Chin and Chatter

There's "the grandeur that was Greece, and the glory that was Rome"—but there's also the Wetness that was Maine Night. The good old alumnus who drove up from West Afriky for the week-end told me, it was the wettest Maine Night he'd seen—furthermore he meant WET—not liquorish.

Page the blond brute with the new haircut. We don't know his name—but the Freshettes are beginning to ask for him. He must be different they say "because that's such a daring bob"! Truly—this particular bit of tonsorial mutilation looks like the breaking up of a hard winter—or Springtime in the Rockies!—Well, anyway it is wondrously individual.

(Special dispatch to the Rockland Gazette)

Bucky Herrick—always on the lookout for something new—and breath taking—arrived in class with contrasting hose. They took us by storm.

We know now, why the little co-ed from California leapt from the grandstand—swathed herself in a blanket and bounded into the dusk. It seems that she was so cold that her little socks were shaken right down to her ankles—furthermore—she was modest.

A whole Vanilly bottleful of sperrits made its way into Balentine Friday night—but there were so many interested co-eds hanging around that the Big Hearted Bar Keeper ran short. She put away the eye dropper with which she'd been distributing it—and used the rest in an atomizer.

Perhaps the really choice scandal is the tid-bit concerning that "wolf in sheep's clothing", that "snake-in-the-grass"—that suave villain, who borrowed whosis's pin to hang on a gullible Freshette—His own, you see, was safe and sanely parked at home. This isn't original by any means, but it always gets a rise out of us.

There is, too, the rumor concerning the seasick chap who hung by his toes from the rumble seat of a goodlooking roadster—and gave—and gave.

There is the Phi Gam turtle which they keep in one of their boudoirs—along with the other fish.

A Colby enthusiast strayed into the Maine section Saturday. She (it was a she) yelped at every play—she screamed, squeaked—and yahooped with a voice which reminded us of moving bureaux or rubbing clam shells together. Some one with frayed nerves would have popped her off—if she hadn't subsided, all by herself, at our first touchdown. It's a cinch this coloratura wouldn't have lived to see a Colby victory. Now that we know how awful a woman can sound—let's us'n stay off the high C's.

'Twas Saturday noon when they found her, cold, at the foot of the Balentine stairs with a bouquet of roses clutched to her chest. Alice Dyer screamed and ran in several directions but resourceful Dixie crashed through with a bucket of ice-water. The girl had merely fallen down stairs—but she had to be rescued from drowning. We've heard that Edda has fallen down stairs in nearly every fraternity house on campus—so we know she's in good form and will recover.

(Special dispatch to the Campus)
She did it yesterday, too. Wotta woman! She must keep her roller-skates on all the time.

Saturday, the day of the Bowdoin game.

Defeat for Bates Means Three Split State Series Title

Bowdoin slipped out of the picture at Lewiston, last Saturday, as a championship contender and left the field open to Maine, Bates and Colby. But of these three, only the startling Bobcats of Dave Morey have the lead at the crown.

The series, as it is, is rather mixed up. Saturday, Maine is at Bowdoin, while on Tuesday, Colby is at Bates. If Bates wins, it gets the title anyway. Should Maine and Colby win, a triple tie will be the result, and if Colby wins and Maine loses, Colby and Bates will share the honors for the year.

On paper, there seems to be only one tossup game, the battle of Armistice Day between Colby and Bates, but this Saturday gives Bowdoin its final opportunity to save something from disaster by whipping its ancient rival, Maine, thereby throwing the Black Bear out of a pennant chance, but that is quite unlikely for the Maine team was built up on a solid foundation under Coach Brice and not on newspaper talk, as seems to be the case with the Polar Bear. Earlier in the season the Brunswick lads could beat any team in New England, if some of the Maine dailies had their way about matters in football. But Bowser's troupe showed their stuff when they came up against some Maine teams that could play football, and not talk the game.

In comparative scores, which at times are not quite accurate, Colby's 20 to 7 victory over Bowdoin and Maine's 14-6 score over Colby makes the going soft for the Orono Bear. But Bowdoin's attack will have to be watched carefully, especially the fleet-footed Sid Foster. Maine on the other hand has shown last Saturday that it has one of the best broken field runners in the State in Walter Riley, who was incidental, with Johnny Wilson, in the touchdowns made for Maine.

Ricker and Foster will not be of much use if they can't be shaken loose, with

Debaters To Petition Pi Kappa Delta Society For Grant Of Charter

At a meeting of the Intercollegiate debaters on Monday afternoon definite plans were made for petitioning the National Debating Society, Pi Kappa Delta, for membership. The constitution of this society was read by the Director of Debate, Mr. Bricker, and after some discussion the group expressed the unanimous opinion that we have on this campus a debating society qualified in every respect and having sufficient enthusiasm to maintain a chapter in this honorary society.

In choosing this particular National fraternity as its goal, the local debaters have been influenced by the fact that Pi Kappa Delta is the most active of the Honorary Forensic Societies. In addition to active participation in local debating activities its members are required to send delegates to the Provincial and National Conventions which are held bi-annually.

Those who have already participated in Intercollegiate debating and who will be eligible for membership should a charter be granted are:

Florence Ward '31, Goldie Modes '31, Fanny Fineberg '31, Frances Fuger '31, Clarine Coffin '32, Caroline Cousins '32, John Berry '32, Charles O'Connor '31, John Gehring '31, Edward Greeley '31.

It is interesting to note that we already have in the public speaking department two members of Pi Kappa Delta, Mr. Bricker and Mr. Morris.

DAVIS, CAPTAIN OF FROSH FOOTBALL

Carlton Davis was elected captain of the Frosh ball team while Coach Jones gave his proteges a treat at the M.C.A. Monday afternoon. Pictures of some of the Maine games this season were shown. A plentiful supply of cookies and ice cream was on hand and the men all enjoyed being able to smoke at their own free will.

The men that had played a sufficient number of periods to make their numerals voted on the captaincy of the team. Carlton Davis was elected. Davis has acted as captain in the majority of the games this year and displayed uncommonly cool judgment while on the field. He played an excellent game at left tackle the entire season.

"Masque" Presents Goldsmith Comedy As First Offering

On November thirteenth in the University chapel, the Masque will present its first play of the season, "She Stoops To Conquer," a mirthful comedy by Oliver Goldsmith.

The plot is built up around the fact that Young Marlow mistakes the old Hardcastle country home for an Inn, and Miss Hardcastle, his bride-to-be, for a bar-maid.

Sir Charles Marlow was an old friend of the Hardcastles, and it was his ardent wish that his son should marry their daughter. With this end in view, he arranged for his son, whom they had never met, to visit them. The youth with Hastings, a friend of his own age, set out upon the journey. While on the way, however, they became lost and were forced to ask directions from a stranger, who afterwards turned out to be Tony Lumpkin, the knavish son of Mrs. Hardcastle by a previous marriage. Disliking young Marlow from the start, Tony directed them to the Hardcastle home, explaining that it was a country tavern.

Young Marlow, the happy-go-lucky young lover, is to be played by John Longley. Longley is a freshman and this will be his first appearance in a play at the University.

Mrs. Hardcastle and Tony Lumpkin are to be played by Ernestine Merrill and Edward Berry respectively, both of whom are making their first appearance in a Masque production.

The complete cast is as follows:
Mrs. Hardcastle.....Ernestine Merrill
Mr. Hardcastle.....Francis Ricker
Tony Lumpkin.....M. Edward Berry

Freshmen Tie Coburn To Close Fair Season

The Maine Frosh played an experienced Coburn eleven to a standstill here Friday. It was their closing game of the season and they showed the best football that they had of the year. Although the Frosh appeared to be the stronger of the two teams, they did not seem to have the ability to extend themselves when a chance to score came in view. Most of the game consisted of a punting duel between Favors of Maine and Stubbard of Coburn. Favors had the edge on all the punts, outbooting Stubbard by yards.

Parsons and Seales made most of the yardage of the afternoon for the Frosh. Seales seemed to be able to gain at will at his left and right tackles. Parsons, on line plunges through the center, made many nice gains. Hill, Gigere, Davis (acting as captain), and Crosson made fine holes in the line for the backfield and seemed to be impenetrable on the defense.

The first half was mainly a punting duel with the Frosh having the best kicker. Parsons made many gains through the center of the line and with the help of Seales made most of their first downs.

The second half was a repetition of the first half with the Frosh seeming to be in weaker condition. The Coburn team showed a fine ball carrier in Glendon who made all of the Coburn first downs.

The whole game was excellently played and one of the best of the year. The Frosh showed a great deal of improvement over their former games. Although they won only two games they had a successful season, tying two and losing one.

LAMBDA CHI WINS IN SOUTHERN LEAGUE

On Sunday Lambda Chi Alpha took over Phi Gamma Delta by a single touchdown in the semi-final round of the intramural touch football series.

A pass over the end to the line, Farrar to Beecher, in the third period resulted in the score of 6-0 in favor of Lambda Chi.

"Red" Hagan played an outstanding game for Phi Gam. Farrar and Beecher worked some good passes, showing the brand of playing that has placed Lambda Chi in the final round of the competition. More recently Lambda Chi beat A.T.O. 6-0.

Beta Theta Phi plays Kappa Sigma some time this week and the winner meets Lambda Chi next week to decide the championship.

Maine Night Draws Audience of 1700. Many Grads Back

With nearly 1700 alumni and students present the annual Maine Night program was presented Friday evening in the Indoor Field at the University with Prof. Charles P. Weston, head of the department of Mechanics, as the principal speaker. At 7.15 the program was opened with several selections by the University Band. Dean Lamert S. Corbett, chairman of the Maine Night Committee, then thanked those who had aided the committee in its work, and introduced President H. S. Boardman as master of ceremonies.

Margaret "Stubby" Burrill '32 representing the All Maine Women was the first speaker on the program, and said that the women of the University fill all their jobs as well as possible, because to them these jobs represent the University of Maine. Linwood "Lon" Cheney '31, president of the Senior Skulls, in his speech, which followed, termed the occasion as a meeting of the alumni and students to repledge their allegiance to the University. Ermo Scott '31 then led the singing of several University songs and Sam Savage '31 led the gathering in "Maine the long way." Coach Fred Brice then gave his opinion of the Maine-Colby game stating that he thought that Colby had a slight advantage because of having more experienced men and several outstanding stars in the backfield.

Before introducing Coach Chester Jenkins of cross country, Pres. Boardman read another telegram. Coach Jenkins told of the past of the track team and predicted a most successful season this year. Co-captains Everett Gunning and Bud Brooks of cross country then spoke, Gunning thanking the moral supporters of the team and Brooks wishing success to the football team in the Colby game.

Before Prof. Weston was introduced the band played several pieces, the most notable of which was "Betty Co-ed" played with one of the musicians in the front row displaying a pair of brilliant red socks. Prof. Weston took for his topic "The Main (Maine) Thing." He said that it is not the Maine "Hello", nor the "Stein Song", nor the President, nor the faculty, nor the number of students, nor to make honorary societies, nor athletics, but that it is to have an individual manner and to work for the love of working. Prof. Weston was in rare form, and the wit and humor used to express his serious thought made a perfect combination.

Sutton Wins Plaque Awarded by Alumni

Harry E. Sutton '09 of Roxbury, Mass. was awarded the first alumni service emblem, known as the Pine Tree "M" at the Maine Night exercises held in the Indoor Field Friday evening. The award was made by Arthur L. Deering '12, who is Assistant Director of Extension Service at the University of Maine.

Mr. Sutton has been secretary, treasurer, and president of the Boston Alumni Association; for three years was president of the General Alumni Association; was a member of the first Memorial Fund Committee to raise funds for the erection of a memorial to Maine men who died in the World War; is chairman of the special gifts committee to complete this memorial; has served on the General Alumni Council since 1920; and is a member of the Executive Committee.

The qualifications considered in the selection of the alumnus to whom this annual award is to be made include: number of different types of services rendered, positions held, length and quality of service, standing among alumni, success in business or professional life, and support given to alumni and University projects. The emblem, which was especially designed for this purpose, and is to be awarded annually, is a raised "M" on the form of a pine tree of bronze and mounted on a mahogany base. Inscribed on it are the words, "In recognition of outstanding service to the University of Maine General Alumni Association."

Well Balanced Bates Team Downs Maine In Cross Country Run

The pale blue hill and dalers were defeated by the garnet harriers of Bates in an evenly contested cross-country duel by a score of 24-32. Norman Whitten of Bates was the first to finish Maine's 5-mile course and breaking the tape 27 minutes and 32 seconds after the starting gun.

Co-captain Everett Gunning of Maine put up a gritty finish in a fight for second place. He appeared completely exhausted by the long grind, collapsing into the arms of the bystanders as he crossed the line. Hayes of Bates came in a short distance behind closely followed by Harry Booth, captain of the frosh team of last season.

Hobbs and Jones of Bates came in fairly close together for fifth and sixth places, but Bud Brooks, the other co-captain of Maine loped in, followed closely by Steve Mank, a star of two years ago.

The summary: First, Whitten, B; second, Gunning, M; third, Hayes, B; fourth, Booth, M; fifth, Hobbs, B; sixth, Jones, B; seventh, Brooks, M; eighth, Mank, M; ninth, Furtwengler, B; tenth, Viles, B; eleventh, Fuller, M; twelfth, Chapman, B; thirteenth, Austin, M; fourteenth, Pendleton, M.

Prof. Dow To Attend Meeting In Cleveland

E. F. Dow of the department of History and Government is to attend the National Conference on Government to be held in Cleveland, November 10-12. Eight National and State Associations are to be represented, with general sessions, group meetings and round table discussions. Problems of government and administration will be considered, such as: charter making, pension systems, unemployment, budget making, county government, street railways. The organizations concerned are: The National Municipal League; Governmental Research Association; National Association of Civic Secretaries; Proportional Representation League; American Legislator's Association; American Municipal Association; Ohio Municipal League; Ohio State Conference on City Planning.

Maine won her first State Series game of the season last Saturday on Alumni Field at Orono, when the powerful Colby eleven, bewildered by the opening of "Foxy Fred" Brice's mythical bag of tricks, weakened and let through two touchdowns in the third period. She came back strong soon after and scored once, but was unable to overcome the superior Maine team's lead.

The two elevens battled on even terms, mostly in Maine's territory, during the greater part of the first half. Then Lewis, Horne, and Pike drove through the line of the White Mule to force Davan back for a loss of 22 yards. On the next play, a forward pass was intercepted by Lewis, and Brice apparently thought the time ripe for the introduction of his two lightweight halfbacks. Out came Sims and Moran and in went Wilson and Riley, and the play immediately opened up. Riley, on his second attempt, tore lightning-like through right tackle, and Wilson immediately followed with a 26-yard jaunt around left end. Riley made another ten through right guard, but this was about as far as the ball advanced before the end of the half.

Moran caught Colby's kick-off in the second half and advanced it to Maine's 40-yard line. From here an uninterrupted march was made for the first score, lengthy gains being made by Romansky, Moran and Sims. The touchdown came as a result of a forward over the line from Bagley to Smith. Wilson substituted for Sims to kick the goal and failed, but Colby was offside and Maine was awarded the extra point.

Maine, finding herself in scoring position again a few minutes later, tried to score another touchdown by the forward

Some time ago this column carried an article advocating the adoption by the Senior Class of a class ring in place of the practice of buying a class cane. The reasons laid down at that time have lost none of their force.

At the nominations for senior class officers held Tuesday, the question was discussed. The idea of a wall-plaque seemed to meet with some favor. Candor compels us to admit that a wall-plaque with the class numerals and the seal of the University would have some advantages over a ring, but nevertheless it must be admitted that a wall-plaque is somewhat impersonal—another person could just as well own your plaque and you could own his without any great loss. A ring, however, is a personal belonging and is more likely to be the object of sentiment than a plaque hanging on a wall. Further, a plaque is not so distinctive as a ring—almost any fraternity or college jeweler has class plaques as a regular feature of his line of goods.

The whole question resolves itself into this: it is generally conceded that the same idea is due to be discarded, so what can the senior class fix upon as a remembrance? The arguments in favor of a wall-plaque are not very strong, and are, to our mind, balanced by those that a wall-plaque is impersonal and is more or less a regular article of commerce. A ring, on the other hand, would be designed especially for the class, would not be duplicated and is more personal.

The whole question is to come up for settlement at the senior class elections. We urge the members of the class to give the matter serious thought.

The Editor:
Maine Campus
Dear Sir:

There is some misunderstanding on the campus regarding special examinations, particularly with reference to obtaining permission to take a special examination and the payment of the special examination fee.

Special examinations cannot be given until the student has secured from his Dean (or from the Registrar's office if signed excuses have been filed) a special examination card and has paid the fee of $2.00 at the Cashier's office.

This card, bearing the signature of the Dean or Registrar and Cashier, must be presented to the instructor before the examination can be taken. The card will be filed by the instructor in the Registrar's office after the examination has been taken with the rank obtained entered thereon.

Sincerely yours,
James A. Gannett

STEPPING INTO A MODERN WORLD

Scientist and Salesman

THE MODERN PARTNERSHIP

Like every other modern industry, the Bell System requires the combined effort of scientist and salesman. The commercial man has again and again shown the public how to use new products of the telephone laboratory, and how to make new uses of existing apparatus.

Transmitting pictures and typewritten messages over telephone wires are services right now being actively promoted. Scientific selling by long distance is among many ideas originated to increase the telephone's usefulness.

In short telephony is a business, with problems that stimulate commercially minded men and a breadth of opportunity in step with the fast moving world of industry today.

Riley and Wilson Play Big Part As Maine Wins over Colby 14-6

pass route, but the ball just barely ticked Wilson's outstretched fingers.

The second score came in the final period, starting with a march from Maine's own 38-yard line. Riley substituted for Moran, and again the play opened up. The march was featured by Wilson's and Riley's long gains, but it took a fourth down to put Riley over the last stripe for the score. Wilson place kicked the extra point.

Then Colby, led by the ever brilliant Wally Donovan, who was nobly assisted by the speedy Davan, put on two speedy goal marches of its own, the first of which resulted in a touchdown. With an amazing attack of line plunges and off-tackle thrusts, and aided by a timely Maine 15-yard penalty for piling, Donovan finally found his team a scant eight yards from the goal line. On the next play Wally skirted left end and scored. Glazier failed to kick the goal.

The second Colby march, coming immediately after the score, was stopped by Father Time as the battered Maine line fought vainly to stop the demon-like Donovan.

Offensively, Wilson and Riley were the shining lights for Maine, although credit must be given Sims and Moran for taking the edge off the opposing players for the "pony halfbacks." On the defense, Captain Horne played the game of his career, while Fickett, Davis, Calderwood, and Pike were all conspicuous in stopping the Colby charges. Donovan was by far Colby's outstanding star, but Davan and Johnston in the backfield and Langely, Allan, and Pollard in the line all did outstanding work. Donovan out-punted Bagley, but credit is due to both men for getting their punts off cleanly.

NOTICE

This is just a reminder to the members of the Junior Class that all personal writeups must be in before Wednesday, November 19. These should consist of about 65 words and be accompanied with a list of the activities which the junior has been in during his or her three years at Maine. They should be submitted immediately to some member of the present PRISM Board, or preferably to Miss Marjorie Deane Stevens, Literary editor. All portraits should also be taken as soon as possible in order that the prints may be turned in by the photographer before the Christmas recess.

At a recent vote of the fraternities and sororities on the campus it was decided to devote two pages to each fraternity, instead of one, as in the past. Each chapter secretary is asked to submit a short chapter history of about two hundred words and if possible a picture of the pin to some member of the Board. The PRISM is the yearbook of the Junior class and any snapshots contributed for future use of your classmates will be appreciated.

A. L. Deering, assistant director of the Extension Service, University of Maine, has been appointed on an executive committee representing New England to make plans for the American Institute of Cooperation to be held at Durham, New Hampshire, in 1932.

PORTLAND ATTORNEY SPEAKS IN CHAPEL

Charles J. Nichols, well-known attorney of Portland, spoke to the Assembly at Chapel Monday on the subject of Benedict Arnold's military activities in Maine. The speaker has made an intensive study of Arnold's life and is strongly opposed to the universal acceptance of Arnold's memory as a traitor only. He cited incidents of Arnold's military career which pointed out the soldier's inestimable courage in the face of perils and starvation and mentioned some memorable deeds which we have neglected to remember.

Impetuous through bitterness, even fearless, Arnold's earlier courageousness deplores the policy of teaching school-boys to regard only as a traitor the man whose greatest faults of character were his temperamental and his failure to learn submission.

Metal on trial

In the laboratories of scores of foundries and rolling mills, a constant search is being conducted for a metal that is stronger, more resistant to temperature strains, and more economical to produce. Almost as constantly the compounds and alloys so developed are being brought to Crane Co. for trial.

The court that passes on them is composed of the most experienced Crane designers, metallurgists, and engineers. Under its direction bars of the new metals are carefully tested for ductility, reduction of area, elastic limit, and yield and breaking points. Hardness, transverse strength, and torsional strength are measured, behavior under temperature strains is determined by "1000 hour creep tests."

When the findings of all tests are favorable, the metals are made into valves and fittings for trials in the Crane plant that will approximate actual working conditions. Then Crane Co. sends out these new materials to certain engineers who are interested in advancing piping practice. They use them in actual service; observing them over long periods, sending full reports to Crane Co.

Not only do materials thus developed serve all industry. They have contributed to a vast library of engineering data on metals and their capabilities. Much of this is embodied in a book, "Pioneering in Science", a valuable reference manual for students. Let us send it to you.

Bare feet on damp floors

ON the floors of showers and locker rooms, there the little ringworm parasite that causes "Athlete's Foot" is right at home. Tinea trichophyton is the name, and in colleges as far apart as California and Pennsylvania it has been found that 50% of the men have it. Again, the U. S. Public Health Service reports that "at least half of all adults suffer from it at some time."

"Athlete's Foot," golfer's foot, toe itch, dobie-itch—there are many names for the same thing, and the symptoms are redness between the toes, with it-itch-in-g—or a thick, moist skin condition—or a dryness with little scales. The danger signals vary, but authorities agree that they are all traceable to the ringworm germ, tinea trichophyton.

It lurks in the very places where we all go for cleanliness and health—on the edges of swimming pools and showers—in gymnasiums—on locker and dressing-room floors. In spite of modern sanitation (you have to boil socks 15 minutes to kill it) this fungus parasite infects and re-infects bare feet almost any time they come in contact with damp floors.

Captain Donovan certainly played the best game he has ever put up against Maine. Without him Colby would have been swamped.

No individual should be picked out to praise on Saturday's performance—Maine was a team with everyone clicking. That night's rest in East Eddington

Friday night evidently put the pep into the team. A Great Day—A Great Crowd—and a Great Game!

Saturday the Freshman Varsity elected for their Captain, Fern Allen.

The Freshman Varsity downed Bucksport Saturday with a score of 9-0. Marie Colburn made 5 goals, Captain Allen 2 and Shirley Young 2.

This was the first game the Freshettes had this year and the team work was very good. The next team they are to play is Bangor and the outlook is promising.

Saturday morning, November 1, the Varsity Hockey Team started the ball rolling in the series of Maine victories for the day by overcoming Posse Nissen 10-2.

Maine had the advantage from the start and did not lose it until the final whistle blew. The Posse-Nissen girls played a good game but were not fast enough for Maine.

Brown scored 6 goals, Burrill 1, and Smith 3.

the possible exception of Morrell, but he can't go on forever. Though fleet of foot, the line, small in comparison with others in the State, cannot seem to clear the paths for the stepping halfbacks, and Morrell has made many of his gains through sheer drive by himself.

Seniors who will be playing their last game include: Captain Hank Horne, Ralph Davis, Horace Gowans, Clifford Curtis, Jack Moran, Sam Sezak, Herbert Tracey, Noddy Lamb, Don MacKenzie, and Warren Blocklinger.

MacKenzie may replace Lufkin at left end. Lamb probably fractured a finger in the Colby game and so may not see much playing Saturday. Herbie Lewis, substitute end, is pushing Ray Smith for the position. Jule Pike has his tackle berth cinched, although only a sophomore, but some of the veterans may get a chance to relieve him.

GOAL!

FOURTH down! Seconds to play! Defending a slender one-point margin of victory, eleven husky bodies have valiantly repulsed three smashing attacks which have advanced the ball a scant foot to the fifteen-yard line. With success almost certainly within the defender's grasp, the field goal specialist drops far back behind his stalwart line. A crashing impact—a blur of rushing bodies—and his nimble foot sends the ball high between the goal posts for the winning points!

Shift this scene to a battle ground of modern business. The goal is an important contract... a substantial order for equipment or appliances. Salesmanship, backed by a product of established quality, plays its important part; but a Westinghouse representative is more than a salesman. The background of specialized engineering skill that enables him to serve his customers as a consultant in electrification is what supplies the necessary "punch" to win.

To many a younger college man with Westinghouse has come the opportunity to apply his talent toward the conclusion of a worthwhile transaction. The young men whose photographs appear on this page are but a few of the many who, with college only a few years behind them, are finding success with an organization offering such a variety of opportunities in the world's electrical work.
