A TRIBUTE TO "M" ATHLETES

The love of the game and a will to win has long been the University of Maine's athletic tradition. As an integral part of the total educational process, intercollegiate athletics has proved to be a rich experience for hundreds of Maine students. In 99 years the University has awarded the Varsity "M" to approximately 6,000 athletes. The combination of courage, team work and pride has provided excellence in all sports as Black Bear teams have brought honor and distinction to the University.

Athletics at the University of Maine will continue to develop qualities of leadership, fair play and a competitive spirit in those young men and women who choose to include varsity competition as part of their college education. The University takes great pride in paying tribute to all "M" letter winners for their outstanding contribution to the University Family and its athletic programs.

Harold S. Westerman
Director of Athletics

THE ORONO CAMPUS

The University of Maine at Orono, with its six colleges and four schools, is the largest campus in the statewide university system. There is plenty of elbow room on its 1,100 acres, where the student is offered the diversity and challenge of a large university in the invigorating atmosphere of a small college. Close personal contact among students, and among students and faculty, is a tradition at Orono, where one knows his neighbors and his teachers.

Orono is a cosmopolitan campus in a classic New England setting. Last year students from 25 foreign countries and 45 states studied here, and fully 20 percent of the total enrollment of some 11,000 students regularly is admitted from other states and nations around the world. There is ample opportunity for the student to enrich his university days academically and socially outside the classroom. There are seven scholastic honor societies, four non-scholastic honor societies, 22 departmental and professional honor societies, 56 associations, clubs and organizations, and six religious groups. Nineteen fraternities and 10 sororities have chapters at Orono.

The campus is located one mile from the center of Orono, an attractive town of about 10,000 population, and eight miles from Bangor, the state's third largest city. It is in the center of the state's year-round outdoor recreation area, with ski slopes, scores of ponds, lakes, streams, and the beautiful Maine coast within easy driving distance.

Interstate Route 95, a scenic four-lane highway that bisects the state north to south to the New Hampshire state line, passes within a mile of the campus. Air travelers land at Bangor International Airport, where the University of Maine has established a campus in former Dow Air Force Base facilities, Bangor Community College. BCC, in the 1974-75 academic year, became the new sixth college of the University of Maine at Orono. Although the 162 acre campus, with its 58 buildings, is located in Bangor, its relationship with Orono is the same as the other five colleges.

In its role as a community college, the primary objectives of BCC are to offer two-year associate degree programs, one-year certificate, and short-term programs to meet special educational needs.

The University of Maine at Orono offers programs in physical education, intercollegiate athletics, intramural sports, recreation and related club activities. These programs are recognized as an integral part of the educational process which the university controls and supports within the limitations of budget, staff, equipment, and facilities. These programs are to promote educational leadership, physical fitness, opportunity for recreational pursuits, and athletic excellence through instruction and competition.

In 1968 the State Legislature created a system of public higher education for Maine. This action unified the University of Maine and the five state colleges into one "cohesive structure of public education in the State of Maine." The university now has campuses in Orono, Bangor, Portland-Gorham, Augusta, Presque Isle, Farmington, Fort Kent, and Machias.

The information in this publication pertains only to the activities and programs at Orono.
1979-80 Season Outlook

A new and exciting challenge faces the Black Bears as they head into the 1979-80 season. After two very successful years in Division Two, the Bears join the ranks of Division One.

Head coach Jack Semler moves into his third season at the helm of the Bears, after compiling a 40-20-1 his first two campaigns. He and his staff are keenly aware of what it will take to do well in Division One. "The exciting aspect is the question of how we will fare in Division One. I feel the players, coaches, and fans feel a sense of excitement by this fact. It is similar to the question mark we faced two years ago with a new team, a new division, and all freshmen on the team."

"Signs that are encouraging in what we know is a big challenge are that we feel Division Two hockey is much tougher than is sometimes assumed, and that our players have shown great improvement and maturity with age and experience," commented Semler.

With eighteen returning veterans from last year's 25-8-1 team, along with three players from the first team who missed last season, Semler has good reason to be excited and optimistic. Three top recruits and one transfer will give the Bears depth, more speed, and scoring punch.

The Bears are strong at center with the return of last season's top three scorers. Gary Conn, Joe Crespi, and Brian Hughes all provide good goal scoring, solid play making and tough defense. Paul Croke, Richard Cote, and recruits Gaetan Bernier and Michel Vincent provide Semler with many options and quality depth.

The wings will be bolstered by the addition of transfer Rob Zamejc and the return of rugged Dave Walsh, who is back in school after being out last year. Captain Bill Demianiuk leads a group of very talented players, including Paul Wheeler, John Tortorella, Robert Lafleur, and Jon Leach.

A solid nucleus will man the blue line, led by ECAC Division Two Rookie of the Year Andre Aubut. David Ellis, Tom LeBlond, Marc Son, and Dwight Montgomery are joined by newcomer Ken Fargnoli and veterans Brian McKiernan and Larry Page, who missed last season with injuries, to give Maine a tough corps in their end. Depth could be question mark if injuries hit the defensemen as they did last season.

The goaltending tandem of Jeff Nord and Jim Tortorella formed one of the best combinations in the ECAC last season. Both are tough and experienced.

The Bears know what a fast start and consistency can do for them. "Certainly we know from the experience we had last year that a fast start is to our advantage. The key in Division One, due to the quality of all 17 teams, is consistency and depth."

"In the past, playoff hopes in Division One have rested on a team's ability to stay at .500 or above in the Division. Even with the realignment, because the Division is balanced, I do not expect this to change. Everyone speaks of Division One being so balanced in the past and this makes it such an exciting, tight race for the playoffs. Our challenge is to prove we can be part of this balance in our first year in the Division. We can't wait to get started," said Semler in assessing the upcoming season.

With a new Division and a new balcony at the Alfond Arena, there is an air of anticipation and excitement surrounding University of Maine hockey.

THAT MAINE MAGIC
by Gary Thorne WABI Play-by-Play

I write this as a warm Fall rain bounces off the still green grass of Maine, but long for the day the ice goes down at the Alfond Arena, home of the Icemen of Maine. There has to be a very special inspiration to long for that kind of weather in Maine, knowing what the fuel bill is going to be. That special inspiration is UMO Hockey, and it is a fever.

When the side of the hill at the main entrance to the UMO campus became the Harold Alfond Sports Arena in 1977, that in and of itself was a major miracle, occasioned by the generosity of sportsman Harold Alfond. Nobody could envision, except perhaps for a coach and his players, the quality excitement that would explode within the Arena that very year when the new game on campus opened to a full house and a thunderous ovation, each to be repeated game after game.

The miracle within was a hockey team composed of one senior and the rest freshmen, all of whom forgot they were supposed to be building instead of winning. They won the home opener, beating Acadia 7 to 5. They finished the season 15 and 12 and missed a Division Two play-off berth by one game — and couldn't wait for next year.

The miracle within was a following of fans who fell in love with these rookie skaters. These were fans you had known all your life, but never knew they cared about or understood hockey. Alas, now they were telling you of their semi-professional days in Maine when hockey was played on rivers and you plowed the snow yourself. They had crumpled-edged, discolored photos of themselves with teammates standing beside the plowed off snow in non-padded uniforms to prove their point — and how they loved this new team.

The miracle within came from without as hundreds of students lined up outside for tickets two hours before game time. They came to make noise, and succeeded. The home ice advantage was here to stay.

The miracle within was the Vietnam Marine, Vermont transplanted hockey player, former Princeton hockey coach whose name was Jack Semler. He constructed a young, building team as a first year coach in a first year program is supposed to do, but made them all believers that a building team doesn’t have to lose. They didn’t. They won, and lost, with style and pizzazz, a trait ingratiated from coach to player, or maybe vice versa, it really didn’t matter.

The real miracle was it was for real. Maine’s second season was incredible. The freshmen were sophomores, with fewer errors. The names went together, like the first line of Conn-Demianik and Sweeney. Jeff Nord and Jim Tortorella in goal, finishing with 2.87 and 3.78 goals against averages respectively, provided an exciting tandem in net. The quiet, steady, solid senior, Dan Sweeney, was the captain, and not in name only. The skaters, Brian Hughes, Joe Crespi, and Jon Leach, improved with every game. The rushers had names like Paul Wheeler and John Tortorella. Defensemen Tom LeBlond and Marc Son became synonymous with hard checking and good crease work.

The freshmen had people realizing that Semler the recruiter was a very special person. Andre Aubut, a stickhandling defenseman, was the ECAC Rookie of the Year. David Ellis was a superb defenseman who knew how to stay in the crease and keep the puck out. Outstanding skaters such as Richard Cote, Robert LaFleur, and Paul Croke filled in gaps previously present on the first year team.

The fans kept coming, with an ever increasing number of wide-eyed youngsters with skates over one shoulder and a stick on the other. Semler could only smile. Recruiting would get closer to home.

When the Spring sun of ’79 shined, the Division II regular season winners were none other than this second year team from Maine. They finished 25-8-1 overall and 17-5 in the Division. When they lost the semi-final game of the playoffs to Salem State, there were tears for five minutes. By the time Semler and company were leaving the arena that night, they were talking about November 20, 1979 and Boston University.

The Division I change will bring to Maine the highest caliber sports schedule in the University’s history. A 700-plus seat balcony has been added because the fans are still coming. Semler’s “miracle recruiter” status will be tested again. And everybody asks, “How good are they?”

Division I is not Division II, but Juniors aren’t Sophs anymore, the warm Fall rain turns to ice, and to those who believe, miracles do happen. When you’re around the Alfond Arena, you just gotta believe.

Jack Semler, 33, guided Maine to an excellent 40-20-1 record in its first two seasons of varsity hockey. He came to Maine after coaching at Princeton for four years, and is also rink coordinator for the Harold Alfond Arena and lecturer in physical education.

Prior to coming to Maine, Semler served as an assistant coach at Vermont, before accepting the freshman coaching post at Princeton in 1972. In his six years of varsity coaching he has compiled a 65-86-6 record.

An outstanding hockey player at the University of Vermont, Semler captained the 1968 team, was the Catamounts' MVP, and played varsity soccer for three years.

A native of Salisbury, Ct., Semler served as a captain in the United States Marine Corps from 1968 to 1971.

A graduate of Kent (Ct.) School, he enjoys the coastal life of Maine, along with sailing, swimming, golf, and fishing. Jack is single and resides in Hampden Highlands.
Gary Wright
Assistant Coach

Gary Wright, 27, the newest member of the Maine coaching staff, is assistant hockey coach and rink manager of Alfond Arena.

A University of Vermont graduate, Wright comes to Maine after serving as hockey coach at Rice Memorial High School in Burlington (Vt.) for two years.

A four-year player at Vermont, Gary has a B.S. in Education and was the recipient of the UVM Coaches Award in 1976 for dedication and perseverance.

A three-sport standout at Procter Academy in Andover, N.H. where he played football, hockey and baseball, Gary's outside interests include sports in general and volunteer work. He is single and lives in Hampden.

Ken Yeates
Goalie Coach

Ken Yeates, 26, a four-year letterman at the University of Vermont, is assistant hockey coach handling the goaltenders for the second year.

A graduate student in pursuit of an M.S. in therapeutic counseling, Ken had two brothers, Jim and Ted, who also played hockey at Vermont. He played on two of Vermont's ECAC Division Two championship teams.

A native of Montreal, Que., Yeates went to Kent School in Kent, Ct., before attending Vermont, where he received a B.S. in education. He is a certified history teacher.

He enjoys tennis, sailing, canoeing, and is a water ski instructor. He and his wife, Jane, reside in Eddington.
Varsity hockey at Maine became a reality with a $400,000 contribution from businessman Harold Alfond, for whom the arena is named.

With 25 freshmen on the roster, along with one upperclassman, the University of Maine Black Bears defeated Acadia University in their first-ever game before a packed house, 7-5.

The Bears, under head coach Jack Semler prove they are for real with a 4-1 victory over in-state rival Colby.

A late season rush, including another 4-1 win over Colby, moves the Bears into contention for an ECAC playoff berth.

With everybody back from the first-year squad, head coach Jack Semler sets a goal of making the playoffs for his team. To attain that goal, the Bears will have to beat the playoff contending teams.

Sophomore center Gary Conn set two single-game scoring records in the '78-79 opener against Mt. Allison to propel the Bears to a come-from-behind 5-4 victory.

Goalie Jeff Nord captures Goalie of the Week honors twice in a three-week period for his play against defending NCAA Division Two champion Merrimack, and a 6-0 win over Bowdoin, snapping the Polars consecutive game scoring streak at 243, a Division Two record.

Goalie Jim Tortorella captures the MVP Award at the Holy Cross Crusader Classic leading Maine to a first-place finish with a 4-3 victory over Holy Cross.

Maine garnered its first victory over a Division One opponent with a record-setting
Leach's consecutive-game scoring streak, extending it to 19 games.

Maine is seeded first for the ECAC Division Two East playoffs. Semler's goal to beat playoff contenders swings the balance, as the Bears go 10-3 against other playoff teams.

The Cinderella story of the second-year Black Bears comes to an end at Alfond Arena when Salem St. knocks them out of the playoffs with a 7-4 semi-final victory.

Andre Aubut is recognized for his outstanding play, being named ECAC Division Two Rookie of the Year, and is named to the All-ECAC Division Two First Team. Center Gary Conn, who rewrote all goal-scoring records in leading the team in scoring for the second straight year, and goalie Jeff Nord, who came up with Maine's first-ever shutout, are named to the second team.

MEET THE BEARS

Captain Bill Demianiuk

LW, Jr., 5-11, 180, 6-29-58, Alliston, ONT.

A hard-working left-winger selected by his peers to be Maine’s second team captain, Bill has played in all 61 games that the Bears have ever played. One of the steadiest wingers on the team, he plays extremely well at both ends of the ice. Seems to play his best games when it counts the most. Possesses a terrific slap shot and has had two career hat tricks. “A hard leader on and off the ice. Exceptionally strong, tough left wing who works extremely hard and has improved every year. I can’t say enough about his qualifications as a captain.” - Coach Semler. A very intense competitor who rarely wastes energy when on the ice, Bill is fearless in the corners. A very versatile player who has played on the power play and kills penalties.

ANDRE AUBUT — Def., So., 5-10, 180, 2-3-60, Laval, QUE.

One of the top defensemen in the ECAC last year, he was named to the All-ECAC First team and was the Rookie of the Year in Division Two. Sees up to 35 minutes of playing time or more each game. Rewrote the scoring records for defenseman in his first year at Maine. He has the ability to dictate the pace of a game with his exceptional stick handling and playmaking. “Andre’s being named Rookie of the Year in Division Two speaks for itself. He has unlimited potential and if he can handle the transition to Division One in the same manner he handled the transition to college hockey, he will immediately be one of the best defensemen in the league.” - Coach Semler.

GARY CONN - C., Jr., 5-10, 165, 7-22-59, Marblehead, Mass.
The top scorer the first two years, Gary had an exceptional year in '78-79. Opened the season with a five-goal game against Mt. Allison leading the Bears to a 5-4 come-from-behind victory. Holds or shares 16 different scoring records for forwards. Gary was named to the All-ECAC second team after the '78-79 season, and was selected as the all-tournament center in the Holy Cross Invitational. Superb stick handler, great balance, and has a nose for the goal. An unassuming player who has 56 goals in 61 games. “One of the most gifted players I have ever coached. We’ll look to Gary to work on getting the puck to his wingers quicker, but have no question about Gary’s impact on our team regardless of what Division we’re in.” - Coach Semler.

A player who started to show signs of maturity and adjustment to college hockey towards the end of the season. He is improving his consistency all the time. Richard works on his game every spare moment. He has worked hard this summer to improve his skating. “Richard is very talented around the net. With one year of adjustment to college hockey behind him, Richard is very eager to make an impact on this year’s team.” - Coach Semler.

Probably the most improved player between his freshman and sophomore years. Joe put together a 19-game scoring streak last season, a school record, and was named ECAC Division Two Forward of the week for his play against Salem State and Vermont. He had two goals and two assists to lead Maine to its 5-2 win at Salem State that helped secure the number one position for the Black Bears in the ECAC playoffs. Possesses a fine wrist shot. Third on the all-time scoring list. His size makes him very tough in front of the opposition’s net. He works hard in the corners. “Nobody improved more than Joe Crespi between his freshman and sophomore years. Extremely tough and physically strong, Joe is in terrific condition. He is always out early to practice and last off as he is a tireless worker who wants to improve every facet of his game.” - Coach Semler.

Reporting to the team following football season, Paul became one of only six players to score a goal in his first game. Excellent forechecker and penalty-killer who is very strong on face-offs. Played defensive back on the football team in ’78, but is concentrating strictly on hockey now. “Paul adjusted well to the pace of college hockey. If he can cut down on penalties, he has the potential to be an outstanding college forward.” - Coach Semler.

An excellent defensive defenseman who complemented his partner Andre Aubut to form one of the best defensive combinations in the ECAC last season. One of the strongest players on the Maine squad. A tough competitor who plays a physical and aggressive game. A superb body checker. His defensive skills were recognized by the coaches and media when he was named to the All-Tournament teams at the Holy Cross Tournament and the Maine Holiday Classic. "A leader as a freshman who I feel will develop into one of the best defensemen in Division One. He is the most physical defenseman I've ever coached." - Coach Semler.

ROBERT LAFLEUR - LW., So., 5-7, 175, 10-14-59, Montreal, QUE.

One of the fastest skaters in the ECAC last season, Robert's speed will be a big asset for the Black Bears this season. Sustained an ankle injury late in the year which slowed him, but is fully recovered now. Has one of the most powerful strides in college hockey - Coach Semler. His speed puts pressure on the opposition defenses at all times. Very tough in the offensive end and a good body checker. "Robert's speed will help us against the powerful teams we will be facing. He's probably the fastest forward I've ever coached. He has improved and is still improving his defensive zone coverage and forechecking. I look for a big year from Robert this season." - Coach Semler.

Maine's first ECAC award winner when he was named ECAC Division Two Rookie of the Week during his first season. Had a 14-game scoring streak as a freshman, which was the school record until Joe Crespi's 19-game streak last season. Improved in the defensive end last season, prior to a knee injury which put him out for the year. Worked hard over the summer to overcome his injury and improve his speed. "Jon has an exceptional attitude and is a player who is determined to find a regular spot this season. He is a terrific competitor and can stick handle extremely well." - Coach Semler.

TOM LeBLOND - Def Jr 5-9 165 6-17-58 New Canaan, Ct.
A hard nosed defenseman, Tom is the only defenseman to play in all 61 games. A steady performer whose versatility makes him a valuable asset in any manpower situation. Possesses an excellent shot and can handle the puck. Not flashy, but gets the job done. A tough competitor who is working hard to improve his skating. Brother Bill is a standout defenseman with Boston University. "Tom is exceptionally gifted at handling the puck and getting it out of our end. I feel Tom will adjust to the speed of Division One and count on him to be a key to our defense. Tom works very hard and I hope this season will be his best. Must cut down on penalties." - Coach Semler.

JAMIE LOGAN - RW., Jr., 6-1, 175, 5-19-59, Montclair, N.J.
Jamie is known for his reckless abandon on the ice. He has a tremendous slap shot. Strong player in the corners who plays the body extremely well. A rugged competitor who gives 100% every second he's on the ice. Has the potential to be a steady forward in Division One. Superb penalty killer. "Jamie has terrific desire, but needs to develop consistency. One of our most spirited players who can fire up a team with his aggressive forechecking." - Coach Semler.

A player who missed all of the '78-79 season with an ankle injury. Working hard to overcome his injury and regain a position on this year's team. "Brian's role will depend on how much the year away from hockey has hurt. There will be terrific competition for the six dressing defensive positions. Brian knows he must be ready." - Coach Semler.

D. MONTGOMERY - Def So 5-11 185 1-8-60 Gloucester, Mass.
Dwight had a superlative season until felled by a freak shoulder separation in practice. A key man on the power play. Has the ability to change his shot from right to left handed. A good skater, excellent stick handler, and has a good slap shot. Played exceptionally well in the Black Bear Classic when he was named to the All-Tournament team. "Unquestionably he will be a key to this year's team. I felt Dwight was one of the best defensemen in Division Two, and he has the potential to develop into one of the best defensemen in Division One." - Coach Semler.

JEFF NORD — G., Jr., 5-9, 160, 4-17-59, Quincy, Mass.

Jeff developed into one of the top goaltenders in Division Two last season, and was named the second team All-ECAC goalie. Twice was named Goalie of the Week by the ECAC. He rarely gives up an easy goal. Excellent glove hand and uses his body well. Came up with the first ever shutout by a Maine goalie with a 37-save, 6-0 win over arch rival Bowdoin. “Jeff has improved every year and has proven his ability to be consistent. Very tough mentally with terrific concentration. He’s technically sound and improving the little things to become a polished goalie.” - Coach Semler.

A very smart defenseman with a great deal of desire. Missed all of the ’78-79 season with a shoulder injury that needed surgery, and a slow recovery. Larry can be a real factor if he can make a full recovery from his injuries and make the adjustment to Division One hockey after a year off. “Larry is an extremely dedicated player who wants to be in there. He can take any punishment anyone deals out. I expect Larry to be a factor in the fight for the defensive berths. Nobody deserves it more.” - Coach Semler.

JIM TORTORELLA — G., Jr., 5-9, 165, 9-20-59, Concord, Mass.

A flashy goaltender who can make the spectacular save and take the spirit out of opposing teams. Led Maine to its first victory over a Division One opponent with a 56-save 5-4 victory over R.P.I., and was named ECAC Goalie of the Week for that performance. Jimmy is a player who can rise to the occasion, and plays his best games against the top teams. A very intense competitor. “Jim has worked on his goaltending in summer hockey. He has worked to combine his outstanding reflexes with playing the angles. Jimmy’s ability to seem to play better the better the competition will hopefully lead to his best year of goaltending since he’s been at Maine.” - Coach Semler.

JOHN TORTORELLA — RW., Jr., 5-8, 167, 6-24-58, Concord, Mass.
One of the most aggressive players in Division Two last season, John added a spark to the Maine attack every time he stepped on the ice. A very spirited player, on and off the ice. Fine shortstop for John Winkin’s baseball team. He makes up for his lack of physical size with determination and desire. A transfer from Salem State where he played hockey his freshman year. “John is an outstanding forechecker who gives you 100% all the time. If he can channel his desire and physical play in a positive direction without penalties, John undoubtedly will be a key man this season. He is a terrific competitor who gives you everything he’s got in practice and in games.” — Coach Semler.

Dave returns to Maine after being out of school for a year. A big, rugged left wing who has a good slap shot and likes to play the body. He’ll give the Bears the big physical winger they will need in Division One. Very strong in the corners and in front of the net. “How the year off will affect Dave is a question mark, but I know he is hungry to play and will be ready to challenge for a left wing position.” — Coach Semler.

A pleasant surprise in ’78-79 as he raised his point production from eight to 34, and goals scored from four to 20. He has excellent size and good speed. Paul will be counted on again this season to provide a solid goal scorer on right wing. For a big man who plays so aggressively, he takes very few penalties. “With consistency, Paul can be a very fine Division One forward. He is at his best when being aggressive. He has worked hard on his game this summer and I expect a big year from Paul.” — Coach Semler.

FOLLOW THE BEARS
ALL SEASON LONG ON
WABI/WBGW
GAETAN BERNIER – C., Fr., 5-11, 170, 10-2-58, Laval, QUE.
   “An excellent skater with a tremendous shot. How quickly Gaetan can adjust to the system will be the key. He has unlimited potential and is in great shape.” - Coach Semler.

KEN FARGNOLI – Def., Fr., 5-10, 170, 11-13-61, Smithfield, RI
   “An excellent skater who gets the puck up to his forwards very quickly. Ken’s adjustment to college hockey will be key. I know he’ll do the job.” - Coach Semler.

MICHEL VINCENT – C., Fr., 5-8, 155, 9-8-60, Montreal, QUE.
   “An outstanding forward who will have an immediate impact on our team. One of the most complete hockey players I have seen at eighteen years of age.” - Coach Semler.

ROB ZAMEJC – RW., So., 6-1, 190, 3-23-59, Oshawa, ONT.
   “Rob is a transfer from St. Louis University. He is a big strong right wing with an excellent shot. He is the most experienced new player joining our team. His impact will be a key to our season.” - Coach Semler.
The University of Maine’s chances to make the Eastern College Athletic Conference’s (ECAC) Division I playoffs in its first season in the elite division is 47 percent. That’s even before the Black Bears take the ice.

The reason is that eight of the division’s 17 teams will make the playoffs based on the new system adopted this year.

For the first time, an ECAC selection committee will not play a major role in choosing the eight playoff teams and, in fact, it may not have to intervene at all.

In the past, Division I was all clumped together in one league and the schedules were not as regimented as they will be this winter. Thus a team which finished with a 10-12 record in the division might get a playoff slot before a team with a 12-10 record did if the former team played a tougher schedule.

This season, there will be three divisions. Maine will play in the East Division along with Boston University, Boston College, Providence, Northeastern and the University of New Hampshire.

In the West Division, there will be St. Lawrence, the University of Vermont, Clarkson, Colgate and Renssalaer Polytechnic Institute.

Finally, the Ivy League Division will be made up of Cornell, Princeton, Dartmouth, Yale, Brown and Harvard.

Each Division I school will play two games against the teams in its own division and one each against the other schools. The divisional champs will automatically qualify for the playoffs and will get the home ice advantage for the first round of the single-elimination playoffs as will the second place team with the best winning percentage.

The other four playoff teams will be determined by percentage. Thus it is conceivable that one division could place three or four teams in the playoffs.

The first round playoff set-up would send the eighth seeded team up against the top-rated club — again chosen by percentage — with the number seven squad facing the number two squad, etc.

The semifinals and finals will then be played at the Boston Garden with the high seeded team facing the lowest seeded team and the two in-betweens going at it in the semi’s.

UMO coach Jack Semler is a staunch backer of the new set-up.

“I think the new system is terrific,” said Semler. “It allows a team in a strong division to make the playoffs and keeps a club in a weak division out of them. The factor that makes the realignment and the playoff races so exciting is that each division is as strong as the other two.”

In other words, Semler was saying that just because a club finishes second in its division, it is not guaranteed a spot in the playoffs if its record is inferior to that of teams which might finish third in stronger divisions.

BERT ROBERGE -- The Black Bears’ winningest pitcher (21 career wins) was called up by the Houston Astros to bolster their bullpen. The Auburn native led Maine to the 1976 College World Series, winning nine of 11 games. Roberge closed out his baseball career for the Blue with a 1.70 earned run average.

CHRIS KEATING -- All-East linebacker and football team captain in 1978, Keating led the Bears in tackles for three straight years. The Cohasset, Mass., native was signed to a free agent contract with the Buffalo Bills this spring and was selected to the Maine Sports Hall of Fame as the Outstanding Male College Athlete of the Year weeks later.

JULIE WOODCOCK -- This superlative swimmer led her Black Bear teammates to the top of New England swimming, going unbeaten in four years of New England competition, an amazing feat. The Swarthmore, PA, native holds many New England, Wallace Pool and UMO records that should hold up for years to come. She was named Outstanding Female College Athlete of the Year this spring by the Maine Sports Hall of Fame.

ANN TURBYNE -- The East’s top collegiate shot putter is an Olympic hopeful for 1980. The Winslow native is currently training for world competition, as only unfortunate injuries have prevented Ann from even greater distances. She is the current New England title holder in the shot. Her potential is unlimited. Holds national powerlifting title.

TIM TOBIN -- An All-American marksman, Tobin led the Bears to four straight New England rifle titles during his four years for coach MSG Robert Bernier, who stepped down after compiling an amazing 56-2 record the past four years. Tobin consistently placed among the nation’s top shooters and holds nearly every UMO record for scoring and accuracy.
