NEW CHANGES IN REGULATIONS FOR WOMEN MADE BY COUNCIL

Rules Applying to Scholastic Averages of Upperclass Women and the Granting of Late Permissions Are Most Important of Those Discussed

By RUTH WALENTA

The Women's Student Government Association, at its last mass meeting, voted to accept without alteration the regulations drawn up by the Student Council for next year.

There are several important changes in these new rules. Two of the most discussed are the rules applying to upperclass women with scholarship averages of 1.5 or under, and doing away with "12 o'clocks" during the week.

The first rule reads in effect, "Upperclass women with averages of 1.5 or under shall have daytime privileges up to 9:30 P.M. except on Friday and Saturday nights and nights before holidays, when the limiting time shall be 12:00 P.M., and Sundays and the nights of holidays, when the limiting time shall be 10:00 P.M."

The second rule states that irregular "12 o'clocks" may be granted only by the president of the association and only for very unusual occasions.

There is some change also in the regulations for upperclass women with averages of 1.6 or above. These women "may have daytime privileges up to 10:30 P.M. except on Friday and Saturday nights, and nights before holidays, when the limiting time shall be 12:00 P.M.; and Sundays and the nights of holidays, when the limiting time shall be 10:30 P.M."

The changes in rules for Freshmen are mainly in shortening the time of Freshman rules. "During the first semester, Freshmen may not have daytime privileges after 7:30 P.M. except Friday and Saturday nights and nights before holidays, when the limiting time shall be 11:00 P.M.; and Sundays and the nights of holidays, when the limiting time shall be 10:00 P.M." During the second semester, Freshmen are under exactly the same rules as upperclass women whose scholastic averages are 1.5 or below.

Several other minor changes were also made.

High School Speakers Held State Contest Here Friday

Richmond, Brewer, and Orono High Schools Are the Winners. Eighteen Schools Represented

The preliminaries of the state public speaking contest for high schools were held Friday afternoon, May 15, in the Arts and Sciences Building with student judges presiding. The finals of the contest were held at 7:30 in Alumni auditorium. The judges of the finals were Miss Weed, Mrs. Arthur Stevens Jr., Mr. John Mee, Dr. Ruth Crosby, and Mrs. Walenta. The chairman of the evening was Professor Bailey.

The winner of the serious reading was Virginia Stilphen of Richmond and the winner of the humorous reading, Mary Lynch of Brewer. The prizes for these two readings were ten dollars each. The winner of the first prize for the declamation was George Stinchfield of Orono. Walter Norton from Cony High School, Augusta, took second place. The first prize was ten dollars and the second, five dollars.

There were eighteen high schools represented in the contest, most of the schools sending two representatives. The contest was conducted under the auspices of the Public Speaking Department of the University.

CALDERWOOD AND LOANE HEAD CHAPEL PROGRAM

The last assembly of the year was held Monday morning. The program consisted of musical selections by Pat Loane on the xylophone and Neil Calderwood at the piano. Among the selections offered were two original compositions, a waltz, by Neil Calderwood, and a fox trot by Pat Loane. The two new pieces, "The Band Song," and "The Spirit of Maine" were sung and the assembly was closed by the singing of the Stein Song.

Members of Class of 1881 Are Now Widely Scattered

But Five of the Twenty Living Members Are Now Residing in New England States

Members of the Class of 1881, University of Maine, which will hold a reunion at Orono, June 6, are more widely scattered than any of the early classes, being located in eleven states and possessions with but five of the twenty living members residing in New England.

There were originally 47 in the class but the number has slowly dwindled to twenty, twelve graduates and eight non-graduates. Of this number, fifteen are men and five women. The class roster was the largest until 1890 came along with an equal number, as did also 1896. The class of 1897 had 53 members which marked the beginning of a period of substantial growth at the University.

Probably William A. Vinal, probate judge in Seldovia, Alaska, is farthest from the University. The other sixteen whose addresses are known are located in 10 states as follows: three in Maine, three in California, two each in Massachusetts and Minnesota, and one in Idaho, Illinois, Missouri, Nebraska, Pennsylvania, and Wisconsin. The addresses (Continued on Page Three)

One of Maine's New Songs Becoming Popular on Radio

"Hats Off to the Band" Will Again Be Played Over the Columbia System This Week

"Hats Off to the Band," one of the new University of Maine songs written by Joseph A. McCusker '17 of East Braintree is scheduled to be played during the Cremo Hour, over the Columbia System, Saturday evening, May 23, at 8 o'clock. This will be the second time Arthur Pryor has used the selection in his programs within recent weeks.

According to reports received at the University, the song which was dedicated to the University of Maine band is being well received, many of the foremost orchestra leaders of the country having featured it in their programs with marked success. Copies of many letters from these men have been received by the General Alumni Association of the University which organization holds the copyright to the song.

"Joe" McCusker, the composer of both words and music is very popular among alumni of the University, having returned to the campus on many occasions to lead singing and cheering. He is song leader of the Braintree Rotary Club.

Miss Elizabeth Foster, New Dean of Women, Has Enjoyed Active and Interesting Career

By ROSE SNIDER

The position of Dean of Women is not something to be taken lightly, for the Dean is naturally a person of much influence on campus. With this in mind, I spent some time recently talking to Miss Elizabeth Foster of the English department. Miss Foster will act as Dean of Women next year in place of Dean Bean, who is taking a year's leave of absence to study mammalian physiology at Harvard Medical School.

Born in a small town in Texas, the name of which she did not disclose, since "no one around here has probably ever heard of it anyway," Miss Foster spent most of her life at Fort Worth.

Although studying, reading, writing, music, and traveling have kept her busier than most people, she persists in saying that so far hers has been an uneventful life.

"I've always been busy doing all sorts of things, and yet when I look back on it, nothing really seems to stand out," she explained.

Miss Foster attended the University of Texas, did graduate work there, and received her master's degree. She also studied at the University of Colorado and the University of Chicago. For one year after college, she was music and dramatic editor on the Star-Telegram, a Fort Worth newspaper. After that she spent several years at the North Texas State Teachers' College, where her work was chiefly in the English department. Miss Foster also taught Journalism at the college, and acted as assistant to the Dean of Women.

I kept to the usual routine questions and inquired about her hobbies, activities, and favorite forms of amusement. "Well, I really haven't any actual hobbies. I like to read and write, and I enjoy good music. Then there are outdoor activities—walking and riding. I suppose that, coming from Texas, people would think it queer if I said I didn't ride horses," she added.

As a matter of fact, Miss Foster is quite an equestrienne, but, strange as it may seem, she learned to ride not in Texas but in Colorado, where all her summers are spent at her father's camp. (Continued on Page Two)

State Scholarship Testing Project Held by University

Competitive Examinations Will Bring Eight High Ranking Students to Maine

The first test of the State Scholarship Competitive Testing Project was given Monday, May 11. There were 55 schools in the state enrolled and approximately 7500 pupils. The examinations given to grades 9, 10, and 11 covered the subjects of English, algebra, geometry, general science, American History and Ancient History. A special test was conducted for grade 12 consisting of four general subjects—English, Mathematics, Science, and social subjects.

The two highest ranking seniors of each school and the two highest ranking lower classmen in each subject of their respective school will be chosen to participate in the district contest which will be held Saturday, May 23. The state is divided into eight districts and prizes will be awarded the district winners.

The prize for the winning seniors will be scholarships at the University of Maine. There are eight scholarships to be given. The senior having the highest rank in the state will be given a four-year scholarship. The others are one three-year scholarship, one two-year scholarship and five one-year scholarships. Only one pupil in each district will receive one of these honors.

Some of the larger schools taking part are Caribou, Lewiston, Augusta, Ellsworth, Bar Harbor, Belfast, Rumford, Machias, Mexico, Fort Fairfield, and Fryeburg Academy. It is sponsored by the Department of Education and directed by Professor Crawford.

Track Team Hopes To Win Fifth New England Title

Victory Will Give Maine Team Permanent Possession of Cup

The wearers of the Pale Blue will be defending a championship in the Forty-fifth Annual Track and Field Meeting of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association, which will be held on Garcelon Field, Bates College, Lewiston, Friday and Saturday, May 22 and 23.

Coach Jenkins' men have held the premier honors for the past four years and will make a determined bid to repeat this year. If Captain Ray White and his squad succeed, the Championship Cup, which is an eight year trophy, will become a permanent University of Maine possession.

The Pale Blue will have a hard fight on their hands next Saturday when they attempt to bring the honors home as there will be several well-balanced teams in there fighting hard for their respective colleges for the championship. Both Bates and Bowdoin loom as possible threats, but it is quite evident that if Captain Ray White and his followers repeat their fine exhibition of last Saturday they will have a good chance of bringing the Championship Cup to the University of Maine.

Five Championship Cups have been put in competition. If the Pale Blue succeeds in retaining the New England Championship this year, the fifth Championship Trophy will be the one which will come to Maine to stay.

This is the final issue of the Campus for the present semester. The next issue will appear in September.

MAINE WINS STATE TRACK TITLE FOR FOURTH CONSECUTIVE YEAR

Noses Out Bowdoin in Final Event by Sweeping All Points In the Discus. Webb Sets New Pole Vault Mark in Only Record Breaking Performance of the Day

Outstanding Seniors Are To Be Graduated

Members of Outgoing Class Are Prominent in Many Phases Of Campus Life

With the graduation of the Class of '31 Maine will lose many men and women who have done a great deal for her honor. Not only will these people be missed in the ranks of athletics but in every phase of the life of the college.

Next fall the football team will miss Jack Moran, Hank Horne, captain this year, Fat Davis, Warren Bocklinger. The track team will be minus Captain Raymo White, Steve Mank, Bill Jensen, Norm Webber, Bud Brooks, Cliff Curtis, all of whom have been responsible in a large way for many Maine victories on the cinder path.

Baseball will not suffer as much as other sports this year, though Al Perkins on the mound, and Captain Bill Wells behind the plate will be noticeably absent.

Conspicuous by his absence will be Lon Cheney, president of the Senior Class and of the Senior Skulls, as well as of Scabbard and Blade and Sigma Mu Sigma.

The Maine Masque will miss E. Raymond Bradstreet, president of that organization, and also vice-president of Kappa Phi Kappa. Philip J. Brockway, editor of The Maine Spring, Senior Skull, Kappa Gamma Phi, and member of the Maine Masque, will be missed both in literary and dramatic circles.

The debating team, the women's rifle team, the Contributors' Club, and Beta Pi Theta will miss Clarine Coffin.

Paul M. Elliott, who is to represent the University in competition for the Rhodes Scholarships, will be missed in scholastic circles as well as in the Student Senate.

Fanny Fineberg, active in debating, journalistic activities, and high ranking scholar, is among those who are graduating.

George M. Hargreaves, R.O.T.C. officer, Kappa Phi Kappa, and member of the business departments of the Campus and the Prism, graduates leaving many important positions empty.

Another man who will leave many offices vacant is Don Marshall, former Associate Editor of the Campus, president of the A.A., Harmon Foundation Scholarship winner, and active M.C.A. worker.

Galen I. Veayo will be greatly missed in music circles having taken part in every musical activity on the campus.

Ten New Members Pledged To Neai Mathetai Society

The new pledges of Neai Mathetai were announced at the Sophomore Eagle banquet Wednesday evening.

Neai Mathetai is an honorary society consisting of the ten highest ranking girls in the freshman class. It was founded in 1929 by the Eagles with Dean Bean as faculty adviser.

The two words, "Neai Mathetai," are Greek words meaning "Young Scholars." At present there are twenty members; ten having been elected from the class of 1932, and ten from the class of 1933.

Membership in this society is based wholly on high rank.

The new pledges are Ruth Walenta, Martha Tuomi, Eva Bisbee, Rita Lanto, Mary Sproul, Minnie Zeitman, Darrell Brown, Muriel Covell, Dorothy Romero and Shirley Young.

A high standard has been attained in the football practice of Temple University's eleven this spring. Coach Heinie Miller has had his boys working out on the roof of the new student recreation building, 300 feet in the air. Incidentally, no scrimmages were held on the roof, but the fundamentals were put across fine, Miller said.

With the cinder path surfaced by pools of water and slime as the result of the intermittent downpours of the day, the Pale Blue did the unexpected when they staved off a desperate surge on the part of Bowdoin to win the Annual State Track Meet for the fourth straight year.

By sweeping all the points in the discus throw, Maine overhauled Bowdoin's advantage to finish with a point aggregate of 45. Bowdoin, with 43 2-3 took second place while Bates, expected by many to win, gathered only 32 1-3 for the third place. Colby trailed with 14.

Freeman Webb, Pale Blue pole vaulter, cracked the only record to go overboard in the State Meet when he cleared the bar at 12 feet and one inch to shatter the previous mark of 12 feet, one quarter inch held by Roy Hobson of Maine four years ago. After clearing the bar at 12 feet, to eliminate all competition, Webb went after a new record and succeeded in attaining that end on his first attempt. Because he was competing in the high jump at the time, the new Pale Blue Champion discontinued vaulting without trying to improve upon the new height.

Raymo White, Maine captain, surprised the Bates dashmen when he took first place points in both the 100 and 220 yard dashes, but it was Alton Alley, not generally regarded as a scoring threat, who proved the real hero for the Maine trackmen. Alley clinched the meet for Maine by placing behind Curtis and Webber to collect the one point for the third in the discus. The outcome of the meet depended upon the one solitary point.

The final difference between Maine and Bowdoin was established when Mank beat out Thistlewaite of Bowdoin in a stretch sprint for second place in the half mile. In the two mile run Gunning, who had been regarded as a possible winner, fell back fast after the mile and a half post had been reached and it remained for Booth to come up and pass both Jones of Bates and Lavender of Bowdoin to take (Continued on Page Four)

Thirteen Classes To Hold Reunions on Alumni Day

All but Three of the Groups Are to Meet Under the Modified Dix Plan

Thirteen classes ranging from 1881 to 1929 hold reunions at the University of Maine this Commencement; Alumni Day being Saturday, June 6. A larger number of younger alumni are expected to return this year than heretofore because of the greater number of recent classes which are to reunite.

All but three of the thirteen groups meet under the modified Dix Plan which was adopted by the General Alumni Association three years ago. This plan specifies that classes shall hold their first reunion two years following graduation, and thereafter meet with classes which were in college at the same time.

The class of 1881 observes its fiftieth this year. 1886-7-8 are scheduled to reunite; 1891 is to pay tribute to their distinguished member, Hon. Wallace R. Farrington who is to be Commencement speaker; 1901 meets to celebrate its thirtieth; 1906, the quarter century class; 1911 is to repeat again this year; next comes 1923-24-25-26 and 1929.

Officers of these classes are: 1881—Sec., Harold M. Plaisted, St. Louis, Mo.; 1886—Sec., H. S. French, Newtonville, Mass.; 1887—Sec., J. S. Williams, Guilford, Maine; 1888—Sec., H. F. Lincoln, Ariel, Wash.; 1901—Sec., Fred M. Davis, Chicago, Ill.; 1906—Sec., Harry Emery, Bangor, Maine; 1921—Pres., G. D. Bearce, Dalhousie, N. B.; Sec., B. O. Warren, New York City; 1923—Pres., Rev. A. E. Wilson, Seal Harbor, Maine; Sec., Mary Perkins, Milwaukee, Wis.

THE CLOCK ON WINGATE TOWER

A member of the Junior class here recently discovered for the first time, in one of his perambulations about the campus, a clock on the tower of Wingate Hall. Rather astounded at this unlooked-for finding, he immediately started questioning all his acquaintances to determine how many were aware of its existence. The result was that only about one-half the students he asked had ever seen the clock in question. Much alarmed that such a valuable adjunct as a timepiece should be concealed from the view of the students, he immediately informed the Campus of the regrettable state of affairs, and then set off on a diligent quest for more of the hidden clocks.

We quite agree that a large clock such as graces the tower of Wingate Hall would be far more valuable if placed where it could be easily and frequently seen. Probably when the clock was first installed it was both more useful and more ornamental. But as time passed and the University grew in size, the center of the campus retreated farther and farther away from the highway. This resulted in Wingate Hall facing only the lawn and ornamental shrubbery which borders College Avenue, while most of the activity on the campus goes on in the rear of the building. And so it is that only a small percentage of the students ever gaze up at the large clock on Wingate tower.

Perhaps a better location for the present clock could be found, or perhaps it would be better to allow it to spend its remaining days in familiar surroundings. But if such is the case, it might not be too inappropriate if the University authorities who are at present repairing, extending, and redecorating the Maine campus were to take some steps toward erecting a large clock at some central point on the campus.

CORRESPONDENCE

To the Editor of The Maine Campus,

Since coming to Maine I have served at the naming ceremonies—or rather motto selecting festivities—of some dozen organizations; these have all gone along fairly well with a minimum of casualties in spelling out the telephone call for the public; Greek is so sadly to seek today that perhaps one of the arguments for college fraternities or groups of workers, is their keeping alive the Greek alphabet. Of course we shall all have to agree that a very, very faint pulse is much ahead of no pulse at all when we are concerned with establishing the status of life or no life.

There is, however, one group for which I was summoned to suggest a name that has not permitted itself to be abbreviated initial-wise, the "Nei Mathetai." I have lately read of these as the "Junior Betes." I suggest that the "Sophomore Eagles" who have kept the air well since I gave them opinion, should start a moderate crusade to save the Nei Mathetai from being "Betes" or anything but what they are; the world knows a "fine fellow" as a "regular guy" and forgives the easy slang, but who could guess what the "Betes" might mean this side of pickles. It will help a lot to have the Campus and Prism people leave out that Massachusetts "R" that's embedded itself in the middle of "Mathetai." It should not be there; the word is not difficult to pronounce if the r is deleted.

Yours truly,

J. H. Huddleston

"Best of all, perhaps, I like traveling. I'm very fond of going to different, far-off places, and investigating new scenes."

I gathered from our conversation that she had traveled extensively. Not content with seeing all of America first, she had skipped over parts of it, and had spent one summer in Europe.

Last year she came to Maine for the first time. As is usually the case, Miss Foster, too, expected to find "lots of woods." She was not entirely disappointed, although the trees were not nearly so tall as she had imagined.

In regard to her work next year as Dean of Women, she had little to say. She seemed a bit skeptical about it all.

"I suppose they asked me to take Dean Bean's place because I know so many

CHURCH NOTICES

Methodist Episcopal Church

"Do We Really Care?" is the subject announced for the Memorial Sunday Service at the Methodist Church, May 24, at 10:30 o'clock. This is the next to the last in a series for May on the theme, "Jesus, and a Religion of Good Sense."

Good crowds and lively discussions have been the order during these Sunday evenings of May at the Student Forum discussing "Christianity in Action." This week Henry Conklin is the leader and his subject "God in the Slums." Come at 6:30 for the luncheon and Social Hour. The Forum is at 7:30.

Fellowship Church

Continuing the May Rally Program at Fellowship Church, Dr. Charles M. Sharpe will deliver the fourth of his special series of sermons on Fellowship at the regular worship 10:30 A.M. The theme for this Sunday will be "The Foes of Fellowship." Mr. Gilbert Lait, Baritone, of Bangor will be the soloist for the day, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Chandler, Pianist. Miss Chandler will act as pianist for the day in absence of Miss Powers.

At six o'clock the Abenaki Tribe will assemble at The Manse thence to proceed in force to Standpipe Hill for an out-of-door Pow-Wow which will conclude their season's activities. All students and young people invited. "Hot Doggies."

FRATERNITY ELECTIONS

A partial list of the results of the elections held in the various fraternity houses are:

Theta Chi—President, Cedric Arnold; vice-president, Ronald Austin; secretary, Joseph Pearson; treasurer, Ward Cleaves.

Phi Mu Delta—President, Hugh Morton; vice-president, George Jellison; secretary, Edward Abbott; treasurer, Keith Percival.

Phi Kappa: President, Amel Kiszona; vice-president, Orestes Rumazza; secretary, Lawrence Bradbury; treasurer, Joseph McCarthy.

of the girls, and have such trust in them. As far as the actual work goes, I intend to continue Dean Bean's policies, and try to keep things running as if she were here."

And this brief statement of next year's plans concluded my interview with Maine's new Dean of Women.

Duke Volrath Tells Last Event in Career Of Oak Hall Fishermen

BY DUKE W. L. VOLRATH

Believing that keeping everlastingly at it brings success, the Oak Hall Fishermen Experts took rods and reels and set forth last week to redeem themselves for the poor work they had been doing for the past three weeks. Bravely they had dug worms the night before.

Determination was clearly marked on their faces as they began to rig up their equipment, and soon reels were humming and flies were slipping through the water. Captain Speed, the most experienced and expert member of the team, was intently casting into a deep dark pool under a rocky ledge when disaster nearly befell him. A minute mosquito alighted on his neck, and proceeded to extract some of the Captain's blood, with the result that Sir Speed gave a sudden leap into the air. Failing to look before he leaped, his landing was on something far softer but far more distressing than land. He had jumped into the pool, and from remarks furnished with an excellent vocabulary even for a fisherman, which he made after rescuing himself from the briny deep, the water was none too warm.

To make matters even more complicated the Captain's hook had caught in a branch overhanging the other end of the pool when he jumped. That made it necessary for him to hike quite a distance up the brook in order to cross, and then to hike down again on the other side in order to extract the hook from the branch. He had to crawl far out over the pool in loosening the hook, and just as he had freed it he slipped, and for the second time water, boots, clothes, and captain came together simultaneously. It was then that he decided to swim across the pool rather than hike around the banks again.

Feeling highly invigorated from his contact with the icy waters, Captain Speed spurred his team mates to action, and in a short time one of them felt the welcome tug on his line. He went to work in earnest trying to tire out the handsome trout, but just as he had it nearly into his net, the hook slipped from its mouth and it got away. A handsome three pounder. Soon other members of the team got strikes, and by the time darkness had settled down over the earth the team had actually caught a trout, which they brought back to the dormitory with them, and which vindicated them for earlier failures.

Not being able to cook their catch the team did not know how to dispose of it. Late that night when one of the more studious freshmen in the dorm pulled back the covers on his bed to get into it, he found that he had a bed-fellow, namely Sir Trout.

The End

Intercollegiates

The college is soon going to lose all its space on the radio air if it doesn't watch out, and what small amount of radio program of educational value now drifting through the ether is going once more to be confined to the ivy halls of the classroom, according to John H. McCracken, vice-president of the national committee on education, who testified before the radio commission in Washington recently.

McCracken said that more and more attacks on college radio stations are being made by purely commercial stations, and that within a short time the education of radio fans will be subordinated to the commercial radio show business.

Nine graduate students in the School of Citizenship and Public Affairs of Syracuse University are investigating various phases of municipal government in more than fifty cities of this state with a view of finding means of saving the taxpayers' money.

Both the university and the State Conference of Mayors are helping to finance the investigation.

For the first time in the history of the college, Oberlin College students have been granted the privilege of holding informal dances in their dormitories. Heretofore it has been necessary to hold house dances at various halls on the campus.

A new horticultural building, and addition to the engineering building and the first of five new women's dormitories are to be started soon on the University of Maryland's campus.

Students of the University of Utah recently put on the opera "Hansel and Gretel" before huge crowds.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON PARTY

Members of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity held their spring house party last week-end. Many of the alumni returned to take part in the festivities. The house was decorated with Alabama Pine branches and purple and gold balloons. John Fogg and New Doctors of Rhythm furnished the music. Open house was held with Theta Chi.

The social committee was Arthur Fairchild, Paul Williamson, Alden Denaco, Carl Thurston and Robert Simpson. The chaperons were Mrs. Edith McCullum, Major and Mrs. McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Freeman.

SIGMA NU SPRING PARTY

Sigma Nu held their annual spring formal and informal, on Friday and Saturday evenings, May 15 and 16, at their chapter house.

On Friday evening a lobster banquet was served, which was followed by the formal dance. Intermission refreshments consisted of cookies and punch.

Saturday, the informal completed the festivity. Refreshments of chicken pie, salad, strawberry shortcake and coffee were served at intermission.

Pocketbooks with the Sigma Nu seal were given for favors.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moreland and Mr. and Mrs. Sweetser were the chaperons for both dances.

Music was furnished by "Puss" Ingalls and his "Mainonians."

MAINE FROSH DROP CLOSE GAME TO HIGGINS

The Maine Frosh dropped a close 7-6 decision to Higgins Classical Institute after playing seven innings in a steady drizzle that persisted throughout the game last Thursday afternoon. In the early innings the Frosh were weak both on fielding and hitting and though they came back strong in the latter part it was to no advantage, as Simmons came to the mound for Higgins and held them wholly in check.

The hitting features of the game included home runs by Farnham and Archer of Higgins and another by Red Osgood of the Frosh. Osgood was the outstanding man on the Frosh defensive being particularly attracted to fouls along the grandstand side of the field.

To date the 1934 squad has won two and lost three games. The last game of the season is scheduled for this Friday with E.M.C.S.

"THE THINKER" . . . a telephone version

The name Electrical Thinker might be applied to one unit of telephone apparatus. Technically it is known as a Sender and is brought into action each time a call is made in a panel dial central office. By means of electrical mechanism, it records or "remembers" the dialed number and routes the call to the proper line.

The steady expansion of the Bell System — in volume of calls, number of telephones and miles of wire — cannot be taken care of merely by an enlarged use of existing types of apparatus.

To serve the continually growing telephone needs of the nation, it will always be the task of Bell System men to devise, refine, perfect and manufacture new kinds of equipment such as The Thinker.

of three are unknown. Another interesting feature of this class is that there were two brothers and two sisters in it, all of whom were graduated and are living. The sisters are: Mrs. Alice R. Dunn, of Orono, wife of Hon. Charles J. Dunn, treasurer emeritus of the University and Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of Maine, and Mrs. Mary R. Andrews, of Callaway, Nebraska, whose husband, also a member of this class, died a short time ago. The brothers are Oliver C. and Edward H. Farrington, of Chicago, Illinois, and Madison, Wisconsin, respectively.

Harold M. Plaisted, patent attorney in St. Louis, Mo., is secretary of the class and reports that they will have a good delegation back for the reunion.

MAINE STUDENT WINS NATIONAL CONTEST

Miss Jeanne Lépine a junior in the French Department, has just received notification that she is awarded first prize in a national contest conducted by Beta Pi Theta, French honor society. The subject treated in French was "La ville la plus française d'Amérique." The prize consists of an emblem ring of the national society, which can be worn only by the winner, and tuition at Middlebury French summer school this coming summer.

The President of Colgate University announced that the university has established 18 new scholarships.

JOSEPH MASSARO WINS FENCING TOURNAMENT

The fencing tournament, which has been sponsored by the U. of M. Fencing Club, has been brought to a close after three weeks of bouts with the announcement of Joseph Massaro as winner. Under the direction of Coach Bernie Schneider, the fencing classes have made remarkable progress this year, and attendance has been unusually large. Since most of the students enrolled in the course are freshmen, it is hoped that the university will be able to enter a team in inter-collegiate competition in the near future.

IN congratulating the winners in the great Camel contest we want at the same time to thank most cordially the approximately million men and women who displayed their friendly interest by sending in an entry.

We wish also to thank the millions of smokers throughout the country for the appreciation they are showing for our new Humidor Pack as is evidenced by the notable increase in the sale of Camel cigarettes.

By means of this dust-proof, germ-proof, moisture-proof Cellophane wrapping the rich aroma and full flavor of choice Turkish and mellow Domestic tobaccos have been air-sealed in Camels for your enjoyment.

If you have not tried Camels in the Humidor Pack all we ask is that you switch over to this brand for one day.

After you have learned how much milder, how much cooler, how much more enjoyable it is to smoke a perfectly conditioned fresh cigarette, go back to the harsh hotness of stale cigarettes if you can.

Varsity Baseball Team Breaks Even In Last Two State Series Contests

Loses Game to Bates in Thirteenth Inning by 9-5 Score

Scoring five runs in the thirteenth inning, Bates downed a fighting Maine team 9-5 on Alumni Field, Friday. This is the first defeat handed to the Pale Blue nine in the last five starts, and the first reverse of the season on the home diamond.

For nine innings Chick of Bates and Nutting, Maine hurler, engaged in a pitching duel until the former was rescued by Millett in the ninth and the latter by Solander in the same chapter.

After Berry had reached first in the second, Flynn, the visitors third baseman, crashed a long home run into right center to give Bates two runs. In the sixth Ray Smith singled sharply to left, and completed the circuit when Kennison allowed the ball to escape him. This was all the scoring done until the ninth, when Flynn's single manufactured another marker.

It looked like curtains for Maine, but with one down Hallgren reached first on an infield single. Churchill, a pinch hitter, hit for one base to center, Hallgren moving to third. "Blondy" Hincks rescued both runs with a timely single over second, keeping Maine in the ball game.

Both teams scored in the tenth to retain the tie. The eleventh was uneventful but Maine threatened in the twelfth when Smith the first batter of the inning doubled, he languished on third, however, as Abbott and Kisonak were forced to fly out.

In the thirteenth, Bates put the game on ice, scoring five runs on two hits. Hallgren's homer and Sezak's single proving to be merely gestures. Smith's leaping catch of Millett's bid for a double in the eleventh was the fielding gem of the day.

The Freshman Relay Team is entered in the Freshman College Relay Championships to be held at Lewiston next Saturday afternoon. It is probable that Coach Jenkins will enter Davis and Parsons in the 220, O'Connell in the 440 and Corbett in the 880. The medley relay is to be one of the features of the meet. Some of the leading New England colleges are to be represented. Bowdoin, M.I.T., Brown, New Hampshire, Holy Cross, and Boston College are expected to send teams.

The Agricultural Club will hold its last meeting this spring, on Friday, May 22, 4:20 P.M. (E.S.T.) in 33 Winslow Hall. Dr. K. J. Seulke, formerly professor of Animal Industry at Cornell, will speak. At present, Dr. Seulke is with the Purina Feed Company. His subject will be Beef Cattle and the Beef Industry. Anyone interested is cordially invited to attend.

Excellent Pitching by Perkins Defeats Bowdoin 5-0 in Contest Tuesday

Behind the excellent pitching of Al Perkins Maine handed Bowdoin a 5-0 shutout last Tuesday afternoon on Alumni Field. Although Bowdoin outbatted the Pale Blue, Maine bunched their hits for two runs in the sixth and three in the seventh. Perkins was master of the situation throughout the game, and allowed but four men to reach third base. Only in the seventh inning did the Maine hurler get into trouble when he allowed men to reach second and third with but one out. However, the tall left-hander arose to the occasion and fanned out the next two batters.

Kisonak started the Bricemen on the road to victory when he socked a home-run in the sixth inning with Hallgren on base. In the next inning Maine fell on Morrel for a triple, a double and two singles which sent three runs across the plate. Perkins, the Maine hurler, again showed his hitting prowess by batting out one of the singles in that inning and sending in two of the runs.

NIGHT AND A FAST TRACK!

A TRACK man will tell you that records are broken when the track is fast. Think of this setting—a cool evening, the stands overflowing, the whole spectacle brilliantly lighted with G-E floodlights, and a fast track—a record simply couldn't stand the "gaff."

Nighttime, when people naturally turn to diversion, is the logical time for a track meet. Lack of support will be a thing of the past. And just watch the athletic fund grow.

G-E floodlighting projectors, largely the development of college-trained men, are easily adapted to any occasion whether football, track, tennis, commencement, receptions, or plays. Efficient G-E illumination promotes athletics and builds school spirit.

Maine Wins State Track Title for Fourth Consecutive Year (Continued from Page One)

second place honors. Mel Means scored a point when he finished third behind Ray White and Knox in the hundred yard dash. Bill Jensen who has consistently been throwing the spear well beyond 170 feet couldn't better Olsen's 169 feet.

One of the most outstanding features of the meet was the remarkably fast time of 10 seconds flat turned in by Capt. Raymo White in winning the final of the hundred yard dash under such adverse conditions. His 22 2-5 to capture the 220 was also astounding.

Summary:

100 yrd dash, trials—First heat won by Knox, Bates; second, Moulton. Time 10 2-5 seconds.

Second heat won by White, Maine; second, Hayde, Colby. Time 10 2-5 seconds.
