THIRD HOMECOMING STARTS TOMORROW; LUNCHEON SATURDAY

Interesting Program Planned
Includes 'M' Club, Rally,
Grid Game, and Dance

Plans for the third annual Alumni Homecoming at the University of Maine which starts Friday evening, November 10, with a big athletic rally and concludes Saturday evening with several fraternity initiations, banquets and dances, have been practically completed.

Governor Louis J. Brann, graduate of the University of Maine in the class of 1898, has indicated his intention to attend the Alumni-Faculty luncheon and the football game if he can possibly do so.

The rally, Friday at 6:30, in the new gymnasium, is to be the biggest of the season and is patterned after the rallies of several years ago. Philip A. Jones '19 of Bangor, freshman football coach, is to preside and an invitation has been sent to Joseph A. McCusker '17 of Braintree, Mass., author of the Band Song and one of Maine's most noted song and cheer leaders, to be present at this meeting and assist in those phases of the program.

Special stunts have been planned and the band will be present to make the occasion a lively one. The varsity football team is to attend as a body and there will be several three minutes speeches from students and alumni. The event is limited to one hour.

Following the rally, there will be the annual get-together of "M" men, both undergraduates and alumni. At the conclusion of the business and speaking program, refreshments will be served. Horace J. Cook '10, of Auburn, president of the "M" Club, will preside and "Ted" Curtis, faculty manager of athletics at the University, together with other local "M" men, are making arrangements for this event.

The concluding number for Friday's program will be the Senior Skull Dance in Alumni Hall. This event has been one of the most successful dances each of the past two years.

Saturday is to be visiting day for alumni. Invitations have been extended for them to visit any classes which they would like to attend and to call in on their old "profs."

During the forenoon Saturday, there will be a field hockey game between alumni and an undergraduate team. At 12 o'clock, Saturday noon, the Alumni-Faculty luncheon will take place in the new gymnasium. President Harold S. Boardman '95 is to preside at this occasion. Arthur L. Deering '12, president of the Alumni Association, will award the Alumni Service Emblem. Governor Brann will make informal remarks and Dr. Elmer D. Merrill '98 of New York City, one of Maine's most distinguished alumni, will give the address.

During the forenoon of Saturday, the Alumni Council of the General Alumni Association and the Board of Trustees of the University, will be in session.

The concluding events of the Homecoming week-end will be a Masque dance immediately following the football game and sorority and fraternity functions in the various houses.

Committee in charge of this event is C. Parker Crowell '98, chairman; Edward H. Kelley '90, Walter W. Chadbourne '20, Theodore S. Curtis '23, and Miss Marion Rogers '30.

Magee Elected Head of University Store Co.

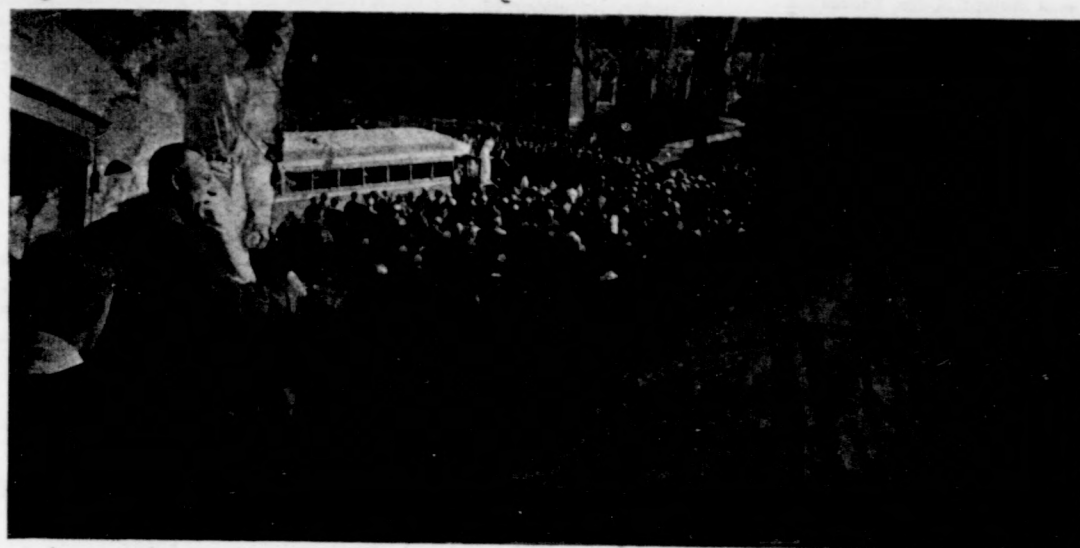

John H. Magee, assistant professor of economics and sociology, and president of a Bangor insurance company, was elected president of the University Book Store Company at a meeting of the directors held Tuesday. Professor Magee's election to the presidency of the corporation followed his election earlier Tuesday afternoon as a member of the board of directors.

Others elected to the board of directors were: Professor Maurice D. Jones, of the department of agricultural economics; Charles E. Crossland, general alumni secretary; and Robert N. Haskell, of Bangor, representing the alumni.

ANDREW POULSEN SUFFERS BROKEN LEG IN ACCIDENT

Andrew Poulsen, Sigma Chi, suffered a broken leg Sunday when his motorcycle ran into a ditch and turned over near the Mount Hope cemetery. Poulsen, who was taken to the Eastern Maine General Hospital in Bangor, was passing a car and apparently lost his balance. His machine went into a ditch and turned over pinning him beneath it.

ILLEGALITIES FOUND IN ALL NOMINATIONS

Secondaries To Be Held
Again by Three Classes
Next Tuesday Night

Final elections in all four classes of the University, scheduled originally for Tuesday of this week have been cancelled by order of the Student Senate, because the secondary nominations in all four classes were judged illegal. The final elections will be held two weeks from last Tuesday in Alumni Hall, under the supervision of the Student Senate. Secondary nominations, which must be re-held according to the election rules of the Student Senate, will be held next Tuesday evening. The schedule of meetings appears elsewhere in this issue.

At the meeting of the Student Senate held in Rogers Hall on Tuesday evening of this week, President John B. Quinn appointed a committee to investigate the election rules, and propose what changes it deems necessary. This action was taken as a result of the many illegalities which occurred in the secondary nominations this year. The committee is: James Page, chairman, Sawyer Allen, Paul Robbins, and Wilmot Dow.

President Quinn also appointed a committee to investigate logical changes in the Constitution of the Student Senate. Maynard A. Hincks, Assistant Dean of Men, will serve as adviser of this committee, the members of which are: John C. Wilson, chairman, John Venskus, and Donald Ring.

The secondary nominating meeting of the senior class was declared illegal on the ground that representatives voted for seven instead of five candidates for each committee. The meeting of the junior class was declared illegal because one representative, claiming to be an off-campus representative, was found to be representing several fraternity men. There were also secondary reasons for the illegality in this case.

The sophomore class representatives, like those of the senior class, voted for too many candidates on committees. In the case of the freshman class there were several tie votes, and the representatives had left the meeting before the votes had been counted, thereby making it impossible to take a second vote on the candidates for which there were ties.

Rallies Awaken School Spirit

Large Crowds Turn Out To Send Team
To Bates, Colby, and Victory

Realizing the need of more recognition of the work of the University of Maine football team, the Senior Skull Society at a meeting three weeks ago decided to hold two rally send-offs for the team.

The first of these rallies was held at noon on the day before Maine beat Bates 12-7. Approximately 600 students gathered at the Book Store to cheer the team as they boarded the bus for Bates. It was the first time in a long period that such a thing had been done, and Coach Fred Brice, in a very brief address as he climbed aboard, thanked the students for their support and promised that the team would do its level best. When the team returned with the scalp of the Bates bobcat, everyone agreed that his promise had been carried out.

WORLD'S FAIR TO BE HELD ON CAMPUS NOVEMBER 18

Y.W.C.A., M.C.A., and Liberal Club
To Stage Unusual Affair
In New Gymnasium

An absolutely unique affair will be held in the memorial gymnasium on the afternoon and evening of November-eighteenth. The M.C.A., the Y.W.C.A., and the Liberal Club will present the first World's Fair to ever take place on the Maine campus. The purpose is to arouse student interest in international affairs. The proceeds will be placed in a sinking fund to bring the best available speakers on international relations to the Maine campus.

Nine countries will be represented—China, France, Italy, Sweden, Russia, Germany, Japan, India, and Holland.

The dance will be the last stage dance to be held in the Memorial Gymnasium this year. An auction sale will be the special feature of the evening. The nations will display their exhibits throughout the evening. What will be sold? Chinese tea, Japanese food and novelties, Swedish cookies and coffee, Italian leather, and Russian handicraft, secured from importing houses in New York, are among the articles offered. A beautiful assortment of Japanese prints will be on exhibition. There will be booths for fortune tellers, Hungarian gypsies and entertainers, and a program of folk dances and representations of famous international (Continued on Page Two)

Year's Biggest Rally Tomorrow Nite In New Gym; Peppy Program Planned

This year's biggest football rally will be held in the Memorial Gymnasium at 6:30 sharp Friday night. Music, cheers, and short pep talks will be features of the program, along with two skits on the Maine-Bowdoin game. The committee in charge is making a special effort to have all students and as many alumni as possible present to give the team the necessary pep to beat Bowdoin.

The committee has requested that all members of the varsity squad, the junior varsity, and the freshman football squad report in the hall beside the kitchen in the new gym before 6:30, so that they had been carried out. At that rally, each member of the team was set up with cheers, and then a parade followed the bus to the waiting station, where the "Stein Song" was sung lustily as the bus sped off between the sections of the band for Lewiston.

A bonfire on the parking space west of the Memorial Gymnasium Armory made the second of these rallies, held last Friday night, even more colorful than the first. Again a crowd of about four hundred turned out and cheered the members of Maine's football team, sang the "Football Song" and the "Stein Song," and heard a short address by Faculty Manager of Athletics Theodore S. Curtis. Music by the Maine band helped.

ANNOUNCE TIME FOR SECONDARIES

Senior Skulls To Hold Big Dance After Rally

Enthusiasm for Maine to take another state series by a victory over Bowdoin on Saturday will be at its height Friday night after the giant alumni-student rally to be held in the new gymnasium. Following that rally the season's outstanding stag dance will be held in the gymnasium of Alumni Hall under the auspices of the Senior Skull Society.

Music for the dance will be furnished by Perley Reynolds and his Commanders, whose reputation at Maine is too well established to need further comment. At eight o'clock Perley and the boys will begin to harmonize and will continue until nearly midnight.

Treasurer and Mrs. Frederick S. Youngs and Professor and Mrs. Benjamin C. Kent will serve as chaperons for the dance.

MASQUE OPENS YEAR WITH PRODUCTION OF COUNSELLOR AT LAW

Ted Wood, Agnes Crowley
Give Good Performances
On Opening Night

The Maine Masque opened the current season last night in its new playhouse, the Little Theatre, by presenting to an interested audience Counsellor-at-Law, a three-act comedy dealing with contemporary life in New York City.

The play was modern in every sense and was, from all appearances, well received by those who attended it. It pictured individuals of many types as they are engaged in their daily work. A telephone operator, a private secretary, a communist, paupers, aristocrats, and many other types of characters were represented and all were interpreted with conviction. The plot of the drama was interesting even though rather commonplace, but the intrinsic character studies made the play successful in the eyes of the audience. It will be repeated again tonight, and the advance sale of tickets indicate a large attendance.

Theodore Wood in the title role gave a good performance and was especially impressive in the last scene. Agnes Crowley deserves much credit for the way she made a difficult part appear easy. Margaret Snow gave a particularly good interpretation of her part as a gum chewing telephone operator.

Those in the cast were: Bessie Green, Margaret Snow '37; Henry, Jack Frost '37; Sarah Becker, Agnes Crowley '35; A tall man, Almon Cooper '35; A stout man, Ernest Foster '37; A postman, George Weatherbee '37; Zedora Chapman, Eleanor Briscoe '37; Goldie, Mabel Robinson '34; Charles McFadden, Robert Lavery '37; John Tedesco, Stuart Mosher '35; A bootblack, James Temple '37; Regina Gordon, Ruth Libby '35; Weinberg, Charles Leavitt '37; Arthur Sandler, Sanford Blake '37; Lillian LaRue, Frances Austin '37; An errand boy, Ernest Saunders '36; Roy Darwin, James Day '36; George Simon, Theodore Wood '35; Cora Simon, Dorothy Sawyer '35; A woman, Alice McMullen '37; Another woman, Bettina Sullivan '36; Lena Simon, Evelyn Morrison '37; Peter Malone, Paul Langlois '34; Breitstein, Alfred Sweeney '36; David Simon, William Whiting '37; Harry Becker, Lionel Desjardins '34; Richard Dwight, Stanley Cowin; Dorothy Dwight, Pauline Cowin; Francis Baird, William Manning '36; A messenger boy, Gardner Grant '37; Grayfield, Forest Martin '37.

Brice Gives Answers to Bingham's Questions

Head Coach Fred Brice of the University of Maine football team, in an interview with a representative of the Campus yesterday, stated that he was in favor of two of the three major changes in football rules concerned in the questionnaire being sent to New England football coaches by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

The questionnaire sent out by William J. Bingham, Harvard Athletic Director, and New England representative of the Association, contained the following three questions concerning the recovery of fumbles:

"Would you favor a return to the old rule allowing the kicking team to advance a legally recovered kicked ball either behind or beyond the line of scrimmage?"

"Would you allow the defensive team to advance a fumble recovered either in the air or after striking the ground?"

"Would you allow a recovered lateral pass to be advanced regardless of whether it is recovered in the air or on the ground?"

Coach Brice stated that he believed that the first two changes would be beneficial to football, as they would provide more thrill to the game for the spectators.

He is not in favor of the third change, since he believes that it would be very detrimental to the offensive system of football teams in general.

The enthusiastic, howling, collegiate crowd which filled Seavern Field to capacity saw the Brice-coached team play a listless brand of football in the first half, only to wake up out of an unaccountable lethargy and thrill the gathering with as colorful an offense as has been witnessed in years.

It was the midget Maine signal barker, Ted Butler, who outsmarted the Colby Mules with his selection of plays and dashing speed, which forced the Waterville outfit to bow down to defeat. And it was Butler who tallied the touchdown that put the Black Bears ahead and then scored another to assure Maine of a win.

Milton MacBride, flashy left halfback, once again proved to be Coach "Foxy" Brice's most consistent ground gainer, while that rip-snorting fullback, Bob Littlehale, hammered away at the home team's frontier for much needed yardage, and clutched MacBride's aerial thrust in the third period to chalk up Maine's first touchdown. Don Favor more than held his own in a punting duel with John Alden and got off several distant boots.

George Cobb and Phil Parsons were the bulwarks of strength in the line and chunky Morris Judd turned in the best performance of his career at the right guard berth. The entire eleven exhibited an impressive brand of ball in the last two periods as it rode roughshod over Colby.

The statistics of the encounter definitely indicate the superiority of the Brice-men. Fifteen first downs were obtained by Maine to six for Colby, while seven out of fourteen attempted forward passes for a total of 95 yards were made by the Black Bears with the Mules completing but two forwards in eleven tries.

Colby assumed an early lead of seven points in the opening canto. "Hank" Davidson, who featured for the home team at left end, recovered Littlehale's fumble on Maine's 36 yard stripe. After three attempts at rushing proved futile, Alden heaved a long pass in the midst of a cluster of players and Butler and Favor attempted to batter the pigskin down. But just as it fell to the ground, the alert Davidson grabbed the ball on the five yard marker where he was tackled. In a rush through the line, Jim Peabody fumbled only to have his teammate, Paul Stiegler, recover the ball which had rolled over the goal line, for the touchdown. Peabody's placement kick was good.

Maine made several endeavors to retaliate in the first half, but each time when it seemed on its way to a touchdown, Colby staged a stubborn defense and forestalled any danger of being scored upon.

After battering away at the Mule's line in the third period, the Black Bears launched an irresistible 46 yard march in the closing minutes of the quarter to tally six points, when Dana Sidelinger recovered a Colby fumble. MacBride's pass to Parsons was good for thirteen yards and Littlehale hit the center of the line for ten yards in three tries. Favor heaved the pigskin to MacBride which accounted for seven yards and brought the ball to the fourteen yard line. Then MacBride faded back and shot a pass to Littlehale over the goal line for six points. A placement kick by Favor went wide.

The fourth period found Maine battling hard to surge ahead, and was finally rewarded when the front wall hurried Alden's kick from his five yard marker which sailed out of bounds on the 26 yard line. A rush by Favor picked up a yard and then loose-hipped MacBride reeled off thirteen yards on a deceptive play. On (Continued on Page Six)

Welcome Home, Alumni

Homecoming Week-end begins tomorrow, and the Campus joins the student body in a hearty "Welcome Home, Alumni!"

The students of the University of Maine appreciate the efforts of the alumni on behalf of the University. They appreciate the fact that with the tasks of one's personal life and individual business, it requires special interest and effort to do things for one's Alma Mater. And Maine's alumni have been aiding the University and indirectly the undergraduates a great deal. This year, more than ever before, we have concrete evidence of the work of our alumni in the new Memorial Gymnasium Armory, which was dedicated last June.

So once again we say, "Welcome Home!"

These Rallies

NRA has hit the students of the University of Maine and hit hard with a beneficial effect. Only this NRA means New Rally Atmosphere, and Maine certainly has it.

For several years there have been criticisms, some of them rather bitter, concerning the lack of spirit on the part of Maine students. That these criticisms are no longer true was proven by Maine students at the two pep rallies, one before the Bates game and the other before the Colby game. Not only the attendance but also the actions and straining of vocal chords proved that there is still some spirit left.

The acid test came last Friday. It was a cold, rainy night. Probably half the college had gone either to Waterville or home. Yet at 6:30, the time set for the rally, nearly four hundred students turned out to give the Maine team a send-off, knowing that that team had in it the stuff to bring back a victory.

But as in the case of the NRA, we must be careful. This spirit must not be allowed to lag. We must be sure that it does not have a relapse, because it has been so sick that should it have a relapse just now as it is rapidly gaining in health, the chances of recovery would be slim.

The final rally of the year takes place tomorrow night. So let's everybody be there prepared to cheer so that when we leave we shall be unable to talk.

There was a small fire in the basement of the Library Friday afternoon at 2:03 p.m. Some papers had caught on fire. They were quickly extinguished when the girls at the desk discovered it.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

YEA YEA and a couple of rah rahs.... This freshman class sure has got spirit.... As a matter of fact one member of the class had so much spirit that he crashed the Colby rally on Friday night.... And when one distinguished speaker had finished an eloquent speech on the valiance of the White Mule team, said freshman up and let out a bellow to the effect of "Three Cheers for Maine".... When he came to he was out in the street and suffering more or less from a black eye.... That's spirit with a vengeance.... Oh for the life of an initiate, after seeing the Phi Kappa Sig boys rowing boats on their own lawn.... And there is a college in the United States which has a code all its own.... When a co-ed wants a date, let's say on Friday night, she wears a red dress during that day.... Rather convenient, we should say, for those of the lads who are bashful about asking for a date when there's a possibility that the lady of their dreams might already have an engagement for that particular evening.... It seems that Jimmy Day has had a rather embarrassing part in the Masque play.... Part of his act is the osculation of an eleven year old girl.... And then there's the story of how Red Osgood told the ticket taker that the third man in back of him had his ticket.... Red was admitted and did the hundred in ten flat, so that when the third man behind him was asked for Red's ticket, Red could not be found.... Not a bad idea, but Bill Wells reports that it won't work at the Maine-Bowdoin game this week-end.... These big police dogs that are seeking a higher education, sure make things more or less amusing for those of us who are not canines in getting our higher education.... A hot tip tells us that Larry and his Bears have signed to play in a Nut House in Bar Harbor for the summer.... Everybody concerned is wondering what was in the laundry cases of Bud Woods and a freshman which made them catch fire in the rear of a car as the two were returning to college on Sunday night.... And they say that this Senior Skull Stag dance on Friday night in ALUMNI Hall will be a most sensationally enjoyable time for everybody present.... We wonder if Mose Otis and Enoch Cooke make a habit of making girls walk home from auto rides.... Several members of the Masque play cast found themselves in a rather inconvenient situation the other day when they were locked in the South Wing of Stevens Hall after a rehearsal.... A most amusing boxing match was staged on the front steps of Balentine the other afternoon and attracted much attention from students in the library and inhabitants in Balentine.... They also say that anyone who misses the big rally Friday night at 6:30 will be missing one of the high spots of this year at Maine.... We have finally discovered what happens to extra press passes for social events, after attending the Masque play last night.

What Constitutes A Major

In order that the student body as a whole may have a clear understanding of the recent changes in the College of Arts and Sciences, we are presenting a series of explanatory articles of which this is the third.—Ed.

By Dean James Muilenburg

With our shift in time for choosing a major from the end of the freshman to the end of the sophomore year, the stress in the College of Arts and Sciences is definitely placed upon extensive training. This change came about through careful observation of college men and women past and present. It is in line with similar changes in other institutions. It is our answer to the challenge that contemporary life with its varied obligations has laid upon us. Above all, perhaps, it was demanded of us by the tremendous problems of leisure which are opening for us two doors, the one leading to utter collapse of our civilization, the other to almost unique opportunity for racial progress.

At the beginning of the third year in college the student should enter his major field of study, the period of intensive preparation. His happiness and success in this period will be largely determined by the wisdom with which he has chosen his major. Now, we shall understand a major best if we take our clue from human interest. An interest is by nature dynamic and vital, something that kindles us and drives us on. A major represents an interest; we shall major in our interest. Once having discovered a real interest, one's own interest, the rest of our college career should be comparative smooth sailing.

An interest will lead a student to intensive study in a field. The last two years in college may be his only opportunity to prepare for a vocation. Every course must be selected with great care, for every hour must count. For some students the demands of the professional school will have to be met, and their majors will be largely determined by these demands. Teachers will want to be competent in the subjects they expect to teach. Every major student will want to know something of the scope of his field, the principles underlying the field, the historical development of the subject and its present status. He should also be master of a large amount of factual content in his field, and he should be able to interpret this factual content so that it has meaning for him. This belongs to the very nature of his interest.

But an interest is also expansive. It will range abroad through the whole curriculum, among the faculty, and among the avenues of books in the library. It seems most unlikely that a real interest would confine itself to a department. Therefore, no student need feel compelled to confine himself in his major to the limits of his department. Prospective businessmen will surely take much work in economics, but they will reach out to all the social sciences. Social workers will avail themselves of courses in psychology and government as well as sociology. Future statesmen—and let us hope students will determine here and now to enter the service of the state—will be interested in more than the course in history and government. All teachers will familiarize themselves with the division of studies into which their subject falls, with the principles of psychology and the learning process, with literature and the social sciences. If to the latter we are giving great emphasis, it is because the needs of the world today are chiefly in that sphere. If colleges are appointed to deal with living in the present and the future, they cannot dodge our critical contemporary problems.

Let the foregoing discussion have the smack of the office about it, let me hasten to add that in almost every profession today there is less stress on specialization during the college years. Our best professional schools encourage a four years' college course. One could quote from

The report of the Commission on Medical Education summarizes a lengthy discussion as follows: "The tendency of medical schools and regulatory bodies to define the range and character of premedical education is contrary to the spirit of real education, which should be general and not pre-professional in purpose. A sound general education is of more value to students of medicine than a narrow technical training in the premedical sciences." The second statement is drawn from letters from the deans of two of the leading law colleges in America. "The lawyer should have the broadest and most liberal education possible." This dean emphasizes the need for "disciplinary and cultural subjects" and warns against the danger of vocational subjects. The second dean writes, "For the most part, I should not care very much what a student had studied provided he had had a solid course and had learned how to study and to employ language correctly."

Homecoming Days In Brief Existence Had Outstanding Speakers, Were Big Success

One cool evening in September, 1931, a group of men held a meeting on the University of Maine campus. The result of that meeting was to be that a thirty year old custom of the University would be abandoned. It would be abandoned because it no longer served the purpose for which it was instituted. It had degenerated, and the men in that meeting were seriously concerned with the problem of how to improve the situation.

The men in that meeting were the members of the Alumni Council Executive Committee, and they were discussing what they could do about Maine Night, a custom which had been in operation for thirty years. So they decided that beginning in 1931 and each succeeding year there would be a festive week-end to be known as "Homecoming Week-End." They appointed a committee to work out plans for the first of these week-ends, which they hoped would improve in quality and increase in popularity each year. The men appointed to serve on the committee were: President Arthur L. Deering of the General Alumni Association; Robert R. Drummond, head of the department of German; and Executive Secretary Charles E. Crossland of the General Alumni Association. The executive committee showed mature judgment that night in its selection of the men they chose to start an important feature of college and post-college life at the University of Maine.

C. E. CROSSLAND
Alumni Secretary

It was Saturday, November 7, 1931, when the first of the then new Homecoming Days took place. It was a grand affair, and parts of the exercises were broadcast from the University over WLBZ of Bangor. The committee in charge of the celebration had spent a great deal of time and effort in preparation, and Dr. Robert H. Fernald '92 was the principal speaker at the luncheon that Saturday noon. President Harold S. Boardman presided.

Dr. Fernald was considered an excellent choice as speaker on that occasion, because, in addition to being a nationally known educator and engineer, he had recently been appointed dean of the Towne Scientific School at the University of Pennsylvania.

Also at that luncheon Coaches Fred Brice and Chester Jenkins spoke, and Ermo Scott '31 led the group in singing.

After the luncheon the alumni attended the final football game of the 1931 state series in which Maine won the state championship by a 20-0 score over Bowdoin.

Last year the second annual Homecoming saw Maine again win its state series game by a 6-0 victory over Colby. And the event was colorful in another way last year. The principal speaker at the luncheon was Louis J. Brann '98, who had recently been elected governor of the State of Maine.

Also a dinner for "M" Club members was featured last year. The Intercollegiate Championship Cross Country team of 1915, consisting of Roger Bell '16, Edmund J. Dempsey '17, Frank P. Preti '17, Albert W. Wunderly '18, Roscoe H. Hyson '18, and Philip N. Libby '18, was honored at this first of the "M" Club banquets.

And now we are about to witness the third annual Homecoming, which promises to be bigger and better in every way, than those that have preceded it.

27 SECONDARY SCHOOLS ELIGIBLE FOR FROSH CUP

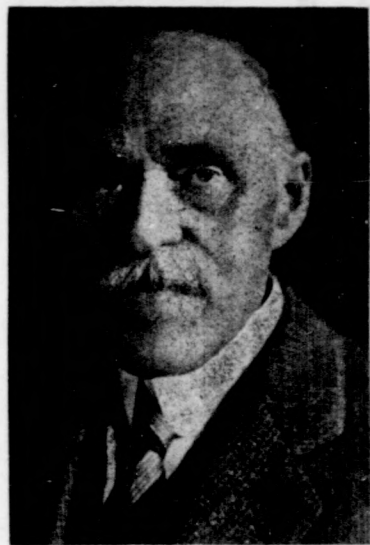

Twenty-seven Maine secondary schools were made eligible for competition in the annual University of Maine freshman scholarship contest, according to announcement made this week. The first scholarship award was made in 1931 to Fort Kent. In 1932 it went to Deering, and in 1933 to Boothbay Harbor.

Schools eligible are: Auburn (Edward Little); Augusta (Cony); Bangor; John Baptist; Bar Harbor; Bath; Brewer; Brunswick; Charleston (Higgins Classical Institute); Dexter; Ellsworth; Guilford; Hebron Academy; Houlton (Ricker Classical Institute); Kents Hill; Mars Hill (Aroostook Central Institute); Milo; North Bridgton (Bridgton Academy); Old Town; Orono; Portland (Deering); Portland High; Presque Isle; Thomaston; Rockland; South Portland; Vassalboro (Oak Grove Seminary).

Bound volumes of the Campuses published during the school year 1933-34 will again be sold at the close of the year next spring. Orders for these volumes, which will be sold at a cost of $1.00, should be made in the near future to any member of the business department of the Campus.

Dr. Farrington, a graduate of the University of Maine, was an authority on gems and minerals, and was a veteran curator of geology at Field Museum of Natural History in Chicago as well as a lecturer on mineralogy at the University of Chicago. He was a collaborator in organizing the mines and metallurgy exhibits at the Paris exhibition in 1900, and a member of the international jury of awards at the St. Louis exposition in 1904.

He was born in Brewer, Maine, in 1864. He received bachelor's and master's degrees in science at the University of Maine, and a doctorate at Yale. Among the honors conferred upon him were the presidency of the American Association of Museums, and the Society for Research on Meteorites. He was a member of Sigma Xi and Phi Beta Kappa.

NEW HEADGEAR SPORTED BY TAU EP AND SIGMA CHI

Two University of Maine fraternities broke through that famous old synonym of the "hatless collegian" when they appeared on campus last week sporting a new type of headgear of the gayest of hues and colors.

Tau Epsilon Phi came out first with a hat that looked more like helmet, and done in a gaudy lavender and white. Next was Sigma Chi whose color taste favored a light blue and yellow. And together they've captured the eye of the campus.

Alfred Sweeney '36 received a dislocated right elbow and numerous abrasions on both arms last Wednesday evening as he attempted to jump off a moving car near the University library.

He was treated by Dr. Hall of Orono, who set the elbow back into position. Although water on the arm has set in, the injury is not regarded as being of a serious nature.

IT TAKES HEALTHY NERVES

TO BE AMERICA'S GREATEST STUNT GIRL

● A SUDDEN NERVE-RACKING swing upward from a racing auto into a hurtling plane... It's all in the day's work for Mary Wiggins, famous stunt girl who also dives on fire into fire and does the suspension glide in mid-air while hanging only by her teeth. It means something when she says, "Camels never give me edgy nerves even when I smoke a lot."

JOE: I'm so glad to see you, Sue. Were you nervous during your first flight?
SUE: Not a bit. I smoked Camels all the way, and I never felt better! I haven't worried about nerves since I took your advice and changed to Camels.

A MATCHLESS BLEND

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW
Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand.

Steady Smokers turn to Camels

LISTEN TO MARY WIGGINS, greatest of all girl stunt performers, as she tells her discovery that one cigarette is different from the others! She says:

"I have to be sure my nerves are healthy to do my stunts, changing from a speeding auto to a plane, the high dive on fire into fire, wing walking while up in a plane, and the high-altitude parachute jump. As to smoking, I've found that Camels don't interfere with healthy nerves. I've tried all the brands. Camels are milder and better in flavor. They do not give me edgy nerves even when I am smoking a lot."

You'll like that rich Camel flavor and mildness. And your nerves will tell you the difference there is in Camel's costlier tobaccos.

A tea dance in Alumni Hall will be sponsored by the Student Senate immediately following the Bowdoin-Maine game Saturday afternoon. An admission charge of 25¢ will be made, and Larry Miller's Orchestra will furnish the music for the affair.

The proceeds of the affair will be added to the Student Senate Loan Fund, begun two years ago and continued last year.

THIRTEEN MATH MAJORS PLEDGED TO HONORARY

Thirteen mathematics majors were elected to Sigma Delta Zeta, local honorary mathematics fraternity, at a meeting of the club in Stevens Hall yesterday. Officers for the ensuing year were also elected. The officers: president, Wilbert L. Pronovost; vice-president, Evelyn Jalbert; secretary-treasurer, Mildred Willard; and faculty adviser, Warren S. Lucas.

The new members are: George Fitch, Eleanor Grinnell, Robert Hinckley, Evelyn Jalbert, Doris Lawrence, Nathan Morse, Thomas Morse, Wilbert Pronovost, Philip Ryan, Charles Towle, Beryl Warner, Mildred Willard, and Minnie Zeitman.

No, children, that was not somebody being murdered over at the M.C.A. building Friday night. That was merely "Sweet Adeline" sung as only an irrepressible group of freshmen and a few dignified upperclassmen can at the first "Sing" of the year.

From seven to eight, all those present sang old college songs until their throats were sore and then sat back and listened while Betty Sullivan '36 sang several old favorites.

And then to put the final touch on the program, Jack Frost '37, entertained the group with a sparkling tap dance.

D. T. D. VICTROLA SUFFERS AT SAT. NIGHT PARTY

That music you heard coming out of the Delta Tau house last Saturday night was evidence that a vic party was in progress and that their victrola was being worn out some more.

About nine couples were present and Mrs. Shea chaperoned.

KAPPA SIGMA GIVES FALL INFORMAL HOUSE PARTY

Kappa Sigma fraternity opened their house for the fall informal, Friday, November 3. With Perley Reynolds' "Commanders" for the music, and with a large number of guests it was a gay and successful party.

Patrons and patronesses were Mrs. Annie Webster, Dean and Mrs. L. S. Corbett and Mr. and Mrs. James Moreland. The committee in charge were Vernon Murray, John Sealy, and Roger Heffer.

PI BETA PHI ANNEX STAGES SIX COUPLE VIC PARTY

The Phi Gamma Delta's entertained six couples at a vic party Friday evening, November 3, which Warren H. Bliss chaperoned.

Alfred Rottenberg and Lester Meyer, both sophomores, flew by plane from Boston to Bangor on Sunday after a weekend at home in Brookline, Mass.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE OF FORMER MAINE STUDENT

Announcement was made Tuesday afternoon of the marriage of Carl A. Brooks of Columbia Falls, a graduate of the University of Maine in the class of 1931, to Barbara L. Spurling of Calais on June 20 last at Bar Harbor. Mr. Brooks was a member of Tau Beta Pi and Phi Kappa Phi while at Maine.

Mr. W. Ellis Davies gave a lecture Friday afternoon in the south wing of Stevens Hall. The topic was "Angel Pavement and Its Reformers." The conclusion which Mr. Davies reached from the study he made of J. B. Priestley's purpose in his novel "Angel Pavement" was that unless the good are as vigorously good as the bad are vigorously bad, we all will live lives as drab and pointless as the lives of the people who lived on Angel Pavement. At the end of the speech Mr. Davies read three selections from the book.

On October 25, Professor Charles H. Merchant, of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Farm Management, spoke at a combined meeting of the Rotary Club and Grange at Houlton. The subject of his talk was "Why Should the Consumer be Interested in the Farmers' Problems?"

SIX INITIATED RECENTLY BY CONTRIBUTORS' CLUB

Hallowe'en was the night chosen by the members of the Contributor's Club to initiate six pledges, Margaret Asnip, Janet Brown, Elizabeth Gifford, Mrs. Joyce Stevens, Hope Whitman, and Thomas Churchill.

The newly organized Women's Forum will meet Thursday, Nov. 16, in the students' room in the basement of Stevens, north wing. The group has a very informal discussion of some problem of campus interest at each meeting. The subject for this meeting will be announced next week.

There have been very interesting discussions at past meetings and the group shows signs of increasing in size. Meetings will be held the third Thursday in each month, unless a change of date is announced. Freshman girls have special permission from W.S.G.A. to stay until the end of the meetings.

Dr. J. Franklin Witter, Animal Pathologist in the Department of Animal Industry at the University, presented a paper on "Parasitic Diseases of Horses" at the annual meeting of the New England Veterinary Medical Association, held in Boston, November 6 and 7.

Although Alumni Hall was not filled to capacity last Friday evening, nevertheless a great many students enjoyed the Pale Blue Key stag dance, at which Larry Miller's Bears furnished good music for three and a half hours. Coach and Mrs. Chester Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Curtis, chaperons, as well as the students, are still debating who was the "Forgotten Man"!

The first of the student Sings sponsored by W.S.G.A. and Student Senate was held Wednesday night at 7.30 on Winslow steps. Ed DeCourcy, Carl Ingraham, and Cliff Ladd led the singing. Popular numbers, as well as favorite University of Maine songs and old songs, were among those selected. These Sings are planned for once a month.

Not many smokers have seen a fine tobacco plant in full bloom, so we show you this picture. Only a few of these fine plants are permitted to flower and to produce seed. These carefully selected seeds reproduce the following year the "Cream of the Crop" for your Lucky Strike, for tobacco must be grown from seed each year. ## BRICE MAY CHANGE OFFENSIVE SYSTEM FOR SOFT GRIDIRON

With prospects of a soggy gridiron for the Bowdoin-Maine football clash Saturday afternoon on Alumni Field, Coach Fred Brice has been forced to change to some extent the Maine offensive.

For the past two days, practices have been held inside the Armory, with much stress being placed upon blocking, and individual attention being given to the faults of each player.

Blackboard drills have been held in the evenings, with Coach Brice pointing out the mistakes made in the Colby game, and changing various plays.

A soggy gridiron will be a huge detriment to the Maine team, as the deceptive type of football played by the Black Bear eleven requires a hard, fast playing surface. Moreover, with the exception of the two ends, Maine's entire line is outweighed by that of Bowdoin.

To offset this disadvantage, however, reports from Bowdoin indicate that the visiting team is in its worst condition of the year, through the injuries received in the Bowdoin-Bates encounter.

Coach Bowser of the Polar Bear eleven will place the greater portion of his hopes in the final game of the state series upon Bill Soule, a 155 pound halfback. Soule is considered by Bowser as the find of the year at Bowdoin, and his remarkable punting and pre-touchdown run in last week's game brought him into the series lime-light.

MOTION PICTURES SHOWN AT MAINE OUTING CLUB

Moving pictures of activities of the Dartmouth and Bates outing clubs were shown by Ted Curtis, faculty manager of athletics, at the Maine Outing Club meeting at 33 Winslow Hall last Thursday evening.

Two reels were shown from Dartmouth, one of the Moosilauke ski trip, the other of the Mount Washington trip. The Dartmouth pictures also included instructive films on skiing by one of the Dartmouth winter sports coaches. The Bates Outing Club pictures showed a canoe trip, two fishing trips, and the winter carnival.

SPORTS SPIELS

By BOB BERG

Unless something radically wrong occurs, the final tilt of football season for the Black Bears with the Polar Bears of Bowdoin has all the earmarks of being a humdinger. A win or even a tie for Maine, regardless of the outcome of the Colby-Bates encounter, will enable Coach Fred "Foxy" Brice's charges to carry off the Pine Tree State crown for the third consecutive year. Incidentally, the Stein Song gridders have been victors in every state series battle for the past three years thus far.

When the referee chirps on his whistle for festivities to commence, it will mark the 36th gridiron struggle between these two traditional football rivals. In the matter of games won, the Black Bears have been on top 20 times to 11 times for the Polar Bears while 4 frays ended in ties. The first game was played in 1896 and since Coach Brice came to Orono in 1921, his elevens have turned back Bowdoin 9 times and have been deadlocked twice with the Brunswickians garnering but two struggles. Not a bad record at all, eh, what?

One of the largest advance sales of tickets in years has been made for the game on Saturday and there is no reason why the spectators will not be treated to a great tussle. Before the football season started in the state, Bowdoin was selected by all the sports scribes to win the Pine Tree championship with ease as it was supposed to have by far the best team among the four Maine colleges. Yet, although the Polar Bears have failed to live up to predictions, they comprise a powerful outfit and the Bricemen are going to have a busy afternoon.

For the Black Bears, the battle will be a crucial one. All season they have

OLD TOWN HIGH HARRIERS NOSE OUT FROSH, 28-29

The Old Town cross country team defeated the Freshman "A" squad to the tune of 28-29 amid a snow storm on the freshman course last Tuesday afternoon. Spinney of Old Town easily won the three mile event in the slow time of 17 minutes and 58 seconds. Spinney was the individual winner of the interscholastics held here last Saturday morning.

The order of the finish was as follows: 1. Spinney, Old Town; 2. Sawyer, Old Town; 3. Hunnewell, Maine; 4. Corbett, Maine; 5. Gatti, Maine; 6. Cook, Old Town; 7. Boardway, Old Town; 8. Webb, Maine; 9. Dalot, Maine; 10. Shaw, Maine; 11. Heald, Maine; 12. Sapiro, Old Town.

The freshman team above will also be the team to represent the Pale Blue frosh at the N.E.I.C.A.A.

engaged in close contests and, contrary to most teams, have not had one easy game. Consequently, the team has been on edge every minute and it has been pretty hard for Coach Brice to keep up the fighting spirit and high pitch of the eleven. Nevertheless, the Black Bears have shown themselves to be imbued with spirit which has brought joy to Coach Brice and followers of the team. In both the Bates and Colby games, Maine took it on the chin in the first halves only to come back with a "never-say-die" spirit to stage spectacular comebacks and win the two contests.

A great deal will depend upon the weather conditions since Maine must have a dry field to have its offense clicking effectively because the whole attack is built around deception. I look for the Black Bears to come through with a victory and with fairly good weather conditions existing, I'd say Maine by two touchdowns.

Alumni Undergraduate Hockey Game Saturday

There will be an Alumnæ-Undergraduate hockey game at 10:00 a.m. Saturday. Excitement is guaranteed as many of the class of '33 and others will be back. Among them are Polly Brown, Merritt Dunn, Dixie Dixon, Marnie Smith and Doris Richardson.

These players had an undefeated team last year and filled a majority of the positions on the All Maine team. The opposing team has not been picked but there is plenty of material, causing much excitement and competition in the Maine hockey world at present.

Maine Takes Series Lead by 18-7 Defeat of Colby

A couple of minutes later, Littlehale intercepted a pass on Colby's 40-yard marker. MacBride raced eleven yards and after rushes by Littlehale, Butler sprinted through right guard for the final score on a thirteen yard run.

HARRIER RUNNERS TO ENTER MEET AT HUB

A Pale Blue state champion cross country team will be entered in the 21st annual race sponsored by the New England Intercollegiate Cross Country Athletic Association at Franklin Park, Boston, Monday, November 13. Thirteen New England colleges will be represented.

Previous performances of the Maine aggregation show promises of a closely fought race between the Pale Blue team and New Hampshire, last year's champions. The Wildcat harriers barely nosed out the Maine plodders by a one point margin in a dual meet at the Orono institution last month. Ken Black, state champion cross country runner, garnered third place in the New England last year to give Maine a third place in the meet. Ernie Black, Ken's twin brother, has shown himself to be on the par with him. He finished the state meet at his brother's heels and tied with him in the New Hampshire race.

Competing with the Black brothers in this meet will be Joe Marsh, Bob Wishart, Harry Saunders, and Frank Morong all of whom were members of the championship squad. Don Corbett will replace

"Red" Osgood.

According to an announcement by Coach Jenkins, a freshman team will also be entered. Members of the 1937 squad will be Hunnewell, Corbett, Gatti, Webb, Shaw, Dalot, and Heald.

John C. Willey, president of the Maine Masque, spoke as a part of the Campus weekly radio broadcast over station WLBZ of Bangor at 6:45 Tuesday night. His talk concerned the presentation of Councillor-at-Law which was given by the Masque last night, and is being presented again tonight.

...yes I like that word about cigarettes

"When I think of milder cigarettes nowadays, I always think of Chesterfields.

"Because Chesterfields are milder. They've got plenty of taste and aroma to them but they've got mildness too!

"I smoke Chesterfields all day long

—when I'm working and when I'm not, and there's no time when a Chesterfield doesn't taste milder and better.

"I'll put in a good word any time for a cigarette like Chesterfields—they're mild and yet they Satisfy."
