Committee Will Not Divulge
Name of Orchestra To Play for Dance

By SYLVIA L. HICKSON

At eight-thirty o'clock tonight in Alumni Hall the Junior Class will hold sway with its second big event of the week, the Junior Promenade. The committee led by Monroe Romansky and assisted by Margaret L. Davis, Bryce H. Jose, Charles E. Bunker and Alfred N. McMichael has been successfully shrouding the affair in an aroma of mystery. The exact scheme of decorations and the name of the dance band has been carefully reserved. But as the unknown always adds allure to the ordinary large attendance is expected. The programs of dark green celluloid, cut in the form of the Maine Pine Tree are further enhanced by green silk tassels and a large gilt M on their front covers. President and Mrs. H. S. Boardman, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Youngs, Dean and Mrs. O. S. Lutes, and Samuel H. Calderwood, president of the class, will form the receiving line and Professor Harry D. Watson, Professor Maynard H. Jordan and Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Kelley will act as chaperons.

W.S.G.A. ACCEPTS NEW RULE CHANGES

Also Awards Scholarships
And Installs Officers
For Next Year

The offices of the Woman's Student Government Association were formally turned over to the recently elected officers at installation during chapel hour Monday morning. Margaret Churchill '32, retiring president, who has presided over the work of the association this year, gave a brief résumé of the judiciary and constructive work which the council has carried out, then installed her successor, Martha Smith '33. Marjorie Moulton '33 who, as vice-president, has worked with the off-campus women this year, installed Francis Dean '34. Martha Smith, who has been secretary of the organization, handed the records over to Alice Dyer '34. Jane Chase '35, treasurer-elect, received the financial accounts from Alice Dyer, who gave her report of the receipts and expenses of the year.

The sorority representatives on next year's council are: Alpha Omicron Pi, Marion Dickson; Pi Beta Phi, Margaret Davis; Chi Omega, Elizabeth Wilhelm; Kappa Psi, Annie Ansur; Delta Zeta, Frances Hammond; Phi Mu, Shirley Young; Delta Delta Delta, Alice Somnichen; Sigma Tau, Bertha Landon.

The changes in rules which have been approved by the new council and by the dean of women were read by the new president, Martha Smith, and accepted by the women students.

The closing events of the assembly were the announcement of the awarding of the two W.S.G.A. scholarships of fifty dollars each to Ruth Callaghan '33 and Martha Tuomi '34, and the singing of the Stein Song.

New Senate Installs Officers for 1932-33

President Harold S. Boardman presented shingles to members of the outgoing Student Senate at a combined meeting of the old and the new senates Tuesday night of this week. John Wilson, president, Melbourne Means, vice-president, and Bryce Jose, secretary, were installed by former president John Moore.

Discussions of the theatre ticket drive and fraternity rushing took place. Dean L. S. Corbett complimented the Senate on its work in the recent Loan Fund Drive, stating that through the funds raised a number of students have been able to remain in school to finish this year.

In his remarks to the Senate, President Boardman announced that the parking problem is in the hands of a landscape architect and should be settled satisfactorily by the opening of college in September.

Fire of unknown origin which destroyed a barn and 3500 tons of hay belonging to George Farnsworth in Webster, attracted hundreds of students to the scene Monday evening. The glow in the sky was visible for miles, and students poured forth from the campus toward the scene in droves.

Juniors Have Taken Large Part In University Activities for 3 Years

List of Men's Achievements
Shows Wide Variation
Of Interests

The Junior Class has produced many men who are outstanding in the various phases of campus life. An attempt to name a few of those who are prominent in social, scholastic, or executive fields has therefore been made as follows:

John Wilson is the newly elected president of the Student Senate, a member of the Prism Board, I.A.A., and of the football and baseball teams. Last year he was a Sophomore Owl and this year is class chaplain. That Johnny thinks not only of these things is shown by the fact that he is a member of Tau Beta Pi.

Arthur Brown is the intellectual man of the class. He is a Phi Beta Kappa, was literary editor of the Prism, on the staff of the Maine Review, and is president of the Contributors' Club.

Perhaps one of the most versatile men in the class is Clark Abbott. Clark belongs to Phi Beta Kappa, Sigma Mu Sigma, and Pi Pi Kappa, and is regular catcher on the baseball team. He was president of the Sophomore Owls last year and was class treasurer (1, 2).

Bryce Jose is managing editor of the Prism, a member of the M.C.A. Cabinet, Junior Prom Committee, secretary of the Student Senate, and Scabbard and Blade. He was on the Sophomore Hop Committee last year.

Munroe Romansky is chairman of the Junior Prom Committee, is on the football team, I.A.A., and belongs to Phi Sigma. He was on the Mid-Winter Ball committee and was a Sophomore Owl.

The editor-in-chief of the Prism this year was William Bratton. Bill has also been managing editor of the Campus.

Charles Bunker was chairman of the Sophomore Hop committee. He is a member of the Track Team, Scabbard and Blade, Prism Board, and the Junior Prom committee.

Melbourne Means is class treasurer and vice-president of the Student Senate. He is on both the track and football teams. Last year he was a Sophomore Owl.

Donald Blake now serves as chairman of the executive committee of the Junior Class. Don is on the Prism Board and was manager of football.

President of the class for three years is the record of Samuel Calderwood. He is (Continued on Page Two)

NEW PRISM ISSUED TO JUNIORS TODAY

Bratton Heads Staff Which Introduces Modernistic
Theme in Annual

The 1932 edition of the Prism appeared on the campus today at the termination of the junior chapel service. Due to unavoidable delay only a limited number of copies will be available for circulation at this time. The remaining part of the issue will appear during the following week.

Many distinct changes have been made this year in the annual by the staff in order to produce a more attractive volume. A modernistic design has been carried throughout the book with the theme built around the connotation of the word "prism."

Individual pictures of the faculty of the different colleges have replaced the groups of former years. A center panel effect is being used in the junior section to replace side of the page panel used in former years. The personal write-ups accompanying each picture have been eliminated and only the activities of the member appears.

Pictures of the four officers of the various classes replace the single picture of the president formerly in vogue. In the fraternity section the chapter roll replaces the write-up used in past issues, and the crest of each organization appears in color. Action shots appear in the athletic section which has been increased from forty pages to fifty-one.

Eight groups of well mounted snapshots are interspersed throughout the book. The cover is attractively made up in black with modernistic gold lettering. The circulation of the book this year has increased from 600 to 750, and the books are being sold at $4 instead of $5.

Outstanding Women in Class Are Mostly Athletes; Many in Politics

The Class of 1933 has many prominent women figuring in all campus activities. Last year "Marnie" Smith was elected president of the Sophomore Eagles. The other members were: Betty Barrows, Bunny Callaghan, Eulalie Collins, Blanche Henry, Marjorie Moulton, Jo Mutty, Grace Quarrington, Mary Sewall, Betty Tryon, and Eleanor West.

Betty Barrows, Campus Board, Sports Editor, Student Government, Girls' Rifle Team Co-Captain, Freshman Chairman Y.W.C.A., Maine Masque, M.O.C., Sodality Latina, A.M.W. Pageant. She has recently been elected to the All Maine Women.

Bunny Callaghan, Freshman Class Hockey, Basketball Soccer, Home Economics Club, President Y.W.C.A. Cabinet, A.M.W. Pageant, Vice-President of Eagles.

"Lal" Collins, Freshman Hockey, Basketball, Soccer, Y.W.C.A., Home Economics Club.

Blanche Henry, Basketball, Hockey, Soccer, Volley Ball, Y.W.C.A. Cabinet. Elected this year to All Maine Women.

"Marje" Moulton, Hockey, Basketball, Volley Ball, Baseball, Soccer, W.A.A. Council, Home Economics Club, W.S.G.A., Vice-President, All Maine Women, A.M.W. Pageant.

Jo Mutty, Girls' Rifle Team Mgr., Associate Editor Campus, Phi Sigma, Volley Ball, W.A.A.

Grace Quarrington, Y.W.C.A., Latin Club, Neai Mathertai, Beta Pi Theta, A.M.W. Pageant, Member of All Maine Women.

"Betty" Tryon, Soccer, Volley Ball, Home Economics Club, M.O.C., A.M.W. Pageant.

"Babe" West, Hockey, Basketball, Soccer, Volley Ball, Spanish Club, Campus Board, Secretary of Eagles.

"Polly" Brown, Neai Mathertai, Contributors' Club, Panhellenic Council, Hockey, Basketball, Volley Ball, Soccer, Baseball, A.M.W. Pageant.

"Ev" Gleason, Hockey, Spanish Club, Freshman Y. Rifle Team, Campus Board, Prism Board, A.M.W. Pageant.

Miriam Hannaburgh, Hockey, Basketball, Volley Ball, Deutscher Verein.

RIISING NIGHT STRUGGLE WAS ONE GRAND AFFAIR

Rising Night is now only a memory in the traditions of the campus, but the present junior class has vivid recollections of the last observance of the day. March 15, in the spring of 1930, was the day set by the Skulls for the freshmen to assert their independence, and the latter took advantage of their opportunity most enthusiastically. Alumni Field, Lord Hall, Wingate Hall, and the power house were the scene of numerous sophomore-freshman battles. The rope-pull, held on the field in front of Balentine, could hardly be said to have resulted in a victory for either side, but the superior numbers of the freshmen finally prevailed, in spite of the noble efforts of the sophomores with tear gas. A bonfire in the square at Orono marked the end of the struggle of the class of 1933 for independence, perhaps the last of its kind.

Class History Reveals Many Good Times and Successes

By EDNA GRANGE

September of 1929 was a red letter month for all the little Freshies who were not homesick. Freshman Week—Ugh!—What a week! Did we lick the Sophs in the Pajama Parade though—Well???

Our officers that we elected: Sam Calderwood, President; Swen Hallgren, Vice-President; Dorothy Findley, Secretary; Clark Abbott, Treasurer. This team meant unity and we needed it when Rising Day came—Remember? Tear bombs, fire in the old apartment shell—street cars discombobulated—police force out—bomb-fire in Main Street, Orono—and water! water! everywhere!

And do you remember what a frustration took place among the Eagles! The freshman girls said off with hats and foolishness and on with beauty and dignity.

Sophomore year came around. Sam Calderwood was elected President again with "Dick" Elliott as the V. P., Martha Smith as Secretary and Clark Abbott as Treasurer.

We took over the Pajama Parade and Rising Day. What a time! Our athletes began to stand out with big "M's". Guess we have a champion, too. Don't forget Freeman Webb and pole vaulting. Soph Hop—What a thrill!—No Freshmen allowed—Private Property—Keep off the grass!

The third year and dear old Sam with us again as President. Guess we couldn't find a better one! Harry Booth, Vice-President; Martha Smith, Secretary; and "Mel" Means, Treasurer.

This year has been most successful. We have felt ourselves as "big shots" on the campus, who must get ready to take on the dignity of Seniors.

And now comes Junior Week. Watch us shine!—Maybe I'm wrong but anyway you'll miss us from classes Friday.

CLOKE CALLS PROPOSED CURES FOR DEPRESSION "PLATITUDINOUS BUNK"

PLAYS FINAL ROLE

JOHN T. BARRY

MASQUE PRESENTS JUNIOR WEEK PLAY

John Barry Appears in Last
Major Role. Prof. Bailey
Plays Sir Tobey Belch

By DORIS HUTCHINSON

Junior Week activities were ushered in last night with the presentation of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" by the Maine Masque in Alumni Hall. This comedy, presented by a well chosen cast of veterans and newcomers to the Maine stage, marked the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Masque, which was founded in 1907, and proved a fitting tribute to the past achievements of the organization. Full of subtle humor and witticisms, "Twelfth Night" made a strong appeal to the audience, as the story of the loves of a duke and a girl rescued from the sea, the antics of an old drunkard and his cowardly friend, and the unforgettable Malvolio were dramatized.

In addition to directing the play, assisted by Herschel L. Bricker and D. W. Morris, Professor Mark F. Bailey appeared as Sir Tobey Belch, showing true dramatic skill in interpreting one of the great comic character parts of the play. His interpretation was all the more enjoyed as campus audiences seldom have an opportunity to see Professor Bailey on the stage. Two years ago he appeared as the Priest in Galsworthy's "Escape," but his last real appearance was in 1924 when he played Falstaff in "Merry Wives of Windsor," the last Shakespearean drama presented at Maine.

The work of Ruth Libby, a Freshman, who made her first appearance in Masque performances last night, deserves special mention. Her poised and effective rendering of the difficult part of Viola won the audience, as did her clear voice.

The majority of the other players have appeared in former Masque plays, and upheld their past reputations in last night's performance. Sylvia Hickson, a senior who starred in "Holiday" and excelled as the witness for the prosecution in "Ladies of the Jury," was more charming than

Dean Addresses Juniors At Chapel on "The Spirit of Youth"

"Research...in all phases of human activity...is the only one suggestion made so far to which hard-headed business men will agree as the cure and alleviator of economic, industrial, and political ills," stated Dean Paul Cloke in his address to Juniors in Chapel this morning. He points out in his speech, "The Spirit of Youth," that the young people of today are constantly in a state of flux and change. "...the present troubles cannot be laid so much to the mechanization of industry as to the failure of other phases of our national life to keep pace with these tremendous developments," says Dean Cloke. "The problems of the immediate future are sociological and political; therein lies the great challenge to the youth of the present day."

The Dean's address was delivered after Samuel Calderwood, Junior Class President, rendered his Salutatory Address. The program began with Chaplain John Wilson; Overture; Invocation; Calderwood's Salutatory Address; Dean Cloke's Address to Juniors; a hymn, prayer, and the singing of the Maine Stein Song concluded the Junior Chapel for 1932.

"Platitudinous bunk" is what Dean Cloke called most of the suggested cures for the national troubles:

"There are a great many suggestions and proposals being made these days for the alleviation and curing of economic, industrial and political ills. Most of these very readily come under what I would term 'platitudinous bunk.' There is only one suggestion made so far that hard-headed business men will agree is sensible and that is research, meaning, of course, not simply physical research but research in all phases of human activity. Honest labor laws and honest politicians would go a long way toward clearing the political atmosphere, and this would immediately reflect itself in every other phase of our national life."

In one of his statements Dean Cloke makes plain that he believes that today's young generation takes wider horizons and does not accept traditions without

MAINE REVIEW IS OUT; CONTENTS ARE DIVERSE

The May issue of The Maine Review was on sale on Thursday, May 5. This issue, the first to be published, contains articles by students and faculty, of interest to members of the University.

Dr. C. C. Little, former president of the University, has combined two of his major interests in the article "Youth and Politics." Lauris McGown of the College of Technology has written on "Amateur Radio," and W. E. Sherman on flying. Dean Elizabeth Foster has contributed a trilogy in the style of Eugene O'Neill, and Atwood Levensaler and Sylvia Hickson have done the dramatic criticisms. A review of a recent book on American, English, and German universities has been written by Dean Chase, and one on an exposé of the "advertising" methods of the power trusts, by Mr. Kirshen. John L. Cutler, Mr. John McE, Leslie Holdridge, and Mr. John Magee have contributed articles from their various fields of interest.

The publication of the magazine, which has been ready for the press for some time, was delayed by the difficulty of securing a business manager. Kenneth Foster now holds this position.

Scholarship Awards To Be Made Monday

The annual Scholarship Day of the University will be held Monday, May 9. Among the scholarships which will be awarded in Chapel on that day are: The Trustee Scholarships; William Emery Parker Scholarship; New York Alumni Association Scholarships; The Phi Mu Scholarship; The Pittsburgh Alumni Association Scholarship; The Joseph Rider Farrington Scholarship; The Stanley Plummer Scholarship; The Elizabeth Abbott Balentine Scholarship; The Class of 1905 Scholarship; The Phi Sigma Scholarship; Sigma Mu Sigma Award; The Deutscher Verein Prize; The Henry L. Griffin Prize in English Composition; Greek Culture Prize; The Kappa Psi Music Prize; The Senior Skull Scholarship Cup; The Pan-Hellenic Sorority Cup.

JUNIOR WEEK

Just as the Seniors have their Commencement Week and the Freshmen their Freshman Week, so the Juniors claim this week for themselves as Junior Week. In reality the so-called "week" is a week-end, but be it a month or a day, it belongs solely and absolutely to the Juniors.

Junior Week is a custom at Maine as well as at many other colleges throughout the country. It serves to bind the class together as a strong unit before they become the leaders of the school in their senior year. Outstanding members of the class, not only in athletics but also in other forms of extra-curricular activities, receive recognition for their deeds.

In order to make Junior Week more complete we have devoted this issue of The Campus to features concerning the feats of the Class of 1933 since it entered college in the fall of 1929. We hope that our contribution will add to the spirit of Junior Week.

MOTHERS' DAY

Sunday is Mothers' Day, one day out of the year set aside for special recognition of mothers throughout the country. In the rush of the final month of the college year students are likely to forget this event. Let us remember, and not only on this day but every day, let us do and be what our mothers would have us do and be.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS

The University is reputed to have one of the most beautiful campuses in the United States. There are two reasons for the truth of this statement. The first is that the natural setting is advantageous, and the second is that excellent care is given the landscape work. Though it is true that wider sidewalks would do a great deal toward preserving the lawns, nevertheless a little care on the part of students as to where they walk will keep our lawns in good condition.

MAINE TAKES MEET FROM SPRINGFIELD

The well-balanced Maine track team had little difficulty in defeating Springfield College 82½ to 52½. Saturday afternoon on Alumni Field in the first outdoor track meet of the season.

The Pale Blue piled up most of its points in the field events; Cal Fickett, Don Favor, and Alton Alley garnered 24 points with their brilliant performances, taking all three places in the discus and first in the javelin, shot, and hammer.

Gunning won the 2 mile run in spectacular style, while Booth who had previously won the mile, took second.

Floring was individual high point winner of the meet garnering 11 points with a first in the broad jump and seconds in both hurdles. As Maine has been weak in the hurdle events, Floring should prove valuable to the Pale Blue.

The summary:

100 Yard Dash—Won by Wheeler (S); second, Means (M); third, Haight (S). Time, 10 secs.

220 Yard Dash—Won by Haight (S); second, Means (M); third, Moulton (M). Time, 22 4-5 secs.

120 Yard High Hurdles—Won by Shaw (S); second, Floring (M); third, Holden (S). Time, 15 4-5 secs.

220 Yard Low Hurdles—Won by Shaw (S); second, Floring (M); third, Holden (S). Time, 25 2-5 secs.

440 Yard Dash—Won by Wendell (M); second, Jaeger (S); third, Timberlake (M). Time, 51 4-5 secs.

880 Yard Run—Won by Shaw (M); second, Brown (S); third, Williamson (M). Time, 1 min. 58 2-5 secs.

One Mile Run—Won by Booth (M); second, Olmstead (S); third, Tilden (S). Time, 4 mins. 36 secs.

Two Mile Run—Won by Gunning (M); second, Booth (M); third, Gibbs (S). Time, 10 mins. 7 2-5 secs.

Javelin—Won by Fickett (M); second, Knowlton (S); third, Hawks (S). Distance, 174 feet.

Hammer—Won by Favor (M); second, Gonzales (M); third, Rogers (M). Distance, 147 feet, 3 inches.

Pole Vault—Won by Havey (M); second, tie between Hathaway (M) and Farmer (S). Height, 11 feet, 8½ inches.

Shot Put—Won by Alley (M); second, Hawks (S); third, Fowler (S). Distance, 42 feet, ½ inch.

High Jump—Tie for first between Smith (S) and Prince (S); tie for third between Weeman (S) and Crandall (M). Height, 5 feet, 7¼ inches.

Discus—Won by Alley (M); second, Fickett (M); third, Favor (M). Distance, 127 feet, 11 inches.

Broad Jump—Won by Floring (M); second, Chase (M); third, Means (M). Distance, 21 feet, 5 inches.

The May breakfast, which was to have been held Sunday morning at Piney Knoll, was held at the M.C.A. building, because of bad weather. Mrs. Sweetman talked on "Human Relationships and Their New Significance." Dean Bean, who was spending the week end in Orono, was also present. She sang "The Gipsy Trail."

"Stubby" Burrill was chairman of the breakfast.

ever as the haughty Olivia. Hope Clark brought many laughs as the clever Maria who aided in the plot against the luckless Malvolio.

The poor, wronged Malvolio, played by Horace Porter, proved one of the most popular characters of the comedy. Harold Barrett, in the role of Fabian, one of the plotters, showed himself to be a comedian of great ability. John Barry, an old Masque favorite, made his last appearance on the Maine stage as Duke Orsino. F. Ludwig Long gave a fine interpretation of the part of Sir Andrew Aguecheek. Sir Toby's cowardly friend.

The complete cast of the play follows: Duke Orsino, John Barry; Valentine, Smith Ames; Curio, James McLean; Sir Toby Belch, Mark Bailey; Sir Andrew Aguecheek, F. Ludwig Long; Sebastian, Walter Hall; Antonio, Almon Cooper, Jr.; Friar, John Farnsworth; Malvolio, Horace Porter; Clown, John Willey; Fabian, Harold Barrett; Solanio, Armand Giguere; Roberto, Francis Morong; Viola, Ruth Libby; Olivia, Sylvia Hickson; Maria, Hope Clark; Pages, Margaret Humphrey and Effie Mayberry.

The stage was handled in a unique manner in that the scenes were set in the form of a large book, two youths appearing to open the proper pages before each scene, and the main action taking place on a raised platform. Another feature was the absence of waits between the acts and scenes, only one intermission of eight minutes coming between the third and fourth acts.

Credit for the effective presentation of "Twelfth Night" should be given not only to the actors, but to those behind the scenes as well. The scenery was designed by Mrs. Marcia Bailey, assisted by Helen Gilman, Hope Clark, and Wilbert Pronovost. The stage manager, Warren Kane, assisted by Wesley Wasgatt and Wilbert Pronovost, worked hard to make the performance a success, as did the property managers, Betty Barrows and John Bankus.

FRESHETTES WIN INDOOR APPARATUS MEET WITH 211

The annual class indoor apparatus meet took place in Alumni Gym Saturday morning. The line-up was as follows: juniors, Hanaburg, Moulton, Williams, Henry, Thompson, and West; sophomores, Cushing, Haney, Roderick, Allen, Young, Profit, and Zeitman; freshmen, Chase, Anderson, Sonnichsen, Campbell, Greenlaw, Holmes, and Johnson.

The freshmen class won the meet with 100 points for the buck, 75 for the horse, 19 for the rope, and 27 for the potato race. Their total score was 211. The sophomores came in second with the following scores: 75 for the buck, 50 for the horse, 21 for the rope, and 20 for the potato race, making a total of 166 points.

The meet was run off with Priscilla Nordin acting as clerk of course. The judges included Al Dyer, Dot Newman, Phil Webber, Bobby Lewis, Lib Hilliker, and Lee Ingerson.

Managerial Elections Take Place Tuesday

On May 10, from 9 A.M. to 3 P.M., elections of Managers and Assistant Managers for Track, Relay, Baseball, and Basketball will be held in Alumni Hall. The candidates are: Manager of Track (Vote for 1), R. S. Alden and S. L. Deane; Assistant Managers of Track (Vote for 2), C. A. Gilbert, R. H. Monroe, H. E. O'Connell, J. L. Porter, and J. S. Sabir; Manager of Relay (Vote for 1), R. L. Perry; Assistant Managers of Relay (Vote for 2), G. D. Carlisle, R. H. Monroe, and G. S. Getchell; Manager of Basketball (Vote for 1), R. W. questioning:

"There is an old saying that young men think old men are fools and that old men know that young men are. I wish to take issue with this statement, because it is very evident to me that there are considerable numbers of old men at the present time who do not realize that education and the outlook on life of young people are all in a state of flux and change. The great difference, it seems to me, between young people of my youth and the present is that now young people are not willing to accept statements without questioning; that is, tradition is no longer an ideal unless it can be proven. The educational system of the country shows the effect of this changing attitude since educators are allowing much greater freedom of choice in studies and are searching for means of pre-determining aptitudes and life work."

"Young men of from 22 to 25 years of age are greatly needed in executive positions at the present time," said the Dean in another part of his speech:

"I have talked with industrialists who are convinced that young men of from 22 to 25 years of age are greatly needed in executive positions at the present time. These men, however, are decidedly in the minority. Nevertheless, it shows a decided change in attitude of mind, as any such proposal a few years ago would have been considered rank heresy. Personally, I am certain that it is the courage, energy and honesty of youth that will get us out of the present slough of despond. I am equally certain, also, that no mere theorist who has never experienced the actual working conditions of labor by actual experience and contact will ever be able to get a solution to industrial problems or make any lasting contribution. Most of the great industrial leaders of the present day at some time during their lives have had the benefit of this experience and contact just mentioned."

"Several prominent men have endorsed the idea that many phases of our national life have failed to keep up with the growth of machines:

"It is now conceded by thinking people, both young and old, that the present troubles can not be laid so much to the mechanization of industry as to the failure of other phases of our national life to keep pace with these tremendous developments as has been so ably pointed out by Dean Pound of the Harvard Law School, Ogden Mills, Secretary of the Treasury, and Winston Churchill, the eminent British statesman."

"Youth is challenged by the problems of the immediate future," pointed out Dean Cloke:

"Briefly stated, the problems of the immediate future are sociological and political; therein lies the great challenge to the youth of the present day. Will some of them be able to equal the accomplishments of Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson, who almost single-handed were able to overturn the power of the predatory interests and to destroy machine politics in New Jersey and in New York State."

Dr. Roy M. Peterson delivered the monthly lecture before the Athene Club of Bangor, April 28, on the subject "Present-Day Spain."

Looks like them cozy Juniors had invited Ol' Mother Nature herself up for the big week-end. Oh Lawwood—the green, green grass—and the wobins—and the wiver bank—. If you're going a-campin' at Pushaw take along lots and lots of sandwiches and lots and lots of ginjah ayul and for particulars consult Blanning and Rosie—or most anybody for that matter.... Very serious pin-hanging eppydemick has busted out 'mongst the Phi Kappa Sigs—can't tell who's going to get that way next—step up ladeeze! And they used to be such good steady lads too.... And the galloping long-horn from Texas has finally been lassoed and corralled and is proving quite docile!!!!!! "A loaf of bread, a jug of wine" and—five little co-eds under a tree—and Omar himself couldn't do better!.... Big fire this week—ev'buddy out! Suspicious, these fires on Park street! Methinks said street was most appropriately named—and there are frogs out there too—if you care about frogs.... The Prisms come to light today and the great B.V.D. says he's glad he gets cuts that day—safety first you know—there are some big Juniors.... Watch those big-shot Juniors stroll unconsciously out of chapel this morning as though there warn't sech a thing as a Senior Skull in the world—at least they never heard of them!.... We hear the S.A.E.'s have devoted a whole room to a sort of picture gallery for the brothers' babes. Awfully nice of them—nice room too—great honor to be hung there.... We hope no shorn male is under the impression that his haircut is becoming and if she tells you it is, it must be love.... We got somewhat of a big week-end coming—Prom, of course, and that mystery orchestra, and treasure hunt and a few little things like that—and be sure and polish up the ol' boots and buckles for Saturday morning when you get the long once over from Lieut.-Col. Scott.

MAINE DEBATERS WILL MEET MIDDLEBURY HERE

The University of Maine debating team will debate Middlebury College in the Chapel of Alumni Hall on Tuesday evening at 7:30 P.M., May 10. Boothby and Rapaport will uphold the affirmative of the question, "Resolved, that Congress should enact legislation providing for the centralized control of industry."

On the same evening Kaplan and Smith will debate Bowdoin at Brunswick. The Maine men will uphold the negative of the question, "Resolved, that Capitalism as an economic institution is unsound in principle." These debates will be the last ones of the season.

SOPHS AND FROSH TIE FOR FIRST IN TOURNNEY

The last volley ball game of the season was played April 23, when the sophomores and freshmen tied for first place in the tournament, in a fast but close game. The first year co-eds came out victorious 59-50. The line-up is as follows:

Sophomores: Lord, Haney, Young, Jalbert, Myers, Coy, Cummings, Zeitman, and Allen.

Freshmen: Willard, McLellan, Holmes, Todd, A. Crowley, Wilhelm, Dunn, Rowe, F. Johnson, P. Johnson, and Sonnichsen.

MAINE BEATS BOWDOIN IN SERIES OPENER, 7-6

The seventh inning lived up to all its traditions at Alumni Field in the opening State Series ball game between Maine and Bowdoin last Friday as the Pale Blue, trailing 4-3, tallied three times when Walker, the Bowdoin pitcher, weakened and made two wild tosses and Kiszonak hit a triple. Maine finally won out 7-6.

The Bricemen scored again in the eighth and relief pitcher Nutting put down a threatening Bowdoin rally in the ninth by striking out Lewis, visiting catcher, with the bases full, and two out and Maine leading 7-6.

Romansky started on the slab for Maine, but was replaced by Nutting in the seventh. Ray Smith hit a home run in the first inning with Hallgren on base. Kiszonak and McCabe led the artillery for the varsity with the former getting three hits.

TO PRESENT THREE ACT COMEDY NEXT THURSDAY

"Once There Was a Princess," a comedy in three acts, will be presented Thursday, May 12, in Alumni Hall by the play production class. The cast includes several players who have had previous experience in Masque roles. The setting is laid in a small, quiet, and neighborly small American town and the plot has to do with the expected arrival of an Italian princess who comes but is not recognized as such until she dons royal attire and acts her part.

The freshman tracksters continued their march towards a successful outdoor track season by swamping Portland last Saturday with a score of 93 to 32. Although no records were broken, a good showing was made in all events.

At a recent meeting of the Student Branch of A.I.E.E., the following officers were elected for next year: chairman, J. P. Gonzals; vice-chairman, G. O. Frost; secretary, G. W. Scott; treasurer, F. M. Neal; counselor, W. E. Barrows.

Juniors Are an Important Part of All Varsity Teams; Had Powerful Frosh Class

Since entering their freshman year the junior class has contributed outstanding athletes in all branches of sports at Maine who are at present figuring largely in the athletic achievements of the Pale Blue teams. In their first year the juniors went through the cross country, football, and track seasons undefeated and lost but two games in baseball. They have continued their great work and are now important cogs in the varsity teams.

Munny Romansky is a leading pitcher on the baseball team and is expected to turn in his share of victories in the state series. For two years he has been fullback on the varsity and is noted for his spinner plays. Munny also played forward on the frosh basketball team.

The iron track man of Coach Jenkins' outfit is Harry Booth, who runs both the one and two mile events in a track meet and shines in both. Harry is by far Maine's best miler and also the outstanding cross-country man. During the winter Booth still finds time to compete in winter sports.

Johnny Wilson was quarterback on last year's championship football team and his fiery chatter in games led his mates on to greater efforts. "Speed" is known as a brainy signal barker and always seemed to call the right plays. In his freshman year he earned four sets of numerals.

Selected as "All Maine" guard, Sam Calderwood is one of Coach Brice's most dependable football men. Sam is a bear on the defense and very few gains could be made through his position.

The outstanding baseball catcher in the state is Clark Abbott. Pitchers have little to worry about with Clark behind the plate, who is a big, steady influence. Besides possessing an accurate throwing arm, Clark has a wonderful knack of handling pitchers.

Mel Means specializes in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and has met but one defeat thus far this season in the century, having beaten the best dashmen in the state. He is also a halfback on the football team.

Julius Pike is considered by Coach Brice as his most reliable lineman on the football team. The giant tackle leads most of interference for the backs and very few plays by opposing teams are directed towards his position. He is known as the "Sixty minute man."

One of the smoothest working shortstops in New England is Swen Hallgren. Swen is all over the baseball diamond and can always be counted on to snare any hit in his territory. On the baseball trip this season Swen led the Maine batters with an average of .470.

One of the best pole vaulters to enter Maine in years is Freeman Webb, state champion pole vaulter. Webb has scaled 12 feet 6 inches and is also Coach Jenkins' best bet in the high jump.

Alton Alley is a leading Pale Blue weight man in track and he attained his greatest achievement when he broke the 16 pound shot record at the Maine-Bates dual track meet last winter at Lewiston. Al is also a point man in the discus and hammer throw.

Herbie Lewis, veteran second baseman, is another reason why Maine is represented by a crack baseball team. Herbie covers the keystone sack in great fashion and handles everything that comes his way. He is an end on the football team and a hard tackler.

Showing improvement in every meet he has entered, Russ Shaw is now the leading half miler on the track outfit. Contrary to expectations, Russ has filled the gap in the 880 left by graduation and last week ran a 1'59" half mile against Springfield to win first place. Russ is also a varsity cross-country man.

Mac McKiniry was a member of the undefeated relay team and had the reputation of being the fastest starter. Mac runs the quarter mile in the regular track season and bids to be heard from this season.

Discovered to be a pitcher of excellent calibre, Hal Hall was converted from an outfielder by Coach Brice into a hurler and has strengthened the pitching staff considerably. In a slab dual at Connecticut Aggies, Hal won his first victory in a well pitched game.

Robbie Robertshaw was inserted in a state series football game at fullback due to an injury by the regular fullback and turned out to be a natural line plunger. In fact, he played so prominent a part in the rest of the series that he was unanimously selected as "All Maine" fullback. Much is predicted for Robbie next year.

Rising from obscurity, El Moulton was uncovered as an excellent track man during the indoor season and he set up a new school record in the 300 yard dash. Moulton then made the relay team and is also a capable 100 yard performer.

Bob Pendleton is another trackster who is counted on for points. Bob specializes in the quarter mile and runs the relay. In his sophomore year he made his letter as a member of the cross-country team.

Working himself up to a regular position on the varsity football team, Frank Craig ended Maine's worries for a capable tackle. Frank played steady football last year and many gains were made through the holes opened by his hard playing.

John Gonzals made his letter on the track team as a weight performer and

SPORTS SPIELS

By BOB BERG

That ninth inning between Bowdoin and Maine certainly provided as an intense and dramatic an inning as could be asked for. With the score 7-6 in Maine's favor, three Bowdoin men on base, two outs and the count three and two on the batter, anything might have happened. But Nutting, calm and undaunted, rose to great heights and whizzed a perfect strike across the heart of the plate to end the ball game.

True competitive spirit was displayed on the part of Harry Booth in the Springfield meet in the two mile run. Fighting for second place, Booth managed to pull away from the visitors' two miler, Gibbs, while rounding the last curve. But here Booth desired to still make a close race of it and slowed his pace slightly, urging Gibbs to come up to him, which the latter did. Then both boys made a final spurt for the tape, with Booth winning out.

One of the most satisfying results to Coach Jenkins in Maine's clean cut victory over Springfield College, must have been the great running in the half mile by Russ Shaw. Through Steve Mank's graduation last year, Coach Jenkins believed it improbable to find a good 880 man to fill the gap.

With such former stars as Rip Black, Bill Gowell, Pat French, Lindsay, Ray White, Charlie O'Connor, and others signifying their intentions of running in the Alumni-Varsity track meet the dual affair this Saturday afternoon promises to offer some real entertainment.

DO YOU INHALE?

Why is this vital question so much avoided by other cigarettes?

EVER since Lucky Strike created that special process for purifying fine tobacco and told the full facts about cigarette smoking—the industry has been in an uproar. For Lucky Strike has dared to mention things that were considered "taboo" in the cigarette trade.

You may have noticed a striking avoidance generally of the word "inhale" in cigarette advertising. Why? Goodness only knows! For everybody inhales—knowingly or unknowingly! Every smoker breathes in some part of the smoke he or she draws out of a cigarette.

That's why it's all-important to be certain that your cigarette smoke is pure and clean—to be sure you don't inhale certain impurities.

Do you inhale? Lucky Strike has dared to raise this vital question—for it gives you the protection you want... because certain impurities concealed in even the finest, mildest tobacco leaves are removed by Luckies' famous purifying process. Luckies created that process. Only Luckies have it!
