WILSON MACDONALD, CANADIAN POET, TO SPEAK AT ASSEMBLY

Well Known for Nature and Religious Poetry and Satire.
Assembly Begins at 9:30

Wilson MacDonald, president of the Poetry Society of Canada, and commonly regarded as Canada's greatest living poet, will be the speaker at next week's Assembly, reading from his own works.

Mr. MacDonald is best known for his nature poetry, religious poetry, and satire. He has published six volumes, Songs of the Prairie Land, The Miracle Songs of Jesus, Out of the Wilderness, Ode to Confession, Cave-Cave Ballads, and A Flagon of Beauty.

While not well known in the United States, he is rapidly establishing a reputation here. Karl Kitchen, in the New York Sun, says, "In Wilson MacDonald's latest volume of poems, A Flagon of Beauty, I came across lines that should have arrested the attention of both England and America." Another has called his poem "Exit" one of the finest in the English language. Bliss Carman, himself a poet of distinction, considers that Mr. MacDonald has written "some of the finest satire since Juvenal," while William Archer, dean of English critics, says that he interests him "more than anything else in America."

At the 1932 annual conference of the Eastern States Association of Professional Schools for Teachers, held in New York, Mr. MacDonald was chosen to read poetry on a program in which Walter Damrosch spoke for music, Lacardo Taft for art, Samuel Schmucker for science and Harry Emerson Fosdick for religion.

His appearance here on Thursday morning, December 1, promises to be interesting. The Assembly will begin at 9:30 and last one hour.

Prizes Awarded by Kappa Gamma Phi

The "Purple Line" of Deering High School took first prize among the newspapers, "The Oracle" of Bangor High among the magazines, and "The Totem" of South Portland among the yearbooks as thirty high school journalists from the State of Maine gathered at the University last week-end for the Eleventh Annual Journalistic Conference of Kappa Gamma Phi, local honorary journalistic fraternity.

Highlights of the conference were the banquet address given by Oliver Hall, editor of "The Bangor Commercial," at the banquet held at the Phi Gamma Delta house, an address on "Newspaper Ethics" given by James Moreland of the English department Saturday morning, and an inspection trip through the "Bangor Daily News" plant later Saturday morning.

The youthful journalists gathered here Friday morning, and early Friday afternoon heard addresses of welcome from Registrar James A. Gannett, and from William V. D. Bratton, president of Kappa Gamma Phi. Following these addresses there were group discussions of secondary school publication problems.

Friday evening, after the banquet at the Phi Gamma Delta house, the delegates attended the showing of "The Age of Consent" at the Strand Theatre in Orono. Mr. Moreland's address opened the activities Saturday morning, and following it the prizes were awarded the winners in the various groups.

Senior Co-eds Garner Class Hockey Crown

Class hockey games ended this season with the Senior-Freshman game last Saturday morning. The Seniors chalked up a 9 to 0 score against the first year girls; which gives them the class championship. Although the weather has been unfavorable for many of the games, the teams have been well organized, and have staged some unusually exciting games.

The Juniors were second in line for honors and gave the Seniors quite a lot of trouble, especially in their first game which resulted in a 5 to 3 score. Although the Freshmen came in last they put up an unexpected fight against the Seniors last Friday and won the latter by ending the game with a tie 2-2.

Coaches, Team Captains, Managers Select "All Maine" Hockey Team

They're chosen—the best hockey players on the Maine campus! Coaches Lengyel and Rogers, the four class team captains, and the four class team managers have after much debate named the girls upon whom this greatest honor in hockey is to be bestowed.

Center forward, the "pivot woman" of the whole team—Martha Smith. Her choice goes without criticism. "Marnie" played a marvelous game, shooting consistently and powerfully.

Left inside—Polly Brown, the star forward who refuses to be stopped by any player.

Left wing given to the wing-footed Merita Dunn, whom no one can catch, that is, no girl!

Right inside—Marjorie Moulton wins easily by her startling agility and baffling tricks, which give the opposing guards a hard fight.

Right wing—Eleanor West. Tiny and slippery she's hard to find but always there!

Center half—Dorothy Davis. She's light on her feet and quick with her eye. "Dottie" plays a hard defense game, and even if she should miss the ball, she'd squeal so that every one would stop to laugh, and Dottie'd get the ball just the same!

Left half—Emily Thompson, "Em" who thoroughly deserves the honor. "Once an athlete, always an athlete."

Right half—Marion Dickson. "Dixie" and her red sweater have been famous on the hockey field for four years. No one will doubt her choice for she is an outstanding athlete and a faithful guard to the team.

Right full—Francella Dean. "Frankie" was always in the thickest of the fight. All one can say is she's true blue.

Goalie—Muriel Whitman. After watching "The Little One" guard her cage no one could say again the goalie must be large, for "Puss" Whitman could be in more parts of her cage in one second than any "whirling squirrel."

Each one of these girls, and all girls who play hockey, have striven after, dreamed of, and sought this recognition of constant excellence. Coaches Lengyel and Rogers have trained and developed impartially every hockey player. But their efforts produced the best results in these eleven girls.

No material awards go to these girls, for it was not for material awards that they strove, but for the glory, the love, and the praise of their fellow players and those who watched them play.

To each of these athletes goes this high honor because they have proved themselves the best. For the good of the sport they threw themselves into each game heart and soul. Most of all we take off our hats to these girls because they lived up to that great ideal, the Olympic oath—to play "in the true spirit of sportsmanship, for the honor of our country, and for the glory of sport."

DEAN CLOKE IS BACK FROM WASHINGTON

Attended Land Grant College
Association Meeting
There Last Week

Dean Paul Cloke has just returned from Washington, D. C., where he has been attending a four day session of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities. Dean Cloke was again honored in this meeting, being reelected Secretary and Treasurer of the Engineering Session. During his trip, he also filled many other engagements.

On Wednesday evening, a meeting of the U. of M. alumni in Washington was held, with about thirty-five members present. Dean Cloke was present at this meeting, as were Dean Merrill, of the Agricultural College; Dr. Griffie, Head of the Experiment Station; and A. L. Deering, President of the Alumni Association, and all four gave brief talks to the group.

Thursday noon found Dean Cloke addressing the general assembly of the Bradford (Conn.) High School, while Friday morning found him in New York City. While there, he attended the annual session of the Academy of Political Science, of which he is a member.

PROF. ASHWORTH TO GIVE RADIO ADDRESS

Will Speak Over WLBZ at 7 P.M. Friday on Government Expenditures

Professor J. H. Ashworth, head of the department of Economics and Sociology will talk over Station WLBZ at 7 P.M. Friday. His subject is "Are Our Governments Spending Too Much? If so, What Are We Going to Do About It?" In his speech he will discuss the present expenditures and the past increases in expenditures of our governments; local, state, and federal. He will also discuss means for decreasing government spending.

Professor Ashworth's address will be the third of a series of radio talks given each week by faculty members of the economics department. On Friday night Prof. John H. Magee spoke on the subject "The Case for Unemployment Insurance." The first speaker of the series was Prof. Cecil Garland.

Rehearsals for Next Masque Play, Dec. 8, Progressing

Rehearsals for the next Masque play, Hedda Gabler, by Henrik Ibsen, have been started under the direction of Professor Mark Bailey. The play will be presented in the university chapel Thursday evening, December 8.

Hedda Gabler is one of the best known of Ibsen's plays. Eva LeGallienne has produced it several times in the Civic Repertory Theatre of New York City, and it has proved to be one of the most successful of her many productions. Kathryn Small has been chosen to play the part taken on the New York stage by Miss LeGallienne, the role of Hedda, considered to be the most thorough villainess in modern literature.

The complete cast for the play is: George Tesman, John Willey; Mrs. Hedda Tesman (born Gabler), Kathryn Small; Miss Juliana Tesman, Lucinda Ripley; Mrs. Elvsted, Helen Findlay; Judge Brack, Charles Page; Ejlert Lovborg, Carl Bottum; and Bertha, Lora Brown.

Two Maine students, Maxine Harding '34, and Robert D. Goode, graduate student, escaped injury late Friday night when their car met that operated by Marvel Willey of Bangor in a head-on crash on the curve in front of the Bangor Floral Company. The other occupants of the Bangor car, none of whom were injured, were Mrs. Doris Willey and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McLain, all of Bangor.

Both cars were completely demolished, and had to be towed away by wrecking machines.

2 CO-EDS MISSING ALL SATURDAY NITE CAUSE OF ANXIETY

Ruth Libby, Miriam Linscott
Hunting with Win Libby
Unable To Return

Balentine Hall was in an uproar Saturday night, when Ruth Libby and Miriam Linscott, both sophomores, failed to return to the dormitory at twelve o'clock, after they had left early in the afternoon on a hunting expedition to Chemo. Throughout the night, work was done, searching parties organized, and the Orono police notified, but the party returned safe early Sunday morning, with no more than a thorough drenching to suffer from their experience.

About two o'clock in the afternoon, both girls accompanied by Miss Libby's brother, Winthrop Libby, and George Morrill left Orono in the pouring rain to try their skill at hunting in the vicinity of Chemo.

The party was duly ferried across the river at Orono and after making arrangements with the ferryman that they should signal him with their flashlight when they were ready to return, they walked on to Chemo Stream. From here they paddled upstream in a canoe and hunted all afternoon. Later in the evening they enjoyed a picnic supper which the girls had brought along and about seven o'clock, they started home in the canoe.

The stream was so rough that they were forced to land. They tied the canoe and started to wade through the swamps to the ferry. The water was so deep that this was impossible, so the party decided they would just have to spend the night there in the woods.

No shelter was available, and therefore they passed the entire night walking around and around just trying to keep warm and as one said, "To keep each other in good spirits." They did not even succeed in getting a fire started until four in the morning.

Meanwhile the telephones were busy at Balentine. The party was traced to Chemo, for the ferryman told he had carried them over, but he had failed to receive any signal for their return. So then the Orono police were notified, and several searching parties started out. All night, Balentine anxiously awaited some word of the hunters' safety, but none came.

Early Sunday morning Phi Eta Kappa, Winthrop Libby's fraternity, was also notified, and the boys started out—a well organized force. Some went by car; some were going to take a canoe; and others walked.

By this time, Balentine was becoming anxious, but during breakfast a call came that the boys had met the party coming home, and the hunters were eating a hearty breakfast.

At daybreak, the party had paddled downstream, and then proceeded home as rapidly as possible. They were more like icicles than human beings, for the rain had succeeded in drenching them, and their clothes were of variegated colors and designs. However, after a long sleep, they seemed not to have suffered too much from their adventure.

Four Maine Men Unhurt As Automobiles Crash

Three Maine students, George E. Osgood, Swen Hallgren, W. E. Cloutier, and Professor J. H. Waring of the University faculty were involved in an automobile collision at Hermon Corner Saturday evening, when a car driven by Arthur Day of Bangor crashed into Professor Waring's car. No one was injured, but both cars were badly damaged.

Professor Waring's party was headed toward Bangor, returning from Durham, N. H. The other car, a Dodge touring model, approached Professor Waring's Roosevelt sedan on the wrong side of the road, and at the last moment swerved to the right, crashing into the left side of the sedan. The sedan lost both left fenders, the running board, and the steering apparatus was damaged. Professor Waring and the students completed their trip in the car of State Policeman George Dubay, who investigated the accident.

NOTICE

Open house will begin at the M.C.A. building beginning on Tuesday of next week. The building will be open on Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday evenings each week.

SOCIAL SCIENTISTS
HOLD MEETING HERE

History and Economics Depts.
Were Hosts to Men from Bowdoin, Bates, Colby

The fourth annual meeting of the Maine Social Scientists was brought to a close here Saturday morning with a business session in Stevens Hall. Prof. Cecil G. Garland of the Department of Economics and Sociology, president of the association for the current year, presided. The invitation of Colby College to the members of the association to hold their meeting at that institution next year was accepted.

The session this year was opened with a dinner at the University Inn, followed by a general discussion meeting. Dean Muilenburg of the College of Arts & Sciences welcomed the visiting members on behalf of the University. Topics set for discussion during the Friday evening meeting were "The Comprehensive Examination" and the problems presented by bootlegging and gangsterism in the light of the possible modification or repeal of the prohibitory laws.

Saturday morning preceding the general meeting, group sessions were held, with subjects of interest to the economists, the sociologists, and those whose interests were in the fields of history and government. Representatives from the faculties of Bowdoin, Bates, and Colby were present at the meetings. Prof. Ashworth of the Department of Economics and Prof. Dow of the Department of History and Government with their associates in those departments acted as hosts to the visiting members of the association.

Committee Makes Election Proposal

Below are printed the election rules adopted by the Student Senate and the proposed changes in those rules recommended by a Student Senate committee consisting of: President John Wilson, Bryce H. Jose, Kenneth Foster, and Millard F. Fitzgerald. This committee was appointed at a meeting of the Senate held October 27, its duty being to consider the election rules with a view to revising them in the light of situations which arose in the last class elections.

The changes recommended by the committee are printed below in italics.

THE PLAN IN GENERAL

This plan of nominations consists of primary and secondary nominating committees. The primary nominating committee shall consist of one authorized delegate from each student group who meet for the purpose of listing the names of candidates proposed for office by these delegates. The candidates proposed shall be subject to the eligibility rules of the University. After this meeting, one week passes in which each student group shall determine the candidates whom they believe to be best fitted for office. Each group then sends one delegate to the meeting of the secondary nominating committee. These delegates shall be privileged to cast one vote for each major office and five votes for each committee. The nominees from this second meeting shall be the candidates for whom the students vote at the general class elections. The three upper classes of the University follow the above procedure at the same time.

It is hoped that this plan will create a realization of the importance of class elections and will give more time for the various student groups to make proper selections. Also the plan will limit the number of candidates to be voted upon, and should facilitate ballot counting. The Board of Administration of the University favors such a plan.

THE PLAN IN DETAIL

Delegations:
For each class the authorized delegation on both the primary and secondary nominating committees shall be:

One from each fraternity, one from each sorority, one for each fifteen non-fraternity men, and one for each fifteen non-sorority women.

Delegations:
For each of the three upper classes the authorized delegation on both the primary and secondary nominating committees shall be:

One from each fraternity—Such a delegate shall bring a statement certifying his authority with the signature of the president of the house.

One from each sorority—Such a delegate shall bring a statement certifying her authority with the signature of the president of the sorority.

Has Increased Building Program, Faculty. No Salary Cut

That the University of Maine has been exceedingly fortunate in evading a decline in income and other financial problems during the recent economic depression was the conclusion drawn from the report submitted to the committee to study the effect of the depression on the Land Grant Colleges by Dean Olin S. Lutes. The report was submitted at the meeting of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities held in Washington on November 14, 15, 16. Dean Lutes represented President Harold S. Boardman, chairman of the committee, who was unable to attend the meeting because of illness.

In the report submitted, the income for general administration and teaching at Maine was shown to have increased twenty-three per cent, while twenty-four out of the forty-two colleges which submitted reports showed a general decrease during the period 1928-29 and 1932-33. Such an increase was partly due to an increase in tuition at Maine and a one mill tax appropriation by the state for the support of the University. The majority of the colleges have been forced either to curtail their building program or to postpone it entirely. Maine, however, has been able to increase her building program by twenty-six per cent.

It was found that, in twenty-eight of the colleges, the result has been a general salary reduction; there has been no change at Maine. In some of the institutions, it has been necessary to cut the teaching staff. One institution has received the drastic cut of twenty-five per cent. Again this University is fortunate in that the staff has been increased ten per cent. Ten institutions have been compelled to increase the teaching load. There is some tendency manifest to economize by eliminating or consolidating various departments. Many colleges are engaged at the present time in studying their curricula with the view to eliminating or consolidating wherever it may seem justifiable.

In a study made of the effect of the depression on the student bodies of these institutions, it was found that registration in the engineering and agricultural schools showed a general decrease in many institutions, while the graduate schools showed a widespread increase. The students were reported to be taking a more serious attitude toward education, and to be showing a tendency to economize in every way possible. There was a general increased tendency among students to be willing to work to earn their expenses. Disciplinary

Perry Tells About Turkey In Assembly Talk on Mon.

Mr. Edward Perry, associated with the Christian development of Turkey at Smyrna, presented a talk on existing conditions in that country in an address in chapel Monday morning.

In order to have an improvement in economic conditions in our country, he said that it was necessary, first of all, to improve conditions in all other countries. Much has been done already in Turkey along the basic, underlying factors needed in a great country's constitution. But never until Turkey has learned the Christian qualities of brotherhood and honesty will she be able to keep peace within her boundaries and with other nations. And in this respect the Christianization of Turkey is solely dependent upon the Christian countries of the world.

Stevens Northern Wing Brickwork Completed

The construction of the wings of Stevens Hall is progressing rapidly. On the northern annex the brickwork has already been completed and the roof is now being made; on the southern annex the brickwork is expected to be finished within a week. The brickwork on the arcades between the main building and the wings is also nearly completed.

However, due to inclement weather at present and the great amount of work to be done on the inside of the annexes, it is not expected that the buildings will be finished before March. Work on these buildings has been under way since the beginning of September.

Maine and the Depression

Coincident with the coming of Thanksgiving this year comes the releasing of the report on the effect of the depression on land grant colleges in general and the University of Maine in particular. We find that, while many institutions have been forced to cut their teaching staffs, curtail their building programs, and reduce salaries, Maine has suffered none of this. Maine is shown to have increased her building program and faculty, while maintaining salaries at pre-depression standards. This is certainly a reason for students at Maine to celebrate Thanksgiving in the spirit in which it was intended.

The report presented by Dean Lutes, representing President Boardman who is chairman of the committee conducting this survey, shows further that students are taking a more serious attitude toward education, and that fewer students are attending colleges for merely social purposes. Maine was probably never afflicted by many of the latter type of students, but if the depression has done away with them here and elsewhere, then it has not been entirely without benefit.

The report shows that many colleges have had to economize in several fields. Some have had to cut salaries, some faculties, and some their building programs. Yet in spite of this they have carried on their work, somewhat hampered and limited perhaps, but nevertheless they have continued to educate. If colleges have learned to economize, and if students also have learned to attend college for educational purposes rather than for recreational purposes, the depression has had a beneficial effect to counteract, in small measure perhaps, the suffering and discontent it has caused.

Intramural

The opportunity open to students at Maine to take part in healthful recreational activities is large, and is due to the diligence with which intra-mural athletics have been managed. There are nine different sports carried on by the Intramural A. A., which give an opportunity to every student to participate in at least one of them.

The healthful inter-fraternity and inter-class atmosphere for which this program of athletics is largely responsible is most desirable. In many colleges where such a program as Maine's is not present various groups within the college are always at each others' throats with intent to cut them if possible. Such a condition does not exist here.

There is probably no better way of getting undergraduates acquainted with each other than by a program of intramural sports. The benefit of having the members of the student body know each other is obvious.

Thus the Intramural A. A. is performing a real service to the University of Maine, and is deserving of the support of the student body.

FROSH VOTE FAVORABLY FOR CLASS PAPER, FRI.

A meeting of the Freshman Class was called to order last Friday noon, November 18, by the president of the class, John Adams. At this meeting the question of the support of the Freshman was brought up. Donald Scanlin, the Editor-in-Chief of the Freshman, and Henry Little the Business Manager, spoke in favor of having the Freshman Class support and finance the paper. Henry Little said that the cost of the paper would not be great—about 1½ cents a copy. By a rising vote the Freshman Class unanimously decided to give the Freshman their support.

Freshmen Tie Seniors In Field Hockey Tilt

The Seniors and the Freshmen played the most exciting game of the season Friday afternoon with the score of 2-2.

Carr made the first point at the beginning of the first half for the Freshmen. Never before has an opposing team scored first on the mighty Senior team. Archer scored at the end of the first half making the score 2-0.

In the second half the two missing members of the Seniors appeared and with a perfect forward line they scored two points held down by a high-spirited Freshman team.

After holding the Seniors 2-2 Friday afternoon, the Freshmen failed to do the same Saturday morning, although they gave the Seniors a good, hard fight. The Freshman team has very promising material for next year.

The final score of the game was 10-0 with Smith and Brown making the goals.

A.T.O. BEATS PHI KAPPA TO WIN SOUTHERN TITLE

Fighting to a victorious finish in the intramural touch-football contest last Sunday afternoon, Alpha Tau Omega outscored Phi Kappa by the narrow margin of 8-7. Bean of A.T.O. picked a pass out of the air in the last four minutes of play and galloped over the goal line.

Thus proclaiming themselves the Southern League champions, A.T.O. will clash this week with the S.A.E. outfit, holders of the Northern League title. This final contest will decide the all-round champions in the intramural touch-football series.

problems are apparently fewer; fewer students are attending the institutions merely for social purposes and less money is being spent for social activities. In one half of the institutions studied the students seem to be taking greater interest in vocational objectives.

Practically all institutions have found serious difficulty in placing their graduates during the past two years. This was true for the past year more than any other year.

Although the University of Maine has thus far been especially fortunate in not having to reduce its building program and salary scales as a result of the depression, it should be noted that the University has never enjoyed as much prosperity as that of many other similar institutions in other states, and therefore has far less margin for shrinking than they have, according to Dean Lutes.

Juniors Fail To Score On 1933 Hockey Team

Thursday afternoon the two upper-class hockey teams met in a game well-fought to the finish in which the Seniors slipped over a 9-0 win. Although the juniors played hard and well, they were unable to make a goal on the seniors, who displayed excellent team-work.

During the game, Moulton made 2 goals, Smith 4, and Brown 3.

TOO BAD YOU'RE not going home for Thanksgiving, but you'll meet everybody else who didn't go, at the Thanksgiving afternoon stag dance at Alumni from 3:30 to 7.... And then there was the conscience stricken sophomore transfer who started out with an alarm clock, lest she be a minute late.... Col. Blake, the sage of Delta Tau, has accepted a night watchman's job at Myrtle Street, so they tell us.... The Phi Gam's opened their portals last week-end to several youthful beauties who attended the journalism conference, and Bill Wood was lucky enough to take the Blonde Venus out for the evening.... Hotcha Baldwin sure did blush while traveling down the hall in Balentine the other night, these bashful boys are certainly a caution.... And while we are discussing that harbor of feminine beauty called Balentine, we must note the fact that some of the inmates have a passion for mechanical mice as evidenced when they entertained the faculty members who attended the formal dinner there the other night.... Many are the members of the Sophomore class who have been itching to see Ray Gailey get his name in this little kolyum, because of the work he did last year with his little sheet. Well, Ray has been observed passing notes to a lil Tri-Delt in classes recently. We must draw our own conclusions.... Once again the co-eds will get a cross section view of the way the men of the campus eat when they visit the men's dormitory for Thanksgiving Dinner, maybe the little frosh won't blush when they spill the soup, and maybe they will.... Ping pong is coming back to replace football and the FRESHMAN is going to conduct a ping pong tournament in the near future.... It must have been rather difficult for Marnie Smith the other day when called upon in class to give a definition of love. We might as well give ours here, though we must apologize to Jeffery Farnol. It goes like this, "Love, from the philosophically materialistic standpoint, is an unease and distrust of the mind, fostered in the male by hallucination and in the female by determined self-delusion.".... Sampson Cohen up at the TEP house is earning a reputation for himself by breaking windows every time he turns around.... Sampson Lampropoulos is earning a reputation as a strongman through his continued use of the expression "I'll break your wrist.".... And while you're all stuffing away the turkey and mince-pie, Mrs. Snoopicus' little boy Snoop, will go out on filter paper duty, gathering the dirt.

VOLLEY BALL CONTESTS COMMENCE THIS WEEK

The annual intramural volley ball tournament started Monday and will continue until after the Christmas recess, the final games being played January 4. The teams are divided into three leagues, as follows:

League A: Alpha Tau Omega, Phi Kappa, Phi Mu Delta, Phi Eta Kappa, Delta Tau Delta, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Beta Theta Pi, and Theta Chi.

League B: Eta Nu Pi, Phi Gamma Delta, Lambda Chi Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Tau Epsilon Phi, Dorm A, Faculty, and Phi Kappa Sigma.

League C: Sigma Chi, Alpha Gamma Rho, Beta Kappa, Sigma Phi Sigma, Sigma Nu, Dorm B, and Oak Hall.

MILES AND MILES OF WILD LIFE FILM

Thirty-six miles of film was part of the equipment that went into the making of Frank Buck's "Bring 'Em Back Alive," which comes to the Strand Theatre next Friday and Saturday.

This amount of film was necessary because of the long period the Van Beuren-Buck Expedition remained in the interior of the Malaysian jungles, and because a complete motion picture record of the trip was made. Enough Graflex negative film to take five hundred "stills" was carried; there were four complete portable sets of developing apparatus, extra lenses, specially packed, for all cameras; and a large supply of flash bulbs to meet other requirements for the RKO-Radio picture.

DELTA ZETA INFORMAL HELD SATURDAY EVENING

The Delta Zeta sorority held an informal dance Saturday evening at the American Legion Hall. Music was furnished by Smith Ames' Isle of Blues Orchestra. The hall was decorated to represent the deck of a steamer. During intermission refreshments consisting of ice cream and fancy cookies were served. Among the guests present were some of the alumni of the sorority, and Dr. Ruth Crosby, faculty adviser of Delta Zeta. The dance was chaperoned by Dr. and Mrs. A. Morton Turner and Dr. and Mrs. G. William Small.

PHI SIGMA PLEDGES EIGHT NEW MEMBERS

Phi Sigma pledged eight students Tuesday noon in Coburn Hall. Those wearing the new bows are: Donald Faver, Harold Fleischer, Kenneth Jones, Helen Nivison, Maynard Quimby, Abraham Rosen, Wesley Wasgatt, and John Quinn.

The first Y.W.C.A. Bohemian Tea was held at the M.C.A. building Friday afternoon between three and five p.m., with faculty and students members attending. Interesting jig-saw puzzles were put together by those who felt so inclined, while many others enjoyed asking the Ouija Board numerous and various questions!

Refreshments of tea, cookies, salteins, and mints were served. Miss Edith Wilson and Grace Quarrington were in charge while Ruth Walenta and Louise Steves served.

A tea of this type is to be held once a month during the school year to serve in making closer relations between faculty and students.

The fifth meeting of the freshman "Y" was held at Mt. Vernon last Wednesday evening. Helen Scully opened the meeting and a discussion of the honor system was held.

"Dot" Davis led the singing. Several upperclass girls and about fifteen freshmen were present.

There will be no meeting this week as the holiday comes on Thursday and most of the girls will go home.

A smoker for freshmen was held at the Tau Epsilon Phi house last Friday night. The program included entertainment and an informal talk by Samuel S. Silverman, instructor of mathematics.

BIOLOGY CLASSES SEE "THE LOST WORLD" THURS.

Dr. Young presented a motion picture, "The Lost World," for the benefit of the biological theories class, and the biology majors in 11 Coburn Hall, Thursday night, November 17.

The picture was a small facsimile, somewhat abridged, of the movie which appeared on the screen under the same name some time ago. "The Lost World" proved to be both instructive and entertaining, since it is the story of a scientist who conducted an expedition to South America for the purpose of proving that relics and survivals of prehistoric animals still exist.

STAG DANCE GIVEN BY BETA PI THETA FRIDAY

Beta Pi Theta held a stag dance in Alumni Hall Friday evening. About one hundred couples attended. Music was furnished by Perley Reynolds and his orchestra.

The chaperons were Miss Buzzell, Dr. Fundenburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Rice. Mildred Bradstreet was chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

Lambda Chi Alpha initiated the following on Sunday, November 20:

John Paul, Russell Black, Jack Gitchell, George Fitch, Harold Lord, Warren Pratt, Enoch Cook, Arthur Otis, Robert Higgins, Don Stone, Woodrow Marcille, and Francis "Chick" Shea.

Thanksgiving Day is not to be void of its festive activities here at Maine. From 3 to 7 on Turkey afternoon a tea dance is to be held in the gym under the auspices of the Y.W.C.A. Chaperons for the dance are to be Mr. and Mrs. James Moreland and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bliss. Vivian Moors is chairman of the affair and Smith Ames and his orchestra will furnish the music.

Theta Chi held a vic party Saturday evening with about seven couples attending. Mrs. Witherley chaperoned.

The Sigma Tau sorority held a vic party Friday night at Colvin Hall. Bertha Landon and Marcia Adleman were in charge of arrangements, and Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cohen and Mrs. Sullivan were the chaperons.

Maine Track Team Is Weakened by Loss of Veterans

Shaw, Black Appear Promising; Floring's Loss Felt in Dashes; Favor, Alley Good in Weights

By WILBERT PRONOVOST

With a successful cross country season behind him, Coach Jenkins has now turned his attention to developing an indoor track team. Although handicapped by losses through graduation, his greatest loss is in Bill Floring, star hurdler, who failed to return this year. In addition to setting a new record in the 220 yard hurdles in the New England last spring, Floring showed the promise of becoming one of Maine's greatest broad jumpers and dash men.

Coach Jenkins' best hope in the hurdles this year is in Maurice Goddard, last year's freshman hurdler who captured third in the high hurdles in the State meet last spring. Goddard will be ably assisted by Lew Hardison and Ralph Dougherty. With the loss of Lovell Chase as well as Floring in the broad jump, the Pale Blue mentor will depend on Mel Means, Dick Gaffney, and Warren Flagg; the latter two were members of the 1935 squad.

The Black Bear aggregation suffers other great losses by graduation in Cal Fickett, weight man; Ev Gunning, two miler; Bill Hathaway, pole vaulter; Ray Wendell, quarter miler; and Keith Percival, miler. Another promising athlete who failed to return to college this year is John Roberts, an outstanding weight man on the 1935 freshman team.

In both the discus and shot put events, Maine will be ably represented by Alton Alley and Don Favor. Other weight men are Warren Kane, Hayden Rogers, Clayton Totman, and Dick Hill. Favor, the "Blond Viking," will also compete in the javelin throw and the 35 pound hammer event. He will be assisted in the latter by John Gonzals, who placed third in the 1932 State meet.

Mel Means and Elwin Moulton are the outstanding veteran dash men, but Rod Mullaney and Chick Shea, both members of the 1935 team, will make a strong bid for that honor this year. Bob Pendleton and Don McKiniry will be pressed closely in the quarter mile run by Bill Cole and "Mac" McGinley, both sophomores. Larry O'Connell and Edward Littlefield will also compete in that event.

The half mile promises to be one of the Pale Blue's strongest events with Rus Shaw and Ken Black entered in it. Shaw captured first place in that event in last year's state meet, while Black holds the college indoor record which he obtained in a special race last year. Harry Booth leads the field in the one and two mile runs, but will be closely pressed by Horace Drummond, leading frosh two-miler last season. Both of these, however, will be given close competition by Larry Jackson, Don Corbett, and Ted Earl, juniors, and Bob Wishart, Harry Saunders, Joe Marsh, and Carl Briggs, sophomores. Ken Black is also a brilliant miler and may be called upon in that event.

Freeman Webb, state champion pole vaulter for the past two seasons, leads the field in that event aided by Phil Hovey and Alfred McMichael. This trio will probably be strengthened later in the season by Stan Urbanik, star vaulter of the 1935 aggregation, who expects to return to college in February. Webb is also the only veteran varsity high jumper, but

SPORTS SPIELS

By BOB BERG

An attempt to organize an intercollegiate basketball league among the four Maine colleges was crushed last week when the athletic authorities of Bates voted decidedly in the negative against starting the court game at the Lewiston institution. This move by Bates practically destroys any possible hope that may have existed in the hearts of hoop fans to see basketball started as a varsity sport among the Maine schools.

The University of Maine is the only one of the four schools that is ready to start basketball at a moment's notice, provided that Maine can arrange a schedule with the other colleges. The Pale Blue has been wholeheartedly in favor of reviving basketball which was dropped here in 1929. It may not be generally known, but since then the athletic board has set aside $1500 for the support of a varsity basketball team if only it could get the other colleges in the Pine Tree state interested in it.

Everything depended on the decision of Bates whether basketball would be started, as it seemed most likely that Colby would have organized a team immediately if Bates had decided in favor of the sport. The status of Bowdoin is unknown although from latest reports the Brunswick College is not very much enthused about putting out a quintet.

Even if Bowdoin had not entered the proposed league, a three cornered affair would have been organized if only the Bates' athletic moguls had cast their ballots in favor of the sport. If the league had been set up then, without a doubt, Maine would have arranged a schedule which might have also included New Hampshire, Connecticut Aggies, and Rhode Island. It certainly is too bad not to see such an entertaining and popular sport as basketball played in the state of Maine among the four schools.

NOTICE

Girls interested in riflery meet in Balentine Sunparlor Monday noon, November 28, at one o'clock.

Charlie Sleeper, who tied for second in the State meet is on a par with him. Other promising sophomores who will make a bid for that position are Bob Lakin and Chick Shea.

BOXING INSTRUCTION STARTED BY HAGAN

The winter program of boxing instruction began Monday night in the gymnasium, under the direction of Frank "Red" Hagan, '33.

Hagan acted as instructor in the sport last year, and the year before, he won the light-weight championship of the college.

Classes in boxing will be held two or three evenings a week during the coming winter. Anyone taking boxing will not have to take physical training.

An intra-mural boxing contest will be held this year, similar to the one last year. It will begin about the first of February. Persons who take boxing instruction do not have to enter the contest.

The men who reported for boxing Monday were:

Seniors: Perkins, Clifford, and Lawler.

Juniors: Hastings, Judkins, and Cram.

Sophomores: Coffin, Beverage, Bickford, Brush, Farwell, Hall, Heath, Little, Harmon, Carr, Curran, Michaud, and Libby.

Freshmen: Ford, Higgins, Kadish, Crabtree, Hutchins, Logan, Smith, Haggett, Kilas, Tilton, Dean, Stilphen, Duncan, Harris, Somers, Sargent, Wood, Pinkham, Howich, Wollston, Bryer, Coombs, Manning, Grant, and Hayes.

A ping-pong tournament for members of the freshman class started today. The tournament is being conducted by the Freshman. A trophy is to be awarded to the winning man.

SPORTS OF CO-EDS

By FERN ALLEN

The Senior hockey team, exhibiting a superior brand of team-work, is class champion. Some of the "beautiful" kicks and passes presented during state series clashes could hardly equal in technique the perfect work of the senior girls. Every position was occupied by a star.

The freshman girls nearly upset the dignity of the seniors, however, last Friday when they held them to a 2-2 tie.

Saturday morning the freshmen appeared singing a lusty song and with plenty of pep, but they were doomed to disappointment when, after two twenty-minute periods, they retired carrying the little end of the score 10-0.

After the game Saturday, the seniors ran wild, and discarding their hockey sticks, dumped Miss Rogers, the freshman coach, in the hay-stack at the end of the field.

Next Tuesday in the last scrimmage of the season, the Alumnae team will play the Red Exhibition team.

Basketball practice starts on November 28.

Muriel Whitman went to her home in Stonington for the week-end.

Mary Scott spent the week-end at her home in Ellsworth.

BOOTH CHOSEN HARRIER CAPTAIN; SIDELINGER, PRINCE, FROSH CAPTAINS

At a meeting of the cross country letter men last Wednesday, Harry Booth of Lewiston was elected honorary captain.

Dana Sidelinger and Alton Prince were elected honorary captains of football and cross country respectively, at a meeting of the freshman numeral men last week.

Booth came to Maine from Hebron Academy where he was one of the members of the championship prep school cross country team during his senior year. He made the freshman team his first year here, and since that time has received three varsity letters in the sport. He placed thirteenth in the I.C.A.A. meet last week at New York.

Booth was vice-president of his class last year, and was a Sophomore Owl the year preceding. He belongs to the Forestry Club, and is a member of Phi Eta Kappa fraternity, and is a Senior Skull.

Sidelinger prepared for Maine at Kents Hill where he played football for four years. He also received letters in track.

He has started in every game at tackle during the past season. His home is in South Portland.

Prince is a graduate of Brewer High. He was a member of the cross country team there, and has been among the first to finish in each of the freshman meets this fall. He ran with the team which finished sixth in the N.E.I.C.A.A. meet at Boston.

On Saturday, Dean Cloke went to New Jersey, where he interviewed the Works Manager of one of America's largest chemical companies. This company is planning to employ some of the U. of M. chemistry majors, who will graduate next June.

Next Tuesday, Dean Cloke and Mr. Crossland, are going to motor up into Aroostook County where, Tuesday night, they will address a meeting of the Aroostook Alumni.

The business meeting of Alpha Chi Sigma will be held at 7 o'clock Wednesday, November 30, in Aubert Hall.

Chesterfields are Milder

Chesterfields Taste Better

As smokers become more experienced, they demand milder cigarettes. Chesterfields are milder. Their mildness is just as much a feature as the beauty of their package.

The tobaccos are mild to begin with. Patient ageing and curing make them milder still. And Chesterfields contain just the right amount of Turkish—not too much—carefully blended and cross-blended with ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. That's why "They Satisfy."

There is probably no better way of getting undergraduates acquainted with each other than by a program of intramural sports. The benefit of having the members of the student body know each other is obvious.

Thus the Intramural A. A. is performing a real service to the University of Maine, and is deserving of the support of the student body.
