Due-less, Record-less Club on Campus Draws Interested Faculty Members

The new student organization, the Due-less, Record-less Club on Campus, has attracted a number of interested faculty members to its meetings. The club has been formed to combat the growing problem of academic due inspectors who keep track of students' grades and progress. The club's main focus is to create a more relaxed and stress-free environment for students by bypassing the usual academic structures and hierarchies.

One of the key figures in the club is Dr. Gregory Halway, a psychology professor at the University. He is a strong supporter of the club's goals and has been active in organizing meetings and events. "This is a movement that we need," he said. "We need to break away from the traditional academic structures and hierarchies that can be so oppressive." He added that the club is about creating a space where students can learn and grow without the constant pressure of due inspectors.

The club's meetings are held in the campus cafeteria and are open to all students and faculty. The group has already attracted a number of members, and they are planning a series of events to raise awareness about the issue. The club's next meeting is scheduled for next week, and they hope to attract even more members.

Senator Menemch

Guest Dinners To Attend Board of Classman

Twenty-twenty of the students in the Senate have secured a dinner at the home of President Medford B. Lowe. The guests were: Senator Sam Caldwel, Senator Frank Raines, and Senator Herbert L. Lowe. The dinner was held at the President's residence, and the evening was described as being very pleasant.

The Senate was also busy with other activities. For instance, they voted to accept the resignation of Senator Sam Caldwel, who had been elected to the office of Vice President of the University. The Senate then elected Senator Frank Raines to fill the vacancy.

Military Ball To Be Held Friday

Attention To Be Restricted

The annual Military Ball will be held on Friday, December 18, at 8:00 p.m. in the Alumni Hall. All guests are required to wear military uniforms, and there will be a strict dress code. The ball is expected to be a grand event, with music, dancing, and a formal dinner.

The event is open to all students and faculty members, and tickets must be purchased in advance. The cost is $10 per person, and all proceeds will go to the University's Scholarship Fund.
THE INTRAMURAL A. A.

The deep interest being shown in Intramural basketball is an encouraging sign. Each year the cavaliers of the teams engaging in the intramural basketball league are improving. This year, retained to have already, in practice, shown signs of being much stronger than the teams of last year. These steps have been necessary to draw good-sighted crowds in the past, and there is every prospect that the stands will be filled again this year when games are in progress. The numbers of the players engaged in the games have increased, and many students can engage in the game if the sport were an organized team. The Intramural Association is to be commended for its action in popularizing the sport, and giving it the necessary supervision, success and interest. The Intramural Association, at this stage of the season, is the freshest group of expert players that has ever appeared at the University. WHY NOT BE ON TIME?

At each Masque play, those who arrive on time for the beginning of the performance have been annoyed by those who came in late and who caused some confusion when taking their seats. At the last play, the late-comers formed a charge of the stage. They were taken in the rear of the hall until the end of the first act. This obtained a good deal of the audience from the row, but it remained on the box for a second. A little thought and effort to be on time on the part of those planning to attend the play would, we are sure, reduce the noise and allow the play to be enjoyed. The Masque will be repeated, with Mrs. Cecil G. Turner will give a talk upon "Old England's Christmas". Xmas festivities will be enjoyed. All singers will be given by Mrs. Hawkins. FRATERNITY SCHOLARSHIP

In the last issue of the Campus there appeared an article in regard to the scholastic average of fraternity men throughout the country. In the article, Mr. E. H. Fairchild, chairman of the Interfraternity Committee, made the statement that the scholastic average of fraternity men throughout the country is lower than that of other students.

Statistics compiled at the University of Master show that the average scholastic value of the whole group of the Interfraternity Committee, made the statement that the scholastic average of fraternity men throughout the country is lower than that of other students. This unhealthy condition is evidence of a lack of attention being devoted to the work of the fraternity men. The meeting of the Students' Association was held in the Lecture Hall of the University Building. The following officers were elected:

President: Norman Webber, Alen, Maine Studio or Adams is in true form and how they are used to lubricate electric machinery. Scientists have long known that oil helps in a smooth and rapid transfer of forces, but for the last few years, Unilever research engineers have been working to find a new oil that would make the transfer as smooth as possible.

The oil they have developed is called "Turk'le", and it is currently being tested in a laboratory. The tiny globules of oil adhere to the skates, making a good lubricant for the roller skates. The oil is characterized by its high viscosity and low volatility, making it resistant to breakdown under pressure.

The oil is also being tested in a variety of other applications, such as in the lubrication of electrical machinery and the anti-friction properties of certain types of bearings.

The oil has been found to be effective in a wide range of applications, including in the lubrication of electric machinery and the anti-friction properties of certain types of bearings.
