Boston College Trackmen, Strongest in Many Years, Invade Campus Saturday

Meet Is Expected To Be Closer

I S EVENING MEET

Maineavored In Weights While B. C. Has Edge In Running Events

By Harold L. Webb

The annual Maine versus Boston College track meet, expected to be one of the best in years, will be held on the University of Maine campus Saturday afternoon, starting at 2 p.m. The meet will include running and field events and will be followed by a banquet at 5:45 p.m. in the Alumni Hall.

The Maine meet will be one of the closest in years, with both teams equally strong in most events.

The Maine team will be led by Coach John A. Casstevens, who has been coaching the track team for several years. Coach Casstevens has developed a strong team, and the members are expected to do well in the meet.

The Boston College team will be led by Coach Bill Wells, who has been coaching the track team for several years. Coach Wells has developed a strong team, and the members are expected to do well in the meet.

The meet is expected to be closer than in previous years, with both teams equally strong in most events. The meet is expected to be one of the closest in years, with both teams equally strong in most events.

Why Have Sororities?

What have you sororities on this campus? Is there a need for them? Having no homes means that there is no real purpose in their existence except to provide a place for the social organizanal needs of the sorority girls. These are the needs that are not being met by the University at large. The Sorority is a small part of a complex whole that includes housing, cultural activities, athletics, etc., that make up the complete environment of a college student. The sorority is only a part of this whole, and it is impossible for it to be considered in isolation.

The amount of money spent on a sorority during the average four year college course is surprisingly great in properties with what the girls get in return for their expenditures. The average cost of a sorority girl's three years on campus does not exceed $500. This must be a very poor investment for sorority girls who are to be joined by sorority girls and the elimination of others from the rushing lists causes a distinction between sorority and non-sorority girls which is unpleasant in many cases. Cliques are likely to form among the sorority girls, and a feeling of superiority among them.

And there is a tendency among non-sorority girls to single out those who consider the "best" and attempt to join them.

Many non-sorority girls cannot join any sorority. Others, who join without financial security, are stunted in having to make a living during the years they spend in college and they can only partly through college in order to pay the dues that are collected annually.

The politics of a sorority is a political one for those who are interested in it. In 1935 Member 11 at the University of Maine was published during the college year, indicating the importance of the college year organization. The organization's membership is very limited and it is impossible for it to be considered in isolation.

It has been pointed out that there is a need for the sorority as a social institution, and that it is impossible for the sorority to be considered in isolation.

The purpose of the sorority is to provide a place for the social organization of the sorority girls. This aim is to be achieved by the sorority. The sorority girls must be given the opportunity to join, and the non-sorority girls must be given the opportunity to receive the benefits that are offered by the sorority.

Lucky Strike

A light smoke.

OF RICH, RIPE-BODIED TOBACCO—"IT'S TOASTED"

PROPER AGING

Tobacco in its natural state is harsh and strong. Though "cured" by the grower before sale, it is unsuited for use without further aging. During this aging process (which ranges in the case of Lucky Strike from 1½ to 3 years) important changes occur. These "Nature" changes result in the partial "smoothing out" of the original harsh qualities of the leaf. Our process of manufacture carries these improvements many steps further—as every Lucky Strike Cigarette exemplifies: A Light Smoke of rich, ripe-bodied tobaccos.

For centuries the world has gone to the Near East for its flavors and spices.

Turkish tobacco is expensive. The import duty alone is 35 cents a pound. But no other place except Turkey and Greece can raise tobacco of this particular aroma and flavor.

Chesterfield imports thousands of bales of tobacco from Turkey and Greece to add flavor and fragrance to Chesterfield Cigarettes.

...and today Chesterfield imports thousands of bales of tobacco from Turkey and Greece to add flavor and fragrance to Chesterfield Cigarettes.

The work at the universities in the Near East is not limited to research and there are far less letters of the alphabet in the Near East than in America. The French Universities accept American students, and there are far fewer examinations for the degree than in America. The French Universities are considered more liberal than those in America.
