MAINE TROPHY ROOM TO BE NAMED FOR FORMER FOOTBALL COACH HERE

M. Chamberlain Peirce Was Graduate Of Harvard

NEW EQUIPMENT SOON

Many Athletic Trophies To Be Displayed In Cabinets

By vote of the Athletic Board of the University of Maine, and with the approval of the Board of Trustees of the University, the new Trophy Room located in the Alumni Memorial is to be known as the M. Chamberlain Peirce Trophy Room. Mr. Peirce, a native of Bangor, died in 1909 and was a son of Mellen C. Peirce of that city.

This action is taken in recognition of the fact that Mr. Peirce was coaching football at the University at the time he was taken ill. As a tribute to her son, the late Mrs. Anna H. Peirce made a bequest of $4000 to the University. This was later supplemented by a gift of $6000 in 1929 by Mellen C. Peirce. These gifts were made to promote athletics at the University, the fund being known as the M. Chamberlain Peirce Fund. The income of this fund is to be used to equip and maintain the new Trophy Room and to purchase trophies.

Mellen Chamberlain Peirce, Jr. was born in Bangor, July 13, 1886, and died November 11, 1909. He attended Andover Academy where he was prominent in football and track, making a record of 11 feet 1 5/8 inches in the pole vault, which at that time was very high, especially for a preparatory school. After graduating from Andover he entered Harvard where he was an end on the varsity football team, and was a member of the swimming team during the two years he attended that institution. He was a lover of outdoor life and his natural interest in football caused him to volunteer his service to assist in coaching the University team in the fall of 1909.

New equipment is shortly to be placed in the room which it is expected will be completed within the next few days. All present and future athletic trophies will be on display in the cabinets and on the walls of this room.

MANY ALUMNI CLASSES TO HOLD REUNIONS HERE DURING COMMENCEMENT

Nineteen alumni classes of the University of Maine are scheduled to hold reunions next Alumni Day, June 9. This includes the first five and the last four classes to graduate, being the first time that this combination has ever occurred. The two important classes for reunions this year are 1884, which observes its fiftieth anniversary, and 1909, which celebrates its twenty-fifth year since graduation. From present prospects both of these two classes are to be represented by good sized delegations.

The four youngest classes, 1930, 1931, 1932, and 1933, likewise are making a real effort to bring back a large number of their groups which are expected to add color and life to Alumni Day. The first five classes are 1872, 1873, 1874, 1875, and 1876.

Other classes which are to assemble are 1892, 1893, 1894, and 1895; and 1911, 1912, 1913, and 1914. Most of the classes are arranging some special event in addition to the regular Commencement program.

Those who are handling reunions for the classes are as follows: 1873—F. Lamson-Scribner, Washington, D. C., secretary; 1875—E. F. Hitchens, Orono, secretary; 1876—E. M. Blanding, Bangor, secretary; 1884—L. W. Cutter, Bangor, secretary; 1892—W. R. Butterfield, Somerville, Mass., secretary; 1893—Harry Smith, Bangor, secretary; 1894—Frank Gould, Orono, secretary; 1895—Dr. H. S. Boardman, Orono, secretary; 1909—Fred D. Knight, Boston, Mass., president; Harry E. Sutton, Boston, Mass., chairman; 1911—M. F. McCarthy, Waterville, president; 1912—A. L. Deering, Orono, secretary; B. C. Kent, Bangor, chairman; 1913—Ernest T. Savage, Bangor, secretary; 1914—Howe W. Hale, Orono, chairman; 1930—W. H. Daley, Portland, president; 1931—William Wells, Orono, chairman; 1932—Maynard Hincks, Orono, chairman; 1933—Russell Shaw, Portland, president; John P. Farnsworth, So. Portland, chairman.

HAPGOOD TALKS ON DEMOCRACY HERE

Prominent Writer Has Optimistic View Of Situation

"Democracy with all its upheavals is much stronger today than it was before the World War," declared Norman Hapgood, prominent American editor, author, and critic, before a faculty meeting of the Science Seminar in Merrill Hall yesterday.

The guest speaker stated that he was entirely opposed to the old benevolent rule of despotism and inferred that the best despotism is not as good as the worst democracy.

"In talking of the future of democracy, it is hard to say whether it will be a success or a failure," said Mr. Hapgood. "The kind of democracy that offers promise is not static."

The speaker said that England is coming out of the depression with much more intelligence than the United States. He also stated that if France had lived up to the Treaty of Versailles, Germany and Austria would not have been so desperate.

Franklin B. Dove, of the Experiment Station, was chairman of the discussion, which took place following a luncheon in the dining hall at Merrill Hall.

FRESHMAN RULES MADE BY SENIOR SKULLS TUES.

Pajama Parade Retained; No Ruling Made on Frosh-Soph Annual Scrap

Freshman Rules for 1934-35 were drawn up Tuesday by the members of the Senior Skull Society.

The rules for the most part are identical with those of last year. The pajama parade was retained. Evidently unwilling to make public their stand on inter-class fighting, the Skulls included the following provision with the Rules:

"In the event of a Frosh-Soph scrap, it shall continue for not more than twenty-four hours. It shall not begin before 5:00 p.m., Thursday, April 11, 1935, and must cease at or before 5:00 p.m., Friday, April 12, 1935. The Senior Skulls will not tolerate the use of shears in their (sic) fight."

CLASS OF '36 DONATES TO SENATE LOAN FUND

Approximately one hundred and seventy dollars was voted to the Student Senate Loan Fund by members of the sophomore class at a meeting held in Alumni Hall Monday afternoon. Each student will be charged fifty cents on his term bill at the close of this year. Nine sophomores attended the meeting.

A meeting of the junior class, scheduled for yesterday noon, was called off, when only seven or eight members of that class appeared. The president and treasurer of the class were among those who did not attend the meeting.

Members of the freshman class were to vote today at 1:00 p.m.

SEVEN INITIATED INTO KAPPA PHI KAPPA

Kappa Phi Kappa, honorary educational fraternity, initiated the following members on the evening of May 9:

Hamilton Boothby, Sumner Hancock, Errol Higgins, Hollis Ingalls, Wilbert Pronovost, Harry Tyler, and Herbert Wilbur.

The following officers were elected: president, Hollis Ingalls; vice-president, Frank Myers; secretary, Wilbert Pronovost; and treasurer, Sumner Hancock. A banquet will be held Wednesday, May 23, at the Bangor House.

MacBRIDE HEADS I.M.A.A.

At a meeting of the Intramural Athletic Association held Tuesday noon, Milton MacBride of Phi Eta Kappa, was elected president of the association for the coming year. Harold Woodbury, Phi Kappa Sigma, was elected vice-president; James Haggitt, Delta Tau Delta, treasurer; and Donald Anderson, Theta Chi, secretary.

The fraternities who won championships in the various intramural sports were awarded their trophies at that time.

Loring Is Appointed Short Course Head For Aggie College

Has Much Experience In Agriculture In Maine

President Harold S. Boardman has announced the appointment of Fred P. Loring, Agricultural Instructor in the Presque Isle High School, as director of Short Courses in the College of Agriculture, effective August 1.

Mr. Loring has had extensive experience in the Agriculture of Maine. He was brought up on a dairy farm in Pownall, and, after his graduation from the High School at Livermore Falls, he came to the University of Maine, and received a Bachelor of Science degree in agronomy from the College of Agriculture.

Since then he has taken a correspondence course in fruit and vegetable marketing from the American Institute of Agriculture, Chicago. He attended the 1932 session of the Summer School at the University of New Hampshire.

He has taught in many high schools in this state, besides teaching special short courses at the Universities of Maine and New Hampshire.

Mr. Loring is a member of several organizations. He is married and has one daughter, Ruth.

His duties here will be to organize and direct special short courses, and to direct the two year course in Agriculture.

Arthur L. Deering, Dean of the College of Agriculture, said, in part, of Mr. Loring, "Mr. Loring is, in my opinion, one of the best informed men as relates to the agriculture of this State that I have had the privilege of meeting."

A business meeting was held after the banquet and officers were elected for next year, the results to be announced later.

Writer Delves into Reading Habits And Problems of College Grads

By Richard Adams
Campus Feature Editor

"Can college graduates read?" was the title of an interesting article appearing recently in a publishers' magazine. The carefully written essay contains much food for thought, especially for the students of today.

The first and most important consideration is to delve into the question at hand. Recent surveys definitely show that the average college student hardly reads a book outside of prescribed work during his four years of learning. Naturally, the habit of reading, like other habits, is not to be acquired in a few years' time.

The trouble can be traced back to the grammar school days when reading first became a bug-a-boo as it is to so many students today. The mechanics of reading, it is true, are mastered in the secondary and college courses, but there is still another step before the reading habit is reached. It is a technique which can be developed into an art, as a working method of self-education.

The average college graduate is lost in a large library. This would not be true perhaps if courses were offered in the art of reading.

Inasmuch as such conditions exist, it seems that there should be more true inspiration rather than force on the part of the teachers. Lists could be prepared

Varsity Track Cluster Off For N.E.I.C.A.A. Meet At Springfield

Maine Has Chance To Take Title This Year

Fifteen members of the Maine varsity track and field team, and four freshman relaymen left today to compete in the annual N.E.I.C.A.A. track meet which is to be held at Springfield College tomorrow and Saturday. After impressive wins over Springfield and Bates during the last two weeks, the Pale Blue tracksters have been directing their attention to this meet in which they stand a good chance of coping the New England title.

Don Huff, who has fully recovered from his injuries, and Earle Hill are entered in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Ken Black and Joe Marsh will compete in the 880 yard run, and Maine should cop a few points in this event, for Joe Marsh broke the 880 mark at the B.A.A. Games last winter against practically the same opposition. In the mile run Maine will be represented by the star relaymen, Ernie Black and Harry Saunders, who have been running the mile at a fast clip during the spring season.

Bill Cole and Bob Wishart will run the two mile event once again, in which they have as yet to be defeated this season. Maurice "Gramp" Goddard, who performed so creditably against Bates a week ago, is primed to go in the high and low hurdles and should give Bowdoin's star timber toppers a good run for their money. He has already defeated Holland of B.C. in his specialty, turning the trick last winter in the dual meet held indoors here.

Besides running strength, the Pale Blue also boasts strength in the field events, particularly in the weights. Don Favour will compete in the hammer, discus and javelin throws, and will also try his hand in the pole vault. Assisting him in the hammer and discus throws will be Hayden Rogers and Clay Totman. Totman is Maine's leading entrant in the javelin throw in which he lost out by barely one inch to Kishon of Bates last Saturday. Myron Collette, Dana Sidelinger, and Rogers will be the Maine entrants in the shot put. Sidelinger will also compete in the discus throw.

Four freshmen, Jack Gatti, Red Perkins, Ed Murray, and Bill Hunnewell, have been entered in a special freshman medley relay race by Coach Jenkins. Perkins and Murray will run the 220 yard laps, Gatti the 440, and Hunnewell the 880.

CORRECTION

The name of Winston Hoyt was omitted in the list of Senior Skull pledges which appeared in last week's Campus. The name of Edward Butler should not have been included in the list.

SCHOLARSHIP CONTEST NOW BEING CONDUCTED IN SECONDARY SCHOOLS

Stevens Hall Dedication During Commencement Wk.

The high light of the Commencement program will take place at 3 p.m., Saturday, June 9, when Stevens Hall will be dedicated. Professor Huddleston is chairman of the committee in charge.

The Commencement Ball Committee, made up of Edward DeCourcy, chairman, Effie Mayberry, Roger Heller, Clifford Ladd, and Gordon Richardson, has chosen Eddie Ferry and his Orchestra of Lewiston to play at the Commencement Ball. Ferry is well known throughout the state and also on campus, for he was once leader of the Georgians. His return is looked forward to by many seniors who danced to his Georgians of former years.

PLAY PERFORMANCE NOT OPEN TO PUBLIC

Theatre Class Gives Mystery Drama Tuesday

By Jane Sullivan
Behind closed doors the Theatre Class presented an exclusive performance of The Cat and the Canary before an appreciative audience made up of the other members of the class, Tuesday evening in the Little Theatre.

The curtain rose at eight o'clock and, despite several secret panels which swayed open and shut at the most inopportune moments, the illusion of mystery was well preserved. At times the entire cast rose to great dramatic heights, but a great deal of the action was slowed up by missing of cues and delayed entrances. A weird element in the play was the portrayal of Mammy Pleasant by Evelyn Morrison '37. Miss Morrison displayed a great sense of dramatic technique and gave an excellent interpretation of the old mammy.

Outstanding in the cast was Lucille Simpson who, in the character of Susan Sillsby, brought an element of verve and life into the play which was somewhat lacking in the other characters.

NOTED CHEMIST WILL ADDRESS GATHERING HERE NEXT SATURDAY

On Saturday, May 19th, Dr. Charles B. Wooster, of Brown University, will visit the campus and speak about "Organic Alkali Compounds" at a meeting of the American Chemical Society.

Dr. Wooster has for many years been engaged in work with the alkali metals, principally sodium, and their reactions in liquid ammonia solution. It is a most interesting fact that the metal sodium which reacts with almost explosive violence with water, will simply dissolve in dry ammonia, yielding a deep blue solution. There has been no reaction with the ammonia, as is shown by the fact that it conducts electricity as a true metallic conductor and is in fact a simple solution of metal. Many uses have been made of this material in chemical studies. In the May number of the Journal of the American Chemical Society, Dr. Wooster has an article describing some uses of his reagent.

The meeting in Aubert Hall at 11 o'clock Saturday is open to the public, and it is hoped that all chemists will be able to attend.

NOTICE

All students who have ordered Prisms should call for them at once at the Treasurer's office. Also any further orders must be placed immediately, as the remaining supply is limited.

School of Education Conducts Work For 4th Year

7,203 SENIORS IN TESTS

Free Comprehensive Tests Now Are Offered Entrants

For the fourth successive year the School of Education is conducting this week its annual State Scholarship Contest in the secondary schools of Maine. The preliminary or Every-Pupil contests were held in 223 secondary schools Tuesday, and the finals or district contests will occur Saturday in nine district centers of the State.

This contest, the first of its kind to be conducted in Maine, was initiated by the School of Education when the latter was established four years ago. Although somewhat handicapped from the beginning by the economic depression, the project has gained steadily in popularity and interest, and this year has been greatly expanded by securing the cooperation of the State Department of Education and the other three colleges of this state, Bates, Bowdoin, and Colby. As a result it has become possible this year to offer comprehensive tests free of cost to all high-school seniors in five subjects—mathematics, science, English, social science, and French.

This year for the first time it has been possible to offer a test in French as a part of an investigation of French teaching, financed by the Coe Research Fund and directed by Professor George Fundenburg of the French department. All the other tests are prepared by the School of Education with the cooperation of the academic departments of the University.

The contest consists of two stages or parts. First is the Every-Pupil contest, the tests being given and scored in the local schools, every senior taking the tests offered. Each school then sends its two seniors making the highest scores in the first tests to a district center, where an entirely different set of tests is given and scored under the personal supervision of a representative of the School of Education. On the basis of these final tests scholarships are awarded by the University.

Although participation in the contest is entirely voluntary, it has met with extremely gratifying response, 223 high schools and academies having enrolled for a total of 7,203 seniors to take the tests. These schools comprise approximately 90 per cent of all Class A schools in the State.

Besides the senior tests, a separate program of tests is offered for under-class pupils in those high schools which desire to take them. This year 78 high schools have enrolled for under-class tests in seven subjects—algebra I, algebra II, plane geometry, general science, biology, chemistry, and French. Winners in these tests in the local schools also represent their respective schools in the final district contests, two pupils from each school for each subject.

The chief purposes of the project are:
1. To serve as a basis for the awarding of scholarships to the University.

Freshman Rules

An announcement of the Freshman Rules for the coming school year appear elsewhere in this issue of the Campus.

The Senior Skulls had an opportunity to finish their careers at the University by performing an outstanding service for their alma mater—the abolition of interclass fighting.

Instead they completely evaded the issue. In the rules they say, "In the event of a Frosh-Soph scrap," and go on to prescribe the limits of its duration.

Reading between the lines of the section of the rules in question, it is obvious that the Skulls have no objection to a class scrap. They even set a date for it.

If they have power to set these dates, then surely they had the power to put an end to the undesirable situation which has existed on the campus for some years.

The Campus regrets that it can not compliment the Skulls on one of their last official acts while at the University. Instead it must deplore their action.

Lethargy

A total of approximately 17 students attended scheduled meetings of the sophomore and junior classes held Monday and Wednesday of this week. At the junior class meeting, both the president and treasurer of the class were absent.

The purpose of the meetings was to vote on donating a sum of money to the Student Senate Loan Fund.

Such a total lack of interest among students in the affairs of their classes is a situation which can not go unchallenged. It is a disgrace to the class as a whole and to the individual members. It is the climaxing touch to the mental and physical lethargy into which students at the University seem to have fallen. What can be done about it?

Scholarship Contest Now Being Conducted in Secondary Schools

The Trustees have allotted eight tuition scholarships to be awarded each year, one for four years, one for three years, one for two years, and five for one year each.

2. To stimulate interest in scholarship in the secondary schools.
3. To give appropriate recognition to those pupils who achieve scholastic excellence, somewhat comparable to the recognition commonly given for excellence in athletics.

4. This year for the first time the results of all the senior tests will be filed in the office of the State Department of Education at Augusta, and there made available for use by college officers of the State. It is not the purpose, however, to use these tests as a basis of admission to college, but rather for educational guidance, etc., after admission.

Students now at the University who have been awarded one of these scholarships as freshmen during the past three years are as follows: John Hamilton '35, Technology; John Willey '35, Arts and Technology; John Willey '35, Arts and Sciences; Richard Wooster '35, Arts and Sciences; Alice Campbell '36, Arts and Sciences; John Coombs '36, Technology; Alan Corbett '36, Agriculture; Max Fitch '36, Arts and Sciences; Vernon Herrick '36, Arts and Sciences; Bernice Yocmans '36, Arts and Sciences; Faith Folger '37, Arts and Sciences; Ernest Foster '37, Technology; Richard Spear '37, Technology.

PHI KAPPA

On Friday night, Monte Carlo was transplanted from over seas to the University of Maine campus when Phi Kappa fraternity held its annual spring formal.

All the brilliance, glamour, and romance of the famous Casino were present at intermission, as the women, beautifully gowned, together with the men, crowded around the roulette table, eagerly awaiting the next number to be called by the croupier, Frank Rufo. As each woman's number was called, she was presented with a favor, which was either a gold or silver bracelet, a pendant, a compact or a leather cigarette case, decorated with the Phi Kappa seal.

After the favors were distributed, the roulette wheel was spun and the woman holding the lucky number received the grand prize, a beautiful desk set. Miss Jacqueline Soucie was the fortunate one.

During the evening the couples danced to the music of Perley Reynold's orchestra. Refreshments of ice cream, fancy cookies, and punch were served.

Those in charge of the dance were Hugh Ryan, Stanley Wasung, and John Durkie. Professor and Mrs. E. N. Brush, and Professor and Mrs. S. N. Wallace were chaperons.

PHI MU DELTA

Phi Mu Delta held its annual spring house party last Friday and Saturday, May 10 and 11. Many out of town guests arrived for the party which consisted of a formal Friday night and an informal open house Saturday night.

Larry Miller and his Bears furnished the music and were assisted in their efforts by Miss Kittie Davis '36 who sang several numbers both evenings. The house was attractively decorated with streamers of black and gold.

Dean and Mrs. L. S. Corbett were guests Friday evening and Mr. and Mrs. William Kenyon and Mrs. Ada King were chaperons both evenings.

The committee in charge of the annual house party was Paul Brown, Alan Corbett, and Ashton Sawyer, chairman.

The Sigma Nu's sang their fraternity songs lustily beneath orange and black decorations, Friday evening, May 11, during intermission at their annual Spring house party.

The Georgians furnished the music Friday evening, and punch and cookies were served. Saturday Al Val's orchestra, during the five-minute intermission, gave versions of many college songs, and refreshments were ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moreland and Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Andrews chaperoned.

The committee in charge was R. Emerson Beers, chairman, W. D. Blake, R. O. Gordon, W. H. Fifield, E. C. Jordan.

HARE AND HOUND CHASE WAS HELD SATURDAY

With cries of "Tally Ho" and any other hunting calls which the occasion brought to mind, freshman girls put their noses to the ground and tracked the sophomores behind the Armory, through muddy fields and water-filled ditches, in the annual Hare and Hound chase held last Saturday morning, until they were hardly able to lift their arms and legs.

Finally all but a few stragglers limped into the meeting place at the Ledges. There they found plenty of hot corn-crowder, pickles, crackers, cookies, and coffee waiting for them. For a while, nothing was heard but the steady click of spoons as the hungry girls made up for the energy used up in the chase. They remained there, talking and dozing at intervals, until 1:30, when they returned to Balentine.
