108 STUDENTS WORKING ON F.E.R.A. JOBS: WORD RECEIVED OF 36 MORE

Pay To Range from $20 To $10 Per Month. 30c an Hour

With approximately 108 University of Maine students now employed in part-time jobs on the campus, made possible through the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, word was received by President Boardman yesterday morning that under a revision of one of the provisions of the act, work will be available for 36 more students, bringing the total number of positions available up to 144.

The essential provisions of the act are as follows:

"Jobs shall be allocated for the colleges on the basis of their enrollment of full-time students of college grade, or higher, as of October 15, 1933. A full-time student is one carrying at least three-fourths of the normal student program of courses. The allotment of jobs for each college will be equal to, but at no time above, ten per cent of its full-time student enrollment.

"The pay shall be from $10 to $20 per calendar month per student employed, and shall be earned by socially desirable work. The allotment to each college shall be based on an average of $15 per month per student employed.

"The students shall be selected for the jobs on the following considerations:

(a) Need. The student's financial status shall be such as to make impossible his attendance at college without this aid.

(b) Character and ability to do college work. The students shall be of good character and judged by the usual methods of determining ability employed by the particular college, shall possess such ability as to give assurance that they will do high grade work in college.

(c) Equitable division between sexes. Jobs shall be allocated between boys and girls in proportion to the enrollment of each in the particular school.

"The hourly rate of pay shall be such as is commonly paid by the institution for the type of service rendered, but not less than 30¢ an hour.

"No student shall work more than 30 hours in any week or 8 hours in any day."

The primary purpose of the unemployment project is to enable students, who would otherwise be unable to do so, to continue their second semester work in college. This aid is being given only to colleges or universities which are not of a profit-making nature.

Under the provisions of the act, the University is now receiving $2,160 per month from the federal government. The work will continue for not more than four months.

An original provision of the bill stated that colleges taking advantage of the employment project would have to remit the tuition and college charges, exclusive of board, to each student who received employment.

University officials felt that they would be unable to accept the offer with this provision, for it would have meant a loss of approximately $11,000 in tuition, while students were receiving $8,640 in wages.

Two Big Games in New Gym at 7 Tonight

Two exhibition basketball games of unusual interest will be played in the new Memorial Gym tonight under the auspices of the Intramural Athletic Association. The first game, beginning at seven o'clock will be between Theta Chi and Phi Kappa, and the second at eight o'clock will be between Phi Kappa Sigma and Phi Eta Kappa. All four of these teams have been showing an excellent brand of basketball throughout the past intramural season, and it is expected that both games tonight will be thrilling. Admission to the games will be 15¢.

SCREEN SENSATION 'M' WILL BE SHOWN AT STRAND FRIDAY

Foreign Mystery Picture To Be Shown at 4 p. m. In Afternoon

With the plaudits of critics on both sides of the Atlantic ringing about it, the international screen hit, "M," comes to the Strand Theatre, in Orono, tomorrow, an established international picture triumph after playing in Berlin, Paris, and London.

There will be only one showing of this picture in Orono, that will be at four o'clock tomorrow (Friday) afternoon.

Fritz Lang's drama which swept the Continent and England is another feather in the cap of this great German director who gave the world such masterful productions as "Metropolis" and "Siegfried."

Given its world premiere in the UFA Palast Theatre in Berlin, "M," a powerful picture of the terrifying Düsseldorf mass murders, played more than ten weeks in that theatre to ovations from press and public. Acclaim greeted Fritz Lang's direction, and the performance of Peter Lorre as the kidnaper was hailed as one of the acting masterpieces of the films.

"M" scored equally well in Paris, playing a long-run showing at the Ursulines Theatre in that city and receiving the same critical welcome. Writers since have written its praises, studied its direction, acting, and suspenseful drama in (Continued on Page Two)

222 MEN ACCEPTS BIDS TO 17 FRATERNITIES AS RUSHING UNDER NEW SYSTEM CLOSES

Phi Mu Delta Wins Winter Carnival

Delta Tau and Phi Eta Tie For Second. Large Crowd Watches

Phi Mu Delta took first place in the first winter carnival held at the University of Maine since 1928 when eds and coeds alike joined in reviving a custom that once was predominant at Maine, that of having a winter carnival. The Intramural Athletic Association took a hand and started the ball rolling last Thursday with a carnival that was a real success. Delta Tau Delta and Phi Eta Kappa were tied for second place in the carnival with 35 points each, Lambda Chi Alpha was fourth with 22 points, Delta Tau Delta with 21, Phi Kappa Sigma sixth with 16, Beta Kappa seventh with 13, and Delta B eighth with two points.

The one and a half mile ski and cross country races were held in the morning, starting and finishing in the large field in front of Balentine Hall, and the other events were held in the afternoon on the river behind the S.A.E. house.

The summary: One and a half mile cross country snowshoe race: 1. Prince, 2. Cox, 3. Badger, 4. Watson, 5. Northrup, 6. Shaw, 7. Captain. Time: 9:06.

Phi Eta Kappa Leads with 23; Delta Tau Delta Has 20; Phi Mu Delta and Sigma Nu Each Have 19

Three weeks of strenuous rushing among the fraternities at the University of Maine came to a glamorous climax at five o'clock on Tuesday night of this week when 222 freshmen accepted bids and pledged to seventeen fraternities. Phi Eta Kappa led the fraternities in number of men pledged with 23, Delta Tau Delta was second with twenty, and Phi Mu Delta and Sigma Nu were tied for third with nineteen each.

The figures show that eight more men pledged this year than pledged at the official pledging date last year, when there were 214 who accepted pins. The three week period was a new scheme put into effect last year by the Interfraternity Council, largely in an attempt to reduce the expenses of rushing through the first semester. It saw more concentrated rushing than has occurred in the past, and results show that more men pledged. It is interesting to note, however, that the number of men who pledged to each fraternity is more uneven than it has been in the past. This may or may not have any connection with the new rushing system.

'MAINE REVIEW' WILL APPEAR THIS MONTH

Dr. William T. Foster Writes Lead Article, Revival Of Magazine

This spring's issue of the Maine Review, the literary magazine of the University of Maine, will be published within the next few weeks, according to an announcement made this week by James E. DeCoursey, editor of the publication.

The coming number will contain a wealth of articles, some essays and some fiction, of interest to students and faculty members of the University of Maine. An article on the "Economic Consequences of the New Deal" by Dr. William Truitt Foster, who spoke here at assembly two years ago and who was one of the two men who were responsible for the organization of the P.W.A. and the C.W.A., will be the lead article in the magazine.

It will contain as other high spots, a series of sonnets on a road gang by John L. Cutler '32, an article by Dr. Wilson of the Department of History and Government comparing the University of Maine student with the college student of 1200, in an unusually interesting manner, a cleverly written short story by Carl Bottume, and other articles of interest as well as book reviews.

William F. Maden is business manager of the magazine this year, and persons wishing to purchase a copy in advance are urged to communicate with him. Only a limited number of copies of the magazine will be printed, so that the first orders received will be the first filled.

Fellows Wins Indoor Tennis Championship

Frank Fellows, a member of the freshman class, won the indoor tennis championship of the University last Friday night when he defeated John Fogarty '36, in three straight sets.

The match was played on the indoor court in Memorial Gymnasium, and was well attended by students. Coach George Small of the varsity tennis team, served as umpire, while Ted Curtis acted as referee.

Helen Walker Named Queen As Snoops Record Romances Seen At Intramural Ball

The annual Midwinter Ball sponsored by the Intramural Athletic Association and held in the new Alumni Memorial Gymnasium last Wednesday evening was a complete sell out, attended by over 200 couples. The gym was simply but effectively decorated with fraternity booths around the sides, and an old rose setting for Lloyd Raffel and his Georgians, who supplied the music, and featured Janes, the youthful singer.

At intermission George E. Osgood, a member of the committee, in charge of the ball, announced the secret committee's selection of the Queen of the Ball. It was Helen Frances Walker '34, of Riverside, Rhode Island, a student in the school of education, who was accorded the honor, and was presented the bronze loving cup. The committee had announced that the Queen would be picked on a basis of "beauty, personality, character, and popularity." Miss Walker came forward to receive the cup accompanied by her escort, Larry O'Connell, Senior Skull.

The patrons and patronesses of the ball were: President and Mrs. Harold S. Boardman, Mr. James A. and Mrs. Adrian Gannett, Dean and Mrs. Lamert S. Corbett, Treasurer and Mrs. Frederick S. Youngs, Professor and Mrs. Benjamin C. Kent, Professor and Mrs. Stanley M. Wallace, Professor and Mrs. Chester A. Jenkins, Professor and Mrs. Fred M. Brice, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Kenyon, and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore S. Curtis.

The committee in charge of the ball was Jack Leddy, chairman, George E. Osgood, M. Milton MacBride, and Burleigh Roderick.

Among those present were: Temple Smith and Libby Philbrook, George Cobb and Effie Mayberry, Joe Grady and Helen Baker, Bob Russ and Peanut Bunker, George E. Osgood and Kay Bunker, Richard Alden and Mary Sewall, Red Page and Corinne Fentress, James Day and Margot Sewall, John Pearson and Cynthia Wasgatt, Roger Heffler and Dot Sawyer, Pete Karalekas and Janet Brown, Cliff Ladd and Mary Small, Milt MacBride and Peggy Thayer, Ken Foster and Charlotte Lanchance, Art Hoyt and Louise Steeves, Bruno Golobski and Alice Sisco, Ed Giddings and Marie Archer, Art Roberts and Anna Eliasson, Jack Leddy and Merle Schubert, Fred Bendtsen and Sugar Milliken, Charley Straffin and Melba Gifford, Don Corbett and Frankie Dean, Bill Halpine and Ruth Harding, Don Murphy and Ag Crowley, Frank Peasley and Tedie Gardner, Charley Towle and Phil Hamilton, Al Thayer and Lucinda Ripley, Harry Crabtree and Phil Phillips.

Ex Champ Heaves Milk Bucket Into Ring. Has Technique All His Own

Though omitted in 1933, the Maine championship Milking Contest will again feature the opening of Farm and Home Week at the University of Maine, March 26. H. W. Hall of the animal industry department announced today.

Hamlin G. Osgood, Bradford, the 1932 champion, has issued the following challenge to all Maine milkers and near milkers to meet him in the tan bark arena—or is it sawdust?

"I now toss my milk pail into the ring. That is my formal challenge to any and all to meet me in a catch-as-catch-can bout with bovine stubbornness at the statewide meet in Orono.

"The trend this contest has taken is contrary to some of my convictions. It was started in 1929, as you remember, through a challenge issued by Leslie E. McIntire, a prominent citizen in Oxford County. The man-made plans for the contest were okay. But on the day of the first contest a lot of men, myself included, stood around like statues with mouths open and let Mrs. Leon O. Marshall of (Continued on Page Six)

Snow, Cold, Snow Closes In On Us Does Snow

By the Campus Roaming Reporter

Snow, snow, and more snow. Is there nothing that can be done about it? Wet snow, slushy snow, driving snow, crusted snow, drifting snow, cold snow, crunchy snow. This is the atmosphere of the season. Snow, cold weather, snow, slush, snow, and then snow. Piling drifts and wet feet, they are earmarks. Whistling wind, sub-zero weather, frozen ears, frost-bitten toes and noses. Snow, snow, snow.

Maybe the new deal can do something about it. Is it discouraging? Maybe we could all pack up and go to Bermuda, or perhaps Florida. Rumor has it that there is likely to be a couple of weeks this summer when the sledding on campus won't be so good. Cold weather, campus trudgers with heads bent low to avoid the wind and the driving snow.

And suppose the snow should melt.

The result would be floods, and then more floods. Luckily there is a canoe factory on Marsh Island where the University is located. Food could be brought in by plane, but probably not enough. Snow, snow, snow. What will we do when the drifts are so high that the plows can't get through? Will classes continue? Who will ring the bell for classes? Are there enough snow shovels on this island to keep paths shoveled out? Maybe we could tunnel from one building to another. Snow, snow, snow.

Snow, snow, snow. This is winter. Winter in all its glory, but who likes this kind of glory. Snow, snow, snow. Beautiful snow. Nobody thinks it beautiful anymore. But we are perhaps helpless. What can we do about it? We say we must be able to "take it," but this idea of taking it day in and day out is getting extremely tiresome. Snow, snow, snow.

Snow, snow, snow. That is what we eat, drink, sleep, dream, see, walk on and through. Snow, snow, snow. Automobiles that throw it in our faces. Snow that drops over the tops of our shoes and creeps down to torture our feet, snow that sticks to feet and clutters up rugs and floors, snow that gets into a pipe, melts and puts it out. Snow, snow, snow.

It's getting us. It sticks to the trees, it falls off roofs and endangers lives. We don't know what the good old earth looks like anymore. Snow, snow, snow. It's closing in on us. It's wearing down our nerves. Oh to walk out of a building again without fearing that as soon as we step out our feet are likely to leave us, and drop us Plump on the sidewalk. Snow, snow, snow. It falls down necks and wets collars.

Snow, snow, snow.

Under a new plan instituted immediately after the pledging time last year each fraternity is required to report to the Interfraternity Council, on a blank supplied by the Council, the names of the men who pledged to that particular fraternity. At two o'clock yesterday afternoon only six fraternities on campus had done so. The Campus presents a list of the pledges of the various houses. Those marked "official" are the ones reported from the office of the Dean of Men. Those marked "unofficial" are the lists gathered from the fraternities themselves by the Campus.

The Movement Continues

When the Intramural Athletic Association staged its winter carnival last week, the organization was contributing another link to the chain of school spirit that is being built up at the University of Maine, and which started last fall during the football season. The Association is to be congratulated upon taking the initiative in sponsoring the event.

The Intramural Athletic Association would do credit to itself by making this winter carnival one of its annual functions, and each year adding more to it, and building it bigger and better.

In 1922 the University of Maine started its series of six winter carnivals which passed out of existence after the carnival of 1928. These turned out to be a failure because too many students went home over the holiday, rather than stay for the carnival.

Stories told now of those early carnivals are glamorous—three days of festivity, with decorations, bands playing, athletes competing, and visitors visiting. Let us hope that the Intramural A. A. can bring the carnivals back to their former prominence. Let us, not only hope, but also help, the Intramural A. A. to make the Winter Carnival at the University of Maine one of the most talked of events of the East. Other eastern colleges with even less advantageous a location than ours have developed their Winter Carnivals to such an extent that the New York newspapers send their staff writers to the carnivals to record the events for the curious public throughout the nation. Why can't we?

The Campus regrets an error in its lead editorial last week. The quoted words "friendly relations with all; entangling alliances with none" were from Jefferson, though the idea had been expressed by Washington. The idea of the editorial, however, still holds since it was the idea expressed rather than the man whose idea it was, that was of importance.

We're getting so used to the tomato can ash trays in Stevens Hall that they no longer insult our optical organs, but they must still stand out as inconsistencies to visitors and newcomers.

Possibly this suggestion is a bit late since spring is, theoretically at least, nearly here, but would it not be a good idea to equip the halls of North and South Stevens with coat hangers?

If a student is caught drinking at the University of Colorado he is forced to attend Sunday School for a period of three years.

The Daily Californian states that "a survey in an eastern university showed that 60 per cent of the students sleep at least three hours of classes each week."

To correct their posture for "posture week," co-eds at Smith College were recently seen going about the campus carrying books on their heads.

University of Heidelberg scientists have been studying a man with gill slits in his neck, together with a rudimentary gill, believed to be a "throwback" from the evolutionary long ago.

Notice to chemists—a recent article published in Chemical Abstracts is entitled "New Synthesis of 3, 10-dimethoxytetra hydroproloberberine." It was written by three Hindus, Satyendranath Chakravarti, N. Ananthavaidyanathan, and A. Venkatasubban.

Screen Sensation "M" Will Be Shown at Strand Friday

print, given it more attention than any picture that has come out of Germany since "Variety."

Writing from London, where "M" played to thronged houses at the palatial new Cambridge Theatre, Morris Gilbert, well-known British film critic and correspondent for the New York Evening Post, declared:

"M" is no mere shocker, it is better than melodrama, because it is informed with humanity and understanding. The name of Lang means, of course, lucid, brilliant cinematic workmanship. Altogether a superb picture."

In New York, "M" was offered on Broadway for three weeks at the Mayfair Theatre, later playing a return Broadway engagement at the Cameo Theatre. The international screen hit scored signally with New York's critics, eliciting highest praise for its production.

"Bold and hauntingly real," said the New York Evening Post. "Makes us ponder on the strange ways of human beings," stated the New York Sun. About the performance of Peter Lorre, formerly leading actor of the Vienna State opera, the New York World-Telegram commented: "It is entirely likely that here is the worthiest performance yet given by any actor in the sound films."

"M" tells the story of a mad killer, unable to control his impulses, hunted and trapped after enslaving a city in the grip of terror. His capture is effected not by the police, but by the organized underworld of the city that fears police reprisals for the murderer's actions. One of the high points of the film is the murderer's trial before a "kangaroo court" of the underworld.

PHI KAPPA, A. O. PI ARE VODVIL WINNERS

Phi Kappa brought Popeye and Wimpy to Alumni Hall Friday and carried away the M.C.A.'s fraternity cup for the cleverest skit of the evening. Alpha Omicron Pi was awarded the women's trophy.

Six fraternities and two sororities took part in the annual Vodvil Night. The regular program was followed by dancing with music by the Romancers of Bangor.

The men's winner, Phi Kappa, told the story in burlesque, of Popeye's noble experiment to prove that the Wimpian status of hamburgers remained the same in death as in life. Holding a hamburger over Wimpy's still form, Popeye saw the body rise and float gently in the track of the sandwich through the air.

A. O. Pi presented a mock romance, "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," depicting the wooing of a fair maiden by the hero of the upper air. It was accompanied by reading and music.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon, second among the fraternities, dramatized a tale of the Yukon, "The Face on the Barroom Floor."

Third selection in the men was awarded to Phi Eta Kappa with a rude interpretation of a forest primeval and the naughty hunter—Win Hoyt—who disturbed the tranquility of nature with his horrible hunting rifle.

Other acts included: a magicio-ventriloquist feature, presenting Paul Brown, for Phi Mu Delta; "Let's Get Together," a world economic conference of Harpo and Groucho Marx and Gandhi by Sigma Chi; the "Beta Rascals" in a Beta broadcast; and an "Operation in Shadows," by Delta Zeta.

Henry G. Stetler, Delyte W. Morris, and Herschel L. Bricker, were the judges, Clifford Ladd and Stanwood Seales were in charge.

SIX DELEGATES GO TO NEW HAMPSHIRE MEET

The Maine Christian Association sent six delegates to the Curry Conference held at the University of New Hampshire at Durham, Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of last week. The delegates were guests at Phi Mu Delta and Theta Upsilon Omega houses respectively.

The leader, Dr. Bruce Curry, chose as his subject, "Religion as a Resource in Modern Life." There were four conference sessions, as well as dances, a tea, and a banquet Saturday for the delegates.

Representatives were present from Sargent School, Radcliffe College, Mass. Institute of Technology, Wesleyan College, Bates College, Northeastern University, The University of New Hampshire, and the University of Maine.

The MAINE SNOOPUS

YOU CAN bet your last nickel that nobody is sorry that rushing is over, and of course there were the usual unprintable anecdotes floating around during rushing and immediately thereafter, such as the tale of the fraternity that rushed one young man's sweetheart and she told the young man that if he loved her he would pledge to that fraternity, and he did.... And the story about the boys who wouldn't go where one other boy went, and when pledging was over they found that they were in the same house.... And the tales about the lads who were going to go the same house, but somehow got sidetracked.... And now it's all over, and no one is sorry, and everyone is breathing easier.... And we'll probably have more snow.... Elizabeth Sawyer went to Intramural with Wally White and stayed nearly a week.... And who was the tall handsome young junior who trotted off to a not too distant city over the week-end to ankle to the altar with the daughter of the leading man in that town?.... Then there's the story about John Willey, president of the Maine Masque, who has been acting up lately.... John went to Bangor on a date the other night and returned to the house at six o'clock the next morning.... Whose was the freshman toque that Carolyn Adams wore home on Monday afternoon?.... She claims she doesn't remember.... And what's this rumor about Lester Meyer and Beth Shiro?.... And Don Washington has presented his fraternity pin to a home town lass.... Stories of all sorts are travelling about the campus concerning Ann Clark on her trip back to the University from a visit to Boston, and also about her affectionate greeting to Deke Robertson when she arrived at the station in Bangor.... And also on that train were John Wight and Midge Strout whom we used to see together so often here on the campus until graduation separated them last June.... What was that peculiar red smudge on the upper lip of Sammy Reese, the Sonnenburg of the mudflats of Delaware, at the A. T. O. frolic last Friday evening?.... Clarice Grant '36 who used to travel around with Phil Ryan, and who was not here last year, is now going places with Actor Abbott.... Betty Crowley claimed that she went to Intramural with Lionel Barrymore.... And Ernie Dinsmore is reported to have deserted his escort at the ball on Wednesday night of last week.... And perhaps most of you are now suffering from stiff necks as a result of watching the peculiar rings around the moon on Sunday evening, which no one could figure out until the next day.... Strange what this weather will do.... Let's have the Carica.... Maine has a new winter sport that is probably more thrilling than any other winter sport ever invented and that is Gooning.... Girls, lest you forget, the poor fish may prove a rich catch.

Gamma Nu Chapter of Delta Tau Delta held a banquet in honor of the newly pledged members of the freshman class at the house on Tuesday.

William Schrupf, chapter adviser; Rev. Sharpe, Pastor of the Fellowship Church; Prof. Chapman, Forestry Department; Mr. Robert Buzzell, Alumnus; and Delmont Ballard, president of Gamma Nu, were the speakers of the evening. Roy Holmes acted as toastmaster and introduced the speakers with appropriate remarks.

William Brooks of Addison, Lambda Chi '36, is back on campus after a six weeks illness at the Eastern Maine General Hospital.

The schedule of lectures until Mar. 20 of the History department's course in Current World problems has been announced by Prof. E. F. Dow. It is as follows:

Mar. 1, Publicity and Public Opinion under Mr. Roosevelt, James Moreland.

Mar. 6, Financing Agriculture, Maurice D. Jones.

Mar. 8, The New Meaning of Education, Dr. Ernest Jackman.

Mar. 13, The Tugwell-Copeland Bill, Prof. A. A. Whitmore.

Mar. 15, The Consumer and the NRA, Prof. A. A. Whitmore.

Mar. 20, Labor and the NRA, Prof. A. A. Whitmore.

It's about as good as a tobacco pouch

"THIS Granger package is what I call good common sense. It's just about as good as a tobacco pouch.

"Here's what I mean—it keeps the tobacco right, and you can fold it up smaller after every pipe. That makes it handy to carry.

"And I want to put in a word for the tobacco while I'm at it. Granger keeps a pipe clean as a whistle, and man, it is cool.

"I want to say Granger is just about the best tobacco I ever smoked."

PHI GAM HOLDS UPSIDE-DOWN INFORMAL PARTY

The Phi Gam's crashed through with a hilariously different party last Friday evening.

The lady guests were forced to enter this upside down party by the coal chute. From the cellar floor a guide rope was placed in the right hand and they were "pushed" through the cellar of horror.

Upstairs, all the latest fashions from London and Paris were displayed. Bob Nivison and Lee Blackington were awarded the prizes for the best "get-ups." Bob was dressed in gray trousers rolled above the knees, suspenders, adhesive tape and a maid's apron and cap. Lee was dressed as a Chef.

The refreshments were punch, ice-cream and cookies. A fire burned brightly in the fireplace in the living room. Music was furnished by Larry Miller's Bears and the chaperones were Dean and Mrs. Cloke and Mr. and Mrs. Hosca Buck. Paul MacDonnell was chairman of the committee.

All present stuffed themselves on the varied refreshments of candy, cookies, cake, punch and ice cream.

R. Emerson Beers was chairman of the committee with Clayton Totman and William Blake as his assistants.

The chaperones were: Professor and Mrs. Benjamin Kent, Mr. and Mrs. James Moreland, and Dr. and Mrs. Alfred C. Andrews.

At intermission ice cream, cream cake, and coffee were served.

ONLY THE CENTER LEAVES FOR Luckies

1 Luckies do not use the top leaves ... because top leaves are under-developed ... they are not ripe ... They would give a harsh smoke.

2 Luckies use only the center leaves of the finest tobacco plants ... because the center leaves are the mildest, tenderest, smoothest.

3 Luckies do not use the bottom leaves, because bottom leaves are inferior in quality. They grow close to the ground, and are tough, coarse and always sandy.

This picture tells better than words the merit of your Lucky Strike. Luckies use only the center leaves. Not the top leaves, because those are under-developed—not ripe. Not the bottom leaves, because those are inferior in quality—they grow close to the ground and are tough, coarse and always sandy. The center leaves are the mildest leaves, the finest in quality. These center leaves are cut into long, even strands and are fully packed into each and every Lucky—giving you a cigarette that is always round, firm, completely filled—no loose ends. Is it any wonder that Luckies are so truly mild and smooth? And in addition, you know, "It's toasted"—for throat protection, for finer taste.

Lucky Strike presents the Metropolitan Opera Company
Saturday at 1:50 P. M., Eastern Standard Time, over Red and Blue Networks of NBC. Lucky Strike will broadcast the Metropolitan Opera Company of New York in the complete Operas, "Lucia di Lammermoor"

Avenues of Fashion

by Esquire

Powell Crosley, Jr., the young Ohio millionaire who just bought the Cincinnati Reds was a star pitcher in the years when he was first studying engineering and law at Cincinnati University. The Crosley who turned into the big antenna and dial man is also a collector of rare antiques—he bought the Reds and Dazzy Vance on successive days.

Talking about Reds, red seems to have sneaked up on us in formal wear. Waistcoats for wear with dinner jackets have gone colorful on us with little or no warning

These are favored mostly in a not too conspicuous wine shade. They are also to be seen in a chalk blue, deep green, and yellow. They follow closely the popular fashion of wearing a dark red carnation with formal clothes, in itself a rather startling innovation. Ruby colored studs, an accepted, but not too frequently seen touch of color, will no doubt find wider acceptance, as the appropriate type of jewelry worn with a wine waistcoat.

No less a social function than the annual aristocratic New York Horse Show seems to be the birthplace of this fashion which is authority enough even for sticklers for authenticity of fashion. Possibly the sponsors gathered the idea from those Oxford "Dons" who wear club colored "weekies" at their formal University dinners. While on the subject of evening wear... the smart "tails" turnout is completed by the two-stud shirt in fine pique weaves.

The return of "Jeem" Londo to the grunt and grapple industry drew a crowd of almost 30,000 to the Garden the other P. M. Watching a Hindoo behemoth perform in one of the preliminaries, an embryo sports scribe cracked, "He smells like a birdcage but he can't sing..." and then we all went out and had a drink.

A wee drop o' Scotch is invigorating outside as well as inside. So the country squire and the campus fashion plate choose Harris tweed or similar rough Shetland fabrics with definite patterns for their Balmuccia top coats. The military type collar and raglan sleeves together with the full, loose sweep of the skirt, have that "to-hell-with-you, Sir" swagger touch.

Camel's hair goes "horsey" and the polo coat still gallops through the fashion chukkers although its trappings are slightly different following more closely the standardized Spring topcoat in line and detail.

Speaking of old stuff, with a new slant, they've been weaving a cloth over in India for! these many years... and we don't mean, Lo the poor Indian (for after all you should know your Indians). It's known as Bandanna Cloth or India Madras. Made of native spun cotton and woven into colorful plaids in colors limited to dyes from native vegetation, its popularity has been growing for neckwear purposes with a running start at Palm Beach a year ago.

Particularly smart in not too wide pointed end bats, it will undoubtedly start the comeback of bat-ties generally which will be in evidence this Spring and Summer. An added use for these bandanna patterns (if not for the native cloth) is in handkerchiefs of large dimension woven in appropriate textures and following closely the unusual colors of the original.

Along with sun tan powder on the lapels, the striped rep tie will grace the bosoms of that masculine group who know what it's all about. This perennial favorite blossoms again in colors derived from racing stables. It is quite important to note that wider stripes than ever before are coming into vogue and the colorings are in different complementary effects. So it's really new and surely popular.

The Yankees are going H-a-a-a-vahd (Cambridge to you). Credit ESQUIRE with the tip that Charlie Devens of the Backbay Devenses will win eighteen games without a split infinitive and put the Yankees in the series battle. Passing the buck (a favorite indoor sport) has descended to a new footnote. The brown buck shoe which has been slowly gaining favor for its big season in two styles; blucher front with heavy crepe soles and heels (which is well adapted for campus and country wear), and also in the semi-brogue model with leather soles and heels.

The Trend: The button-down collar attached shirts of cream Oxford is definitely gaining in favor. This is the revival of an old established fashion which is typical of sports clothing—and will bear watching.

ESQUIRE will answer all questions on men's fashion. Write ESQUIRE, 40 East 34th Street, New York, and enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for reply.

POKER FACE USELESS WITH THIS NEW CONTRAPTION

Evanston, Ill.—(IP)—A little black box with three socket plugs and three needles which record respiration, pulse and blood pressure may take the place of the short rubber hose and the tough fists of detectives in the securing of confessions of criminals.

The lie detector, or Polygraph, as it is officially named, is the product of Dr. Leonard Keeler of the scientific crime detection laboratories of Northwestern University.

Dr. Keeler has demonstrated that the detector is able even to see beyond the most amazing poker face. He took as a subject a card player of experience, asked him to select one from a group of ten cards, and then answer "No," to all questions as to whether this was the card he had chosen. The subject did as commanded, and when the card appeared which he had chosen he said, "No." The polygraph jumped, Dr. Keeler, after going through the ten, pointed out the one chosen. "No," said the subject again, and the polygraph gave even a worse jump.

"I fear you were lying," said Dr. Keeler. "I was," said the subject. And the polygraph didn't jump that time.

ONE YEAR AGO

Gleaned from the files of the Maine Campus of March 2, 1933.

The annual music night, under the auspices of Delta Pi Kappa, honorary musical fraternity, is to be held this Friday night in Alumni Hall from 7:30 to 8:30, and will be followed by a stag dance.

Alfred Perkins, mathematics instructor at the University of Maine and one of the cleverest pitchers to ever don a Pale Blue uniform, has accepted an offer of the Boston Braves for a try-out as soon as school closes.

Phi Kappa Sigma scored sixty points, nearly four times as many as its nearest competitor to win the Charles Rice trophy Saturday afternoon at the indoor field in the annual intramural track meet. Phi Kappa Sigma also took the intramural trophy collecting 31½ points to Phi Gamma Delta's 26.

Coach "Red" Hagan of the boxing squad is rapidly rounding his charges into shape for the coming boxing tournament which will take place March 4. There are many promising newcomers this year and the tournament will have plenty of action and skill shown.

The 1933 basketball team took its final bow last Friday night when it was forced to accept its second defeat of the season, 32-18, at the hands of Aroostook Central Institute at Mars Hill.

TWO YEARS AGO

Gleaned from the files of the Maine Campus of March 3, 1932.

Emile J. Dawson, '35, Mexico, died in the Eastern Maine General Hospital shortly after noon, Tuesday, as the result of injuries sustained Monday night in the intramural boxing tourney.

Tonight in Alumni Hall the Maine Masque will stage its third dramatic attempt of the year when "Ladies of the Jury" is presented before what is expected to be a capacity house.

Women will write and edit the next issue of the Campus, and promise to surprise the University with a novel issue.

Plans for the completion of the Memorial Gymnasium Armory, according to an announcement made on Tuesday by A. L. Deering, chairman of the Memorial Fund Committee, now hinge on whether the estimate soon to be made by a contractor is in excess of the money available. If this estimate is favorable in a financial way, construction will take place this summer.

Records were smashed by Cal Fickett and El Moulton at the Intramural Track Meet held at the indoor gym Saturday afternoon, as Beta Theta Pi's two-man team, Floring and Fickett, piled up a total of 43½ points to win the Intramural Cup and 31½ points to take the Charles Rice Trophy.

MAINE IS SEEKING SIXTH STRAIGHT OVER BATES

Garnet Team Looms as Dangerous for Blue This Season

The University of Maine varsity track team will seek its sixth consecutive win over Bates College in the annual dual track meet between the two schools at Lewiston Saturday afternoon although the meet is expected to be one of the closest in the history of the two Pine Tree state rivals.

Coach Chester Jenkins has been sending his Pale Blue tracksters through strenuous practice workouts for the contest with the Bobcats and is none too optimistic over the final outcome since the duel will take place at Bates. It has been quite apparent in the past meet at Lewiston that the Bates runners have had a decided advantage over the Maine competitors especially in the shorter running events on account of the smaller oval track in the Bates gymnasium with its many banks.

Maine suffered a big loss this week in preparation for the duel when it was learned that Bob Wishart, a leading 1000 yard runner, is practically out of the impending meet as a result of being spiked in the University Club meet at Boston last Wednesday.

One of the chief threats against a Maine victory is the sensational freshman competitor at Bates, Tony Kishon. This former Worcester Academy star will hurt the Pale Blue chances considerably since he is outstanding in several of the events in which Maine is fairly strong. Kishon is expected to take either three or four first places in the discus, the hammer, the shot put, and the 45 yard high hurdles.

Coach Jenkins' strength will lie greatly in the middle distance and long distance running events with Ken and Ernie Black, Joel Marsh, and Bill Cole, the leading Pale Blue contestants in these events.

Ernie Black, who finished second in the one mile run at the University Club games, will be the leading runner in the same event against Bates. Ernie's twin brother, Ken, will sport the Pale Blue colors in the 600 yard run. Other entries in this event will be Wilbert Provost and Ray Hathorne.

Joel Marsh is the best bet in the 1000 yard run and a great deal is expected of Marsh since the long legged Maine runner created a new record in the half mile in the Class B games at Boston last week. Fred Anderson will be the other 1000 yard competitor.

In the two mile run two members of the cross country team, Bill Cole and Harry Saunders, will race against the long distance runners from Bates.

The 40 yard dash finds Earle Hill, Maurice Goddard, Donald Huff, Milton Attridge, and Clyde Higgins the leading sprinters for the Jenkins-coached team. Hill is the outstanding member of this group and he is likewise the best contestant for Maine in the 300 yard dash. In both these events Goddard looms up as Hill's closest rival. Goddard will carry Maine's hopes in the 45 yard high hurdles together with Don Favor, and Myron Collette.

Coming to the weight and field events, Don Favor leads the array of hammer throwers although he is pressed by Hayden Rogers, George Frame, Clayton Totman, and Phil Parsons. Favor, Rogers, Frame, Sidelinger, and Thompson are all bunched in the discus throw, and there is little to choose between them.

In the 16 pound shot put, three sophomores, Myron Collette, George Frame, and Jack Thompson, will stack up against the shot putters from Bates.

In the high jump, Ken Ireland, Joe Stevens, Maurice Goddard, and Don Favor are all entered, with Ireland having the edge. In the pole vault Ireland and Fred Black, both of whom tied for third place at eleven feet at Boston, are the best competitors for Coach Jenkins and they will be aided by Dick Gaffney and Jack Thompson. Gaffney, Donald Huff, and Arthur Roberts will compete in the running broad jump.

CINDER MEN SECOND IN BOSTON MEET

The University of Maine varsity tracksters, led by Joel Marsh who broke the 880 yard Class B record, finished in second place at the annual University Club Meet in Boston a week ago with a score of 26½ points, while Bowdoin captured the title with a total of 35½ points. Bates, Amherst, Massachusetts State, and Rhode Island finished in order behind Maine.

Joe Marsh, outstanding Pale Blue relay and cross country man, broke the Class B record for the 880 yard run in the excellent time of 2 minutes 2½ seconds with Ken Black finishing close at his heels. Maine managed to place in every event, garnering one first and four second places. In the semi-finals of the 50 yard dash, five of the ten men to qualify for this heat were Maine runners, but Hill was the only one to place in the scoring as he came in second in the finals.

Maine's one mile relay team was defeated by Springfield and New Hampshire in a three cornered duel.

FROSH BASKETEERS HAD GOOD SEASON

With the game with Aroostook Central Institute last Friday which A.C.I. won 26-25, the freshman basketball team concluded their season. Team A won nine games while losing four, and Team B was able to give only one victory in eight starts.

Team A began their season auspiciously with three clean cut wins, but with the advent of finals several men were unable to compete when the frosh resumed their schedule, and the lineup was revamped.

Immediately after finals Team A dropped three straight but followed this losing streak with a victory spurt of six games, four of which were on the Aroostook trip.

Although they were defeated on their home floor by Stearns High, the frosh atoned for this loss by handing Stearns their first setback of the season 17-13 in a hard fought battle at Millinocket in a startling upset.

Tapley, Keegan, Bucknam, and Houghton, until he was injured, were the leading performers for the frosh, with the first two named gaining most of the points for Maine. Bucknam was outstanding defensively and proved to be a stellar running guard as he sank more than his share of baskets.

Team B was unable to function as a unit except in the Bar Harbor game due to the continued shifting of their players to Team A. P. Wilson, N. Wilson, and Murray were consistent performers and aided in handing Bar Harbor their first setback in eight starts.

Wild, Rhode Island. Time, 2 minutes, 2½ seconds. (New Class B record).

Pole vault—Won by Magher, Bates; second, Pope, Bowdoin; tie for third between F. Black and Ireland, both Maine; fifth, Crowell, Bowdoin. Height, 12 ft.

High jump—Won by Adams, Bowdoin; tie for second between Porter, Bowdoin, and Cramer, Bates; fourth, Cahill, Bowdoin; fifth, tie between Ireland and Stevens, both Maine. Height, 5 feet, 11 inches.

R.C.I. EKES OUT WIN OVER FROSH B 16-14

Jumping off to an early lead, Ricker Classical Institute, of Houlton, managed to fight off several frosh threats, and copped a 16-14 decision from the Frosh B team Saturday morning at Memorial Gym.

Although the Frosh outscored Ricker in floor goals, their weakness from the free throw line proved costly, as they converted only 2 out of a dozen tries while Ricker was making six out of 10 tries good. This difference proved to be the margin of victory.

Cheaney was outstanding for Ricker, and Cameron and Golding were Maine's best bets.

Due to a train delay Friday night, the Ricker team was unable to arrive in Orono in time to play, and the game was postponed until Saturday morning. This change cost the Frosh three regulars, N. Wilson, Carlisle, and Dalot, who had classes.

Ex-Champ Heaves Milk Bucket into Ring. Has Technique All His Own

Bangor, a city woman, run away with the championship. Even the Good Book says 'after man came woman.' So you see, right at the start, the wisdom of the ages was violated.

"I was glad to see Bert Gould, Milo, who lives in my neighboring county, win the championship in 1930. I didn't object to seeing him win again in 1931 because I felt that the honors were still secure in the hands of man. But two years in succession is enough for any one county to have this honor. I entered the contest in 1932 and you know the result. I am determined that the championship honors this year will stay right in Penobscot County.

"You would not expect me to divulge any of my secrets as to my method of winning the last championship. I will say, however, that I look upon milking as a personal, individual matter, something that can't be standardized. Naturally, I have developed my own individual and independent technique.

"I enter this Contest because my milk stool philosophy tells me it is a good way for men to assert their rights—it is a good way to demonstrate our cherished individualism and independence. For these reasons, I am prepared to point the milky way."

VARSITY GIRL HOOPSTERS DEFEAT ALUMNI SEXTET

The University of Maine Alumnae team composed of stars of former years was defeated by the pale blue girls' varsity basketball team Saturday evening in Alumni gym. The "grads" played hard but they were unable to outplay the long string of players who played for the Varsity. The score at the half was 10-24 and at the final whistle 26-32. The following played for the Alumnae: Elizabeth King, Marj Moulton, Marion Rogers, Eileen Cassidy, Mabel Robinson, and Eleanor West.

The University of Maine rifle team lost a four cornered match with Culver Military Academy, Lafayette College, and Rutgers University, last week. Maine scored 3521 points, while Culver totalled 3644, Lafayette, 3631, and Rutgers, 3639.

Charles Tropp '36, crack Pale Blue rifle shot, was the individual high scorer of the match, chalking up 369 points.

The Freshman girls' basketball team emerged victorious from a nip and tuck game played with the Sophs Saturday morning. The score at the final whistle was 12-8.
