Plans Under Way for Big Winter Carnival Here; Snow Modeling Contest

Outing Club To Offer Trophy for Best Snow Model

DATE SET FOR FEB. 21

Winter Sports Meet and Intramural Ball To Be Feature

Plans are now being formulated for the coming winter carnival to be held the week-end of February 21. The carnival, which is expected to attract even more attention than that held last year at this time, represents the high point of winter activities at the University.

According to Robert Laverty, publicity manager for the Outing Club and member of the "Pack and Pine" society, the Outing Club is planning to again offer a trophy to the fraternity winning the contest in snow sculpturing. It is expected that a more elaborate trophy will be offered this year, but instead of running for one year only, this trophy is to be used until a fraternity has three legs on it, when it will be given into that fraternity's permanent possession. Until then the trophy will be given to each fraternity for the year in which it was won only, after which it will be reissued.

Many fraternities are already making plans for their snow sculpture and many fine pieces are expected. Although snow sculpture was tried at Maine as an experiment last year, it far exceeded in quality all expectations, attracting visitors from many nearby communities. Several in a position to know compared the Maine work very favorably with that at Dartmouth, where the winter carnival attracts national attention.

The winner last year was a flying dragon beautifully executed by the members of Beta Theta Pi fraternity. It was set on a pedestal decorated with the fraternity shield in rose and blue. Second place went to the members of Phi Gamma Delta for their lovely feminine figure silhouetted against low relief work in violet. Lambda Chi Alpha was third with a magnificent statue of King Winter enthroned in snow. All but one of the fraternities and several other organizations entered the competition. Dormitories are also eligible to compete.

Friday night will see the University of Maine in holiday fettle at the gala Intramural Ball, plans for which are already being formulated by Robert Littlehale, head of the Intramural Ball Committee. The Starr Marshall Orchestra which has

Sorority Rushing To Begin Today

The sorority rushing season will begin at 2:00 p.m. this afternoon and will continue until noon Tuesday, February 11. Individual rushing has been replaced by group rushing this year, each sorority to have three scheduled parties—two informal parties and one formal. The small parties will begin at two o'clock this afternoon while the others have been arranged so that each sorority has an afternoon party from 5:00 p.m. to 7:30 p.m.

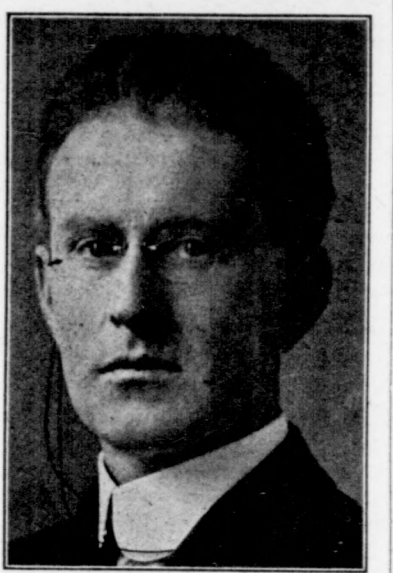

There is to be absolutely no cutting classes for the purpose of attending rushing parties. The afternoon parties are arranged only for those who do not have classes. Any cutting that is done, either on the part of upper class sorority women or freshmen or eligible women will be held against the sorority involved.

Invitations for the small parties must be sent Tuesday, February 4, by 1:00 p.m. on the Panhellenic desk. This desk is in Ballentine Hall, second floor, left-hand study hall. Eligible and freshman women will call for invitations at this desk. Agreements for these small parties must be in between 8:00 a.m. and 12:00 noon.

Co-ed Wins Merrill-Palmer Scholarship

Joie Naylor, of Cumberland Mills, a member of the junior class, left recently for the Merrill-Palmer School, Detroit, Michigan, where she will study child training. Miss Naylor is a Home Economics major of high scholastic standing, and for this reason she was given the opportunity to attend this institution. Merrill-Palmer is one of the finest vocational schools in the rapidly developing field of child training.

ASSEMBLY SPEAKER

LINCOLN COLCORD

Lincoln Colcord To Speak Here

'Shipbuilding' Topic Of Evening Program In Little Theatre

Lincoln Colcord, an alumnus of Maine and the co-author of the Stein Song, will speak at an assembly in the Little Theatre at 7:30 next Thursday evening on shipbuilding on the Penobscot. His address will be carried over the air and will be followed by group discussion of the subject.

Prominent on the campus as a result of his literary activities, Mr. Colcord is today listed in the literary Register, being a writer of book reviews and short stories. The topic on which he is to address Maine, ships, is one on which he is an authority. His father was captain of a ship and Lincoln Colcord as a boy went on numerous voyages with him, one of these voyages taking him to China at just that time when the first Sino Japanese War broke out.

He attended Maine at the same time that Professor Whitmore, of the History and Government Department, was a student here. It is notable that both Professor Whitmore's, and Lincoln Colcord's fathers were ship captains.

Mr. Colcord as a student was assistant editor of both the Prism and The Maine Campus. In addition, he published The Blue Book, the first literary magazine to appear on the campus. During the World War he served as Washington correspondent for the Philadelphia Public Ledger. Since then he has continued as a writer of articles, short stories, and book reviews.

New Courses For Spring Term Open

A number of new courses, some appearing on the University curriculum for the first time, will be given during the spring semester.

A two-hour course on Social Insurance will be taught by Dr. Frank Lewand of the department of economics and sociology. This course will cover, primarily, economic insecurity, unemployment, old age dependency, industrial accidents, their extent and nature; methods of relief and prevention; public works, and unemployment. The character of the various risks will be analyzed and the various protective devices will be studied.

Maynard F. Jordan, associate professor of mathematics and astronomy, will teach a two hour course in Navigation. The content of the course will include nautical astronomy, the theory and use of the sextant, and the means of determining the position of a ship at sea. The course presupposes a working knowledge of trigonometry.

A two-hour course on Camp Stewarding will be given by Mrs. Mabel L. Stewart, instructor in the department of home economics. It will treat problems involved in the selection, purchase, and preparation of food for camp groups, and is open only to Forestry Juniors.

A course in Sanitation and Public Health will be given by Dr. Matthew Highlands, instructor in bacteriology, for two hours of credit. Emphasis will be placed upon the relationship between environment and the health of the individual.

Tech Students Given Hovey Scholarships

Coombs, Morgan and Parsons Awarded $45 Each

The Hovey Memorial Scholarships, amounting to $45 for each recipient, have been awarded for the spring semester to Paul W. Morgan, Shirley R. Parsons, and John M. Coombs, all of the College of Technology.

These scholarships have been permanently allocated to the University of Maine by the Stone and Webster Corporation which in 1931 established the Hovey Memorial Fund of $5,900 in honor of the late Francis J. Hovey. The income from this fund makes available annually approximately $150 for students in the College of Technology, on the basis of scholastic attainment, character, and general promise. A scholastic standing of at least 3.00 must be attained to be eligible, and must be maintained during tenure. Award is made by the Dean and the heads of departments in the College, subject to the approval of the President. Preference is given to students residing in the State of Maine, if there are suitable candidates in this group.

Morgan is a member of the junior class and is majoring in chemistry. He is from Thomaston, Maine.

Parsons is also a junior. He is majoring in Pulp and Paper Technology and has participated prominently in winter sports, football, and track. His home is at South Paris. He is a member of Phi Mu Delta fraternity.

Coombs is an Electrical Engineering senior, of Boothbay Harbor. He is a member of the honorary engineering society, Tau Beta Pi.

Colonial Exhibit In South Stevens

Display Represents Early Periods of Maine History

An exhibition representing the Colonial Period in Maine history is being displayed this week in the Faculty room at South Stevens in connection with the series of University of Maine radio programs on Colonial Maine history. This display was planned by the special committee on Colonial Maine history, composed of: Prof. Ava H. Chadbourne, chairman, Prof. Walter H. Leavitt, Prof. Fred B. Chandler, Prof. James H. Waring, and Miss Elizabeth C. Ring, and sponsored by the University of Maine Radio committee, of which Prof. Edward F. Dow is the chairman.

Among the many interesting articles contributed by members of the faculty and their friends are maps of the early settlements and forts of Maine, pictures of old forts and blockhouses, and colonial household articles. There are old books, paper money dating back to 1776, and coins of George III of England. A drum, brought over by the fleet of Napoleon Bonaparte at the insurrection of 1779 in Saint Domingo, and a copper kettle, which has a very unusual shape, have attracted much attention.

A mounted collection of photographs of covered bridges of Maine has been loaned by Mrs. Clayton Sweatt, of Andover, Maine. Mrs. Sweatt says that she enjoys taking these pictures for she finds so many different constructions. While visiting the exhibition in the Faculty room here last Monday, she pointed out different features of these quaint bridges to some of the visitors. She said that when the covered bridges were first built they provided shelter for horses; but that in later years the sides had been left practically open to allow better circulation of air.

Many of these bridge pictures have been used by Mrs. Amy Wood, of Clinton, Mass., who not only has a very large collection of pictures of covered bridges in New England, but who has also written a book on these bridges.

Music Box Concerts Will Be Continued

The Music Box Concerts will be resumed on Wednesday, February 12, and will be continued on Wednesday afternoons until further notice. These concerts will be held in 17 Stevens North from 3:30 to 4:45 p.m. and will be in charge of Matthew Trembley. A catalog of the phonographic records will be in the hands of Mr. Trembley, also in the Department of Music office, 15 Stevens North. Requests may be made to either Mr. Trembley or Prof. Sprague.

The University of Pennsylvania has restored a three per cent cut to its teaching staff.

Maine To Meet Bates Tonight in Radio Debate

Subject Is On Public Health Service; WLBZ 9:30

George Clarke, veteran debater, and Erwin Cooper, freshman, are to participate in a radio debate with a team from Bates College at 9:30 tonight, over the subject "Resolved, That the several states should enact legislation providing for a system of complete medical service at public expense." This debate is to be broadcast over station WLBZ, Bangor.

James Smith and Paul Stuart will be the Bates debaters. This will be the first debate in which Erwin Cooper will have participated as a Maine representative. A radio debate between the two colleges has become virtually an annual event. George Clarke also took part in last year's Debate-Bates argument.

Debate Coach Spencer Brown further announces that Maine's men debaters will go on two trips in the near future which will take them into Massachusetts. Only one debate has been definitely scheduled for these trips as yet, a debate with Boston College for March 12.

On March 19 a team from Lafayette College will appear on the Maine campus to participate in a debate in the Little Theatre. President Hauck, who served as dean at Lafayette before he came to the University of Maine, will chairmen this debate.

Physics Department Holds Open House

Recent Scientific Developments In Field of Science Shown; Many Visitors Attend

The Physics department began an innovation on the campus last night when it played host to University, high school students, and townspeople in its first annual open-house.

The department, headed by Dr. A. L. Fitch, and ably assisted by a corps of outstanding students acting in the capacity of guides, put on an impressive exhibition of some of the more recent developments in the field of science. The visitor was conducted on a tour of inspection of the new lecture room which offers improved visibility, ventilation, and acoustics; the laboratories, shop, and research rooms. There were numerous demonstrations in the fields of mechanics, sound, heat, electrical magnetism, and light. Considerable attention was attracted by devices to make sound visible. Also on demonstration were a recently developed photo-elastic apparatus to determine stresses and strains in transparent models, presented through the cooperation of the College of Technology; ultra-violet light demonstrations, high voltage high frequency electrical discharge apparatus, X-rays, a displacement interferometer, Roman spectrum apparatus, and other miscellaneous apparatus set up in the general laboratory and lecture room.

It is expected that the Physics department will continue its open house as an annual affair along with the open house held annually by the Zoology department.

Snowbirds Leave For Dartmouth

By Harold Webb

Coach Ted Curtis takes his varsity skiers to Hanover today to compete in the annual Carnival for which Dartmouth is famous. This year the Intercollegiate Ski Union, of which Maine is a member this year for the first time and which alternates in giving their official meet first to Canada and then to the United States, awarded the meet to Dartmouth. The Dartmouth Carnival is sponsored by their Outing Club, and is known throughout the world for the excellency of its competition. To win in this meet is symbolic of national supremacy.

In years gone by, Maine has not fared badly. The highest ranking obtained by them is third. Last year, they were fifth in a group of fifteen including McGill, Dartmouth, New Hampshire, Middlebury, and many others. Maine scored in every event which in itself is no small accomplishment. New Hampshire won the meet and the following week, barely beating Maine at Orono, 44-42. Thus we see that the caliber of this Curtis-coached outfit is of the highest.

Last Saturday the skiers traveled to Mt. Cadillac for what constituted a series of trials in the slalom and downhill runs. Through the courtesy of the Bar Harbor Outing Club, the Maine forces were allowed full use of the trails. Phil Bowers, (Continued on Page Five)

Pres. Hauck Announces Increase of $25,000 to Scholarship Loan Fund

EDITOR RESIGNS

Levenson Leaves Campus Position

Gailey Chosen Editor; Webb Is Elected Sports Editor

The unexpected resignation of Roger Levenson as editor-in-chief of the Maine Campus last Friday came as a great disappointment to the student body at Maine and to the members of the Campus staff with whom he had worked. In tendering his resignation to the Campus staff, Mr. Levenson stated that he had enjoyed his association with the members of the publication and intensely disliked leaving the work but that he thought it advisable in order to be able to prepare for coming comprehensive examinations.

Mr. Levenson has been very active in journalism at Maine during the past four years and brought to the Campus editorship a wealth of active experience. As a member of the freshman class, 1936, he was chosen associate editor of the Freshman and of the freshman Handbook. He has been a member of the Campus board since his freshman year, moving up rapidly through the various positions to sports editor last year and to the editorial position this year. Along with his sports position on the Campus last year he was chosen associate editor of the 1936 Prism. He was elected to Kappa Gamma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternity, during his sophomore year and was named president of that organization last spring. He is in charge of the annual Journalistic Conference of Secondary Schools to take place this spring.

Raymond H. Gailey, sports editor of the Campus for the past two years, was elected editor-in-chief, while Harold Webb, assistant sports editor the past year, was elected sports editor.

Far East Authority At Next Assembly

George E. Sokolsky, author, lecturer, authority on the Far East, political-economist of renown, will be the speaker at the first assembly of this semester, to be held in the Memorial Gymnasium on February 28, according to an announcement by Dean Lutes, who also disclosed the remaining assemblies thus far scheduled for this school year.

Mr. Sokolsky is a graduate of Columbia University, but a large part of his life has been spent abroad. He was in China for thirteen years and can speak Chinese fluently. It has been said that he "seems almost to have become a part of the Far East."

Going to Russia in 1917 in order to witness the Russian Revolution he remained there as editor of an English newspaper until the views he entertained caused the government to request his departure from the country.

Mr. Sokolsky has done a good deal of lecturing. He has spoken before Foreign Policy Associations throughout the country and has been prominent on programs of the League for Political Education.

Two more assemblies are scheduled for this semester. The first, to be held in March, will feature Walter Habenicht, of Bangor. The second will probably be given by the Bangor Symphony Orchestra in April.

$15,000 To Be Used For Scholarships; $10,000, Loan

THOMPSON FUND

Trustees Accept Bequest At Thursday Morning Meeting

The receipt and acceptance of a bequest of $25,000 for the creation of scholarship and loan fund from the estate of the late Bertha Joy Thompson, of Ellsworth, was announced today by President Arthur A. Hauck following the monthly meeting of the University Board of Trustees.

Although Mrs. Thompson had never had any official connection with the University, she became interested in it through her brother, the late Fred W. Joy, of Ellsworth and New York, who had made occasional visits to the campus. Knowing of the need for scholarships and loan funds, Mrs. Thompson made provisions in her will to aid the University in solving these urgent problems.

A fund of $15,000 has been established, the income of which shall be used for scholarships under such conditions as the Board of Trustees shall determine. Announcement will be made later giving details as to number and basis of award of these scholarships.

Ten thousand dollars is left in trust, the income to be used for loans to "worthy, deserving, and needy" students under terms and conditions yet to be determined. Although Mrs. Thompson gave the Trustees the privilege of using the income from the $10,000 for other purposes than loans, the Trustees have voted to use the fund in accordance with the expressed suggestion of the donor.

In accepting this generous benefaction President Hauck paid tribute to the donor for her thoughtfulness and desire to assist students of the University, and the value which these funds will be to the hundreds of students during the years to come. It is the second gift of this size and for the same purposes that the University has received in recent months, the previous one having been announced at Commencement.

Mrs. Thompson was born and lived her entire life in Ellsworth where she was active in church and other affairs. She had been an occasional visitor to Orono. In addition to her bequest to the University, Mrs. Thompson also left $25,000 to the Eastern Maine General Hospital and $10,000 to the Unitarian Church of Ellsworth.

Trustees Plan Oak Hall Replacement

As announced early this week by Dr. Arthur A. Hauck, President of the University, action will be taken today at a meeting of the Board of Trustees for the proposed replacement of Oak Hall, men's dormitory.

Clothing has been purchased by Dr. Murray, head of the Department of Zoology, for distribution among the freshmen who suffered all or partial loss in the fire. At present the majority of Oak Hall freshmen are being accommodated in the fraternities to which they pledged. Dr. Murray is now working on the problem of replacing the books lost, in as far as possible.

The Oak Hall Relief Fund has found generous support since its status was last reported in the Campus. A total of $1200 has been collected and largely distributed where it could fill the greatest need. R. P. Stevens, of New York City, contributed the sum of $100. Rudy Vallee sent a check for $50. $25 was given by the Agricultural Club. Other generous donations were made by the faculty and Delta Delta Delta sorority.

D. B. Demeritt, professor of forestry, and C. M. Alcott, of the newly created department of wildlife at the University, are attending a wildlife conference by the North American Wildlife Committee appointed by President Roosevelt. The subject of the conference is wildlife in all its phases, economic, recreational, and social. The conference, many with sound, will show the dire results of present conditions and point the way to proper methods of improving the situation throughout land, water, and game management. Comprehensive charts, clearly interpreting the status of wildlife will be used by various speakers.

Watch Your Step

During the year 1935, deaths due to automobile accidents in the United States reached the appalling figure of 36,000, while the number of injuries reached close to 1,000,000.

Just what does this mean to you and to me? Simply this. In the State of Maine, about 150 people will be killed, and in each community the size of Orono, one person will probably lose his life during 1936. It has been so in the past. Reckless driving, icy roads, walking on the concrete pavement, have all taken their toll and in this last respect, each student at the University can do his or her part. When walking to and from classes and especially when going to the movies at night, walk on the left side of the road, thus facing on-coming traffic, if you must walk in the road. Each car operator is responsible not only for the lives in his car but for the safety of everyone on the highways, as well.

Let's cooperate with the nation and the state in this matter of saving lives. It's not the duty of public officials to press this campaign for safety.

When the public becomes accident conscious, this bloody price for speed and haste will decrease. Think! 36,000 killed! 1,000,000 injured! 1935! What for 1936?

Sorority Rushing

Freshman girls, now it is your turn to be "rushed" just as the boys were last fall. Don't lose your heads when you are showered with invitations and benevolent glances but remember that it is better to think clearly and not to listen to flattering phrases. Be sure to answer all the invitations you receive in the affirmative or negative and enjoy yourself at the parties you wish to attend in a natural way. After the next weeks of "high pressure" rushing are over sororities will not have the same significance or importance in your life as they have at present. Do not think that you will be a social outcast if you do not join a sorority. Many prominent girls on this campus are non-sorority women. Above all, think for yourself.

Your Library

Many students have been availing themselves of the opportunity offered by the bookstore to obtain cash for their used text books.

While the plan has the obvious advantage of furnishing cash to students which in many cases will make it easier to purchase the necessary texts for the new semester, there is another view of the matter which every student should consider carefully before turning in his old texts.

Among the many other opportunities which a college offers is that of forming a personal library. A substantial nucleus can be built up during the four college years which later in life may very well prove a valuable source of reference. Each text has been selected with careful discrimination by the instructor. A college text is usually the most comprehensive and up-to-the-minute study of a subject by an authority in a particular field and therefore should not be lightly discarded. Each text should be given consideration before it is sacrificed for the lure of quick cash. Technical books, especially, are professional tools and should never be sold.

Masque Ventures 'Abraham Lincoln'

By Tom Lynch

The choosing of a cast and the beginning of stage work marks the definite start of the Masque on its next play, John Drinkwater's Abraham Lincoln, which is scheduled for production at the Little Theatre on March 4 and 5.

The play is quite the most ambitious piece of work attempted by the Masque this year. It concerns itself with the period in Lincoln's life from the time that he was first called to the presidency, to the end of the Civil War, when he is shot by the assassin's bullet.

The staging of the play offers many difficult stage and lighting technicalities, and work on those phases is scheduled to begin on February 10. A call has been made for those interested in stage work to report at that time.

The cast is considerably larger than the usual Masque play, and includes the following: Ralph and Foster Higgins as Two Chroniclers; Robert Lavery, Mr. Stone; Almon Cooper, Mr. Coffey; Neil Sawyer, Henry Hind; Earle Leavitt, Elias Price; Samuel Crowell, James MacIntosh; Margaret Snow, Susan; Mary Archibald, Mrs. Lincoln; Robert Ohler, Abraham Lincoln; John DeLong, William H. Seward; Clark Kumej, Johnson White; Atwood Levensaler, Caleb Jennings; Ernest Rowe, Hawkins; Francis Bradbury, Montgomery Blair; Herman Billings, Simon Cameron; Leo Liebermann, Caleb Smith; Lloyd Buckminster, Stanton; William Whiting, Harold; Harold Goodwin, Gideon Wells; Geneva Epstein, Mrs. Blow; Faith Shesong, Mrs. Obery; James Day, General Grant; Frank Clark, Malins; Sargent Russell, Dennis; Norman Carlisle, General Lee; John Clark, Meade; Elizabeth Schiro, and Lucille Epstein, Two Ladies; Margaret Lynds, A Wife; Miss Jones, A Girl; and Thomas Lynch, An Orderly.

Several parts are still open to selection. Professor Bailey wishes to announce that a schedule of rehearsals will be posted from time to time on the bulletin board in Alumni Hall.

CHURCH NOTICE

Fellowship Church

Is the world moving toward catastrophe or toward renewal and can individuals do anything about it? Is religion merely a source of comfort in defeat or is it a basis of confidence in victory? These are the questions which the minister of Fellowship Church will consider in his sermon, Between Two Worlds, Sunday, Feb. 9.

The Young People's Club meeting next door to the Community House will have a talk by Prof. Albert A. Whitmore, of the history department, U. of M., on "Carl Sandburg's Lincoln." The discussion will turn upon Lincoln's ideals for American citizenship, and their application to today's situation. All students and young people invited.

Methodist Episcopal Church and Wesley Foundation

Sunday, February 9
10:30 Morning Worship with sermon, Mr. Berlew preaching. Sermon theme, "The Unwelcome Benefactor." Adult vested choir.

7:00 The Evening Assembly and Forums: Half Hour Worship in charge of the Wesley Foundation. The Adult Forum—Speaker, Miss Elizabeth Ring; subject, "Rancor in Politics, A Two Edged Sword." The Student Forum—Discussion of the subject "Personal Religion." Speaker: Professor E. J. Niederfrank.

A social hour at the parsonage will follow the Student Forum meeting at which time the Church Membership Committee and the Student Council will welcome the New Student Affiliate Members. All students are invited.

Correction

It has been brought to our attention that the Campus has been confusing the names of John and Bob Haggitt, both of Delta Tau Delta. In a recent news story it was reported that Bob Haggitt had suffered an attack of appendicitis. The item should have read "John Haggitt."

Wednesday, February 5, at the same desk. Expenses for the small parties will be "Dutch." With each acceptance, fifteen cents for the afternoon parties and twenty-five cents for each evening party must be included.

Invitations for the big parties must be out on the Panhellenic desk by 12:00 noon, Tuesday, February 11. Freshman and eligible women will be sent written notices that they have received bids and told when and where preferences for sororities must be signed. These notices for women in the dormitories will be sent to the respective dormitories. Notices to all off-campus women will be delivered to them.

Freshman and eligible women will receive a written notice on Thursday, February 20, informing them with which sorority their preference has been matched and will be told the time and place to sign their bids and to receive their bows.

Notices of these rules will be posted in the dormitories and in the M.C.A. building. A period of silence shall extend from Tuesday, February 18, at 9:00 p.m. until Thursday, February 20, at 5:00 p.m.

been engaged during the past season at Nantasket Beach will furnish music. Prof. Benjamin Kent is at present engaged in making a large lantern bearing the letters of the Greek alphabet, which will be used as part of the decorations.

Saturday, Washington's Birthday and a holiday, is the date of the Intramural Winter Sports meet and for the awarding of the trophy for snow sculpture. For several years past, the Intramural Winter Sports Meet has been won by Phi Mu Delta fraternity, although the competition has always been close enough to make the meet interesting. Besides the customary dashes and jumps, there is considerable interest this year in featuring a slalom, or down-hill run with obstacles. Students had an opportunity to see some slalom work in the dual meet with New Hampshire last year. The dual meet this year, we might add, is at Durham, N. H.

Most of the fraternities are planning to hold open house Saturday night. Open house is always an enjoyable occasion because of the informality with which dancers can go from house to house to suit their individual whim. All-in-all the Winter Carnival promises to be a fine time for every one concerned.

M. C. A. To Conduct Religious Meetings

To meet a long recognized need in the religious life of the University, by which those members of the student body who have been accustomed to a religious meeting and experience of a devotional type can carry that interest forward, a weekly meeting will be held in the M.C.A. Building beginning next Wednesday evening at 6:30. The program will consist of a period of worship, with hymns and informal prayers, and the brief presentation of some distinctively religious theme, followed by discussion or other spontaneous religious expression. The meetings will also serve as a medium for the presentation of religious activities and reports of conference, for which now no opportunity exists, and as the center about which a conscious daily religious life of the members can be focussed. They are open to all students. The permanent time of meeting will be determined at next Wednesday's session.

Next Vesper Service To Be Musical Program

Mrs. Charles A. Brautlecht and Dr. Karl D. Larsen will present a musical program at the Vesper Service to be held in the Little Theatre, Sunday, February 9, at 4:10 p.m.

The Service will be conducted by Elizabeth Schiro and Carol Stevens. Miss Stevens will play the prelude and postlude. Miss Schiro will read the invocation. Mrs. Brautlecht's program will be played in two parts. The first part will include Tranmere, Richard Strauss; Arietta di Balletto, Gluck-Joseffy; and Andante with Variations, Hayden. Dr. Larsen will then play two trombone solos: Serenade, Schubert; and Last Night, Kjerulf. Mrs. Brautlecht will conclude with Impromptu, Schubert; Gavotte, Bach-Saint-Saens; Tendre Avenir, Edouard Schutt.

Moving pictures of Japan will be shown at the next meeting of the International Relations Club. Pictures of Nara and Kyoto, Cormorant Fishing, Japan in Spring, and others will be shown. The time and place of the meeting are not yet definitely known, but it will be on Tuesday, February 11. Watch the bulletin boards for further announcements.

These reels are procured from the Japan Tourist Bureau in New York, and promise to be very interesting. Students and faculty are invited to attend.

Elizabeth Philbrook spent last weekend in Portland visiting the parents of her fiancé, Carl Ingraham.

Annette Youngs, who sustained a broken ankle prior to the exam period, is now back at school.

Date for Scholarship Applications Pushed Ahead

The date set for making applications for scholarship awards for 1936-37 has been moved from April 15, the former date, to March 1. The chief reason for this change is the fact that the considerable number of scholarships recently established makes it necessary for the Faculty Committee on Honors to have more time to consider the applications and to have the needed interviews with students applying.

Since the number of scholarships described in the large University Catalog has been nearly trebled, and since the University Catalog will not regularly appear for a month or two, a few copies of the section of the new Catalog dealing with scholarships have been printed by the University Press and distributed among the deans and heads of departments. Students interested in finding what is available may consult these persons or the Chairman of the Honors Committee, Professor Ellis.

Contrary to a rather general impression, it is not necessary for students to apply for any particular scholarship or scholarships. In general, preference will be given in making awards to needy students who have at least a minimum honors rank, which may be represented by an approximate point average of 2.5.

Soil Investigator Is Special Lecturer

Mr. Earle F. Bennett, B.S., Maine, 1928; S.M., M.I.T., 1930, who has been making soils investigations for the State Highway Commission during the past year and a half, has arrived at the University to take up his two-months' duties as Special Lecturer in Civil Engineering and Research Assistant in the Maine Technology Experiment Station.

The lectures on Soil Mechanics, which Mr. Bennett will give here, will cover the fundamental principles of soil mechanics, preliminary to treatment of the latest methods of soil stabilization and the treatment of subgrades for road beds, as well as treatment of foundations for heavier structures. Owing to recent developments in soil mechanics, this lecture series should prove popular among qualified students.

While studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Mr. Bennett was fortunate to have been a student of Dr. Karl von Terzaghi of the Technische Hochschule, Vienna, Austria, who this spring will teach a more advanced course in Soils Mechanics at the Harvard Graduate School of Engineering.

NOTICE

Stage work will begin at the Little Theatre, Monday, February 10, at 6:00 p.m. An invitation is extended to all those interested in carpentry, scenic design, stage design, and other stage work, to be present either Monday or Tuesday evening.

"SO THE PEOPLE MAY KNOW"

By Joe College

Heigh-ho, everybody! Exams all over, and after the campus-wide orgy of boiling in midnight oil, your uncle Joe hopes you're once more treading the straight and narrow. But it's not too straight—hasn't Arbie Doherty stabbed that effervescent Balentine freshman, Kay McGuire, with an ATO pin? Nice weather for snow-birds. Ho hum! Spring ain't here yet. And what about Ralph Wentworth totting Old Town's Blond Venus about? None other than little Barbie Lancaster. And then there's At Levensaler's baby-blue mittens, the sissy. Ah me! How times do change. That erstwhile sweetheart of Delta Tau Delta now depends on Don Washington for her theatre tickets. This indecision is wearing on the best of nervous systems. Cold weather we been having lately, eh what? And to tackle this sleeping mania which seems to concern the male guests at Balentine on weekends. We guess Eddie hadotta stay at dere ole Kappa Sig. That certainly doesn't speak very well for Phil Dimitre's charms, does it, children? Durn chilly, what with all the weak window sashes round here. Aunt Beth certainly takes her responsibility in a commendable manner—mayhap too commendable. A demerit or so would help that; how about it, Beth? Oh, no, those unkempt individuals trudging around campus with sort of furtive looks aren't foresters just returning from the Princeton camp. They are true artists hoping to be able by their endeavor at realism to create an atmosphere of the Civil War period at the University of Maine for two nights. About forty members of the Maine Masque are praying for the first week in March to roll around so that they may once again see their barber or hairdresser. And to close this week's splurge—what do you think of diminutive little Ruthie telling Don that he's just a big brute? Tsk, tsk. Now don't study too hard, all you youngsters—it don't pay—noisier—it jest don't.

J. E. Faulkner Speaks To Agricultural Club

Mr. J. E. Faulkner, of the Bangor Production Credit Corporation, spoke at the January meeting of the Agricultural club. He explained the set-up and the functions of the corporation; and discussed the present position and future possibilities. Many of those attending entered into a discussion with Mr. Faulkner and Dean Deering. Following the business the members enjoyed refreshments. Two members of the club entertained with harmonica music.

Student Singers To Go on Air Sunday

Under the direction of Lawrence Mann, graduate student in classics, the following students will take part in the musical broadcast to be heard over WLBZ Sunday afternoon at 3:15: Sopranos, Frances Austin, Cecilia Sweatt, and Bettina Sullivan; altos, Beatrice L. Hodgkins, and Margaret Homer; tenors, Herman W. Billings and Melvin McKenzie; basses Richard Berry and David White; piano accompanist, Evelyn Adriance.

It takes 25 operations to finish one Ford valve

EACH Ford valve requires twenty-five separate operations from the time work starts on a rough valve until it is ready for use. That is a surprising number of operations for such a simple looking part, but typical of Ford care in manufacturing. The stems of the rough valves first receive two preliminary grinding operations. Then they go through a furnace where the heads are brought to a red heat. Next, automatic fingers place them in a huge machine where a ram strikes the red-hot heads. This operation refines the grain structure in the head, straightens it, and forms the valve seat. Valves then pass through other grinding, machining and polishing operations. Each stem is ground five times for greater accuracy and smoothness. Inspection gages keep a constant check. In spite of this care, each Ford valve is subjected to rigid final inspection. Amplifying gages check the stem for roundness within two ten-thousandths of an inch. Similar gages check diameter. Other inspection equipment indicates the slightest "run out" of seat and checks stem end for squareness. Then the valves go into a constant temperature room where they are inspected for length. The Ford V-8 runs like a fine car because it is built like a fine car. No car at any price is made to finer precision limits.

SPORT SNAPS

By Harold Webb

Exams have cut athletic activities to a minimum during the past two weeks. Things begin to stir with the beginning of a new semester. Interfraternity basketball started again on the 4th. The freshman team plays M.C.I. on the 7th, and Rumford on the 8th. The varsity relay team heads for the B.A.A. games at Boston on Friday. Already the basketball game with Northeastern is becoming a topic of conversation. The chief point of interest now is who Coach Kenyon will pick to oppose the Wildcats—with the expressed hope that he will limit his squad and not use three or four teams. For all the mid winter weather, some of the baseball men are getting fidgety, with questions as to when practice starts.

The Prout Memorial games in Boston on Jan. 25 furnished several noteworthy sidelights. According to several coaches seated in the vicinity of Box 75 opposite the finish line, Johnny Murray, Maine sprinter, was a good third in the semi-final heat of the 50 yd. dash. But Zeimet, of Boston College, and one of the pre-race favorites was picked. Incidentally Zeimet got a third in the final. What's in a name?

Coincident. Johnny Gowell will be competing this week-end against a field of hurdlers that includes a former high-school teammate and captain, Phil Good, of Bowdoin. When in high school together, Phil and Johnny took first and second, respectively, with monotonous regularity. When Phil graduated, Johnny took the first and lowered many of Good's records. Wonder if they'll meet in the finals Saturday?

The student body has taken to winter sports with a zeal that has never before been manifested on the campus. It seems to be a reflection of the spirit that is sweeping the country this year. While on the subject, Rod Elliott missed a beat on his downhill run at Mt. Cadillac and wound up in the bushes. A passing reflection—Joe Hamlin, All-State end in 1934, is back in school. Coach Brice's stock should take a decided jump.

Professor J. R. Smyth, of the Poultry Department, is in New York attending the New England Poultry Producers Council.

Pale Blue Relayers Go To B.A.A. Meet

Maine's mile relay team closes its indoor campaign Saturday evening when the quartet participates in the annual Boston Athletic Association meet at the Boston Gardens. Two weeks ago the team, consisting of Murray, DeWick, Hurwitz, and Kelly, were defeated by Rhode Island and M.I.T. This was the order that was predicted by those in the "know," inasmuch as Rhode Island has an exceptionally fast team this year. Last Saturday they burned up the boards at Madison Square Garden in the Milrose games to turn in the very low time of 3:26.8, the fastest of the evening. Thus we see that the Pale Blue were traveling in fast company.

There will be a change in the line-up of the four to handle the baton Saturday. Barring further injury, Johnny Gowell, sophomore ace, and captain of last year's frosh team, will replace Don Kelly. Gowell was originally slated for the quartet, but an injured thigh muscle, received in the interclass meet, forced his temporary retirement. Gowell's presence should strengthen the team considerably. He is fast and has a type of stride well adapted to board running—his high knee action reducing the possibility of tying up to a minimum.

In a recent quarter mile time trial, Murray, Hurwitz, DeWick and Gowell all finished under 54 seconds, in the above order. This gives Coach Jenkins a speedy well-balanced outfit. The order of running will not be altered by the addition of Gowell. Hurwitz will run lead off as before. His speed, coupled with a powerful build, allows him to take the jostling that comes with the lead-off lap without the break in stride that a slighter man would be subjected to. Gowell and DeWick next handle the baton, with the ability to protect a lead if given to them. Murray, the fastest of the four, will run anchor, and given at least an even break he is a hard man to beat in any league.

Gowell will also run the 45 yd. high hurdles in his first varsity appearance in his specialty. In this race, he will be competing against an old teammate and former captain, Phil Good of Bowdoin.

Don Huff and Ken Webb will complete the list of Maine entries. The former will enter the fifty yard dash while the latter tries his luck in the high jump.

Intramural Fives Go Into Second Lap

The second half of the Intramural Basketball drama got under way last Monday with all of the teams in both the Northern and Southern leagues seeing action. There will be games played every night but Friday, Saturday and Sunday from now till February 25. At that time a date will be set for the winners of the two leagues to play off for the prized intramural trophy, emblematic of No. 1 ranking team at the University.

Although the race is still too young to make any definite choices, there are several outstanding teams in each league, one of which is almost sure to be titlists. In the Northern league, Phi Eta Kappa seems certain to make a strong bid even though they lost the services of MacBride, Towle, and Hoyt through graduation. With Phil Rogers and Tapley to bolster up the remnants of last year's team, they are strong favorites to repeat. Kappa Sigma, always a potentiality, presents in its lineup, True, McAlary, Sturgis, Allen, and Dexter, who, should the first raters flounder, might easily step into the driver's seat. Theta Chi seems to be the strongest of the remaining teams in the Northern League although considerably weakened by the failure of Ed Backer to return to school. They offer Peterson, Downey, Crozier, Swenson, Johnson, and Thompson as a formidable combination to contend against.

The Southern League looks to be the weaker of the two leagues in respect to combined team strength. Alpha Tau Omega, the defending league titlists, have almost to a man the same team that took the lead last year. Doherty, Brewster, Perkins, and Jackson, left from last year's outfit, supplemented by Gene Holt, a sophomore, make up this year's lineup.

Phi Kappa Sigma, last year's runners-up to Alpha Tau Omega, present a five that should be in there when the whistle blows for the play-off. Three members of the 1935 squad, "Spud" Raymond, Ken Johnstone, and Hal Woodbury, are back in the black and gold togs. Dwight Lord and Howie Forrestall, sophomores, team with the veterans to fill out the quintet.

Phi Mu Delta has the appearance of being the proverbial dark horse of the Southern League. With Jackson, Hutchings, Lane and Owens forming the bulwark of the team, the Phi Mus will be ever dangerous.

The women debaters of the University are to take a debating trip into Massachusetts and Rhode Island over the last week-end of this month. They are to hold four debates, the first of which will be with Westbrook Junior College, Portland, Feb. 26. The question to be argued is, "Resolved, That the several states should enact legislation providing for a system of complete medical service at public expense."

Snowbirds Leave for Dartmouth

Rod Elliott, and Charles Huntoon proved to be outstanding men in these events. Elliott had the edge in the slalom while Bowers made the best time in the downhill race.

In trials over the 5-mile cross country course at Orono, Phil Bowers negotiated the distance a full minute and a half faster than the record time set up by Craigen of New Hampshire last year. According to Coach Curtis, Bowers is in the best condition of any man that has come under his tutorage. Phil has been training a long time for this meet and his chances of success are high. Last year he finished fifth in the downhill race at Hanover, and three of the men who beat him are members of the winter Olympic team, now in Germany.

Bowers, Elliott, and Huntoon will bear the brunt of Maine's work. Each are entered in every event. In the Dartmouth meet the number of entries from each school in one event is limited to five. Four of these men must score—that is, must finish in order for the team score to count in that event. It is Coach Curtis' aim to place one or two others with the above trio in every event, and to be sure that every man scores. In doing this, their chances of being among the winners is strengthened greatly.

Ten entries have been sent in: P. Bowers, C. Huntoon, C. McCarthy, R. Hayes, G. Trimble, R. Brown, F. Doe, K. Johnstone, and H. Stagg. The number to go will depend upon the decision of Coach Curtis regarding necessary balance to the team.

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO—"IT'S TOASTED"
LUCKIES ARE LESS ACID

Luckies are less acid

All kinds of people choose Luckies, each for reasons of his own. But everyone agrees that Luckies are A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobacco. It is a rather surprising fact that the leaves of the same tobacco plant may vary far more than the leaves from plants of quite different types. Chemical analysis shows that the top leaves contain excess alkalis which tend to give a harsh, alkaline taste. The bottom leaves tend to acidity in the smoke. It is only the center leaves which approach in Nature the most palatable, acid-alkaline balance. In Lucky Strike Cigarettes, the center leaves are used.

MIDWINTER BAWL

Unless you're assigned to "Death Notices," the natural yen to bang out what is laughingly referred to as a Column in the throes of finals is, to put it delicately, about as irresistible as the urge to give way to convulsive laughter during an earthquake. LIFE must go on, however, as the publisher wheezed when Esquire appeared flamboyantly on the newsstands, and while our "stuff" admittedly isn't the ne plus ultra of "colyming," we like to think that it's colossal in a small way.

After four more or less Arctic winters of curricular gumshoeing to and from the sacrosanct halls of this, the college of our hearts always, we have learned to look to the office of the Dean for the first signs of Spring. For the Dean, you know, has the rather annoying habit of doing his Spring housecleaning the very first week in February. That's the time when he gets rid of a good many things he once thought he could use; he throws out a lot of ornaments too which have simply been hanging around cluttering up the place. Some of us are deeply touched by this weeding-out process and last-minute tears will stream lugubriously down undergraduate cheeks, but for sheer melodrama, it always seemed such a dingy tragedy to us. You can practically count on this Spring housecleaning of the Dean's every year, though. Of course, he doesn't wait until he has spotted the first robin, but there are always a few who will make sure that he gets the bird.

On the other hand we don't care for any part of the smarties who come up to the University, make the Dean's varsity line-up the first semester and stick there until someone perfunctorily hands them a velvet-cased medal and a diploma. (Everyone who paid to see the World's Fair got a medal a good deal similar to that one, and the chances are very good that the fellow standing next to our four-point man in the bread-line next winter will have received an even more impressive diploma.) We've never been able to figure out why (since we're only a scribe and not one given to speculation at the mere drop of a hat) but our 'smarties' generally run to girls—the type who for four years titter politely at the professors' jokes (that one has all the earmarks of

Contributors Meet at Home of Milton Ellis

The Contributors' Club met Sunday evening at the home of Dr. Milton Ellis. The president, Margaret Assip, conducted a business meeting, following which Dr. Ellis served tea and cake.

As a special project the members are planning to collaborate in writing a play, bringing suggestions for plots at the next meeting, February 16.

Those present were Dr. Ellis, Mr. James Moreland, Margaret Assip, Ruth Goodwin, Celia Cohen, Carolyn Brown, Jane Stillman, Rose Snyder, Richard Wooster, and Ralph Higgins.

Willett Rowlands, prominent member of Kappa Sigma fraternity and editor-in-chief of the 1937 Prism, was stricken Tuesday afternoon with an attack of appendicitis and was immediately rushed to the Eastern Maine General Hospital. At the last report he was resting comfortably from the operation which took place Tuesday night. Rowlands was formerly men's news editor on the Campus board.

a boomerang), and would never think of cutting a class, or rolling their stockings. They usually have mouse-colored hair, too. At least often Annie has. We call her that because she makes the Dean's list so often, we figure she must have been teething on it. A belle of the 90's, we suppose you could say—if you felt you had to say something. Well, sometimes we wish we could go back to the good old A's ourselves, but that's either here or there. Often Annie is one of those persons whom we gaze upon with the admiration of despair. We get the same low feeling watching her that we always have when we come out of an Astaire musical—the feeling that we're such a speck of a nobody, that all around us people are doing such great things. But that's the wages of cinema.

Coming back to the arts and sciences, it is a trifle embarrassing to note that our own skimpy record (which insists on hovering around one, dismal point, six) is nothing to wake the Dionne litter out of a sound sleep over. In fact it is very liable to call for the funeral pan and a one-sided session of "Hey, nonny nonny" with the Dean himself and in person. It would probably tickle the "serve-him-right" boys no end to see our ordinarily personable young figure come flying out of the door marked DEAN with the greatest of E's. How is it the saying goes: "He who laughs last, if at all?"

Valentine Motif of Penny Carnival Dance

Valentine's Day will be celebrated by the Penny Carnival this year in a royal way. The chief attraction will be the choosing and the crowning upon an elegant dais of the King of Hearts and the Queen of Hearts. The guests of the ball will all be eligible for this exalted position. Everyone is cordially invited to attend the largest and most popular stag dance of the year, and remember, any garb may be turned into the right kind of a valentine. You may come as comic valentines in rags and tatters, or love sick swains, or a nice lacy kind of valentine.

The committees are busily engaged in designing the scenery which will be a prop of the Valentine Day Ball and many special features are being planned which will be secret until they are given on Friday night, February 14. The doors of the heart will be opened at eight o'clock and the music of the Maine Bears will keep all the Valentines hopping.

Delta Zeta Guests Enjoy Sleigh Ride

Members and guests of Delta Zeta sorority enjoyed an old-fashioned sleigh ride on last Saturday evening. After an entertaining ride over the ice they had a chicken pie supper in the social room of the Stillwater Church. Songs were sung and charades were played.

Those present included: Dean and Mrs. Olin S. Lutes, Ernestine Andrews and Lester Tarbell, Mildred Covell and George Northrup, Sally Pike and Carl Taylor, Margaret Hall and Arnold Hook, Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Morrow, Dr. and Mrs. Witter.

Mrs. Hauck Hostess At Tea Recently

Mrs. Arthur Hauck was hostess at a tea on January 28. It was given for the home demonstration agents, club agents, and state home economics extension agents attending an Extension Conference here. Mrs. Arthur L. Deering poured.

Alvin L. Heald '36 was elected president of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity last Monday evening, and Kenneth M. Chute, vice-president.

Maples Freshettes Hold Valentine Party

A Valentine vic party was held at the Maples last Saturday evening. Marion Dunbar, Marion Roberts, and Jeannette Sanborn were in charge of the arrangements. Mrs. Gertrude Hayes chaperoned.

Those who attended were: Josephine Campbell, Philip Temple; Jean Sanborn, Charles Havener; Vera Brastow, Kenneth Clark; Laura Chute, George Hill; Louise Ohnesorge, Philip Folsom; Marion Roberts, Robert Ohler; Jeannette Sanborn, Louis Harris; Jeannette Lamoreau, Roger Morse; Marion Dunbar, Norman Thompson; Helen Holman, James Cahill; and Mildred Walton, Austin Chamberlain.

President and Mrs. Arthur A. Hauck entertained the All-Maine Women, Sophomore Eagles, the Women's Student Government Association, and several members of the women's faculty at dinner on Tuesday evening.

Following dinner, the group gathered in the living room and sang songs, led by Kay Hoctor and accompanied by Georgia Fuller.

A. O. Pi Sponsored Stag Dance Friday

The Alpha Omicron Pi sorority celebrated the end of final examination period with a stag dance at Alumni Gymnasium, Friday evening.

Misses Edith Gardner, Ann Eliasson, and Blanche Holman were the committee in charge.

About 125 attended. Music was furnished by the Maine Bears.

Among the members of M.O.C. who went to Greenville on the snow train last Sunday were:

Bob Laverty, Dix Claffin, Skeets Skinner, Robert Harvey, Harry Halliday, June Clements, Harold Boardman, Bob Bramhall, Phyl Bannes, Edith Gardner, Roger Cameron, Junius Birchard, Jim Haggatt, Ed Littlefield, Helene Deal, Charles Cain, Freddy Mills, Wendell Brewster, Ray Thorne, Libby Doble, Fran Jones, Bee Jones, Betty Grudinsky, Albert Verrill, and Tom Verrill.

Professor C. H. Merchant, of the department of Agricultural Economics, on the recommendation of the Director of the Experiment Station, has been appointed State Supervisor for the Works Progress Administration, Program 11. The purpose of this project is to collect data on farm real estate. The national survey is expected to take from four to six months and cover over 600 counties.

On Saturday afternoon, Mrs. Hitchner opened her home to the Chi Omegas for tea. The patronesses who entertained were Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Cloke, and Mrs. Hitchner. Miss Estelle Nason poured. Among the guests were Mrs. Lamb, Mrs. Schrupf, Mrs. Flewelling, and Mrs. Youngs.

Among the undergraduates present were: Bettina Sullivan, Phyllis DeCourmier, Carol Stevens, Madeline Frazier, Dorothy Nutt, Winifred Coburn, Althea Millett, Georgia Fuller, Betty Drummond, Norma Lueders, Frances King, Alice Campbell, Georgia Taylor, Barbara Ware, and Louise Hinman.

Harry L. Crabtree '37, of Ellsworth, left Sunday morning by car for West Palm Beach, Florida, to spend the remainder of the winter with Judge and Mrs. Harry L. Crabtree who are wintering there. He is planning to enter Law School at Boston University next fall.

Here's one cigarette that writes its own advertising..

It's like this—
You see I'm reading a Chesterfield advertisement and I'm smoking a Chesterfield cigarette, and all of you are smoking Chesterfields.

Now listen—Chesterfields are mild (not strong, not harsh). That's true isn't it?
Then you read "and yet they satisfy, please your taste, give you what you want in a cigarette." That says it, doesn't it?

Wait a minute—
It says now that Chesterfields have plenty of aroma and flavor. One of you go out of the room and come back. That will tell you how pleasing the aroma is.
