Local Red Scare

A storm of words has blown the campus as a consequence of attempts to organize here a local chapter of the American Student Union, which has a liberal, if not radical, orientation. The storm began last week when it was announced that William West, a member of the A.S.U., would organize a group of students as a "red" organization that represented only a small number of students and that would be sympathetic to the A.S.U. and the Communist causes.

In support of that thesis, it is said that the organization is the nucleus of the A.S.U., and that it was formed by a number of the students sympathetic to the A.S.U. And, indeed, our departmental society, the Communist party, which was not directly a part of the A.S.U., organized a number of students sympathetic to the A.S.U. It is suggested, however, that the organization is not an affiliate of the A.S.U. as it is defined by the local Communist party.

The effect of the storm is that many students are not sure whether they have been members of the A.S.U. and whether they can continue to be members of the A.S.U. It is suggested that the organization is not an affiliate of the A.S.U. as it is defined by the local Communist party.

Miss Cole, the president of the new organization, has been invited to speak at the next meeting of the A.S.U. and has accepted the invitation. She has been active in the organization and has been a member of the A.S.U. for many years.

All this is not to say, of course, that there are not communists in the A.S.U. and that the A.S.U. may consider themselves as a third international.

The A.S.U. at present includes in its membership students affiliated with the Republican as well as the Socialists, the Democrats, as well as the Communist party. Since those belonging to any of the above-mentioned parties do not belong to the A.S.U. as it is defined by the local Communist party, it is suggested that the organization is not an affiliate of the A.S.U. as it is defined by the local Communist party.

It is suggested that the organization is not an affiliate of the A.S.U. as it is defined by the local Communist party. The organization is in some ways an attempt to create a third international.

We are not suggesting that there are not communists in the A.S.U. and that the A.S.U. may consider themselves as a third international.
