Maine Set For Big Football Week-end

Over 1,000 Sign For Insurance

Enrollment Date Extended To Oct. 7

The Treasurer's office has announced that more than 1,000 students have taken advantage of the new system of health insurance instituted by the University this Fall.

A large number of students are still signing up for the policy and the deadline for obtaining the insurance has been extended to Oct. 7. This is for the benefit of those who did not sign up during the registration period. Those interested are urged to see Irving Pierce, University accountant.

Eight-Month Task

The new plan, known officially as the Students' Accident and Sickness Reimbursement Insurance, had been under consideration for some time. It was announced to the student body late in the summer after eight months of work by the General Student Senate, students, and faculty members.

After numerous suggestions from the student body, the General Senate on Dec. 7, 1948, voted to establish some form of health and accident protection for students.

Committee Formed

The matter was referred to President Arthur A. Hauck and, upon his approval, a committee was formed to investigate the various plans of insurance available and to select the one which best suited the needs and pocket-books of the student body.

Student members of the committee were Shirley Johnson, Janice Crane, Charles Preble, and James McBrady. The faculty was represented by Dean Edith G. Wilson, Dean Elton E. Wieman and Mr. Charles E. Crossland.

The committee considered the offers of many insurance agencies and the final choice was the offer of the National Student Health Insurance Company.

Double Dedication At Homecoming

Homecoming Day for alumni this year, Nov. 5, will be marked by the dedication of the University's new plant science building and new engineering building.

President Arthur A. Hauck has announced that a two-day program is being arranged.

"Maine Resources and their Development" will be the topic of a general meeting and panel discussions on Nov. 4. The University agricultural and industrial advisory councils will hold sessions at that time.

The two new buildings, which have been under construction for the last fifteen months, will be dedicated Saturday morning, Nov. 5.

The homecoming football game with Bowdoin will be played in the afternoon on Alumni Field.

Now operating on a full-time basis, the store has been serving students, faculty and administration for ten years.

Student Union To Be Discussed This Saturday

Representatives of the Union Building Fund and the General Alumni Association and members of the University Trustees Executive Committee will meet Oct. 1 to discuss location and starting time of construction of the proposed Student Union.

At a meeting last June, the General Alumni Association voted down the proposed site between Fernald Hall and the highway since it is one of the most beautiful areas on the campus. But the alumni vote also requested that the Trustees and the Building Fund Committee meet to study the question further.

Raymond H. Fogler, Chairman of the Union Building Fund Committee, expressed hope last June at the Alumni Banquet that it would be possible to start building early in 1950.

Any decisions reached on these and other matters at the October meeting will be presented to the Union Building Fund Committee.

Dispensary Is Located At Rear Of Fernald Hall

"Is this the dispensary?"

This question is asked members of the Maine Campus approximately twenty-five times a day by students who are looking for the University Health Service.

The answer, of course, is no.

The University Health Service is on the second floor rear of Fernald Hall, and is accessible only through the door at the rear of the building.

Produce Store Now Operates On Full-Time

Once again fresh farm produce is on sale at the campus horticultural store, in the rear section of the new poultry building.

Guided by Professors John Smyth and James Waring, the store deals solely with the produce of the Dairy, Poultry, and Horticulture departments.

Nearly ten years old the store was operated on a part time basis in the past. This year, however, the need was felt for a full-time sales day, and Mrs. Dorothy Young, a former employee, was placed in charge.

Among the goods sold are apples, eggs, milk, and many varieties of vegetables.

Rushing Rules Of Fraternities Are Announced

The Interfraternity Council has announced its fraternity rushing procedure for the coming year.

All upperclassmen except special transfer, and two-year Agriculture students, are eligible for rushing at any time. Freshmen are eligible for rushing on an informal basis from now until Christmas vacation. Starting Feb. 16, concentrated rushing of frosh will continue for two weeks, and at the end of this period pledging will take place.

Pledging for upperclassmen will take place Oct. 3-13 inclusive, and on Oct. 15-16 the new members will move into their houses. Students may be pledged as non-resident members in order to fill each fraternity's quotas.

Leadership Conference Planned Here For Saturday, October 8

In an effort to promote effective leadership among women students in campus organizations, plans are rapidly being completed for a Leadership Conference to be held October 8 on campus.

Under the direction of representatives from WSGA, MCA, General Senate, and Women's Forum, with Grace Murray as chairman, a program of seminars have been set up for discussion of problems that officers of organizations frequently face.

The program will begin with a luncheon to be served in Balentine Hall at which Mrs. Carol Butler, prominent Bangor clubwoman, will speak on Effective Leadership. During the afternoon members of the faculty will lead seminars on the duties of various officers, on spreading leadership, and on publicity.

All women students are urged to attend these sessions. Students interested are asked to contact Margaret Mollison, Colvin Hall, or Grace Murray, East Hall, before Oct. 4.

Campus Rally Will Precede Grid Battle

Torchlight Parade To Open Activities

By DON KING

"Beat Springfield" will be the cry this Friday and Saturday as the University enjoys its first big week end of the 1949-50 school year.

Highlighted by the first home game with Springfield College, the festivities will include a torchlight parade, a rally in Memorial Gym, the appearance of Mayor "Tiny" Fletcher, the marching of the band resplendent with uniforms and majorettes, and two dances in Memorial Gym.

Parade Begins at 6:30

A torchlight parade led by the uniformed band will start off the pre-game activities at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow evening. New Dorm #3 is the starting point for the parade, which will serpentine through the campus to the Memorial Gym. The band will be followed by forces from the various girls' dormitories.

At the Memorial Gym the first rally of the year will feature Mayor "Tiny" Fletcher, the enlarged band, cheerleaders, and Dave Nelson and the Maine team.

Following the Rally, OCUMMO will sponsor a stag dance in the gym until 11:30 p.m. with music by the Maine Bears. Admission is 50 cents per person. Football players will be admitted free.

Bears Meet Springfield

Saturday afternoon at 1:30 Maine students will get their first look at the Bears both in their new uniforms and in the single-wing formation. Both teams were successful last Saturday. Maine stopped Rhode Island State 19-7, and Springfield rolling over Cortland State Teachers college 30-0.

A stag dance sponsored by the Graduate Students will wind up the activities Saturday night in the Memorial Gym. Dancing will be from 8 to 11:30 p.m.

Various fraternities will hold buffet suppers and dances Saturday night.

Students Invited To Masque Meeting

The Maine Masque, one of the oldest university theatre organizations in the country, will hold a general meeting, open to all students, Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 6:45 p.m. in the Little Theatre.

The purpose will be to stimulate student interest in the Masque and to include all non-members in its program.

Refreshments will be served and the guests will be given a tour about the theatre and introduced to its activities. The Masque extends a cordial invitation to all students interested, including Freshmen.

Students' Vacation Jobs Range From Sailing To Selling Hot Dogs

Jobs were not very plentiful last summer but the majority of Maine students was able to find one or at least some way of making money.

For the most part students took jobs in industrial mills, stores, sporting camps, hotels, or restaurants. But there were those who had the luck to find different jobs.

One of our interviewees drove a taxi all summer and stashed away more than $500. Another worked as a blueberry inspector. Some of the Aggie students went to work on farms and as usual there were quite a few who went into the travelling salesman's trade for the hot months.

Some of the Naval Reservists went cruising to occupy their time and save a little money. But one of them, David McClure, a Senior from Bangor, got a little more than he bargained for when his ship, the U.S.S. Livermore, ran aground on Cape Cod. McClure was stranded right there for a couple of weeks.

Some of the students had to call upon their ingenuity when they found that work was scarce. Using his skill at carpentry, one of them built bookcases, cabinets, and drawers during the summer and sold them to his neighbors. Others sold produce from their gardens or established hot dog and hamburger concessions at strategic places.

Journalists To Confer

The Maine Campus will be represented at the Maine College Newspaper Conference to be held Friday and Saturday, Oct. 21-22, at Colby college. James D. Ewing, co-publisher of the Bangor Daily Commercial, will speak at the conference, Colby has announced.

Dr. Percy A. Leddy Is First Full-Time Physician And Health Service Director In Maine's History

This year, for the first time in its history, the University of Maine has a full time doctor in the person of Dr. Percy A. Leddy, a former Maine man. He has been designated as University physician and director of the University Health Service.

President Arthur A. Hauck said that this milestone in Maine's history was brought about by a long-standing need for a full-time doctor and the urgency of this year's record enrollment.

Dr. Leddy succeeds Dr. Byron V. Whitney, who resigned to devote full time to his private practice. His office is in Fernald Hall with the University Health Service.

Leddy was born in Calais, attended the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, the University of Maine, and was graduated from the Harvard Medical School in 1924 with an M.D. degree. He worked in psychiatry at the Massachusetts General Hospital and in internal medicine at the Boston City Hospital.

Dr. Percy A. Leddy

From 1927-28 he was an associate in medicine at Harvard and an instructor in medicine at Yale Medical School from 1928-47.

He served in several capacities at Yale and ended up as an associate professor and physician-in-chief at the Yale infirmary.

During 1948-49 he was associate physician at the University of Connecticut.

Dr. Leddy has also served on the staff at the Bar Harbor Hospital during the summer months since 1928.

He has done research work in various fields, including the social incidence of rheumatic fever, effect of high protein diets on animals and humans, and studies on pulmonary tuberculosis.

Poet Entries Due Nov. 5

The National Poetry Association has announced that all manuscripts for its Annual Anthology of College Poetry must be in by Nov. 5, 1949.

Rules may be obtained from the National Poetry Association, 3210 Selby Avenue, Los Angeles 34, California.

Three Bowdoin Plan Students Enjoy New Life

By STEVE RILEY

The German instructor that has Arthur Schoedel in his class this fall will have to be right on his toes.

For Art has just arrived from Germany to study history and English and he plans to minor in German just as he did at the University of Munich where he matriculated last year.

Art came to Maine under the Bowdoin plan along with Hans Baer, also a German, and Steffen Middleboe, a Danish student. The Bowdoin plan provides for a fraternity to furnish board and room to a foreign student and the University of pay his tuition. The War Department provides transportation and $15 monthly as spending money. Sigma Nu, Lambda Chi, and Phi Mu are the frats sponsoring these first three arrivals.

Perhaps it's because the boys lived with the football team for a week before they moved to the frat houses, but Art says his chief ambition, outside of his studies, is to watch a good football game. He describes the game as being "really American" and is anxiously awaiting a week from Saturday when Springfield invades Orono to tangle with the Bears.

Back home the boys had varying backgrounds, but all three have had some college training. Art studied in Munich, Hans went to a tech school in Karlsruhe, and Steffen, who will take pre-med here, attended the University of Copenhagen. They agree that the American idea of college takes in more than the European. At their old schools there was nothing resembling the campus life to be found here. As Art put it: "We went to the University to study and that was all. There was no campus such as you have and there were no sports activities connected with the school."

During most of the war years the boys were too young to take an active part, but Art was drafted into the army when he was sixteen and spent a month on active duty in Czechoslovakia before he fell sick and entered a hospital in Austria just in time to escape the onrushing Russians. He's twenty now and his home town is a little village just outside of Hof in Bavaria.

Hans, also twenty, comes from Ettlingen and is the son of the manager of a foodstuffs plant there. After his high school was ruined in an air raid he worked in his father's factory as a chemist.

Steffen was only ten when his country was overrun and was too young to work with the underground movement. He came to this country last spring and attended the summer session at Yale before coming to Maine.

The boys can only stay one year, but they say if what is to come measures up to what they've seen already, it will certainly be one of the best years of their lives.

Library Will Remain Open During Football Games

The University Library will remain open during football games this year, a reversal of the policy followed during the past, according to a Library official.

The following schedule for library hours has been announced:

Monday-Friday 7:30 a.m.-10 p.m.

Saturday 7:30 a.m.- 5 p.m.

Sunday 1:30 p.m.-10 p.m.

During vacations, the library will close at 5 p.m. on the day that the vacation commences.

Anyone May Join Large Chapel Choir

James G. Selwood, director of the choir and glee club, has announced that the chapel choir is open to any student who wishes to participate. The choir rehearses Sunday mornings at 9:30 in the Little Theatre.

The glee club now has 125 members as a result of recent auditions

Two New Rooms At Library Give Students Better Facilities

Construction work now in progress on the main floor of the Library building will result in a badly needed addition to the existing study space there for students and faculty.

According to Louis I. Ibbotson, University Librarian, a new reading room on the north side of the building will provide seats for 135 students, an increase of 35% over the present total capacity of the reference and reserve reading rooms.

Reading Room Added

Another welcome supplement to existing library facilities will be the John P. Bass Room for recreational reading, which will occupy the northwest corner of the same floor.

Work on the two rooms is progressing satisfactorily, Mr. Ibbotson reports. It is unlikely, however, that they will be completed before the end of the Christmas recess.

The new reading room, according to plans, will contain magazines and reference books in the field of social sciences and the humanities, in addition to general reference material. The present reading room on the east side of the building will offer books and periodicals dealing with agriculture, science, and technology.

The John P. Bass Room is intended for relaxation rather than study, and will therefore be supplied only with newspapers and general magazines for light reading. Low bookcases will project from the walls to form alcoves. There will be comfortable chairs, small tables and soft lights, and smoking will be permitted.

Jerry Haynes Elected New Band President

The Varsity Band has elected Jerry Haynes as President for the coming year.

Other band officers are: Rosemary White, secretary-treasurer; Steve Hopkinson, manager; Jack Farrar property custodian; William Bodwell, student director; Harold Harmon, drum major; Gene Hart, head librarian; Janice Cogswell and Philip Ames, librarians.

Colleges Must Be Free

The last four years have seen a rise in the numbers obtaining higher education that is unrivalled to date. One major cause of this is the tremendous number of veterans utilizing the G.I. Bill, but with the nation-wide enrollment of non-veterans on the upswing it seems fairly certain that the years to come will continue to see more young people attending college than ever before.

It is needless to say that this is a healthy condition, for attendant with the rise of education in past years has been the rise of living conditions in general, the exposure of various prejudices, and the improvement of conditions in such fields as medicine, technology, and others.

However, also attendant with the rise of higher education has been a feeling that perhaps colleges and universities are pointing their instruction in the wrong direction. This feeling has been manifested by congressional committees that have quietly investigated colleges; their instructors, and their textbooks.

A list of textbooks has been compiled and such words as "Red" and "Leftist" have been freely used. But to this writer all this fuss seems a bit on the hysterical side. The very nature of education makes the findings of the committees a logical outcome of the system of higher education.

By the systematic examination of theory and fact, education works toward a general betterment of conditions and ideas. It is a sifting process during which existing social, economic, and political institutions are carefully scrutinized with an eye to improvement, if not complete change.

As a logical development of this, it follows that in the course of a year's study, such subjects as totalitarianism and communism are explored, their theories and practical workings brought to light, and certain conclusions drawn.

In these cases it is up to the student to draw the conclusion, regardless of what his instructor or professor may say. If he is unable to come to this conclusion by himself, then he has either failed to completely study the question, or somewhere along the line he has failed to obtain the ability to sift and juggle and form an intelligent opinion.

On the faculties of today's universities and colleges there are thousands of Democrats, Republicans, Socialists, and even perhaps a certain small number of Communists, but every young man or woman emerging from the diploma line doesn't obediently vote Democrat, Republican, Socialist, or scurry home and construct a bomb.

In the largest number of cases, aside from those who have only a bored feeling of apathy where politics are concerned, they vote the way they please, and if enough of them vote one way there is a ruling majority. That is democracy.

Further than this it seems safe to say that these people with the caps and gowns are better qualified to vote than persons who do not bother to investigate issues that concern them, but who are content to listen to the hysterical cries of those who are overly impressed by the Great Red Scare.

In this writer's opinion, democracy is perfectly capable of holding its own against other, "undesirable" forms of government, especially after it is closely compared to other existing forms.

If we are afraid it won't, then we should look to the merits of our grade and high schools instead of our colleges, for it is there that young minds should be learning to think for themselves.

Certainly the inquisitive hands of government should be kept from the throats of free schools, for if they are not, this precious democracy, of which we are all so proud, will have its first failing.

PETTICOAT ANGLES

BY MARILYN WYMAN

Tucked away in the corner of my mailbox the other day I found some mail which had been delivered to the dorm last June.

Finding that I had left for the summer, some kind soul stored the collection until such time as yours truly should return to this campus. As it happened, the mail was relatively unimportant, and since I did return from vacation wanderings, I did receive the belated missives.

The question did arise as to whether this was an isolated case or whether other students had been treated equally as well.

There is plenty of reason to believe that other part-time citizens of the University were likewise inconvenienced.

As the pot continues to boil, it seems as though systems as complicated as the University of Maine and the United States Government would have some provision for the handling of such important matter as mail.

Would it really be asking too much of the Orono post office staff to handle with care what little mail does arrive for students during vacations? After all, the University mail is most of their job and the reason for the size post office that Orono has.

Now that that gripe has been expressed with hope (but I must confess, doubt) for results, this columnist takes an opportunity to welcome back the familiar faces and greet the new ones that have invaded our grounds. A new year is with us.

According To St. James

BY DICK ST. JAMES

One of my standing pet peeves in college has always been that bane of faculty and students alike, the classroom spokesman or, if you will, the classroom bull artist. There's one in every class and he's always one too many.

This particular pest usually falls into one of three categories, namely, the repeater, the one-jump-ahead-of-the-instructor type, and the fountain of obscure details.

Number one, the repeater, is just about 100% showoff. He either loves to hear himself talk or is trying to impress someone in the class. Suppose he is in a literature class and the instructor says, "Bret Harte was one of the leading figures of the local color school in American literature." Immediately the repeater's hand goes up and he says, "Do you mean that Bret Harte was one of the leading figures of the local color school in American literature?" He does this anywhere from one to five times during the class just to keep himself in the limelight.

Number two, the one-jump-ahead-of-the-instructor type, is also a show-off but is actually more intelligent than number one. He's always trying to steal the instructor's thunder by taking over the lecture. For instance, in American history class the instructor may be talking about Teddy Roosevelt's election to the vice-presidency.

Up goes our boy's hand and he says, "Roosevelt became president later when McKinley died, didn't he? Yeh, the old trust buster, blah, blah—." So the instructor has to listen to that for awhile and then try to remember where he was before the interruption.

Number three, the fountain of obscure details, mouths off at every opening and is part showoff and part fiend for details. In the same history class as above the instructor says that George Washington was elected the first constitutional president of the United States. Our boy comes forth with, "He's the one who chopped down the cherry tree, isn't he?" Teachers just love that.

But no matter which category he falls into, the classroom spokesman is either just showing off or trying to sidetrack the lecture. He's wasting your time and the instructor's time. And he's making a fool of himself.

So, scholars, take stock of yourself, and if the shoe fits, try to grow out of it. If you've got something important to say in class, say it. Otherwise, keep it under your beanie. Don't be a classroom bull artist.

Home Ec Clubs To Hold Workshop Convention

Dr. Katherine Miles, state advisor for the Home Economics Clubs, has announced that a workshop convention, for delegates from 18 New England colleges, will be held at Camp Alamoosook, East Orland, the week end of Oct. 7-9.

The three State Home Economics clubs—Nasson, Farmington, and the University of Maine—will play hostess to the out-of-state clubs.

Dr. Miles and Miss Esther Martin, both of the University of Maine's Home Economics Department, are advisors for the Workshop.

Mail Bag

Conners Concedes

To the Editor: Since the appearance of my first, and I hope the last, column last week, more people have taken the opportunity to hop all over me! It seems that I wrote about the last year Freshman rules, and not the more enlightened rules of this year.

My apologies to everyone, and especially to the Freshmen. You can talk to girls, you can smoke, the Owls aren't so bad after all.

My only excuse, if one can be accepted, is that we turned out the Campus in an awful rush, and it was nearly impossible to check on everything. I am sincerely sorry that I should add to the confusion.

JOHN CONNERS

Library Manners

To the Editor: As a student in feeble search of an education, I'd like to voice my protests against one of the biggest fraternities on this campus... namely, the social gathering that occurs almost constantly in the reserve rooms of the library. It appears that the number of students who use the library facilities for studying is decreasing, probably because they are being driven away by the chatter and social discourse.

Anyone who stops to think for a moment will agree that it is more than annoying to try to concentrate on 400 pages or so of outside reading when two girls are discussing last week end or a couple of guys are dissecting the football team directly across the table.

Anyone who wishes to get to the second floor of the library from the front doors had better be a contortionist or gymnastic enthusiast in order to climb over, leap, or otherwise get past the gathering of loungers on the front stairs.

We have all complained long and loud that the library "doesn't have enough reference books." A very real problem that stands out all too obviously, however, is the "library manners" of too many Maine students. What are we going to do about it?

LONG-SUFFERING

Bookstore Bottleneck

To the Editor: Here's my suggestion for breaking the Bookstore bottleneck that is such a nightmare for all of us at the beginning of every semester:

Have a form printed for freshmen on which they could list the books required for their courses, from a list similar to that prepared for veterans.

Have freshmen and veterans deposit their lists with the Registrar and Veterans' Office respectively, who would then send the lists to the Bookstore.

The Bookstore could then prepare the texts each student would require, in individual packages which would then be transferred to the Women's Gym (or some other suitable place) ready to be picked up by the students concerned perhaps a week after the last day of registration.

The Women's Gym is large enough to accommodate plenty of clerks, and the book packages could be piled in alphabetical groups so that there would be little standing in line and practically no confusion. And the average waiting time at the Bookstore would be more than cut in half.

I think everybody agrees that something should be done, and that now isn't too early to start. How about it?

Cheerleader Trials For Men Tonight

Tryouts to select three or four male cheerleaders will be held tonight in the Memorial Gym.

Most of the cheerleaders were selected last spring and because of the large number of girls, alternate teams will be chosen.

Audio-Visual Service Now In New Quarters

The University Audio Visual Service, under supervision of a new director, Prof. Robert E. Schreiber, this week resumed operations in new quarters in the basement of South Stevens Hall.

Assisting Prof. Schreiber in the visual service are Mrs. Evelyn Piscopo, Herbert Merrill, Phillip Tribou, Herbert Ingraham, and Frank Kittredge.

Study Underway To Use Air Photos In Forestry

A forest research program, due to be completed next spring, is being conducted by Dr. Harold E. Young, assistant professor of forestry, to determine the best type of film and the most practical scale to be used in aerial photography for forest studies.

The Eastman Kodak Company has supplied the University with infra-red film for the experimental work. Joseph Sewell, of the James W. Sewell Company, is providing the flying service and the processing of the film.

tional Casualty Company of Detroit, Michigan, represented by the John C. Paige Company of Portland and Boston.

This choice was recommended to the Board of Trustees and upon their approval, was presented to the students.

Although the actual percentage of subscribers is less than a majority, it is realized that many of the students already hold personal insurance of a similar type.

Fits University Needs

In accepting the offer of the National Casualty Company, the student-faculty committee made certain that the coverage was arranged specifically to meet the needs of the University of Maine, including low cost and good service. The cost is $8.75 per year.

This insurance takes over where the University Health Service leaves off, providing care in the event of long illness, surgery, or hospital care.

The Health Service will continue in its usual capacity.

Changes Occur In Dietary Staff

Three changes in the staff of dietitians in University dormitories have been announced by William C. Wells, manager of dormitories.

Miss Marion Wells, formerly at Estabrooke, has gone to Syracuse University. Her position has been filled by Miss Joan A. French of Newton Highlands, Mass.

Mrs. Mary Flynn, who was at Balentine last year, has resigned. She has been replaced by Miss M. Lorraine Dumont of Lewiston.

Mrs. Laura Hutchins has resigned. Her position at the Field House will be filled by Mrs. Margaret Watson of Orono.

University Society

By MARILYN HOYT

With only one week of school chalked up, the fraternities have already thrown out the welcome mats, opened their doors, greeted the new semester with renewed gusto, and made plans for the coming year.

Along with the frats, we find the sororities, clubs, and different social organizations busily making plans for a more than overflowing program of fun and entertainment.

A prize goes to Beta, who started the ball rolling with the first party of the year by holding an informal vic dance last Friday night.

Theta Chi wants to extend a cordial invitation to all freshmen to its informal fall semester party this Saturday, 8:30 to 11:30. Don't miss it, freshmen! Theta Chi is well-known for good parties.

So many names of those pinned, engaged, and married have been piling into the office since the last issue of the Campus that I'm almost tempted to take the student list and write down everybody's name. Of course, most of the freshman men would be safe, for they aren't allowed to speak to the women, as yet.

Pinned: Carline Richards to Don Smaha, Kappa Sig; Ruth Small to Earl Ramsay, Theta Chi; Loretta White to Ed Thomas, Sigma Nu; Marie Deane to James Ashby, Alpha Gam; Kay Rogers to Arthur Elian, Sigma Chi; Jerry Brown to Boyd Fuller, Sigma Chi; Eleanor Cross to Don McGlauffin, Sigma Chi.

Engaged: Gerri Moulton to Dan Brady; Lorraine Stratton to Carl Estes; Lois Coffin to Al Bull; Millie Kagan to Sheldon Sokol; Jan Seales to Dave Cates; Jean Polleys to Merle Finley; Nancy Dinsmore to Jerry Mudge.

Married: Francis Cummings to Jerry Partridge; Mary Robertson to Gil Leclair; Elaine Perkins to John Fogler; Emily Ochmanski to John Quinn; Avis Palmer to Jerry Haynes; Ruth Quigley to Bernie Austin; Phyllis Webber to Marty Dow; Marilyn Mills to Roland MacLeod; Bobby London to Paul White; Judy Black to Ken Marden; Barbara Mills to Bob Brown; Doris Paquin to Harry Brennan; Ruth Judkins to Edgar Bailey; June Hildreth to Sam Jones; Maria Perini to Jim McNiff; Beverly Hayward to Thomas Teague.

Mademoiselle Annual Contest Now Starting

Mademoiselle magazine's annual contest for College Board members for the 1949-1950 college year is now open.

Membership in Mademoiselle's College Board is the first step in becoming one of the magazine's 20 college Guest Editors, who will go to New York next June to help write and edit the annual August College issue of the magazine.

The 20 Guest Editors are selected from the College Board on the basis of three assignments given by the magazine during the year. They are paid a regular salary for their month's work, plus round-trip transportation to New York.

Rules for entering the contest may be obtained from Campus Editor Larry Pinkham.

Marilyn Wyman, associate editor of the Campus, was chosen as a member of the College Board last year.

Have you seen the new Campus office? Drop in.

Trophy Given To University Cattle Judgers

The University cattle judging team, led by Gerald Pickard, placed second last week in the Eastern States Intercollegiate Dairy Cattle Judging Contest at Springfield, Massachusetts. Cornell received first place.

The Maine team placed first among New England colleges, thus receiving the Wirthmore Challenge Trophy.

Pickard, the individual scoring champion of the contest, had a perfect score in judging Ayrshires, and finished second in the Jersey competition.

Other members of the team were Robert Hiller and Richard Adams. Dr. Howard C. Dickey, head of the animal industry department, was coach of the team.

West Virginia and Rhode Island State placed third and fourth, respectively. Other competing teams were New Hampshire, Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, Ohio State, Rutgers, and Penn State.

WSGA Council Learns Program

At a Tuesday meeting of the Women's Student Government Association, the powers and duties of the organization were discussed to acquaint the new Council with the Association.

Among those functions discussed was the power of the Council over the conduct of all student women and the power to recommend discipline to rule-breakers.

Other subjects of discussion were the various campus activities in which the Association takes part, a University catalog article relating to the organization, and the entrance into the Intercollegiate Association of Women Students.

Activities Started By Newman Club

Rev. Fr. Francis LeTourneau spoke on the history of the Newman Club at its first meeting last Tuesday in Newman Hall. He also welcomed new and old members and announced plans for the coming year.

Officers, who were elected last spring, were introduced. They are: Pasquale Rozzi, president; Walter St. Onge, Jr., vice president; Frank J. Smith, treasurer; Frances Brochu, recording secretary; and Marilyn Raymond, corresponding secretary.

Bear Facts

By JOHN MURPHY

Here we are back again on the same old soapbox.

The object of praise is the same as that of last week—the University of Maine football team.

The boys have played only a single game and they lead the Maine colleges. We have the only undefeated college football team in the state. Bowdoin, Colby, and Bates have all gone down to defeat, the latter two without scoring a single point.

Bowdoin, with a strong backfield and perhaps a weaker line, fell before a strong Tufts club by a 27 to 13 score. Bates was trounced by Mass. State, 19 to 0, and Colby lost to American International, 6 to 0.

Still, it behooves us to warn the cheering public that tougher contests are coming up for our Bears. This Saturday's game with Springfield will be the first of these.

Springfield was undefeated last season and romped over Cortland, an unknown factor last week end. This year, the Gymnasts have another strong club and should give the Nelsonmen a tough battle.

Regardless of the outcome, I fail to see how anyone who attends practice sessions can fail to be proud of our 1949 team. They are playing a rougher, tougher brand of ball this season and, with the strong support of the student body, will make all of us proud before the season closes.

This year, Maine students can see every one of the football games. Starting tonight, movies will be shown of the games played away from home.

The Rhode Island game will be shown tonight, as another story on this page notes, and the New Hampshire, Colby, and Bates tilts will be shown later in the season.

When interviewed Monday afternoon concerning the showing of individual players against the Rams, Coach Nelson was able to say little because he had not seen the game movies.

He did, however, comment on the fine defensive play of end Alan Wing. From reports on the game, Wing separated the ball carrier from the ball on several occasions and made his end a very tough spot.

New England football stock took a severe drop over the week end when the two top-rated clubs—Harvard and Boston College—fell by the wayside with resounding thuds.

B.C. was swamped by Oklahoma, 46 to 0, and Harvard traveled 3,000 miles to absorb a 44 to 0 drubbing at the hands of Stanford University.

Among the spectators at the B.C.-Oklahoma game were members of the Maine squad. From their reports, Oklahoma deserves its high rating this year. The lighter, faster Sooners swept the Eagles off their feet.

The extra point or point after touchdown is an important factor in many football games. Such was proven last year when Maine edged Bowdoin by such a margin, 7 to 6.

The art of booting these extra points is greatly appreciated by schools in big time football. Many such teams have men whose only appearances in games are after touchdowns when their educated toes are needed.

Last week against Ohio State, the Missouri point specialist split the goal posts with four out of five tries. The only catch was that the Buckeyes made five for five and edged the boys from Truman's state by a 35 to 34 score.

Black Bears Gain Initial Success Under Nelson By Soundly Defeating Rhode Island Rams 19-7

Art Clark

Coach Dave Nelson's Black Bears opened their 1949 season last Saturday by turning in a 19 to 7 win over a big, heavy Rhode Island State squad at Kingston, R. I.

A pair of touchdowns by Reggie Lord in the second period put Maine ahead 12 to 0, and Harry Marden added the final score in the fourth period.

Rhode Island's lone tally came in the fourth quarter when Jim Martin went over the goal line.

Lord was outstanding for the Bears on offense, scoring once on a pass play and racing 26 yards for another touchdown. Marden's TD came on a ten yard run when, with his receivers covered, he elected to run.

Maine picked up 104 yards on the ground and added 120 through the air for 11 first downs. Rhode Island picked up eight first downs. They gained 63 yards on the ground and 84 in the air.

Before the game, Art Clark of Maine and Captain Sal Vento of Rhode Island were both declared ineligible. Clark, a star blocking back on several of Eck Allen's teams, is now assisting Sam Sezak with the freshman squad.

The summary:

Maine—Adams, lg; Victor, lt; Pocius, lg; Footman, c; Barron, rg; Card, rt; Largay, re; Noyes, qb; Lord, rhb; Marden, lhb; Pendleton, fb.

Rhode Island—Katzen, lg; Tinty, lt; McNulty, lg; Bernstein, c; D'Amico, rg; Orabone, rt; McComb, re; Underhill, qb; Varney, lhb; Curtis, rhb; Montecalvo, fb.

Maine scoring: Touchdowns—Lord 2, Marden. Point after touchdown—Roy (substitute for Lord), placement.

Rhode Island scoring: Touchdown—Martin (substitute for Montecalvo). Point after touchdown—Wright (substitute for Curtis), placement.

Officials: T. J. Kelley, referee; Paul Roche, umpire; M. L. Gibbons, linesman; H. L. Collins, field judge.

Jayvees To Play 4 Grid Games

Contrary to previously published reports, Maine will sponsor a Junior Varsity football schedule this year as it has in the past.

There has been a change in the status of the players, however. Every one out for football except the frosh will be assigned to the varsity, and only those who see little or no action with the first team will get a chance to play in the Jayvee games.

Coach Nelson feels that the new set-up will eliminate the barrier usually present in a varsity-jayvee system and help every man to realize that he has a chance to make the starting squad.

The Jayvee schedule includes the following four games:

Oct. 14 Maine Central Institute at Pittsfield
Oct. 21 Freshmen at Orono
Oct. 28 Maine Maritime Academy at Orono
Nov. 4 Coburn at Orono
Starting time for all games is 2 p.m.

Harriers Expect Successful Year

With six veterans back from last year's squad and a sizeable group of newcomers up from a good Annex team, Coach Chester Jenkins is predicting a good year for the current edition of Pale Blue harriers.

Last season the Bear hill-and-dalers copped state honors, and with the addition of the Annexmen plus the return of Doug Morton, a 1947 standout, Maine seems likely to repeat.

Besides the varsity squad Coach Jenkins has a host of freshmen aspirants working out daily. A nine-meet schedule has been prepared for the first-year men.

Back from last season's varsity are: Johnny Wallace, top man on the squad, and Harland Harnden, George Reed, Gene O'Brien, Dick Packard, and Clinton Tripp.

Up from the Annex are: Richard Dow, Bob Eastman, Dave Brackett, Roger Bailey, and John Bowler.

R.O.T.C. Rifle Team Calls Candidates For Next Tuesday

Anyone interested in knocking out bulls-eyes for the Varsity and ROTC Rifle Teams this year will have an opportunity to do so next week.

Upperclassmen will meet in the Armory, Tuesday, Oct. 4, at 7 p.m. Freshmen will meet Wednesday, Oct. 5, also at the Armory.

The ROTC Team had a very successful season last year, winning 37 matches and losing but 13. The team took second place in the Randolph Hearst matches and was awarded a silver plaque.

IAA To Meet Tonight

The Intramural Athletic Association will meet Thursday, Sept. 29, at 7 p.m. in the Memorial Gymnasium.

Spirit And Drive Of Coach Lude Catching On In The Maine Line

"Get vicious! Knock 'em down! Don't love 'em down!" are exclamations that can be heard over at the football field any afternoon that the Black Bears are working out.

They come from Maine's new line coach, Milo R. "Mike" Lude, as he puts his front wall boys through their paces.

The 26-year-old hustler from Kalamazoo, Michigan, has been working and drilling the Pale Blue linemen harder and longer than they have been worked and drilled in a long time, and the results are encouraging.

They seem to have contracted the extreme amount of spirit and drive that Lude has, and although there have been no complete reports on the Rhody game, they undoubtedly showed that they have absorbed much of his teaching.

Lude's home, before he moved to the South Apartments in Orono, was in Kalamazoo, although in the past several years, he spent most of his time at Hillsdale College.

In 1947, he graduated from Hillsdale where he had played football in 1941, 1942, 1943, and 1946. He was captain and an all-conference guard on the Hillsdale eleven in 1946 when he played under Dave Nelson, Maine's head coach this year.

After graduation, Lude remained at Hillsdale as assistant football coach and head baseball coach, working under football coaches Nelson in 1947 and Jim Holgate from the University of Michigan in 1948.

He established a good baseball record there by winning 30 games, losing 7, and winning the conference championship both years.

Lude has been named as baseball coach here for next spring.

Concerning his opinion of Maine, the diminutive Lude said, "I like the state of Maine very much, and I especially like the University. I don't think the boys I've worked with are any better than others I've contacted, but I think they're every bit as good."

He declined comment on the power of the Pale Blue squad, but he did praise the spirit and willingness to work of the boys.

Maine To Face Hard Test With Bay State Team

The University of Maine football squad went through two hard and lengthy scrimmages Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons in preparation for their home opener Saturday afternoon against a strong Springfield College eleven.

Coach Dave Nelson hopes to iron out many of the rough spots that his team showed last Saturday while downing Rhode Island State, 19 to 7. Beats Cortland 33-0

Springfield opened its 1949 season by trouncing Cortland by a 33 to 0 score.

Last year, the undefeated Gymnasts fielded one of the more powerful small college teams in the East. They rode roughshod over two Maine opponents—Springfield and New Hampshire. Rhode Island turned in a minor upset by tying Springfield at the end of the season.

Monday, Nelson put the Bears through a long drill on Springfield plays although there was no actual scrimmage.

The lineup for the Springfield tilt will probably be much the same as that which started against Rhode Island. The team came out of the Rhody encounter without any serious injuries.

Card on Injured List

Moose Card, who saw very little action last week because of a pulled rib muscle, may be of little use, however. Dave Cates on the offense and

Movies of the Maine-Rhode Island game played last Saturday at Kingston, R. I., will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 29, in the Louis Oakes Room in the Library.

According to line coach Mike Lude, who made the announcement, students, faculty, and University employees will be admitted.

Jim McBrady on the defense may handle Card's position if the injury continues to hamper him.

The backfield will probably include Butch Noyes of the long punts at quarterback, Harry Marden at tailback, Reggie Lord at wingback, and Gordon Pendleton at fullback.

Captain Don Barron, who played nearly all of the Rhody game, will be at his regular guard post and sophomore Pete Pocius will be at the other guard.

Victor at Tackle

Milton Victor, who set up one Maine score with a fumble recovery, will be at tackle with Card, Cates or McBrady possibilities on the other side of the line.

The end positions will probably be divided among the four men who saw most of the action at Kingston. They are Al Wing, Dick Largay, Randy Adams, and George Blaisdell.

Frosh Prep For Hebron

Coach Sam Sezak's freshman football squad, strengthened by several late-reporting candidates, is rapidly shaping up for its opening game against Hebron Academy Oct. 15.

Although class schedules have hampered the workouts to some extent, Sezak expects to have a well balanced team with a heavy line and a fast backfield.

Maine Students Eligible For '50 Rhodes Awards

Maine students are eligible to compete for Rhodes scholarships for entrance into the University of Oxford in October, 1950.

To be eligible for the scholarship, a candidate must (1) be a male citizen of the United States and unmarried; (2) be between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five on October 1, 1950; and (3) have completed at least his Sophomore year by the time of application.

Information and application forms may be obtained from Professor Reynolds, 245 Stevens Hall.

James Firmin, '49, was a candidate from the University last year and, although he was not awarded a scholarship, he made an excellent impression on the State Committee, according to Professor Reynolds.

Campus Now Boasts Largest Enrollment

Final figures compiled by the Registrar's office show 4,308 students at the University of Maine. This is the largest number of students ever assembled on the campus.

Howard A. Keyo, publicity director, reports that more than 88% of all students are from the state. The remaining group represents 20 states and nine foreign countries.

The total enrollment includes 106 graduate students, 1,418 seniors, 995 juniors, 848 sophomores, 805 freshmen, 47 two-year agriculture students, 35 special students, and 54 student nurses.

All Junior Prism Photos Are Due Soon

Students who have not already made their appointments for 1951 Prism portraits are urged to do so immediately. This can be done by contacting the Prism office in the MCA building.

The deadline for all appointments is Thursday, Oct. 20. Those who cannot meet scheduled appointments are asked to notify the Prism office by phone or mail. The charge for sittings is $1.50, payable in advance.

1950 Prism Progressing

The 1950 Prism staff reported this week that progress is now being made in completing the delayed edition of the yearbook. Staff members said that students might expect to receive their copies sometime in November.

Book Sales At AVC Book Mart Exceed $800; Books Needed

The Book Mart, a non-profit organization which acts as an agent in reselling used books to students, has done approximately $800 worth of business this semester.

Lionel LaFrance, a senior Mechanical Engineer, announced that about $600 of this money will be distributed to students on Monday, Oct. 3.

Prices of the books are usually 75% of the original selling price. Of this the original owner claims 65%.

English, Forestry, Engineering, and Home Economics books are still needed by the Mart which is located in the MCA Building.

1949 Job Prospects Still Steady Says Placement Director

The availability of jobs for members of the Class of 1950, the largest graduating class in the history of the University, will be about the same as last year, according to Philip J. Brockway, Director of the Student Aid and Placement Bureau.

From the 1949 class, 60% of the students that applied to the Placement Bureau received employment.

Those students who did receive jobs were divided almost evenly among the major departments of the University.

Mr. Brockway is expecting many companies to send representatives to the campus for interviews this year.
