ARTHUR L. DEERING IS APPOINTED DEAN OF COLLEGE OF AGR.

Trustees Make Decision
At Meeting Friday
In Bangor

CAPTAINED RELAY TEAM

Is President of Alumni Ass'n
And Has Outstanding Service Record

Arthur Lowell Deering has been made Dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of Maine, according to an announcement made Saturday by President H. S. Boardman, following the meeting of the Board of Trustees of the University, held in Bangor Friday night. Dean Deering has assumed immediately the duties of the office which have been in charge of Dean L. S. Corbett since the death of Dean L. S. Merrill in the late summer.

Dean Deering graduated from the University in the class of 1912, and since 1931 has been Director of the extension service of the College of Agriculture. He is closely identified with farming movements in the state, is a student of the peculiar agricultural problems of Maine, and is well known both among the farmers and the alumni of the University. Dean Deering was county agent of Kennebec County from 1912 to 1920; was county agent leader from 1920 to 1931; became director of extension at the University in 1931 when Dean Merrill, due to poor health, gave up this phase of his work, and now becomes the administrative head of the College as well as retaining his position as director of extension. The dean will appoint an assistant director to carry on certain phases of his work.

The new dean was born on January 13, 1888, in the town of Denmark, Oxford County, Maine. He has been closely identified with Maine and her problems all his life and is recognized as a man of great ability in his chosen field. His father, Mr. A. M. Deering, of Denmark, was a member of the state legislature in the session of 1925, and was a member of the agricultural committee that session. Dean Deering is married, his wife before her marriage was Miss Crystal Bowman of Hartland, Maine. They have four children. Both Dean Deering and his wife are closely identified with community work in Orono and in the state at large.

Mrs. Deering is secretary of the Orono Women's Club, a member of the Quartet Women's Club, and a Girl Scout Troup Committee member. She is greatly interested in music and is identified with all work of this type in Orono.

In addition to his vocational work Dean Deering has held many positions of trust including: field secretary of the Kennebec County Food Production committee during the World War; secretary of the Maine Farm Bureau Federation for ten years; member of the Social Affairs Committee of the University; member of the Farm and Home Week committee for years; member of the Alumni Council and president of the Alumni Association; chairman of the second Alumni Memorial Fund Committee; chairman of the State of Maine Children's Council; member of the state Y.M.C.A. and on the committee since 1931; member of the executive committee of the American Institute of Cooperation, 1931-32; member of the agricultural committee, Board of Trustees, International College, Izmir, Turkey, since 1931; member of the Experiment Station Council; and member of the executive committee of the Regional Agricultural Credit Corporation of Bangor.

While a student in the University Dean Deering was closely identified with student activities, especially athletics. He was a member of the varsity track team for three years, was three years on the relay team, one year as captain, and a member of the varsity football squad. He is a member of Phi Kappa Sigma social fraternity, and of Alpha Zeta. In college he was also president of the Agricultural Club, a member of the college stock judging team, and president of the Y.M.C.A.

The appointment of Dean Deering will meet with the approval of many alumni of the University with whom he has come in close contact; with the farming element of the state, and his elevation to the deanship will meet with approval from his colleagues in the College of Agriculture as well as the other colleges of the University.

NOTICE

All students who worked at the Bowdoin-Maine football game are requested to call for their checks at the treasury department Friday morning.

EDWARD E. CHASE IS WINNER SERVICE 'M'

Served in Alumni Association
Board of Trustees, and Memorial Comm.

Edward E. Chase of Portland, a graduate of the University of Maine, class of 1913, a trustee of the University and a former member of State Legislature, was awarded last Saturday the Alumni Service Emblem or Pine Tree "M" given annually by the General Alumni Association in recognition of outstanding services to the University. The award was made at the Alumni Faculty Homecoming Luncheon by Arthur L. Deering '12 of Orono, President of the Association.

In making the award Mr. Deering mentioned some of the more important services rendered by Mr. Chase. He has been a leading member of the Western Maine Alumni Association for many years and was president for three years; he has served as a member of the Alumni Council for two terms 1923 and 1926; in 1926 he was chosen vice-president of the Association which position he filled for two years and was chairman of the Alumni Council Executive Committee, resigning these offices shortly after his appointment as a trustee of the University; Mr. Chase was chairman of both Memorial Fund campaigns in Cumberland County which raised funds for the Alumni Memorial recently completed on the campus; he is a member of the permanent Endowment and Donations Committee and has served on other committees; in 1929 he was author of, and introduced into the Legislature, the Mill Tax providing for the income of the University from the State.

Mr. Chase is a native of Bluehill. Following graduation from the University, he was Register of Probate in Hancock County. When war broke out he enlisted in the First Maine Heavy Field Artillery, being elected lieutenant. He served in the Third Anti-aircraft Battalion in France from September, 1918, to May, 1919. Upon returning to civilian life he occupied successfully several positions with Beyer & Small, finally becoming vice-president. In 1928 he organized the Maine Securities Company of which he is president. Mr. Chase has represented Cape Elizabeth and Scarborough two terms in the State Legislature. He was also chairman of the Maine Railroad Committee appointed by Governor Gardner to study in cooperation with other state committees the railroad problem in New England.

Four of Mr. Chase's sisters, including Dr. Mary Ellen Chase, widely known professor of English at Smith College, have attended the University. In 1917 he was married to Marion Miller, a graduate of Colby College. Mr. and Mrs. Chase have three children.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS PLANS REORGANIZATION SOON

Le Cercle Francais, the French club, is being re-organized for the coming year. Formerly Le Cercle Francais was an honorary organization, but this year membership is open to anyone who is interested in French. The club will sponsor several plays during a year and a picnic in the spring. Dues are fifty cents a year, and anyone who is interested should get in touch with Charlotte LaChance or Esther Carr.

The meeting of the Women's Forum, scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until Thursday, Nov. 23. The subject has been chosen: Resolved: That U. S. universities should adopt the French plan of placing no restrictions on co-eds.

QUINN, GORDON ARE RHODES CANDIDATES FROM UNIV. OF MAINE

Will Compete with Representatives of Other Maine
Colleges in Dec.

Alfred B. Gordon, a sophomore, and John B. Quinn, a senior, will represent the University of Maine as Rhodes Scholarship candidates in December at the annual meeting of the State committee of selection.

In the footsteps of the brilliant Arthur Brown, who was one of the four men from New England to receive the scholarship, Gordon and Quinn were named by a University committee composed of Dean George D. Chase, Dr. Stanley R. Ashby, Dean L. S. Corbett, Dean James N. Hart, and Prof. Charles A. Brautlecht.

Two candidates will be selected from among the four Maine colleges and they will compete later against representatives from all New England. The scholarships themselves, founded in an effort to further Anglo-American relationships, consist of two or three years of study at Oxford University.

Quinn is president of the Student Senate, a member of the Senior Skull society, the Track Club, the Forestry Club, Scabbard and Blade military fraternity, and is a commissioned officer in the R.O.T.C. During his freshman year he was active in football and track, and in 1932 was Art Editor of the Junior Prism.

An honor student in forestry, he is a member of Phi Sigma, honorary biological fraternity. He has also been connected with the M.C.A. He is an Alpha Tau Omega.

Gordon, a member of the varsity debating team during his freshman year, is prominent both in religious and political life at the University. President last year of the Freshman M.C.A. cabinet, he identified himself later with the Liberal Club, and the Post Prandial Club. As a debater, he was unbeaten in his first year's competition. He will represent Maine Nov. 24 at a conference of State college delegates at Bates to determine the most practical form of national government.

Gordon will major next year in the department of philosophy under Prof. Ronald B. Levinson. He is a Sigma Nu.

SECONDARIES REHELD; COMMITTEES CHANGED

Tie in Freshman Vice-Presidency
Is Broken. Final Elections To Be Held Next Tuesday

A second set of secondary nominations were held Tuesday evening by the freshman, sophomore, and senior classes after it was discovered by the Student Senate that the first secondary nominations held had been incomplete or illegal.

As a result of these secondary nominations, Charles Sinclair and Roy Augenstein replace John Wilson and Thomas Hersey as candidates for the executive committee; Stanley Blanchard and James Page replace Edward DeCourcy and Arden Mercier on the Commencement Week committee; Gordon Richardson and George Osgood replace Louise Milliken and Edward Weeks on the Commencement Ball committee, and Gilbert Cox replaces Roger Heffer on the Cane committee.

In the sophomore secondaries, a tie vote in the candidates for the Pipe committee was broken, with Francis McAlary winning over William Jones.

In the freshman secondaries, two tie votes were broken. Leonard Litchfield was eliminated from the vice-presidency, and Leonard Gates was eliminated from the Banquet committee.

DR. KATZ, OUSTED FROM GERMANY, TAUGHT HERE

Dr. David Katz, visiting professor at the University of Maine summer school session of 1929, has been exiled from Germany in Hitler's move against the German Jews.

Herr Katz was understood to have taken refuge in England where he will continue his work in psychology in an English university. In Germany, he was head of Psychology at Rostock. He had also written extensively on the subject, and was a leader in experiments in vision and color.

At the University of Maine Professor Katz taught two courses in Psychology. While still in this country he lectured on Chataqua programs and presented a paper at the International Congress of Psychology at Yale.

PLAN NEW ENGLAND COLLEGE PRESS ASS'N

Pendell, Mullen, Snow Represent
'Campus' at N. H.
Student Conference

Plans to organize a New England Collegiate Press Association were made at the Conference of New England Land Grant Colleges held at the University of New Hampshire in Durham November 10 and 11. Ten New England colleges were represented at the conference.

The meeting, the first of its kind to be held in this section of the country, was sponsored by the New Hampshire Student Council, the Interfraternity Council, and the New Hampshire, the student publication. Its purpose was to bring together for a discussion of mutual problems representatives of the student councils, interfraternity councils, and student publications of all the land grant colleges in New England.

The University of Maine sent three delegates, Philip Pendell, Burton Mullen, and Philip Snow, all of whom are connected with the Maine Campus. Registration was held Friday afternoon, and a banquet in honor of the delegates was given in the evening. George W. Blood, managing editor of the Manchester Union, and a graduate of the University of New Hampshire, addressed the delegates on the subject "Opportunities for a College Graduate in the Field of Journalism."

Separate meetings of the various organizations represented were held Friday evening and Saturday morning. At the conclusion of the publications meeting, the delegates voted to organize the New England Collegiate Press Association, whose purpose is to aid college newspaper editors in their various problems. Burton Mullen was named representative of the Maine Campus.

Delegates from Connecticut State College extended an invitation to the other colleges present to be their guests at a similar conference at Storrs, Connecticut, next year.

Saturday afternoon, conference representatives were guests at the New Hampshire-Springfield football game, and were guests at a dance in the evening.

The land grant colleges represented at the conference were the University of Maine, University of New Hampshire, University of Vermont, Massachusetts State College, Rhode Island State College, and Connecticut State College. Other schools represented were Bates College, Colby College, Tufts College, and Brown University.

BATES PRESIDENT WILL SPEAK AT TUES. CHAPEL

Dr. Clifton D. Gray, President of Bates College, will address the monthly assembly, Tuesday, Nov. 21, on "How Ideas are Made in Germany."

Dr. Gray spent the past summer traveling in Europe where he visited for some time in Germany.

At the session of the United States district court in Bangor Tuesday afternoon, Shirley Berger '29, Bangor attorney, was admitted to practice in the United States court on a motion by Assistant District Attorney William B. Nulty.

After his graduation from the University of Maine in 1929, Mr. Berger entered the Harvard Law School, but was later graduated from the Boston University Law School. He began his practice of law in Bangor last September.

WORLD'S FAIR WILL BE HELD SATURDAY

Dance and Fair To Take Place
In New Gym. Many Unique
Features Planned

Many unique forms of entertainment will be featured at a World's Fair to be sponsored by the Y.W., Liberal Club, and M.C.A. Saturday, Nov. 18, in the Memorial Gymnasium. Picturesque girls in foreign costume will be in charge throughout the afternoon.

An Egyptian-draped fortune teller, Mrs. Tozier, whose skill is well known on campus, will tell the fortunes of each who crosses her palm with silver. She promises to answer any three questions her client wishes to ask.

Jack Frost, popular member of the freshman class, will be a Bohemian artist and sketch portraits.

Two hundred dollars worth of imported merchandise, direct from the importing houses in New York, will be displayed by peasants from all countries, the prices ranging from 25¢ to $1.00.

The stag dance Saturday night will be FREE for those who buy a 40¢ afternoon ticket. The price of admission for the afternoon alone will be 15¢ for students, and the stag dance alone, 40¢.

TWO FRATERNITY HOUSES LOOTED ON MAINE NIGHT

Alpha Tau Omega, Lambda Chi
Alpha Lose Valuable Property
In Morning Raid

For the third time in three years fraternity houses at the University of Maine were entered and articles worth several hundred dollars were stolen. Two houses, Lambda Chi Alpha and Alpha Tau Omega, were entered between two and five o'clock Saturday morning.

About $250 in cash was stolen besides many articles of clothing and jewelry. Lambda Chi was the heavier loser. From this house $200 in money, two portable Corona typewriters, one 45-70 rifle, two suits and other clothing, and several fraternity pins were taken. Alpha Tau suffered a loss of $50 in cash, seven suits, two bearskin coats, and jewelry.

As yet there have been no arrests, according to a statement by Sheriff King of Orono.

Nov. 1 Registration Is 1467. 9.2% Below 1932

The total registration at the University of Maine for the first semester of 1933-34, up to and including November 1, is 1467 students, a loss of 9.2 per cent over the same period last year, or 148 students. This loss is less than was expected by the administration before the opening of the University, but improved business conditions in various parts of the state increased the expectation at the last moment.

The enrollment by colleges and by sex is as follows:

The grizzly Black Bear of the University of Maine sunk its fangs deep into the White Polar Bear of Bowdoin as it savagely and sharply thrust aside any threat made by the visiting football team, to hang up an impressive 12-0 victory on frost-bitten Alumni Field before 5500 shivering spectators last Saturday afternoon and retain the Pine Tree State gridiron title for the third consecutive year.

Coach Fred "Foxy" Brice's football machine was in high gear during the sixty-minute struggle and played proficiently enough to completely outsmart the Bowdoin outfit which was unable to make the least bit of headway in Maine's territory.

The Black Bear front wall, tutored by head line coach Bill Kenyon, outplayed its heavier opponents and charged fiercely through the Bowdoin frontier, tackling the visiting ball toters for several losses, and blocking two punts which paved the way for both Maine touchdowns. It was this smooth and powerful functioning line that opened wide holes for the backfield men to scamper through and pick up substantial gains.

Don Favor, sporting his Maine mole-skins for the last time, finished his playing career in a blaze of glory with a magnificent display of kicking as he averaged 47 yards on nine boots to force the play in the Brunswick club's half of the field during most of the tussle.

Maine's superiority was built on the manner in which Milt MacBride, Ted Butler, and Bob Littlehale hammered away at the Polar Bear's line in a clever assortment of plays. Once again Ted Butler outfoxed the Black Bear's rivals with his selection of plays which thrilled rabid Maine followers, especially when the second score was tallied.

After a harmless first period with both teams making fairly consistent headway on a running attack, Maine came into its own in the second quarter and flashed the same power which humbled Colby and Bates on previous Saturdays, to ring up a touchdown. Two serious threats to score were made by the Bricemen deep in Bowdoin's territory, and finally chunky Sam Reese crashed through the Bowdoin line to block Soule's punt on the latter's 24 yard stripe, where it was recovered by Larry O'Connell.

On a deceptive reverse, Milt MacBride tore through right tackle for a 23 yard jaunt where he was brought to earth by Soule on the one yard marker. Then catapultic Bob Littlehale plowed through center over the goal line for six points. Don Favor's placement kick went into the line.

An exchange of punts took place in the third quarter with Favor having the decided edge over Soule. With seconds left to play, Morris Judd tore through at full tilt to block Soule's attempted kick on the Bowdoin 16 yard line and the pigskin bounced offside on the 4 yard stripe as the timekeeper's whistle signaled the end of the canto.

Bob Littlehale opened the final period by crashing through center for three yards, but on the next two plays he was stopped in his tracks by the Polar Bear line which presented an impregnable wall. At this point, Ted Butler delved into his assortment of plays and called for a double lateral pass with Milt MacBride on the receiving end, which caught Bowdoin unawares. MacBride dashed wide around right end to cross the line standing up for the second and final Maine score. Again, Favor failed in an endeavor to chalk up the extra point when he tried to rush the ball after he had been hurried in his placement kick.

In the last period, the Black Bears were content to resort to a defensive game in which they frustrated a wide aerial attack by Bowdoin which put forth its utmost to avoid being whitewashed.

The closest approach to Maine's goal line by the visiting team occurred in the initial period when the Bowsermen advanced the ball to the 36 yard stripe. Soule caught Favor's boot on his own 34 yard line and ran to the 45. With Bavarelle, Soule, and Hubbard lugging the pigskin, Bowdoin brought the ball to the home eleven's 36 yard marker. But

Editorial Comment

Because no damage will result to the Little Theatre in Alumni Hall if it is used as a check room at dances, because only the persons in charge of the check room would be allowed in it, because not only the University but also the organization conducting the dance will suffer embarrassment and possibly financial loss due to the loss of or damage to clothing left on chairs or the floor in the gymnasium, the Little Theatre in Alumni Hall should be opened and used as a check room at every dance throughout the winter.

As proper recognition of the work of the University of Maine's football team in gaining a state championship, and of the work of the cross country team in also gaining a state championship, letters to the members of these teams should be awarded at a special assembly at which all students are present.

If mid-semester examinations are worth while, a special time schedule should be arranged for them so that each student can do his best work in them. If they are not worth this trouble they should be junked.

CORRESPONDENCE

(The correspondence columns of The Campus are open to the public on pertinent subjects, and letters are welcomed. All letters should be signed with the author's real name, but a pen name will be used in publication of the letter if desired. The ideas stated in these columns are not necessarily those of The Campus and should not be so considered. The editor reserves the right to withhold any letter or a part of any letter.)

To the Editor of the Campus,

Why is military training compulsory at the University of Maine? Ask this question of almost any one on campus and more often than not he will say, "This is a land grant college; the federal government compels us to take military."

Such a view is erroneous, however. On the contrary, the federal government says that military training shall be compulsory or voluntary "as the legislatures of the states may respectively provide." In our case, the Maine State Legislature did the providing in 1865 by enacting the following law to be found in Ch. 532, Sec. 10:

"Military tactics shall be taught, during some suitable part of each year to all the students; and they shall be required to form and maintain such habits of obedience and subordination as may be useful to them if called into military service."

This compulsory feature should be abolished and voluntary training substituted in its place. A university is no place to compel one to study how best to kill and cripple human beings. A voluntary system would satisfy all legal requirements, at the same time giving to each what he desires. At the University of Wisconsin the students rebelled and asked for the abolition of the compulsory law; as a result the University now has a voluntary system. Also Pomona College in California made a similar change.

Some of our leading educators in the country are opposed to compulsory military training in our universities. Undoubtedly the most outstanding philosopher in this country today, as well as a distinguished educator, John Dewey, says that military training "is undemocratic, barbaric, and educationally wholly unwise."

In the military text used by the Freshmen last year, we find the following sentence apropos the benefits to be handed out by the training given in the R.O.T.C.: "In brief this training helps to create high-minded gentlemen who will succeed in life and make good citizens."

² Vol. I, p. XIV.

In contradistinction to this partially promised result, let us see what an army officer (disgusted with the pretensions of his brothers) has to contribute to our understanding of the question:

"Good citizenship," he says, "is an excellent thing, and so are religion, filial affection, and brotherly love. But they are not the ends of an army. An army exists to kill men, when ordered, in the nation's quarrel, irrespective of its justice. It should train its men to that single end. . . . If we object to any of our citizens thus specializing on murderous and un-Christian activities, we should abolish the army. If we want an army, we should recognize it for what it is. We should not tell lies about it being a school for citizenship or manual training, nor clutter up its drill grounds with disciples of these irrelevant arts."

³ The American Mercury, V, 140.

It cannot help but be apparent that the R.O.T.C. exists for the direct or indirect purpose of making us efficient murderers of fellow human beings, just the same as a young man in a slaughter house learns the proper technique for effectively cutting the throats of squealing swine. Let's remember that the next time we go to military drill.

Signed,

A. B. G.

Long

GOLDEN STRANDS

OF FINE TOBACCO
—and no loose ends

It would delight you to open a Lucky Strike and examine the long, golden strands of fine tobaccos. To notice how fully packed it is... how free from annoying loose ends. Every Lucky Strike is a blend of the world's choicest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos—finely shredded—long and evenly cut. That's why every Lucky draws so easily—burns so smoothly.

ALWAYS the finest tobaccos
ALWAYS the finest workmanship
ALWAYS Luckies please!

HARRIERS PLACE SECOND IN BOSTON N.E.I.C.C. MEET

New Hampshire Wins As Blacks Finish 3rd and 4th

A fighting group of state champion harriers, led by the stellar Black twins, presented their best performance of the season to finish second in the New England Intercollegiate Cross Country race in Boston Monday with a score of 54 points. The meet was won by New Hampshire with 38 points. Rhode Island was third with 110 and Bowdoin fourth with 114 points.

That Maine and New Hampshire were far superior to any other competitor is shown by the fact that of the first 23 men to cross the tape, 13 were members of these two squads. Ken Black headed the Pale Blue plodders to third place with his twin brother, Ernie, almost tying with him. Joe Marsh followed in ninth position and Wishart in 17th. Not far behind him came Harry Saunders and Frank Morong in 21st and 23rd places respectively.

Dave Demoulied, defeated by the Blacks in the dual contest with the Wildcats here in October, was individual winner, covering the soggy Franklin Park course in 28 minutes 18 4-5 seconds, nosing out Jenkins of M.I.T. with a spectacular sprint in the last 100 yards of the race.

Coach Jenkins' well organized hill-and-dalers will journey to New York next Monday to compete in the I.C. 4-A meet. New Hampshire will not be entered in this event, but Manhattan, national champions of the 1932 run, and other colleges such as Syracuse, Pittsburg, Michigan State, and Cornell will all send strong delegations.

ALUMNI SPEAKER

DR. ELMER D. MERRILL

A special feature of the annual Maine Homecoming Week was the Alumni-Faculty luncheon held Saturday noon in the new Alumni Memorial, and attended by many alumni and faculty.

One of Maine's most distinguished alumni, Dr. E. D. Merrill of the class of '98, director of the New York Botanical Gardens, was the guest speaker. This is his first address in many years on campus.

VARSITY HOCKEY TEAM DEFEATS ALUMNI, 2-1

The Alumnae hockey team lost to the Varsity by a score of 2-1 last Saturday morning. A layer of snow covered the field and the players wore anything from ski-suits to tunics with silk shirts. The ball was red and the whole effect most colorful. Spectators cheered while Flora Stone and Dot Lawrence made scores for the Varsity in the first half. The Alums put up a strong fight finally getting a score in the second half.

MORELAND WILL START READINGS SERIES WED.

The Department of English is projecting a series of afternoon readings to be held at the hour of the former General Lecture course on alternate Wednesdays. The first reading will be given by Mr. James Moreland from the stories of Roark Bradford on Wednesday afternoon, November 22, at 4:20 in the Little Theater, Alumni Hall. The readings are open for such members of the student body and faculty and guests as may care to come. The series is an experiment, and will be carried out only if the interest in it seems to justify its continuance.

Dean James Muilenburg, of the College of Arts and Sciences, addressed Bangor high school teachers on the subject "The Present Crisis in Education" at a meeting held Monday afternoon in Bangor.

Dean Muilenburg expressed the opinion that teachers should familiarize themselves with the causes of the present situation, and then band together in an attempt to keep in contact with current happenings and problems.

DR. SANGER NOMINATED TO BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Dr. Eugene B. Sanger of Bangor, a graduate of Yale and Columbia Universities, was nominated Monday to succeed William M. Sawyer as a trustee at the University of Maine.

Dr. Sanger is a widely known physician and surgeon, and at the present time is the only Maine doctor serving on the Board of Governors of the American College of Surgeons. He is a past president of the Penobscot Medical Society, a member of the Tarratine Club, the Yale Club of Boston, and is a 32nd degree Mason.

COUNTY AGENT SPEAKS AT HECK CLUB MEETING

Raymond Lovejoy, County Agent in York County, was the speaker at the third meeting of the Heck Club. He talked on the subject "Cooperative Development of Apple Orchards in York County." He brought out the fact that about half of York County was composed of deserted farmsteads, and of these about half were suited to apple production. Refreshments of apples, cider, and cookies were served.

President H. S. Boardman of the University of Maine left yesterday for Chicago where he will attend the meeting of the Land Grant College and University Association. He was accompanied by Dean Arthur L. Deering of the College of Agriculture.

The name of Paul Garvin has been engraved on the Alpha Zeta freshman scholarship plaque. Mr. Garvin was the highest ranking student in the Class of 1936 of the College of Agriculture. He is a pledge to Delta Tau Delta.

NOTICE

Freshmen interested in working out for the circulation department of the Campus are asked to report at the Campus office on Thursday afternoons at four o'clock or to communicate with Gerald Slosberg, Tau Epsilon Phi.

Burr, Longfellow and Moore, Hovey Awards

Three seniors in the College of Technology of the University of Maine have been approved by President Boardman to receive the three Hovey Memorial Scholarships for the present school year. The nominations are made by the faculty of the College of Technology after careful consideration of the records of the students, their promise for the future, and general manliness.

The students who will receive these scholarships, worth $50 each, are Lloyd Weatherbee Burr, Mattawamkeag, whose average for the first three years is 3.39; Bruce S. Longfellow, Machias, whose average for the three years is 3.34; and Richard Edwin Moore, Rangeley, whose average for the three years is 3.71.

According to Dean Paul Cloke of the College of Technology, the three winners were chosen from 26 candidates who were carefully examined by the faculty before the recommendations to the President were made.

"The Nature of Scientific Research," will be the title of the next general lecture to be offered by the entertainment committee of the College of Arts and Sciences of the University of Maine, Friday, Nov. 17, at 4:30 p.m. The speaker will be Professor William L. Gilliland of the Chemistry department. The lecture will be given in Room 6, south wing of Stevens Hall.

BURLEY TOBACCO

U. S. Type 31.

SOUTHERN MARYLAND TOBACCO

U. S. Type 32.

U. S. Type 11 is produced in the Piedmont Belt of Virginia and part of North Carolina.

U. S. Type 12 is produced in eastern North Carolina.

U. S. Type 13 grows in South Carolina.

U. S. Type 14 is produced mostly in southern Georgia—a few million pounds in northern Florida and Alabama.

U. S. Type 31 includes what is called White Burley tobacco. It was first produced by George Webb in 1864. It is light in color and body, and is milder than the Burley used for pipes.

U. S. Type 32, Maryland tobacco, is noted for its "burn". In this respect Maryland excels most other tobaccos.

These are the kinds of home-grown tobaccos used for making Chesterfield Cigarettes.

Then Chesterfield adds aromatic Turkish tobacco to give just the right seasoning or spice.

Chesterfield ages these tobaccos for 30 months—2½ years—to make sure that they are milder and taste better.

Isn't it exasperating to have to miss a wonderful party because of "recurring" pains? Embarrassing, too, when you can't tell friends the reason. But now you need to flunk an exam or miss a party. When you are below par, take Kalms, quick-acting tablets developed by Johnson & Johnson especially to relieve "recurring" pains, such as headache, backache and neuralgia. One tablet is enough for most cases. Kalms are safe, do not affect digestion or heart action, and are not habit-forming. Your druggist has them in purse-size boxes of 12 tablets.
