ALUMNI START PLAN FOR INSURANCE FUND

Classes of '30, '31, '32 Take $1000 Policies for 25 Years

Three alumni classes, 1930, 1931, and 1932, have each taken a $1000 endowment insurance policy for the purpose of creating a fund which will form the nucleus of a class gift on the occasion of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their graduation. It is believed that these are the first alumni classes of the University to have undertaken this arrangement. All three of these policies were written by William Daley, an alumnus of the class of 1930.

The first class to undertake this plan was 1930. The action taken was voluntary and unexpected. At the reunion meeting of their class last June one of the members of the class suggested that they should begin to look forward to presenting the University with a gift at their twenty-fifth reunion. After careful discussion the class unanimously endorsed the idea and further that the business should be given Mr. Daley, president of the class, because of his untiring effort in behalf of their group. After that class had endorsed the idea it seemed worthy of expansion, and other classes were approached, and 1931 and 1932 through the class executive committees have also undertaken a similar plan.

Each of the classes have sufficient funds in their treasury at present to be able to carry the policy from three to five years before which time class treasurers will start collecting dues. Each of the classes have placed a policy on one of their young members. Russell D. Coyne is the 1930 representative, Edwin Guptill, 1931, and Ralph Brooks, 1932.

These policies mature in twenty-two to twenty-four years, at which time they will yield one thousand dollars and any dividends which may be allowed to accumulate. In case of death of the members of the class the money goes to the University by assignment and is to be held in trust until the twenty-fifth reunion of the class, at which time action will be taken as to what disposition shall be made of the fund.

DEAN LUTES IN TALK TO PARENT-TEACHERS

Dean O. S. Lutes, in addressing the Orono Parent-Teachers' Association last night, presented for their consideration a plan for building a new secondary school. According to this plan, the University authorities would combine efforts with the local municipal authorities in order to give Orono a new high school and at the same time provide the Education Department of the University with adequate facilities for supervised practice teaching.

Sophs Defeat Frosh In Hockey Battle

The new hockey team of 1936 opposed the veteran team of 1935 at the old battling ground last Friday. The final score was Sophs 2, Frosh 1. Jane Chase was elected acting sophomore captain, and Edith Gardiner, acting captain for the freshmen. They shook hands, bent to the bully, and the game was on!

The sophomores in orange tunics flashed across the field, leading throughout the first half. "Annie Mac" scored the first goal while the freshmen politely stepped back to let the upperclassmen pass first!

The second half brought a different freshman team onto the field. Coach Rogers must have pumped them with peppy advice! Dolly Dolliver ran faster. Teedie Gardiner hit harder and the whole freshman team played better than ever before. Down the field raced the whole freshman line and Helen Carpenter rushed in for a goal.

Tied score, short time, and growing darkness aroused the sophomore girls. Ag Crowley, sophomore center, with trick passes and quick dodges, carried the ball down the hockey field to score the final goal.

SENATE TURNS DOWN HONOR SYSTEM PLAN AT SPECIAL MEETING

W.S.G.A. Representatives
Also Cast Negative Vote
On the Question

That students at the University do not think an honor system desirable was indicated Tuesday night at a joint meeting of the Women's Student Government and the Men's Student Senate when representatives voted unanimously against an honor system.

Following the vote on the honor system the joint meeting was adjourned and the regular business of the Student Senate taken up. Kenneth Foster reported for the committee on election rules revision reading the recommended changes which will be presented to the students in the future for discussion before a final vote to amend the election code is taken.

The executive committee of the Senate was then elected. It consists of President John Wilson and Secretary Brice Jose as ex-officio members, and John Quinn, Monroe Romansky, and James DeCourcy.

Discussion of the holiday system with particular reference to the two days following Thanksgiving was then taken up and is to be returned to the fraternity houses for discussion. Dean Lamert S. Corbett, adviser of the senate, then explained that there are a certain number of days during which college must be open and that if two days are taken out at Thanksgiving they must be made up at some other time.

Squirt Guns and Cedar Buckets Were Highlights of Bag Scrap's Progenitors

By RAYMOND GALEY
Squirt gun, cedar bucket, stink bottle, grandstand scrap, and flag scrap, all old institutions of the college life of the University of Maine, are called to mind with the passing of the Bag Scrap, which has been replaced with the Freshman-Sophomore football game. From the squirt gun to the bag scrap all have given way before the changing mode of life in the modern university. The unorganized battle for physical supremacy, as evidenced in the "good old days" by mob scraps for the possession of grandstand, flag, or bags, has taken its place in the glamorous annals of earlier college days, and in its stead we find the organized battle for physical supremacy, or the football game of today.

We can trace the evolution of the Bag Scrap from the time that our University was in its infancy, a small and unknown college struggling for recognition, to the present time.

In the Cadet, the forerunner of the Campus, of 1892, we find the following item: "The Frosh-Soph baseball game resulted in a victory for the Sophs. The game was played partly by the umpires." Before the annual baseball game that was held between the two lower classes in the first few years of this century, a flag rush took place. A large canvas flag was placed in the middle of the baseball field, a freshman and a sophomore were chosen to hold the flag, and, at the signal from the referee, the two classes ran from opposite ends of the field, and the scrap began in earnest. At the end of twenty minutes the scrap was stopped and the hands on

MAINE TAKES SECOND CONSECUTIVE STATE CROWN WITH 7-6 VICTORY OVER POLAR BEAR

PRESIDENT, 3 DEANS GO TO WASHINGTON MEETING NEXT WEEK

To Go To Land Grant College
Association Conclave on Financial Conditions

President Boardman, Dean Muilenburg, Dean Merrill, Dean Lutes, and Director Deering of Extension Service will attend the annual meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and State Universities held at Washington, D. C., November 14, 15, and 16.

President Boardman will present at this meeting a report on "Finances of Land Grant Institutions under New Conditions," which he has been writing with Dean Lutes. The material has been compiled from answers to a questionnaire which has been sent to all the land grant colleges and universities. There are 51 land grant institutions: 48 in the United States, one in each state and one each in Alaska, Porto Rico, and Hawaii. 44 of the 53, a rather high percentage, have answered.

The purpose of the questionnaire is to investigate the social and other qualitative effects of the depression in Land Grant Colleges and Universities from data obtained by a comparison of the fiscal years 1928-29 and 1932-33. Such effects may be grouped under five major heads: physical plant and income, staff, student body, administrative policies, and miscellaneous information.

Dean Cloke although he will not attend the meeting, is the secretary-treasurer of the engineering section of this association. The blowing of Taps by a detail from the R.O.T.C. Assembly will begin at 9:45.

Armistice Day Chapel Friday

Owing to pressure of business in the Supreme Court it has been necessary for Justice Pattangall to cancel his engagement to speak at Assembly tomorrow. It has been possible, however, to arrange a suitable program in observance of Armistice Day. Following the singing of "America," there will be readings by Misses Katherine Small and Alice Sisco; a vocal solo by Miss Ruth Hamor, accompanied by an instrumental sextet; prayer by Rev. Herman D. Berlew, of the Methodist Church; a salute to the colors and the blowing of Taps by a detail from the R.O.T.C. Assembly will begin at 9:45.

the flag counted; the side which had the most hands on the flag winning. The Campus of that time says: "The frosh certainly do not lack class spirit; even the frosh co-eds were present with their carriage robes gaily embroidered with 1905." During these "gay nineties" other methods were employed to subdue the frosh. The "squirt gun" and "stink bottle" were popular in this respect, and not a few frosh were dumped into the Stillwater. In the same issue of the Cadet we read "pails of water were thrown upon some of the frosh who had not yet learned to conduct themselves in a sensible manner." And there is a poem written about these water battles with the main theme:

"The old cedar bucket, the soph'more's own bucket,
The iron-bound bucket, that wet freshmen so well."

This flag scrap replaced the grandstand scrap, or battle for the supremacy of the grandstand, which was deemed by the authorities as being too dangerous, as several participants had in past years been injured.

The flag rush continued for but a few years when the bag scrap took its place and was continued as an annual interclass fracas, in modified forms, until the fall of 1931 when the last bag scrap was held. In the first few years of its existence, the bag scrap was slightly different from those of the past few years. Sometimes as many as nine large canvas bags filled with straw were rolled out on the field and fought over, but this number was gradually reduced to the two of last year.

A.R.C. TO CONDUCT COURSE IN NURSING

In Cooperation with Orono
Nursing Service Comm.
Part of He 9

Arrangements have just been completed with the Orono Nursing Service Committee for a Red Cross home hygiene course for the Seniors in the Home Economics department during the second half of the semester. The course is one organized by the National Red Cross to include the principles and practices of home nursing, and must be taught by a registered Red Cross nurse. It is offered as a part of He 9, Sanitation. Students who complete it satisfactorily will receive a Red Cross Certificate. The course is particularly valuable as a part of the training for teaching home economics, since home nursing is very generally included in high school home economics. The instructor is Mrs. Charles M. Sharpe, a member of the Orono Nursing Service Committee. The Home Economics Seniors, at whose request the plan was developed, are looking forward with much interest to the work.

Team Comes Through With Wins in Surprising Spots Through Whole Series

By BOB BERG
In one of the most exciting, savagely fought battles between two old football rivals, the University of Maine Black Bears overcame the Bowdoin Polar Bear's dangerous threats to score in the second half and retain its state championship crown for the second successive year at Brunswick Saturday by virtue of a 7-6 victory.

It was Johnny Wilson's perfectly directed placement kick in the second quarter, after Don Favor had climaxed a 34 yard Maine march to a touchdown, which accounted for the solitary point difference in the final score.

The outstanding stars of the sweet Black Bear victory were Johnny Wilson with his heady field generalship and Gil "Cannonball" Robertshaw, who starred with his hard smashing line plunges and brilliant defensive work.

The shadow of unwelcome defeat hovered at the elbows of the Black Bears all throughout the second half. It was Charlie Burdell's ineffectiveness to convert the try for goal after a touchdown had been scored by Bowdoin in the third period and again his failure to make good a field goal in the last quarter which prevented the Bowser Polar Bear from gaining the verdict or at least a tie with Maine.

The Pale Blue machine went into gear in the middle of the second half and started a sustained 34 yard drive for the opening score. Favor hit left tackle for a five yard gain. Wilson picked up 15 yards on a beautifully executed spinner play. Then the powerful, bone crushing Robertshaw was turned loose and on five successive plays the burly fullback pounded out 13 hard earned yards. With the pigskin on the 2 yard marker, Favor crossed the goal line for the touchdown on an off tackle slant through the left side of the line. The accurate Wilson place kicked the all-important seventh point.

The Polar Bear attack came shortly in the third quarter after a 60 yard march. The entire backfield of Burdell, Bakanowsky, Richardson, and Hubbard took turns at lugging the ball with Richardson and Hubbard featuring with runs of 18 and 12 yards respectively. Richardson finally hit the left side of the Maine line to go over for the touchdown but Burdell's dropkick went wide. The Polar Bears threatened to upset Maine in the last three minutes when they brought the pigskin to the Black Bear ten yard stripe. After three rushes had failed, Burdell attempted a field goal which failed to carry.

The Bricemen came close to scoring in the opening period after an underhand pass from Favor to Aldrich netted 22 yards and brought the ball to rest on Bowdoin's 29 yard line. Ted Butler, on a reverse, dodged his way for a 12 yard gain. Favor picked up 2 yards. After two rushes had failed, Maine resorted to the air with forward passes which just missed clicking.

One of the features of the bruising set-to was the finely thrown passes from Wilson to Parsons, which netted Maine several long gains and caught the Bowdoin secondary defense napping. Hubbard shone for Bowdoin with his brilliant runs while Low at tackle was the bulwark of power in the line.

Dried Blood

Fourteen years ago tomorrow the world's political doctors applied a tourniquet to the worst hemorrhage the world has ever known. The tourniquet was quite successful for a time, and it did put a stop to the bloodshed, but cleaning up the results of that hemorrhage took quite a while. Corpses had to be collected and buried, guns, tanks, ships, and men had to be returned whence they came, and towns and countries had to be rebuilt.

As is usually the case after a severe hemorrhage of this kind, things went along smoothly for a time and then there was a relapse. It hit this country three years ago, and on Tuesday of this week the nation voted for a president of the United States, who they thought will help bring us safely back into good health.

But though the tourniquet that those men applied thirteen years ago did its work for a while, the world is already beginning to forget that hemorrhage. In 1919 the word "war" filled the minds of people with horror and disgust. It brought to their minds visions of men crawling across muddy fields, crawling over dead bodies and parts of bodies. It brought to mind people back home getting little to eat so that the best could be sent to those who were giving their lives in the "War to end War." The mention of the word "war" in 1919 brought to the minds of some scenes of trenches, shell holes, life taking gas, men with poor clothing, worse food, little sleep, serious wounds, deadly diseases, men who learned that it was hard to die.

It seems that the word "war" has lost some of the connotation that it had back in 1918 and 1919, for only last winter and spring Oriental countries turned on one another. Europe, the spot where the blood spurted forth in the last great hemorrhage, is in a state of turmoil.

Perhaps that hemorrhage did some good, though, since statesmen of the world are now bending their efforts to prevent another one like it. Much has been done in this field, but it is a long drawn out task, and if something slips, much of the work done will be undone. It is said that these men who are working to achieve world peace permanently are working towards an ideal, which cannot be attained. Probably it won't be attained in a year or a hundred years, but constant work will be rewarded eventually.

So we find that there is much to be done to create international good will and eventually world peace. It is therefore up to us, the college students of America, who should be the leaders of the country in the future, to inform ourselves thru study and observation of all we can pertaining to world peace and how it can be achieved. We should study the factors upon which international relations are built and upon which they depend, so that we shall know how to act in order that we shall not be forced to wallow in trenches and duck every time a star shell goes up.

Apparently there is something radically wrong with Women's Student Government rules, if a girl cannot go riding with her father, have a little automobile trouble, and come in late as a result, without getting punished according to grammar-school tactics! These rules are presumably for the purpose of protecting the girls when they are away from their homes. Certainly parents can take care of their daughters when they come here to visit them! Let us have a little more common sense in dealing out penalties for unavoidable tardiness!

Elsewhere in this issue there appears a list of magazines which have been taken from the Library. To say that these magazines have been stolen may be putting it rather strong, yet that is what has happened.

CANDIDATES DISCUSSED BY DEBATING SOCIETY

The presidential candidates were the appropriate topics of discussion at the first meeting of the debating society for this year which was held Tuesday night in the M.C.A. Building. Seales '34 and Boothby '35 spoke for Roosevelt, while Herrick '36 defended Hoover. Rapaport '35 and Sealey '36 upheld Norman Thomas. A general discussion followed these talks after which refreshments were served. Thirty-five members of the debating society were present. Don Stewart presided as chairman.

Will all students who expect to enter dental schools next year please hand their names to Dr. Young on or before the 15th of November?

CORRESPONDENCE

(The correspondence columns of The Campus are open to the public on pertinent subjects, and letters are welcomed. All letters should be signed with the author's real name, but a pen name will be used in publication of the letter if desired. The ideas stated in these columns are not necessarily those of The Campus and should not be so considered. The editor reserves the right to withhold any letter or a part of any letter.)

Editor of the Campus,
Dear Editor:

I have just come from the University library. Has it ever occurred to you that we have an extremely fine and well-equipped library here at Maine? Was it Lady Macbeth who said something about the worm under the rose? I have found the worm. Unlike Milton's elongated worm dwelling in Eden to tempt Eve, this specimen has been sufficiently small to lurk in our library unseen. Truly a nauseous thing. Let me explain.

Today I came home with the intention of reading Dante's Paradiso. But I find myself turning with inexpressible longing to his Inferno. Why?

The tale can best be told in verse:

Ah, distinctly I remember
Twas the seventh of November
Under my right forearm member
I three tragic volumes bore.

To the Library then I turning
All my soul within me burning
With a wild and tender yearning
I soon entered through the door.

The librarian sweet and tender
At me scowled. I saw her bend her
Eyes upon me as I fender
Were of Ford in days of yore.

"That will cost you," said she, "ninety
Cents for each book. Three are fined ye,
Hence two seventy! Pay up, mind ye,
Or no college credits more!"

Long I stood there, doubting, dreaming,
Like old Lear, when Regan Scheming
Showed her hand. And then not deeming
Justice done, I went out sore!

But let me collect my thoughts. My point is briefly this: Any library system that, without previous notification of its dire intent, fines a student two dollars and seventy cents for keeping three reserved books out less than a day beyond their proper time prompts one to say that such a system is in radical need of revision; which thing I am saying! After all, two dollars and seventy cents is, with due apologies, two dollars and seventy cents!

With sincere hope that this protest may not be seen as being wholly invalid, I remain

Very truly yours,
-W. L. Thompson

out signing it out is having little consideration for the other fellow.

W.A.A. PENNY CARNIVAL FIRST FRIDAY IN DEC.

The W.A.A. is trying to put on the biggest and best Penny Carnival this year that Maine has ever had. The big event is coming off the first Friday evening in December and is going to be in the nature of a barn dance, at which, it goes without saying, everyone will be expected to wear his farmy clothes. Dixie Dickson is in charge of the dance, and those assisting her are Merrita Dunn, Shirley Young, and Libs Hilliker. Perley Reynolds' Orchestra will furnish the music.

NO FOOLING . . . you'll be surprised at the way an order of Shredded Wheat each day can snap up your energy! And why shouldn't it?

Shredded Wheat is Nature's own energy food . . . 100% whole wheat. Not a thing added, and not a thing lost. All the energy-building elements that Nature intended you to have are right there, ready to get going.

And you can shout this around the Campus, too! You don't have to learn to like Shredded Wheat! Eat it once, twice, three times, and you're friends for life. Quick, waiter, bring the cream!

When you see Niagara Falls on the package you KNOW you have Shredded Wheat.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

WE STILL THINK that the faculty used poor taste in giving exams the day after the national election, especially since the final returns did not reach our ears until early Wednesday morning. There must have been many forlorn hearts around the campus judging from the 656 votes cast for Helpless Herbie in the straw vote here. Maybe he should have been president of the sophomore class instead, since one vote was cast for him for that office. And these elections have another value, we can tell who the people are around our fair campus who are over twenty-one. And though Heartsick Herbie lost 42 states one of the co-eds over in Balentine was wearing his pin Tuesday night and as a result she was serenaded in the good old style. And no sooner had the singing ceased when Miss Black, who was the lucky co-ed, received a telephone call. Maybe it was from Palo Alto, we don't know, and we don't care either. . . . Joe Galbraith seems to have learned that you can fool some of the people some of the time, and you can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool the Sophomore Owls at all, and as a result the poor lad rendered the "Stein Song" in front of the Book Store yesterday morning, and he's no Caruso either, and furthermore the Owls ought to teach him the correct way of singing our school song. . . . And the Owls also got Salesman Sam Kadish to sell his personality on the campus and collect the autographs of 100 co-eds in an hour yesterday morning. You ought to start a date bureau, Sammy. . . . And now that Franklin Delano seems to be driving the old band wagon orders for spiritous imbibations are on the increase and the Mount Vernon girls are singing this little song:

"Now we are nearing the beer line,
Gain on steady gain,
Nothing can keep us from drinking,
Three cheers for dear old Frank."

And Phil Johnson along with her great big man has been observed doing some heavy studying in the third floor stacks in the Libe. . . . Well, well, well, the li'l pledges over at the Sigma Nut house kidnapped their president, Baby Face Williamson, Monday night, mattress, blankets, pajamas and all, and carried him off to a most embarrassing place. Most of us missed the pleasure of seeing this grave old senior trotting across the campus after he had untied himself with his mattress and blankets over his shoulder and his bare feet lightly touching the cold hard ground. . . . Stew Gee has been almost as active as the Owls recently for the All Maine Women president no longer may ride in an automobile. How much does the trolley company give the S. G. to make the girls ride on the trolley cars if they must ride? . . . Who put the pig in the Tri-Delt ram?

The Medical Aptitude Test as administered by the Association of American Medical Colleges will be given in Coburn Hall at 3:00 P.M., on December 9. All students who are expecting to attend medical school next year should see Dr. Young about taking this test on or before November 15. The result of this aptitude test is a factor in the selection of students by the majority of the medical schools. A fee of $1.00 from each applicant is required, payable at the time of the examination.

25 COUPLES ATTEND
WEEK-END STAG DANCE

Last Friday night the Contributors' Club held a stag dance with about twenty-five couples present. Mr. and Mrs. James Moreland and Dr. and Mrs. A. H. Turner chaperoned. Smith Ames and his orchestra furnished the music.

In order to draw a crowd, the committee in charge admitted the co-eds free until nine-thirty, which caused quite a rush from Balentine and Colvin Halls.

Maine Harriers Take Third in Boston Meet; N. H. Is First

Ken Black Finishes Third; Jellison Of Bates Wins; Frosh Team Sixth In Their Division

Ken Black, star sophomore harrier, captured third place in the annual cross country meet of the New England Intercollegiate Athletic Association held in Boston on Monday to aid in clinching for the Pale Blue third place in that meet. He covered the muddy five-mile course in 28 minutes, 50 seconds, and was led to the tape by Russ Jellison of Bates and Henry Raduazo of New Hampshire. Russ Shaw and Harry Booth were the next two of Coach Jenkins' charges to cross the finish line in eighteenth and twentieth places.

The Wildcat harriers were easy winners of the meet with 31 points, having placed five among the first ten men to finish. Bowdoin garnered second place with 92 points while Maine was third with 94 points.

Those who ran for Maine are, in order of their finishing: K. Black, 3; R. Shaw, 18; H. Booth, 20; T. Earl, 23; J. Marsh, 30; L. Jackson, 34; and R. Wishart, 40.

Coach Jenkins' yearlings garnered sixth place in the three-mile freshman cross country run. James O'Connor led the Bear Cubs to the tape in twenty-third place, closely followed by Carl Cunningham in twenty-fourth place. Other members of the squad in order of their finishing are F. Beal, 26; L. Ives, 33; L. Weston, 36; A. Prince, 46; and B. Dionne, 49.

Members of the varsity squad who ran at Boston on Monday will also compete in the I.C.A.A.A. cross country meet to be held in New York on November 14. The freshman team will not be represented in this meet.

Senior Hockey Team Takes Over Juniors

A fighting junior hockey eleven on Tuesday afternoon held the seniors to a score of 5-3. The juniors were hampered by the absence of the regular goalie, Carmela Profita, while Marion Dickson, a strong defense player on the senior team, was unable to play.

During the first half the seniors via Marnie Smith, Polly Brown, and Merritt Dunn piled up four scores to a single junior goal shot by Mildred Haney.

The junior team allowed the seniors only one goal during the second period and succeeded in rushing thru their opponents twice in succession with scores by Doris Richardson and Mildred Haney.

FROSH ROLL UP 20-0 VICTORY OVER RICKER

Shaking off the jinx that has been with them throughout the season, the Freshman eleven, in its last scheduled game of the year, rolled over a weak Ricker C. I. eleven, 20-0, at Alumni Field last Friday.

Sargent made the first Frosh score after a sixty-five yard march in which Benn and Pruett did most of the ball carrying. A pass for the extra point was incomplete.

In the third quarter, Littlehale and Benn took turns in bringing the ball to the Purple 12 yard stripe. Vermilyea got free on an off-tackle play, but was brought down on the two yard line. On the next play, Littlehale took the ball over, and Adams kicked the point from placement.

Littlehale also scored the last touchdown on a center rush a short time after he had intercepted a pass on the Ricker 26 yard line. Sargent drop-kicked the extra point.

Professor Maurice D. Jones of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Farm Management will visit high schools in York county November 14-18.
