Senior Co-eds Get Basketball Crown
The championship game in the intercollegiate basketball tournament between boys and seniors Tuesday night at Alumni Hall.

It was a very good affair from beginning to end, with many a close finish between the teams that had played together for four years, with some of the seniors graduating Friday.

Both teams were tied at 40 points at the crease point by point to a tally of 69 favoring the seniors at the close of the game. The seniors took the lead at the 35-minute period of Maine and added five more points in the last period.

Leslie Adams opened the third quarter with a basket shot followed by a layup by Davies and Mosher. For a long period the ball flailed back and forth until Maine edged in another point. At the three-quarter mark the score was tied 55-55.

Corporal made the last freshman basket to start the last period and two by two Maine made the lead. Maine added 25-19 and again the class of 55-55.

Dickson scored 19 points for the Sen-ers, including 11 points from the three-score line. Maine was its highest scorer for the French with 9 points.

BETA SIGMA TAU TO GIVE MEETING ON "WHAT IS A THEORY"

Bette Prin, the honorary French sociologist, is retiring a benefactor plaque. On April 25, the society will meet in the French Club for our last meeting of the semester. It is important that the society meet in its last meeting, especially on this occasion.

Some members of the society have expressed interest in the meeting, for it provides an opportunity for those attending to hear the latest sociological research being done in the field. Moreover, it will be an opportunity for those attending to discuss the implications of sociological findings and to share ideas with other members of the society.

The meeting will begin with an introduction by the society president, followed by a brief presentation by Bette Prin on "What is a Theory." The presentation will be followed by a discussion period, during which members of the society will have the opportunity to ask questions and engage in further discussion. The meeting will conclude with a brief closing remarks by the society president.

The meeting is open to all members of the society, and we encourage all members to attend. It is an excellent opportunity to learn more about the latest sociological research and to share ideas with other members of the society.

I look forward to seeing you all at the meeting.

Yours sincerely,

Bette Prin

Remember Our Guests

Remembering some of the occurrences of last year’s intercollegiate basketball tournament, I am prompted to convey some news of the coming event to those who attended the tournament last year. The tournament is scheduled to be held on the afternoon of Saturday, February 25, at the Colby College gym.

The tournament will feature a round-robin format, with each team playing three games. The team with the best record at the end of the round-robin will be declared the tournament champion.

It is expected that the tournament will draw a large number of teams from various institutions, including some who participated in last year’s tournament. The tournament is open to all interested teams, and I encourage all to participate.

I look forward to seeing you all at the tournament.

Yours sincerely,

WHEN smokers keep buying the \n\nsame cigarette day after day... \n\n...it’s a pretty good sign that they’re \n\nmilling, \n\n...tasting—an smoke that’s always \n\nthe same. \n\nSo we’re going right on making Chesterfield just as we always have... selecting choice, ripe tobacco... aging them... blending and cross-blending them... making them into cigarettes in the most scientific ways that are known.

As long as we do those things we know that some smoker is going to say,"They Satisfy." For that’s what people are saying about Chesterfield. If it’s the way you feel about them, too? A package or two will tell you the whole story.
