STUDENTS, FACULTY CONSIDER PROPOSAL FOR HONOR SYSTEM

Group of Thirty Meets At Camp Jordan Outing

3 DISCUSSIONS HELD

Committee of 5 Appointed To Make Plans for Completion of Project

With the scenic splendor of a Maine camp nestled in the woody depths of Ellsworth as a setting for a week-end gathering, thirty students and faculty of the University spent most of Saturday and Sunday at Camp Jordan.

The group met with the purpose of discussing an honor system which might be possible to incorporate into the University of Maine educational program. After the course of three discussions, in which faculty members as well as students voiced their views, a type of honor program was drawn up with a committee in charge, placed with the responsibility of putting the proposed plan across to the student body. If sanctioned by the students the plan may be put into actual working order in the future.

The group felt that the meeting was a great success and if this success can be carried through to the end, the members will feel confident that they have contributed something of great value to the University of Maine.

The elected committee whose duty it is to put this project across to the student body is made up of Brice H. Jose, chairman, Fred C. Burk, John Sealey, Edward DeCourcy, and Paul Langlois.

Among those who took the trip are: Dean James Muilenburg, Dean Paul Cloke, Dr. William Gilliland, Dr. G. W. Small, Dr. A. L. Fitch, Dr. R. B. Levinson, Dr. G. B. Fundenburg, Professor Ernest Jackman, James Moreland, Weston Evans, and Herschel Bricker, of the faculty; Donald Stewart, Wilbur Hagan, Edward DeCourcy, Paul Langlois, Brice Jose, Howard Stevens, Raymond Gailey, Clarence Wadsworth, Fred Burk, John Sealey, Joseph Hotz, Richard Adams, Russell Shaw, William Bratton, Henry Conklin, Leroy Burton, Kenrick Sparrow, Frank Chadwick, Maurice Duncan, Robert Chittick, George Howard, Harold Green, of the student body, and Mr. Cecil G. Fielder, secretary of the M.C.A.

S.P.E.E. To Hold Annual Meeting at U. of M. Sat.

The New England section of the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education will hold its annual fall meeting at the University of Maine, October 8th. There will be a general get-together at 9:00 A.M. in Wingate Hall, followed by an inspection of the campus. The opening session will be at 2:00 P.M. at 305 Aubert Hall. The subject will be "Educational Preparation for Creative Technical Leadership." The two main speakers will be Professor Robert E. Doherty, Professor of Electrical Engineering, Yale University and Dean Vannevar Bush, Vice-President and Dean of Engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology. At 6:30 P.M. at the Bangor House in Bangor there will be a banquet followed by an address by Professor J. H. Huddleston, entitled "The Engineer's Responsibilities to the New Architecture." The price of the banquet is $1.50. Everyone is welcome to the afternoon sessions. Those desiring banquet tickets should inform Dean Cloke at once.

SUCCESS PREDICTED AS BAND MEMBERS REPORT

About eighty men have registered in the band for this year. Frank Waterhouse, S.A.E., is acting as band leader, and Donald Nelder, Sigma Nu, is drum major. Kenneth Pullen, Sigma Nu, has been elected manager for the year.

Arrangements are being made for a radio broadcast over the Columbia system, which may take place sometime during the winter. A trip is also being planned for the winter that will extend through Aroostook County or through Lewiston and Portland. The band will accompany the team to Brunswick for the Bowdoin-Maine football game, November 5.

Fall Semester Registration Is 3.7% Below Last Year's; 12% Was Error

Registration at the University of Maine for the fall semester, 1932, is not 12% lower than that for the fall semester of last year, as was erroneously stated in last week's Campus, but is 3.7% lower. The article in last week's issue compared the registration up to and including September 20 with the entire enrollment for last year, obviously a false comparison.

Registration for the fall semester, 1932, totals 1521, and registration for the same period last year was 1580, a difference of only 59 students, which, considering existing conditions throughout the country, is very good.

A true comparison of this year's with last year's registration may be drawn from the following figures:

	Fall 1931	Fall 1932
Graduates	27	43
Seniors	293	339
Juniors	386	322
Sophomores	380	362
Freshmen	468	430

OWLS INTRODUCE 9 FROSH TO METHODS IN VOGUE AT MAINE

Result Is Frosh Clean Campus and Give Matches to Upper Classmen

The Owls are at it again. Nine luckless freshmen were invited to attend a meeting of the Sophomore Owl Society at Alumni Hall on Tuesday evening. As a result several freshmen have been seen about the campus keeping the grounds clean by picking cigarette butts. Another was distributing matches to upper classmen along the walks to Stevens Hall yesterday. These lads carried tin cans in which to put the refuse they picked up or from which to take the matches they were to give to the upper classmen.

The offenses for which the boys were called to the meeting were of a minor character, according to a member of the Owl Society. It was for this reason, he said, that there were no free hair cuts distributed. According to a representative of the Owls there is to be strict enforcement of the Freshman Rules this year, since he intimated that the enforcement officers will be free in their scissors work.

A delay in the shipment of hats to the Book Store has provided the frosh with valid excuses until recently, but from now on they will have to wrack their brains rather brilliantly in order to get away with traveling about the campus without a cap.

According to the Owls, Tuesday's frosh victims had committed crimes of slight character, such as unthinkingly talking to co-eds, who were acquaintances of theirs. Some of the boys had assumed the character of "wise-guys."

The boys who were introduced to the reign of the paddle Tuesday night were: Raymond Sanborn, Robert Cabene, Benjamin Blackwell, Charles Costa, Alfred Rottenberg, Robby Horn, Eugene Wakely, Dana Sidelinger, and Chester Woodman.

"Campus" To Adopt New Type of Paper

Beginning with the next issue, the Campus will be printed on news print, in order to make it more modern and more nearly a newspaper. Opinions of whether readers think the change a good one or not, will be welcomed in letters to the Editor.

We suggest, however, that readers wait until they have seen three or four issues, on the new paper, before forming an opinion.

Dr. Mary Ellen Chase Has Book Published

Dr. Mary Ellen Chase of Blue Hill, Me., a graduate of the University of Maine, is honored by having her latest book, "A Goodly Heritage" published. Dr. Chase got her B.A. from Maine in 1909, her M.A. at the University of Minnesota in 1918 and Ph.D. there also in 1920. She is at present the head of the English Department at Smith College, and is a member of the Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority.

"A Goodly Heritage" is historical and presents the home life of a typical New England family in her own native coast town, Blue Hill. The book is illustrated with wood cuts of the Maine coast made by Maitland de Gorgorza of the Smith College Art Department and are considered an exceptionally fine piece of work. Dr. Chase has written a great many books previous to her latest and has published numerous short stories in Harper's, Atlantic Monthly, and Pictorial Review.

She is an Alpha Omicron Pi.

Miss Barrows, also an A. O. Pi, was a Sophomore Eagle, was Women's Sports Editor of the Campus, a member of the Women's Student Government, co-captain of the Girls' Rifle Team, freshman chairman of the Y.W.C.A., a member of the Maine Masque, a member of the M. O.C., Sodality Latina, and took part in the All Maine Women pageant in her freshman and sophomore years.

Campus Improved by Summer Alterations

Old Buildings Removed in Few Places and New Greenhouse Erected. To Build Sidewalk

During the past summer many improvements were made about the campus. Several old buildings which have long been regarded as unsightly and unnecessary, have been removed, and the vacant places grassed over.

The old formal garden in the rear of Merrill Hall has been removed; the shrubs being replanted elsewhere on the campus; and the plot grassed over. The wooden building between Colvin Hall and Dean Corbett's home, formerly the residence of Mr. T. S. Morton, ex-superintendent of buildings, has been razed. The hose house in the rear of the Maples has been removed, and also the hose house alongside the Print Shop.

Only one new building, a greenhouse for the Experiment Station, has been erected. This was built on the farmroad near the other Experiment Station greenhouses.

The field for the new baseball diamond has been drained and leveled, but it is doubtful if it will be ready for next spring. The road opposite Sigma Nu and Theta Chi has been straightened during the past two weeks. The work was completed for traffic yesterday. A sidewalk will be placed on the west side of the road this spring.

DR. HATFIELD SPEAKS AT STUDENT FORUM SUN.

Miss Lillian Hatfield of the psychology department will speak at the Student Forum at the Wesley House Sunday evening at 7:30. "Social Standards Brought Up to Date," her subject, should provoke an interesting forum discussion. Last Sunday night forty-five students enjoyed an inspiring talk by Dean Muilenburg on "The Paradox of a Near and Far God." All students are invited to the Fellowship Hour and luncheon at the Wesley House every Sunday evening at 6:30 and to the Student Forum at 7:30.

Anyone wishing an inoculation for colds or typhoid is requested to call at the Health Service at 30 Coburn and make an appointment.

Thirty-six Sons and Daughters of Alumni Register in Freshman Class

The list of freshmen enrolled this year, whose parents are alumni of the University, compiled by the Alumni Secretary's Office, shows a total of 36 such students, twenty-four men, and twelve women. This number is thought to be the largest number of sons and daughters of Maine alumni ever to register in one class.

The list follows:

Rudy Vallee To Be At Worcester Grid Show

Rudy Vallee has notified the Worcester Alumni Association that he will attend the Holy Cross-Maine game there Saturday and will attend the evening banquet, according to a notice received here by Alumni Secretary Charles E. Crossland this week. Whether or not the famed orchestra leader will speak or take part in the program at Worcester was not stated in the notice received here from the Worcester Association.

WORCESTER ALUMNI PLANNING ROUND UP FOR SATURDAY NIGHT

To Hold Meeting and Banquet After Maine-Holy Cross Game Sat.

University of Maine alumni in Worcester and vicinity are planning a big meeting to be held in Worcester the night of the Holy Cross-Maine game next Saturday, October 8. Tickets for this game have been received at Orono and are on sale at the office of the faculty manager of athletics and the alumni secretary.

This round up of Maine alumni is being arranged by a committee of the Worcester County Alumni Association but is being promoted cooperatively by four alumni associations located in Worcester, Hartford, Springfield, and Providence.

Plans have been made for a banquet at 6 o'clock at the Bancroft Hotel following which Theodore S. Curtis, faculty manager of athletics, Fred Brice, coach of football, and Stanley Wallace, trainer and professor of physical education, are to speak. It is hoped also that some, if not all of the varsity football team may attend this gathering. Reservations for this banquet should be made with the alumni secretary. The tickets which the Worcester County alumni have secured for this occasion are located on the west side of the field on the 50 yard line.

Both the business and editorial staffs of the publication will be completely organized in the near future and will begin their work immediately. Edward H. Kelley, comptroller of the University, will act as faculty adviser.

MARAUDERS RAID 7 HOUSES ON CAMPUS EARLY LAST FRIDAY

Fraternities Hit Report Losses Totalling Nearly $300

NO CLUES ARE FOUND

Sigma Chi and Phi Kappa Are Heavy Losers in 4th Episode This Year

Nocturnal marauders robbed seven fraternity houses of nearly $300 in the early hours of last Friday morning. This is the fourth crime of this character of the calendar year, netting the thieves a total of more than $1300 in money and clothing.

Sigma Chi and Phi Kappa seem to have suffered the most, each having lost between $75 to $100 Friday. Kappa Sigma, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Phi Eta Kappa, and Lambda Chi Alpha were the other victims of the recent raid. The Orono police force is now working on the case, although the thieves apparently left no clues. The police believe that it is the work of two or more persons outside of the student body.

Apparently nothing but cash was taken this time. The students found their desks and clothes ransacked when they arose

Bucher Will Talk In Mon. Assembly

To Give Two Addresses; One In Morning and One In Evening

John George Bucher, F.R.G.S., will give two talks in chapel Monday. The first of these, on the poet Goethe, in honor of the centennial of his death, will be held at nine-thirty and will be illustrated by slides on the many phases of Goethe's life.

"Germany of Today" will be Mr. Bucher's subject for the evening program at seven-thirty. Motion pictures and slides are to be used to show the artistic and the material side of modern Germany. There is no admission charge.

Last December Mr. Bucher, under the auspices of Der Deutscher Verein, was here on the campus and gave an address on "The Romance of Germany."

Prof. Jordan Member of Solar Eclipse Expedition

Associate Professor Maynard F. Jordan of the department of mathematics and astronomy was a member of the Perkins Observatory party from Ohio Wesleyan University stationed at Douglas Hill near Cornish for the purpose of observing the eclipse of the sun on August 31.

Professor Jordan arrived at Douglas Hill on August 14 when the first preparations were being made and remained until September 1. Professor Jordan took the U. of M. telescope with him and had a special lens made, to assist in taking photographs of the ultra-violet rays of the corona, and other unknown features that are suspected to be present in the corona.

Professor Jordan assisted in building dark rooms for developing photographs, and in the making of cement piers for the telescope. Unfortunately, clouds obscured the eclipse in that section of Maine, and all the preparations were useless.

Professor Harley Willard also of the mathematics department, spent the last three days before the eclipse with the eclipse observation party.

PROF. FREEMAN SHOWS GAIN AFTER OPERATION

Professor M. E. Freeman of the College of Agriculture was stricken with appendicitis during the last week of August while on his way to his home in Minnesota. He was at Madison, Wisconsin at the time, and was compelled to remain there for an operation. He has improved as well as can be expected since the operation.

The case was so serious that Professor Freeman could not continue his journey to his home. His latest correspondence with Dean Merrill stated that he would be back on campus about October 7.

Our Problem

Unfortunately for the University of Maine and the United States, the average student seems to be unaware of the seriousness of cheating in examinations and other forms of work for which the student receives credit.

To point out the effect that this practice has on the one who does the cheating would seem superfluous. Surely every one realizes that the man is cheating himself, first by allowing himself to get the habit of dishonesty, and second by getting credit for work he has not done. His ability will be judged on this credit later in life, and he will be unable to fulfill the expectations of his employer.

The side of the story that most people fail to realize is that the cheater is not harming himself alone, but every student in the University. The temporarily successful cheater raises his own rank and in so doing raises the standard of ranking of the University. Therefore the honest student, who is probably more capable than the dishonest one, receives a lower rank than he deserves. Since ranks play an important part in the life of the student after graduation, this is a serious situation.

The man who cheats, therefore, is one who acts without realization of the effect of his action on his fellowmen. He is out to get what he can for himself with no consideration of others, and in so doing he robs others of credit due them. He not only takes undue credit, but also harms the honest student's chance of success in later life.

This idea of one's getting what he can for himself without regard for others is not peculiar to students at Maine or to students anywhere. It is an idea that permeates American life in general, and has already proven itself dangerous. The prevalent scheme of running things in America seems to be: whenever you find anything wrong, pass a law against it, let the police enforce the law, and then go ahead and see how often you can break that law without getting caught. Unless corrected, this scheme is bound, sooner or later, to be a factor in the downfall of the country.

There is a definite relationship between cheating in college and one's getting away with what he can in after life. The former is the embryo of the latter. Also they both have the same effect in that in both cases honest people suffer because of circumstances over which they have no control.

What are we, the students of the University of Maine, going to do about it?

The impression should not be received from the story in last week's Campus concerning the students who played in "There's Always Juliet" presented during the summer, that the play was presented by the Maine Masque. It was presented by a group of students, who happened to be members of the Masque, and was presented through the cooperation of Mr. Goldsmith, manager of the Strand Theatre, in Orono.

Would it not be well to have the American flag flying from the pole in Alumni Field on the days of football games?

The name of Max Fitch of Orono who received the highest rank in the state wide scholarship contest conducted last year, and who received the four year scholarship, the longest one awarded, was omitted, through an error, from the list of winners in this contest published last week.

The contest, on the results of which these scholarships were awarded, was conducted by the School of Education under the direction of Dean O. S. Lutes.

A meeting of Kappa Gamma Phi, honorary journalistic society, will be held tonight in the Campus office.

Dear Mr. Editor

There is no need of my saying that we are in the midst of one of the severest economic depressions in our history. Every person has been affected by this condition. This is especially true of college students throughout the United States. Many colleges have cooperated with the needy students by permitting them to pay for their tuition, books, and board in monthly installments. Some universities and colleges have even accepted live stock in trade for tuition.

Here at the University of Maine there is one particular requirement which is far from cooperation in these days of depression. Every freshman and sophomore who is taking military drill must give a cash deposit for his uniform of thirty dollars. At a very conservative estimate, I would say that this means between ten and fifteen thousand dollars are being kept by the University for nine months. Since this cash deposit is held merely as a security for the military uniform, would it not be just as satisfactory to give the university a note or a bond of $30? I am certain that the majority of the students could make good use of this money by making it help pay for their tuition. In the name of business principles, the University should at least pay interest on that ten or fifteen thousand dollars. I tried to defer my payment of $30 for three weeks, and I was told that it would cost me 6% interest. Just think, I had to pay 6% interest for $30 for three weeks, while the University holds my $30 for 9 months minus interest.

I appeal to the student body of this university to Protest, through the Student Senate, against such an unreasonable requirement.

Dear Sir:

It has come to my attention from many sides that there are never enough girls at the stag dances to accommodate the stag line. More and more young men are dropping from the stag list and are going to public dances. Now why aren't there more girls at our college dances? Did it ever occur to anyone that fifty cents is quite a price to ask a girl? Everywhere in the summer, girls are admitted to dances for twenty-five cents. Why should we charge more and make many girls unable to go? Why not keep our boys and girls at our own college dances instead of driving them to other places?

PROF. HILL AWARDED ENGINEERING DEGREE

Professor A. S. Hill of the Electrical Engineering Department has recently been awarded the Degree of Master of Science in Electrical Engineering by the University of Michigan. Professor Hill has been working toward this degree for several summers past. His thesis was an exhaustive and pioneer investigation of the problem of the ventilation of fan cooled motors.

Mr. Donald M. Allen, U. of M. 1928, formerly sanitary engineer at Bucksport, was a visitor on the campus October 1. Mr. Allen is now City Manager at Fort Fairfield.

Frosh Gridmen To Take On Bridgton

The freshman football team will play its first game of the year against Bridgton Academy at Alumni Field this Saturday.

The starting line-up will probably be as follows: Smith and Doherty, ends; Golobski and Sidelinger, tackles; Breslaw and Frame, guards; Costa, center; Pruett, quarter, and Littlehale, Downey, and Vermilyea, backs. Others who are sure to see action before the final whistle are Mills, Adams, and Sargent in the back-field, and Reed at center. Coach Jones will use as many others as possible in this game, as his first team has not yet been definitely selected.

There are about forty-five men on the freshman squad this year, nearly all of whom have played on their high and prep-school teams, so a successful season is looked forward to.

The freshmen have engaged in several scrimmages during the past few days against the Junior Varsity team and against Old Town High, and have showed up well against both teams.

Friday morning. The exact time of the thefts is, of course, unknown, but 2.30 A.M. to 5.00 A.M. seem to be the limits in which it was done. At Phi Eta Kappa, students sleeping on the second floor heard sounds about 3.30 A.M. No investigation was made as it was supposedly another student. At Phi Kappa, there are definite indications that the robbery took place after 4.00 A.M.

The individual house losses are as follows:

Sigma Chi: a total of $75 to $100. Some of the heavy losers were: Richard Johnson, $25; Ernest Curtin, $20; William Butler, $10.50.

Phi Kappa: a total of $90 to $100. John Farnsworth, $25; Charles Leveroni, $22, and varying smaller amounts. Only the front rooms of the house were molested.

Kappa Sigma: a total of about $35. Losers include Peter Karalekas, $9; Marcus Hallenbeck, $8; Omar Pease, $5, and small change.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon: totalling approximately $30. Francis Morong lost $17 and William Bessom was minus $6.50. Several others lost smaller amounts.

Phi Eta Kappa: a sum of $10.35. Andrew Watson, $9, and Harry Booth, $1.35. The thief opened the door of one of the rooms in which students were sleeping. He evidently realized his position and left the house immediately, as there were but two thefts.

Lambda Chi Alpha: approximately $10 missing. Only two or three rooms were entered.

Delta Tau Delta: a total of $12. Wesley Bearce, $3.75; Ray Gailey, $1.75; Prescott Ward, $3; and Ambrose Kezar, $2. Donald Blake heard a car come in the parking space in the rear of the house, and investigated with a flashlight, but the intruders fled before they could be apprehended.

At a recent election in Balentine Hall, Lee Ingerson '34, an A O Pi, was selected as fire chief, and Evelyn Gleason '32, member of A O Pi, was appointed chairman of the social committee.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

COOL NIGHTS are beginning to overtake us with the result that the Library is becoming a popular place and studying is becoming unpopular. . . . He must have a guilty conscience that fellow. Nobody accused him of being all wet, yet he goes around continually playing "How Dry I Am." . . . These big handsome juniors who protest to their major instructor because they have too heavy a schedule, must feel foolish when they meet that instructor three times a day, and he sees them with a co-ed hanging sweetly to one arm. . . . Rumor and li'l birdies tell us that the Owls had a li'l party Tuesday night with ten or eleven frosh as invited guests. Perhaps they enjoyed themselves. . . . An' while we're on this subject of freshmen, they tell us of one who spent the night in Bangor not long ago and while walking in his sleep wandered out the front door of his host's home in his pajamas. The wind slammed the door shut, it locked, he waked, and spent the rest of the night sitting on the porch in his pajamas. Bad things to teach these frosh, these nightshirt parades. . . . Not to wander from parades, a new record was set in parades last week, when Georgie (center) Cobb engaged in his third. . . . This beautiful lady, Dame Rumor, reports that Brice (Spindly Shanks) Jose, smokes a certain brand of cigarette to keep kissable. . . . Even Phi Betes don't enjoy being called fowls. One, while riding with friend fiancée, passed a place where there were many hens. Sir Boy friend called her attention to them thus: "Oh, chicken, look at all the sweethearts." . . . One of the wee sma' feetzawl players had a hang-over from the Night Shirt Parade, and went to work on Milt (flash) MacBride, just after the lad had done some good work in football. Brother Owl Honer, fortunately, had a pair of pants that would fit the embarrassed lad, and all was well, except that a few persons in the stands smiled. . . . Page the Darwinian-looking individual who delights in grabbing the co-eds' arms just outside the library! It's getting so a co-ed can't do any outside reading now, unless she has her own "masculine protection," says E. P. (Ev Pollard) who ought to know. . . . Queer animals, these co-eds. They pay but little attention to handsome men at college, but four of them must needs trot off to Bostong, there to see, hear, touch, and talk to the Hahmahdewinhey Boys, named Mills. . . . There was much gnashing of hair and tearing of teeth in the Campus office this week when the society department grew weak. Hark, Hark, the Eagles bark, Gerry Perkins is back in town. . . . Current opinion is that yellow ties and blue shirts are a poor combination, even for actors. . . . A pair of headlights was seen approaching from the orchard road the other night. Result: less apples in the orchard. . . . Watch those co-eds rush to Alumni Hall tomorrow night. Have you not heard? The Heck Club is letting the first ten in free. . . . Ossie was on time at the Library the other night, and believe it or not, was without Hess. . . . How are you betting on which side of Stevens Hall will be finished first?

The second annual Alumni Homecoming will be held at the University of Maine Oct. 28-29, in connection with the last home football game of the season. The event this year will extend into two days, rather than one as last year.

Professor Charles P. Weston, class of 1896, is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for this event which is promoted cooperatively by the University and the General Alumni Association. Theodore S. Curtis '23, faculty manager of athletics and Maynard Hincks '32, assistant to the dean of men, are the other members of the committee.

The chief events of the Homecoming will be the Alumni-Faculty luncheon scheduled to be held at twelve o'clock, Saturday noon, October 29 and at which a prominent alumnus will be the speaker. The Homecoming program will close with the Colby-Maine football game which is held that afternoon.

CAMPUS SHEIKS CROWD CHATEAU SATURDAY NITE

Several of the U. of M. students decided Saturday night that they must top off "Our victory" in a "Big Way," therefore many of them were seen at the Chateau in Bangor.

There were not as many fellows there as usual, but the couples. Oh my!! Those Phi Eta's were they well represented or were they? There were seven of them there sporting fair damself. Then too there were several Lambda Chi's and of course the Beta's held their own, and nearly all the other houses were represented to say nothing of the sororities and Frosh.

It is rumored that the music was good and everyone had a "grand time"!!

Pointing the way to the advertised brand

Many a "sale" made by advertising has gone to a competitor because the purchaser did not know where to buy the advertised brand. Telephone men evolved a plan to make it easy to find.

They created a "Where to Buy It" service in the classified telephone directory. There—beneath the advertised trade marks—Buick, Goodrich, RCA Victor, General Electric and many others now list authorized local dealers. Thus telephone men complete the chain between advertiser and consumer—help manufacturers and dealers to increase sales—help consumers to get what they want!

Because they apply vision to subscribers' problems, Bell System men continually increase the value of telephone service.

Chi Omega sorority held its annual fall picnic at the Ledges Monday night, October 3. Hot dogs, cheese, coffee and doughnuts were served by the sophomores. Eleanor Gowan was in charge, with "Betty" Wilhelm and "Lee" Blackington assisting.

After supper everyone gathered around the fire and sang Chi Omega songs until it was time to adjourn to Stevens Hall for the regular formal meeting.

Eleanor Burnham, Lee Blackington, Buckie Sawyer, and Lucille Simpson motored to Boston last Friday in order to attend the play, Green Pastures, now showing at the Colonial Theatre. While there they also heard the famous Mills Brothers' Quartet at the Metropolitan. They returned to campus Sunday.

S. A. E. held one of the first vic parties of the season Saturday with about 10 couples present. Refreshments of cider and doughnuts were served. Mrs. McCullum chaperoned and Lefty Nunn was in charge of the arrangements.

Robertshaw Crashes Through Three Times for Touchdowns; Maine Gets 25 First Downs

Coach Fred Brice's Pale Blue grid squad again displayed its superiority over its opponents when it defeated the Connecticut Aggie eleven last Saturday by the score of 33-0.

Gil Robertshaw, star fullback, playing his first game of the season, scored three of the touchdowns for Maine with his smashing rushes through center. Milt MacBride and Prinn divided the honors for second place, each scoring one touchdown. Johnny Wilson scored two points by placement kicks in two out of four tries, and Bunny Anderson, sophomore quarterback, sent the pigskin sailing over the bars after the fourth touchdown for the Bears.

During the entire struggle Maine garnered twenty-five first downs while the visiting Nutmeggers were able to obtain only one. The Pale Blue line held like a stone wall, while the backfield took advantage of the holes made in the Connecticut line.

Maine's march to victory began in the first period when Wilson tossed a fifteen yard pass to Kec Aldrich, placing the ball on Connecticut's 18 yard line. MacBride carried the ball around right end four yards, after which a lateral from Means to MacBride gave the Maine another first down, with but one yard to go for a touchdown. On the next play MacBride carried the pigskin outside on the half yard line. The ball was brought in twenty yards, and on the next play, Robertshaw crashed through center to score. Johnny Wilson's attempted placement kick failed.

On the kickoff, MacBride kicking for Maine, Eddy received the ball for the Aggies, and was downed on his own 33 yard line. After losing 3 yards in two attempts to crash the Maine stonewall, Pierce kicked to Wilson, who received the ball on his own 35 yard line and ran it up to the 47 yard line. On the next two plays, Prinn, using "Mum" Romansky's famous spinner play, carried the ball to the visitors 30 yard line. Butler then rushed through left tackle for ten yards more. Wilson, on a reverse from Prinn, carried the pigskin to the nine yard line as the umpire's whistle announced the end of the first quarter.

At the opening of the second period, Prinn and MacBride brought the ball 7 yards in two downs. Wilson's pass to Parsons failed, and the hope of another touchdown for the Pale Blue vanished; it was Connecticut's ball on their own twenty yard line. Later in the same period, by a series of short rushes by Prinn, Wilson, Butler and MacBride, Maine brought the ball to the six yard line, but the Aggie line held. Pierce kicked the ball outside on his own 33 yard line. On the next play Johnny Wilson made a spectacular run around right end, placing the ball on the six yard line; MacBride then rushed through center for the second score of the game.

During the first part of the third quarter, Robertshaw and "Mel" Means carried the ball from the Maine 21 yard marker to another touchdown for the Pale Blue, Robertshaw scoring the point. Wilson's placement kick was good. Later in this quarter, Connecticut made its only first down on a pass from Cronin to Pierce. Wilson and Robertshaw were then replaced by Anderson and Prinn. On the next two plays after Connecticut kicked to Maine, Prinn and Means carried the ball to the visitors' 35 yard line. A pass from Anderson to Parsons placed the ball on the 5 yard line, and Prinn scored. Anderson scored another point on the placement kick.

In the final period, Maine again scored when Wilson threw a long one to Parsons, and Robertshaw carried the ball over the line.

SPORTS SPIELS

By BOB BERG

When the varsity football team lines up against Holy Cross at Worcester Saturday, it will be for the first time in 26 years that the two colleges will have resumed football relationships. It was in 1906 that Maine and Holy Cross battled it out for the last time with the tussle ending in a scoreless tie.

The Black Bears will face in Holy Cross one of the strongest eleven in the East this year. In their opening game, the Jesuit players met a tartar in New River College of Virginia, who showed unexpected strength before finally succumbing to a 12-6 defeat. Last week Providence College was the second victim of the Worcester team, as they were overwhelmed by a 26-6 score.

As to how Coach Fred Brice's charges will show up against Holy Cross is the big question. In the two games thus far, Maine did not have to display its real strength, as the competition did not call for it. Rhode Island put up a scrappy battle but did not threaten much, while Connecticut's exhibition was far below its usual standard and the Black Bears had an easy go.

The contest at Worcester is bound to test the real mettle of the Maine team. The encounter will give the coaches their first insight on both the ability of the eleven as a whole and on the individual players. How the Black Bears will fare in the state series will depend a great deal on their showing in the game on Saturday. Holy Cross is the big favorite to down Maine, but they are in for a hard afternoon if your hard working scribe's opinion means anything.

In the last ten years, Maine has always managed to have on its schedule one of the leading football teams in the country. But going back in the early 'teens of 1900, the Pale Blue had always had three or four powerful games on the schedule. As late as 1915, Maine played Yale, Dartmouth, Boston College, and Army during the course of the season. In 1913, they conquered Boston College 6-0, held Yale to a 0-0 score, and lost to Harvard 34-0. Not bad, what?

Our hats are off to the brilliant accomplishment made by the Bates football eleven in holding the mighty Yale to a scoreless tie at New Haven last week. Each and every wearer of the Garnet deserves as much credit as could be given. Nice work, Coach Dave Morey!

Blue Harriers See Heavy Trail Work

The Freshman and Varsity Cross-country teams have been working out daily, getting in readiness for the first meets. The members are gradually limbering up their muscles by using the chest-weights and jogging from three to seven miles each day. As yet, no member of the teams has shown himself to be outstanding, but the time trials which will probably be held Saturday ought to determine some of the better men.

The first varsity meet will be held at Durham, New Hampshire, on October 15.

THE FALL OF CONSTANTINOPLE

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by Thomas Webb... inspired by the savage slaughter of 5000 Christian defenders—at the hands of the vengeful, barbaric horde of 250,000 men under the ruthless Mohammed II—1453!

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies ... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"If a man write a better book, preach a better sermon, or make a better mouse-trap than his neighbor, let him build his house in the woods, the world will make a beaten path to his door."—RALPH WALDO EMERSON. Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?
