FAMOUS GERMAN TO APPEAR ON STAGE AT THURSDAY'S CHAPEL

Max Montor Presents
Series of Readings
In English

ASSEMBLY IS AT 9:30

Has Acted With Many Well Known Stars In Great
Stage Productions

Max Montor, celebrated German actor, and internationally known for his unusual interpretations in poetry and drama, will appear in person at the assembly to be held in the Memorial Gymnasium, Thursday, October 12, at nine-thirty. Mr. Montor will present a series of dramatic readings in English. In the evening, under the auspices of Der Deutscher Verein, he will present a series of sketches in German in the Little Theatre in Alumni Hall.

Herr Montor was born in Vienna, and studied for the stage at the Imperial Conservatory of Dramatics in his native city. He made his debut in Zurich, Switzerland, as Mephistopheles in Goethe's "Faust." Since then, he has appeared in all the great cities of Austria, Switzerland, and Germany, his engagements lasting over long periods. On Broadway, Mr. Montor has played opposite Eva Le Gallienne in the title role of Ibsen's "The Master Builder," and with Walter Hampden in "Hamlet." He has, in fact, also played such distinguished roles as Mark Antony, Hamlet, Shylock, Macbeth, Richard III, Lear, Faust, and Cyrano de Bergerac.

As a reader and interpreter, Max Montor has appeared in many of the leading colleges and cities in America, and is regarded as one of the most outstanding members of his field. The Cornell Daily Sun comments: "Max Montor has been termed the most versatile actor in all Germany, has achieved the almost impossible, giving complete drama, all roles included, interpreting from memory, with the same stirring effects as can be produced on a full stage, without makeup, simply through characterization and with a voice, marvelous in its modulation and power. He is a whole theatre in one person."

The assembly program, which will be given in English, is as follows:

1. The Cranes of Ibycus.....Schiller
2. Scenes from Faust.....Goethe
3. Tolerance better than Hatred.....Shakespeare-Leising
4. Belshazzar.....Heine

At the evening program, the selections will be given in German, and an admission will be charged.

- The program:
1. Ringerzahlung aus Nathan der Weise.....Leising
  2. Apfelschusscene aus Wilhelm Tell.....Schiller
  3. Aus Faust.....Goethe

Spot Light Dances To Be Featured Friday

Here's news for all psychology lovers, and also for those who are not so inclined. The Sigma Mu Sigma society is holding a Psychological Stag Dance Friday evening at Alumni Hall. It promises to be rare and different, for colored spotlights are to be featured. Alumni will probably represent Dreamwood or the Old Orchard Pier, with its spot lights and fancy decorations. Numerous prizes are to be awarded; one to the person who enters the hall at the psychological moment; one to the person upon whom the spot light affixes its rays at a certain moment.

Larry Miller's Bears will do some unusual crooning. So come one and all, and prepare your mental state of mind to have a "Psychologically-Planned Perfect Evening."

Tennis Club Meets Tonight To Discuss Plans For Training Thru Fall, Winter

The Tennis Club will hold a short organization meeting on Thursday, October 5, at 7:00 P.M. in the M.C.A. Building. Plans will be made for conducting the tennis tournaments this year and for training the tennis squad through the autumn and winter in preparation for the spring intercollegiate season.

Freshmen are eligible for the Varsity team that will play next spring, but all who intend to try out should enter the tournament this week. Freshmen who

Removing Old Garage Brings Back Memories of War Days At Maine

Spring of '18 Saw Campus
Regular Military
Headquarters

By John C. Willey

Maine Campus Feature Editor

The garage, which once stood back of Lord Hall and which was razed this summer in accordance with the campus beautification project, was certainly a common-place object. Yet behind it is a story of war days, now resurrected through the aid of a scant handful of individuals then connected with the University.

The spring of 1918, a time when war enthusiasm was at its height, found the University closing in May so that the campus might be used for a military training camp. There were in all three consignments of soldiers who reported for training here. The first group came from Ohio, the second section was recruited from the New England states, and the third consisted entirely of Maine men. Each group numbered 200 men, and the term of service was eight weeks.

The instruction was principally of a mechanical nature and the garage was built as a workshop for those who were occupied in stripping and assembling automobiles. Four used cars, a new one, and a government truck were furnished by the government. The townspeople soon discovered that they had a free garage at hand, for the supply of automobiles was insufficient, and the army instructors stated that anyone who wished to have valves ground or other work done on his car had only to drive to the army garage. It is highly probable that several people responded.

C. PARKER CROWELL HOMECOMING CHMN

November 10-11 Is Date Set
For Third Annual Celebration

The third annual Alumni Homecoming will be held at the University of Maine, November 10-11, C. Parker Crowell '98 of Bangor, announced following the first meeting of the committee appointed to make arrangements for this event.

Alumni Homecoming which was started in 1931 is sponsored cooperatively by the University and by the General Alumni Association. It is held each year the day of the last home football game, which this year is with Bowdoin, November 11.

The details for this event have not yet been completely formulated, but it is expected that it will in general be the same as last year, opening with the meeting of "M" men, Friday evening, and concluding with the Luncheon, Saturday noon, just preceding the football game.

The members of the committee appointed to have charge of this event are: C. Parker Crowell '98, Bangor, chairman; E. H. Kelley '90, Acting Purchasing Agent; W. W. Chadbourne '20, Associate Professor of Economics; T. S. Curtis '23, Faculty Manager of Athletics; Miss Marion Rogers '30, Instructor in Women's Physical Education.

Sgt. Bays Replacing Donchez In R.O.T.C.

Sergeant Edward Bays of the Portland National Defense has been added to the University of Maine Military Department in a transfer that sends Sergeant Frank Donchez to the Bangor High School R.O.T.C.

Sergeant Bays will take over complete charge of the supply room, and in addition will coach the freshman rifle team. He will also be instructor in military for the University student band.

Sergeant Donchez leaves his old post after several years' service during which he has been a familiar Military Department figure. His freshman rifle teams have ranked among the best in New England, and his ability to develop new talent from raw recruits has been an invaluable source of varsity material.

The Maine rifle team of last year, on which were several freshmen, scored the highest in competition among six New England colleges.

The dormitory administration has passed a ruling that all upper classmen must keep out of Hannibal Hamlin and Oak Halls after seven o'clock in the evening. This ruling will be strictly enforced.

CROONERS CROP UP AS OWLS FUNCTION

Book Store Steps Draw Mob
When Unruly Frosh
Come To Sing

The second meeting of the Sophomore Owls was held Tuesday evening with a number of freshmen as unwilling guests. As a result of the meeting, several freshmen appeared on the steps of Fernald Hall yesterday morning for the entertainment of upperclassmen.

One apologized to the onlookers in general and the Sophomore Owls and Senior Skulls in particular. Another rendered the Stein Song and "My Wild Irish Rose" in a lilting tenor, accompanied by two classmates armed with trumpet and saxophone.

At last week's meeting, judgments were handed down which resulted in the cleaning off of the painted numerals on various University walks, another Stein Song rendition, and the distribution of matches at the Maine-Rhode Island football game.

CAMPUS TO PRESENT TELEPHONED STORY OF YALE GAME SAT.

A play by play description of the Maine-Yale game, telephoned from the Yale Bowl to the Memorial Gymnasium-Armory here will be presented by the Maine Campus for the convenience of students, faculty, and others who care to hear it. At two o'clock on Saturday afternoon the program will begin and will last until the game has ended. Admission of twenty-five cents will be charged.

Burton Mullen, men's news editor of the Campus, left today for New Haven. He will telephone the story on a leased wire from there, and it will be rebroadcast through the amplifiers in the gym by a member of the Campus staff.

Permission to use the gym for this purpose was obtained from the Board of Trustees at the close of their meeting held in Alumni Hall this noon.

New Alumni Directory To Be Out This Month

The Alumni Directory, a book published every four years by the General Alumni Association and the University, will be ready for distribution during the latter part of October, according to Charles E. Crossland, Alumni Secretary.

This directory, compiled by the Alumni Association and printed by the University, will be divided into five parts. It will list graduates and non-graduates alphabetically, geographically, and by classes from the founding of the University through the Class of 1933.

At the present time, the directory is in the process of being made up in the University Print Shop.

Outing Club Plans Several Fall Trips

The Maine Outing Club held its first meeting of the year Thursday evening in Winslow Hall. Nearly 100 students were present, including a large number of freshmen. Darrell Brown, the president, spoke briefly on the purpose of the organization and introduced Mr. Moreland who made a plea for active enthusiasm this year in M.O.C. He mentioned his own Kentucky love of hiking and pointed out Dartmouth as a supreme example of a real M.O.C. Maine in the near future, he said, will be confronted with the problem of getting students and a well-organized and live outing club may be one solution.

Winifred Cushing read the secretary's report and Roger Cameron, treasurer, gave his report. He also explained the new Inner Circle of M.O.C., recently organized as the Pine Tree Blazers, from which the officers of the organization are chosen. There are now nine members in the Pine Tree Blazers.

The Maine Outing Club will meet Thursday evening at 6:45 at 33 Winslow Hall. Interesting moving pictures of the Dartmouth and Bates Outing Clubs will be shown; so all members should be present, including freshmen.

Plans for a canoe trip to Chemo Pond next Sunday have been completed, and plans for hare-and-hound chase at Stillwater for two weeks from Sunday are underway. All those wishing to participate in these events come to Winslow Thursday evening.

BOB NIVISON ELECTED EDITOR OF FROSH SHEET

The Freshman board has been revised because of the ineligibility of six of its former members. The members which comprise the board are:

Editor-in-chief, Robert Nivison; Associate Editor, Jane Stillman; Men's News Editor, Howard Stag; Women's News Editor, Jane Sullivan; Men's Sports, Rip Murphy; Women's Sports, Fran Jones; Circulation Manager, Robert Laverty; Asst. Circulation Manager, Robert Ohler; Adviser, Cecil Fielder; Staff Typists, Dot Ayer, Phyllis Dimitre; and Art Editor, Jack Frost.

For super-enjoyment attend the Senior Skull Stag Dance on November 10.

TEAM TO CONCENTRATE ON DEFENSE IN TUSSE WITH YALE BULL DOGS

Campus Begins Another
Broadcast Series Friday

A series of radio broadcasts over WLBZ in Bangor will be conducted weekly by the Campus again this year. The first broadcast in the series will be conducted tomorrow evening at seven o'clock.

The Campus inaugurated this feature into its functions last winter and carried it through the 1933 half of the last school year. An effort is being made this year to make the programs more universally interesting than those of last year.

PHIL PENDELL HEAD OF '35 PRISM BOARD

Stuart Mosher Is Business
Manager. Innervations
Planned For Book

Philip G. Pendell, Sigma Nu, was elected editor-in-chief of the 1935 Prism, and Stuart H. Mosher, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, was chosen business manager at a meeting of the junior class executive committee held last spring.

This year's Prism, in carrying out last year's major innovation, will contain, besides the regular pictures of groups, organizations, and activities, a photo of every student and faculty member in the University. The staff is now working with Edward H. Kelley, comptroller of the University, as faculty adviser and are making plans for several new features in the book. Photographers will be on campus within two weeks to begin their work.

The complete staff: editor-in-chief, Philip G. Pendell; associate editor, George D. Carlisle; photography editor, Donald M. Stewart; sports editor, Wilbert L. Pronovost; literary editor, Cynthia H. Wasgatt; organizations editor, John C. Willey; activities editors, Agnes K. Crowley, and Robert C. Arey; fraternity editor, Elston P. Ingalls.

The business staff: business manager, Stuart H. Mosher; advertising manager, Warren T. Pratt.

Frosh Women To Meet Sister Council, A. M. W.

At the meeting held for all Freshman women Tuesday, the Big Sister Council members and All-Maine Women were introduced to the freshmen by Fern Allen, President of the Big Sister Council.

Dean Wilson addressed the girls, and explained that the purpose of the Council was simply to promote friendliness between the upperclassmen and freshmen, and to help the latter become an integral part of the student body.

The Big Sister Council composed of eight sophomore and eight junior girls, are taking the place of the former Sophomore Eagles. Working in groups of three, an All-Maine Woman, a junior and a sophomore, they will attempt to become personally acquainted with all freshman women with the latter's cooperation.

At a meeting of the All Maine Women held last Tuesday, Betty Wilhelm was elected to fill the place on the Sister Council left by Louise Rosie, who has transferred to Kathryn Gibbs' School. Miss Wilhelm was a member of Sophomore Eagles, and is a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Two Shakespearean Plays Scheduled For October 13 at Bangor High School

The Bangor High School Debate Club will present the Shakespeare Players to the public, Friday, Oct. 13, in the high school auditorium. These Players will give an afternoon performance at 3 o'clock of "A Merchant of Venice," and an evening presentation at 8:15, of "Macbeth." The price of admission for adults is $60 for either show, or $1.00 for a double ticket. For students the price is $40 and $60.

On being interviewed, Professor Ellis, head of the English department, said that announcements about the players, and application cards for tickets will be given out in all English and Public Speaking

Aldrich and Hill Back In Line-Up Recovered From Injuries

Coach Fred Brice plans on having his varsity football eleven concentrate chiefly on a defensive type of game when the Black Bears will oppose a powerful Yale team on the famous New Haven Bowl on Saturday in the opening encounter of the season for the sons of Eli.

The Maine outfit will depend a great deal upon the kicking prowess of Don Favor to aid essentially in the sort of football it will employ. On the offense, the Black Bears will resort to surprise forwards and laterals and Coach Brice has been spending much of his time this week in having his backs work on a wide assortment of deceptive plays.

The only change in the starting line-up different than the one which engaged in a bitter struggle with Rhode Island is that Ted Butler has been promoted to the first team and will call the plays from his right halfback berth instead of Don Favor. Favor did not turn in a very good performance in the role of signal barker last week as the post was entirely new to him.

Ken Aldrich, substitute fullback, and Dick Hill, promising guard, returned to the squad this week and were welcomed with open arms by Coach Brice. Aldrich hurt his knee a few days before the Rhode Island fray while Hill has been forced to watch practise from the sidelines since the end of pre-season practise on account of a severely injured leg. In all probability both these players will see action against Yale.

Henson Will Lead M. C. A. Retreat

Francis A. Hanson, of New Haven, Conn., prominent religious and social leader, will lead a discussion of the bearing of religion on social problems, at a retreat, under the auspices of the men and women's M.C.A., at Camp Jordan, near Ellsworth, Saturday afternoon and Sunday.

Upon his return to the University, Mr. Hanson will speak before the Freshman Forum Sunday evening in Hannibal Hamlin Hall. During the first of the week he will visit several classes.

Mr. Hanson, for a number of years connected with the students' division of the Y.M.C.A., has had much experience in this field. In 1932 he led a group of professional men and women on a tour of the Soviet Union. He is co-author of New Russia Between the First and Second Five Year Plan.

He has just returned from a tour of over four thousand miles in eastern America with the Travelling Economic Seminar of National Religion and Labor Foundation, observing the attitude in agricultural and industrial areas, in relation to the N.R.A.

Mr. Hanson has spent the last two summers in the coal fields of West Virginia, as a social worker.

A frosh attempt to remove a class of '36 flag resulted Tuesday noon in the breaking of the wooden flag-pole on Alumni Field.

The flag was put up several days ago by two sophomores. In an endeavor to haul down the '36 banner, about forty freshmen seized the halyards of the pole. This resulted in the bending of the latter to such an extent that it snapped at the base in resuming its normal position.

The broken pole is to be replaced by a steel one at an estimated minimum cost of $150. The expense will be borne by the freshman treasury.

He also expressed the hope that as many students as possibly could, would attend the plays.

The Shakespeare Players, of James Hendrickson and Claire Bruce & Co., are well known, having played over the entire United States. The members of the company are: James Hendrickson, Claire Bruce, Stanley Cobler, Ruth Prouty, Mary Glover, Webster Patterson, Charles Posner, Frank Howson, and Leonard Penn. All of these actors have had considerable experience, while several of them have been members of such well known companies as Leiber and Mantell, and Southern and Marlow.

An Opportunity

The change in the number of assemblies this year from one a week to one a month is significant. It means in the first place that the Assembly Committee will be even more careful than it has been in the past to provide speakers of excellence, and it means that students will have to take advantage of opportunities to hear these speakers more than they have in the past.

The Alumni of the University have provided us with a new gymnasium which has facilities for seating the entire student body. This is an aid because there have been occasions in the past when students have had to stand throughout an entire program in order to hear it. That inconvenience is now eliminated.

Assuming that students attend this University to improve their minds and better fit themselves for their places in the world, we expect to see the new gym filled at every assembly this year. The speakers who come to Maine for assemblies are in every case persons who have something to give us, which we would not get elsewhere. They add to our understanding either of the events of the world or some phase of the arts. To explain to an intelligent student body the necessity of appreciation and understanding of these two vital factors of a complete education, would be unnecessary.

It will be a test therefore of the quality of our students to note the attendance at assemblies this year.

Our Water Front

To suggest adding more beauty to the campus of the University of Maine might seem like crying for perfection even though every one is supposed to believe that nothing is perfect. There are certainly more pressing needs of this University than more beauty in its campus, because it is safe to say that our campus is one of the most beautiful, if not the most naturally beautiful, in the East.

There is one part of our campus, however, that could be improved, and that is the water front. Sections of the river bank could be made a real attraction and add much to the looks of our campus. This suggestion is made in full realization of the fact that this work would cost a great deal and that the University can not at the present time afford to undertake it. It is made in the hope that some who read it will remember it, and that some time in the future it will be possible to improve the looks of our water front.

A Book Exchange

A real service to students of the University was performed this year at the opening of school by the Y.W.C.A. in its book exchange. Not only did it facilitate the buying and selling of books by those who cared to save wherever possible, but also it meant that many students, who otherwise may have spent as much as a week in search of second hand books were able to procure them early and begin studying.

Though it might smack of injustice to take away from the Y.W.C.A. something that it has started and is its own, might it not be to the benefit of all to have an exchange system incorporated into the Book Store? It seems logical that such a department could be built up there, with books having a turn in value on either other used books or on new books.

NINE UPPERCLASS GIRLS PLEDGED BY SORORITIES

The Panhellenic Council announced the sorority pledging of the following girls Tuesday: Delta Zeta: Mary Treinor and Gertrude Murray; Alpha Omicron Pi: Marie Archer, Anna Eliasson, and Dorothy Romero; Chi Omega: Phyllis De Cormier and Gladys Colwell; Tri Delta: Frances Callaghan; Phi Mu: Betty Davis.

CHURCH NOTICE

Fellowship Church

Dr. Charles Manford Sharpe, minister of Fellowship Church, Orono, offers the following series of sermons beginning Sunday, October 8th, at the 10:30 service of worship.

General theme: "The Significance of St. Paul for the Modern World."

I. St. Paul as the Man of the Hour in the First Century Crisis.

II. Was St. Paul or Jesus the Real Founder of Christianity?

III. The Ruling Ideas of St. Paul; or, What Was Fundamental for Him?

IV. The Optimism of St. Paul; or, His Philosophy of History.

V. The Friendships of St. Paul; or, Paul the Great-heart.

VI. St. Paul a Man for the Ages; being a Summary and an Interpretation of St. Paul in relation to Modern Life.

These sermon studies are offered, especially to students and faculty in the conviction that an intimate and accurate knowledge of St. Paul—his work and teaching—will be both intellectually stimulating and religiously inspiring. It is also believed that this great man has been and is largely misunderstood, and that, therefore, he has not been given his rightful place in Christian history.

Methodist Episcopal Church and Wesley Foundation

Sunday, October 8

10:30 Morning Worship with sermon "Giant Souls." Chorus Choir.

6:30 to 7:45 The Student Forum with Dean Cloke speaking on "The NRA—A Challenge to America." At the Wesley House.

3:00 P.M. Exhibition of Chinese Curios.

7:45 P.M. The Evening Service with addresses by Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Parlin, "Glimpses of China."

One hundred seventy-five students in the four colleges were announced on the Dean's List for the spring semester, effective until Nov. 17, 1933. There were 73 in Arts and Sciences, 40 in Technology, 30 in Agriculture, and two in the School of Education.

Y. W. C. A. Membership Drive To Close Today

A devotional service of music and poetry conducted by Miss Ring, new Y leader, on Sunday evening in Balentine parlor marked the beginning of Y Week.

Until Thursday Y.W.C.A. will carry on a membership drive and tag the largest number of co-eds possible with the new Y membership buttons.

Dean Muilenburg will speak on Thursday afternoon following a tea in Balentine parlor. His subject is "Religion in the Present Crisis." Invitations to this gathering are being extended to women members of the faculty.

During this Y Week, also, the finance committee plans to complete the finance drive.

M. C. A. Starting Finance Canvass

The Maine Christian Association will begin its annual finance drive, Monday, October 9, under the chairmanship of Henry Conklin, '34.

The drive will embrace a detailed canvass of each fraternity and men's dormitory on campus. The receipts, with additions from other sources, will be used to conduct the work of the M.C.A. during the year 1933-34.

At the present time, the M.C.A. maintains an active secretary, Cecil Fielder, and the Maine Christian Association building is always open for study and recreation. The Freshman Handbook is yearly published by the organization, while the Freshman, mimeographed weekly of the entering class, is included in its category of projects.

Paul Langlois, a senior, is President of M.C.A. student Board at present in process of organization.

A short meeting of Der Deutscher Verein was held Thursday evening at 7:30 P.M. Tickets were distributed for the dramatic reading in German, by Max Mantor, the German actor. This lecture will be held October 12th at 7:30 P.M. at Stevens Hall.

prevailed everywhere. Sentries were posted at regular intervals and challenged every person who approached. In fact it was necessary for an ordinary citizen to have a properly attested pass in order to come within the campus gates. One could not walk from Alumni to Oak Halls without being challenged.

The chapel in Alumni Hall was converted into a Y.M.C.A. recreation room or "hut" as it was called over-seas and became the amusement center for the entire camp. There tobacco and candy were sold, and magazines, books, and a victrola were placed at the disposal of the soldiers.

Not all of the camp's off-duty energy was expended at this place, however, for much of it was reserved for the mutilation of the fraternity houses in which the men were lodged. The houses suffering from the invasion were: Phi Eta Kappa, Delta Tau Delta, Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Sigma, Sigma Nu, Beta Theta Pi, and Phi Gamma Delta, then located on the site of the present Lambda Chi house. The Prism of the following spring comments upon "A period of wanton destruction to the various college buildings and fraternity houses on the campus."

In connection with the regular training a Student Army Training Camp was established in October. Although much of the latter's course of training was of a military nature, instruction was also given in curricular subjects.

With the signing of the Armistice in November, activities were cut short and the corps was soon demobilized. When school opened in January there was little remaining, with the exception of the mutilated buildings, to remind the students that the army had once "landed and had the situation well in hand."

Bound volumes of the Campuses published during the school year 1933-34 will again be sold at the close of the year next spring. Orders for these volumes, which will be sold at a cost of $1.00, should be made in the near future to any member of the business department of the Campus.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

LOST AFTER being separated from the rest of the cross country team, Joe Holtz found himself in the University's cow barns, but then thought he'd have more running to do in case his presence was noticed by one of the bulls.... For the second time Sigma Mu Sigma announces a prize for the person who arrives at their stag dance at the psychological moment.... Will some one please tell us what it means?.... What?.... Will someone please tell us what it means?.... You said that twice.... Have you been caught on this Humorous (?) one yet?.... Phi Eta just to be original introduces a walking sleepy beauty in the form of Art Hoyt. Art, it seems, clad in pajamas, and bare feet, awoke suddenly at about 2 a.m. Sunday morning to find himself in front of Coburn Hall. He was making his way to Hannibal Hamlin to join the "greenies" because he had dreamed that the Phi Eta house was too crowded.... We wonder if Roosevelt could do something about the flies.... Our campus was visited this week by those two famous automobilists, Young and Sawyer, Inc., whose famous car "Bargain" was one of the features of the campus last year.... It seems the two are bound for Hollywood, so beware Hollywood.... And what's this about a couple of Lambda Chi's entertaining a couple of co-eds at breakfast the other morning?.... Joe Mullen was seen riding with the frosh class sec'y the other night. You know, Muriel Perkins. Incidentally, Joe seems to have been very much "that way" about a certain queen from the Queen City.... And we nominate for our roll of honor this week, none other than the queen of autumn, Marie Archer.... The Owls are at it again.

DOWN THE OLD OX ROAD

Gwen Roche has finally succeeded in capturing Dick Barstow's pin, or was it the other way around?.... And we hear that little Becky Clark, the pride and joy of last year's frosh, has married a Hahvald athlete named Foote.... Absorbine, Jr., please.... Also Virginia Tuell, who last year captured one of Coach Jenkins' track hopes and succeeded in keeping its mind off track, said "I do" this summer in the company of another.... Mert Larrabee has a visit from "the" girl the other day.... She traveled all the way from Laconia, N. H. .... Dick Adams seems to be living proof that a flashy Plymouth is an aid socially, for the Beta's report that his fan mail from ladies is greatly increased.... And there seems to be a rumor in the air concerning Bruce Moyer and Barbara MacKenzie.... So what?

NOTICE

All women interested in debating, either as manager or debater, are asked to see Mr. Bricker, 330 Stevens, or leave their names at that office. There are opportunities to take part in intercollegiate debates this semester. English credit can be arranged.

Carl Ingraham, a cheer-leader in 1931, who stayed out of school during the past year, has been appointed as leader of the yell squad for the coming year, by Ted Curtis, faculty manager of athletics.

—about Cigarettes

Of all the ways in which tobacco is used the cigarette is the mildest form

YOU know, ever since the Indians found out the pleasure of smoking tobacco, there have been many ways of enjoying it.

But of all the ways in which tobacco is used, the cigarette is the mildest form.

Another thing—cigarettes are about the most convenient smoke. All you have to do is strike a match.

Everything that money can buy and everything that science knows about is used to make Chesterfields.

The right home-grown tobaccos—seasoned with just enough aromatic Turkish—are blended and cross-blended the Chesterfield way.

Then the cigarettes are made right—firm, well-filled. Chesterfield uses the right kind of pure cigarette paper.

There are other good cigarettes, of course, but Chesterfield is the cigarette that's milder, the cigarette that tastes better. Chesterfields satisfy—we ask you to try them.

W.A.A. PICNIC ATTRACTS OVER HUNDRED WOMEN

The W.A.A. picnic held Monday night was a great success. Over one hundred University women, both upperclass and freshmen, met at Piney Knoll and enjoyed chocolate doughnuts, cider, and frankfurters.

After all of the food was eaten, the girls gathered around the bonfire and sang the University songs, ending with the Stein Song and Taps at about seven o'clock. Allegra Ingerson supervised the arrangements.

A compulsory meeting of all off-campus women was held in Coburn Hall last Friday. Roberta Lewis was elected president of the off-campus proctors.

Miriam Linscott of the Women's Student Government Association presided at the meeting.

Last Sunday afternoon the Maine Outing Club held its first picnic of the year at the Pines on the Penobscot. About 45 members were present. Winifred Cushing was in charge of the arrangements for this event. The picnic supper consisted of hot dogs, doughnuts and coffee.

The Phi Kappa's gave a vic party last Saturday night. Six couples attended. Refreshments were sandwiches and punch. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace were chaperons.

PRESIDENT'S RECEPTION FOR FROSH WEDNESDAY

President and Mrs. H. S. Boardman will meet the freshman class at the President's home, Wednesday, October 11. Three years ago, the President invited the class of 1935 to gather informally in order that the new students might become acquainted with the President of their University.

President and Mrs. Harold S. Boardman entertained the members of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at dinner Tuesday evening.

Virginia Tuell '34 was married on September 12, 1933, to George McEwen of Dennyville, Maine.

PHI KAPPA SIGNS HAVE TWELVE AT VIC PARTY

Six couples spent Friday evening at the Phi Kappa Sigma house on College Avenue. The couples present included: Phyllis Johnson, Clarence Wadsworth, Rachel Adams, Robert Christensen, Claire Saunders, Dudley Merrill, Margaret Copeland, Kenneth Johnstone, Louise Milliken, Joseph Stevens, Ruth Vaughan, and Warren Walker.

About twenty couples danced to the tunes of the victrola and radio at the Phi Gamma Delta House Saturday evening, when the Phi Gams held their first vic party of the year. Prof. and Mrs. W. H. Bliss chaperoned.

Each member of the faculty will be entertained by President and Mrs. H. S. Boardman at the President's home, Tuesday, Oct. 10. The gathering is distinctive in that it is the first purely social affair for the entire faculty this year.

Miss Elizabeth Ring, instructor in the history department and assistant matron at Balentine Hall, was appointed in June to the position of Y.W.C.A. secretary by Mr. Fielder of the Maine Christian Association. Miss Ring, a prominent alumna, was the first president of the Women's Athletic Association at Maine, and has served as both captain and manager of the basketball team. She was also president of the Panhellenic Association and was prominent in Y.W.C.A. work. After studying five years at Maine, she became fellow in economics and politics at Bryn Mawr.

Since she is a Maine graduate, Miss Ring is particularly interested in the women students of the University of Maine and anticipates with pleasure the duties of her new position.

The fourth floor of Balentine Hall has been converted into a freshman dormitory this year, with June Wheeler as proctor. She was appointed to this position at Mt. Vernon last spring, but owing to the fire there during the summer, some freshman girls must live in Balentine. Fern Allen is the new proctor at the Maples.

A blind beggar had a brother. The brother died. But the brother who died never had a brother. How could this be true? Answer next week.

RHODE ISLAND WINS WITH 98 YARD RACE IN SEASON'S OPENER

Maine Outplays R. I. In Gains Made and In Number of First Downs

Intercepting a forward pass on his own two yard line, Mantenuito, Rhode Island back, raced ninety-eight yards behind perfect interference for the only score of the game to defeat the Black Bears 6-0 in their first game of the season on Alumni Field Saturday. The touchdown came during the second period after the Brice-men staged a forty-seven yard march toward the Rhode Island goal.

Milt MacBride, clever side-stepping halfback, started the march with a gain of eleven yards off left tackle. Higgins and Favor followed with ten more. Later, Littlehale and Butler, on successive drives, carried the pigskin to the Ram's ten yard line. It was from here that Don Favor, Pale Blue signal barker, hurled the pass that proved fatal to the Black Bear squad.

Although defeated, the Pale Blue squad by far outplayed their rivals. The Black Bears tallied eight first downs while Frank Keaney's charges only chalked up three, and gained 196 yards to the Ram's 145 yards which also included Mantenuito's spectacular run for the touchdown.

VARSITY HARRIERS LOOK STRONG IN PRE SEASON

The varsity cross-country team's prospects for this year are well worth considering. The boys are running much better this year at this time, than they were at the end of the season last year.

Last Friday's practice showed Ken and Ernie Black, Bob Wishart, Bill Cole, Harry Saunders, Don Corbett, and Red Osgood all running together at the end of a gruelling work-out. The other candidates are also improving rapidly.

R. I. STUDENTS UNHURT IN VEAZIE BRIDGE CRASH

The "mystery car" that crashed through Veazie bridge early last Saturday morning has been discovered to be that car belonging to a group of Rhode Island students on their way to see the game last Saturday. They crashed through the rail and went down to the tracks, but managed to keep their car upright. Not even a scratch was suffered by any of the parties concerned.

By BOB BERG

The defeat at the hands of Rhode Island, whom they had lost to but once in the past twelve years, was certainly a tough pill for the Black Bears to swallow. But remember, the majority of the players are newcomers to the varsity and are still inexperienced. Outside of that one break, which, sorry to say, cost Maine the game, the Brice-men clearly outplayed the Rams and passed up many opportunities to score.

Coach Fred Brice's decision to promote Ted Butler to the first team backfield and have him call the plays from his halfback berth is bound to be an aid to Don Favor, who was signal barker last week. Too much responsibility was cast upon the shoulders of the stellar backfield man and as a result it affected his punting and passing game to a great extent. Furthermore, Favor was new to the job and several times he showed errors of judgment in selecting his plays which prevented the Black Bears to score.

I look for the varsity to put up a fine battle against Yale and hope some of the boys will not become thunderstruck at the immensity of the New Haven Bowl and the crowd in it. Such was the case a year ago when the Black Bears met Holy Cross and it is no secret that a few of the gridlers played way below their standard.

Maine will be up against the Notre Dame system of football in meeting Yale. Reggie Root, new Eli mentor, is having the team make more use of the type of football made famous by the late Knute Rockne than ever before. The Black Bears can also look forward to a forward passing attack as the Yale maestro is noted for his employment of forwards.

Probably the most dangerous man on the Bulldog eleven will be Captain Bob Lassiter, who does the majority of the passing and kicking for Yale. Last year Lassiter was one of the outstanding halfbacks in the East and is being looked upon by leading sports scribes as a fine All-American prospect for this Fall campaign.

Tame that Yale Bulldog, you Maine Black Bear.

The varsity cross country plodders are slowly rounding into condition and one will get an excellent idea as to make-up of the outfit after the time trials on Saturday afternoon. The Black twins, Ken and Ernie, look great and in them Coach Chester Jenkins should have two of the leading cross country men in New England. Both runners were at a camp for the summer siesta and kept in trim daily.

Freshman football swings into action on Saturday when Phil Jones' lads will encounter Bridgton Academy. In summing up the prospects for his 1937 frosh edition, the genial Coach Jones has this to say, "The team is inexperienced and light. But what the boys lack in weight, they certainly make up in aggressiveness. They comprise about the scrappiest bunch of freshman players to report to me in years."
