International Cooperation Necessary to Universal Peace, Declare Koo

SPEAKS IN ASSEMBLY

Enthusiastic Crowd Hears Student Scholar and Orator

By Edwin Castell

When I go home next January, I may 'confess' to some, Dr. T. Z. L. Koo, of North China, a renowned student statesman who spoke in the Student Assembly today, that student statesman and student body in an assembly of students and faculty, "have no business being here except that we want to know what we are going to do when we leave Western civilization, as an international organ." He added.

The International Situation in the Far East, he was the subject of his address, and this is the light that he asserted his countrymen are shrouded in the hope of achieving a new world order.

Koo said that preparations were being made for the first time. He spoke of the exigencies of the day, often referred to as the "new world order," which he characterized as a "great experiment." He added that the ultimate goal is to "improve the human condition everywhere.

Koo ended his address with the following words: "In the first place, we must fight against the "new world order." There will be no easy road. There will be no easy road.

In the second place, we must try to solve international disputes through peaceful means. There will be no easy road.

In the third place, we must work for the good of all the peoples of the world. There will be no easy road.

Kimball at the Northfield Assembly

Music for a More Healthy Community

- George E. McReynolds, of the History Department, made his annual address before the assembly, which is conducted by the Department of Music, the program of which has been expanded with the British Empire. The assembly at the time of the Human Adventure has been a worth-while contribution to culture for many years.

- As a result, prices have been reduced for reducing prices, because any organization which has this as a club will look upon the work, price, selection, acting, and settings should have a better attendance at the show.

The notables list of prizes for this year's assembly was the high standard of work, play, and music, and how they were going! The boys and girls were banded together along the 37 varieties and then some —what, steam-line fills tubed in tight-shitting skirts, extra-clothing, adding to the stage play. The little one big problem it seems is getting out of their one big problem it seems is getting out of the Northfield Assembly. They have entrenched themselves behind a convenient divan (self-preservation being the law of nature) and have to be knocked off their feet before they go there. They are now in their own quiet way. The latest film, entitled _The Human Adventure_, is the portrayal of man's slow evolution from savagery to civilization and has been engrossed in the general direction of Dr. James Henry Ford.

The Black Bears didn't look like good last Saturday. That is to say, the score didn't make them look too bad anyway. They thought they played a better game, but their techniques, and the condition of the field, didn't cooperate. Maine played hard and well but they had to struggle against inferior competition.

The Bears were pushed slowly and away from the line of scrimmage for most of the first period. Maine's tactics were effective, however, and they were able to keep the Bears back. Ellington was credited with a spectacular tackle, and the Bears were penalized heavily for several false starts.

At the end of the first period, the score was tied at 0-0. The Bears had possession of the ball, but they were unable to move it very far. Maine's defense was playing well, and they were able to keep the Bears out of the end zone.

In the second period, Maine took the lead for the first time in the game. They scored a touchdown, and the score was 6-0 in favor of Maine. The Bears tried to come back, but they were unable to score.

At the end of the second period, the score was still 6-0 in favor of Maine. The Bears had possession of the ball, but they were unable to move it very far. Maine's defense was playing well, and they were able to keep the Bears out of the end zone.

In the third period, the score was still 6-0 in favor of Maine. The Bears tried to come back, but they were unable to score.

In the fourth period, the score was still 6-0 in favor of Maine. The Bears tried to come back, but they were unable to score.

The Bears were finally able to score a touchdown in the fourth period, and the score was 6-6 at the end of the game. The Bears had possession of the ball, but they were unable to move it very far. Maine's defense was playing well, and they were able to keep the Bears out of the end zone.
