman Suarez, Mr. Frederick Amling, and Miss Julia Shores.

Lloyd Rafnell and his orchestra furnished music for the Beta's annual spring houseparty which was also held last week end. Saturday the Betas and their dates had a picnic in Southwest Harbor at Echo Lake.

Paul Simpson, social chairman,
Dick Hewes, Bob Lincoln, Ted

Whitehouse, and Bill Kennison, house officers, arranged the dance and picnic.

Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. F. H.
Dalton, and Mr. and Mrs. C. W.
Baier.

Delta Zeta had a picnic last Sunday at the Stillwater picnic grounds. It is one of its annual sorority affairs to which men are invited.

South Estabrooke held a banquet for the senior girls in its dorm Thursday evening. Mary Whitcomb officiated as mistress of ceremonies. Cappy
Crooker, Kitty Carr, and Joyce Pray wrote the class prophecies, will, and gifts.

Tri-Delt held a tea Tuesday afternoon in North Estabrooke. All housemothers, several members of the faculty, alumnae, and students were invited. Ruth Curtis poured, and Winnie Hilton and Marilyn Dennett had charge of the affair.

Publishing Outdoor Magazine Is Major Job, Students Find

By FRED GLOVER

If any of you receive a letter with the salutation, "Dear Sportsman," read it carefully. It may well be an epistle from the fledgling publishers of "Outdoor Maine," which is the newest addition to the periodical field.

Why is it of interest to the Maine student?

Because, fellow students, the publishers are Maine students. They are, namely, Ronald Speers, James Cating, and Alberton McLain, and all are seniors majoring in Wildlife Conservation. Like all good businessmen, they have been through the difficult processes involved in forming a corporation, and are just about ready to function.

Editors Experienced

In addition to their education at college, all three have fine backgrounds in their chosen field. Speers is an experienced writer, Cating has worked in advertising in Ohio and West Virginia, McLain is a registered Maine Guide, and all are ardent sportsmen.

The boys have one thing that all of us might envy. They have formed an idea, struggled with it and smoothed out the rough spots, and are now about to see the dream become reality.

To use the words of Cating, "We never expected to get the cooperation and support that people are giving us."

Experts Contribute

Several prominent wildlife men have promised to contribute articles to the magazine, and letters announcing the new arrival have brought a gratifying and unexpected response.

"Outdoor Maine" is not just another sportsman's magazine. Rather, it is designed for all who are interested in furthering the development of Maine's abundant wildlife resources.

Editor Speers intends to cover all the usual phases of outdoor life, but, in addition, all legislative affairs affecting the outdoor scene, the state departments of Fish and Game, Forestry, and articles on clubs will be used.

Several states already have publications of this type; covering the state side of outdoor life, but until now, no attempt has been made to do this sort of thing in Maine. Thus, the idea has been well received in state circles, and promises to offer a really comprehensive picture of the Maine Vacationland. Also, as a state publication, it offers the Maine sportsman a chance to see his name in print.

If "Outdoor Maine" is to become a going concern, the support of all Maine sportsmen is needed. Ideas of this type take time and lots of effort before they are successful, but if the boys get anything in the way of support August 1949 will find a new magazine on the market.

Lost And Found

A woman's friendship ring has been found in the ladies room of the Library. The owner is asked to call C. E. Saunders, 20 Forest Avenue.

Temple Meets Tonight

The Order of the Temple will hold its last meeting of the current academic year tonight at 7 p.m. in the Orono Masonic Hall. One candidate will receive the work and refreshments will be served. All senior members are especially invited to be present.

Maine Editors Advise Students At Luncheon

At a luncheon meeting of the Press Club last week, editorial executives of several Maine daily newspapers discussed problems involved in the training and development of reporters.

Led by Col. Daniel Dexter, Lewiston Journal editorial writer, the group agreed that, to be a success in journalism, a candidate must have a genuine desire to be a newspaperman and can never "learn too much" in preparation for work in the field.

Vincent Belleau, Lewiston Journal city editor, said the time is approaching when a "college degree will be a prerequisite for newspaper job applicants."

Others on the panel were James D. Ewing, co-publisher, Bangor Daily Commercial; Francis R. Murphy, Maine correspondent, Associated Press; F. E. Cousins, assistant managing editor, Portland Press Herald-Express; Richard K. Warren, assistant publisher, John M. O'Connell, Jr., managing editor, Kalil Ayoob, city editor, and Delmont T. Dunbar, editorial writer, Bangor Daily News.

The guests were introduced by Prof. Wayne Jordan.

Alan St. James, Bobby Slosser, Richard Sprague, Simon Sklar, Robert Snowman, Milton Stone, James Wheeler, Millard Whitaker, Robert Winship, Marilyn Wyman, Kenneth Zwicker, and Elbert Moulton, Jr.

MOC Plans Annual Pushaw Stream Trip

The Maine Outing Club will sponsor its annual canoe trip to Pushaw Pond this weekend.

The group will leave the bookstore at 1 p.m. Saturday and will paddle up Pushaw stream from Gilman Falls to the campsite on the pond. There will be two short carries.

Tents will be provided for the group as well as meals but individuals are to provide eating utensils, sleeping bags, and personal gear. The group will return in time for supper Sunday.

The cost of the trip will be $3.50 and this amount should be put in the sign up envelope before 4:30 p.m. Friday.

All women and all male non-veteran minors are required to have parental permission before going on a University sponsored canoe trip.

The University Library subscribes to over 1,250 periodicals.

Bear Facts

By JOHN MURPHY

Colby College may well steal the play from other Maine colleges as far as sports are concerned.

The Mules from Waterville have long been considered doormats for Bates, Bowdoin, and Maine in State Series play. This phase in Colby sports seems to have been lost along with the arms of Venus de Milo.

Colby is definitely making steps toward the "big time" in sports.

This trend is shown perhaps most obviously in basketball. Lee Williams' team is in its ascendancy.

Next winter, the Elm City five will play at least one date in Boston Garden. The opposition will be William and Mary. I am rather vague as to the prowess of the W. and M. hoopers but the name itself is definitely a well known one.

Another Garden date has been offered to Coach Williams. In order to accept this date, he must cancel a game with Boston University (another school which is attempting to move into higher sports circles).

According to information in the Colby ECHO, the Garden opponent in this second appearance may be either Duke or Rice University. The schedule has not as yet been released, but it should be worth reading when it does appear.

Last winter, the Mules took an extended trip through New York State and as far west as Ohio to play basketball games. Although they received a fair share of lickings on this jaunt, the Mules got a big jump on the other Pine Tree Colleges.

This invasion by Colby into the elite class can only help its companion colleges in this state. Perhaps it will arouse like interests in the other schools. Here's hoping.

Next fall in football, the Waterville school will meet City College of New York. In the recent past, Maine opened its season with games against such schools as Columbia (in the days of Paul Governali) and Yale.

The best that the Pale Blue ever received from these games were moral victories. The publicity from such contests did little harm to our fair institution, however.

In the case of Colby, CCNY is hardly one of the powers in the football world but it is a step in the right direction. To coin a phrase, Rome wasn't built in a day.

Coach Chester Jenkins really knows the strength of his state rivals as far as track is concerned. Before last Saturday's state meet at Bates, Coach Jenkins predicted that Colby (again) would be lucky to score a single point. The result: Colby scored one half a point.

Two University of Maine athletes are slated to pitch for the Augusta Millionaires this summer: Red Norwood, a varsity hurler two years ago, and Marty Dow, a current twirler for Bill Kenyon. Harry Agganis, Boston University's ray of hope, may play first base for the Augusta club.

The University's golf team missed winning third place team medals in the New England tourney by a single stroke.

While at the University of Michigan, Coach Dave Nelson played in the backfield with Tom Harmon, Forest Evashevski and Bob Westfall. That was fast company.

four homers thus far this year. Reggie Bill Kenyon's batsmen have collected Lord has two and Joe Nickless and Roy Dieffenbach each have one.

Lord's belt Saturday against the UConn's came with two men out and one man on in the last inning to break a tie and win the game.

Pastimers Seek Revenge On NE Here Saturday

The University of Maine baseball squad will be out to gain revenge for an early season defeat at the hands of Northeastern when they clash with the Huskies on Alumni Field Saturday at 1 p.m.

This year's Northeastern nine, one of the best ever produced by the Boston school, edged out the Pale Blue 6-5 at the season's start and has since gone on to compile an excellent record.

With most of the fire power supplied by Lynch, Rando, and Kaplan and aided by ace hurler Bob Bagwell, the Huskies have been strong both offensively and in the fielding department, and are expected to make things tough for the improved Black Bears.

A week from Friday the Bears will journey to Durham for the second game with New Hampshire. The Wildcats had been having a streak of tough luck until they spilled Maine 8-6 in last week's slugfest, and the Kenyonmen will attempt to even things up on the Granite Staters' home grounds.

Maine Mariners Meet Jayvees Here Tomorrow

When the Jayvees meet Maine Maritime Academy here tomorrow, they will be going into the game with a two wins, one loss record. Last Friday Ricker won a slugfest with 14 runs to Maine's 11.

On the following Monday the Jayvees will face Coburn, and on Wednesday they will meet the Annex in a double header.

University Golfers Favored To Retain State Links Crown

A fourth place winner in the New England tournament at Watertown, Mass., last week end, Coach Charlie Emery's Maine golf team will be favored to take first honors in the state golf meet at Augusta next Monday and Tuesday, May 23 and 24.

Paced by Warren Wilson who placed ninth in medal play in a field of 164, the Maine divot diggers showed great team power in finishing only one stroke out of third place in the New England.

Maine has already swamped Colby in a 9-0 match on the Penobscot Valley course and should have no trouble from the Mules. Bowdoin is the only real opposition the Bears are expected to encounter.

With Gene McNabb, the only top golfer that Bowdoin boasts this year, playing way over his usual game, Bowdoin isn't expected to offer too much trouble. McNabb was in constant trouble in the New England and isn't expected to show too well at Augusta.

Since Augusta is the home course for three of the Maine golfers, Coach Emery expects his men to do well there. Dick Smith, Bob Webber, and Don Brown all live in the capitol city and are well acquainted with the course.

Hagopian Improving

Friends of Martin Hagopian, track star and varsity halfback here in 1946, will be pleased to learn that his condition has improved to the extent that he has been given a 13 day leave from the hospital to visit his parents.

Jenkins Enters Squad Members In N.E. Meet For Experience

Track Coach Chester Jenkins has entered several of his squad members in the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association track meet Friday and Saturday at MIT in Cambridge, Mass.

Net Team Set For Busy Week

Maine's varsity netmen, fresh from Yankee Conference competition at Durham, N. H., over the week end, face a lengthy week of play with three dual matches and the state tournament coming up.

Coach G. William Small's five-man team of Larry Van Peurse, Fred Hermann in the singles, Van Peurse and Hermann as one duo, and Harry Allen and Bob Thoits as the second combination, plus alternate Bob Sullivan, form the nucleus of a state title contender.

The Bears defeated Colby handily on Maine Day, 7-2, without the services of the Van Peurse. The match was listed only as an exhibition, but the teams square off today at Waterville, with Maine the heavy favorite.

Bowdoin has defeated Bates, so the Polar Bears, whom Maine meets May 26, appear to be the strongest state rivals in the state tourney.

Team scores, however, will not be figured in the state matches at Lewiston Monday and Tuesday. Championships will be awarded for singles and doubles.

Last Monday afternoon, Coach Small's Junior Varsity tennis squad defeated Ricker, 9-6.

The veteran Maine coach says that he is taking them "mainly for experience." For this reason most of the team members making the trip will be underclassmen. Some seniors may possibly make the trip.

Dick Gordon, Yankee Conference champ, will be entered in both the hammer and the discus while Carrol Tottman will throw the javelin as well as the disc. Floyd Milbank in the shotput will round out the weightmen who make the trip.

Wallace To Run

Johnny Wallace, who last week won the state two-mile title, will be entered in the same event at Cambridge. Bob Eastman will run in the half mile race and Parsons in the mile event.

Blaine Beal may make the trip to race in the hurdle events. Bill Hammond is likewise a possibility in the dashes.

Coach Jenkins stated that he did not plan to enter any men in the high jump, the pole vault or the 440-yard run.

Marsanskis Won Hammer

Last year at the New England meet, George Marsanskis of Maine won the hammer throw. Bob Emerson scored in the pole vault as did Red Leclair in the high hurdles.

This year Coach Jenkins does not expect much in the way of points but does believe that his cindermen will pick up a great deal of valuable experience.

Second baseman Ed Woodbrey is currently pacing the Maine baseball team at the plate with a .400 batting mark in state series play.

The team averages include last Monday's game with Bowdoin.

Player	AB	H	Av.
Woodbrey, E.	15	6	.400
Dow, Mart.	5	2	.400
Woodbrey, V.	8	3	.386

Dorm League Active In Softball, Tennis

The only activity last week in the intramural softball league was in the dormitory division.

E. Oak won by forfeit over W. Oak. C. Oak defeated Dunn 1 & 2, 10-7. Corbett 3 & 4 defeated HHH 20-10. Trailers defeated No. Dorm #1, 2 & 4, 16-6. So. Apts. defeated No. Dorm 5 & 7, 21-1. New Dorm #3, tm. 2 defeated No. Dorm 6 & 9, 23-4. New Dorm #3 won from Ocummo on a forfeit, and Austins defeated No. Dorm #11, 5-3.

In the dorm division of intramural tennis New Dorm #3 team 2 and New Dorm #3 team 1 will play off for the dormitory championship.

The second round of the fraternity league finds ATO pitted against Phi Mu, Phi Gam against SAE, and Sigma Chi against Theta Chi. The winners of these matches will go into the semi-finals, along with Phi Kap.

Ty Cobb of the Detroit Tigers stole 892 bases during his major league career for a record.
