DISTINGUISHED ALUMNA IS SPEAKER AT UNIVERSITY SCHOLARSHIP AWARD DAY

1400 Persons Attend
Final Assembly
Tuesday

UNIVERSITY BAND PLAYS

Scholarships Aggregating
Several Thousands
Are Awarded

Dr. Mary Ellen Chase, a graduate of the University in 1909, and professor of English literature at Smith College, was the speaker at the last public assembly of the year held in the Memorial Gymnasium Tuesday morning. Dr. Chase's subject was "The Larger Life in Books."

President Harold S. Boardman in his last public appearance before the student body, awarded scholarships and prizes aggregating several thousand dollars to University students.

The University Band played two numbers during the assembly, which was attended by approximately 1200 persons. Thirty-three members of various Maine honor fraternities attended the assembly, dressed in caps and gowns.

In her address, Dr. Chase pointed out that books did four things for their readers, the widening of the readers' experiences in life, the clarifying of these experiences, the imparting of new ideas, and the ability to relate ourselves to the larger things in life.

The following scholarships and prizes, designed to aid worthy and deserving students were awarded as follows:

The Stanley Plummer Scholarship to Ariene Merrill, 1936.

The Pittsburgh Alumni Association Scholarship to Earle O. Collins, 1935.

The Elizabeth Abbott Balentine Scholarship to Jeannette F. MacKenzie, 1936.

The Phi Mu Scholarship to Nancy Cushing Woods, 1937.

Women's Student Government Scholarships to Minnie S. Zeitman, 1936, Rachel Fowles, 1936, and Louise E. Steeves, 1936.

The Pale Blue Key Award to Alton L. Bell, 1937.

The Panhellenic Scholarship, awarded for the first time this year, to Marjorie E. Church, 1935.

The following scholarships are awarded for excellence in some particular field of study or outstanding traits of character: The Trustee Undergraduate Scholarships, established by the Board of Trustees have been awarded as follows:

ITALIAN STUDENT TALKS AT A.A.U.W. GATHERING

Radcliffe Student, Born in Italy,
Depicts Italian Customs
For Maine Girls

Miss Elena de Laurentis, of Rome, Italy, who is studying at Radcliffe on an A.A.U.W. foreign fellowship, was speaker at a joint meeting of the Orono and Bangor branches of the American Association of University Women at the Penobscot Valley Country Club, on Thursday evening, April 26. Miss de Laurentis was invited to speak at Orono by Miss Edith G. Wilson, Dean of Women, to give the members an idea of what the organization was accomplishing. She was entertained at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Huddilston.

On Friday evening Miss de Laurentis spoke to a group of women students in Balentine Hall, describing education in Italy and her life and experiences. She explained that it will be difficult for her to convince people in Italy that American women really study, for the only ones they know much about are those who never study. Italian students do not have the opportunities for amusement that Americans have; their preparations for university study are so difficult that there is no time for extra-curricular activities. After an interesting and amusing talk, Miss de Laurentis sang a number of Italian folksongs, accompanying herself on a guitar.

Miss de Laurentis received her LL.D. from the law school of the University of Rome; then, being interested in international law, went to Geneva and then to The Hague for further study. She then received the foreign fellowship offered by the American Association of University Women, and came to Radcliffe, where she is concentrating on American government.

MASQUE SCORES HIT WITH LATEST PLAY

Outstanding Cast Is Responsible for Success

By Roger Levenson

Junior Week festivities were continued last night in the Little Theatre when the Maine Masque presented Sidney Howard's comedy, "The Late Christopher Bean," an intimate picturization of New England life in the present day. It will be offered again tonight at 7:30.

In harmony with the spirit of spring, at which time, according to Mary Ellen Chase, a person is bound to fall in love with someone or something, there is an appealing love element woven delicately through the story. Not primarily a sentimental comedy, the drama depended to some extent on restraint in the various situations but reached its acme in the clever and intimate picture of true Yankees.

Sidney Howard, who at present is one of the most popular writers of theatrical comedy in this country, dealt with a situation and a locality that he is especially familiar with. Howard knows characters, and he knows people, whether they be in New England or New Mexico, and with "The Late Christopher Bean" he has fashioned a smart, ingenious drama. Throughout the entire play there was agreeable excitement, ending with an adroit and hilarious twist that left the audience pleasantly surprised and satisfied.

Perhaps the best individual characterization of the evening was that offered by Lucinda Ripley '35. She was particularly adept at portraying Mrs. Haggett, a scheming Vermont housewife who was sufficiently altruistic to make any sacrifice for her daughters provided that she benefited in the situation. Her apparent understanding of the character was commendable, and the excellent way in which she enacted the role was unusually satisfactory.

The cast on the whole was so adequate that any choice for individual merit is difficult—and dangerous—to make. Each member of the group was excellently cast, and each gave a particularly gratifying performance.

Theodore Wood, whose exceptional work in "Counselor at Law" will be remembered and admired for some time, seemed to lack a certain quality of restraint. At times he appeared rather too anxious to be impressive, and on these occasions his anxiety seemed to distract from what would have otherwise been excellent acting.

Lionel Desjardins '34, appearing in his third Masque play of the current season, was another member of the cast whose work demands consideration. His portrayal of a too affable Jewish art collector was one that could have easily been overacted, but Desjardins did none of that sort of thing. Roy Holmes also was impressive and showed unusual stage technique and polish.

Everything considered, "The Late Christopher Bean" was perhaps the best play that has been done locally this year. From the standpoint of the audience, the cast, the direction, and the play itself, this drama should long be remembered.

TWO W.S.G.A. DELEGATES ATTEND CONFERENCE HELD AT U. OF VERMONT

Jean Walker '35 and Elizabeth Schiro '36, president and vice-president respectively, of W.S.G.A. at the University of Maine, were sent as delegates from this University to the Women's Student Government Association Convention of New England Co-educational Colleges held last week-end at the University of Vermont.

Twenty delegates were present representing the ten co-educational colleges of New England at the conference. The highlights of the affair were attendance at the opera, The Gondoliers, a formal banquet, and a talk, "Beginning Life in Hard Times," given by Mrs. William B. Maloney, editor of the magazine section of the New York Herald Tribune.

Colleges represented at the conference were: Connecticut State College, Rhode Island State College, University of New Hampshire, Tufts, Massachusetts State College, Middlebury, Bates, Colby, University of Vermont, and the University of Maine.

All Maine Women Are Announced at Banquet

Prominent Girls Are Named To Honor
Society

By Jane Sullivan

Soft candlelight gleaming along the flower-bedecked banquet table in the Penobscot Valley Country Club Tuesday evening revealed many expectant, anxious and interested faces as Fern Allen, president of the All Maine Women and toast-mistress for the evening, announced the new All Maine Women. They are Winifred Cushing, Dorothy Moynihan, Doris Newman, Ruth Walenta, June Wheeler, Agnes Crowley, Miriam Linscott, Lucinda Ripley, Ella Rowe, Jean Walker, Cynthia Wasgatt, Elizabeth Wilhelm, and Marie Archer. Honorary members of the organization are Elizabeth Ring, Addie Weed, Mary R. Chandler, and Dean Edith Wilson.

Prior to the announcement of the new members, a dinner consisting of lobster patties, peas, and ice cream was served, followed by several after-dinner speeches. Mrs. Percie Turner, guest of honor, kept the table in a constant uproar with her witty advice on how to "Be Your Age."

Dean Wilson in her talk on "A Dean's Eye View" commended the retiring All-Maine Women for their work during the past year and extended a few ideas about the attitude the incoming All Maine Women should take. Jean Kierstead '31 added greatly to the merriment with her tales of "The Good Old Days."

Other speakers on the program were Francella Dean, Miriam Linscott, Annie MacLellan, Lucinda Ripley, and Louise Steeves. The banquet ended with the singing of the Stein Song.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS OF FORUM TO BE MAY 10

The final meeting of the Women's Forum will be held Thursday, May 10, at 4:00 p.m. at Balentine Hall, with the following subject for discussion, "Resolved, that there are too many activities on campus." This subject follows from the discussion at the last meeting of the different aspects of the point system for women's offices.

Election of officers will be held and a committee will present plans for next year. An invitation is extended to all women interested.

Rusticity Versus Virility

AN EDITORIAL

The Student Senate deserves much commendation for its action last Tuesday evening in placing the matter of inter-class fighting before the Senior Skulls for consideration.

It is the opinion of the Campus that the Skulls should find some method in terminating these undignified affairs. The chief difficulty will probably lie in finding an alternative. It seems that some form of an organized competition between freshmen and sophomores, such as an athletic contest or rope-pull, could satisfactorily take the place of the present childish exhibitions.

Records of 96 students who have cut classes excessively were recently obtained from the office of the Registrar. These records covered up until April 14. Of these students, 21 were freshmen, and 39 were sophomore men. The freshmen reported totaled 104 cuts, and the sophomores 221, during the period of freshman-sophomore hostilities. Classes composed of freshmen and sophomores were practically disrupted, and even advanced courses suffered severely. The regular progress of academic work was most seriously handicapped, and it is, after all, for academic work that most of us are here, not for pugilistic exhibitions.

It is futile for either of the two classes involved to attempt to blame the other, or to attribute the disorders to traditional observance. The plain facts are that the activities of the two lower classes demonstrated complete lack of responsibility toward the academic program. There are certain periods officially recognized as recesses by mutual agreement of students and administration and the week of April 9-14 is not one of these. No part of that week, as a matter of fact, has any official standing as a recess.

The mere fact that the freshman Bible designates Friday of that week as sacred to the amateur barbers of the two lower classes gives scant justification for butchering the academic program for most of the week.

Interclass fighting is taken by the public as an evidence of rusticity, not of virility; and the University suffers by comparison with institutions where such outbreaks are no longer traditional.

If student responsibility in this matter is not sufficient to effect a solution, the present system of attendance in the College of Arts and Sciences, which aims at gradually increased liberality in the matter of attendance, is seriously threatened. Development in the students of a sense of personal responsibility toward class attendance is a basic factor of this system, and if the students prove themselves too immature to cultivate this attitude, it may be necessary to drop this system and return to rigid enforcement of class attendance under strict rules.

John E. Huddilston Is Selected To Speak at Junior Week Chapel

George Cobb Presides
Over Traditional Assembly

John H. Huddilston, professor of ancient civilization and lecturer on art history, will be the speaker at the Junior Week Assembly this year, according to an announcement made by Samuel Favor, chairman of the Junior Week Committee.

Junior Week begins this evening with the presentation of "The Late Christopher Bean" by the Maine Masque, with Janet Stillman playing the title role. Following the custom of previous years, the juniors will be excused from classes on Friday, and the day's activities will begin with the annual junior week assembly in the morning. George Cobb, president of the class of 1935, will preside over the assembly. His speech will be followed by that of Professor Huddilston.

During the day the 1935 Prism will be issued to members of the junior class and possibly to all those who have placed their orders. The book has several new features this year, the most unusual being a composite photograph of the typical Maine student. The various departments have been conducted with originality as the primary goal.

Following the precedent set by the class of 1934, the juniors have decided not to have a treasure hunt. This was done because, in the opinion of the committee in charge, treasure hunts of the past have not been entirely successful.

In the evening, the Junior Prom, which is the most outstanding social event of the year, will be held in the Alumni Memorial Gymnasium. The music will be furnished by Lloyd Rafnel and his Georgians, assisted by daughter Jane.

Lieut. Col. F. F. Black, one time professor of military science and tactics at Maine, has been transferred from the University of Vermont where he has had charge of military science since 1927, to Fort Williams, Portland Harbor, to take command of the 5th Infantry and the Harbor Defense of Portland. He is also in charge of the first district of the Civilian Conservation Corps. He will take up his new duties on June 30.

STUDENT SENATE ADVISES ANNUAL PUBLIC REPORTS OF ALL CLASS FINANCES

Maine Stein Song Played
By Native Band in India

According to a letter which has just come to the Alumni office, the Stein Song is still going strong. A former native of Bangor, George E. Chase, now on a world tour, writes from India as follows: "While in Bombay waiting for 'Her Royal Highness' to arrive at a mass meeting of prominent citizens, I waited a while in front of the building to listen to a snappy native band giving an 'al fresco' program. What was my surprise to have it strike up the Maine Stein Song, as lustily as played by any band I have ever heard. I happened to have my camera handy and took a snapshot of the organization 'caught in the act' of playing Dell Sprague's internationally popular composition."

Senate Names Skulls
To Investigate
Class Scraps

ELECTION NEXT TUES.

Corbett Gives Warning on Fraternity House
Robberies

At what was originally scheduled to be its last official meeting of the year, the Student Senate of the University voted to recommend an annual statement of class finances to be published in an issue of the Campus. It was understood that this would include all financial transactions of each class, and in the case of the junior class, a financial statement of the Prism.

Lengthy discussion of freshman and sophomore interclass fighting took place during the meeting, and it was finally decided to have the Senior Skulls act as a committee from the Senate to investigate the matter and make recommendations to the Senate.

An attempt to conduct an election of Senate officers for the coming year failed when a two-thirds majority vote could not be secured to waive a portion of the Senate constitution which requires that members must be notified of the coming election at the preceding meeting. Three fraternity representatives were absent from the meeting. Elections will be held at a special meeting next Tuesday evening.

It was reported to President Quinn that it would be impossible to hold a Sunday evening benefit moving picture for the Loan Fund, since two local clergymen disapproved of the plan.

After considerable discussion, the new Senate constitution was adopted, with the amendment that Robert's Rules of Order should govern all meetings, except when a situation was covered by the provisions of the constitution.

Senate members were detailed to be present at the voting Thursday for Senior class parts, Athletic Association officers, and the watch awards.

Dean Corbett recommended to all the members present that they should advise members of their respective houses to take especial care to guard against thefts from fraternity houses during the rest of the year.

A brief meeting of the interfraternity council followed, at which no business was transacted.

SPRING TENNIS TOURNAMENT WILL START SATURDAY

Contenders for Curtis Cup Must Make Entries To Small
By Friday

At a special meeting of the tennis club held Tuesday evening, it was decided to start the first round of the Spring Tennis Tournament immediately. Coach Small desires that all contenders for the Curtis Cup in this tournament have their names presented to him before Friday night, May 4th. This date is automatically set as the deadline for entrants.

The schedule of drawings will be placed on the Alumni Hall bulletin board early Saturday morning. For the benefit of the tournament, all players must meet their opponents and play their sets, as scheduled in the first round, before Tuesday night, May 8.

MAINE ORCHESTRA IN ALL-COLLEGE PROGRAM

The University of Maine orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Adelbert Wells Sprague, participated with Colby, Bates, and Bowdoin in the All-Maine Musical Program held at Colby College last Friday evening.

Before the musical programs, the college students participating were given a banquet. Following the concert, a dance was held, with music furnished by dance orchestras from Bates, Colby, and Bowdoin.

During the musical program the Maine orchestra played "Silhouettes" by Hardley, a group of six tone-pictures from Spain, France, Italy, America, Egypt, and Ireland.

Feature numbers were presented by a string quartet consisting of Elizabeth and Ruth Kimball, Old Town; Elizabeth Gray, Van Buren; Frances Jones, Bangor, and Albert Schriver of Bangor as violin soloist.

1935 JUNIOR PRISM TO COME OUT TOMORROW; MANY NEW FEATURES

Composite Photographs of Ideal
Junior Men and Women
Are Included

The 1935 Prism will appear on campus tomorrow, and delivery will be made to all who desire the book. This year's volume contains many of the features of past Prisms, and many which are entirely new. The complete issue is attractively printed in two colors, and is durably bound for long use.

Pictorial scenes about the University campus form the art theme for the book, and many full page views of buildings are included; these are printed in duotone ink on heavy pebbled paper. Pictures of nearly everyone in the University will be used, both students and faculty. An extensive sports section will be featured, having more pictures of the college athletic stars and teams than in any previous year. Art work from the new Alumni Gymnasium will be used in the athletic pages.

A special feature of the 1935 Prism will be a composite picture of the ideal junior man and junior woman, as formed from the portraits of twelve members of the junior class. Class histories, write-ups of all organizations, with their picture, fraternity and sorority pictures, and the student body as individuals will be included. Prisms may be paid for either on the term bill or cash. As the supply is limited this year, those desiring the volume should place their order at once.

NOTICE

Prisms will be available at Alumni Hall tomorrow, as follows: Juniors 8:30 a.m. Other classes 11:00 a.m.

A Needed Improvement

One of the most pressing needs of the University at the present time is a sidewalk extending from the Memorial Gymnasium to Stevens Hall.

With the completion of the new gymnasium last year, nearly all the more important social events of the University are being held in that building.

At the present time, women attending these affairs are forced to walk along a dusty or a muddy road, as the case may be. In rainy weather, one has a choice of either stepping off the muddy road into a puddle, or being splashed from head to foot by a passing car.

With the erection of a new building on the same road, the need for a sidewalk becomes even more urgent than before.

An Antiquated Rule

Once upon a time when the University was making rules it made one forbidding women to smoke on the campus. It was "unladylike," and marred the dignity of the campus. This rule is still in effect though everyone will agree that, today, if it is unladylike for a woman to smoke, then president's wives and women diplomats are not ladies!

Then why is this rule still in effect? Every University man or woman who is a citizen knows that when a rule is considered unnecessary by the majority it is abolished. You will say the home folks do not approve. How do you know they do not approve? Have you written and asked? You will say it is controlled by the administration. It is, but it is up to the University men and women to prove to the administration that the rule is unsuited to the present need of the University.

PHOTOGRAPH DISPLAY IS TO BE FEATURE OF NEW TROPHY ROOM

A feature of the Trophy Room in the new gymnasium on which work is now proceeding rapidly will be a display of photographs of those alumni and undergraduates who have made new indoor or outdoor records. A specially designed cabinet is to be made in which photographs, together with records, will be placed. As each new record is made, a picture and the new record will replace the former one. It is hoped, however, that there may be secured a complete set of photographs of alumni who have made records from time to time.

The specially designed trophy cabinets are expected to reach the campus within two weeks. These are to be of oak finish and will harmonize well with the finish of the room. In these cabinets will be placed cups, trophies, footballs, and other similar evidences of athletic achievement.

The ceiling of this room has already been given acoustical treatment to overcome the reverberations which were so evident. Further work in the form of some painting and electrical wiring is to be done shortly.

The committee in charge of this work, appointed by the Athletic Board, is C. E. Crossland '17, Alumni Secretary; W. A. Danforth, Bangor, trustee; J. Harvey McClure '05, Bangor; Dean A. L. Deering '12; and T. S. Curtis '23; with Dean L. S. Corbett, chairman of the Athletic Board, a member ex-officio.

The University of Maine seniors have received blanks from the Alumni office this week which each member of the graduating class is requested to fill out. The blanks ask for information regarding individuals which is to be kept for reference in the Alumni files and which also provide information for the alumni directory.

Evelyn Tracy '36 passed the week-end at her home in Bangor.

THEATRE CLASS GIVES TWO SHORT PLAYS SOON

The Theatre Class will soon present in the Little Theater two plays: The Cat and the Canary, a mystery play, by John Willard, and Cradle Song, by Martinez Sierra. A precedent is being established in the presentation of these two plays, for, in former years, the theatre group has presented only one play a semester. Professor Bailey of the public speaking department, feels justified by the first play presented this season, "Children of the Moon," in producing these two plays and establishing a new mark in class production.

The characters are as follows: The Cat and the Canary, Mammy Pleasant, Evelyn Morrison; Roger Crosby, Eugene Jordan; Harry Blythe, Leonard Shaw; Cicily Young, Hope Wing; Susan Silsby, Lucille Simpson; Charlie Wilder, Harry McCready; Paul Jones, Almon Cooper; Annabelle West, Faith Folger; Hendricks, Thomas Johnson; Patterson, Arthur Roberts.

Cradle Song, Sister Joanna of the Cross, Alice McMullen; Teresa, Helen Buker; The Priorress, Jane Sullivan; The Vicar, Frances Austin; The Mistress of Novices, Bettina Sullivan; Sister Marcella, Elizabeth Dill; Sister Maria Jesus, Margaret Sewall; Sister Sagario, Carolyn Brown; Sister Inez, Frances Jones; Sister Tornera, Paulette Roussin; The Doctor, Roy Holmes; Antonio, Arthur Roberts; The Poet, Elizabeth Story.

Rachel Adams '33 has been elected domestic science teacher in the Ellsworth schools for next year.

Charlotte Fuller '36 left the campus Sunday for her home in Hallowell where she will be operated on for appendicitis.

Richard Hill '34, William Bessom '35, and Roger Colbert '37, spent the week-end at their homes in Massachusetts.

The Islet of Bar Harbor High School won a silver cup, presented by the department of journalism for the best mimeographed newspaper. The awards were made at the conclusion of the two day conference.

But have you ever stopped to think that you, too, may have habits just as irritating to other people as those of the key juggler or coin jingler are to you?

And more important than that, those habits are a sign of jangled nerves. And jangled nerves are the signal to stop and check up on yourself.

MAINE NINE LOSES IN SERIES OPENER

Ineffective pitching and costly miscues by the Maine defense caused the Black Bears to drop a 12-5 decision to Colby yesterday in the opening game of the state series here. Arnold Peabody on the mound for the White Mules held Maine's sluggers at bay with seven hits, while three Maine pitchers allowed nine hits.

Hal Woodbury led the Pale Blue attack with two safeties in three trips to the plate, while the Peabody brothers each gathered two bingles in four tries for Colby.

KENYON IS PLEASED WITH PROSPECTS FOR 1937 BASEBALL NINE

"The best squad of freshman baseball candidates I have had in several years," said Coach Bill Kenyon when interviewed on the prospects of the coming freshman baseball season.

He stated that he was pleased with the improvement the boys had made since starting practice. His only disappointment was that the unfavorable weather had delayed the beginning of outdoor practice sessions. However, the squad is out on the field now every night from five to seven, or later. Romeo Pascarelli is helping Coach Kenyon to get the squad in shape for its first game.

On May 5 the frosh nine will play the first game of the season with A.C.I. at Orono. The first nine will not be announced until after at least three games according to Kenyon's plan. Below is the list of players from which the first nine will be chosen, however: catcher: Braley, Felberg, Morrison; pitcher: Tapley, Green, Kilgour, Sumner, Coffin, Baker; first base: Colbert, True; second: Feyler, Russell, Thomas; third: Keegan, N. Wilson, Hutchings; shortstop: D. Carr, Golding, Bates, Tapley; outfielders: MacLaren, Bell, P. Wilson, Phair, Evans, McCrum, Keegan.

The following is the freshman baseball schedule for this spring:
May 5 A.C.I. at Orono
May 10 Higgins at Orono
May 11 Ricker at Orono
May 15 M.C.I. at Orono
May 18 Kents Hill at Kents Hill
May 19 Hebron at Hebron
May 22 Patten at Orono

PALE BLUE CUBS IN WIN OVER PORTLAND

Webb Stars as Frosh Swamp Visitors Saturday

The University of Maine freshman track aggregation completely swamped Portland High School 106½ to 19½ in a dual track and field meet on Alumni Field on Saturday. The Pale Blue Cubs took every first place in the match, and made a clean sweep in seven of the fourteen events.

Harold Webb again led the yearlings as he piled up a total of 15 points by winning first places in the high and low hurdles, and the high jump. Al Bell was not far behind as he contributed 12 points to the Maine total.

Owing to a strong wind which swept across Alumni Field during the meet the times for the running events were above normal.

The summary:

100 yard dash—Won by Murray, Maine; second, Perkins, Maine; third, Keniski, Portland. Time, 11 1-5 secs.

70 yard high hurdles—won by Webb, Maine; second, Keniski, Portland; third, Dalot, Maine. Time, 10 3-5 secs.

1 mile run—Tie between Staggs, Maine, and Corbett, Maine; third, Frost, Maine. Time, 5 mins., 17 secs.

440 yard dash—Tie between Dewick, Maine, Gatti, Maine; third, Leavitt, Maine. Time, 57 2-5 secs.

120 yard low hurdles—Won by Webb, Maine; second, Keniski, Portland; third, L. Burns, Portland. Time, 15 1-5 secs.

220 yard dash—Won by Murray, Maine; second, Littlefield, Maine; third, Perkins, Maine. Time, 24 2-5 secs.

880 yard run—Won by Hunnewell, Maine; second, tie between Shaw, Maine, Dingwall, Maine. Time, 2 mins., 13 3-5 secs.

High jump—Won by Webb, Maine; second, Gommon, Portland; third, tie between Stuart, Maine, and Libby, Portland. Height, 5 feet 2½ inches.

Broad jump—Won by Cameron, Maine; second, Bovryk, Portland; third, Gommon, Portland. Distance, 19 feet 2 inches.

Hammer—Won by Parsons, Maine; second, Keniski, Portland; third, Shaw, Maine. Distance, 114 feet 7 inches.

CORRESPONDENCE

The ideas stated in these columns are not necessarily those of The Campus and should not be so considered. The editor reserves the right to withhold any letter or a part of any letter.)

To the Editor of the Campus,
Dear Sir:

An unfortunate athletic situation has arisen at the University which the writer feels obliged to help clarify.

Student opinion has demanded an explanation of why a man was picked to represent Maine in the Penn Relays after he had lost out in what was generally supposed to have been the official and last time trial previous to the meet.

In the first time trial, the entrants were Marsh, the Black brothers, Cole, and Saunders. Cole finished fourth and Saunders fifth with four yards difference between them.

Coach Jenkins announced later that a final time trial would be held on April 21 to determine the entrants, believing that the order of finish would be the same as in the previous meet. However, at the finish of the race, Saunders was in third place, with Cole fifth.

The results left the coach in a quandary. Both he and the captain of the team wished to take the four men best qualified to represent Maine in the meet. Coach Jenkins called both Saunders and Cole into conference and discussed the matter. Either was perfectly willing to give up going to the meet if he thought that the other man was better.

After some discussion, it was decided to hold another time trial, in which Cole would have not only to beat Saunders, but also beat his time in the second time trial. The trial was run off, and the results were as follows:

Order of Finish	Time
1. K. Black	1:57½
2. W. Cole	1:57½
3. E. Black	1:57½
4. J. Marsh	1:59½
5. H. Saunders	2:02

In this race, there was about 27 yards between the first and last man. Cole not only beat Saunders and his previous time, but also ran the second fastest half mile ever run in Maine competition. The coach therefore was convinced that Cole was the logical man to enter the meet.

Yours very truly,
An Interested Student

MAINE PRIMES FOR SPRINGFIELD MEET

A doubleheader is in store for followers of Maine track this Saturday when the varsity engages Springfield College and the freshmen meet a combine of Lee, Old Town, Orono, Brewer, and Millinocket on Alumni Field. The freshman affair is scheduled to get under way at 1:00 p.m., while the varsity meet will start a half hour later.

The Pale Blue easily defeated Springfield a year ago, and is favored to repeat its performance on Saturday. The freshmen likewise overcame the combine handily a year ago, and if their swamping of Portland last week is any criterion, should finish on the long end of the score again this week.

This is the first outdoor meet to be held this spring, and the Jenkinsmen will undoubtedly have the same performers from the indoor season to carry on in their specialties. Maine will journey to Springfield's campus on May 18 to compete in the NEICAA meet which is being held there this spring.

NOTICE

Bound volumes of the 1933-4 issues of the Maine Campus can be ordered from any member of the editorial or business staff of the Campus, at $1.00 per volume.

MAINE TAKES THIRD AT PENN. CARNIVAL

The University of Maine's crack two mile relay outfit finished in third place at the annual Penn Carnival held in Philadelphia last Saturday. The Pale Blue runners were stacked against the best relay competition in the country, and were forced to be content with a third place, trailing Indiana, the winner, and Columbia, while finishing ahead of Manhattan.

Indiana's winning time, 7:46.3, was the second fastest made by any relay outfit since the inception of the games some 40 years ago. Maine's team, composed of Ken and Ernie Black, Joe Marsh, and Bill Cole, finished in the excellent time of 7:51, which is considerably better than the 8:02 in which they were clocked when they won the New England championship at the B.A.A. Games last winter.

NOTICE TO SENIORS

Why not place your orders now for a subscription to the Campus for next year? There is no better way of keeping in touch with the activities of your lower class associates at the University. Orders may be addressed to George Clarke, circulation manager. The subscription price is $1.00 per year.—Adv.

The way tobacco is cut has a lot to do with the way Chesterfield burns and tastes

There are many different ways of cutting tobacco.

A long time ago, it used to be cut on what was known as a Pease Cutter, but this darkened the tobacco, and it was not uniform.

The cutters today are the most improved, modern, up-to-the-minute type. They cut uniformly, and cut in long shreds.

The tobacco in Chesterfield is cut right—you can judge for yourself how Chesterfields burn and how they taste.

Everything that science knows is used to make Chesterfield the cigarette that's milder... the cigarette that tastes better.

Chesterfield
the cigarette that's MILDER
the cigarette that TASTES BETTER
