MAINE TAKES OVER COLBY 6-0; TEAM IN CONDITION FOR BOWDOIN THIS WEEK

Favor's Pass to Means And Kicking Features In Colby Defeat

Coach Fred Brice's gridsters added to the Pale Blue's chances of coping the State Series this year by defeating the Colby team 6-0 on Alumni Field last Saturday afternoon.

Ted Butler, star sophomore back, started Maine's march to the goal soon after the beginning of the second half when he made a spectacular run through center to carry the ball from mid-field to Colby's 18 yard line. Mun Romansky then plunged through the line for two yards. On the next play, which caused the Maine stands to resound with cheers, Mel Means received a pass from Don Favor to garner the only score of the game.

The White Mule seriously threatened the Black Bear during the second period when, by means of an end run and a long pass, the pigskin was brought to the Maine nine yard line. Gil Robertshaw came in to the limelight at this period in the tilt when he knocked down two successive passes made by the Colby team in an attempt to score.

Penalties were given freely to both teams throughout the entire struggle; Maine was penalized 77 yards to Colby's 49. Out of thirteen attempted passes, Colby was only able to complete two, two were intercepted by Maine, and the remainder were grounded. However, the Colby team rather made up for this by intercepting four of Maine's six forward passes. Both teams divided the honors for first downs by obtaining six each.

The Black Bear had two other chances to obtain additional points towards the end of the game when the Colby Mule was forced to kick from behind its own goal line, but were unsuccessful in blocking either kick.

Co-eds Are Nominated for Honorary Lieut. Colonel

Announcement of the nominees for the position of Honorary Lieutenant Colonel of the local R.O.T.C. Corps was made this week by the military ball committee. The four juniors selected, from which one will be chosen at the military ball on December 9, are: Madeline W. Bunker, Melba N. Gifford, Louise C. Milliken, and Doris O. Newman. The members of the R.O.T.C. Corps, as well as those who buy tickets for the ball, will vote.

Lloyd Rafnell and his Georgians from Lewiston will furnish the music for the dance, and the committee in charge consists of: John Doyle, chairman, Philip Linn, Charles Bunker, John Farnsworth, and Hobart Chase.

Hoover Leads in Poll Of 48 College Papers

Though most of the presidential polls being conducted by magazines throughout the country show Franklin D. Roosevelt leading, the nationwide poll conducted last week by 48 college newspapers in cooperation with The Daily Princetonian showed President Hoover leading with 29,289, Roosevelt second with 18,212, Norman Thomas third with 10,470, and Foster last with 715.

The Campus poll last week was a part of this nationwide straw vote and the Maine vote is included in the above totals.

Deans Cloke and Muilenburg Express Approval of Honor System That Works

Dean Paul Cloke of the College of Technology, said when asked in regard to the honor system, "I am in favor of some type of honor system along the general lines of the one at present proposed. There may be other ways by which the objections to the present system of examinations can be overcome, and I recognize that there are serious faults in the proposed honor system plan. However, if the reports of present conditions which reach me are anywhere nearly accurate, the proposed system, with all its faults, would be much better than the present one."

Dean James Muilenburg of the College of Arts and Sciences said when asked his opinion on the honor system, "It must be

Wilson and Robertshaw Back in Line-up Give Blue Edge Saturday

Having already gained two state series victories, Coach Fred Brice's big Black Bear eleven will attempt to trample the Polar Bear of Bowdoin underfoot Saturday at Brunswick and reign supreme in state football circles for the second consecutive year. Even if Maine is forced to accept a tie game from Coach Charlie Bowser's outfit, it will wear the championship crown.

Colby is the only team that has a passing chance at a double tie for the flag with Maine. The present standing finds Maine leading the fight with two wins and no defeats, Colby second with one victory and one loss, and both Bates and Bowdoin deadlocked with one loss and one tie game chalked up to their credits. If Bowdoin can beat Maine, then Colby, by vanquishing Bates on Armistice Day, still can tie for the crown it has tried so desperately in recent years to win outright.

Coach Brice intends to use the same lineup intact for the Polar Bear set-to that faced the Colby Mule last week. Gil Robertshaw and Johnny Wilson have returned to the squad this week and have been pronounced available to see action in the final game of the season, although they are not expected to be up to their usual standards on account of their prolonged layoff. However, both will see plenty of action during the fracas as the Pale Blue pigskin mentor has been alternating Wilson with Means at quarterback in practise and Robertshaw with Romansky at the fullback post. Ted Butler will remain at the left halfback position since with the exception of Means, he is the only other speed demon on the team. The other wingback post will be well taken care of by Brice's triple threat, Don Favor. It has been the strong right arm of Favor that has twice sent bullet-like forward passes into waiting hands which have resulted in touchdowns to give Maine its two state series victories.

Senate Committee Appointed To Correct Election System

A committee to revise the election rules was appointed by President John Wilson at the last meeting of the Student Senate held Thursday night. This committee consisting of President Wilson, Kenneth Foster, Millard F. Fitzgerald, and Brice H. Jose will survey the election rules for certain imperfections which showed up in the recent primary and secondary nominations and make recommendations of changes to the Senate in the future.

Dean L. S. Corbett reported on the Student Loan Fund, most of which was raised through the efforts of the Senate last year. The students raised $1077.50 and the University had funds for loans amounting to about $147. Most of this money has already been loaned.

The proposed honor system was presented to the Senate for approval, and a motion was carried to have the representatives take the proposal back to their fraternities for discussion. It was further moved and carried that the vote on whether or not the students want an honor system be taken at the next meeting of the Senate to be held Tuesday night.

Hazel Parkhurst '31, A.O.Pi, was on campus for the week-end.

WISE SAYS CYNICISM DEFEATISM SEEKING EXCUSES FOR ITSELF

As He Speaks at Crowded Assembly Here Last Thursday

By RUTH WALENTA

Rabbi Stephen S. Wise, of the Free Synagogue in New York City, spoke in a special chapel last Thursday afternoon. The subject of his talk was "Why Go On Caring?"

This query "Why Go On Caring?" baffles as much as any other query in life, said Rabbi Wise. But we go on caring because to do so is to reaffirm our faith in the divine within us, and in our power to evoke it in another; because to go on caring is to command the power of spiritual re-creation with respect to another.

The question "Why go on caring?" declared Rabbi Wise, is raised most often by those in the grip of real intellectual difficulties. It is raised by a human tendency toward cynicism-defeatism finding excuses for itself; by the despair with which we face causes and movements which seem doomed to failure for reasons quite outside ourselves. And yet once we have committed ourselves to caring, we must go on.

Rabbi Wise gave four examples of the power of continued caring: Monica, the mother of Augustine, who cared so divinely and infinitely that she made an all but hopeless son into a figure of astounding spiritual power; Florence Nightingale, whose determined and obstinate caring lives today in the Red Cross; Alfred Dreyfus, for whom a small and noble body of men cared intensely and constructively for years; and Theodore Herzl, a young Jew who cared passionately for the Jews to return to Palestine and make their home there.

Miracles are wrought by never ceasing to care, Rabbi Wise ended. The most notable modern miracle is a small, brown, unattractive, and until very recently toothless, man in India, who cares so much for India that he will have nothing but what he can get for her honestly, and by fasting brings an Empire to his feet. Caring discovers unsuspected moral resources in your own life. The spirit that

MASQUE TO PRESENT "AS HUSBANDS GO"

In Alumni Hall Thursday Ernestine Merrill, Kenneth Foster Have Leads

By JOHN C. WILLEY

The Masque play, As Husbands Go, is rapidly rounding into shape for its production next Thursday evening in Alumni Hall.

Coming from the hand of the well-known American playwright, Rachel Crothers, As Husbands Go is a play containing a store of humorous situations and witty, spicy dialogue. The play, however, never approaches farce, but the skillfully devised plot preserves the air of reality as it deals with a problem of present-day American life. Ernestine Merrill has been chosen to play the feminine lead, the role of Lucille Lingard, while Elston Ingalls plays the male lead as Lucille's husband, Charles Lingard.

The setting of the play is laid in Paris and Dubuque, Iowa, the prologue taking place in Paris and the three acts in Dubuque. A brief synopsis of the play is as follows: Lucille Lingard and her friend, Emmie Sykes, go to Paris, the former leaving behind a devoted husband, and the latter, whose husband is dead, a full-grown daughter. In Paris Lucille presumably falls in love with Ronald Derbyshire, an English author, and Emmie decides that she wants to marry Hippolytus Lomi, a rather peculiar person of Polish and Viennese extraction.

When the two women return to America, Hippie accompanies them. Lucille is determined to tell her husband of her affair with Ronnie and then to leave him, but her courage fails her. Emmie who describes herself and Lucille as "sitting on powder" is so excited that several times she all but gives the secret away. To add to the discomfort of the situation, Peggy, the daughter of Emmie, strongly disapproves of Hippie, while Emmie as strongly dislikes Jake Canon, a teacher of Greek and Peggy's fiance. The problem is further complicated by the arrival of Ronnie, who has come to take Lucille away with him. Fortunately, the tangle is finally straightened out and the play ends happily.

The following is the complete cast: Lucille Lingard, Ernestine Merrill; Ronald Derbyshire, Kenneth Foster; Emmie Sykes, Barbara Sawyer; Hippolytus Lomi, Alfred Sweeney; Maitre D'Hotel, John Farnsworth; waiter, Stuart Mosher; Charles Lingard, Elston Ingalls; Wilbur, John Glover; Peggy Sykes, Dorothy Sawyer; Jake Canon, William Butler; Christine, Alice Sisco; and Katie, Lucinda Ripley.

W. B. YEATS GIVES TWO LECTURES HERE

Tells of His Efforts To Give Ireland a National Theatre

William Butler Yeats, a Nobel Prize winner, member of the Irish Senate, poet and dramatist, spoke here at assembly and at a lecture in the evening, on Tuesday. The lecture in the evening was given under the auspices of the Contributors' Club.

Mr. Yeats told of the efforts he made to give Ireland a national theatre and to revive the use of Irish myth, legend and folklore in the literature. He realized after the death of Charles Darnell that Ireland would turn from politics, so he began to arouse the interest of the people in the theatre. He and others toured the country for actors and actresses; some of these players became very famous, one of these was Maud Gonne who inspired many of Yeats' lyrics. With the help of Lady Gregory, John Synge, and others he established the Abbey Theatre of Dublin. Lady Gregory was a woman of great culture, but she had never written nor seen many plays, yet her work is consummate in skill. She was the first to use Irish dialect seriously; previous to the nineteenth century it had been used only for farce.

Yeats himself has written many plays, both prose and poetry; he thinks that this is a prose age and people desire more prose than poetry. He said rather facetiously that the ideal play was one which had no more players than could get into a crowded taxi, nor more stage properties than could be gotten on the roof. He read several of his poems.

In the evening Yeats told of his life and told of the circumstances of the poems he read.

Rabbi Wise Predicts Roosevelt Election

Rabbi Wise tossed defiant bombshells at some of the most respected institutions of country and college in an interview Thursday.

"Roosevelt will unquestionably be elected and should not be," was all he would say on the subject of the coming election.

In regard to the time-worn Military Training question, Rabbi Wise said, "I do not believe in it! It's very presence is offensive to the peace of a nation."

"College sororities and fraternities are a necessary evil. In reality they are but a substitute for the better things of college."

A Good Move

The faculty-student tennis tournament, which will get under way soon, is one of the biggest accomplishments here this year. It will do more toward bettering faculty-student relationships than any other one thing we have had thus far.

Contact between the faculty and students other than in the class room is valuable to both parties. The faculty members will be better able to teach their students when they know them better. It is difficult for faculty members to learn the real personality of their students when they see them only in classes. It is likewise difficult for students to really know their instructors when they meet them only in the class room. A personal friendship between a faculty member and a student is of great value to the student. He will get ideas and knowledge to ponder over, which he would not get otherwise.

Therefore we should have more activities like this tennis tournament. We should have faculty-student athletic competition of various sorts, chess tournaments, bowling tournaments, and faculty-student outings. A debate with mixed teams of faculty members and undergraduates would probably prove interesting, and would do much toward cementing friendships.

Much credit is due the public speaking department for bringing the Mount Allison University debating team here. More debates of the quality of the one held last week will build up interest in debating, and will provide profitable entertainment. The fact that the visitors last week were from Canada added to the interest in the contest, and the attitude of students from another nation was valuable.

Over 200 Hear Brann Speak at Homecoming

Over 200 alumni and faculty attended the Alumni Homecoming Luncheon Saturday noon, at which Hon. Louis J. Brann '98, Governor-elect of Maine was the guest of honor. The attendance this year was about the same as that of last year, it being the second Homecoming luncheon to be held.

President Boardman presided, introducing Professor Charles P. Weston who welcomed the visiting alumni. Governor Brann spoke briefly of his student days and alumni acquaintances. One of the chief features of the program was the awarding of the Alumni Service Emblem to C. Parker Crowell '98 of Bangor. This was done by Arthur L. Deering '12, president of the General Alumni Association.

Another feature of the homecoming program was the "M" meeting which was held Friday afternoon at 5:30. Over 100 alumni and students attended the first meeting of "M" men held in recent years, if not for all time. It was voted to hold similar meetings in the future and a committee was authorized to create such organization as would be necessary and make arrangements for next year.

Horace J. "Hod" Cook '10 of Auburn was the presiding officer and introduced the several speakers as follows: Ted Curtis, Stanley Wallace, Coaches Jenkins, Brice, and Jones; three members of the 1915 varsity cross country championship team, Frank Preti of Portland, Edmund Dempsey of Montreal, and Weston B. Haskell, manager, of Boston; Dean Corbett, President Boardman, and Arthur L. Deering.

As a result of the discussion authorizing future meetings, the chairman was instructed to appoint a committee of five to perfect arrangements and organization.

A student band of 25 pieces was present and Phil Jones was active in leading the singing. The football team was given a rousing cheer after being introduced individually by Ted Curtis, just as they were about to leave for Eddington.

PATTANGALL TO SPEAK HERE ARMISTICE DAY

Chief Justice Pattangall of the State Supreme Court will address the next assembly on Armistice Day, Friday, Nov. 11. The program will be an appropriate observance of Armistice Day and will include the presentation of colors by the color guard, salute to the colors, and the sounding of taps.

The weekly social gathering held by the Owls for erring members of the freshman class was held Tuesday night, and a delightful time was had by all, especially by the Owls. Paddlings, hair-cuts, and other penalties were the order of the evening.

Several frosh were called up on the carpet to answer for their misdemeanors, among them being Joe Hotz, whose beautiful sandy locks were the recipient of one of the most artistic trimmings seen on campus for a long while. Joe Gai-braith, fast becoming a second Rudy Vallee, was scheduled to give a song recital in front of the book store Wednesday morning. In spite of the fact that several hundred ardent admirers were on hand to hear his performance, he failed to appear at the scheduled time. It is hoped that he may be heard in the near future.

Beta Theta Pi held an informal at their house Saturday evening with a large number attending. Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Youngs chaperoned. Perley Reynolds' orchestra furnished the music.

A new organization, The Men's Forum, has been organized at the Universalist Church in Orono. This organization will take the place of the Young People's Christian Union. The membership will be restricted to men, and all men students interested are invited. Meetings will be held in the vestry of the Universalist Church at 7 on Sunday evenings. Leaders who will give a short talk and lead the discussion will be engaged for each meeting.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served after each meeting at the minimum cost of five cents per person.

TWO TEAMS DEBATE AT MILO FOR GRANGE

A grange debate was held Tuesday evening at Milo. The Maine team was divided into two groups, Hamilton Boothby and Max Rapaport taking the affirmative, with Arnold Kaplan and Alfred Gordon debating the negative of the question: Resolved, that most advertising tends to be detrimental to the best interests of the general public.

The audience decided that the affirmative had done the best debating. A discussion followed the speaking.

Another grange debate will be held next Tuesday night at Union grange with the same speakers.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

AL (BRING 'EM BACK ALIVE) DYER has gone in for big game. She has been seen scanning our fair campus in the evening with a high powered search light in search of night walkers. There must be some good fishing somewhere, or why would these fair damsels be out getting bait? It has been said that the world is full of poor fish. Girls, lest you forget, the poor fish may prove a rich catch. . . . Becky Clark has protested that she doesn't want to have her George called "Swanky" . . . When Whittier wrote "Snow Bound" he wasn't thinking of the poor Phi Kaps. It seems their informal the other night was suddenly turned into a vic party when Old Man Winter or Depression, or the Old Man of the Mountain captured their orchestra somewhere out in the wilds of South Jelopot. . . . And then there were some ambitious co-eds who tried to get autographs (and what's more they did get them) from William Butler Yeats. Good work, girls. . . . A certain young lady, an inmate of the Maples, rushed frantically out of the building during fire-drill last Monday evening carrying her most valuable possession—a rag doll. . . . And what about this? One of our fair seniors was observed at 10 o'clock last Saturday morning in the rumble seat of a Ford roadster and also in the arms of a handsome lad down in the wilds of Orono near the banks of the Penobscot. Exempli Gratia. . . . Laugh, Clown, Laugh. Are these seniors having fun getting those "Prism" pictures taken! At last they are getting a glimpse of what they are going to look like in shrouds when they walk the plank to get the dear old sheepskin for which they have labored these many long years. . . . Is this a cosmopolitan institution? Go ahead, ask, is it? Imagine a student in a German class giving a long report in Dutch, and getting away with it. Yet that is what happened in one of the Deutsch Klassen last week. . . . Dear little Rusty Walton took it on the chin again recently when he was introduced to a class-mate, whom he had not met before. Before he had known her three minutes she invited him to take her to the Senior Skull dance. Flaming youth falls again. . . . Rumor has it that the Owls sharpened up their razors the other night and went to work on some luckless first year man. Not only rumor has it, but it seems that one of the frosh also has it, and hasn't it, by the last "it" we mean the covering that usually protects the roof of his face. . . . Wick Cooney wants to tell some of the boys about an important psychological principle that he discovered last Friday. . . . Remember, nature in the raw ought to be cooked, boiled, or even fried.

"I like to watch you smoking your pipe!"

"IF EVER I SAW a picture of content, it's you when you're puffing on a pipeful of Granger. And I admit I like the fragrant aroma myself."

It is surprising how much better a pipe tastes when it is filled with tobacco that's made especially for pipes. And the Granger package is just right, too.

"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the celebrated artist, Fred Madan... inspired by that wild, bloody scramble of covered wagons in the Colorado Gold Rush (1858), as described in the National Geographic Magazine. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies—
—that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS OFF FOR BOSTON MEET

CARIBOU HARRIER SETS NEW COURSE RECORD

Giberson, sophomore harrier from Caribou, plodded through a cold wet drizzle Saturday, to win the annual University of Maine Interscholastic Run, and set a new record over the rainsoaked 2 1/4 mile course. The Aroostook flyer broke the tape at the finish line in 14 minutes, 10 3/4 seconds, nearly three seconds faster than the former record of 14:14 established by Lou Osgood, in the prep school division, several years ago.

Despite the fact that the Caribou star placed in first position, Houlton, with six men among the first ten to finish, for the second year in succession carried off the high school prize. Gartley of Houlton followed Giberson home in second place with Wiggins in third and Murphy in fifth. The winners scored 26 points to 79, for its nearest competitor, Caribou.

In the preparatory school class, Lee Academy, 1931 champs, was defeated by Higgins Classical Institute 26-30, in a race of only two entrants. Sherwood, a Higgins runner, placed first in 14:20 3/4 after a gruelling grind over the water soaked course. He was followed in order by G. Cobb and Stevens of Lee in second and third, and Earl of Higgins in fourth.

Individual silver plaques for permanent possession were awarded to the winning teams while the five scoring members of the first three squads received gold, silver and bronze medals. The first three placing men in each race were all recipients of similar awards.

Team scores are as follows: High school—Houlton, 26; Caribou, 79; Deering, 107; Lincoln Academy, 159; Stetson, 167; Orono, 183; Kingfield, 190; Greeley Institute, 194; Brewer, 210; Hampden Academy, 228; Old Town, 245. Prep school—Higgins Classical Institute, 26; Lee Academy, 30.

N. Hampshire Favorite; Out To Support Title Captured in 1931

With hopes running high, the Pale Blue harriers leave this week-end for Boston to participate in the 20th annual cross-country run sponsored by the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association over the new Franklin Park course on Monday.

Ten New England colleges including: Bates, Bowdoin, M.I.T., Massachusetts State, Northeastern, Rhode Island, Springfield, Tufts, New Hampshire, and Wesleyan will each run seven men, with only the first five scoring for the college.

In 1921 Maine retired the cup by winning its fourth championship, after nine years of competition. Bates captured the trophy two years ago. Last year the New Hampshire hill-and-dalers won the first leg on the new cup and this year will probably be favored to win again.

As yet no public announcement has been made as to the line-up of the Frosh squad to travel to Boston, however, the varsity berths will be filled by: Kenneth Black, Theodore Earl, Harry Booth, Russell Shaw, Donald Corbett, Laurence Jackson, Joel Marsh, James Fuller, William Cole, Robert Wishart, Harry Saunders, Robert Clifford, Enoch Williamson, Francis Morong, and Karl Anderson.

Dot Rosen and Muriel Holmes motored to Augusta Saturday.

Tom Maines, ex-'33, attended the Colby-Maine game.

SPORTS SPIELS

By BOB BERG

Maine may enter the game the favorite against Bowdoin Saturday but do not think for one moment that the Bricemen are in for an easy tussle. In a season of the wildest sort of upsets, when comparative scores mean absolutely nothing, anything is liable to take place in the clash. Bowdoin men who saw their team's great bid for a victory over Bates last week as perking up and seeing hope of a triumph over the arch enemy, Maine.

Despite the fact that the Black Bears will come to Brunswick with no defeats in the state series, and only one during the year, suffered at the hands of Holy Cross, a loss entirely expected, the Polar Bear of Bowdoin has expectations of repeating its victory of 1930 when the situation before the game was similar to that of this year.

In that memorable contest two seasons ago, Bowdoin took the field after having been stumbled by both Bates and Colby.

Then from out of a clear sky, the Polar Bear suddenly went berserk and smashed Maine to the ground for a sensational victory over a heavily favored Black Bear eleven. Fans all over the state are now wondering whether history will repeat to see the Bowser coached team rise to the heights once again and turn back the old enemy from the Northland.

But the Maine gridiron warriors vividly recall this upset and, though they may be the favorites, are not entering the game full of confidence. Coach Brice has been sending his Pale Blue phalanx through hard practise sessions this week and plans to have his charges on edge for the crucial tilt. Everything points to a hard battle and the Maine coaching staff expect this scrap to be the most grueling one of the series for the Black Bear outfit.

The fall meeting of the College 4-H Club will be held at 22-23 Rogers Hall Tuesday at 7 P.M. Newcomers are especially urged to come and get acquainted. All active and former 4-H Club members are eligible and cordially invited. Miss Spearin and Mr. Shibles will be present.

SMITH GETS JAYVEE PASS AS FROSH WIN

Jimmy Smith, fleet freshman end, picked a Junior Varsity pass out of the air, on his own fifteen yard line, and behind perfect interference ran eighty-five yards for a touchdown, and the first frosh victory of the year, at Alumni Field, Monday afternoon.

The interception and scoring run silenced a fifty yard attack on the yearling goal and gave the Jonesmen a lead which was never diminished. After advancing to the thirteen yard frosh line, when a Jayvee back grabbed Vermilyea's forward for a thirty-five yard gain, two successive drives at the center of the line failed to gain for the Jordan gridders and Solomon dropped back to throw the forward that was to mean the game. The pass was towards the end of the line and intended for a Jayvee wing, but Smith, whose work was outstanding for the Freshmen all afternoon, intercepted the ball and skipped along the sidelines for the score.

Only once again, when they recovered a freshman fumble on the yearling's twenty-five yard line, did the junior regulars threaten, but a fifteen yard penalty and three failures at the line forced them to punt on the fourth down. During the final minutes of play, the frosh began a concerted assault on the junior varsity goal, only to fall short when three penalties compelled them to relinquish the ball deep in opposing territory. The feature of the drive was a forty yard run by Vermilyea from his own forty-five to the Jayvee fifteen before he was downed from behind.

What is Cross Blending?

an Artist
might explain it this way...

"Let's say you're painting clouds. You've got your primary colors here on the palette. But you haven't the clouds until you blend certain colors into the special tone you want.

"This is very much what happens in making a good cigarette. And I gather that what Chesterfield means by Cross-Blending is what an artist does with colors. Their Domestic and Turkish tobaccos—many varieties of each—are the primary colors.

They blend and cross-blend these tobaccos until they get the special tone they want—in other words, the Chesterfield flavor.

"And just as each color you use acts on the others to change and enrich them, so each Chesterfield tobacco partakes of the fine qualities of every other.

"You 'weld' different kinds to get a better kind. That's Cross-Blending!"
