MAINE TUITION COST IS RAISED

Jim Donovan Presented As Senate Head

James Donovan '48 was announced as next year's president of the General Student Senate by Jean Hufnagel at a meeting of the Senate last Tuesday night.

Other new officers are as follows: Ralph Barnett, '49, vice president; Dorothy Butler '50, secretary; and Lorraine Littlefield '49, treasurer.

Slightly less than 500 students voted in the Friday election, with Donovan beating out Frank Haines by 20 odd votes. Another close contest came between Miss Littlefield and Germaine Bellefleur for the office of treasurer.

Donovan, a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity, was originally class of '45, and president of his class his freshman year. This fall, he headed the student division of the union building drive.

Donovan took over his duties at the close of Tuesday's meeting.

The Senate voted to give its "ok" to the formation of a new fraternity on campus.

Ten Debaters Earn Awards

The announcement that ten Maine students had earned Debate Keys this year highlighted an informal dinner at which Dr. and Mrs. Howard L. Runion entertained members of the Debating Society. Three members were awarded jewels for their keys.

Donald Crossland, completing his fourth year of varsity debating, was given a chip diamond to round out his key. Nicholas Brontas received a apphire, and Cliff Worthing a second ear jewel.

Those who earned their keys this year are: Larry Jenness, Royal Graves, George Brontas, Francis Bean, Edward Cormier, and Leon Gray. Four students won keys in the intramural journey last fall. They are: June wanton, Kay Kennedy, Tom Stotler, and Donald Waring.

Dr. Runion, who plans to turn over his duties as coach of debating to Mr. Jofford Gardner, was presented with monogrammed leather brief case.

Newman Club Sponsors Open Air Starlight Dance

The Newman Club brings something new to the springtime social whirl of the campus this week end when it sponsors a "Starlight Dance" on the veranda of the New Library at 8:30 p.m. Saturday night.

The "Starlight Dance" will be an open-air dance and will feature the Maine Cubs.

President Dick Gagnon will act as general chairman of the dance, a stag fair for the entire student body and culty.

In the event of rain, the dance will be held in the Women's Gymnasium.

MAE Gives Pop Concert On May 30

Mu Alpha Epsilon, honorary music society, will present its annual Pop Concert on Friday, May 30, at 7:30 p.m. at the New Library steps.

The concert will consist of a program of semi-classical music by the University Orchestra and combined Men's and Women's Glee Clubs, with specialties by the Modern Dance Club.

The Orchestra and Glee Clubs will be located on the steps of the library, while the audience will sit either on the lawn or on chairs rented for the occasion.

Anna Crouse, a senior in the College of Arts and Sciences, past president of MAE, and winner of the MAE senior award for outstanding contributions to music at the University, will act as chairman.

There will be no admission. Cars may be parked on the two roads approaching the library from the front. No traffic will be allowed on these roads once the program has started.

Memorial Day To Have Quiet

One minute of silence, commemorating the University of Maine men who gave their lives in World War II, will be a part of the Memorial Day observance to be held on the steps of the New Library Friday, May 30.

The complete program is as follows: At 10:45 the Band and Military Units will march to the New Library steps.

At 11:00 The Reverend Francis E. LeTourneau will deliver the Invocation, followed by: Psalm 150, by Cesar Franck; Reading, by Rabbi Gerald Engel; an address, by Representative Howard Cousins, '42, introduced by Thomas Stotler, '47; The Song of Man, by Richard Kountz and the University Chorus; Benediction, by the Reverend Walter E. Wyman; Response, Binyer's "They Shall Not Grow Old," James G. Selwood; 60-second period of silence; salute to the Flag by the Guard of Honor; Bugle, "To the Colors"; and the Flag will be two-blocked from half-mast.

At 11:40, "The Star Spangled Banner," by the University Chorus and the audience will bring the exercises to a close.

The fourth and fifth periods will be omitted from the class schedule on Memorial Day. There will be no other change in the length or time of classes throughout the day.

To Discuss Naval Reserve

Eighteen former naval aviation personnel interested in establishing a Naval Air Reserve Volunteer Unit in Maine will have a chance to fly to Brunswick tomorrow to attend a meeting for that purpose, according to a statement issued by Russ Wooley.

A naval transport plane will leave Dow Field at 1 p.m. Saturday, with accommodations for eighteen.

Those interested, both officer and enlisted, should contact Mr. Wooley at his office in 240 Stevens

Faculty Funds Mounting

The Non-alumni Faculty Union Drive has reached the $5,685 mark toward its goal of $8,000, Chairman Professor Irving Prageman announced today. Of the six teams, the Administration, headed by Dean Edith Wilson, has the largest amount to date, $1,940.

Trustees Vote Increase Effective In September

A raise in the University of Maine's tuition in the amount of $50 per academic year, covering all students, has been voted by the board of trustees, Edward F. Chase, president of the board, announced today.

H. Douglas Collins was elected Editor-in-chief of the 1949 Prism, and Martin Rissel was chosen Business Editor in the voting held last week.

Doug Collins is a dean's list student in the College of Arts and Sciences, and Rissel is a married veteran majoring in Civil Engineering.

Owls To Be Tapped At Game Saturday

Twenty freshman men will be tapped for membership in the Sophomore Owls during the Northeastern game this Saturday. Fourteen of these men now live on the Maine campus, and the six remaining freshmen are representatives of the Brunswick Annex.

This increase, effective next September, will make the tuition $225 per year for Maine students and $350 per year for students from outside of Maine.

"This action was deemed necessary," Chase said, "by the inability on the part of the Legislature to appropriate the full amount requested for general operations of the University. The legislative reduction below the amount requested is $175,000 per year. The net increase in tuition is estimated to offset this reduction."

"So far as means are available," Chase declared, "steps will be taken to assist worthy and needy students who will not be able to meet the new tuition rates."

"While the new tuition rates are substantially higher than those now in force in other state universities similar to the University of Maine," he added, "the tuition cost for a student who is a resident of Maine at the new rate of $225 a year will be less than half the actual per capita cost for instruction and administration."

Room Drawings Held For Girls

Drawings for next year's room assignments for all women students was announced Wednesday by Dean Edith Wilson. All drawings will be held in the Little Theatre.

Present juniors will draw Saturday, May 24, at 10:30 a.m.; sophomores on Tuesday, May 27, at 7 p.m.; and freshmen on Wednesday, May 28, at 7 p.m.

All women students are requested to make plans for roommates, and at least one of the pair should appear at the drawing.

Any girls willing to make a three-some for a suite in Estabrooke should report to Dean Wilson ahead of the drawing.

ROTC Inspection And Review Held

The yearly Federal Inspection of the Maine ROTC unit was held last Tuesday and Wednesday by a visiting inspection team composed of four regular army officers.

All military students were given a series of examinations, and participated in a ceremonial parade review Wednesday morning. Classe were arranged so that University students could attend the review.

IT'S THE

Brass Rail

202 Exchange St., Bangor, Me.

When you graduate, you will have one of the finest opportunities to learn to fly ever offered young men in peacetime.

The Army Air Forces' Aviation Cadet Training Program gives you that chance. It cannot be duplicated anywhere at any price. Leader in new things for aviation—in jet and rocket propulsion, far-ranging heavy aircraft, improved navigation facilities, and many other of the latest developments in a fast-moving field—the AAF can help you begin a brilliant future.

The Air Forces have reopened Aviation Cadet training to qualified civilians 18 to 26½ years of age. Men selected for training as pilots under the terms of the program must be single and have had at least two years of college education, or the equivalent, in an accredited institution. Upon successful completion of the course, graduates will be commissioned Second Lieutenants, Army of the United States, and assigned to flying duty with the Army Air Forces.

Reactivation of the Aviation Cadet program is typical of the AAF's continuing effort to provide selected young men every opportunity to earn advancement. Cadets who win their wings as today's pilots will be the same kind of men who, in wartime, built and manned the world's mightiest air arm.

Make your plans now to get in at the start! By applying immediately after graduation, you can take your qualifying examinations and enter the July 1st class, or—if you want a summer vacation—you can take your examinations now and be ready to enter the class beginning October 15th. Further information is available at AAF Bases, U. S. Army Recruiting Stations, local Civil Air Patrol headquarters, or by writing to the Commanding General, Army Air Forces, Washington 25, D. C.

Spare That Child!

Recently a two-year-old child was struck by an automobile in the south apartment area. Last fall a similar accident occurred. Neither child was seriously hurt, but this good fortune can't be expected to continue indefinitely.

Conditions in this area are hardly ideal for children. There are no sidewalks, and the streets are only 20 feet or so from the houses. Many corners are rendered blind by coal bunkers, and cars must be parked in front of the houses for lack of a better place. There are no playgrounds.

In such situations, many children play. On Third Street alone there are over 50.

South apartment parents wish to remedy conditions, making it safe for both children and automobiles; but, Rome wasn't built in a day. They need help.

Drive with caution along the back road to Orono. Don't enter the south apartment area unless it's on business. And when you do enter, go slowly.

If there's no other way out, these people can report license numbers to the police.

Editor's Notes

Congratulations to new General Student Senate President Jim Donovan. Building up the position of the newly reorganized Senate is probably the biggest and most important job on campus...

Bouquets also to Douglas Collins, who will bring next year's Prism into being...

Sorry, folks. This corner over-estimated the student body. Only 500 hearty souls bothered to stop and vote on their way into the bookstore...

And if you're interested, slightly more than one tenth of the students voted in the Prism elections...

The MCA deserves a word of praise for tackling the local WSSF drive at this late date. Houseparties and the end of the month make a big hole in the average pocket, but it might be rather nice to give a dollar for students who don't have any pockets...

Things must be back to normal. Houseparties were a big, big success.

Houseparties Liven Weekend, Produce Pinnings, Engagements

Friday night the campus was gay in the traditional spirit of pre-war spring houseparties. Bad weather did little to dampen the spirits of the gay couples as they danced to the music of local and imported orchestras in cleverly decorated and dimly lighted rooms. Favors in the form of bracelets, lockets, pins, loving cups, and compacts were given the girls.

In striking contrast was the campus on Saturday when the fraternity boys and their dates went on all-day picnics to various parts of Maine—Bar Harbor, Castine, Bucksport, Jefferson, etc. Houseparty week end came to a close with Sunday dinners in the fraternity houses.

Last week end was a busy one for the North Dorm boys. Friday night they gave a formal in the Memorial Gymnasium. The gym was beautifully decorated and an entertainment was furnished at intermission. Jimmy Dunn of Portland provided the music. On Saturday, a picnic was held and in the evening the fellows and their dates gathered in the gym for a Barn Dance.

See 'Boomerang', Says Evans But Watch For Its Subtlety

By DENNY EVANS

High spot of the week... "Boomerang," at the Bijou. Go see it! If it's your last dime, even if you haven't the time, even if you have a prelim the next day, go see it! It's worth it.

It's rare that I'll praise a picture to any great extent. Most of Hollywood's celluloidal junk isn't worth mentioning, let alone even criticizing. But here is an exception. It should stand alone somewhere, like a monument. But not as a monument to the movie industry. Rather, as a monument to the stupidity of the people who see the picture and laugh at the wrong places, and the one mistake that the makers of the film made: they were too subtle. Subtlety, unfortunately, is lost on the common man.

Why? Because subtlety requires, for comprehension, a certain amount of mental processes; these mental processes are beyond the scope of the average man. Sad, but true. All men are not created equal. This picture, and the audience's reaction to it provide, as do so many other things, another proof for that statement.

There is, in this picture, a portrayal of a politician. It was a masterful job of characterization, and even above that, a marvelous job of writing. But there was a mistake made. The soul revealed by the politician was completely recognizable, but the finely drawn line of caricature was too close to real life to be seen and appreciated. It was too much like life, and too little like a caricature. But the twisted, distorted man, the politician, the man who should be hung but is permitted to live, was there. It depends on the individual in the audience just how that man is seen.

drawn line of caricature was too close to real life to be seen and appreciated.

It was too much like life, and too little like a caricature. But the twisted, distorted man, the politician, the man who should be hung but is permitted to live, was there. It depends on the individual in the audience just how that man is seen.

He would make a statement, and the audience, instead of rising up in a theoretical rage against him, laughed, and joined forces with him. I do not know what purpose the writer of the script had in making this man what he was, or in even having him in the script at all, but he was there.

It depends again, on the individual, just how he sees himself, for he is mocked, too. The unwavering thick-headedness of the "eye-witnesses," is a scathing condemnation, a reflecting mirror, of the people seen in the movie and of the people who see the movie and laugh at—themselves. And in their laughter they denied themselves. I was sorry for them.

Yes, go see "Boomerang," but look for that fine line of imperceptible caricature. It's there, you'll just have to look for it.

Low spot of the week... There's another "Whistler" pic at the Olympia. Like before, I haven't bothered. How many of those atrocities can they make in a year?

Let's Have A Tavern

The University of Maine, the northern-most college in the northern-most state, is now in a position to make a name for itself. Besides being unusual for its geographical position, Maine can be known as the most progressive of all colleges and universities, if it wants to.

The methods to attain this singular honor are so simple that the average person would never even think of them. But fortunately, we have a genius in our midst; one who hides beneath the cloaks of modesty and says nothing. And here are the methods I have uncovered.

The first and most important system is to investigate the other colleges. Recently at Miami University, the student body complained because they were not allowed to smoke in the classrooms. The students at a mid-western college squawked because they didn't have a tavern on campus. The males in a southern school yelled because the girls had to be in so early. The solution is so obvious, I'm almost ashamed to state it.

Just put into being all those things the students at other places want so much. Provide ash trays on all seats; reserve a room in the proposed Union for use as a tavern; and let the girls stay out until 10:45 p.m. during the week and twelve fifteen Saturdays and Sundays.

Another means of obtaining immortality (and if the "t" is left out of that word, don't blame me) is to quiz the students as to what their desires are. This way we will soon have a democratic university, one run by students and faculty alike.

—BILL BRENNAN

Monty Higgins Says:

Who are these narrow minded gals who cuss about bow ties? What's wrong with a propeller tie? Since lately it has become fashionable to go vestless, the bow tie is more sanitary—the tag ends of a four-in-hand drag in the soup.

Why, some very famous people wear bow ties—Harry Truman, to mention one.

We speak, by the way, of the bow tie you tie yourself, not the lazy clip-on kind. And—every man should learn to tie a bow tie. Though our roommates may tie our bow ties for us now, what if later our wives don't know how? Now, anyone can see that divorce procedure would be a bother just because your wife is no bow tie tier, so everyone should learn the art of bow tie tying!

Another thing, bow ties are collegiate and care-free. College boys are supposed to like loud clothes: suits with stripes, ties with polka-dots, and letters with checks.

Whew! How did that corny witty get in there? We'll have to watch that.

A bookstore cowboy complained he was bored by the University, bored by Maine, and bored with living. He racks his brain thinking of new ways to kill time. Maybe someday he will learn the best way to kill time is to work it to death.

Did you ever try to call up a girl at one of the dorms? Those phones are busy all times of the day. It just proves a man in love will phone his girl every day—or dial in the attempt.

We used to cuss when we got a two dollar bill. They were too easy to mistake for ones. Nowadays, two dollar bills are so handy for buying one dollar's worth of merchandise.

One reason for this endless procession of Foreign Minister Conferences is that the little nations feel the big powers are giving them a raw deal—form the bottom of the pact, that is.

Who was the first Lit prof to liken the historical novel to a bustle—a fictitious tale based on stern reality!

A Republican Deity

The teacher was classifying a new pupil. "Who gave us this beautiful school?" she asked. "The Maine State Legislature," he replied. "Who gave us our wonderful campus roads?" "The Maine State Legislature," he answered. "Who made the trees grow and the flowers blossom?"

"God," replied the pupil. At this point an angry voice from the rear cried, "Throw that damn Democrat out."

—IKE WEBBER

These People With Jalopies, Are They Man Or Beast?

By IKE WEBBER

More and more the call is going up for safer driving. Why you might even go so far as to say that children should be seen, but not hurt. Most of us remember the readjustment talks we got when we were discharged. Mine went to the effect of "Son, you're going back to that cold world—the world of drunken, and women drivers." However, that is not the truth in all cases.

Take the case of the latest accident. A jalopy rounded a corner on two wheels, knocked down a policeman and four pedestrians, overturned a fruit cart, and finally wrapped itself around a telegraph pole. A sweet young thing climbed out of the wreckage.

"Yippee," she cried, "that's what I call a kiss."

Former Maine Man Compares Climates

There is a lot of difference between the University of Maine campus and the rolling country of North Germany, but the climate during the past winter was much the same, according to Major Philip A. Hutchinson, GSC, who was graduated from the University Magna Cum Laude (BS) in 1940 and who has been in military service ever since.

He is now stationed in Berlin, as Executive Officer of the Transport Division, Office of Military Government for Germany (US), in one of the focal-point agencies of military Government.

Automobiles are very funny things. In the winter they are helpless on the ice. They need anti-freeze in the radiators. You know how to make anti-freeze (hide her pajamas).

Another case to be cited is the case of the California motorist who was haled into court for reckless driving.

"What do you do for a living?" asked the judge.

"I work in a hospital," replied the defendant.

"Thirty days for pan-handling," said the judge.

One More Chance Offered Ex-Officers

The War Department has extended to May 29 the closing date for the receipt of applications for commissions from seniors who were formerly officers in the Army. There are 66 eligible students here.

The War Department Roving Screening Center, comprised of four officers from the AAF and four officers from the AGF, will be on the campus May 29-30 to interview applicants.

Panhell Dinner Thursday

This year's Panhellenic council and the newly chosen council for next year will hold a combined dinner Thursday at 6:00 p.m. in the President's Room of North Estabrooke. No program has been planned. Roberta Johnston is chairman of the dinner.

Ann Harmon Gets Summer Trip On Danforth Fellowship

Ann Lee Harmon '48 has been named this year's winner of the Danforth Foundation Fellowship, it was announced today by Professor Pearl S. Greene, home economics department head.

The Danforth Foundation Fellowship, set up by the Ralston Purina Company, offers an expense-free trip to St. Louis, Mo., each summer, where junior girls from the land grant colleges through the country gather to be conducted through the various institutions, firms, and other agencies dealing with applications of home economics.

Miss Harmon will leave for St. Louis on July 11, and will return after her trip in August.

College Credit Given Students For On-The-Job Internships

Young men and women of college age have the opportunity of getting an inside view of labor-management problems and of gaining valuable pre-professional experience by "interning" in industry, mental hospitals and reformatories through projects sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee.

Originally started as summer projects, the internships are now being continued on a year-round basis. This extension was made on the recommendation of former internees, who believed a longer term was needed if the project was to be really effective.

Special summer units are held, however, from the latter part of June through August. The winter and spring units open in September.

In both the Interne-in-Industry and the Institutional Service Units, students receive the prevailing wage for the work they do, and study objectively through lectures, discussions, field trips and reading materials the problems of their particular work.

In summing up the value of the project, the director of the group said, "One of the very evident values of our internship in industry has been the irreplaceable experience of being a cog in the industrial machine itself. To feel the monotony of a daily, constantly repeated and seldom varied routine and the resultant tensions and frustrations seemed to us a very necessary lesson in the process of understanding industrial problems."

One Interne wrote, "We came to feel how much a wage increase of a few cents an hour can mean and how difficult it is to save much ahead for a rainy day..."

College credit has been given in sociology and psychology for work done in these interne projects as well as in other projects of the Friends Service Committee. For further information, write:

World Student Service Fund Campaign Opens Today

Relief Funds Will Be Used World Wide

The World Student Service Fund provides food, clothing, shelter, medical care, books, and supplies to 400,000 students in Europe and Asia desperately in need of assistance and fellowship. Universities, professors, and students paid a heavy price during the recent global war.

At the close of World War I, the World's Student Christian Federation created the European Student Relief to meet the tragic needs in nineteen Central and Eastern European war-torn nations. In the next five years students of forty-two countries gave over $2,500,000 in money and material for the relief of 70,000 of their fellow students in Europe.

In 1925, International Student Relief was established to make permanent and carry on this program of international understanding among students and provide for mutual aid.

In 1937, the Far Eastern Student Service Fund was established in the United States to provide assistance to the ninety of the 108 Chinese colleges and universities which were bombed out and evacuated from the coastal war zone. Students and professors traveled on foot many hundreds of miles to their new makeshift quarters, lived in caves, suffered malnutrition and lacked medical care. Today famine threatens thirty million people in nineteen provinces with death from starvation.

The task of repairing, rebuilding, and re-stocking the damaged and despoiled universities is a huge one; the plight of the students who fought, suffered, and wasted away in concentration and prisoner-of-war camps presents a problem which is equally as tremendous.

WSSF is a non-sectarian organization, sponsored by student religious forces, Christian and Jewish, in the United States. Among these are included: National Student Councils of the YMCA and YWCA, the Student Volunteer Movement, the Inter-seminary Movement, the Student Service of America, Inc., the Commission on University Work, and B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at American Universities.

Our Money Will Do Some Great Things

$2—will supply the notebooks and paper required by a Chinese student for one year.

$5—will buy 1-6 books for a European university whose library has been destroyed.

$15—will keep a tubercular student for a week at the International Student Sanatorium, Leysin, Switzerland.

$15—will furnish food for one month for an undernourished Greek student.

$10-$35—will provide a food parcel for a hungry student.

$60—will give a French student 2 months at the Chalet des Etudiants, Combloux.

$500—will equip a modest student kitchen for cheap, nutritious meals.

$1000—will feed 50 students for one month.

$1000-$5000—will operate for one year a student center in China with facilities for bathing, recreation, reading, self-help.

One Way To Do It

Technical laboratories and libraries suffered most from the war, according to WSSF reports. Here medical students in Milan set up their own cooperative laboratory.

Students of Bron University in Czechoslovakia mimeograph texts for use in their courses because of the lack of printed books. Other students, less fortunate, have been known to copy books in longhand.

An Editorial

You May Know . . .

YOU MAY KNOW what it's like to attend morning classes without breakfast. But try missing lunch and dinner and all your meals the next day, too. After such a lay-off, you would have the vitality of the average student at the University of Vienna today. On the third day have a meal around noon. But not much—not more than 1200 calories—some oatmeal, bread, some dried fish, and dried milk.

You may know what it's like to sweat out a book line, but try copying a 300-page book in longhand. Students are doing this today at the University of Athens, because of the scarcity of texts.

You may know what it's like to live in what are called crowded dormitories, but try living in a damp, unheated shack for months. Students are doing this today in Peiping.

You may know what it's like to be in the infirmary for a week with a cold, but try bucking a full term's work crippled by active tuberculosis with no medical treatment. Students are doing this today all over Europe.

And because of all this, we feel that it is our opportunity and our obligation to do something about it. We appreciate Maine's all-out effort for the Union Fund Drive, we appreciate the fact that it's spring and houseparty time . . . we even appreciate the fact that it's the end of the month. But in view of all this, in spite of all this, we believe in the World Student Service Fund as an international, inter-racial, non-sectarian, non-political student relief agency. And we believe students and faculty at Maine will appreciate the worthiness of this cause and will contribute to it whatever they can.

We are asking for one dollar from each student and faculty member . . . but we are hoping that each will give as much as he is able . . . something more, something else. It is trite to say that every little bit helps, but this is a time to remember that.

$2500 is a modest goal, as compared to those of other New England colleges.

We have buildings and books and beds and food, we have given for ourselves. Now let us give from our hearts to others.

—The World Student Service Fund Committee

Will Try To Raise $2500 Goal To Help Foreign Universities

Today the World Student Service Fund Drive is being launched by the Maine Christian Association, scheduled to run from May 23 until May 30. Student chairmen Nap Spenard, Pat Rozzi, Connie Howe, Phil Craig, Ruth Fogler, Bernie Prescott, and Esther Ring have made plans for a campus-wide program of information and appeal. They have set $2500 as a goal for the Maine campus.

Latest reports of undernourishment, disease, and crude living conditions that are plaguing students in China, Poland, Greece, and Austria have painted a picture of suffering under "the barest minimum: even more inadequate than wartime." In China, 90,000 students are completing a 1,500-mile trek from the provinces to campuses on the coast, only to find their school building destroyed.

In Hungary, 15,000 of the 20,000 students in the universities are little better than beggars. In Poland student-mimeographed "scripts" or digests of books or lecture notes make up for the textbook shortage caused by war-devastated libraries.

The unique and inclusive organization of American students and professors who participate in emergency student relief is the World Student Service Fund. Since its creation in 1937 with the outbreak of war in China, it has been sponsored by three great international student organizations: World's Student Christian Federation (Protestant), Pax Romana (Roman Catholic), and International Student Service.

Official beginning of the drive on the Maine campus was a supper meeting for 80 campus unit leaders in the Recreation Room of the MCA Thursday night. Miss Henriette Roosenburg of Holland, who is traveling and studying in this country under the sponsorship of the World Student Service Fund, spoke on the needs of students in war-devastated countries, and the fulfilling of the needs of students in eighteen war-ravaged lands by the students of fourteen countries. She asked that campaign workers "put your own pushing force behind it and see that it reaches its goal." "This is not charity," she said. "It is a solidarity program between all the students of the world who want to live in peace together. We in America have many privileges, but we are not entitled to them if we don't accept the responsibility that goes with them."

President Hauck Commends Drive

In the midst of solving our own postwar University problems, none of us can be unmindful of the plight of students and professors in the universities of wartorn Europe and Asia. These men and women have suffered long and grievously in body, mind and spirit. Many of their laboratories, libraries, and classroom facilities have been destroyed. They need study materials, books, medicine, clothing, and food.

I commend to the students and faculty of the University of Maine the opportunity through the World Student Service Fund Drive to help restore health, courage, and decent living conditions to our university colleagues abroad. I trust that Maine will do her part in this worthy appeal.

—Arthur A. Hauck

Dutch Woman Visits Campus To Aid Drive

Miss Henriette Roosenburg of Holland is the third representative of World Student Service Fund to visit our campus this year. Now Miss Roosenburg—known as "Yet" to the many friends she has made in the United States—is making a special visit to Maine to help launch the annual World Student Service Fund Drive. Last fall Otto Borch of Denmark and Gabriel Nahas of France were here.

It has been her job, with others of the WSSF Staff, to visit fifty New England campuses this year, interpreting for them the needs and aspirations of fellow students overseas.

It is a job Miss Roosenburg is especially suited for. She knows from first-hand experience the terror and havoc wrought by the Nazi invasion. As an active worker in the Dutch Resistance she was interned in Nazi concentration camps as a political prisoner, escaping before her death sentence could be carried out. As a Dutch student she has received help from the World Student Service Fund.

In an issue of the World Student Service Fund Newsletter Miss Roosenburg writes: "One year of peace, but still hunger and need are every-day realities in Europe and Asia. All over two continents, students and professors are flocking back to their universities in greater numbers than ever before, hungry for knowledge, eager to find a way out of the ruins of the present. Most of these students and professors played their part in this war, be it without uniforms and without generals. They fought in the resistance movements; they sabotaged the production of the enemy; they struggled to keep alive the spirit of science and research against an enemy bent on destroying all higher education.

"But they have no G.I. Bill of Rights to come back to. All they find is destroyed university buildings, looted laboratories, libraries without books. They still are hungry. They still live in a world where a roof over their heads and a pair of shoes are considered a luxury."

Miss Roosenburg will be available at the MCA or in South Estabrooke during her visit.

Extra Winter Clothing Is Unobtainable Luxury

Besides the scarcity of food and books, winter clothing plays an important part in a foreign student's life. Many students possess only the clothes they wear, and winter clothing is a necessity beyond their means.

WSSF reports cite a recent example of this in the 7,500,000 Chinese dollars spent to make 1,500 quilts for 6,000 student refugees in Pao-Chi who were living in caves, sleeping on mud floors, and doing their own cooking. In most cases, each quilt was used by three students.

Pale Blue Track Team Takes Honors At Lewiston Meet

Bear Facts

BY MURPH LINEHAN

In the eighth inning of the second Maine-Connecticut game last Saturday, a lanky right-hander made his appearance as a relief hurler for the UConn. Very few people in the stands knew that his name was Ed Nogas, and even fewer knew that he walked on an artificial left leg. Ed is not kept on the club because of his tremendous spirit, or just for sentimental reasons as is the case in instances where pre-war athletic heroes came back to try and play again minus an arm or leg only to find that the handicap is too great. Nogas is an ace finger on the Nutmeggers' pitching staff, and his chore on the mound was not planned by the Connecticut coach, since Ed had just performed two days previously, and had surrendered but six hits to opposing batters. Pitcher Ed Nogas asks no quarter...he's a competitor who prefers things be kept on a common par.

The Champs

At Lewiston last week, the rivalry between the mile kings, Payson Kenyon of Northeastern, and Elmer Folsom of Maine, was again renewed. This time the Boston speedster was not to be denied and he promptly went out to take a lead which he never relinquished. Folsom gamely stayed close, but it was Kenyon's race all the way. Earlier this year, Elmer defeated Kenyon in an indoor meet held in the Maine field house, and at a time when both runners were undefeated. Rivalries such as this keep intercollegiate sports at the high level at which they are, with the resultant of better school pride.

Delivery Guaranteed

Ted Williams clearly demonstrated that he's worth the gigantic salary that he's receiving in the last half of a doubleheader between Detroit and the Red Sox last Monday, when the beanpole slugger slapped out his ninth homerun of the year to pull the game out for Boston. Virgil "Fire" Trucks had just come into the game to pitch the last inning for the Tigers. Trucks got the first Boston hitter out without much difficulty, as the cash customers began to file out, but then Wally Moses singled to center. At this point the spectators lingered to see Williams attempt the "impossible," and sure enough The Kid delivered on the fourth ball pitched, and the old apple sailed into the grandstand to give Boston a 5-4 win.

Consistent Performer

One of the hardest working members of Coach Chester Jenkins' championship track team is in the person of Joseph "Red" Leclair. A high hurdler par excellence, Red has never failed to place in any event this year, and in pre-war years was recognized as one of the best hurdlers in New England. In the tri-meet with Bates and Northeastern last Saturday, Leclair defeated Del Alberghini, N.U.'s top hurdler in the 120 yard event. It was poetic justice that Red win this one, for Alberghini nosed out Red in last winter's meet between the two clubs.

Dotings

As expected, Ray Lebel of Bowdoin captured the individual golf crown last week; Ray is the best amateur in the local ranks, and should go far as a professional....Annex baseball club is still undefeated

Men Asked To Return Locks, Towels To Office

Softballers Vie For Top Spot

Several sunny days appeared last week and gave the outdoor intramural softball teams a chance to swing into action.

In the Northern Fraternity League, SAE upset a highly favored Delta Tau Delta team, 6-4. The game was a pitcher's duel all the way, with Hagman of SAE winning out. Delta Tau, winners of the indoor championship, could gather only eight hits off his delivery. Wescott of SAE punched out two hits in four official trips to the plate to lead the victors' attack. In the same league Kappa Sigma rolled over Theta Chi by a 39-4 score.

Alpha Gamma Rho pulled an upset in the Southern Fraternity League when it defeated Lambda Chi, 11-1. Lambda Chi could do very little with the hurling of ex-mayorality candidate Angus Black, while Alpha Gam built up an impressive lead.

A strong Trailers team defeated West Oak, 12-7, in the B Division of the Dormitory league, for its second straight win. Most of the fellows on the Trailers team belong to fraternities, but decided to form an independent outfit for the outdoor softball season.

In the A Division, East Oak reached the finals by dropping barracks 12-15, 15-11. Other scores: Sigma Nu 4, Phi Eta Kappa 2; Center Oak 13, #11-13 12.

Netmen Lose To Bowdoin 7-2 Dropping State Championship

The Pale Blue tennis squad, slightly off form for the afternoon, dropped the State Title to Bowdoin on the local courts Saturday. The final score was Bowdoin 7, Maine 2.

That it was a busy afternoon is evidenced by the fact that many of the nine matches ran into three sets.

A summary of the singles matches: Roasander (B) defeated Van Peursen (M) 6-4, 1-6, 6-2; Hebb (B) defeated Southard (M) 6-4, 1-6, 6-2; Curtiss (B) defeated Hermann (M) 6-1, 6-3; Stebbins (M) lost to Emmons (B) 6-3, 6-8, 6-3; Thoit (M) defeated Cole (B) 6-1, 6-1; Harvey (M) defeated Rockwell (B) 6-4, 6-4.

Doubles: Roasander and Hebb (B)

Coach Charlie Emery's golf squad surged ahead to down Colby for a second time, 9-0. The event took place at the Penobscot Valley Country Club last Saturday.

The results for this match are as follows: McNabb (M) defeated Blake (C) 4-3, Bickford (M) defeated Lindquist (C) 6-5. McNabb and Bickford won best ball, 7-5.

After the match, Coach Emery announced that four men would go to Augusta for the State Tourney on Monday. The four men were: Eugene McNabb, Wendell Wilson, Warren Wilson, and Phil Bickford. This was the event where Ray Lebel of Bowdoin came out the number one college golfer of the state.

Maine Girls Take Honors At Colby

Barbara Tibbetts and Betty Friedler walked off with archery and softball honors respectively at a recent Play Day celebration at Colby College.

Thirteen girls represented the University at Waterville.

Those taking part were Jean Lynaugh, Mary Batchelder, Barbara Tibbetts, Morna Kimball, Barbara Gammell, Polly True, Sue Dartnell, Shirley Jackson, Betty Friedler, Betty Flynn, Caroline Strong, Helen Wallingford, and Muriel Kenderdine.

defeated Van Peursen and Southard (M) 2-6, 7-5, 6-1; Curtiss and Emmons (B) defeated Stebbins and Hermann (M) 6-4, 10-8; Rockwell and Cole (B) defeated Batherson and Leach (M) 7-5, 6-4.

On Memorial Day, the team will journey to Boston to engage in a match with Boston University.

Clem Vose Garner's Local Bowling Crown

Clem Vose, Delta Tau Delta, emerged as champion of the duckpins at the bowling alleys in Orono Monday night when he defeated Harry Woodhead, Phi Eta, by a score of 1018-900 in a ten-string match.

Vose had been given little chance in the preliminary rounds of the tournament, but coasted easily to victory. Sam Ames, proprietor of the Orono lanes, presented him with a trophy at the end of the match.

Vose's scores for ten-strings were: 110, 104, 82, 98, 92, 127, 107, 85, 91, 120—total 1018.

Woodhead's scores were: 106, 81, 97, 97, 101, 85, 80, 90, 90, 73—total 900.

REMEMBER—$5 sends food to one student for three weeks!

Bear Tracksters In Easy Win Over Northeastern And Bates

BY LEN PLAVIN

The University of Maine's track team easily swept to its third straight victory by defeating Bates and Northeastern at Lewiston last Saturday. The Pale Blue amassed 73 points to 43½ for Northeastern and 18½ for Bates.

The best race of the afternoon was the mile run which saw Folsom beaten, which is a rarity. The mile was won by Kenyon of Northeastern in 4:31.6. Folsom has run faster than this, but had to be satisfied with a second against the fast Northeastern runner. Maine also got third in this event "Red" Leclair and Blaine Beal gave

UConn Hurlers Hand Pale Blue Double Defeat

BY LEN HARLOW

The University of Connecticut baseballers, capitalizing on fine hurling, swept both ends of a doubleheader from the University of Maine here last Saturday.

Behind the two hit pitching of Bill Loos, the Uconns edged the Bears, 4-2, in the opener. Will Braley and Red Norwood limited the visitors to only five hits, but Connecticut's big three-run fifth inning sewed up the contest. The only men on the Maine roster who could touch Loos, an 18-year-old freshman, were Everett Beals and Joe Coombs. Beals collected one hit in one official trip to the plate and Coombs gathered one hit in three appearances.

Centerfielder Joe Coombs of Maine came up with the fielding gem of the day when he caught Ed Tracewski's fly in the fifth inning of the first game and threw out Ray Legenza, who attempted to score from third after the catch. Will Braley was charged with the defeat.

The second game was lost, from the Maine standpoint, after the very first inning. In this frame Connecticut led off with a walk, a double, and two singles to drive starter Charlie Wilcox from the mound. The carnage continued against Red Norwood until eight big runs had been pushed across the plate. The final score was 9-3 in favor of Connecticut.

Ed Nogas of Connecticut pitched four hit ball for the winners and was never in much trouble. Nogas, second ranking pitcher for the Uconns, also is handicapped with an artificial leg. Bill Loos of Connecticut moved to the outfield in this game and collected four for four. Both games went seven innings.

JV Golfers Win, Challenge Varsity

The Junior Varsity golf squad, victorious in its first match, has issued a challenge to the Varsity team for a meet this Saturday afternoon at 1:30 at the Penobscot Valley Country Club. The Jayvees defeated the Annex Monday, 6½ to 2½.

The results of the matches, played on a wet but otherwise very good course with excellent green conditions, were: J. R. Clark (M) lost to Andrew Bunker (A), 4 and 3; O. B. McKellar (M) defeated Harold Peasley (A), 5 and 4; Clark and McKellar won the best ball in that match, 3 and 2. Joe Hammond (M) halved with Joe Widdoes (A); Jim Firmin (M) defeated Tom Whitehead (A), 9 and 7. Hammond and Firmin won the best ball of that match 5 and 4. Ralph Stoughton (M) defeated Jack Stoughton (A) 5 and 4; R. E. Tagdigian (M) lost to Harold Beattie (A), 3 and 1. R. Stoughton and Tagdigian won the best ball of that match 3 and 2.

Doten Reports To Committee Regarding Dining Room Costs

The following is an excerpt from a report on the Field House Dining Hall. It was compiled by Mr. Doten, Business Manager, and presented to the Committee of Food Investigation, appointed by the Men's Senate as the result of a petition. The report is as follows:

Dining Hall Costs

Percentages are based on total income

Item	All dining halls 1939-40	Field House dining hall to 3-31-47
Salaries and wages	25.52	24.21
Supplies and equipment	3.31	4.97
Maintenance and repairs	3.13	1.85 ¹
Food	54.65	53.42
Other expenses ²	6.75	7.59
Excess of income over expenditures	6.64	7.96 ³
	100.00	100.00

¹ This item will probably be higher after the first year of operation.

² Includes pro rata share of administration by office of Dormitory Manager. No costs of other administrative offices such as Business Office, Treasury Department, etc., are included.

³ No allowance is made for amortization of activation expense or for other unforeseen contingencies. Any such allowances must be taken from the excess of income over expenditures.

The cost of food for the Field House Dining Room is below the budgeted amount of 56 cents and it is believed that, since food prices have become more stable and in a few cases have been lowered, a better menu can be provided for the remainder of the school year.

Dormitories and dining halls are operated by the University. No company or individual receives any profit from the operation. Any excess of income over expenditures is expended within the dormitory system. No money paid into the dormitory system by the students has ever been used in any other college activity.

In the opinion of the committee, the administration is doing everything possible to alleviate this situation. If any additional information is desired, please see any committee member.

Respectfully submitted,

Annex Fund Drive Tops Results Here In First Five Days

After only five days of campaigning, team captains of the Union Building Fund drive at The Brunswick Annex announce that 631 students have subscribed $18,513, or 88 percent of the $21,000 goal.

Chairman William Hopkins stated that the campaign would be continued until each of the 754 students at the Annex had been seen and given an opportunity to either subscribe or increase his original subscription.

The attainment of 88 percent of quota solely on individual subscriptions exceeds the mark of 81 percent made by the Orono students. Three teams had either secured or exceeded their quotas of $30 per student.

The campaign opened with a "kick off" meeting on May 4. In addition to Bill Hopkins, the following students were committee chairmen: Robert Anderson, organization; Mark Shedd, preliminary gifts; and George Bragdon, publicity. Charles Beattie and Richard Small served as members of the campaign executive committee.

Two Students Will Serve As Trainee Town Managers

In the first application of a new department policy, Edward F. Dow, professor of history and government, announces that Merle F. Goff and Thomas M. Libby, both majors in public management, will start on June 16 as assistants in the offices of the city managers of Portland and Bangor respectively.

Goff will work under the supervision of city manager Lyman S. Moore of Portland, and will analyze purchasing requirements for the city. He will work with city purchasing agent Lester Wallace on this project, which will indicate price trends, the extent of competitive bidding, and similar matters.

Goff will spend half of his time on this project and half on other assigned work, and will return to the University in the fall to complete requirements for his degree.

Thomas Libby will work on a purchasing study with Horace Estey, city manager of Bangor. He will also partake in a special project dealing with city finance.

This policy of placing public management students where they will receive valuable "on-the-job" training is a departure from the usual academic fare, and if successful, will be continued in later years.

MOC Plans Trip To East Eddington

A camping trip to Camp Baldy at Chemo Pond in East Eddington will constitute the final MOC outing of the year, to take place the week end of May 25-26. There will be available all camp facilities including canoes, diving raft, dining hall, and the main lodge. Leisure time will be spent canoeing, fishing, hiking, and swimming, and Saturday night there will be an old-fashioned square dance in the main lodge. There are inside sleeping quarters as well as lean-tos.

The total cost of the trip will be $3.00. Sign up by placing your name and $1.50 in an envelope in the MOC mailbox in the Bookstore by Friday at 5 o'clock. The bus will leave the Administration building at 1:30 Saturday.
